The Tariff Commission.

Halifax, Jan. 31.—E. G. Smith opposed any increased duty on white cottons before the Tariff Commission here, and asked that fine worsteds made in Canada be fixed at 35 per cent. less the preference. J. F. Frazer asked for one cent. per pound on barrelled port. Senator Power said 33 1-3 per cent. on American mess pork was enough, and L. E. Payeant protested against the high duty on beef and pork. W. H. Johnson wanted the 35 per cent. duty to remain on pianos. The tariff investigation was now at an end save for two sessions in Ottawa. Mr. Fielding said he feared it would be impossible to satisfy everybody in the tariff to be subsequently framed.

Suspect Foul Play.

Brantford, Jan. 23.—Foul play is now suspected in the death of James Leonard, the farmer from Bright, who was killed by a locomotive here on Saturday night. It is said that Leonard had over $60 on him during the afternoon, while only $10 was found on the body. The police are investigating, and a coroner's jury viewed the remains yesterday morning and adjourned.

SICK HEADACHE

Many varieties of headache exist, those most prevalent being sick or bilious headache, nervous headache, headache from constipation, etc.

Headache is an effect of disease, the cry of the suffering body for relief from some oppressing disorder.

Undoubtedly the cause must be removed in order to cure the headache permanently. Wrong action of the stomach, liver or bowels is responsible for nine out of ten cases of headache.

In sick headache (a very common form) there is sometimes nausea and vomiting and usually constipation.

In nearly all forms of headache

has proved itself a specific—a medicine that has cured where all others failed.

Keep the stomach, liver and bowels in perfect working order by the use of nature's regulator and tonic, Burdock Blood Bitters, which cures all forms of headache by removing the cause.

Miss L. Smith, Merriburg, Ont., writes: "I desire to let you know how much good Burdock Blood Bitters has done for me. I was troubled with headaches all the time, and could get no relief, until a friend told me of your Burdock Blood Bitters. After taking two bottles of it, I can say that I am completely cured."

B.B.B. is for sale at all druggists and general stores. Do not accept something "just as good."

THE tough wearing qualities of "Canadian" Rubbers will stand even the rough usage of boyhood. Every rubber bearing "the mark of quality" contains the maximum of wear, style and comfort.

Other Side Of Fishery Story Is Different

Cross-Examination Shows Weakness of Fishery Charges.

MR. WEBSTER DID NOT KNOW

Deputy Minister Bastedo Acted Under Orders—Chief Clerk Webster Under Fire — Was Not Familiar With Bookkeeping System—Method In Vogue Since 1867—Had Strained Relations In Office.

Toronto, Jan. 31.—On the resumption yesterday of the investigation into charges brought against Mr. S. T. Bastedo, Deputy Minister in the fishery branch of the Public Works Department, which is conducted by Mayor J. C. Judd of London, evidence was submitted of a number of additional instances in which pages had been removed from the public copy letter books. In some cases these were entirely missing; in others they were found in Mr. Bastedo's private letter book. A number of cases of the removal of letters from the public files followed.

Charge Five.

This was that Mr. Bastedo had made improper use of his power to issue licenses, and used it in the interest of the Liberal party and to influence elections. A series of letters, in 1900, 1901, 1902 and 1903, showed a desire to get a licenses to fish around Pigeon island on the part of some local fishermen. The Fishery Overseer, D. Cattanach, wrote annually, suggesting the issue of a license. In 1902 Dan. Keely and J. Davis were recommended for gill-net licenses, Mr. Bastedo continued to point out that Pigeon Island was a whitefish breeding ground until August 25, 1903, when Mr. Cattanach wrote on behalf of John Davis. Mr. Pense, he said, also recommended him, as the fish would be sold in Kingston. The license was then issued.

Special Privileges Granted.

Overseer M. Thwaite was called to task in May, 1902, by the Deputy Minister for according special privileges to Conn Schreiber in Rice Lake and Otonabee River. Mr. Thwaite wrote back to Mr. Bastedo, declaring he had never received such a snubby letter. He thought he should have been called to Toronto to explain. In future, he declared, he would act strictly as a machine, and carry out the intention of the department. Just how this reflected on Mr. Bastedo did not transpire.

Henry Reeves, at Port Dover, was given a license to use 500 bait hooks for sturgeon and catfish, in contravention of the Dominion order-in-Council.

On Oct. 21, 1901, Overseer J. D. Smith was instructed not to prosecute one Crawley for illegal fishing, and to return the nets seized. "I think if you return the nets, with a warning of a fine if caught again," wrote Mr. Bastedo, "it will be sufficient."

"That the said Bastedo did illegally and improperly authorize payments out of the funds of the branch," was another charge made. Two days' pay, $3 in all, excess was paid to Guardian C. H. Curtis, in an account which should have been $105. Guardian Graham got eight days' pay over what was due, according to Mr. Webster. Mayor Judd thought it was a matter that might be explained. The man had worked, although ordered off.

Frank Johnston had not charged up his meals in his first expense account, and increased it from $1 to $9.80 on a hint from the Deputy Minister.

Duncan Bole has been a defaulter to the branch since 1899, when he collected $40 for angling permits, and failed to remit. The license book showed that the licenses not paid for were removed to balance the book. They had been removed by Mr. Cox, but it was not known at whose order.

Licenses On Sturgeon River.

Mr. M. J. Mulligan had a correspondence with the department over the allotment of a section of the Sturgeon River to him. He enclosed $100, and asked for a license for C section and 1,000 hooks. This was in January, 1901. Finally, after having the feet returned, on April 2, 1902, he got two licenses, one for Little Sturgeon River and one for Lake Nipissing, with fees of $100 and $50 respectively.

Letters to Mr. James Conmee and M. C. N. Smith, asking them to hurry up so that licenses could be issued, were submitted, and the charges closed with a reference to two letters to Messrs. H. J. Pettypiece, and A. McCrimmon, indexed but missing from a letter book.

In cross-examination Mr. Webster said he had been a doorkeeper at Ottawa in the Department of Justice from 1869 till 1873, when he was appointed to the fishery branch. He remained there till 1898, when he came to Toronto. He was familiar with the methods of keeping the accounts, and would not plead ignorance. He was reasonably impressed with the seriousness of the charges he made. He was asked what he meant by the charge of falsifying the refund account.

"Do you mean to imply that Mr. Bastedo put the amount into his pocket?"

"No," he replied. It should have been given for the public information, he thought. He had never looked back, and did not know that the auditor approved of the method of dealing with the refunds.

"Why did you not find out as chief clerk?" was asked.

"It never struck me."

Webster's Ignorance Shown.

"You understand now that all the sums are simply deducted from the revenue and net revenue shown?" Cases were pointed out to the commissioner of the method pursued. He thought it would be well to revise the system.

"It is done in all the departments," remarked Mr. Hellmuth.

"Have you made any more inquiry as to law than you did as to accounts?" asked Mr. Hellmuth in taking up the next charge.

"No; I didn't look it up since," was the reply. It was shown that section 44 of the act had been repealed.

"I ignored it," said Mr. Webster. "We were fining people for catching bass." He did not believe he had read the correspondence with the Dominion Government. As the regulations were illegal the cases were purposely left out of the report.

Mr. Webster said he had kept quiet about the charges until a year ago after the election. He did not speak to Mr. Bastedo about them. He never knew he had been found guilty when an inquiry had once been made by Mr. Charlton on his relations with another clerk. He did not remember what he had said to Mr. Charlton on one occasion, he was so angry, but it was to the effect that he wished to be transferred to another office.

What He Did Not Know.

He was aware that Mr. Latchford was responsible for all Parliamentary returns. He did not know that Mr. Latchford had given instructions about the return asked for by Mr. W. R. Smyth. He had written a memorandum stating that it was a well-known fact that pound net fishing was less injurious than gill net. This contradicted his position with regard to the charge, but he said he disapproved of the nets in the locality mentioned, and thought the Dominion had no right to tie up the province, but should have left the decision to the Provincial Government.

"Do you think that's a fair charge?" Mr. Hellmuth asked Mr. Webster with reference to the John Davis license.

"It doesn't matter what he thinks. It is what I think," remarked the commissioner, pleasantly.

Frederick Is Proclaimed The Danish King

Accession of Frederick VIII. to the Throne of Denmark.

HE WAS WARMLY RECEIVED

Ceremony Lasted Only a Few Minutes —New Ruler Will Abide by His Father's Example, and Rule by the Constitution—Sincere Mourning For the Dead King Christian In Copenhagen and Britain.

Copenhagen, Jan. 31.—Frederick VIII. was proclaimed King of Denmark at noon yesterday in Amalienborg square in front of the palace. The ceremony lasted only a few minutes. The Premier, Mr. Christensen, appeared on the balcony of the palace and announced to the 50,000 persons assembled below the death of King Christian IX., and the accession of his eldest son. The Premier then called for cheers for King Frederick VIII.

The new ruler of Denmark joined the Premier on the balcony, and in a short speech declared that he would rule in accordance with the example set him by his father, and trusted that the same accord between the King and nation would continue as heretofore. His Majesty concluded with calling for cheers for the fatherland.

Received Warm-Hearted Greeting.

King Frederick received a warm-hearted greeting from the assembled crowd, whose cheers mingled enthusiastically with the national anthem.

From 9 o'clock in the morning all the church bells tolled, minute guns boomed from the forts, flags everywhere were displayed at half-mast, and business practically has been at a standstill, out of respect to the dead King Christian.

Prior to the proclamation of his accession, King Frederick held a council of state, at which the Ministers tendered their resignations, and were requested to retain their posts. Afterwards the new ruler received the Cabinet Ministers, presidents of the Riksdag, the civil and military officials, and the court dignitaries.

"Long Live the King!"

Then came the important ceremony of the day. Promptly at noon the Premier stepped out on the balcony of the palace, and thrice shouted to the assembled throngs: "King Christian IX. is dead. Long live His Majesty King Frederick VIII.!"

Sonorous hurrahs burst from the crowd in front of the palace, and re-echoed down the streets opening on Amalienborg square, the flags on the public buildings were run up to the mast-heads, and a royal salute was fired from the city's forts.

The court has been ordered to go into mourning for 30 weeks.

Frederick's Proclamation.

King Frederick early in the afternoon yesterday announced his accession to the throne in a proclamation, as follows:

"We, Frederick VIII., King of Denmark, by the grace of God, etc., do hereby announce and make known that our dearly beloved father, King Christian IX., was yesterday gathered to his fathers by a sudden but calm and peaceful death. We have thereupon, in accordance with the law, ascended the throne. While thus assuming this high and responsible position, for which the Almighty has chosen us, it is our determination to maintain unswervingly the constitution of our country and to preserve the rights and privileges of our whole people. If the people themselves will have the same confidence in their King which we have in our people then will God grant His grace and blessing to all of us."

The Dead King.

In a chamber of the Amalienborg Palace the body of the King lies in the modest bed in which he breathed his last. Following the wishes of King Christian, the funeral will be attended with little ceremonial. Yesterday the members of the family watched in the death chamber continually.

An enormous number of magnificent wreaths are coming in from every direction. The Duchess of Cumberland, daughter of King Christian, arrived late last evening. Her sorrow was very great, and it was with difficulty that she was removed from the bedside, where she had knelt for fully an hour in prayer. The burial will take place in the cathedral at Roskilde, beside Queen Louise, in the chapel of Frederick the Fifth.

King Haakon of Norway, Queen Alexandra of England, and King George of Greece are expected in a few days.

It is announced that Emperor William will be in attendance at the funeral.

Mourning at Sandringham.

London, Jan. 31.—King Edward arrived in town yesterday afternoon, and Queen Alexandra proceeded to Sandringham, where she will remain until she goes to Copenhagen to attend the funeral of her father, King Christian. King Edward has decided to open Parliament in person, but the Queen will not be present, and the state pageantry probably will be curtailed. The levees will be held as arranged, Feb. 20 and Feb. 26, but the drawing-rooms have been indefinitely postponed. The bell in the curfew tower of Windsor Castle on the day of the funeral, will be tolled eighty-seven times, beginning at noon, representing the age of King Christian.

Death Follows Spree.

Sarnia, Jan. 31.—Joseph Kemsley, Sarnia Township, was found dead in a vacant lot at Point Edward, near the bay shore, yesterday morning. He had been drinking heavily, and an altercation took place, but the police do not think that violence was the cause of death.

Regina, Jan. 31.—Fred S. Pringle, real estate agent of Medicine Hat, has announced himself as an independent candidate against W. E. Knowles, Liberal nominee for West Assiniboia.

Jews' Only Hope.

Brussels, Jan. 31.—The general Jewish conference called to consider the state of the Jews in Russia formally opened its session here yesterday under the presidency of David Wolffsohn, chairman of the international zionist committee. M. Mandelstamm of Kiev presented a report of the condition in Russia, from which it was gathered that the Jews had no hopes of an improvement in their status resulting from a revolution or government forms. The only solution of the problem, according to the report, would be the foundation of a Jewish fatherland.

Moors Attack Spanish Cruiser.

Malaga, Spain, Jan. 31.—A despatch from Melilla, Morocco, announces that insurgent Moors recently attacked the Spanish cruiser Infanta Isabel near the Marchica factory, where the pretender's troops are erecting fortifications in preparation for an expected attack by the Sultan's forces.

Paul Dresser Dead.

New York, Jan. 31.—Paul Dresser, a song writer, whose "Banks of the Wabash" and "The Blue and the Grey" brought his name into public notice, died yesterday at the home of his sister in this city. Mr. Dresser was born 47 years ago in Terre Haute, Ind.

NOT A "PATENT MEDICINE."

Scott's Emulsion is not a "patent medicine." It has no secret ingredients. Your doctor can, no doubt, tell you as much about it as we could. We have merely perfected the method of blending the Norwegian cod liver oil, hypophosphites of lime and soda and glycerine. As one grocer will blend coffee better than another so we have succeeded in making Scott's Emulsion a little better than any other cod liver oil preparation. There's no "patent" and the only secret is the secret of knowing how, with the perfected mechanical means at hand to do it. Get Scott's and you get the perfect emulsion. It's the greatest thing in the world for regaining strength and flesh lost through wasting.

MR. WEBSTER DID NOT KNOW

Deputy Minister Bastedo Acted Under Orders—Chief Clerk Webster Under Fire — Was Not Familiar With Bookkeeping System—Method in Vogue Since 1867—Had Strained Relations In Office.

Toronto, Jan. 31.—On the resumption yesterday of the investigation into charges brought against Mr. S. T. Bastedo, Deputy Minister in the fishery branch of the Public Works Department, which is conducted by Mayor J. C. Judd of London, evidence was submitted of a number of additional instances in which pages had been removed from the public copy letter books. In some cases these were entirely missing; in others they were found in Mr. Bastedo's private letter book. A number of cases of the removal of letters from the public files followed.

Charge Five.

This was that Mr. Bastedo had made improper use of his power to issue licenses, and used it in the interest of the Liberal party and to influence elections. A series of letters, in 1900, 1901, 1902 and 1903, showed a desire to get a licenses to fish around Pigeon Island on the part of some local fishermen. The Fishery Overseer, D. Cattanach, wrote annually, suggesting the issue of a license. In 1902 Dan. Keely and J. Davis were recommended for gill-net licenses. Mr. Bastedo continued to point out that Pigeon Island was a whitefish breeding ground until August 25, 1903, when Mr. Cattanach wrote on behalf of John Davis. Mr. Pense, he said, also recommended him, as the fish would be sold in Kingston. The license was then issued.

Special Privileges Granted.

Overseer M. Thwaite was called to task in May, 1902, by the Deputy Minister for according special privileges to Conn Schreiber in Rice Lake and Otonabee River. Mr. Thwaite wrote back to Mr. Bastedo, declaring he had never received such a snubby letter. He thought he should have been called to Toronto to explain. In future, he declared, he would act strictly as a machine, and carry out the intention of the department. Just how this reflected on Mr. Bastedo did not transpire.

Henry Reeves, at Port Dover, was given a license to use 500 bait hooks for sturgeon and catfish, in contravention of the Dominion order-in-Council.

On Oct. 21, 1901, Overseer J. D. Smith was instructed not to prosecute one Crawley for illegal fishing, and to return the nets seized. "I think if you return the nets, with a warning of a fine if caught again," wrote Mr. Bastedo, "it will be sufficient."

"That the said Bastedo did illegally and improperly authorize payments out of the funds of the branch," was another charge made. Two days' pay, $3 in all, excess was paid to Guardian C. H. Curtis, in an account which should have been $105. Guardian Graham got eight days' pay over what was due, according to Mr. Webster. Mayor Judd thought it was a matter that might be explained. The man had worked, although ordered off.

Frank Johnston had not charged up his meals in his first expense account, and increased it from $1 to $9.80 on a hint from the Deputy Minister.

Duncan Bole has been a defaulter to the branch since 1899, when he collected $40 for angling permits, and failed to remit. The license book showed that the licenses not paid for were removed to balance the book. They had been removed by Mr. Cox, but it was not known at whose order.

Licenses On Sturgeon River.

Mr. M. J. Mulligan had a correspondence with the department over the allotment of a section of the Sturgeon River to him. He enclosed $100, and asked for a license for C section and 1,000 hooks. This was in January, 1901. Finally, after having the feet returned, on April 2, 1902, he got two licenses, one for Little Sturgeon River and one for Lake Nipissing, with fees of $100 and $50 respectively.

Letters to Mr. James Conmee and M. C. N. Smith, asking them to hurry up so that licenses could be issued, were submitted, and the charges closed with a reference to two letters to Messrs. H. J. Pettypiece, and A. McCrimmon, indexed but missing from a letter book.

In cross-examination Mr. Webster said he had been a doorkeeper at Ottawa in the Department of Justice from 1869 till 1873, when he was appointed to the fishery branch. He remained there till 1898, when he came to Toronto. He was familiar with the methods of keeping the accounts, and would not plead ignorance. He was reasonably impressed with the seriousness of the charges he made. He was asked what he meant by the charge of falsifying the refund account.

"Do you mean to imply that Mr. Bastedo put the amount into his pocket?"

"No," he replied. It should have been given for the public information, he thought. He had never looked back, and did not know that the auditor approved of the method of dealing with the refunds.

"Why did you not find out as chief clerk?" was asked.

"It never struck me."

Webster's Ignorance Shown.

"You understand now that all the sums are simply deducted from the revenue and net revenue shown?" Cases were pointed out to the commissioner of the method pursued. He thought it would be well to revise the system.

"It is done in all the departments," remarked Mr. Hellmuth.

"Have you made any more inquiry as to law than you did as to accounts?" asked Mr. Hellmuth in taking up the next charge.

"No; I didn't look it up since," was the reply. It was shown that section 44 of the act had been repealed.

"I ignored it," said Mr. Webster. "We were fining people for catching bass." He did not believe he had read the correspondence with the Dominion Government. As the regulations were illegal the cases were purposely left out of the report.

Mr. Webster said he had kept quiet about the charges until a year ago after the election. He did not speak to Mr. Bastedo about them. He never knew he had been found guilty when an inquiry had once been made by Mr. Charlton on his relations with another clerk. He did not remember what he had said to Mr. Charlton on one occasion, he was so angry, but it was to the effect that he wished to be transferred to another office.

What He Did Not Know.

He was aware that Mr. Latchford was responsible for all Parliamentary returns. He did not know that Mr. Latchford had given instructions about the return asked for by Mr. W. R. Smyth. He had written a memorandum stating that it was a well-known fact that pound net fishing was less injurious than gill net. This contradicted his position with regard to the charge, but he said he disapproved of the nets in the locality mentioned, and thought the Dominion had no right to tie up the province, but should have left the decision to the Provincial Government.

"Do you think that's a fair charge?" Mr. Hellmuth asked Mr. Webster with reference to the John Davis license.

"It doesn't matter what he thinks. It is what I think," remarked the commissioner, pleasantly.

Frederick Is Proclaimed The Danish King

Accession of Frederick VIII. to the Throne of Denmark.

HE WAS WARMLY RECEIVED

Ceremony Lasted Only a Few Minutes —New Ruler Will Abide by His Father's Example, and Rule by the Constitution—Sincere Mourning For the Dead King Christian In Copenhagen and Britain.

Copenhagen, Jan. 31.—Frederick VIII. was proclaimed King of Denmark at noon yesterday in Amalienborg square in front of the palace. The ceremony lasted only a few minutes. The Premier, Mr. Christensen, appeared on the balcony of the palace and announced to the 50,000 persons assembled below the death of King Christian IX., and the accession of his eldest son. The Premier then called for cheers for King Frederick VIII.

The new ruler of Denmark joined the Premier on the balcony, and in a short speech declared that he would rule in accordance with the example set him by his father, and trusted that the same accord between the King and nation would continue as heretofore. His Majesty concluded with calling for cheers for the fatherland.

Received Warm-Hearted Greeting.

King Frederick received a warm-hearted greeting from the assembled crowd, whose cheers mingled enthusiastically with the national anthem.

From 9 o'clock in the morning all the church bells tolled, minute guns boomed from the forts, flags everywhere were displayed at half-mast, and business practically has been at a standstill, out of respect to the dead King Christian.

Prior to the proclamation of his accession, King Frederick held a council of state, at which the Ministers tendered their resignations, and were requested to retain their posts. Afterwards the new ruler received the Cabinet Ministers, presidents of the Riksdag, the civil and military officials, and the court dignitaries.

"Long Live the King!"

Then came the important ceremony of the day. Promptly at noon the Premier stepped out on the balcony of the palace, and thrice shouted to the assembled throngs: "King Christian IX. is dead. Long live His Majesty King Frederick VIII.!"

Sonorous hurrahs burst from the crowd in front of the palace, and re-echoed down the streets opening on Amalienborg square, the flags on the public buildings were run up to the mast-heads, and a royal salute was fired from the city's forts.

The court has been ordered to go into mourning for 30 weeks.

Frederick's Proclamation.

King Frederick early in the afternoon yesterday announced his accession to the throne in a proclamation, as follows:

"We, Frederick VIII., King of Denmark, by the grace of God, etc., do hereby announce and make known that our dearly beloved father, King Christian IX., was yesterday gathered to his fathers by a sudden but calm and peaceful death. We have thereupon, in accordance with the law, ascended the throne. While thus assuming this high and responsible position, for which the Almighty has chosen us, it is our determination to maintain unswervingly the constitution of our country and to preserve the rights and privileges of our whole people. If the people themselves will have the same confidence in their King which we have in our people then will God grant His grace and blessing to all of us."

The Dead King.

In a chamber of the Amalienborg Palace the body of the King lies in the modest bed in which he breathed his last. Following the wishes of King Christian, the funeral will be attended with little ceremonial. Yesterday the members of the family watched in the death chamber continually.

An enormous number of magnificent wreaths are coming in from every direction. The Duchess of Cumberland, daughter of King Christian, arrived late last evening. Her sorrow was very great, and it was with difficulty that she was removed from the bedside, where she had knelt for fully an hour in prayer. The burial will take place in the cathedral at Roskilde, beside Queen Louise, in the chapel of Frederick the Fifth.

King Haakon of Norway, Queen Alexandra of England, and King George of Greece are expected in a few days.

It is announced that Emperor William will be in attendance at the funeral.

Mourning at Sandringham.

London, Jan. 31.—King Edward arrived in town yesterday afternoon, and Queen Alexandra proceeded to Sandringham, where she will remain until she goes to Copenhagen to attend the funeral of her father, King Christian. King Edward has decided to open Parliament in person, but the Queen will not be present, and the state pageantry probably will be curtailed. The levees will be held as arranged, Feb. 20 and Feb. 24, but the drawing-rooms have been indefinitely postponed. The bell in the curfew tower of Windsor Castle on the day of the funeral, will be tolled eighty-seven times, beginning at noon, representing the age of King Christian.

Death Follows Spree.

Sarnia, Jan. 31.—Joseph Kemsley, Sarnia Township, was found dead in a vacant lot at Point Edward, near the bay shore, yesterday morning. He had been drinking heavily, and an altercation took place, but the police do not think that violence was the cause of death.

An Independent Candidate.

MOB SHOT SENTRIES.

Cells Opened and All Political Prisoners at Riga Liberated.

Riga, Livonia, Jan. 31.—A mob attacked the jail in the centre of the town yesterday morning, shot down the sentries, broke open the cells and liberated all the political prisoners. Half a company of soldiers was stationed in the building, but so rapid and unexpected was the action of the rioters that their purpose was successfully carried out. There were many women among the attacking party.

Dismissed For Treason.

Tiflis, Jan. 29, via St. Petersburg, Jan. 31.—By Imperial order the Governor-General, Staroselski, and the vice-governor of Kutais, who are alleged to have shown weakness and incompetence, if not actual treason in dealing with the revolt of the Gurians and Mingrelians, have been dismissed in disgrace from the Imperial service. An investigation of their conduct has been ordered with a view to prosecuting them for treason.

Troops have been landed all along the Black Sea.

Jews' Only Hope.

Brussels, Jan. 31.—The general Jewish conference called to consider the state of the Jews in Russia formally opened its session here yesterday under the presidency of David Wolffsohn, chairman of the international zionist committee. M. Mandelstamm of Kiev presented a report of the condition in Russia, from which it was gathered that the Jews had no hopes of an improvement in their status resulting from a revolution or government reforms. The only solution of the problem, according to the report, would be the foundation of a Jewish fatherland.

The Wornout Nerves, The Weak Heart, The Tired Brain, The Wasted Strength.

What a multitude of women there are who feel that these words exactly suit their case. From early morn until late at night they have been on the go, year in and year out, attending to the daily household duties, looking after the wants of her children and spending the rest of her time attending to social and church work. Is it any wonder then that sooner or later there comes a general collapse? The action of the heart becomes weak and palpitating, the nerves become unstrung, the brain feels in a whirl half the time and the usual force of vitality is lacking.

It is at this time a woman should look after herself. If she does not, serious female disorders may set in and often cause weary months and years of helplessness and miserable suffering. What she wants is something to build up her system. For this purpose there is nothing to equal

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

They are the women's friend in every sense of the word.

They will strengthen the weak heart, tone up the shaky, starved nerves, make the brain clear, and restore the lost vitality.

Mrs. George Lohnes, Stanley Section, N.S., writes: "I was greatly troubled with weak and dizzy spells and was so run down I could not attend to my household duties. I bought two boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and after taking them I found that my trouble had all passed away. I am now strong and healthy again."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50 cents per box or 3 for $1.25. If your dealer does not handle them, send direct to The Milburn Co., Ltd., Toronto, Ont.

NOT A "PATENT MEDICINE."

Scott's Emulsion is not a "patent medicine." It has no secret ingredients. Your doctor can, no doubt, tell you as much about it as we could. We have merely perfected the method of blending the Norwegian cod liver oil, hypophosphites of lime and soda and glycerine. As one grocer will blend coffee better than another so we have succeeded in making Scott's Emulsion a little better than any other cod liver oil preparation. There's no "patent" and the only secret is the secret of knowing how, with the perfected mechanical means at hand to do it. Get Scott's and you get the perfect emulsion. It's the greatest thing in the world for regaining strength and flesh lost through wasting.

County Council At Lakefield Visiting Sites

Inspected Available Locations for House of Refuge.

The deputation from Lakefield last week with regard to the erection there of the new House of Refuge, was the means of taking the County Council and Warden to that village yesterday. The members were accompanied by Mr. E. A. Peck, county solicitor, and on reaching Lakefield were driven to the available sites for the erection of the new building, in company with the Reeve and Council of Lakefield, Wm. Graham, John Hull, E. A. Tanner, W. R. Strickland, Messrs. Lillicrap, Cornish, Couper and others.

The first site visited was that of the property of Roland Strickland, next to the 6th line of Douro. Then successively R. Matthews' estate, Thompson Braden's, which is known as the Old Wallace Property, and lastly Wm. Preston's property—towards the north-western part of the village.

The councillors spoke well of the reception given them by the council and citizens of Lakefield, and they report a very pleasant time during their visit.

It was arranged that tenders from both Norwood and Lakefield must be in not later than February 9th, which would be considered on the following day. The councillors also wish to state that the lowest or any of the tenders would not necessarily be accepted, as the location of the building was the essential point.

Next Tuesday the County Council intend commencing a tour to some of the different Houses of Refuge in the neighbouring counties for inspection purposes.

Anniversary Of Sunday Schools Well Attended

George Street and Grace Church Combine—Gratifying Reports Read—Many Presentations of Books Were Made—Sunday School Orchestra and Choir Supply Music—Programme of Solos, Choruses and Recitations Enjoyed.

FINANCE REPORT SHOWS BALANCE

The continuation of the anniversary services of George Street and Grace Church Sunday Schools was proceeded with last night in the George Street Methodist Church and judging from both the large numbers of scholars and others present, the interest manifested in the Sunday School work is increasing rapidly. Not only the lower part of the church but also the gallery was filled with interested spectators who by their applause, demonstrated their great appreciation of the different numbers of the children's programme.

The scholars of the schools first congregated in the Sunday School and at the commencement of the programme marched up to seats reserved in the front of the church. The Sunday School orchestra supplied excellent music which formed a most suitable preliminary to the subsequent enjoyable events of the evening. A number of the choir were also present and assisted throughout in the musical part of the entertainment.

After the reports were read from the two Sunday Schools the presentation of prizes was made to those meriting them for attendance, memorization of verses and assisting in the addition of new members to the school. This was a very gratifying portion of the programme and the large number who received the books donated indicated the enthusiasm shown in the work by the pupils and teachers.

Following this came the juvenile programme and the appreciation of each number was demonstrated by the hearty applause by the audience. Many encores, indeed, would have been called for if the lateness of the hour had not prevented them. Master Harold Hatcher's solos were much enjoyed and the Hoop Drill at the close by twelve girls was perhaps, the feature of the evening, much cleverness on their part and also their teacher being visible.

Mr. S. R. Armstrong, Superintendent of the George Street Sunday School occupied the chair and made a most efficient chairman. The prizes were presented by Rev. Dr. Crothers, Mr. G. W. Powell, and Mr. Armstrong. The following were those who received them:

Engineers Were Welcomed By Mr. Somerville

Former Peterborough Gentleman Extended Welcome to the Canadian Engineers.

Messrs. R. B. Rogers, C.E., W. J. Francis, C.E., and J. E. Belcher are in Toronto attending the 20th annual meeting of the Canadian Society of Engineers, which opened under very auspicious circumstances at the King Edward Hotel yesterday morning. The society has a membership of 1,400 in all parts of Canada, but owing to many members being detained on professional business, and the large distances which some would have to travel, anything like a full attendance is never expected at these gatherings. As long as there is a representative assembly the executive are satisfied, and as yesterday morning 95 members from various parts of the Dominion had registered, this was considered satisfactory.

At the opening meeting yesterday morning City Engineer C. H. Rust, a member of the council of the society, presided, in the absence of President Marceau, who is detained at Montreal on urgent business and will not be able to take part in the proceedings until to-day. The members of the society were welcomed to the city by F. L. Somerville, formerly of this city, of the Engineers' Club and chief engineer of the Grand Trunk Railway, who placed the hospitality of the club at their disposal. The club is also arranging a special entertainment after the return of the party from Niagara to-night.

A branch of the society has recently been established in Sydney, Cape Breton, and the formation of branches in Toronto, Ottawa, Winnipeg and Halifax is under discussion.

The treasurer reported the finances of the society as still in a satisfactory condition. The receipts during the year amounted to $8,107 from various sources, an increase of $1,237 over those of 1904. The assets of the society are $27,114.

WONDERFUL CURE OF SORE HANDS

After Most Awful Suffering Ever Experienced—Eight Doctors and Many Remedies Failed to Do a Cent's Worth of Good.

THANKS TO CUTICURA IT IS ALL OVER NOW

"I was troubled with sore hands, so sore that when I would put them in water the pain would nearly set me crazy, the skin would peel off and the flesh get hard and break, with blood flowing from at least fifty places on each hand. Words could never tell the suffering I endured for three years. I tried eight different doctors, but none did me any good, as my hands were as bad as when I began. I also tried many remedies, but none of them ever did me one cent's worth of good. I was discouraged and heartsore. I would feel so bad mornings, to think I had to go to work and stand the pain for ten hours, I often felt like giving up my position. I would have to wrap every finger up separately, so as to try and keep them soft, and then wear gloves over the rags to keep the grease from getting on my work. I had to wear gloves at night in fact, all the time. But thanks to Cuticura, that is all over now. After doctoring for three years, and spending much money, a single box of Cuticura Ointment ended all my sufferings. It's been two years since I have known what sore hands are, and have never lost a day's work while using Cuticura.—Thomas A. Chaney, 310 N. Montgomery St., Trenton, N. J."

MUSIC AND DRAMA

MISS DAVIES' TRIUMPH.

The News says:—

The setting of "Never the lotus closes" is one of exceptional charm and the obligato soprano solo, taken by Miss Helen Davies, was highly pleasing and admirably written.

Just here a word should be spoken concerning the brilliant triumph this young lady achieved. Her voice is one of altogether charming quality a pure bel canto. In the upper register its mellow tones were a rare delight and even in the middle register the quality was so distinctive that it held its own against both chorus and orchestra. It was not that her voice was loud, (ordinary sopranos would have found it necessary to shriek to make themselves heard) but it was distinctive in timbre and carried well even against full brass. It was mainly owing to Miss Davies that part of the work had to be repeated.

The Star in its report says of Miss Davies:—

Miss Helen Davies, soprano, was the soloist for the evening, and her singing of the beautiful soprano solos in Sir Frederic Bridge's setting of Kipling's "The Flag of England" won for her a very enthusiastic encore. She has a voice of very pleasing quality and of considerable power, and she sings with a true appreciation of both music and words.

Only a fair sized audience greeted the moving picture concert given at the Grand last night by the American Vitagraph Company. Those who were there however, saw a programme of pictures that in its line has rarely been equalled in this city. The machine used is one of the finest on the market. There is none of the distressing flickers so common to moving pictures while the light is clear and steady. The views shown were nearly all of a humourous nature and the audience was kept amused from beginning to end. Among the best pictures thrown on the canvass was entitled "Moving Day or No Children Allowed." The difficulties encountered by the head of the family of ten children in securing a flat in New York City and the manner in which he finally overcame them formed a subject that was endless in its possibilities for humourous situations. Among the other good pictures might be mentioned "The Green Goods man," "Stolen by Gypsies," "Raffles the Amateur Cracksman," and "How Jones Lost His Roll." The latter was familiar to the audience as it was frequently seen at Jackson Park last Summer.

In addition to the pictures I. Kek Schilling sang two illustrated songs, "When the Harvest Moon is shining on the River," and "Why Did They Sell Killarney?" very effectively, and Martin Savage gave a banjo monologue.

The company will appear again at the Grand to-night with a complete change of programme.

Among the future attractions as yet unannounced to appear at the Grand Opera House soon is that famous spectacle, Chas. H. Yale's "Everlasting Devil's Auction," which, although old in title, has as each succeeding season rolls around, proved conclusively its right to the claim that it presents yearly a larger amount of new novelties, special and exclusive features, etc., than any like attraction.

Manager Yale announces that the present season marks the 24th edition of this phenomenal show piece, and that it is better, larger and more entertaining than ever.

The Peterborough-Georgian Bay Line Route Is Approved

Request of C. P. R. for Permission to Construct Line From This City to Victoria Harbour Favourably Received by the Minister—Construction Will, in all Probability, be Proceeded With at Once—Route Map Filed and Whole Plan Approved.

Special Wire to the Examiner

Ottawa, Feb. 1.—The Solicitors of the C.P.R., D'Arcy Scott and Colonel Thompson, accompanied by Mr. Drinkwater, secretary, and James Leonard, superintendent of construction, waited on the Hon. Mr. Emmerson, Minister of Railways and Canals, yesterday afternoon and asked to have the plans of the Peterborough-Georgian Bay Railway approved. The Grand Trunk Railway Company was represented by Mr. M. K. Cowan, K.C., their solicitor. The C.P.R. furnished plans and details as requested by the minister at a former hearing.

Mr. Cowan said that all his company wanted was a guarantee from the C.P.R. that they would not interfere with the G.T.R. terminals at Tiffin, near Midland. The C. P. R. people agreed to build an overhead crossing where it was necessary to cross the lines of the Grand Trunk.

They also agreed not to in any way interfere with the G.T.R. property, and will bind themselves accordingly by a letter to the minister. The whole plan of the railway was then approved and the route ratified. This will mean a good deal for Peterborough, and will result in the construction of a railway between Peterborough and Victoria Harbour in the near future.

Mayor Finlayson, of Midland, was in Ottawa yesterday to urge the C. P. R. officials to extend the branch from Victoria Harbour to Midland.

The Cabinet, at a meeting this afternoon, had before them the report of Mr. Holgate, C.E., upon the Peterborough lift lock. Mr. Emmerson gave his colleagues the most important features of the report, in which the investigating engineer explained the defects of the lift lock and reflected severely upon those responsible. In Mr. Holgate's opinion the leaks are due to negligence. Council authorized the minister to take such action as the circumstances called for, and there appears to be little doubt but that the services of certain officials will be dispensed with.

The Engineer's Report Dealt With By Cabinet

Result of Lift Lock Investigation as Embodied in Holgate's Report Considered Yesterday—Hon. Mr. Emmerson's Statement—"Nothing Ready for Publication"—Matter is Referred to Minister of Railways and Canals to Deal With—Condition of Affairs is Serious—Report May Not be Given to Public.

Special Wire to The Examiner.

Ottawa, Feb. 1.—The Cabinet yesterday discussed the Trent Canal lift lock matter, but had little to give out, in fact, it is generally understood that Engineer Holgate's report points to such a serious condition of affairs that it would not be wise to give out details now.

"The report was considered at a meeting of the Council," said Hon. H. R. Emmerson, Minister of Railways and Canals, when seen at 6 o'clock last night, "but I cannot give out that report (Holgate's) now. The whole matter was discussed and evidence gone over carefully. They referred the matter to me to deal with. I cannot say more for publication now."

Mr. Butler, deputy minister, had the same story. His words were, "I do not think that report will be given out."

While details are not forthcoming yet, it is known that the whole question is receiving serious consideration from the officials.

New Quarters To Be Secured For The Library

An Effort Will be Made to Procure Ground Floor Location.

It is probable that in the not distant future the Peterborough Public Library will be removed from its present quarters to more commodious and more suitable premises. At the annual meeting of the Board which was held last night this question was discussed, and it was decided to take steps to see if more suitable quarters could not be secured. It is the intention of the Board to place the Library on some ground floor location if such can be secured without difficulty.

A number of desirable locations are being considered, but of course no decision has yet been reached in the matter.

The officers elected last night were:
Chairman—Dr. Burnham.
Vice-Chairman—W. R. Hill.
Secretary-Treasurer—John Corkery.
Library Committee—Messrs. Hill, Pringle, Wm. Hamilton and Corkery.
Property Committe—Messrs. English, Knapman and Robertson.
Finance Committee — Messrs. Hill, English and Hay.

During the year the Board has experienced considerable trouble from persons taking magazines and papers from the rooms, and a reward will be offered by the Board to anyone who will give information leading to the apprehension of the guilty parties.

The question of increasing the membership of the Library was discussed, and a proposal was made to secure this desired increase by canvassers. The present membership is about 400, and the Board feels that in a city of 15,000 there should be at least 600 or 700 members Public Library, and an effo probably be made to increas number to that figure.

Receipts Were $600,000 Over Expenditure

Provincial Treasurer Matheson Makes This Statement.

Special to The Examiner.

Toronto, Ont. Feb. 1.—Hon. Mr. Matheson, Provincial Treasurer, announced to-day that the provincial receipts for the past years were approximately $600,000 over expenditure. This is apart from Temiskaming Railway receipts. The timber bonuses amounted to $625,000. The ordinary receipts paid all expenditures both ordinary and capital, and left something over.

The Services Well Attended

Good Attendance at the Murray Street Church.

The special evangelistic meeting, which was held in the Murray street church last night, was well attended and the effect will undoubtedly be good. The subject of the sermon by the pastor, Rev. F. J. Scott, was "Blind Bartimeus," and the speaker referred to the many points in which he resembled the sinner. In the first place he was blind, he was poor, out of the way of progressive things, he sought Jesus, he prayed.

His prayer was also characterized by humility and faith. He came to Jesus, representing the sinner saved in that he received his sight, and praised God, and glorified Him on the way.

There will be a prayer meeting to-night, and a number of young men will be on the platform, and will speak, at Friday night's meeting.

Annual Meeting W. H. M. S. Of Knox Church

Reports of a Most Encouraging Character Were Presented—Past Year Has Been One of Progress and Advancement—Mrs. Martin Gave Interesting Address on the Mission Work in Manitoba and British Columbia.

NEW OFFICERS WERE ELECTED

The annual meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of Knox church was held yesterday afternoon with the president, Mrs. McPherson, in the chair. There was a very large attendance of the ladies of the society, and the meeting was of a bright and interesting nature. The reports presented were most encouraging, indicating that the past year had been marked with great progress and advancement in the work of the society. The organization is proving of splendid assistance to the missionaries in the home fields and the members are to be congratulated upon the success that has attended their efforts during the year. In addition to the business portion of the meeting there was an interesting address on Home Mission work by Mrs. Martin, of Cannington.

The meeting was opened with devotional exercises, after which the the reports for the year were read.

Secretary's Report.

The first was that of the secretary, Miss Bennett. It was as follows:

Secretary's Report.

Eleven meetings have been held during the year. There are 58 names on the membership roll, 20 of whom are members of the General Society. The average attendance was 26. Fifty-two have been subscribers to the organ of the society, The Pioneer, as compared with 31 last year, showing a decided increase in this respect.

In September a bale of clothing, valued at $25, was sent to Toronto to be forwarded to needy districts in the Northwest. Two boxes of literature have been collected and sent to one of the lumber camps and to an outlying mission station, respectively.

Our thank offering, held in October, was the largest meeting of the year, there being 35 present. The offering amounted to $62. The previous year it was $40.

Prior to the formation of a Ladies' Aid Society in connection with Knox church, the auxiliary undertook Ladies' Aid work, and, by holding a concert in February and a strawberry festival in June, raised money to the amount of $90.81. Of this sum, $11.74 was expended for accessary furnishings at the mission, and $50 was paid towards the exchange of piano, leaving a balance of $29.07.

In September, Miss Reid, one of our members passed away. Owing to illness she had been unable to attend many of the meetings, but her sympathies and prayers were always with the work.

It is a matter of regret that more of the women of Knox congregation have not become members of the society. The meetings have been particularly helpful and interesting, and the hope is expressed that there will be an increased number of helpers in this district during the coming year.

AMY K. BENNET,
Secretary.

Home Mission Band.

Miss Mabel Bartley read the following report of the Home Mission Band:

In presenting the report of the Home Mission Band for the past year we beg to say that this is the best year the Band has had since organizing. We have increased our membership and interest in the work, as well as our funds, in the past year.

When we organized about three years ago we had only about six or seven names on our roll, and last year we had 16, while this year we have almost doubled our membership over that of last year, having now on our roll 28 members.

We held meetings monthly throughout the year with the exception of the months of July August and December, in December holding a meeting every week for the purpose of sewing. At a meeting in November we decided to hold our meetings for the coming year on the last Friday of each month. Any special meeting or meetings for sewing could be held at the home of the president during the month.

In the fall we sent a parcel of clothing, containing clothes for a girl of nine years of age, to Toronto, to be sent from there to one of the mission stations in the Northwest, those clothes being made by the members of the Band during the summer.

In December we had a concert and bazaar which proved a great success, and created great interest among the members of the Band, and at which we cleared, after expenses were paid, about $35.

We have to our credit in the bank now $40.43, out of which we intend sending $25 to the treasurer in Toronto to be used where most needed.

During the year we also did a little benevolent work in the city, visiting two or three persons in the congregation who were sick and taking them flowers, and clothing to one family.

MABEL BARTLEY.

Mrs. Martin's Address.

Mrs. Martin, of Cannington, a missionary who has spent many years in the home field in Manitoba and British Columbia, then gave a most comprehensive and interesting address on the work there, and the difficulties and disadvantages under which the missionaries there are labouring. In addition to being well qualified to discuss such a subject Mrs. Martin is a fluent speaker with a vivid power of description that made her address most enjoyable.

In beginning she congratulated the members of the W. H. M. S. on their zeal and bravery in organizing the Society. Some opposition had no doubt been met, but it was from people who did not understand the needs of the work in the west.

The emmigration to the Northwest was bringing the foreign field to our own doors, and the work was very necessary amoogst them. The mission there was not maintenance but propogation. Once established the work was self supporting. The influx into the west was so great that it required an immense amount of work to carry the gospel to everyone. Last year 140,000 people had come to the west, including 7,000 Galicians, 6,000 Doukhobors, and 2450 Hungarians and there was in addition a steadily increasing population of Mormons. Fortunately over 63,000 of the new-comers were English-speaking people, but even among them there was great need of work. The foreigners come into the country bringing different religions and all manner of evil with them, and united effort was necessary to be able to cope with them.

Passing on to her personal experience in the Northwest, Mrs. Martin gave a graphic account of the difficulties encountered by the missionaries in Manitoba. She related many incidents some pathetic and other humourous, but all most interesting to the audience which followed her remarks with close attention.

Mrs. Martin also spoke of the experiences of her husband and herself on a mining town in British Columbia, where they spent three years. The work among the miners was vividly portrayed and many touching incidents were related in a manner that made the subject a most fascinating one.

At the conclusion of her address a vote of thanks, moved by Mrs. Hall and seconded by Mrs. (Rev. Dr.) Torrance, was passed to Mrs. Martin.

Election of Officers.

The election of officers resulted as follows:—

President—Mrs. McPherson.
1st Vice-President—Mrs. (Rev. Dr.) Torrance.
2nd Vice-President—Mrs. Robt. Hall.
Recording Secretary—Miss Cameron.
Corresponding Secretary — Miss Bennet.
Literary Secretary—Miss Nina Davidson.
Organist—Mrs. (Wood.
Executive Committee—Mrs. Wood, Mrs. Mulligan, Mrs. Innes, Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. McCarrman, Miss Hall, Mrs. Scott and Miss Menzies.

Refreshments were then served by the ladies after which the meeting was brought to a close with devotional exercises.

POST CARD CORRESPONDENCE.

In this column will be published communications upon post cards only. It will remain open for the use of readers, who are invited to contribute suggestions, inquiries or replies. Anything of a scurrilous personal nature will be prohibited.

Editor Post Card Column:

Dear Sir.—Through the columns of your esteemed paper last night the congregation of Mark Street Methodist Church were called upon to join next Sunday in "praying and fasting". This I would think is a remarkable progress in what I would call good church doctrine, and perhaps after all, the adoption of church customs and doctrine might yet lead the Methodists back to the fold of the church.

CHURCHMAN.

The Pivotal Day.

—According to tradition, to-morrow, Candlemas Day—Feb. 2— will be the pivotal day of the winter, the day upon which the mythical Bruin will either see his shadow and go back to his den to enjoy six weeks more hibernation, or fail to see his shadow and thus foreshadow a brief winter.

Mr. Bishop,—We have all learned you are about to leave us and we cannot begin to express how sorry we feel. But the best of friends must part, but while you are away you shall be here in our minds and hearts, especially those of Mr. and Mrs. Booth, for your long stay which has been most deserving of praise, shall be greatly missed and news from you at any time shall be greatly appreciated. So one and all we wish you good luck and prosperity, wherever you go. We cannot see you leave us without showing to you a little of our gratitude for you, so if you will accept this little trifle, you will please us all.

Mr. Bishop, although taken by surprise, made a suitable reply, thanking them for their remembrance of him.

The gathering broke up about two o'clock, all singing Auld Lang Syne and God Save the King.

Mr. Bishop left for Hamilton on the eight o'clock train Tuesday.

Anniversary Of Mission Society Was Celebrated

Interesting Service Held in Charlotte Street Church Last Night.

The weekly service at the Charstreet Methodist church last night, took the form of a missionary meeting, and was conducted by the Women's Missionary Society. The service was most interesting, and those present were given an insight into the missionary branches of the church's work.

The meeting was opened with devotional exercises by the pastor, after which the president gave an outline of the work of the society during its twenty-five years existence. She stated that it was the silver anniversary of the society, and in an interesting address gave an account of the growth and development of the society's operations.

Mrs .H. M. Moore then gave an enjoyable missionary recitation.

Mrs. Morrow, who has spent some time in the rescue work among the Chinese women in Victoria, B. C., related many interesting incidents in connection with that field. Her address was most appropriate to the occasion.

Several choruses effectively rendered by the Mission Band closed the programme.

Interesting Happenings From That Progressive Village.

Special to The Examiner

Mount Pleasant, January 30th. — Mr. Jas. McCall, jr., of Oxbow, N. W.T., has been spending a few days at his old home, and visiting his relatives residing in this locality. He is favourably impressed with his home in Oxbow, and would not return to reside in Cavan.

Mrs. H. Shield, Mrs Jameson, Miss Jennie Boyd, of this village, were in Toronto for a few days attending the Torrey-Alexander meetings.

There is great room for improvement here. We hear of one person finding six empty whisky bottles near a home. The contents had been disposed of without any consideration of the violation of the local option law now in force in the township of Cavan.

Mrs. Isaiah Best of Toronto, has been calling on friends around the home of her childhood, and naturally the song of "The Old House at Home," was chanted by her. We miss her very much in the church here. It seems that the cities claim the best of our citizens, and then require outside help, like Jonah, to evangelize the city.

Payton's Pumps Change of Firm

A new partnership has been formed between Mr. James Payton, the old established pump manufacturer, George street, and Mr. Walter Scott, the well known pump agent. The business will in future be carried on under the name of Payton & Scott, at the premises, No. 303 George street. Mr. Payton is entitled to the claim of being the oldest pump maker in Peterborough—his pumps having been manufactured here for over 37 years. Mr. Scott is well known all over the district as one of the best travelling men in his line for over 18 years.

BRAIN AND NERVE
DEPENDENT ON CERTAIN ELEMENTS OF NATURE, WHICH ARE FOUND IN
Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

The Christian Scientists are right enough when they claim that the mind influences the body.

Rest of mind and body is essential for the restoration of the exhausted nervous system.

But the mind is dependent on the brain, and the brain in turn is a bundle of nerve cells, which are nourished and sustained by pure, rich blood. Hence the absolute necessity of supplying the elements from which blood is made.

These elements of nature which go to form new rich blood and revitalize wasted and depleted nerve cells are found in splendid proportions in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

By using this great food cure you supply the material substances from which are found brain and nerve force.

By all means have a cheerful, hopeful mind, but do not depend on this to make you strong and well or you will be terribly disappointed when it is forever too late.

It may take weeks or even months to thoroughly restore your health with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, but you can be absolutely certain that every dose of the great food cure is at least of some benefit to you.

Mrs. J. D. Huffman, 288 Reid street Peterborough, Ont., and whose husband is employed at the Canadian General Electric Co., states:

"For over a year I suffered with nervous headache and feelings of weakness and dizziness would come over me. My nervous system seemed weak and exhausted, and hearing of the success of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I began using it. I am now pleased to state that the headaches do not bother me any more and my system is entirely built up and restored."

The healthful complexions, the well-rounded forms, the energy and elasticity of movements characteristic of persons who have used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food are the strongest evidence of its wonderful restorative influence. 50 cents a box, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Annual Meeting of the Warsaw Cheese Factory and Other Interesting News.

Special to The Examiner.

Warsaw, Jan. 30.—Miss Bolton, of Port Carling, Ont., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Dunford.

County Constable Wilson was in the city on Wednesday and Thursday of last week.

Mrs. Isaac Lane, of Apsley, who has been the guest of her brother, Mr. Jas. Clifford, for a few days, returned home on Monday.

Mr. Samuel Edwards, of Peterborough, was the guest of Mr. E. Hawthorne on Monday.

Rev. Mr. Steedman spent Monday and Tuesday in Norwood.

Mr. R. Deen, township clerk, met with a serious accident on Tuesday evening last, whereby he had a rib splintered and his shoulder dislocated. Mr. Deen was returning to his home from the Baptist tea and on account of the icy condition of the road and the darkness of the night, missed his footing and fell heavily upon his shoulder. Dr. Douglas is in attendance and reports the patient progressing favourably.

The annual meeting of the patrons of the Warsaw Cheese and Butter Company was held in the factory on Wednesday last. The attendance was much larger than it has been for some years, and a marked interest was taken in the different questions brought forward. The results for last year were very encouraging to all, and the harmony which prevailed throughout the meeting, showed satisfaction and confidence in the management.

Mr. E. Hawthorne was appointed chairman of the meeting.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted.

Mr. S. R. Payne, the manager, read a report of the business done last year.

The Auditors, Messrs. D. Moloney and C. J. Darling, presented their report which was accepted.

The chairman then asked for opinions as to whether the disposition of the whey was satisfactory to all. As there were no objections, it was decided to continue the same arrangement this year.

Mr. Hawthorne was appointed to arrange for the insurance of the stock and also received the appointment of salesman.

A resolution was moved by Mr. C. J. Darling, seconded by Mr. A. Edwards, and carried unanimously, that the feeding of turnips by the patrons of the Warsaw Cheese and Butter Company, be strictly prohibited and it is further agreed, that any patron or patrons known to feed turnips, and that there is a loss sustained on the product of the factory from that cause, either in cheese or butter, such patron or patrons shall be individually responsible for the loss, such loss to be deducted from his or her account. As this concluded the business, the chairman called upon Mr. R. W. Ward, the syndicate instructor, to address the meeting. The speaker, in opening his address, spoke of the prospects for the coming season. The old cheese was well sold out, and everything indicates good prices for the opening. Mr. Ward complimented the patrons on having a careful and painstaking manager, and a factory and curing room better than the average. The speaker then took up the subject of cooling the milk. This is the all-important subject of the day to dairymen. If the patrons only know, as do the manufacturers, the loss by neglecting to cool the milk properly, they would lose no time in preparing to stop the leak. It is estimated that the loss to their factory alone was over $300 last year, simply on account of the milk arriving overripe. The proper way to cool the milk is with ice, but if ice cannot be had, cold water is the next best thing. There is no use aerating the milk in warm weather. A good cooler can be made by a tinsmith. A can about the same height as the milk can and about eight or ten inches in diameter, filled with ice, and placed in the milk can, gives good satisfaction. Every patron must have a good thermometer and use it. Milk cooled to 65 degrees will keep at least 48 hours, while at 80 degrees it will spoil in 12 hours. To have the best results, the milk should reach the factory at not higher than 70 degrees. The reason why Saturday night's milk often reached the factory on Monday morning in a better condition than that of Sunday night is on account of more careful cooling on the former night. Mr. Ward then spoke on the custom of some patrons of feeding turnips. He would like to have everyone discontinue this practice. The cheese from Peterborough County are acknowledged to be among the best in Ontario, but they also have a reputation of being among the worst for their turnipy flavour. Of the 29 factories which he visited last year, only two were found which absolutely refused to receive turnipy milk. Although heretofore the buyers have not always culled these cheese, they have resolved to deduct two cents per pound on them this coming season. Mr. Ward then gave information on different questions which were asked, and the meeting was brought to a close.

NIAGARA FALLS POWER.

The Provincial Conservatives seem to be considerably exercised over the rumour that the Dominion Government entertains intentions of assuming jurisdiction over the water-power at Niagara Falls. The concern of the Conservatives cannot possibly be due to dread of the danger to provincial rights that may be involved in such a proposal, for the Conservatives a few years ago set the precedent that they were not to be hostile, but even friendly to attempts of the Federal authorities to invade Provincial rights. Besides, Mr. Whitney's energetically declared policy regarding Niagara Falls power, reduces the question of jurisdiction to very small proportions. Speaking at Niagara Falls a few years ago, in a bye-election, he declared his hostility to the policy of the grasping Grit Government of Ontario, to make Niagara Falls Power a source of provincial revenue. Mr. Whitney said that he was in favour of making Niagara Falls power "as free as air." It's hardly worth while to make a fuss over a matter that has no money in it.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

After the Torrey-Alexander revival Toronto the Good will be wanting to call itself Toronto the Better.

Wonder if Mr. Webster's charges against Mr. Bastedo, Deputy Commissioner of Fisheries, will turn out to be the ordinary fish story?

Premier Whitney has not yet gone so far as to charge Sir Wilfrid Laurier with the intention to steal Niagara Falls and remove this attraction to Ottawa.

Mr. Joseph Chamberlain finds it impossible to be loyal to anybody but himself. He now hits the Balfour Government when it is down. He says the late Government is like a bit of driftwood "dancing and tumbling upon a burn

The Brockville Recorder says: — "It's an outrage to suggest that Peterborough should spend $180,000 merely for water." It may appear to be an "outrage" to the Recorder man, to whose thirsty esophagus water may not appeal as strongly as stronger liquids than Kawartha Lakes water.

The British elections are now practically over, and from all appearances the composition of the new Parliament will be as follows:

Liberals	376
Unionists	160
Nationalists	84
Labourites	59

The Liberals will have a clear majority of 83 over any possible combination, while Mr. Balfour will lead the smallest minority in British Parliamentary history.

A NOTABLE VICTORY.

(Brockville Recorder.)

The victory of E. J. B. Pense, M. P. P., in Kingston, yesterday, over the combined forces of the Ontario Government and the party at home, is one of the most remarkable in the political history of Canada. It attests the popularity of Mr. Pense, but it does more than that.

The Whitney Government has been in power one year, and Kingston gave the first opportunity of letting the people express an opinion on the conduct of that Government.

At the general election one year ago Mr. Pense had a majority of 19 against Mr. D. McIntyre, who was again the candidate in yesterday's contest.

The Whitney Government came into power with every possible opportunity of making a name for itself, but the big bluster made on the platform during the general election petered out, and the net result of the new regime's activity has been the decapitation of magistrates, fishery overseers, license inspectors and issuers of marriage licenses, with here and there the head of a Grit hotelkeeper. The latter nastiness has been exhibited in the west more than in the east. The Government has done nothing along educational lines, it has made no reforms in the management of the license law. It did dismiss the Toronto license inspectors and the resignation of the board followed for reasons that when brought to light will not be creditable. The men who, when in opposition, sneered at the Temiskaming road, conceived and constructed by the Ross Government, have been holding it up before the people as one of their achievements. The Succession Duties Act, that they did not want at all when in opposition, has brought them about three-quarters of a million dollars, and they are boasting over it as an evidence of their financial ability. The people have been watching all this.

But more. Messrs. Downey and Lucas, two leading followers of the Government, came to Kingston and lauded the Whitney Government to the skies, with the usual flings at the old administration.

That did not seem to fizz. Then came the Provincial Secretary, who controls the offices and the patronage in the public institutions in the Limestone City. That was thought to be a master stroke, as it was hoped it would put the fear of the Government in the hearts of every employee in those institutions as well as make all and sundry sit up straight who expected to sell the institutions any goods. But even that visit seemed to fail in getting up steam.

So as a grand finale Premier Whitney came to himself. But to make a perfect success of the trip and make sure that the Government candidate's majority would be a big one, the Premier brought along Hon. J. J. Foy, Attorney-General, who told a tale of woe about Grit wickedness. But after due consideration the Premier thought it false economy to take any chance of failure, so he summoned the Minister of Public Works to join the attacking party at Kingston. Saturday night no less than three Cabinet ministers, including the Premier himself, appeared on the platform on behalf of Mr. McIntyre, begging the electors of Kingston to endorse their conduct on Monday. The Premier told the people that if the Government was to aid medical education he saw no reason why Queen's should not share in such aid, and he used all the demonstrative adjectives in the category to show the wickedness of his predecessors and the purity and ability of his own Government. Mr. Foy, who was in the Crown Lands Department a few weeks and took no trouble to learn anything about it, as his stay there was only temporary, related a harrowing tale of how Ontario's timber had been given away by Hon. E. J. Davis. Hon. Dr. Reaume, Minister of Public Works, who was no doubt brought for the purpose, told the electors he just came to consult about some proposed new buildings or alterations in connection with the asylum. Of course, of course! New buildings for the asylum, aid for Queen's medical school! Still the immaculate Whitney Government would never think of offering a bribe to a constituency. Far be it from them to think of such a thing.

But all this availed nothing, and on Monday the electors returned Mr. Pense, who, without holding a meeting, relied on the justice of his course, by a majority of 34, nearly double his majority in the general election.

No Government ever got a swifter, stronger rebuke after but one year in office than was administered to the Whitney Government yesterday by the electors of Kingston.

Examiner Ads. Bring Results

Every day the Daily Examiner receives evidence of its value as an advertising medium which its large circulation creates. A few days ago an order was received for an advertisement for factory site and local representative. The advertisement was ordered a week's insertion, but after one insertion the following letter was received:

Examiner, Peterborough, — Kindly discontinue advertisement for factory site and local representative, and forward account for the one insertion, results from your paper having been very satisfactory.

Yours truly,
ROLAND & MASON,
St. Catharines, Jan. 31.

There is however, one draw back. By being so excellent an advertising medium—bringing results so quickly—the Examiner lost the price of five insertions of an advertisement. But this lesson remains, the advertising in the Examiner brings results and increased advertising will amply compensate. Any one who has a want that can be met by advertising, will find satisfaction in using so excellent a medium as the Daily Examiner.

ROBBERS MAKE SMALL

Haul In Bay City

At Least the Supposition is That the Perpetrators are Identical—They Did Not Get Much in Their Raid Yesterday, However—Two Men Wanted to Sell Rings Night After Mr. Wrighton's House Was Robbed—Appearance of an Organized Gang.

There is a strong probability that the men who have been committing the robberies, of which there have been three in as many weeks, in this city, have been operating in other places as well, and the daring robbery which took place yesterday morning in Belleville, is supposed to have been the work of the same men who operated here.

It appears now that the robbers who took the jewelry from Mr. W. H. Wrighton's residence a week ago Sunday night, were in the city the next day. At least there is a strong probability that they were the same men who offered to sell rings to Mr. J. W. Wood and to Mr. J. Sheridan, on Monday night, in East City, about seven o'clock. Both these young men notified the police of the fact that they had been stopped by two men who offered the rings, which corresponded to the description of those stolen, but it appears that the robbers got away before they were apprehended.

Belleville, January 31. — A daring robbery by supposed professional cracksmen took place in this city early this morning. It seems, that yesterday the police of this city were warned from Toronto that a gang of robbers were headed this way, and the police immediately notified the banks and merchants to be careful. The entire police force went to the railway station at nine o'clock in the evening, but no suspicious characters were in evidence there.

The robbers must have reached the city before that however, as early this morning some parties effected an entrance to the wholesale grocery establishment of John Sloan & Co., which is situated about midway between the city proper and the station, and ransacked the place in a most thorough manner. All they secured was $4.50, as the Sloan Company people, after the police warning, had removed their money to a safe place.

Yesterday morning a well dressed stranger entered the Sloan Company's business office and asked for a $5 bill in exchange for $5 in change. He is supposed to have been sizing up the lay of the land. Three suspicious looking characters were in the city yesterday, but the police missed them. The robbers are not yet believed to have left the city.

Operated in Toronto.

Great excitement was caused by the robbery, as everybody was talking last night of the warning received and given by the police, and when it was found this morning that the thieves had actually arrived and had been operating, there was quite a Jesse James tinge to the affair.

Later developments show that the men who operated here are professional safe blowers, and are believed to be the men who operated in Toronto last week.

The Belleville police yesterday afternoon received word from Toronto to be on the look out for Robert Bennett, Joseph Gilligan and "Wee Scotia," professional cracksmen, who had left Oshawa en route for this city, and to arrest them. The suspects are all young men. Their descriptions were sent to the police here. They are wanted for safe blowing in other places. The police here have been scouring the city looking for traces, but so far without success.

Partridge Is Forbidden Game

Game Warden Tinsley Sends Out a Warning.

The following circular, which explains itself is being sent out by Chief Game Warden E. Tinsley to all hotels, restaurants, butcher shops, etc., in the Province of Ontario:

"I have been instructed to do all possible to stop the illegal traffic in game, especially in regard to the sale of partridge or grouse. I therefore beg to inform you that hereafter, upon any information that a sale has been made, a charge will be laid, a search warrant issued, and the proprietor and all employees put in the box as witnesses and compelled to testify, under oath, as to the truth of the charges.

"I also desire to point out particularly that your customers are as much liable to be fined for buying partridge or grouse as you would be for selling, and where a sale is found to have been made the purchaser will not only be summoned as a witness, but will also be charged at the police court for a violation of the game law by making such illegal purchases.

"I therefore trust that in future all those catering to the public will realize the necessity of obeying the game laws, and, by so doing, save themselves and customers trouble."

Joseph Tobin Caught At Last

Has Been Wanted for More Than a Year.

The elusive Joseph Tobin, of Douro Township, who has been evading justice since Dec. 5, 1903, when he was arrested for being drunk and disorderly in a public place, was the only prisoner at the Police Court this morning. On the above date he was arrested and on promising to appear before the magistrate shortly after, was allowed his freedom, and was not "gathered in" until yesterday.

Magistrate Dumble in reviewing the case pointed out the dishonour attached to the faithlessness of the prisoner's word and the tangled web he has been weaving in avoiding justice. He was assessed $2 and costs, amounting to $6.85 in all, the fine to be paid forthwith or 15 days in jail. The fine was paid.

Reports Indicate A YEAR OF PROGRESS In St. Paul's Church

Annual Meeting Was Held Last Night, When Reports of the Year's Operations Were Presented—All Branches of the Church Gave Satisfactory Evidence of Advancement—The Finances in Good Shape.

The annual meeting of the congregation of St. Paul's church was held last evening, when reports, covering the work of the different departments of the church, during 1905, were presented, and other business transacted.

The meeting was held in the Sunday school room, and there was a good attendance. The reports from the different departments showed the work of the church to be in a flourishing condition, with the prospects bright for a successful future. Mr. G. M. Roger made a very capable chairman.

Report of Session.

The report of the Session was read by Rev. Dr. Torrance. It was stated that St. Paul's had existed as a congregation for about seventy-two years, during which time it had made steady progress. To-day St. Paul's was in a flourishing condition, and there was every reason to believe that it would continue in this condition in the future. The report referred to some of the features of the work of St. Paul's during the past year.

Young Men's Guild.

Mr. R. F. McWilliams, the president, read the report of the Young Men's Guild. It stated that the membership of the Guild was now about seventy, and the average attendance at the meetings was about seventy.

Many young men, who previously had taken very little interest in the work of the church, had been led to take more interest through the Guild.

One of the interesting features of the work of the Guild in 1905, was the holding of a Mock Parliament, which had proved very interesting.

Ladies Aid.

The report of the secretary of the Ladies' Aid, Margaret Gibson, showed that this department had made good progress. Financially, it was in excellent condition. The financial statement showed that the receipts during the year had been $395.42, and the expenditure, $241.92, leaving a balance on hand of $150.50.

Sunday School Report.

The report of the Superintendent of the Sunday School, Mr. William Madill, stated that it was regrettable that the Sunday school could not report very much progress during 1905. There had been a falling off in the membership. This was especially marked in the senior department. The enrollment in the different departments in 1905 was as follows:

Primary	30
Kindergarten	26
Intermediate	94
Bible class	32
Teachers and officers	29
Total	211

In September a Young Men's Bible Class was organized and is in charge of Rev. W. McD. McKay.

Important additions have been made to the Sunday school library during 1905. Three hundred new volumes have been added. Financially the Sunday school is in good condition.

The receipts during the year were $609.96, and the expenditure $500.89, leaving a balance on hand of $109.07.

Knox Church.

A short report was presented giving some interesting information regarding the progress of Knox church. This congregation was established on June 6th, 1905, and was making satisfactory growth under the able pastorate of Rev. W. McD. Mackay. The membership last June June was 42; at present it was over 60. Since the establishment of this congregation a Girls' Mission Band and a Ladies' Aid Society had been organized and were doing good work. The Sunday school was also in good condition.

A Missionary Committee.

At this stage of the meeting Dr. Torrance said that it had been decided at a meeting of the session a few days ago to recommend to the congregation the formation of a missionary committee to superintend the missionary funds of the church.

On motion it was decided to take this step, and the following gentlemen were named an executive committee for the new organization: — Messrs. Roger, Shook, Innes, Harrison, R. Hall, Collins, A. Hall, and H. O. Fisher.

Board of Management.

Messrs. Crane, Pringle, Innes and Scott, whose term of office on the Board of Management had expired, were re-elected for another three years. Mr. A. P. McLean was elected to fill the place on the Board of management vacated by the resignation of Mr. Bennet.

Messrs. W. J. Stacey and R. F. McWilliams were elected as auditors for the year 1906.

The Missionary account was as follows: Receipts, $344.17; expenditure, $280.13, leaving a balance on hand of $64.04.

Mission Band.

Dr. Torrance read the eighth annual report of the Faithful Workers' Mission Band. An increase in the membership and in the interest in the monthly meetings was noted. The membership this year is thirty, with an average attendance of fifteen. Meetings were held regularly during the year with the exception of July and August. Sewing meetings were also held and were well attended. Twenty-two yards of rag carpet valued at $10 were sent to the Northwest. In January a lecture was given by Rev. J. W. Pedley, of Toronto, the proceeds of which amounted to $55. The total amount raised by the Band last year was $70.05 which is the largest amount the band has raised for some time. The Band is looking forward to a very successful year.

Fraser Mission Band.

The secretary of the Fraser Mission Band, Miss Ethel Best, reported that their annual contribution would amount to $100 as formerly. Meetings were held once a month, except in July and August, with an average attendance of thirteen. The thank offering at the thanksgiving meeting amounted to $38.40.

W. F. M. S.

The annual report of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society for 1905 was read by Rev. Dr. Torrance. It stated that the work is making steady progress. The total membership is now 100; of the Auxiliary 49 are members of the General Society and 18 are life members. The average attendance was the same as in 1904, fifty-eight. In August a bale was sent to the Indian Boarding School at Maboce Waste, containing clothing for a boy and girl for whom the society had been asked to provide; also quilts and other useful articles, the whole valued at $66.04. The thank offering service held in October, was largely attended and the offering was the largest ever received, amounting to $395.60. In January a banquet of twenty-five dollars was received from the estate of the late Mrs. Palmer. Thanks were expressed to the Stewart Settlement Sunday School for their kind donation of $4.00. No increase was reported in the number of subscribers to the Tidings, the number remaining the same, 105. In May the annual meeting of the General Society was held in St. Paul's church, the sessions lasting three days. The meetings were well attended and much zeal and enthusiasm was shown. The report contained a touching reference to the deaths of Miss Lucy Reid Mrs. Wilmot Haultain and Mrs. Moffat, who were members of the Society.

The financial statement of the W. F. M. S. showed that the receipts during the year were $609.968 and the expenditure $500.89, leaving a balance on hand of $109.07.

Before the conclusion of the meeting a hearty vote of thanks was tendered the choir for their valuable work during the year. The choir was referred to as one of the best in the city, the harmony existing between the different members and their leader being one of the features. Mr. R. E. Wood, in a short address, eulogized the choir for its splendid work and referred in glowing terms to the leader, Mr. Crane.

Mr. Crane made a short reply thanking those who had spoken, most heartily, for their kind words.

A vote of thanks was also passed to the ushers for their work during the year.

The meeting closed with the pronouncement of the benediction by Rev. Dr. Torrance.

The Council Decide To Make Transfer of Lots

At Least the Special Committee Will Recommend That the School Board Get Lots 3 and 4, South of McDonel Street—According to the Original Agreement—What Will the Effect of This Resolution Be?

The City Council is up on its ear now, and if the military authorities and School Board will not come to an agreement mighty soon in reference to the transfer of the lots on Central Park, the chances are the Council will wash their hands of the whole thing.

After listening for two hours last night to the views of the School members and to one representative of the Militia, the Council Committee passed a resolution after the others had retired recommending the Council to transfer to the School Board lots three and four south of McDonel street as originally agreed upon. The resolution as passed was as follows: "Moved by Ald. Tovey, seconded by Ald. McIntyre, that the Committee recommend to the Council that a deed of lots Nos. 3 and 4 south of McDonel street and west of George street, be given to the Board of Education for a site for the Collegiate Institute in pursuance of the agreement made between the 57th Regiment, the Board of Education, the Minister of Public Works, and the Council is embodied in report of the Finance Committee to the Council on Sept. 27th.—Carried.

Now it's up to the other two bodies to get busy and do something.

When asked to-day if the action of the committee last night was intended to have the effect of bringing the militia to time and influencing them to accept the proposal of the School Board, who, by the transfer as indicated above, will have a right to build in the centre of the lots, Ald. McWilliams, chairman of the committee, smiled and admitted that it might have that effect.

Uxbridge Will Play The Locals Friday Night

Peterboro' Team Had a Good Work-out Last Night and Will Be in Fine Shape.

The hockey team had a good work out last night, putting in one hour and a half of hard and fast work and are in fine shape for Friday night's game. Rollie Glover will not play Friday on account of illness. Melville Moore will very likely take his place at point as he is putting up a fine article of hockey this year. He played a fine game in Cobourg and ought to make a hit Friday night.

The weather man promises to give good ice for the game Friday night and if he does the local fans ought to see a fine exhibition of hockey as the locals have been practising a four man combination all the way and are shooting faster and surer than ever before.

The team will be picked from the following players:—Wasson, Morgan, Cavanah, Graham, Currier, Crowley, Moore, Parnell and Capt. Whitcroft. Crowley, Moore, and Wasson will be hard to beat for a defence and those husky Uxbridge forwards will find it out sooner or later and with a fast forward line in front of them it looks pretty good from the sides. With Morgan, Cavanah, Currier, Graham to choose from for the forward line and Whitcroft at rover, Peterborough has the best scoring line that has worn a Peterborough uniform for some time. They are all fast skaters and are playing much more together now than earlier in the season. Capt. Fred. Whitcroft is in much better shape than he has been this year and he is nearly down to weight now. He is fitting in the combination and following back faster than he has in a long time, and his shooting has improved wonderfully the past two weeks.

Speedy Games Anticipated In City League

Results of To-night's Double Contests Arouse Much Interest.

The City League games to-night promise to be the speediest that have been played in that League this season. These games have been followed with increasing interest by all lovers of the game in the city and interest has now reached a climax.

Each of the teams that contest this evening is confident of wining the victory and the final laurels, for on to-night's games hinge their chances of success.

The City League this year has brought to the surface a number of speedy men who have hitherto been somewhat obscured, and who with the continued activeness in hockey which they have shown, will place them in higher company in next year's games. The Bankers have the same line up to-night as in the preceding games with the exception of Kelly, who will replace Edwards at cover point. On the Suicides, Mann, who demonstrated his ability in hockey last night in the P.B.C.-Pill Pounder game, will likely replace Quinn. The High Lifes have the best line up of the season, and are confident of "taking in" the Suicides. The Suburbs, although the team has not been yet identified, will have a strong team against the Bankers. The latter game will be played first, from 8 to 9, and, following that the Suicides and the High Lifes meet. These games should not be missed, as they will undoubtedly be the best in the League this season.

Referee—E. Wasson.

Pill Pounders Win Final Game

Defeated Business College by Score of 4-2.

The Pill Pounders got away to a good start last night when they defeated the Business College team in a good exhibition of hockey by 4-2. The half-time score was 2-1 in favour of the winners who had a shade the best of the argument at all stages. It was not an easy victory, however, as the College boys played desperately to win out. The checking was close and the playing was not at all of the Alphonse-Gaston variety. For the Druggists Mann and Quinn were easily the stars. The former was all over the ice and his serpentine rushes were always dangerous. He scored in the second half on a pretty individual rush that was the feature play of the night Quinn checked and shot well and his frequent rushes were of great assistance. For the College Dawe, R. Todd and Giroux were the pick of the bunch.

Pill Pounders—Goal, Yelland; point, Davidson; cover point, Quinn; forwards, Mann, Darke, Tully, and Fitzgerald.

Referee—F. Craig.

The game was witnessed by a large crowd including a number of the fair sex who wore the P. B. C. colours.

Captain Ross In Toronto

Former Swordsmen and Wrestler in Queen City.

Capt. Ross, well known to Peterborough sports has visited Toronto, and this is what the News says of him:—"To look at Captain Duncan C. Ross, now a duly enlisted member of the Rough Riders in the United States army but formerly connected with that famous regiment, the Scots Greys, one would not think that he had f-i-g-h-t and w-r-e-s-t-l-e writ large in his constitution. The casual observer would size him up as being a bluff, good-natured man of the world, of military bearing, indeed, but evidences of a belligerent disposition there are none. As a matter of fact, however, Capt. Ross is out to fight and wrestle with the best of them. Albeit somewhat over sixty years of age, though he does not look to be much past that mile post in life's journey termed forty, this officer in Uncle Sam's army would rather fight or wrestle than indulge in an abbreviated decoction of that beverage known as the drink of his forefathers.

Capt. Ross, in short, simply thrives on the clang of arms and the sound of battle. Having passed unscathed through the Ashantee expedition, during which he acted as orderly to Sir Charles Slavley, having emerged unscathed from the valorous charge of the Rough Riders at San Juan Hill, having, later, pitted his soldierly qualities, with equally satisfactory results, against the elusive Boer, the Captain is inclined to believe with Tommy Ryan that such harmless battlings as fighting and wrestling, as conducted now-a-days, resemble the real thing as much as a child's pony does a grizzly bear. Captain Ross says that if he can get on a boxing bout or a wrestling match with any of the locals, it will take him about three weeks to train, and then may he everlastingly be lambasted if there are not wigs on every green before he gets through with his antagonist, whoever he may be.

Capt. Ross, who visited The News office to-day to set forth his views on the gentle art of self-defence, says that some of the promoters of wrestling matches elsewhere are far from gentlemanly in the propositions they are disposed to make to a man of honour. Down in Montreal, for example, he asserts that a French-Canadian promoter said that, as the Irish and Scotch would back him to the limit, it would be essential that he should "fall down" at the last moment, so that the speaker's compatriots might glean these easy shekels. But Capt. Ross, according to his own story, spurned this offer with virtuous indignation. While he wanted to wrestle, while he wanted to wrestle badly, he was not disposed to fleece the Britons after that fashion. So that if Capt. Ross gets on a bout in this city it will have to be on the dead square. There is to be no chenanigins about it.

A WOMAN'S BACK IS THE MAINSPRING OF HER PHYSICAL SYSTEM. The Slightest Backache, if Neglected, is Liable to Cause Years of Terrible Suffering.

No woman can be strong and healthy unless the kidneys are well, and regular in their action. When the kidneys are ill, the whole body is ill; for the poisons which the kidneys ought to have filtered out of the blood are left in the system.

The female constitution is naturally more subject to kidney disease than a man's; and what is more, a women's work is never done—her whole life is one continuous strain.

How many women have you heard say: "My, how my back aches!" Do you know that backache is one of the first signs of kidney trouble? It is; and should be attended to immediately. Other symptoms are frequent thirst, scanty, thick, cloudy or highly colored urine, burning sensation when urinating, frequent urination, puffing under the eyes, swelling of the feet and ankles, floating specks before the eyes, etc.

These symptoms if not taken in time and cured at once, will cause years of terrible kidney suffering. All these symptoms, and in fact, these diseases may be cured by the use of

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

They act directly on the kidneys, and make them strong and healthy.

His Claim To Equality With The Minister

Mr. Webster Thought Himself All Fours With His Chief.

CONSULTING WITH MEMBERS

Mutilation of Letters on Files Explained—Mr. Webster Is Surprised at Authority For His Appointment—St. Clair Licenses Were Issued and Paid For—The Fishery Branch Inquiry Adjourned.

Toronto, Feb. 1.—The fishery inquiry was adjourned yesterday afternoon for a week, after the examination of one or two witnesses, and the cross-examination of Mr. Webster, Mr. J. J. Jones desired to bring forward some further evidence, and Mr. I. F. Hellmuth, K.C., while he wished to forward the case as far as he could, submitted that he could not bring forward his defence until all the charges had been made. Commissioner Judd thought this reasonable and made the adjournment.

For some years Mr. Webster, who makes the charges against Mr. Bastedo, has been under the impression that he was of equal importance with Mr. Bastedo in the office. He received some new light in regard to his position.

The matter came up when a letter of Mr. Bastedo's was exhibited, over which Mr. Webster had written in blue pencil: "Nonsense. I have removed nets in winter time often."

"Do you think it a proper thing for a subordinate to write a remark like that on his chief's letter?" asked Mr. Hellmuth.

"I didn't consider myself a subordinate," was the reply. "I am of the same rank. I am an officer, and he is an officer," was the explanation. He admitted that Mr. Bastedo was in charge of the branch and that he was acting under him. Mr. Webster had been taking the ground that he was appointed under R. S. O. 15, section 3, sub-section 3.

"Did it ever strike you you were not appointed under that act at all?" Mr. Hellmuth enquired. "Did you ever read the fisheries act?"

Mr. Webster said he had, but he was not aware of the amendment 62 Victoria, ch. 1, section 2, 41a, which provides that the Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time appoint a deputy commissioner and such other officers as might be necessary.

Surprised Him.

Mr. Webster signified that all this was new to him. Mr. Hellmuth then read the letter from the Clerk of the Council, signed by the Lieutenant-Governor, dated Dec. 2, 1898, appointing him an officer of the branch at a salary of $1,400 a year from Nov. 9. 1898.

"You were appointed under the fisheries act, Mr. Webster; that's a surprise to you?"

"Yes, it is," Mr. Webster admitted.

"There was no commission issued to you?"

"No." He had only received the letter from Mr. Lonsdale that he was appointed an officer. He had always claimed, he said, in his own mind, to be equal to Mr. Bastedo. Subsequently he stated that he was drawing an allowance from the Dominion Government as a superannuated servant. The amount is $600 a year.

Fishing Without License.

The St. Clair fishermen's licenses were taken up at the opening of the session. Mr. Webster had charged that they were allowed to fish during a whole season without licenses. Mr. Webster admitted he knew that there were petitions for and against the licenses, and while these were under consideration no licenses were issued, but that the licenses were eventually issued and the fees paid by the fishermen, so that the Government lost nothing. Mr. Webster repeated that his charge was that they were permitted to fish without license.

"What political significance attached to the issue of licenses?" asked Mr. Hellmuth.

Mr. Webster had no personal knowledge, he said, but the members had been consulted by Mr. Bastedo.

"In the last year have any Conservative members been consulted?"

"I can see no change in that respect," said Mr. Webster.

"Is it not advisable that persons presumably having knowledge of the conditions should be consulted?"

Mr. Webster did not think members should be consulted, but that the officers of the department should make their own investigations.

"Who would they consult—trees or men?" questioned Mr. Hellmuth.

"Men." But Mr. Webster still wished to exclude M. P. P.'s from those to be consulted.

"You would not take any part in consulting a member yourself?" pursued the counsel.

"I don't say I would not."

"Why?"

"I'd use my judgment."

Consulting the Members.

Mr. Hellmuth then produced a telegram from Mr. Webster at Port Stanley, recommending the application for a boat license off Yarmouth, recommended by Mr. Brower and the overseer. Mr. Webster was not sure if Mr. Brower was the member or not, and thought he took the overseer's word for it.

"If satisfied a local member knows more about it than anybody else there is no harm in consulting him," he finally admitted. The department had renewed all the St. Clair licenses in 1905.

Several accounts were gone into on the charge of money having been paid out irregularly. In one case it was shown that Mr. Webster had included a day himself in error, which had been struck off the claim as an election day.

"Having seen these documents, do you think that charge fairly expresses what the documents show?" asked Mr. Hellmuth. "Or do you wish to withdraw it? I want to get an idea of your intelligence."

Mr. Webster was satisfied to stand upon his charge.

"You made no objection to Mr. Bastedo or the treasurer on this matter?"

"No; it wasn't my province" He did not think Mr. Bastedo got any money out of it, or any personal advantage.

In the case of the charge that Duncan Bole had been allowed to collect $40 for angling fees and not called to account, Mr. Webster said:

"We sent back $40 to the Genesee Fishing Club, which had never been received by us."

"Do you say you paid money you never received!"

"It could not be paid back when we never received it. We paid money which we never received."

Vouchers Were Required.

"Didn't Mr. Bastedo write to Bole and demand vouchers, and don't you know it?"

"Yes, he did."

"Then what do you mean by saying Mr. Bastedo allowed him to send in accounts this way when you know he demanded vouchers and would not pass the accounts without them?"

"They are not settled yet."

A letter was read from the department to Bole, pointing out that vouchers were necessary, that some of his disbursements were impossibly large, and notifying him of several outstanding claims against him. A statement of Bole's account, made out by Mr. Webster, was also put in, showing Bole to be a creditor of the province to the amount of $35, allowing for the items lacking vouchers. Mr Webster had kept the papers and letter in the Bole affairs on his desk, instead of the file provided. Mr. Hellmuth wished to know what authority he had for this, and the reply was that he had done it in other cases, and did not consider any authority was needed.

Mr. Webster was asked what his politics were, but Commissioner Judd did not think this was fair. He might be asked if he had acted through political spleen. "At all events, you didn't think it politic to make any complaint until there was a change of Government," remarked Mr. Hellmuth, and Mr. Webster assented.

Letters Cut In Two.

Mr. James Mulligan, a clerk in the Fisheries' Department, had often had to take letters from the public letter book and put them into the private letter book. These had been always copied in error. He could not explain these cases where letters were torn out and missing Letters to M. P.'s and M. P. P.'s were usually copied in the private letter book.

Witness then deposed that letters were sometimes cut into two parts when different subjects were dealt with, and the two parts put on different files. File No. 3 was produced, and at page 319 an example of such a divided letter was shown. Part of the letter related to one subject. A few lines at the end dealing with another matter were produced on another file. The alleged mutilation of letters had occurred quite often, said Mr. Mulligan. He knew other cases. He knew nothing about the log of the "Gilphie." He had never seen Mr. Bastedo destroy or take a letter from the files

Adjournment Reached.

Miss Agnes Wallace was sworn. She had charge of indexing the letter books. She had seen personal letters taken out of the public letter books and placed in the private book. She had never received any instructions to cut out or destroy any letters, nor to destroy her shorthand books. She had destroyed her older books. Mr. Webster had asked her within the last two weeks if she had been told to destroy her note-books.

After giving some instructions to one of the clerks to prepare a list of pages missing from the letter books, which had been indexed, with the names under which the pages appeared, the commissioner adjourned the inquiry until next Wednesday morning, the 7th inst., at 10 o'clock.

Australia Yields.

Ottawa, Feb. 1.—The Australian Government has yielded to the strong remonstrances of the Canadian trade agents in Australia. D. H. Ross and J. S. Larke, and has modified its policy of adding the freight to the value of importations for duty purposes, which had the effect of discriminating against Vancouver and in favor of New York.

Their Lives Crushed Out By Steel Rails

Life Out of Two Men and Badly Injure Two More.

COLLAPSE OF A DERRICK

Fatal Accident to Construction Crew on the Guelph-Goderich Branch of the C. P. R. Near Montrose—40-Ton Girder and Car Plunged Down the Bank Carrying Men With Them.

Guelph, Feb. 1.—Two men were killed and two seriously injured at the Grand River, on the Guelph and Goderich Railway, yesterday morning. The gang were placing a girder for the big bridge, when, as a result of the sinking of the track on the south side, the derrick car and girder upset and rolled down the embankment. The dead are Timothy Mahoney, London, conductor of the construction train, and David McKenzie, Listowel, a section boss, and the injured are Charles Amey, Toronto Junction, foreman of the bridge gang, and Fred Symons of Toronto, a brakeman.

The big girder, which is 106 feet long and weighs 40 tons, had been lifted from the car and was being placed, when, without warning the derrick began to list, and the girder swung around, and both took a plunge down the bank, dragging the cars of rails with them. The engine alone remained on the track.

Dead Terribly Mangled.

There were about a dozen men on the north side of the train. Mahoney was caught a little below the track by the derrick and terribly mangled. McKenzie was caught farther down the hill and was frightfully injured about the head and body. He died while being brought to the city.

Amey and Symon were almost at the foot of the embankment when they were struck. Amey received severe bruises about the head and was seriously injured internally. Symons had one of his arms and several ribs broken. One hand had to be amputated.

Mahoney had been in the service of the C. P. R. for upwards of 20 years, and had been conductor on freight trains running on the Toronto and Windsor line before coming to Guelph. He was 49 years of age, and leaves a wife and six children, the eldest of whom is 19 years of age.

McKenzie was 45 years of age and leaves a wife and family.

An inquest will be held.

She was later released, and about the same time the charge of bigamy was made.

Dr. Donaldson Of Brockville Was Murdered

Canadian Boer War Veteran Killed by German Soldiers.

FILLED BODY WITH BULLETS

Dr. Donaldson, of Brockville, Ont., Victim of German Soldiers at Swakopmund, German Southwest Africa—His Military Career In Canada and Elsewhere—Victim an Elder-Dempster Surgeon.

London, Feb. 1.—A despatch to the Central News from Cape Town, published here yesterday, says:

"Canadians here are enraged at an alleged outrage by German soldiers at Swakopmund, German Southwest Africa, who are said to have shot and killed Dr. Anson Donaldson of Brockville, Ont. According to the story, Dr. Donaldson was walking peacefully in the street when a soldier fired at him, and while he was lying wounded on the ground, other soldiers riddled his body with bullets."

Brockville Shocked at News.

Brockville, Feb. 1.—This town was shocked on learning of the brutal murder of Dr. A. S. Donaldson. His brother, C. A. Donaldson, first received the news through the local newspaper offices. The feeling here is that the crime should receive the attention of the British Government at once, and his brother has communicated with the Elder-Dempster Steamship Co., in whose employ he was, for definite information.

Dr. Donaldson was born in Brockville 29 years ago, and entered McGill University, Montreal, where he pursued a medical course with success. After graduation he was house-surgeon at the Royal Victoria Hospital. He enlisted with the Strathcona Horse and went to South Africa, where he served also with the second C. M. R. He also joined forces in pursuit of the Mad Mullah, and after that accepted a position with the Delagoa Bay Development Co. at Marquez. He then returned home and spent some weeks here, but left Brockville about a year ago, going to Edinburgh for a post-graduate course, receiving the licentiate degree. Later he accepted a position with the Elder-Dempster Co., as surgeon on the Stovele, plying between Liverpool and the west coast of South Africa.

Dr. Donaldson was unmarried and is survived by one sister and two brothers—Mrs. Herbert Simpson, Pittsburg, Pa., and George of Syracuse, N. Y., and Charles A. Donaldson of Brockville, also a South African veteran.

MUST GET MORE MONEY.

John Mitchell Says Miners Must Be Better Paid or No Agreement.

Indianapolis, Feb. 1.—John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America, addressing the joint scale committee of the central competitive district yesterday, said: "There must be an increase in wages or there will be no agreement.

In his ultimatum to the operators, President Mitchell did not mention any percentage of increase. It is generally recognized that his statement is backed by the almost unanimous sentiment of the miners' delegates and that the minimum increase that would be accepted without a struggle will be 5.55 per cent, which was the amount of the decrease in wages two years ago.

Mr. Mitchell declared that so far as his influence extended with the Miners' Union, and so long as he could prevent it, the standard of conditions enjoyed by the miners at present would never be lowered.

He said: "I'm making this statement so that you gentlemen will know where I stand when it comes to a point in this conference whether to agree or not to agree."

The operators of Illinois, Ohio and Western Pennsylvania districts have agreed to stand by the operators of the southwestern district.

"We will not grant one mill a ton advance, directly or indirectly," said one.

Proposed Trip For Mendelssohn Choir Concert

Local Choirs Should Avail Themselves of Opportunity.

A suggestion has been made that an excursion be run to Toronto by special train on Tuesday, Feb. 13th, to attend the concert of the Mendelssohn Choir. The concerts are on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, Feb. 13th, and 14th, and on Saturday afternoon and evening following. The choir of 250 voices will be in co-operation with the Pittsburg Orchestra under Emil Paur, conductor. Of the work of the Mendelssohn Choir there is no question of its place as an educator for any Church Choir. Mr. Vogt is a leader of great ability and his concerts are full of interest and beauty. Choir work in Peterborough will undoubtedly receive a great impetus by the members attending this concert. The idea is to attend the first night and it will be necessary to make immediate arrrangements in order to ensure a special train and tickets for concert, Mr. W. Melroy at the C. P.R. up-town office has the arrangements in hand.

Non-Coms. Mess Said Farewell To Corp. Mitchell

Enjoyable Social Evening Spent by Members Last Night.

The non-coms. of the 57th Regiment held an enjoyable smoker in the mess rooms last night. The affair was in the nature of a farewell to Corp. Charles Mitchell, of No. 6 Company, who will leave the city in a short time. A large number of the non-coms. were present, and the evening passed most pleasantly with cards and other social amusements.

Corp. Mitchell had his Edison concert phonograph with him and gave some most beautiful selections during the evening. The machine is a very fine one, and the music provided was much enjoyed.

On the arrival of the commanding officer, Lt.-Col. Miller, Capt. Cluxton and Sgt.-Major Brittain from the officers' drill class a novel and lasting farewell was given to Corp. Mitchell. The recorder was put on the phonograph, and Lt.-Col. Miller made a short speech, eulogizing Corp. Mitchell for his services in the regiment and wishing him every success. Sergt.-Major Brittain also said a few words in praise of Corp. Mitchell.

The non-coms. then gathered around the machine, and after giving three cheers for Corp. Mitchell sang "He's a jolly good fellow," and "Auld Lang Syne."

During the evening speeches were made by Lieut.-Col. Miller, and Capt. Cluxton, speaking in the highest terms of Corp. Mitchell, whose departure from the regiment is regretted by officers and men alike.

Arrangements are almost completed for the stag party, which is to be held by the non-coms. in the near future.

The monthly business meeting will be held next Wednesday night when important business will be transacted. All the members are asked to be present. Refreshments will be served.

Two Disastrous Fires Occurred Within Twelve Hours

Norwood Visited by Two Conflagrations Last Night—Assyrian's Store Burned Out—Safety of the Entire Business Portion Threatened—Loss to Stock and Building Covered by Insurance—Mr. Ben. Howson Loses Barn and Contents—Practically Uninsured.

Special Wire to The Examiner.

Norwood, February 1st. — During the last twelve hours this town has been visited by two fires, which in their way have been somewhat disastrous. The first occurred about 6.30 last night in the store of S. Aboud, an Assyrian trader, who conducted his business in the Reynolds Block, Colborne street. There was no one in the store at the time, and the origin of the fire is not known. It is supposed though that it started from the pipes from a wood stove which passes through the ceiling. The fire was first discovered at the top of the sheeting, and when first seen it had made considerable headway. The building was almost completely gutted, the stock being almost a total loss. Insurance to the extent of $1,000 was carried on the stock in the Economical Insurance Company, and the building was insured in the British North America Company. Loss on both stock and building will be covered by insurance.

The stock of Mr. Ball, who has a fancy goods store adjoining that of Mr. S. Aboud, was damaged by smoke.

Fears were entertained for some time for the buildings on either side of that burned, but fortunately the fire was extinguished before it reached them.

The second conflagration occurred between three and four o'clock this morning, when a large barn on the farm of Mr. Ben. Howson, who lives about half a mile from this town, on the Hastings road, was burned. The origin of the fire is a complete mystery. The barn was completely destroyed, five tons of hay being burned, with all the poultry in the stable. Mr. Howson succeeded in saving his horses and cattle.

Unfortunately there was insurance for only $100 on the barn and contents, which of course will not nearly meet the loss.

According to reports the fire originated at the top of the barn near the roof, but as to how it started there there are no means of knowing.

The people of the town are looking for the third blaze, now.

Stony Lake's Rich IRON ORE DEPOSITS May Be Exploited

Mining Man's Belief That in Near Future They Will be Worked—Electric Smelting May do Much for This City—Conditions Here are Said to be Favourable—Large Iron Ore Deposits in This County.

The Examiner is informed by a gentleman prominent in mining circles, and possessing a wide personal knowledge of geology, an evidence of which is furnished by his discoveries in the past, that near Stony Lake there are rich and extensive deposits of iron ore, and he predicts that in the very near future that part of this county will become a prosperous mining district. The ore, according to his statement, is easily mined, and, with the adoption of the system of electric smelting, which, according to reports, will, in the near future, become feasible, there is good reason to believe that Peterborough will be the location of an electric smelter. In view of this fact, the following despatch to The Toronto Star will be of interest, indicating as it does that the electric smelter problem is, in all probability, one which will be successfully worked out:

"Sault Ste. Marie, Jan 31.—Dr. Haanel, the Dominion Government's Superintendent of Mines, arrived in town on Friday to see how the electric smelting experiments, now being carried on here by Dr. Heroult, the eminent French expert, were progressing. It is understood that Dr. Haanel is greatly pleased with the progress made.

"The public have not grasped the tremendous significance of these experiments. If they are successful (and Dr. Heroult says they are now) it will mean a revolution in the iron industry, and the making of Ontario the greatest iron country in the world. Your correspondent has been given the only interview yet accorded a newspaper in Canada by Dr. Heroult.

"It is stated you will spend some of your own money in addition to the $15,000 granted by the Dominion Government," the reporter said. To this the doctor intimated that he had got to that point already.

"Not at all," said the doctor. "With power that can be delivered at from $5 to $10 horse-power, there is no question about the success of electric smelting. In fact, my work here is not to see whether or not ore can be reduced by electricity—I have reduced tons of it in that way—but to demonstrate the commercial feasibility of the process. I want to satisfy the public that it is a profitable process."

"Is there any place where ore is being reduced by electricity today?"

"No; but the reason the process is not being used in Europe, for instance, is not because it is not a success, but because water-powers there are scarce, and wherever they exist, people find they can make more money out of them by using the power for purposes other than the smelting of iron. Water-powers there earn in some cases as high as $100 per horse-power per year. You can see that under such circumstances the reduction of ore would not be likely to flourish by such power. But here in Canada, where water-powers are so numerous that use cannot be found for them all, the case is different. Here the electric process will be at home, and her water-powers will make Canada a great iron-producing country. Then the coke difficulty will be solved. You won't need any coke.

"The general public will not be allowed to witness our work, and nothing will be given out about it before the Dominion Government issues its official report."

Fruitless Discussion WAS THE RESULT OF Last Night's Conference

Board of Education and 57th Regiment Representative Last Night Discussed Proposed Transfer of Central Park Lots—Only One Representative From the Regiment—School Board Wants to Save the Separate School Building.

Last night the much discussed question of the exchange of sites for the armoury and Collegiate Institute was again taken up, and threshed out for a couple of hours, but the result of the conference was that nothing was done beyond the representations of the Board of Education affirming that that body wanted the exchange made, and Mr. V. Eastwood stating that he understood that the majority did not want it.

The meeting was called for nine o'clock, but it was 9.45 when it was opened, and even at this time there was not by any means a full representation of the three bodies called to the conference. Only one of the five members of the 57th Regiment Committee was present. Those who attended the meeting, were: for the council, Ald. McWilliams, Adams, Tovey and McIntyre; for the School Board, Messrs. D. W. Dumble, B. F. Ackerman and M. A. Morrison; for the Regiment, Mr. V. Eastwood.

Ald. McWilliams, who acted as chairman of the meeting, explained the object the council had in inviting the other parties to the conference, viz., the desire to see them come to an amicable settlement of the difficulty in order that the work might be proceeded with at once. He had consulted with Mr. Crane, the chairman of the Property Committee of the Board, and Col. Miller, of the Regiment, and they had both agreed to the meeting being held last night, and they had undertaken to notify their respective committees. He knew of no reason why the Regiment Committee was not present.

Some discussion arose as to whether it was advisable to proceed with the business in view of the fact that the Regiment Committee, with the exception of Mr. Eastwood, had ignored the meeting.

They decided, however, to talk the matter over at any rate, and both parties through their representatives aired their respective views.

Mr. Dumble on behalf of the Board of Education, said that that body wanted the exchange made; that is, they wanted the south lots, and he thought that since they asked for the exchange it was only reasonable that they should give their reasons.

Mr. Dumble then proceeded to explain why the Board preferred the south lots, the main reason being that they might use the Separate school building, which he thought was too valuable to destroy. He pointed out that the Board of Education, when the lease of the Menzies school should expire, might find themselves in a fix, and it would not be wisdom to allow themselves to be placed where they could be held up.

The only reason he had heard advanced by the military against the change was that the Board of Education had taken its choice of the northern lots and should stand by it. It was true that it had taken its choice, but what of it? The opinion was that it was a mistake; and the regiment was asked to make the exchange, an exchange which would not injure the regiment in any way; and he thought that they should be willing to meet the Board to this extent.

Dr. Morrison followed and agreed in the main with Mr. Dumble. If the Separate school could be repaired for from $2060 to $2500, he was inclined to think that it should be done. He did not propose to use it for a public school, however, but for a manual training and technical school.

Mr. Ackerman was strongly of the opinion that the change should be made. He was entirely opposed to destroying the old Separate school building.

Captain Eastwood, who was the sole representative of the Regiment present, explained the position, as it appeared to him. He judged that the absence of the members of the two committees indicated that they were content to allow the matter to remain as it was. As far as keeping the Separate school building is concerned, he thought that if it would cost $4,000 to repair it, it would be no economy to keep it. Rev. Father McColl had told him yesterday it would cost $1,500 to put in a heating system. There was no effort being made to sell the Menzies property. In his opinion there is no need for the Separate school building. More accommodation is wanted in the south end of the city for public schools. Asked as to the objection the regiment had to the exchange Mr. Eastwood declined to say anything further.

Ald. Adams was at a loss to see why the military were objecting to the exchange. He could see no reason why it could not be made.

Ald. Tovey objected to wasting time if nothing could be done at this meeting. He would like to see a resolution passed, if it would be binding, but if it would not there would be little use spending time talking to each other.

The result of the meeting was that Ald. McWilliams will make another effort to secure a meeting of the Regiment and School Board Committees, when it is to be hoped that the matter may be settled definitely.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

The Vitagraph productions at the Grand last night were not very well attended, yet some of the pictures were most beautiful and worthy of recognition. Especially were the scenes of Scotland and Borneo, and an observer could not fail to appreciate the landscapes from these places, that were thrown upon the canvas. Probably in the illustrated song, "When the Harvest Moon Is Shining on the River," beauty of landscape excelled, and each succeeding picture appeared to eclipse the one before.

R.N. JOLLIFFE'S RECITAL

—The many friends here of Mr. R. Norman Jolliffe will be interested in learning that he intends giving a recital in the Y.M.C.A. Hall here on Tuesday, February 20th. In this recital he will have the assistance of Miss H. Adele Blachford, soprano; Miss Ethel Y. King, contralto, and Mr. W. Maurice Van der Water, tenor, all of Toronto. These artists are all first class, and that they will be able to give a programme which will be enjoyed, is assured.

THE PARTING OF THE WAYS

"The Parting of the Ways," the latest comedy-drama, written by Nell Twomey will be seen at the Grand Opera House on Saturday, Feb. 3rd. It is spoken of as the most interesting and the brightest effort from Mr. Twomey's pen; this is saying a great deal. When his former successes, "The Wayward Son," "When the Harvest Days are Over," etc, are remembered. Mr. Twomey is a great favourite here and is always assured of a hearty welcome for those who appreciate the high class melo-drama. He has surrounded himself with a Company of clever people and the scenic investiture is much above the average. These special settings are carried for the four acts of the play. Matinee at 2.30; children 15c, adults 25c. Night prices 25c, 35c, 50c, gallery 15c. 1d

They see Spring almost treading on their heels, and stock-keepers in the store begin to plead for more space—more space—all the time. As we cannot expand or compress our size at will, it follows that more space must be secured by compressing the stock, and compressing the stock must be immediately preceded by inducements offered to the readers of these advertisements. Sharp Decline Of The Thermometer

A Change of 54 Degrees in Less Than Twelve Hours.

Those who counted upon a continuation of "open winter" weather were not taken into the confidence of the clerk of the weather, who has sprung an unpleasant surprise on us. It must be awfully trying on human constitutions and coal bins, to have the October temperature of 33 degrees at noon yesterday, in less than twelve hours develop into the Klondyke temperature prevailing this morning.

There was a decided drop in the temperature last night, and this morning the lowest figure of the winter was reached, namely 21 degrees below zero, being a fall of 54 degrees since yesterday noon. At noon to-day the index marked 15 degrees below — a particularly low figure for the middle of the day. The change was sudden, but it will not be long before there will be a change to more moderate conditions.

We are grateful to the official weather prognosticator, who thus promises a relaxation of the present severe conditions.

Fire Hall Plans Approved By F. W. And L. Committee

Will Recommend to the Council Their Adoption—Hall Will be Substantially Same as That Planned Last Year—Construction Will be Proceeded With at Once—Architect Blackwell Will Prepare Specifications—Repair of Old Engine.

FIRE WATER AND LIGHT COMMITTEE MEETING

The Fire, Water and Light Committee of the City Council last night gave consideration to the plans for the new Fire Hall, the construction of which was authorized by the ratepayers on January first. The preliminary plans, which were prepared last year by Mr. T. A. S. Hay, the city engineer, after a visit to a number of places where halls had been erected in recent years, were carefully considered by the committee last night, and approved, the only variation from them being the narrowing of the building to 79 feet from 81 feet.

Last year's committee had apparently sized up the situation, and their suggestions as embodied in the plans were all favourably received.

At the next meeting of the council the committee will recommend the adoption of the plans.

Those present at the meeting last night were: Ald. Adams, chairman; Mayor Best, Ald. Graham, Ball, Elliott, Mason, Tovey.

The chairman explained that the object of the meeting was to consider the plans of the new fire hall to be erected this year, and to arrive, if possible at a decision as to what the committee should recommend to the council on Monday night.

The plans, as prepared last year by the city engineer, were considered, and Ald. Adams expressed doubts as to whether a building similar to that planned could be erected for the amount at the disposal of the committee for that purpose, viz., $9000. He was wondering if the building could not be reduced in size somewhat from that for which plans had been prepared.

The Chief, who arrived at this juncture, stated that in his opinion, there was no doubt that $9500 at the outside would be sufficient to construct the building.

It was practically decided that for the present only six rooms on the [illegible] would be finished for the use of firemen, and only a portion of the horse stalls planned. It was thought that by this course the cost would be still further decreased.

It was decided after some further discussion, on motion of Ald. Graham, seconded by Ald. Ball, that the plans as prepared by the city engineer, with the exception that the building should be 79 feet wide, instead of 82 feet, be approved, and that Mr. Blackwell be instructed to prepare the plans and specifications for the building. The motion was carried.

Mr. Blackwell stated that he would have the plans prepared about the end of next week, when they will be submitted to the committee before tenders are asked for.

A number of letters in reference to the cost of repairing the old engine were read. The Waterous Engine Company wrote saying that they would put it in good shape for $1000 to $1200, in case the engine and pumps had not to be rebuilt. This company offered to loan the city a small engine while the old one was being rebuilt. The Chief of the Brigade stated that the pumps, engines and springs were in good condition. The opinion was expressed that if it were repaired it would be worth about $2000. It was felt that the present engine could be traded off in part pay for a new engine.

Ald. Elliott and Tovey were of the opinion that the best way to get rid of the old engine was to trade it off for a new one, instead of repairing it.

His Worship wanted to know where the new engine was to be kept before the new fire hall was built.

It was pointed out that the floor of the present hall could be propped and strengthened.

It was decided to leave the disposition of the old engine with the chairman of the committee.

The whhels of the hook and ladder wagon will be repaired as soon as possible, and the Chief will have the work done.

Great Laurier Banquet Feb. 21

Yesterday was the last day for receiving applications for seats at the banquet to be given to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in Massey Hall, Toronto, on the 21st inst. The committee will meet this afternoon to allot the seats. The seating accommodation for the banquet is about 750, as the applications are some hundreds in excess of that number, the committee will be obliged to disappoint a large number.

Peterborough will be well represented on this great occasion.

Evidence Before Coroner's Jury Points To Murder

Infant Child Found in Raceway Was Not Drowned—Neck Had Been Broken—Fracture on Left Breast Discovered in the Post Mortem Examination—Body Was Unclothed When Found—Startling Developments May Follow—Adjourned for Two Weeks.

The continuation of the inquest into the cause of the death of the female infant which was found last Saturday against the racks at the Auburn power house, took place last night in the Council Chambers, City Hall, Coroner Gray presiding. R. E. Wood, Crown Attorney, questioned the witnesses.

Some evidence of a rather startling nature was given, and the present indications point strongly to a case of murder.

The evidence of Drs. Greer and Morgan, who performed the post-mortem, brought to light the fact that the child had breathed before being thrown into the water, that it had met death from either one of two fractures, of from the failure to tie the umbilical cord, and not from drowning. The first witness was Patrick Sullivan, who is an employee at the Auburn power house. In his evidence he stated he lived near the power house at Auburn; that he generally removed the driftwood in the racks once a day. That on Saturday morning the body was not there. In the afternoon, when going across the dam it was not there. On returning he saw body floating close against the rack. He said body could get into raceway. He pulled body out and left it on the bank and 'phoned Coroner Gray. Did not know how body got into the water. Had heard no previous rumours concerning infant.

The next witness was Daniel Belleghem, who testified that he was notified to go to the Auburn dam for the body on Saturday. He found child on the bank. Was shown where it was by a young man. Wrapped it up and brought it down to his undertaking establishment.

Dr. Greer then read the substance of the post-mortem examination held on Saturday evening, Jan. 20, in which he stated that on the left breast was a contusion 1 inch wide by 2 2 inches long, extending from beneath the nipple towards the armpit; that he found that the umbilical cord had not been tied and that it had the appearance of being separated by force; that the lungs contained air and that the stomach was empty.

To R. E. Wood witness stated that the body was fully developed and partially decomposed; that it was impossible to tell how long the body had been in the water. The neck appeared to have been broken by a twist. The sixth and seventh rib [illegible] and not by pressure. Death, he said, was not caused by drowning, and the injuries were caused before the child died. He attributed the cause of death to the breaking of the neck, or the fracture on the ribs, or to the uncared for umbilical cord.

Dr. Morgan, who had also associated with Dr. Greer in making the post-mortem, substantiated Dr. Greer's statements.

As no further light could be thrown on the question, the inquest was adjourned until Thursday, Feb. 15, at 8 o'clock p.m.

The jury, which was the same as empanelled on Saturday, was composed of the following gentlemen: Messrs. Jas. Finnie, foreman; F. W. Miller, C. A. Stenton, W. Stabler, W. Shea, W. J. Johnston, Jos. Johnston, R. Sheehy, C. L. Hayes, B. Wallis, John Logan, W. P. Adamson and W. P. White.

Lindsay Show A Great Success

Five Hundred Entries, Including Over 400 Fowl Belonging to Mr. H. Lush.

Speaking of the Lindsay Poultry Show, The Post says: "All's well" is the suitable term heard from those who are looking after the success of the Lindsay Poultry and Pet Stock Show. The building was opened yesterday, and everything is in full swing. When one enters the main door he at once becomes interested in the feathered occupants of the wooden crates on all sides, and he is kept busy viewing and inspecting the numerous varieties of fowl. The five hundred entries, comprise some of the finest stock that the Province can produce. The exhibitors of poultry are composed of the most noted fanciers and breeders coming from Peterborough, Toronto, Guelph Napanee, Woodville, Bowmanville Burat River, Brampton, Oakwood, Valentia, Springville and Lindsay. Besides chickens, there are some grand turkeys, white and bronze, all varieties of geese and ducks, and in the pet stock line pigeons, guinea pigs and rabbits. Some of the chickens shown are worth as much as $50 a pair.

Mr. H. T. Lush, of Peterborough, has over 100 fowl entered, one, a silver spangle, being a much valued bird, having won prizes in New York, Boston, and other American cities. His entries consist of barred Rocks, buff and white Rocks, Derkins, Orpingtons, buff and white Legberns, buff Wyandottes, Hamburgs, Minoreas, white Brahmas, white and golden Wyandottes and dressed poultry.

Two Prize Essays Upon Best Care Of Dairy Milk

A Prize Won by Mr. Andrews of Bensfort Factory--Excellent Advice to Dairy Patrons.

The Eastern Ontario Dairymen's Association through its secretary, Mr. R. G. Murphy, of Brockville, offered a prize for the best two essays on the care of milk to be manufactured into cheese. There were a large number of competitors, but the first prize goes to R. W. Thompson, of Springbrook, Ont. The second prize was captured by A. W. Andress, Lorenz, Bensfort, South Monaghan.

Care of Milk for Cheesemaking.

The care of milk for cheesemaking is a very important matter, as the condition the milk is in when it reaches the factory is a matter of dollars and cents to our dairymen.

As a cheesemaker of a good many years experience, I know that from one-quarter to one pound of cheese more can be made from one hundred pounds of milk that is in a proper condition than can be made from the same quantity of milk that is bad flavoured, gassy or over-ripe. A great many of our dairymen still believe that any milk that is not sour is all right for making cheese, but this is a great mistake. I would rather have a can of good, clean, sour milk, than one that was dirty and bad flavoured, even though it were sweet. It is impossible for any cheesemaker to make the finest quality of cheese unless he has the very best quality of milk. It would be to the interest of our dairymen to give their best attention to this matter. The care of milk does not begin with the milk, but with the cows, and the care they get. No cow unless she is healthy and well fed with proper food, and gets abundance of water, with free access to salt, is in a condition to give the best quality of milk. Therefore, care must be taken to see that the cows are well fed and cared for, and that they get no food such as turnips, etc., that would leave any bad flavour on the milk. As milk is about 87 per cent. water, it is therefore very important that the cows get abundance of the best pure water, and are not compelled to drink out of stagnant pools or mud holes. It is a safe rule never to allow cows to drink water that is not fit for human consumption.

Milking.

If the milking is done in the yard, it should be high and dry and kept well cleaned. If done in the stable the stable should be kept well cleaned and have a tight floor overhead to prevent any dirt or dust from falling into the milk. It should also be well-ventilated and well aired before milking by leaving the doors and windows open, but more especially in the summer season should the latter be done. Only good, clean tin pails should be used for milk. The milking should be done about the same hour, morning and evening, and by the same persons as much as possible. The cows' udder and sides should be wiped clean, and, if necessary, should be washed with warm water and wiped dry before the pail is put under the cow. Milk should be removed at once from the stable when the milking is done, as milk will taint very quickly if left in the stable or any place where the air is not perfectly pure. The milk stand should be some distance away from the barns and stables. The stand should be a covered one to protect the milk from the sun and rain.

Straining, Airing and Cooling.

Milk should be well strained immediately after the milking is done, and then aerated to allow the animal heat to escape, but care must be taken to do this in a pure atmosphere, or it will do more harm than good, as the milk will take in foul odors or germs that might be in the air to which it is exposed. There are several good kinds of aerators, but any method that will expose the milk so the air in a thin spray will answer the purpose. When milk has been well aired it should at once be cooled down to 65 or 70 degrees to keep over night. This may be done by any method that will lower the temperature of the milk, such as setting the cans in a tank of cold water or ice, or by means of a cooler of water or ice placed in the cans of milk. When the water becomes warm it should be changed, as it will be more of an injury than a benefit after it has become the same temperature of the milk. After the milk has reached the proper temperature the can should be covered over with a light cloth, such as cheesecloth, to prevent dust from getting in. The morning's milk should also be aired and cooled, but it will not be necessary to cool to as low a temperature as the evening's milk. The morning's milk should be put in separate cans.

Washing of Cans, Pails, Etc.

It is of the greatest importance that all utensils that are used for milk, such as cans, pails, etc., should be kept well cleaned. They should be washed as soon as possible after using. They should be first washed with warm water, then thoroughly washed with hot water, using a brush for this as it gets into the seams better than a cloth, then scald with boiling water and leave to air in the sun. No cans or pails from which the tinning is worn off should be used for milk, as this will spoil milk very quickly.

In closing, I would say that the two important points in the care of milk are: First, cleanliness in all pertaining to the milk; second by keeping well cooled.

R. W. THOMPSON,
Springbrook, Ont.

The article which took second prize was thus:—

Care of Milk.

The first requisite of good cheese is pure milk of good quality, and this can be obtained only from healthy cows having good food, good surroundings and proper care.

By good food we mean that which will cause a good flow of clean flavoured milk. Turnips, rape or anything that will injure the flavour should not be fed, neither should the cows be allowed in a pasture or swamp in which leeks grow, as they cause a very serious taint to the milk. In one hundred pounds of milk there are eighty-seven and a half pounds of water, and it can readily be seen how necessary it is for the cows to have plenty of pure water and never be allowed to drink from stagnant pools. The cows should have access to salt. They should never be chased by dogs, as any excitement reduces the quantity and the quality of the milk.

Milking should never be done in the barnyard or an unclean stable as the fumes rising from the manure is liable to taint the milk. The milk stand should be at least one hundred yards from any pig-pens or foul matter and should not be under trees, but should be away from other buildings, with the exception of the ice-house, which should be built in connection with the milk stand so as to have the ice handy; also it should be roofed and have latticed sides in order to protect from the rain and at the same time have a free circulation of air.

The milking should be done at the same hour both morning and night, as irregular hours of milking have a tendency to dry the cows up. The same person should milk the same cows always, in order to obtain the best results. The milker should be cleanly dressed and wash previous to milking.

The udder should be wiped with a clean soft cloth to remove any dirt which might fall in the pail. Use only well soldered tin pails. All utensils, cans and pails should be first washed with warm water, then thoroughly scalded and put out in the sun to air. A cloth should not be used either for washing or wiping as it cannot be kept clean. A brush fills the bill perfectly and can be kept in a sanitary condition.

The milk should be strained and cooled to 65 degrees Fahr. as quickly as possible, either by placing the cans in a trough of cold water and stirring with a dipper or by having a can six or eight inches across and as deep as the milk can filled with ice or cold water and set in the can of milk. Milk which has been treated in this manner will make choice goods and be a credit to the dairy industry of Canada.

Lectures At S.A. Barracks

Ensign Edwards Gives Two Very Interesting Illustrated Lectures.

Ensign Edwards, travelling special for the Salvation Army, gave two illustrated lectures last night at the local Salvation Army Barracks. There was a large crowd in attendance and the speaker was given a hearty reception. Ensign Edwards gives quarterly lectures here as in other places on his circuit and they are all splendidly illustrated and very instructive.

The first of his lectures last night was "The Coming of the King," illustrated by about 70 most suggestive views.

This lecture was intensely interesting and the audience manifested their approval many times by hearty applause. Views of the coronation of King Edward were shown depicting the grand procession, the troops, the immense and eager throngs that filled the streets, and the beautiful Canadian triumphal coronation arch. This last mentioned view was greeted with a great outburst of enthusiasm. The coming of Christ, the King of Kings, was next spoken on. Beautiful illustrations most vividly picturing the life of our Saviour on earth were shown.

"Her Benny," the second lecture, illustrated the rise of a poor street waif to a partnership in a large commercial firm. Honesty and industry were the only qualifications that secured him such good fortune and the lecture certainly upheld the truth of the old adage that "Honesty is the best policy." This lecture was illustrated with 38 beautiful views.

Brigadier Turner, Provincial Officer for Eastern Ontario and Quebec Provinces, will be at the local Salvation Army Barracks the first Sunday in March.

Some Committees Of The Y.M.C.A. Are Reorganized

An Important Meeting of the Board of Directors Held.

The regular monthly meeting of the Y.M.C.A. Board of Directors was held on Tuesday evening, there being a good attendance.

Mr. J. J. Howden, treasurer, reported on the financial position of the association, showing that besides what would be raised from membership fees, $1200 would be needed in contributions from friends of the work in order to close the financial year free of debt on May 1st.

The work has been badly handicapped owing to the fact that a heavy deficit had to be carried over from last year, and the directors are determined to present a clean sheet this time.

The best co-operation on the part of the friends of the work will be needed, however, to bring this about.

The management feel that in view of the splendid character of the work being done that they can with confidence go to the citizens to help them.

Three of the committees in connection with the work were re-organized, as follows:

Social — A. E. Walker, G. Coleman, H. Elphick, Jas. Collins, C. H. Reid.

SCOURING YOUR SCALP

Will Remove the Loose Dandruff Scales But It Won't Cure Dandruff.

If your hair is brittle and thinning you have dandruff. The mere scouring of the scalp of the loose scales won't cure dandruff; because dandruff is nothing but scales of scalp being thrown up by a pestiferous little germ in burrowing its way to the root of the hair where it saps the vitality, causing falling hair and in time baldness. Now you can't stop dandruff nor falling hair, nor prevent baldness unless that germ is destroyed; and the only preparation that can do it is the new scientific discovery: Newbro's Herpicide. In fact no other hair preparation claims to kill the dandruff germ — all of them will clean the scalp; soap and water will do that, but only Newbro's Herpicide gets at the root of the trouble, and kills the dandruff germ. Sold by leading druggists; send ten cents in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Algonquin Park Rules.

An order-in-Council has been passed making new regulations for tourists in the Algonquin Park in Northern Ontario. In view of the large tourist traffic which the Government expects will be attracted to the park by the railways, fishing licenses, which have formerly been issued free of charge, will now cost residents of Canada one dollar and non-residents two dollars. These licenses allow fishing for personal use by tourists.

No one will be permitted to carry a rifle or fowling piece into the park. The only firearm allowed will be a revolver.

The superintendent of the park will be given authority to issue licenses to guides, and no one will be permitted to act as a guide who has not secured a license. The superintendent will fix the maximum charges to be made by the guides, and in case any guide does not live up to the regulations of the park the superintendent may take away his license.

Where tourists are desirous of establishing a permanent camp the Minister of Lands and Mines has authority to issue licenses of occupation for camp purposes only.

Niagara Falls in 100 Years.

Mgr. Laflamme, who was appointed by the Canadian section of the International Waterways Commission to report upon Niagara Falls, states in his report that Canada's share of that great waterfall will not be diminished by nature. That is what he has discovered after a careful examination of the waterfall and the stratification of the river. He estimates that erosion has caused the brink of the Horse Shoe fall to recede some 80 feet in the past century. The wearing-away process is still going on. He says that changes in the flow of water on the Canadian side for the next fifty or sixty years will not be very materially interferred with. In that time the flow will become greater. This is a good reason for the Canadian section declining to agree to the proposition that both countries have equal rights in the water powers of the St. Lawrence.

Friction In The Morocco Conference

SHOW SIGNS OF DISCONTENT

Moorish Delegates Allowed to Play But Small Part In Work of Moroccan Conference—Spain's Envoy Objects to Mr. White's Proposal, and Taxation Project Passes Unanimously—France and Russia.

Algeciras, Feb. 2.—The Moroccan conference at its session yesterday adopted without modification the draft of the taxation project. The Moorish delegates raised a number of objections, and will refer the proposals to the Sultan at Fez. The question of reforming the customs duties was not considered.

An American Protest.

The committee on taxation reported a lengthy plan, one of the features of which gave the foreign consuls right to retain a certain percentage of the taxes on foreigners to cover the expenses of collection. When this feature was reached, United States Ambassador White rose and remarked that there appeared to be some inconsistency in foreign officials collecting money for the Sultan and then retaining a portion of it. He made the point also that such retention of revenues designed for the Sultan might be construed as an infringement of his sovereignty. He therefore suggested a modification so that the retention of a portion of the tax by the consuls should not be a permanent feature of the system.

M. Revoil, for France, and Count Cassini, for Russia, promptly supported the American view and the approval became general with the exception of the Spanish delegates, who manifested strong dissent.

Spain the Big Loser.

Senor Perez Caballero spoke long and earnestly against the American suggestion, emphasizing that Spain would suffer the chief part of the loss if the consuls did not retain a portion of the tax, as Spain had the largest number of foreigners under taxation.

A running debate, often earnest but always good-natured, went on for an hour. Sir Arthur Nicolson, the head of the British mission, finally suggested that since Spain objected it might be desirable not to press the proposed modification. Mr. White immediately assented, saying that he considered unanimity essential and therefore he withdrew the proposed modification.

The conference thereupon adopted the committee's report, giving a general plan for taxes largely under the control of the diplomatic and consular body at Tangier and adjourned until Saturday.

Moors Discontented.

The Moorish delegates are showing signs of discontent. They came expecting to take a leading part in the plan for the administration of their country, but thus far their influence has counted for little and they are only passive listeners to the plans formulated by the powers. This was noticeable in the discussion of the internal tax system, to which they withheld their assent, while the delegates of the other powers unanimously assented.

The feature of the tax system by which the foreign ministers and consuls retain considerable control is construed as indicating the tendency of the conference toward the establishment of international authority which is one of the main Franco-German issues.

Smoothly and Satisfactorily.

Washington, Feb. 2.—American Ambassador White again cabled the State Department yesterday from Algeciras that the conference there as to Morocco was proceeding smoothly and satisfactorily.

Are Your Nerves In Health?

STUDY HERE THE INDICATION OF A FAILING NERVOUS SYSTEM

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

It is surprising what hosts of people are suffering as the result of an exhausted nervous system and do not know the nature of their ailment.

They cannot sleep at nights — are restless and fidgety in the daytime—their tempers are easily irritated—little things worry them—they cannot concentrate their minds, and find their memories failing — there are spells of nervous headache—the digestion is impaired—pains and aches of a neuralgic nature afflict them—feelings of discouragement and despondency come over them at times, and they get in the way of looking at the dark side of things.

If this describes your experience you will be interested in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, for this great food cure gets at the very foundation of nervous troubles and cures in the only natural way, by enriching the blood, revitalizing the wasted nerve cells, and building up the system generally.

Diseases of the nerves take different forms in different people, but they slowly and surely lead to nervous prostration, locomotor ataxia or paralysis — to weakness and helplessness of mind and body.

Mrs. F. Turner, 636 Aylmer street, Peterborough, Ont., and whose husband is employed at the Hamilton Foundry, writes:—

"For some months past I found myself growing nervous, and gradually becoming a victim of sleeplessness and subject to frequent attacks of nervous headaches. About six weeks ago I began the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and cannot speak too highly of this medicine. I can sleep well now, the headaches have entirely disappeared, and I believe that my system, generally, has been improved greatly by the use of this treatment."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food acts strictly in accordance with the laws of nature in creating nerve force in the body, and you can use it with positive assurance that every dose is at least of some benefit to you. Prove this by noting your increase in weight. 50 cts. a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

FOR UNIFORM INSURANCE.

State Officials Meet and Consider Plan Approved Of by the President for the District of Columbia.

Chicago, Feb. 2.—More than 100 state officials including several governors, commissioners of insurance, attorneys-general and representatives of insurance companies, were present at the opening session yesterday of the national convention call to discuss measures of control of insurance companies in the various states. Thomas A. Drake, insurance commissioner of the District of Columbia, called the convention to order.

After full consideration the following plan was agreed upon, and which has the approval of the President and the commissioners of the District of Columbia:

One Plan of Action.

"A bill to be introduced in Congress which shall be a code for the regulation of insurance in the District of Columbia, but which, with necessary change in form to make it applicable may be enacted by the states and territories, thus making a uniform regulation of insurance and avoiding the vexatious and costly burden incident to differing and often conflicting local legislation."

The report of the committee on permanent organization naming Governor John A. Johnson of Minnesota as chairman was adopted unanimously.

The report of the committee on permanent organization recommended that a committee of fifteen be appointed to formulate a bill, or bills, with a view to the establishment of a uniform system of statutory regulation of legal reserve life insurance in the several states.

This committee is to report at an adjourned meeting of the present convention, at a time and place to be hereafter determined.

IN SOLEMN STATE.

Thousands of Soldiers at Vladivostock Honor Rioi's Dead.

Vladivostock, Jan. 30.—The funeral of the 27 men who were killed by machine guns Jan. 23, near the commandant's house, were held in solemn state yesterday. The interments were made with full military honors. The cannon on Tiger Hill thundered a salute, while choirs composed of soldiers chanted dirges.

Two immense processions, in which there were thousands of soldiers, sailors and civilians carry red flags and singing revolutionary songs and headed by the regimental bands escorted the bodies to the cemetery.

The service was conducted by both Catholic and orthodox priests and the coffins were covered with wreaths bearing such inscription as "To the eternal memory of the martyrs, and to the eternal shame of their assassins."

Shot Without Trial.

Warsaw, Russian Poland, Feb. 2.—Four more anarchists, making sixteen during the past fortnight, were shot without trial in the citadel here yesterday. Of the total, fifteen were Jews.

Another Assassination.

Poltava, Russia, Feb. 2.—Yesterday Provincial Councillor Filonoff was fired at five times, and instantly killed, by an unknown assassin. Filonoff was held responsible by the terrorists for the ruthless severity with which agrarian disorders had been suppressed.

Race War Continues.

Elizabethpol, Trans-Caucasia, Feb. 2—A racial war has again broken out in the region between Elizabethpol and Shusha, where the Armenians and Tartars are massacring each other. The population of the region is starving, and the typhoid is raging.

INDIGNANT HALIFAX.

Writes C. P. R. to Make Test Before Disparaging the Port.

Halifax, Feb. 2.—Sir Thomas Shaughnessy's statement that there is not a single port in Canada at which steamers of the proposed fast line class can land their mails and passenger with the requisite convenience is keenly resented in Halifax as unfair to this port, which the C. P. R. president has never visited.

It is pointed out that the big North German-Lloyd steamers Neckar and Bremen, and the French liner La Champagne, have transferred passengers here and that the biggest steamers afloat (and there are several larger than the Empress boats of the C. P. R.) could be handled at Halifax with despatch and convenience. The C. P. R. president is invited to make the test using Halifax as its terminus.

The C. P. R. could, it is claimed shorten the trip from Queenstown to Montreal to almost six days.

The length of the rail haul is doubtless a handicap, but the shortness of the ocean voyage, especially for passenger steamers, is an adequate offset.

Fight Fire on Transport.

San Francisco, Feb. 2.—Fire broke out late Wednesday night in the hold of the transport Meade, lying at Folsom street wharf, and raged for several hours despite the efforts of the fire department. Fully twenty men were overcome, of whom three are dead, two of whom are firemen. The Meade was to have sailed yesterday for Manila with 1,000 men on board. Deeds of thrilling heroism marked the fire.

Bishops Vote It.

Montreal, Feb. 2.—The eleven Roman Catholic archbishops and bishops of the council of public instruction have voted together with four laymen against the proposition to allow the Provincial Secretary to sit ex-officio in council.

Manitoba Government Defeated.

Winnipeg, Feb. 2.—On a division yesterday in the House on the bill that directors of companies must not accept stock gratis, the Roblin Government was outvoted.

WERE THE ROPES ROTTEN.

Or a Mistake in Orders In Lowering the Valencia's Boat.

Seattle, Feb. 1.—The point of yesterday's questions in the Valencia was to determine whether seamanship was shown in the launching of the lifeboats. Boats No. 5 was then dropped into the sea through a mistake in orders or the ropes were rotten. The boat contained 40 persons as it hung from the davits, banging against the side of the ship with every sea. One end gave way, and nearly all the men were spilled into the water. Only three or four kept afloat until the boat was finally launched.

The witness said that some one on deck, presumably an officer, gave the order to lower away. No one could swear that the ropes were either cut or broken, but the evidence seemed to show that one end of the boat was dropped before the other was lowered.

Almost Another Wreck.

Victoria, B. C., Feb. 1.—The Norwegian collier, which arrived at Ladysmith yesterday from San Francisco, reports having had a narrow escape from being wrecked at Cape Beale.

Reade Ontario's Rhodes' Scholar.

Toronto, Feb. 1.—From among a large list of candidates the committee charged with the work has selected Robt. C. Reade, B. A., ('05), as the second Rhodes' scholar for Ontario, under the will of the late Cecil Rhodes. Mr. Reade is only 21 years of age, and has since his graduation last spring been employed on the editorial staff of Saturday Night. The new scholar will not go to England until the fall.

TORONTO CIVIC INQUIRY.

Paid Money to Keep Out of City Hall Contracts.

Toronto, Feb. 2.—The further examination of Joseph Wright, president of the Bennett and Wright plumbing firm, at the civic enquiry yesterday, had its interesting features. One of these was the admission that Architect T. J. Lennox had received $8,300 from the firm instead of the $7,000 formerly mentioned. The name of a new concern was brought into the investigation, that of Worthington, Garrett and Armstrong. Mr. Drayton told Mr. Wright, members of this company had stated they received payments from Bennett and Wright for allowing the latter to get the city hall plumbing contract. Witness did not deny the existence of a "Big Seven" among the plumbers but was not aware that this body had shared in the "divvy up" in which his firm supplied the funds. Bookkeeper Purdy was brought up by the judge with a short turn, during the time he was a witness, His Honor saying that witness had desired to mislead him, but hadn't succeeded.

Coroner's Jury Blame G. T. R.

London, Feb. 2.—The jury empanelled at the inquest held by Coroner Ferguson to enquire into the recent street car accident in which Conductor Jutson Moore lost his life, fixed the blame on the Grand Trunk Co. Switchman Sweeney claimed he waved a stop signal with his lantern when he noticed the freight train was about 200 feet away. Engineer Dunn claimed he did not see the signals, as he was watching the semaphore light, which gave him the right to proceed over the crossing.

Pirates In the North Sea.

Leith, Scotland, Feb. 2.—The German steamer Gemma, which arrived here yesterday in ballast, reports that she was fired on by the crew of a schooner of unknown nationality in the Cattegat (a large arm of the North Sea) at 9 o'clock on the night of Jan. 29. Rifle shots were fired at a distance of a ship's length and the first mate of the Gemma, who was on the bridge, was wounded.

Bole Declared Elected.

Regina, Feb. 1.—Judge Newlands yesterday gave his decision on the thirty-eight appealed ballots, and in doing so read a lengthy judgment. Of eighteen ballots declared good, nine were found to be marked for Bole and nine for Laird. Bole's majority of three, as declared by the returning officer, remains unaltered, and he was again declared elected Member for Regina City by the judge at the conclusion of counting of the allowed ballots.

"Green Goods" Case Fails.

Toronto, Feb. 2.—The charge of obtaining money by false pretences against Alex. Cummings, alias "Ned" Lyons, the notorious criminal, was dismissed by Col. Denison in the Police Court yesterday morning. Crown Attorney Curry had Cummings taken into custody again immediately and a charge of attempting to sell counterfeit money in Canada is to be laid.

AMNESTY FROM NEW KING.

Danish Offenders to Be Freed—King Christian's Fortune.

Copenhagen, Feb. 1.—The body of King Christian was yesterday placed in a plain casket lined with swansdown and covered with black silk. It lies in the apartment of the Amellenborg Palace, known as the "garden room," to which it was removed after a memorial service yesterday afternoon. Only the court physicians were present. When the body was placed in the casket, following the service at which most of the members of the royal family are present.

It is stated that King Christian left only a small fortune amounting to probably less than $250,000. The King was exceedingly charitable and gave large sums of money for the relief of the poor and to deserving institutions.

Port Hope Lightless.

Port Hope, Feb. 1.—Tuesday night all the arc lights were out and until a new contract is made between the electric Light Co. and the town there will be no light. Council on Monday refused to pay the company's bill in full. The president, Dr. Corbett, states that the company has at present no contract or agreement and that if the town council cuts off his pole franchise he will shut off all incandescent lights.

The Russian Elections.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 1.—The pre-election activity has reached an acute stage. Candidates of various parties daily are coming into the open and all factions in public life are taking an active interest in the campaign. The only effective boycott of the preparations seems to be that which is due to the apathy of the commercial classes and other conservative and unprogressive elements.

THE EASY OIL.

Scott's Emulsion is "the easy oil"—easy to take, easy in action. Its use insures deliverance from the griping and nauseating sensation peculiar to the raw oil. Nobody who has any regard for their stomach thinks of taking cod liver oil in the old way when Scott's Emulsion is to be had. It is equally certain that no one having a regard for their health will accept a cheap emulsion or alcoholic substitute for Scott's Emulsion. It fulfills every mission of cod liver oil and more.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1906.

ACTIVE COMMERCE.

The commercial prosperity of Peterborough still continues, as shown by the increase of customs returns at this port — nearly ten thousand dollars in excess of the collections in January, 1905. And it is pleasing to note that this state of affairs is general throughout the country.

A despatch from Ottawa states that the Canadian customs revenue is at the present time "vaster than has been." For the seven months, just closed, the receipts from customs amounted to $26,292 114. This is $2,083,147 more than for the same period of the preceding year, $2,663,610 better than for the seven months of 1903-4, and a gain of $5,539,249 as compared with the same seven months of 1902-03. The showing is even better when we take the seven months and contrast them with the previous twelve-month periods. Compared with 1904-05 the gain is $8,404,945, while the seven months yielded $6,073,077, more than it did in 1895-96, and $6 400,118 more than in 1896-97, the first year of office of the present Government. In 1898-99 the revenue for the whole year was $25,734,228, or $557,886 less than for the past seven months. For the month of January the customs receipts yielded $3.561,710, or $556,872 more than in January, 1905. This was only paralleled in August, 1903, when the rush of importations preceding the surtax on German goods raised the revenue by $581,000.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Provincial Treasurer of Quebec, Hon. Mr. M Corkill, reports that Quebec has a surplus of $101,118 30 on the business of the year. That comes from having a Liberal Government in power, and no financial critic like Mr. Matheson on the Opposition benches.

While the matter is still sub judice, it would be less majestic to hint at anything that would interfere with what the Toronto papers regard as a fishing expedition — the charges of a subordinate clerk against Mr. Bastedo, Deputy Provincial Commissioner, yet the scarcity of evidence is shown by the fact that alleged evidence that could have no existence, is cited. Anent this the Brockville Recorder says: "In the investigation into charges of partisanship against Mr. S. T. Bastedo, made by a man who wants his job, it is said a copy of a letter written to Mr. Graham of Brockville, was found, and it really inquired the politics of a certain firm. Isn't that shocking? The letter, it is said, was written in 1902, but strange that no such firm as the one mentioned in this report, ever did business in Brockville, so far as the Recorder knows."

TEMPERANCE HOTELS.

Toronto Star.

Mrs. Muller owns the Queen's Hotel in the village of Clarksburg, and as local option will go into effect on the first of May next, the landlady has expressed her willingness to either lease or sell the hotel property to any individual or company desirous of conducting the house as a temperance hotel. The local paper, The Reflector, urges the people who abolished the bar to meet the condition they have produced, by taking steps to see that the village is not left without a house of public accommodation The paper itself apparently advocated the closing of the bar, but has the courage of its convictions, and desires to see the temperance citizens form a company to carry on the hotel business on new lines, "so that small places similarly situated will no fear local option."

This case is one of many scattered all over the Province, and the life of Local Option is dependent upon the way the matter is met. If "temperance hotels" are ever going to be successfully conducted they must be operated by temperance people, who want to make them succeed, instead of by ex-license-holders, who feel that they have been unjustly used, arbitrarily interfered with, and that they can make the public tired of the whole thing before very long. The ex-license-holder is a person with a grievance. His lawful business has been made unlawful by a majority vote, or, as he would put it, he has been overcome by his enemies. His property that was worth so much as a going concern last year, is not worth half as much this year. He is expected to go on keeping a public house under conditions that he has always maintained would be impossible. The usual course is for him to board up his windows, close up his driving shed and stable, remove the handle from his pump, and direct those seeking a night's lodging to the parsonage or the manse or the rectory, or to the modest dwelling of the chief worker in the local lodge of the Sons of Temperance. But the village needs a house of public accommodation, and the landlord finds that he needs any money that he can make by turning his idle premises to such use as he can, so the boards come off the windows, the handle is put back on the pump, the sheds and stables reopen, and people come in and order ginger ale with a significant look that no landlord can misunderstand. He is tempted continually by those who always have been his best friends, and who are not to blame for the restrictive laws under which they live, to keep a nip of something on the side. He does what he can to obey the law without loss and to oblige his patrons with profit. It is to his interest to show that drinking did not cease in the community with the cancellation of his license, that the public accommodation is not as good as it was, and that the whole thing is more of a nuisance than a benefit.

It was thus that the Scott Act came to failure. Local option will run its course, and in many localities will inevitably go the same way—unless men who do not believe in liquor-selling and do not want to see licenses restored will come forward, buy or lease the shuttered hotels throughout the Province next May, and conduct them as houses of public accommodation that will meet the needs of the travelling public. Temperance hotels will not be made a success by men who are striving daily to disgust people with them.

BUSINESS-LIKE BRIBERY.

If we are to believe the reports emanating from "Tory" sources in Kingston, the "Grit" politicians of the old town must be pretty clever campaigners. The "Tories" explain the defeat of their candidate, Mr. McIntyre, on Monday, by confessing that they were outwitted by the enemy. It is charged that in the municipal elections a month ago many voters were bribed to vote for the "Grit" mayoral candidate, Mr. Mowat, but that when they were paid for their votes on that occasion they were required to promise that they would vote also for Mr. Pense in the bye-election. Then the "Grits" proposed the anti-corruption compact; the "Tories" entered into it in good faith, and lived up to it. But the goods that had been paid for a month ago were delivered to Pense on Monday — more than enough to elect him.

If this story is true, the ingenuity of the "Grit" managers is to be admired. But should not something be said also for those gentlemen who so loyally fulfilled their promise to supplement their Mowat votes with votes for Pense, nearly a full month after they had been paid for the goods? They proved worthy of the trust of bribers, did those gentlemen. Many men would have soothed their conscience with the plea that their votes for Mowat were worth all that was paid for them, and that they (the voters) were under no real obligation to vote for Pense also. But, like honest traffickers these men put aside temptation, and took to market the goods that had been paid for. The business of bribery must be easy and safe in Kingston, when Kingstonians who sell their votes can be trusted to fulfil their obligations a month after getting the price. With such a trustworthy electorate it ought to be possible for the campaign managers to enter into contracts with voters at any time, paying them in advance for votes to be delivered when called for.

But maybe this Kingston story is a bit of post-election fiction. In the bitterness of defeat, the imagination is often in a very active state of fermentation.—Hamilton Herald.

Havelock, Jan. 31.—The Junior Auxiliary of the English church have undertaken the wiring of the church for electric lights. It is expected that the work will be completed in the course of a couple of weeks.

The local hockey club went down to defeat last Friday evening at the hands of the Norwood aggregation. Although the first half was pretty even, it was plain to be seen that the locals had no chance on account of the superior shooting of the visitors. The score was 6-2 at the finish. Mr. McIntosh refereed the game in an able manner.

POST CARD CORRESPONDENCE.

In this column will be published communications upon post cards only. It will remain open for the use of readers, who are invited to contribute suggestions, inquiries or replies. Anything of a scurrilous personal nature will be prohibited.

Editor Post Card Column:

Dear Sir,—I would like to offer a suggestion which I think will be endorsed by nearly every housewife in Peterborough, in reference to the way poultry is sold on the local market. It seems to me that the best way would be to sell it by the pound as is done in all the large cities. Under the system one woman asks 90c for a pair of chickens while another with a pair of almost the same weight wants 75c.

Yours etc.,
HOUSEWIFE.

Editor of Post Card Column:

Dear Sir,—Might I ask why the Radial Railway Co., run their refrigerator cars on a day like this? I was so unfortunate as to be a passenger on one of them to-day, and the temperature was scarcely of a mid-summer variety. The company has evidently not heard of the sudden drop in the thermometer.

Yours,
"A SUFFERER."

Editor Post Card Column:

Sir,—I have noticed at different times in your columns, pleas for the removal of ladies' hats in churches. "Critic", (presumably a lady) however, caps the climax a few evenings since by complaining vigorously of the "thick, bushy head of hair," of an elderly gentleman who interferes with her view, etc.

I would suggest that the same "rule" be followed as churches as obtains in theatres, etc., that is, place the "bald heads" in the front rows.

Yours etc.,
BALDY.

Annual Banquet Of Typographical Union No. 248

Was Held Last Night in the Foresters' Hall and Was a Gratifying Success — Largest Gathering in History of the Union—Presentation to the President of the Organization —Was Given Gold Ring for Services Rendered.

MEMBERS OF THE ART PRESERVATIVE

The annual banquet of Peterborough Typographical Union No. 248, which was held last night, was, in every respect the most successful in the history famous for the excellent character of its annual social gatherings.

This year more elaborate preparations than usual were made for this event, and the success which attended it must be gratifying to those upon whom the responsibility for making these preparations rested.

The numbers of this body have grown to such an extent that banquet halls which in the past have been sufficiently large to accomodate the members and their guests at their annual festive gathering were too small, and this year the commodious Foresters' Hall was secured, and there for more than three hours last night the members of the craft enjoyed themselves in the usual happy manner characteristic of the Knights of the Case. The banquet last night had a particular significance in that a presentation was made to the President of the Union, Mr. C. H. Reid. The members of the Union presented their President with a handsome gold ring with garnet setting, accompanied by an address expressive of their appreciation of his services on behalf of the Union in particular, and in the cause of organized labour.

The catering last night was done by Mr. Thos. Hooper and this statement in itself is sufficient evidence of its quality. A delightful supper, both from the standpoint of its excellence and the various nature of its constituents was served and thoroughly enjoyed, and this fact, no doubt contributed very materially to the pleasure of the evening to the participants.

The menu card and toast list, were, as is perhaps natural at a printers banquet, a distinct triumph of the art preservative, and a credit to the designer, Mr. D. D. C. Dawe, and to Mr. R. B. Pearson. This card was not only a work of art, but a labour of love, the artists having put in about twenty hours "overtime," without, however, the usual accompaniment of one and a third time check. The production well shows the thought and skill put upon it.

In addition to the members of the Union there were a number of guests present, the greater number representing some of the various organized labour bodies of the city, and by these gentlemen greetings were extended to their fellow union men, the printers. The invited guests, the majority of whom were present were, Hon. J. R. Stratton, F. H. Dobbin, W. H. Robertson, F. J. Jameson, C. H. Clementi, G. B. Vanblaricom, F. R. Yokome, C. H. Sawle, M. J. Hutchinson, R. M. Glover, W. Mensies, Prof. C. E. Milner, R. H. Shepherd, Jos. Legge, Walter Hughes, Gilbert Scott, Geo. Stenton, J. J. Hartley, John Alexander, Samuel Baker, R. Stockdale, A. Scott, C. P. Murty, Geo. Evans, W. Mitchell, Jas. Henderson, C. F. Browne, W. E. Meagher, S. J. Sharpe, Edw. Cookson, Edw. Crook.

The officers and members of the Union, most of whom were present, were:—

President—Charles H. Reid.
Vice-President—Alfred W. Smith.
Treasurer—William A. Lewis.
Recording Secretary—R. B. Pearson.
Financial Secretary—John G. Perry.
Sergeant-at-arms—J. I. Thompson.
Scribe—Walter Peters.
Executive Committee — Fred. S. Hubbs, Albert Martin, Geo. Cairns.
Members—B. Beattie, T. J. Begley, Chas. S. Brownlee, J. Browne, R. Browne, R. Baker, A. J. Bolwell, T. J. Canniff, Wm. Cowie, D. J. Costello, D. D. C. Dawe, W. H. Donnelly, C. Donovan, Lorne Frank, F. F. Garden, A. C. Herridge, R. T. Hounsell, D. Kane, Jas. Kennedy, H. Lacheur, A. Latimer, R. G. Long, C. H. J. Mitchell, Wm. O'Rourke, Geo. Paxman, T. W. Renney, J. B. Sherrard, T. A. Slighte, R. Wilson.

A pleasing feature of the evening was the music, vocal and instrumental, which was rendered by Messrs. Gilbert Scott, R. H. Shepherd, Jos. Legg, J. Browne and C. E. Milner. It added very materially to the enjoyment of the evening's programme.

A delightful toast list, the toastmaster being C. H. Reid, President of the Union, was proceeded with after the material good things had been enjoyed, the King and the Dominion being coupled and honoured with the National Anthem and "The Maple Leaf," the latter being sung by Mr. Gilbert Scott. Mr. F. S. Hubbs proposed the toast to the "Craft" which was responded to by Mr. T. J. Begley and Mr. Wm. Cowie.

Following this a solo, "Asleep in the Deep" was rendered by Mr. Shepherd, and thoroughly enjoyed.

"Our Guests" was the toast proposed fittingly by Mr. A. W. Smith and to it responses were made by Messrs. C. P. Murty, for the Trades and Labour Council; A. Scott, Leatherworkers; Ed. Cookson, Machinists; S. Baker, Barbers; R. Stockdale, Moulders; Geo. Evans, Tailors, and S. J. Sharpe, Patternmakers.

Mr. Gilbert Scott then favoured the company with "The Chicken Song," and had to respond to a hearty encore, giving "The Patent Medicine Man."

Mr. R. B. Pearson in a few words proposed the toast to the "I. T. U." to which response was made by Mr. A. Martin, in the absence of Organizer James, who was expected to be present. Mr. J. Browne followed with a solo, "Island of Dreams," and in response to a demand for an encore Mr. Browne, Mr. Legge and Mr. Shepherd sang a trio, Mr. Browne taking the solo.

"The Employers" were honoured in a toast proposed by Mr. D. D. C. Dawe and Mr. G. B. Vanblaricom replied. Mr. Jos. Legge's solo, which followed was highly appreciated. Mr. Lorne Frank proposed the toast to "The Sanctum," to which responses were made by representatives of the editorial and reportorial staff present. Mr. Begley favoured the company with a recitation. In proposing the health of the officers elect, Mr. A. Martin read an address to Mr. C. H. Reid and Mr. G. Paxman presented him with a ring on behalf of the members of the Union, to which the President responded in appropriate terms, expressing his genuine surprise and pleasure. Other responses to the toast were made by Mr. Smith, Vice-President; Mr. Perry, Financial Secretary; Mr. R. B. Pearson, Recording Secretary; Mr. J. I. Thompson, Sergt-at-Arms; Mr. W. A. Lewis, Treasurer; Mr. F. S. Hubbs, member of the Executive.

A trio by Messrs. Legge, Browne and Shepherd was exceedingly well rendered.

The last toast that to "The Ladies," was proposed by the chairman and responses were made by Messrs. J. Browne, B. Beattie, Lorne Frank, H. Lacheur, R. G. Long and Geo. Cairns.

For the various musical numbers during the evening, Mr. Milner acted as accompanist in a thoroughly pleasing manner. The highly successful gathering broke up at an early hour and it was well into the next day before the happy printers' "forms" were "locked up" in the welcome warmth of the blankets.

The lamentable death of Zetta Galvin, youngest daughter of Mr. Jno. K. Galvin, one of the most highly respected farmers of Ennismore, occurred yesterday at the family residence, at 12 o'clock. Miss Galvin was only 17 years of age, and was highly thought of by all who know her. She leaves to mourn her loss her beloved parents and three sisters, Miss Ida, organist of St. Mark's church, Miss Vivian, school teacher, and a third sister living at home.

The funeral will be held to-morrow at 9 o'clock a.m., from the family residence. From there it will proceed to St. Mark's church, and thence to the Ennismore cemetery for burial.

The Concert At Knox Church Grand Success

GREAT CREDIT DUE TO YOUNG MEN'S GUILD

The Young Men's Guild of Knox church held a most successful concert last night. Notwithstanding the inclemancy of the weather there was a large audience present, and the excellence of the programme more than compensated for the journey through the storm. The young men are to be congratulated on the success of their efforts, and any entertainment given by them in the future is sure of liberal patronage.

The chief feature of last night's programme was the singing of Miss Pearl L. Davis, formerly of the Avenue Road, Presbyterian church choir, Toronto. She appeared on the programme twice and was on both occasions enthusiastically received. Near the close of the programme a little delay was experienced while those taking part in a tableau were preparing, and to the delight of the audience Miss Davis volunteered to fill in the gap. Miss Davis possesses a full, round, and particularly sweet voice, full of feeling, and showing great natural talent, and very careful training. This was Miss Davis' first appearance before a Peterborough audience, and the only regrettable fact was that the concert had not been given in the Grand Opera House, where a much larger audience could have gathered and where she could have been heard to greater advantage. Miss Davis is young and graceful, and her stage presence is charming. She made herself decidedly popular with all who heard her sing last night, and when she again appears before an audience here she will be given a hearty reception.

The chair was taken by Sheriff Hall, who announced the various numbers. All those taking part did remarkably well, and Knox church congregation may feel justly proud that they have in their midst so much good talent.

The following is the programme:
Vocal solo, Mr. Thos. Blanchard.
Recitation, Miss Mabel Pringle.
Vocal duet, Misses Jennie and Maggie Buyers.
Instrumental duet, Misses Anderson and Stuart.
Vocal solo, "Within a Mile o' Edinboro' Toon," Miss Pearl L. Davis.
Recitation, Mr. J. R. Rummell.
Tableau, "The Sinner and the Song"
Violin solo, Mr. Webster.
Recitation, Miss Mabel Pringle.
Vocal solo, "Loch Lomond," Miss Pearl L. Davis.
Tableau, "Tenting to-night."

HARRY ADAMS

An Appeal To The Kind Of Heart

Mr. Martin Henry, of Chandos, had his house and contents burned while he was absent at the postoffice. He is badly in need of a stove, and as he lost all his money in the fire he is without means to purchase it. A subscription has been proposed to help him procure so necessary an article, whose necessity is further emphasized by the bitter cold of to-day. Mr. Henry hopes some of his neighbours will help him. In such a case every man is, or should be, his neighbour. Anyone with a knowledge of the difficult conditions under which a living is made in parts of the north will easily understand how welcome any help will be. Those living in comfortable homes, with abundance of fuel, can form some idea of what their condition would be if suddenly deprived of those comforts, without means of replacing them, especially with such bitterly cruel weather as has so suddenly come upon us. Any contributions towards the assistance of Mr. Henry should be made promptly, and they may be left at The Examiner office.

Suburbs And High Lifes

WERE WINNERS OF

City League Contest

Best Games of the Series Were Played Last Night Before a Large Crowd—Fast Hockey Was the Order of the Night and the Games Were Hard Fought—Suicides Lost by 2-0 and Bankers by 3-2—Referee Wasson Was a Satisfactory Official.

The biggest crowd of the series saw the two best city league contests of the season at Brock street rink last night. The Suburbs won from the Bankers after an even money battle by a score of 3—2, and the High Lifes succeeded in putting away the Suicides to the tune of 2—0.

Both games were hard fought from start to finish and were in doubt until the final gong sounded. The crowd got all that was coming to them in the way of hockey, and were well pleased with the evening's sport. The games were fast and not very rough although at times in the second contest the checking was not of the Allow-me-my-dear-Gaston variety. Referee Wasson kept the players well in hand all the way through out and the five minutes' penalties he handed out were effective in stopping most of the rough work. The remarkable feature about both contests was the lack of combination play. At times two men united for a rush but as a rule individual rushes predominated which with the close checking was not very effective.

First Game.

Lakefield added another victory to their string, taking the Bankers into camp after a game that was anybody's until time was called. Neither team had very much on the other although the Suburbs had a shade the best of the argument all the way through. The game was fast and clean, only a few men being penalized. Both teams played hookey from the drop of the hat, and the crowd was well pleased with the battle. The half time score was 1—1.

For the winners, Blomfield at cover and Simpson and Quigley on the forward line were the shinning lights. Blomfield played a stubborn defence game. He was always in the neighbourhood of the puck and handled the Bankers' forward line without gloves. Simpson got away with some very pretty rushes and his stickhandling was good. He scored Lakefield's last goal on a beautiful lone-handed rush through the whole Bankers' defence. Quigley's rushes down the left wing helped some. Quinn also did some very effective work.

Watson was about the whole works for the Bankers. He was fast as chain lightning and rushed brilliantly. His checking was also a prominent feature. Easton also tore off some pretty dashes along the boards.

The teams were:—

	Suburbs.
	Moore
	Hurl
	Blomfield
	Quinn
Morin,	Simpson,	Quigley.
Easton,	Muthern,	McFarlane.
	Watson
	Kelly
	Green
	Sawers.
	Bankers.

Play was very even from the start and both sides took turns in rushing the game. After several minutes hard playing Easton got away and passed to McFarlane who drove the rubber straight at Moore, who handled it nicely. Before he could clear, however, Easton batted it in on the rebound.

Lakefield evened up shortly after. Quinn made a pretty rush but shot wild. He secured the puck again, however, and beat Sawers with a neat shot. Score 1—1.

Early in the 1st half Quigley was hurt and retired with Mulhern.

In the second half the playing was of the same desperate variety. Lakefield jumped into the scoring early in the half. Blomfield made a rush and transferred the puck to Quinn who scored easily. Score 2—1.

Two minutes after Kelly rushed but his shot was blocked, Mulhern was there however, to bat the rubber in before Moore could clear. Score, 2—2.

For some time the game was very close and it looked as if it would end a tie. Simpson got away with a brilliant rush and scored with four minutes to play.

Final score, Lakefield, 3; Bankers, 2.

Summary.

1.—Bankers, Easton.
2.—Suburbs, Quinn.

Half Time.

3.—Suburbs, Quinn.
4.—Bankers, Mulhern.
5.—Suburbs, Simpson.

Penalties,—Mulhern, Kelly 2, Watson, Simpson.

Second Game.

The second contest brought together the David and Goliath of the League, the Suicides and the High Lifes. The latter won after a seesaw contest by 2—0, but they had to go the limit to put away the speedy little red and white team. In fact it was not until the superior weight of the High Lifes had worn down their opponents that they were able to snatch a victory. The Suicides had fully as much of the playing as the High Lifes, and never let up. They took all the bumps handed out for them and came back for more. Their gameness was recognized by the crowd, fully three-fourths of whom were rooting for the Suicides.

The High Lifes had a heavy and aggressive line-up and played a hard working game, which finally won them the victory. There was nothing especially brilliant about their playing, but their stick-to-it tactics carried the day. The defence with Fitzpatrick, Meagher and Ford were a hard proposition, and the light Suicide forwards had a bad night. Their forward line, though heavier, were outplayed by their bantam opponents. In addition they marred their effectiveness by slashing, which Referee Wasson severely frowned down upon. Hall was the pick of the bunch.

The Suicides were minus Quinn, Campbell and Wilson but despite this handicap were always in the game. The whole forward line played good hockey, and with more combination work, would have got away with the honours. Their individual rushes were not effective against the big High Life defence. At one stage of the game with Long and Rose on the fence, the Suicides should have won out. Instead of moving their defence up, and carrying the war into Africa, they continued to hold their positions, and threw away an opportunity.

The first half was very close, and even, with the honours, if any, going to the Suicides. The puck travelled up and down the rink and both defences were kept busy.

In the second half the play was of the same hard-fought variety. Ford scored on a long-lift from the side, and soon after Hall banged one in from a scrimmage.

The teams were:

	HIGH LIFES.
	Fitzpatrick.
	Ford.
	Long.
Rose.	Hall,	McGrath,
Gilman,	Mann,	McWilliams,
	A. Weatherstone.
	W. Weatherstone.
	Weeks.
	Metherall.

Souvenirs Won Funny Game

Adamson and Dobbin's New Ideas Up Against It.

Undoubtedly the funniest game of the year was the contest betwee Adamson & Dobbin's "Perfect Ideas," and Adam Hall's "Souvenirs," at the Brock street rink last night. The "Souvenirs" won by 3—1, after an hour's struggle, replete with thrilling incidents and hair-breadth escapes. There was a "sound of revelry by night," when the two teams struck the ice, and it was kept up until the last dying gladiator had limped painfully into the dressing room. As a fun producer it had all the comic operas on the road beat a thousand ways. Some were there who had been able to skate once, and had forgotten how, and others who had never learned the gentle art essayed to play hockey. The men who could skate a little were the the stars of the contest. There was something doing all the time, and the wonderful dives for life made by some of the players kept the crowd in a hilarious state.

It would take a coroner's inquest to pick out the best players. All were equally bad. Both teams played a beautiful off-side combination, with a gold strike delivery that was effective and decidedly picturesque.

By special request the names of the guilty parties are suppressed. The ambulance record would undoubtedly reveal their identity. If you see a tinsmith with the appearance of the chief victim of a boiler explosion you can be reasonably sure that he was one of the contestants in the biggest, grandest and greatest hockey match of the season.

Everybody was urging the lacrosse team to turn out and get into shape about a week ago, but now it looks as if the O. H. A. and City League schedules would be played out,

Great Ice For To-night's Game

Uxbridge Team Confident of Victory and Match Will be a Good One.

The semi-final game at the Brock street rink to-night between Uxbridge and Peterborough, should attract the biggest crowd of the season. It will be the best contest seen here this winter. Both teams are in good shape, and with the hard ice that the kindness of the weather man has provided, the pace should be lightning fast.

The locals have taken advantage of every opportunity to practice, and will to-night be stronger than at any other time this winter. The forwards are working together beautifully, and their shooting is very pretty. The defence looks good enough to hold all comers.

The Uxbridge outfit are not selling-platers, and that's no sweet scented fairy tale. They won their district handily and are confident of administering a defeat to Peterborough on their own ice. They are a heavy, fast team, who play hookey first, last and all the time.

The Peterborough team will be:
Goal, Wasson.
Point, Moore.
Cover point, Crowley.
Rover, Whitcroft.
Centre, Morgan.
Right wing, Graham.

Victors Win From The Saints

The Victors have added another victory to their credit by outstripping the All Saints' seven last night by 3-0. Although the All Saints team were much heavier the Victors easily defeated them. Half time score was 1-0. The game was not of the meekest kind at all and Henderson on All Saints was most conspicuous in using the gad. The return game will be played some time in the near future. The Victors line-up was as follows:—Goal, O'Reilly; point, Porter; cover point, C. Giroux; centre, Wade; rover, Pratt; wings, Fox and O. Giroux.

CURLING

The annual competition between Lindsay and Peterborough curlers for the Peterborough - Lindsay trophy commenced this afternoon at 1.30. Four rinks from Lindsay arrived in the city this morning, and the same number journeyed to the northern town on the noon train. The interest centred in the contest is great, and both towns are striving hard to gain the laurels for 1906. Last year it will be remembered Lindsay won the trophy and the cup is now held in that town. To-day, however, the locals are confident of bringing the silverware once more to Peterborough, and their confidence in victory should supply an impetus to the play.

These games were to have been played yesterday, but owing to the poor ice were postponed. The sudden drop in temperature yesterday supplied the necessary want and to-day the rinks are in excellent condition for keen curling, which the competing rinks quickly availed themselves of.

The District rinks skipped by Dr. Sutton and Mat Sisson made a great showing at Peterborough in the District Cup competition, and you know if we can't have the Tankard this year we will be satisfied with the District Cup. BOILS ALL OVER HIS FACE AND NECK

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS DID FOR HIM WHAT FOUR DOCTORS FAILED TO DO

KEEWATIN, ONT., July 28th, 1905.

MESSRS. THE T. MILBURN CO., LTD., TORONTO, ONT.,

DEAR SIRS:—I am writing to let you know what Burdock Blood Bitters has done for me. I am a young man, twenty years old, and a year ago last March I began to feel dull and sick, and was greatly troubled with boils coming out on my face and neck, mostly on the latter. I would no sooner get rid of one than I would have, perhaps, two or three more appear.

I had four doctors trying to cure me but they had very little success. They would stop them for a month or six weeks and then they would be as bad as ever again.

Almost every patent medicine, advertised to cure boils, I could get hold of. I tried, but still without success. At last one day, last spring, someone happened to say: "why not try Dr. Thomas' Burdock Blood Bitters for the blood?" I was willing to try anything and immediately sent for a bottle, but at the time was doubtful if it would be of any use. However, I used that bottle and while I was taking it I began to feel better, although I still kept having a few boils but not nearly such bad ones. I did not miss any work, while otherwise, I used to miss, sometimes, a week out of every month. I kept on taking the medicine until I had taken six bottles, and needless to say, I was not sorry I did so when I tell you I have not had a boil appear for the past three months. Everybody was surprised when they heard that Burdock Blood Bitters had done for me what four doctors failed to do. If any sufferers are afflicted with boils, I would strongly advise them to use B.B.B. It makes you feel like a new man. I always keep a bottle in the house, now, as I think it is a medicine that should be in every household.

Yours truly,
HENRY A. SMITH.

Miners United Agreement Must Include Them All

In the Rejection of Counter Proposal of Coal Operators.

WANT AGREEMENT FOR ALL

Great Strike of Organized Labor Is Possible Over the Stand Taken by the United Mine Workers In Convention—Disruption of the Joint Agreement Likely, But Faint Hope for Settlement.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 2.—Rejection of the counter proposal of the coal operators of the central competitive district by an almost unanimous vote of the national convention of the United Mine Workers, and the adoption of a resolution offered by Secretary W. D. Ryan of Illinois, placing the miners on record as a unit on refusing to sign an agreement for any district until an agreement was signed for all districts under the jurisdiction of the United Mine Workers, yesterday created a situation which, in the opinion of the officers of the miners' organization, will result in a disruption of the joint agreement and possibly a great strike of organized labor throughout the country.

Immediately following the rejection of the operator's proposal, the miners' convention set about providing means for accumulating a strike fund of $6,500,000, in addition to a like amount now on deposit in international district and sub-district treasuries of the miners' organizations.

Then, as if to seal their position, the national convention adjourned sine die.

Delegates who choose to left for their homes last night. Others remained for the final session of the joint conference to-day. This will be fore the formal adjournment of the interstate joint conference.

HON. S. C. BIGGS' AFFIDAVIT.

Says 'Agreement Was Not Made With Mrs. McDougall.

Toronto, Feb. 2.—S. C. Biggs, K. C., in an affidavit filed at Osgoode Hall yesterday, says that the policies on the life of the late Alfred McDougall were assigned to him in trust for the Ontario Government, as set out in an affidavit already filed in this matter. He acted as representative of the Government in obtaining the assignment of the policies.

"I say," declares Mr. Biggs, "that no arrangement was made, and no understanding was come to by or with my knowledge or consent, as alleged in the affidavit of Mary McDougall and Mary G. M. McDougall, to the effect that criminal proceedings should not be taken.

"I received my instructions from Hon. Geo. W. Ross, then Premier of the province, and to the best of my knowledge and belief there was no understanding expressed or implied between the Government and any member of Mr. McDougall's family or any other person, to the effect that a transfer of these policies involved relief from criminal prosecution."

Dr. Donaldson Alive Left Liverpool In Napoleon On Wednesday .

London, Feb. 2.—(C. A. P.)—Somebody blundered in the story from Cape Town of the alleged murder of Dr. Donaldson by Germans at Swakopmund. It has been learned that Dr. Donaldson left Liverpool on Wednesday, on the African steamer Napoleon, of which he is surgeon. Moreover, he seems never to have been in that part of Africa. Dr. Donaldson is a graduate of McGill and served in the Boer war in Lord Strathcona's Horse, and later in the British forces employed in the Somaliland expedition. He was afterwards engaged in prospecting for the Delagoa Bay Development Co., and has been with the steamer for three trips.

A STRONG HEART AND STEADY NERVES

Very important it is in this age of competition to have a clear cool head, a strong heart and steady nerves.

Too much rush and bustle, work and worry, fall to the lot of the average business man—his heart and nerve system will not stand it—he gives them too much work to do. Women also are doing the same thing attending to their household duties and looking after their social obligations. The constant strain under which they have to continue day in and day out, the irregularities of habits and loss of rest will soon shatter the strongest system. Before long you become nervous, starting at the least sudden sound, the heart flutters and palpitates, specks float before the eyes, the pulse becomes weak and irregular, you have faint and dizzy spells, lack of self-confidence, rush of blood to the head, irritability of temper, shortness of breath, starting in sleep, sensation of pins and needles, sleeplessness, restlessness and finally physical breakdown or nervous prostration.

are the remedy you require to restore your strength and health. Their extraordinary curative power manifests itself immediately they are taken. Through the medium of the nervous system they impart a strengthening and restorative influence to every organ and tissue of the body. Many have been cured, among them being Mr. Ray V. Coomer, Wellington, P.E.I., Mrs. E. Donald, Portage la Prairie, Man., Mr. Walter Cleveland, Bayswater, N.S., Mrs. Owen Martin, Alma, N.B. and thousands of others.

The price of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills is 50 cts. per box or 3 boxes for $1.25. Can be procured at all drug and general stores, or will be sent on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Trouble In Paris Over Separation Church And State

POLICE ARREST 150 PERSONS

Violence In Paris Church Calls For Most Energetic Action by Police and Firemen—One of the Barricades at St. Clothide Was Thirty Feet High—Policemen, Guards and Churchmen Injured.

Paris, Feb. 2.—Everywhere in France the actual putting into operation of the clause of the church and state separation bill which provided for the making of inventories of the property of the church has aroused a storm of protest. In several provincial parishes Catholics have gathered in the churches and made such strong resistance that the Government commissioners were unable to enter.

In the Chamber of Deputies yesterday afternoon Premier Rouvier's reply to an interpellation on the subject of socialist deputy, M. Allard, was given amid a great uproar. The Government, however, secured a vote of confidence by 384 against 166, after the Premier had assured the chamber that the Government was desirous of using tact and moderation in carrying out the law, but that it was fully determined to perform its duty.

Violence in a Church.

Scenes of extreme violence were transpiring in the meanwhile at the Church of St. Clothilde, near the Chamber of Deputies.

M. Lepin, prefect of police, finally ordered the municipal guards and police to enter the church. Under a shower of broken chairs the officers broke down the railings in front of the entrance, while the crowd rained heavy blows upon them. Then the firemen burst in the doors and the police and municipal guards entered the building. One of the principal officers was severely wounded.

Barricades in Church.

Inside the church the congregation had erected barricades which had to be taken by assault while the men and women fainted. After the church had been cleared the commissioner proceeded to take the inventory. The Catholics outside were singing canticles.

The ejection of the crowd resulted in the injuring of many persons on both sides, including 50 policemen and guards and a still higher number of militant Catholics. One hundred and fifty members of the congregation were arrested.

One of the barricades erected before the church was thirty feet high.

After the people had been driven out Prefect Lepine to prevent further interruption of the inventory, placed a triple rank of guards armed with rifles around the choir. The commissioner thus was enabled to proceed with his work, which he had about completed last night.

Had a Bad Leg.

"For twelve years I was a great sufferer from eczema on the inside of the leg. There was a raw patch of flesh about three inches square, and the itching was something dreadful. Dr. Chase's Ointment completely cured me, took away the itching, and healed up the sore." — Mr. Alex. McDougall, postmaster, Broad Cove Marsh, N. S.

Joseph H. Choate At Ottawa.

Ottawa, Feb. 2.—The annual banquet of the Ottawa Canadian Club, in the Russell House last evening, was a success of the most undoubted kind. The guest of the evening was Joseph H. Choate, former Ambassador for the United States to England. His Excellency the Governor-General, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, R. L. Borden, United States Consul-General Foster, Japanese Consul-General Nosse, Cabinet Ministers and men prominent in church and state, and in the learned professions.

Murdered Body In Trunk.

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 2.—The murdered body of Walter P. Dolsen, aged 2 years, discharged from the United States marine corps here on Saturday last, after an honorable service of five years, was yesterday found in a trunk which had been purchased by the alleged murderer, Charles F. Taylor, aged 23, with whom Dolsen had been rooming at a Norfolk lodging house where the murder occurred, has fled. The crime is laid to him, and the police are now bending every energy to capture him.

Chamberlain Will Not Lead.

London, Feb. 2.—(C. A. P.)—Mr. Chamberlain will not lead, says The Daily Mail, a Unionist organ. With a positiveness seemingly inspired, it adds that Mr. Chamberlain has formally announced that he is not a candidate for the leadership of the party.

Lady Grey Injured.

London, Feb. 2.—Lady Grey, wife of Sir Edward Grey, the Foreign Secretary, was thrown from a trap while driving near Ellingham, Northumberland, yesterday afternoon, and sustained concussion of the brain. Lady Grey is now unconscious.

Death of S. G. Moore.

Hamilton, Feb. 2.—At an early hour yesterday morning death claimed S. George Moore, business manager of The Spectator. Mr. Moore had been with The Spectator since 1872, coming on as a route boy and advancing rapidly to the position of general manager. He was an enthusiastic Mason, being a past master of Barton Lodge and a member of the Scottish Rite. He leaves a widow and three children. He was 46 years old.

Marine Engineers Convene.

Quebec, Feb. 2.—Delegates from different parts of Canada are here to attend the first annual convention of the National Association of Marine Engineers to be held at Levis. The ice-breaker Montcalm was placed at the disposal of the delegates yesterday afternoon and a large party took a trip about the harbor.

MEETING OF JOURNALISTS.

Canadian Press Association Reaching Out For All Canada—Mr. A. H. U. Colquhoun Elected President.

Toronto, Feb. 2.—Yesterday the annual meeting of the Canadian Press Association was begun here. President Archie McNee, Windsor was in the chair.

The report of the secretary-treasurer, Mr. John R. Bone, showed most satisfactory membership and financial conditions. The receipts from fees during the year were $104 greater than during the preceding year, and were practically double those of seven years ago. The number of certificates issued in 1905 was 296, and the fees collected $665, compared with 164 certificates and $336 fees in 1898. The balance on hand increased from $600 to $823 during the year.

"A rapidly-increasing membership," was the joyful keynote of the report of the executive, the reading of which was the first item of business after President McNee called the meeting to order. During the year 54 new members were enrolled. Five new county press associations had been formed, and it was recommended that this plan be taken up and made as general as possible.

Along with the executive's report were amendments to the constitution, moved by John A. Cooper, dealing with the admission of members of outside press associations. These provided for full and complete membership in the Canadian Press Association to such members of provincial press associations, outside the Province of Ontario, as had been affiliated with the association, on terms approved by the executive, provided that the qualifications of membership in such affiliated associations should be the same as in the Canadian Press Association. The amendments were adopted.

The president then delivered his annual address, and touched upon many matters of interest.

Some Elected by Acclamation.

The nomination of officers resulted in several elections by acclamation. Mr. A. H. U. Colquhoun of The Toronto News was elected president; Mr. J. T. Clark of Saturday Night, first vice-president; Mr. J. R. Bone, Toronto Star, secretary-treasurer; Mr. A. E. Bradwin, Blyth Standard, assistant secretary; Messrs. G. E. Gibbard, Toronto; R. W. Dillon, St. Catharines, auditors.

Afternoon Sessions.

The afternoon session was divided into two sections, for the weekly and daily press. At the weekly session discussion on new method machinery, illustrating, the use of gasoline or steam, the cash in advance system, and other pertinent matters were taken part in.

The Canadian Associated Press, its organization and benefit, was the subject of a talk by John Ross Robertson to the daily paper section. The eight-hour day was also discussed.

G. C. Porter of Calgary introduced the subject of a better Canadian news service for Western Canada.

The annual dinner last night was attended by 100 editors and their wives. The chair was taken by President McNee, and at the guest table were Dr. Goldwin Smith, Hon. R. F. Sutherland, G. C. Creelman of Guelph; E. J. B. Pense, M. P. P., Kingston; Rev. J. A. Macdonald and others, each of whom spoke to the formal toasts.

Gauntlets Save Life.

Bracebridge, Feb. 2.—James Bogart, an old resident of the Township of Watt, had a narrow escape from drowning. He was driving on Lake Rosseau when his team went through the ice and were lost. Bogart managed to reach solid ice with his hands, but was unable to extricate himself from the water until an hour had elapsed, when his gauntlets became frozen to the ice three feet from the opening. By this means he managed to pull himself out just as his strength was about wearing out by exposure.

Miners United Agreement Must Include Them All

In the Rejection of Counter Proposal of Coal Operators.

WANT AGREEMENT FOR ALL

Great Strike of Organized Labor Is Possible Over the Stand Taken by the United Mine Workers In Convention—Disruption of the Joint Agreement Likely, But Faint Hope for Settlement.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 2.—Rejection of the counter proposal of the coal operators of the central competitive district by an almost unanimous vote of the national convention of the United Mine Workers, and the adoption of a resolution offered by Secretary W. D. Ryan of Illinois, placing the miners on record as a unit on refusing to sign an agreement for any district until an agreement was signed for all districts under the jurisdiction of the United Mine Workers, yesterday created a situation which, in the opinion of the officers of the miners' organization, will result in a disruption of the joint agreement and possibly a great strike of organized labor throughout the country.

Immediately following the rejection of the operator's proposal, the miners' convention set about providing means for accumulating a strike fund of $6,500,000, in addition to a like amount now on deposit in international district and sub-district treasuries of the miners' organizations.

Then, as if to seal their position, the national convention adjourned sine die.

Delegates who choose to left for their homes last night. Others remained for the final session of the joint conference to-day. This will be fore the formal adjournment of the interstate joint conference.

HON. S. C. BIGGS' AFFIDAVIT.

Says Agreement Was Not Made With Mrs. McDougall.

Toronto, Feb. 2.—S. C. Biggs, K. C., in an affidavit filed at Osgoode Hall yesterday, says that the policies on the life of the late Alfred McDougall were assigned to him in trust for the Ontario Government, as set out in an affidavit already filed in this matter. He acted as representative of the Government in obtaining the assignment of the policies.

"I say," declares Mr. Biggs, "that no arrangement was made, and no understanding was come to by or with my knowledge or consent, as alleged in the affidavit of Mary McDougall and Mary G. M. McDougall, to the effect that criminal proceedings should not be taken.

"I received my instructions from Hon. Geo. W. Ross, then Premier of the province, and to the best of my knowledge and belief there was no understanding expressed or implied between the Government and any member of Mr. McDougall's family or any other person, to the effect that a transfer of these policies involved relief from criminal prosecution."

Butchers.

Few really good lots of butchers' cattle were offered and prices were firm at Tuesday's quotations, with the common classes easy. Choice picked lots sold at $4.40 to $4.60; loads of good at $4.15 to $4.30; medidum, $3.75 to $4; common at $3.25 to $3.50; and cows at $2.50 to $3.75 per cwt.; canners at $1.25 to $2.

Veal Calves.

About 100 veal calves sold at unchanged prices, at $3.50 to $7 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

About 1250 sheep and lambs found a fairly good market, altho some of the dealers thought lambs were not quite as brisk. McDonald & Mayhee topped the market for 152 lambs, 108 lbs. each, which sold at $7.15 per cwt. The bulk of sales ranged from $6.50 to $7 per cwt. for best lambs and $5.50 to $6.50 for commen to medium; export ewes at $4.50 to $4.75 per cwt.; bucks at $3.50 to $4 per cwt.

Hogs.

Deliveries of hogs at the market since Tuesday were over 3000. Mr. Harris reports prices the same as quoted then, on Tuesday, selects $6.75; lights and fats, $6.50; sows, $4 to $5 and stags $2.50 to $3 per cwt. The prospects are for still lower prices.

Trouble In Paris Over Separation Church And State

POLICE ARREST 150 PERSONS

Violence In Paris Church Calls For Most Energetic Action by Police and Firemen—One of the Barricades at St. Clothilde Was Thirty Feet High—Policemen, Guards and Churchmen Injured.

Paris, Feb. 2.—Everywhere in France the actual putting into operation of the clause of the church and state separation bill which provided for the making of inventories of the property of the church has aroused a storm of protest. In several provincial parishes Catholics have gathered in the churches and made such strong resistance that the Government commissioners were unable to enter.

In the Chamber of Deputies yesterday afternoon Premier Rouvier's reply to an interpellation on the subject of socialist deputy, M. Allard, was given amid a great uproar. The Government, however, secured a vote of confidence by 384 against 166, after the Premier had assured the chamber that the Government was desirious of using tact and moderation in carrying out the law, but that it was fully determined to perform its duty.

Violence in a Church.

Scenes of extreme violence were transpiring in the meanwhile at the Church of St. Clothilde, near the Chamber of Deputies.

M. Lepin, prefect of police, finally ordered the municipal guards and police to enter the church. Under a shower of broken chairs the officers broke down the railings in front of the entrance, while the crowd rained heavy blows upon them. Then the firemen burst in the doors and the police and municipal guards entered the building. One of the principal officers was severely wounded.

Barricades In Church.

Inside the church the congregation had erected barricades which had to be taken by assault while the men and women fainted. After the church had been cleared the commissioner proceeded to take the inventory. The Catholics outside were singing canticles.

The ejection of the crowd resulted in the injuring of many persons on both sides, including 50 policemen and guards and a still higher number of militant Catholics. One hundred and fifty members of the congregation were arrested.

One of the barricades erected before the church was thirty feet high.

After the people had been driven out Prefect Lepine to prevent further interruption of the inventory, placed a triple rank of guards armed with rifles around the choir. The commissioner thus was enabled to proceed with his work, which he had about completed last night.

Had a Bad Leg.

"For twelve years I was a great sufferer from eczema on the inside of the leg. There was a raw patch of flesh about three inches square, and the itching was something dreadful. Dr. Chase's Ointment completely cured me, took away the itching, and healed up the sore." — Mr. Alex. McDougall, postmaster, Broad Cove Marsh, N. S.

Borden, United States Consul-General Foster, Japanese Consul-General Nosse, Cabinet Ministers and men prominent in church and state, and in the learned professions.

MEETING OF JOURNALISTS.

Canadian Press Association Reaching Out For All Canada—Mr. A. H. U. Colquhoun Elected President.

Toronto, Feb. 2.—Yesterday the annual meeting of the Canadian Press Association was begun here. President Archie McNee, Windsor was in the chair.

The report of the secretary-treasurer, Mr. John R. Bone, showed most satisfactory membership and financial conditions. The receipts from fees during the year were $104 greater than during the preceding year, and were practically double those of seven years ago. The number of certificates issued in 1905 was 296, and the fees collected $665, compared with 164 certificates and $336 fees in 1898. The balance on hand increased from $600 to $823 during the year.

"A rapidly-increasing membership," was the joyful keynote of the report of the executive, the reading of which was the first item of business after President McNee called the meeting to order. During the year 54 new members were enrolled. Five new county press associations had been formed, and it was recommended that this plan be taken up and made as general as possible.

Along with the executive's report were amendments to the constitution, moved by John A. Cooper, dealing with the admission of members of outside press associations. These provided for full and complete membership in the Canadian Press Association to such members of provincial press associations, outside the Province of Ontario, as had been affiliated with the association, on terms approved by the executive, provided that the qualifications of membership in such affiliated associations should be the same as in the Canadian Press Association. The amendments were adopted.

The president then delivered his annual address, and touched upon many matters of interest.

Some Elected by Acclamation.

The nomination of officers resulted in several elections by acclamation. Mr. A. H. U. Colquhoun of The Toronto News was elected president; Mr. J. T. Clark of Saturday Night, first vice-president; Mr. J. R. Bone, Toronto Star, secretary-treasurer; Mr. A. E. Bradwin, Blyth Standard, assistant secretary; Messrs. G. E. Gibbard, Toronto; R. W. Dillon, St. Catharines, auditors.

Afternoon Sessions.

The afternoon session was divided into two sections, for the weekly and daily press. At the weekly session discussion on new method machinery, illustrating, the use of gasoline or steam, the cash in advance system, and other pertinent matters were taken part in.

The Canadian Associated Press, its organization and benefit, was the subject of a talk by John Ross Robertson to the daily paper section. The eight-hour day was also discussed.

G. C. Porter of Calgary introduced the subject of a better Canadian news service for Western Canada.

The annual dinner last night was attended by 100 editors and their wives. The chair was taken by President McNee, and at the guest table were Dr. Goldwin Smith, Hon. R. F. Sutherland, G. C. Creelman of Guelph; E. J. B. Pense, M. P. P., Kingston; Rev. J. A. Macdonald and others, each of whom spoke to the formal toasts.

Gauntlets Save Life.

Bracebridge, Feb. 2.—James Bogart, an old resident of the Township of Watt, had a narrow escape from drowning. He was driving on Lake Rosseau when his team went through the ice and were lost. Bogart managed to reach solid ice with his hands, but was unable to extricate himself from the water until an hour had elapsed, when his gauntlets became frozen to the ice three feet from the opening. By this means he managed to pull himself out just as his strength was about wearing out by exposure.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

At the Grand Opera House, Thursday, Feb. 8th, the attraction will be George Ade's distinct musical comedy hit, "Peggy from Paris." So wide is its fame that it is certain theatre patrons generally will be interested in the engagement. Mr. Ade's clever wit and keen satire are known to everybody and reports agree that some of his keenest and sharpest humour is found in "Peggy from Paris." Critics and public unite in saying that this musical play outranks many another in several striking characteristics. Its wit and humour are employed in telling a really ingenious and interesting story, while the characters are uncommonly entertaining caricatures of amusing types. The music, too, the work of William Loraine, has caught popular fancy. The chorus numbers are said to be particularly effective. They combine bright melodies and tasteful dances in a way to impart spirit and animation and fascination to the ensembles.

• • • •

It was rumoured a short time ago, that the comic opera "Peggy from Paris," had cancelled its Peterborough engagement. Such, however, is not the case, and it will be here on the 8th with a splendid caste, including a particularly attractive chorus.

The editor of the Hamilton Weekly Review has been arrested charged with criminal libel, by George H. Summers, proprietor of the Summers Stock Company. He is alleged to have said some very damaging things about the members of the company.

Arrangements are under way by which a special train will be run from Lindsay on February 8 to allow theatregoers in that place to see Geo. Ade's musical comedy, "Peggy from Paris."

Actor and author Neil Twomey, in his new play, "The Parting of the Way," has chosen an interesting and novel theme in his latest effort. Mr. Twomey gives in the roll of Cool Gartin, an admirable impersonation of the easy-going, happy-go-lucky individual, who is never disturbed under the most singular circumstances. His buoyant temperament and his wonderful nerve make him sanguine that matters will turn out all right. Mr. Twomey has worked a very pretty story out of it, and interest is sustained until the final curtain drops. The company contains a number of clever people, who are aided by a special scenic equipment.

TO ENCIRCLE THE WORLD

UNDER THE HOUSE FLAG OF THE CANADIAN PACIFIC.

Only One Railway Upon Which a Round-the-World Ticket Can be Issued — Voyage of Master Fred Shaughnessy and Mr. C. T. Anstey.

Montreal, Jan. 20.—Since the good old Elizabethan days, when the gallant Drake sailed from the English port of Plymouth, over three and a quarter centuries ago, on his memorable voyage of discovery, the circumnavigation of the globe has changed wonderfully. If the brave old fighting sailor were alive to-day he would marvel greatly at the advance that has been made in our knowledge of geography, at the birth and up-building of nations that, in his time, had no existence, and at the immense strides that civilization has made throughout the world. He would, it could easily be fancied, be startled at the sight of huge ocean liners which would make his staunch little Pelican look like a dinghy, and by the roar and rattle of fast railway trains that were not even dreamed of in his day. He would be astonished at the luxury and the comfort which are enjoyed by the twentieth-century travellers by land and sea, and he would wonder what might have been the possibilities had he had at his command the facilities for travelling that exist to-day. Could Sir Francis have been at the Windsor street station of the Canadian Pacific Railway last night, as the short line express pulled out for St. John, N.B., he would have witnessed an interesting scene. It was in curious contrast to him quest of discovery, and yet it was an event that marks an epoch in Canadian history. It was the starting of two young men upon a voyage around the world—not a remarkable matter in itself, were it not for the attending circumstances. For the first time in history the world will be girdled by the ships and railway trains of one transportation corporation, the Canadian Pacific Railway Company.

The two young men starting eastward from Montreal, returning by way of the west, are Master Fred Shaughnessy, son of Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the C.P.R., and his private tutor, Mr. C. T. Anstey, who will, travelling leisurely, circle the globe in about four months instead of the three years that Sir Francis occupied in making his historic voyage. These globe-girdlers, again like Sir Francis, will sail under one flag only, but while the British ensign will, of course, float from the foremast, the red and white houseflag of the C.P.R. will fly from the main. Unlike the daring Drake, however, the Montreal travellers will journey across a continent, but even then be under the care of Canada's great transportation company.

Leaving Montreal by the Canadian Pacific train, Messrs. Shaughnessy and Anstey will arrive at St. John this morning, and there board the C.P.R. steamship Lake Champlain for Liverpool, from which port another C.P.R. steamship, the Monteagle, will be taken on Feb. 5 to Hong Kong—on the other side of the world. The Montenagle's first port of call will be Cardiff, Wales, where she will take on her cargo. Cardiff will be the final port of departure from the British Isles, and sailing from that place on Feb. 12, the vessel is scheduled to arrive at Hong Kong on April 18. Amongst the ports of call en route will be Teneriffe, Durban or Cape Town, and Singapore. Ten days after reaching Hong Kong the C.P.R. steamship Empress of India will carry with its other passengers the two travellers to Vancouver, arriving there on May 9, and the Imperial Limited will bring them across the continent — over the majestic Rockies, and the great fast-filling prairies of the far west, around the northern rock-bound shores of Lake Superior—to Montreal in four days, so that, under ordinary circumstances, they should reach home on May 13, next.

In this around the world trip the two travellers will see parts of four continents — North America, Europe, Asia and Africa—and will traverse the North Atlantic and South Atlantic Oceans, the Indian Ocean, China Sea, the inland Sea of Japan, and the North Pacific Ocean, besides crossing the North American continent. They will cover nearly thirty thousand miles, the distances being as follows:

Montreal to St. John, N.B., C.P.R. train, 481 miles; St. John, N.B., to Liverpool, C.P.R. steamship, 3224 miles; Liverpool to Hong Kong, C.P.R. steamship, 15,249 miles; Hong Kong to Vancouver, C.P.R. steamship, 7,254 miles; Vancouver to Montreal, C.P.R. train, 2,904 miles; total of 29,112 miles.

The equator will be crossed twice, once on the Atlantic and again on the Pacific, and a day will be gained in crossing the 180th meridian.

The Montcagle has hitherto been engaged in the North Atlantic trade, plying between Montreal and Bristol (Avonmouth), in summer, and between St. John and Bristol in winter, and is now being transferred to the North Pacific Ocean. The rapid growth of the Oriental trade has necessitated this addition to the magnificent C.P.R. fleet on the Pacific, to meet immediate and pressing requirements, and with the three white Empresses, the Athenian and the Tartar, the Monteagle will operate between Vancouver and Japanese and Chinese ports and Hong Kong. The Monteagle will be a decided acquisition to the Pacific Ocean shipping. She is almost a new vessel, having been built in 1899 by Palmer & Company, at Newcastle, England, and is a splendid type of the Tyne-built steamship. She is a twin screw steel ship of 5,500 tons gross and 3,500 tons net. Her dimensions are: Length, 445 feet, breadth, 52.9 feet, depth, 20.7 feet. Having been entirely refitted with all modern improvements, she has excellent accommodation for nearly two hundred passengers. The furnishings of her cabins are luxurious, the social and dining saloons are spacious and artistically decorated, and in every detail she has been made worthy of a place in the White Empress fleet. She has a large carrying capacity, and attains a speed of thirteen knots. The Montcagle is under the command of Captain H. Peary, an experienced and skilful navigator, and the other officers share in the popularity and high esteem he enjoys.

This voyage of the Montcagle means something besides the mere sailing of an ocean liner. It marks an event of more than ordinary import. It is something of which Canadians should feel proud, for the good ship and her sister ships and the fast C.P.R. expresses bear around the globe gratifying evidences of Canada's growing importance in the world of commerce, and give another illustration of the enterprise and developing policy of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. A ticket like that used on this trip could not be issued by any other transportation company in the world, for no other one than the Canadian Pacific has the facilities for circling the globe under its own flag and by its own ships and trains. And that is something highly creditable to Canada and Canadians—something, if we were a boastful people, to boast of with pardonable pride.

It has been estimated that should anyone desire to purchase the railways of the world his outlay would amount to something like, $42,400,000,000. That sum would represent the entire revenues of Europe for eight years, or one-tenth of the entire money wealth of the world.

Alarm is felt in England by Derbyshire archaeologists at the possibility of the collapse of a mysterious castle near Matlock, known as Hurker Hall. This building is 300 years old, and has a moat round it, but it has never been occupied, owing, it is said, to the discovery of its original owner that there was no right of way to reach it through the adjacent lands.

Devoted to motoring, Queen Margherita of Italy has announced her intention of making an extended tour of the United States, and a powerful machine is being built for the purpose. Recently some Transvaal farmers had an interview with Lord Selborne, when it was suggested that Transvaal tobacco should be supplied to the navy, and Lord Selborne promised he would write to the admiralty on the subject. In a later speech he referred to the possibility of developing a large export tobacco trade, but advised farmers to grow a quality that pleased the European customer.

The butter famine is becoming more pronounced in England, and the scarcity of supplies is having a serious effect upon prices. In the London provision market the price of Danish butter was advanced. A telegram from Liverpool says unless the colonial supplies increase the position will be unprecedented, and dealers there state that it is nearly impossible to meet the present requirements.

Address Upon India Missions

Rev. Mr. LaFlamme at Murray Street Baptist Church.

Next Tuesday—afternoon and evening—will be a red-letter day for the Baptists of the Murray street Baptist church. Rev. Mr. La Flamme, who has charge of the religious and secular educational interests of the Canadian Baptist Mission field in Telegu, India, and who is at present in Canada or furlough, will deliver two addresses in the Murray street street church on Tuesday, Feb. 6th—to children at 4.30, and at 8 o'clock to adults of the congregation, and all interested in mission work. Apart from the intrinsic merit of the subject, the manner of its treatment by the eminent speaker will invest it with an unusual interest. Rev. Mr. La Flamme is an eloquent speaker, treats his subject in a broad and comprehensive manner, and with an intimate personal knowledge of what he deals with. He has, as remarked, charge of the educational interests of the mission with a special interest in the manual training school, and he publishes the only journal printed in English. Rev. Mr. La Flamme has a deeply interesting message to those interested in the great work of Indian missions or of mission work generally.

A FORGOTTEN SUBJECT.

Senator McMullen Has Conference With President Roosevelt Concerning Trade Between Two Countries.

Washington, D. C., Feb 1.—A discussion on commercial conditions between the United States and Canada was held at the White House yesterday between the president and James McMullen, a member of the Canadian Senate, who was presented by Senator Warner of Missouri.

"A few years ago," said Senator McMullen, "a strong movement was started for reciprocity between the United States and Canada, but with us the subject now is scarcely mentioned. Our people are becoming convinced that they must look abroad for an outlet for their surplus products. Our producers are able now to lay down in Great Britain fruit, fresh meat and other perishable stuff in as good condition as we can put them into the United States. They are building up a fine export business and are very prosperous.

"If we should enter into a reciprocity agreement with the United States, we should be obliged to change our relations with Great Britain. Our people have no desire to do that. In Great Britain and in some other foreign markets Canada is a competitor of the United States.

"In other respects, our people entertain the most friendly feeling for the people of the United States."

Senator McMullen said that extensive railroad construction is in progress in Canada, and Canadians were becoming interested in railroad rate legislation. He believed that in the near future such legislation as is now pending in the American Congress will be brought before the Canadian Parliament.

C. N. R. at Prince Albert.

Prince Albert, Sask., Feb. 1.—The C. N. R. has reached the city. The advent of the new railroad has already had its effect in a drop in freight rates on the C. P. R. The C. N. R. have a gang of sixty-seven men at work laying the tracks in the city, and it will not be long now until regular trains are running.

Customs Revenue Grows.

Ottawa, Feb. 1.—For the seven months which closed yesterday, the receipts for customs amounted to $26,292,114. This is $2,683,147 more than for the same period of the preceding year, $2,663,610 better than for the seven months of 1903-4, and a gain of $5,539,249 as compared with the same seven months of 1902-3.

French Church Rioters Blinded Police With Spice.

FIFTY ARRESTS WERE MADE

Rioters' Methods of Defending Church of St. Pierre du Gross — Firemen Climb Upon Roof and Flood Out the Rioters and the Church—Many Were Injured on Both Sides.

Paris, Feb. 3.—In anticipation of serious disturbances expected to attend the taking of the Government inventory yesterday at the Church of St. Pierre du Gross Caillou, in the Rue St. Dominique, the authorities adopted rigorous measures. All the shops in the neighborhood of the edifice were closed, cordons of armed municipal guards on foot were stationed at intervals along the street, and a squadron of mounted municipal guards with drawn swords patrolled the thoroughfare and kept the crowds moving.

When the prefect of police, Lepine, arrived the bells were tolled and the people inside the church, numbering about 2,000 persons, began singing psalms, while outside the rowdy element, composed of Socialists, who threatened a counter demonstration, shouted revolutionary songs. M. Lepine thrice summoned the congregation to open the gates, which the people refused to do and then the firemen were ordered to force an entrance.

Firemen Flood Church.

As they mounted ladders in order to break in the windows of the Chapel of the Virgin, an annex of the church, revolver shots rang out, and the firemen retired. Later a fire engine arrived, and amidst a shower of missiles the firemen scrambled up to the roof with a hose, the water was turned on and the interior of the building was soon flooded.

In the meantime the doors has been battered down, but the municipal guards found barricades inside and met with fierce resistance.

As a net result of yesterday's rioting, though the inventory was taken in but one church, that of St. Pierre Cross Caillou, over 50 persons were seriously injured and a further number slightly hurt. The latter included many police and firemen, who were almost blinded with cayenne pepper. Fifty arrests were effected. The storming of the building was protracted owing to the use by the "defenders" of red pepper. After repeated efforts the police and firemen succeeded in entering the church only by employing chairs as shields. The first two who got through the doors were knocked unconscious.

Twenty-two hundred inventories already have been made throughout France, many without incident, but Paris contains 69 Roman Catholic churches, of which but half have been visited by the officials. Proceedings will continue to-day and in order to prevent a renewal of the disturbances the authorities have kept secret the hour at which the commissioners will visit the churches.

Mine Owners And Miners Can't Agree

Must Be Given Or 550,000 Miners May Go Out On Strike.

OPERATORS AND MINERS FAIL

Cannot Come to an Agreement About Wages—Motion to Continue the Present Scale Defeated and the United Mine Workers Go Home to Save Up Another $3,000,000 of a Strike Fund.

Indianapolis, Feb. 3.—The joint conference of the operators and the miners of both the central competitive and southwestern districts adjourned yesterday sine die without an agreement.

Adjournment was immediately followed by a call for a meeting of the national convention of the United Mine Workers of America for 2 o'clock.

A motion made by F. L. Robbins, the spokesman for the operators, that the present wage scale be adopted was lost as it required under the rules a unanimous vote to carry any of the principal propositions. Operators of Ohio, Indiana and Pennsylvania voted for the motion. Illinois operators declined to vote. The miners of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois voted against the proposition.

The Operators' Mouthpiece.

The motion to adjourn sine die was made by F. L. Robbins immediately following the announcement that the proposition of the operators as embodied in his motion has been defeated.

Mr. Robbins reviewed the differences in the condition of the miners now and when the inter-state and joint conference movement went into effect. "You have higher wages and shorter hours," he said, "yet without argument and in the face of all fairness you yesterday met and repudiated a fair proposition. I want to go on record as protesting against such methods." We do not propose to have miners of other states, with conditions entirely different from ours, dictate as to the settlement of affairs in our district. Your proposition adopted yesterday is absurd. A little section up in Michigan could refuse a settlement and tie up the whole country."

John Mitchell In Reply.

Mr. Mitchell in reply said: "We have shown by the operators' circulars that coal is selling at the mines at from 35 to 50 cents a ton higher than it was selling seven months ago, and that the condition of our own trade is highly prosperous. Notwithstanding this, we are asked to continue a lower wage scale than we had two years ago.

"When we accepted a lower scale on account of an unfortunate situation existing at the time, we were promised that the reduction would be restored at the next conference."

In closing Mr. Mitchell said: "We have come to the parting of the ways and it seems to me the only thing left to do is to go home and there try to overcome those seemingly insurmountable obstacles. We deeply regret the necessity for such a step, but we feel that the time has come when you can give us an advance in wages without damaging your property interests to any considerable extent."

President Mitchell declared that under no circumstances would the miners accept any agreement that did not carry with it an increase in wages, and the miners' convention has unanimously, with the exception of three votes, endorsed the action of the joint scale committee, which refused the proposition of the operators, that the present scale be continued.

550,000 Miners May Strike.

During an interview President Mitchell said:

"It is true that never in the history of this country has a strike of such far-reaching effect been threatened. It means a national suspension of mining if the strike comes on at the expiration of our mining contracts March 31, and it includes the anthracite districts.

"I do not know whether this action will have an effect on the meeting of the anthracite miners and operators on Feb. 15, but it is the plan now to meet the anthracite operators at that time."

According to figures given out by the national officers of the miners' organization, they expect the strike, if there be one, to bring out about 550,000 miners.

With assessments from now to April 1 the miners, with nearly $3,000,000 on hand, could be in possession of something like $6,000,000 by April 1.

DOCTORS AND ADVERTISING

Canadian Associated Press Cable Service Endorsed by the Canadian Press Association, Which Also Recommends a Similar Grant For a Better Canadian Service Between Eastern and Western Canada.

Toronto, Feb. 3.—The Ontario Medical Council came in for severe censure at the hands of the members of the Canadian Press Association yesterday, when a resolution was received with applause and carried unanimously without a dissenting voice in disapproval of the conduct of the medical council, in using their organization to suppress on the part of one of the fraternity the use of the advertising columns of the papers.

C. A. P. Endorsed.

Another important resolution reported upon and adopted, covered the endorsation of the Canadian cable service, and the encouragement of the western development urged so strongly by Col. G. C. Porter, managing editor of The Calgary Herald. It read as follows:

That this association endorses most heartily the work which the Canadian Associated Press is doing in connection with its cable service, and expresses its approval of the character of the despatches which are being brought to this country from England by this agency. The service which is thus being rendered to Canada is one whose benefits are shared by the people generally, and must have a beneficial effect in cementing those sentimental ties between the Mother Land and Canada which are the enduring bonds of union. This association believes that the Government of the Dominion would be following a policy approved by the whole press of Canada if it were to continue to encourage the Canadian Associated Press cable service upon the same basis of financial assistance as has for the past three years been extended to it.

Better Canadian Service.

The association also feels that not less important is the news unification of Eastern and Western Canada, and will heartily second any effort which promises to increase and sustain that interest in the common doings of the Dominion that is an indespensable element in securing the feeling of national oneness. This association would earnestly recommend this subject to the attention of the Dominion Government, and would support any application made for a grant in aid of the object on similar lines to the subvention for the British news service."

Other resolutions which received endorsation were:

The approval of the affiliation of the Eastern Townships Association.

The approval of the proposed annual excursion to Edmonton.

To Amend Libel Law.

The endorsation of the president's suggestions to have cause of all prospective libel actions submitted to the county judge for justification ere suit was permitted, and that petitions to the Government be prepared, asking for such amendments as the suggestions call for.

The association schedule of rates for foreign advertising was discussed. Many members deemed the present rate too low, and suggestions were made in regard to securing a more general adherence to the present rates. It was also resolved that members be urged to submit correct statements of circulation, with as full detail as possible, so that perfect confidence could be established between buyer and seller of advertising space.

Daily Paper Officers.

The daily paper section of the association elected the following officers: President, W. M. O'Beirne, Stratford Beacon; secretary, A. G. Donaldson, Galt Reporter; treasurer, L. H. Dingman, St. Thomas' Times; executive committee, Messrs. Dobbin, Peterboro Review; McKay, Windsor Record; Mitchell, Intosh, Guelph Mercury; Adams, London Advertiser, and Woodward, Chatham Banner.

The election of the executive committee for the ensuing year brought the convention to a close. They are: L. S. Channell, J. F. Mackay, W. H. Bonisteel, J. W. Dingman.

Crime in Toronto.

Toronto, Feb. 3.—The annual report of the police department shows an increase of 2,283 in apprehensions, making a total of 15,385 for 1905, but 7,806 charges were withdrawn. Drunkenness and minor breaches of bylaws caused most of the trouble. Of $154,702.46 in property stolen, showing an increase of $42,549, $54,715.46 was recovered. License receipts were $42,530.60, a gain of $2,250.56.

CHAPTER I.

IT was in August [illegible] of the year 188— that I turned the corner, as it were, into the strange history I am now to relate. The Welsh marches had been entirely unknown to me until at a point in an idle tour of the west of England I fell upon the little town of Raymond and brought up at 7 in the evening at the Swan hostelry that occupies a corner of the irregular triangle constituting the market place. The country in that part is full of swelling hills and valleys, soft and exhilarating of air and clothed with a great vesture of wood. The great Gwent, as the forest across the little river Ray is called in the countryside, rolls westward across the county, broken by tracts of fertile fields lying under grain and pasture, and descends upon the black hills of the mining district beyond. At Raymond, which stands upon the hither side of the river, we are yet in England proper and upon the margin of a more open country. The town itself is small and neat and wears its air of respectable antiquity very haughtily.

The inn, which was itself among the most venerable buildings in the small town, was comfortably served by a very brisk landlord of middle age. It had kept, so to speak, a precarious continuity with antiquity and in the main scheme had changed but little during the 300 years which had passed since its erection.

The hostelry was much too large for its present uses, but for all that wore no air of neglect in the inhabited chambers. My own rooms were marked by homely comfort, and I was waited upon like a prince of the blood. After a rude and wholesome country dinner I sought distraction in the taproom with my pipe and a heterogeneous company of townsfolk. The landlord was in some kind a president at this symposium, which consisted for the main part of a few of the smaller shopkeepers. There was Mr. Jones, for example, whose name I had noticed upon a shop front as I rode through the High street. This man fixed upon me early in the evening, and poured his confidences into my ear. He was a hay merchant, and he had no dearer ambition than to establish his business in Bristol. He found Raymond too mean for his aspiring temper, and the Mecca of his prayers was Bristol. I confess that I found him something of a bore, and was glad to exchange commonplaces with my other neighbor. The landlord himself kept his seat before the long table, smoking his long pipe with the peace of a man whose business is ended for the day, and now and then discharging a glance in my direction. He was, I discovered, a traveled man for those parts, and had the reputation of a smart fellow. Indeed, he compared well with the duller rustics who surrounded him. The placid air of the taproom was in some ways little more diverting than the solitude of my chamber, but that was soon to pass. Presently there came a great noise, followed by a heavy tramp of feet approaching from the outer bar, and in strutted a tall young fellow, with his hat upon one side, and a jaunty air of one who knows his own worth and despises his neighbors.

"Come in," says the innkeeper, very friendly, but with a certain air of constraint. "Plenty of room, Mr. Montgomery, sir, and a good evening to you."

"Oh, hang your ceremonies," says the newcomer, but with no touch of ill humor, "and give your best attention to my order, Wendover!" And, clapping his hat more firmly on his head, he rapped loudly upon the table.

He drank the glass of whisky which the barman served and then fell into a seat and stared without any truculence, but rather with a savage air of curiosity, at myself. He was of a ruddy color and quite young, and something in his bearing rather than in his dress marked him out from the rest of the company. But above all his great size and muscular appearance were noticeable.

"Come in," says the innkeeper.

"Who is that?" I asked as soon as Montgomery's eyes had wandered from me.

"He's no better than he should be," my neighbor answered. "For all his grand airs, he's but little better than a pauper. And that's where your blood comes in in the end."

The landlord, who was close by me, noting my interrogation with a busy eye, leaned forward and supplemented this disparaging information in a whisper.

"One of the best families in the Gwent, sir," he murmured, "though his estate is no more than a yeoman's nowadays. Times are against property on the border." And, having delivered this statement, he drew himself back and addressed a question to Montgomery, with the object, as I conceived, of exhibiting a local celebrity to his guest.

"Anything doing out your way, sir?" he inquired.

The youth turned his eyes upon him in a lackluster gaze and then, emptying his glass, hammered on the table noisily.

"Why the deuce don't that man of yours come?" he exclaimed. "Here have I ridden in ten miles for the sight of a human face and the taste of good Scotch, and— That's right." He gave his order and, observing Wendover again, gave vent to a heavy laugh. "What do you expect to happen in the Gwent?" he asked. "It's as dull as ditch water."

"I don't know so much about that," put in suddenly a man on the other side of the room whom, from his general air, I took to be a miller. "There's something as I heard of lately that was pretty exciting."

The spokesman drew all eyes upon him. The surface of our deep composure stirred and ruffled.

"What's that, Mr. Llewellyn?" asked the innkeeper.

Montgomery looked incredulous. "Pooh!" he said disdainfully.

The miller enjoyed the importance and seemed inclined to prolong it. He leisurely refilled his pipe.

"I heard something queer happened at the castle last week," he said at last, seeing that his news must out.

"What's that?" asked Montgomery.

"A girl that was in service there told my missus," went on the miller. "We have taken her in. She's left the castle."

"What did she say?" asked Wendover.

"I don't exactly recall the right of it," the miller confessed, with a nasty sense of shame. Montgomery looked at me and, seeing a smile in my eye, burst out laughing. "But I know it was about a burglary," said the miller promptly and with courage.

"I'd like to hear about the burglary," said some one.

"The man that keeps the inn there—the—what's that inn?" went on the miller.

"The Woodman," answered Montgomery.

"Aye, that's it. He was servant to the castle—the girl said—and he caught them."

"Caught whom?" said Montgomery impatiently.

"Well, he didn't catch them," admitted the miller, "but he frightened them off. They were after the plate that the old gentleman keeps, so the man told my girl."

"He's a queer old customer," interposed one of the company, seeing, as we all saw, that we should get no further interest out of the miller. Our attention broke up.

"You're right," nodded his vis-a-vis and replaced his pipe in his mouth.

"May I ask what castle you are speaking of?" I ventured to say, addressing the miller.

"Ivor castle, sir," said he civilly.

"It lays in the Gwent, sir, back of the hills," explained the landlord.

"As you talk of this burglary," said Montgomery, breaking in rather rudely, "I'd like first to know what they were going to find in the castle. Every one knows there's nothing to be got there."

Confronted with this uncivil infidel, the miller came to bay. "I don't know anything about it," he declared. "All I know is that this young woman—she says she was woke up by a noise going on, and then she went to sleep again, putting her head under the blankets, and that the manservant—I can't bring back his name—he told her next day that the thieves had tried to get in."

"Humph!" sneered Montgomery, who had plainly drunk too much to be an easy companion. "I don't call that much of a tale."

"If it's true, it's true," said the mild looking man.

"Who the devil asked your opinion?" retorted the lad brusquely. The mild man shifted in his chair, but mustered courage to ask if a man might not express his sentiments upon a point of general interest.

"That's true, anyway," assented Montgomery, with a foolish laugh.

It was clear that he had taken enough to be quarrelsome if the opportunity should rise, and unfortunately he chose to turn his bantering gaze upon my sour and peevish neighbor.

"Well, Mr. Jones," said he, "and how's hay?"

"How's crops, my young gentleman?" says Jones in his surly fashion.

"Crops," said Montgomery in a bawl, "crops is as they should be—seasonable. Here's to crops, gentleman, and also to hay," and he fell into his chair laughing abominably.

I could not say if this was part of an elaborate jest, conceived by a maudlin brain, or whether he had really been taken with an unreasonable fit of anger; but, whether of accident or of purpose, he filled up his glass forward between his fingers, and the dregs flew out and spattered the hay merchant's face.

"Gentlemen!" cried the landlord, in some alarm.

Montgomery stood, his red face somewhat vacant and grinning broadly, while his sallow faced victim, who had got upon his feet, gesticulated and stuttered under his nose with a show of passion that was not quite English, and at this moment, when it seemed as if some retaliation was to be expected and a fracas precipitated, an impulse took me, and I myself intervened.

"I think, sir," said I, addressing Montgomery, "you will admit that you have used this worthy gentleman very ill, and if I were you, sir, with your youth and spirit at my back, I would ask his pardon at once."

On that he stared at me for some seconds, and then, plumping the empty glass on the table, he broke into a sheepish laugh.

"All right," he said; "very sorry. I beg his pardon," and muttering some indistinct apologies he resumed his seat, sitting somewhat silent for a good time afterward.

But that was my introduction to the lad, an introduction none too favorable, of which he began at once to make use, for he crept close to me, moving from chair to chair, when a chance served him, and, being emboldened by the liquor he had drunk, struck up a lively conversation with me. In the end he was exceedingly merry, and was shaking me heartily by the hand, and invited me to drive out to his farm in the Gwent with a good deal of unusual warmth and vehemence, but I managed at last to make my escape, and that without giving him offense.

It was yet early, but the taproom had lost its humors for me, and I was for bed. In my room I spent an agreeable hour, idly considering my guidebooks and determining a date for my return to town. Upon the map I made out the site of Ivor castle, of which there had been talk, also of Montgomery's farm, which he had described to me. They both lay in the Gwent, as that great reach of forest in the marches is called.

CHAPTER II.

RAIN had fallen in the night, and a sweet savor of earth commingled with the summer air when I opened my door and looked forth upon the courtyard. The landlord gently deprecated the events of the previous evening, offering, as it might be to a fastidious guest, an apology for a headstrong young scapegrace.

"They're not like us of the eastern counties, sir," says he. "They're a bit Welsh hereabout. It's a contamination, to my way of thinking. But, there, all sorts of blood go to make a nation, and that's the truth."

But he volunteered a few additional particulars about Montgomery.

"Not a bad sort, sir, at heart, but he's running to seed here. He's taken a main fancy to you. That I could spy at a look. But it's a poor prospect for him, with land dwindling away to nothing, and Llanthony is a shabby house for a young gentleman as he should be."

Llanthony, it appears, was the name of Montgomery's paternal estate in the Gwent. And, in fact, it was for this Gwent that I was bound this morning. The prospect of those rolling hills attracted me with some force. I had an appetite for the wilderness of that back country, unscarred, as I learned, by the track of any railway. It was in a way virgin, at the least a property private from the world. As I struck across the Ray and directed my horse toward the long red slope of the ascent I looked back upon the little town and discovered it wrapped in mountain humors.

Llanthony, according to my host, lay at the back of the first hill, some four miles from Raymond, but as the estate was not my particular aim, and, if it had been, I had no one to guide me, I roamed indefinitely through byways over a circuit of the upper Gwent and finally drew up in the village of Llanelian about the hour of lunch. This village lay a mile or so from the more open districts of the Gwent and within the privy borders of the great forest itself. It would have been easy to throw the reins upon the horse's neck and to wander, lost in the abysms of that wilderness, for the villages were scattered at a great distance and the habitations of the settlers were at long intervals. It was somewhere about 5 in the afternoon, and as I rode down into a spacious valley a few miles from Llanelian, that the monotony of this desultory journey was broken by an event of some moment.

A pretty brook rippled through the wood and was crossed upon a rude bridge. As it chanced, my horse fell suddenly lame, and I had dismounted on the farther edge of the stream to examine his hoof when I heard sounds as of a struggle in the close brake to my left, and upon that a shrill shout as of one crying for assistance. Leaving the bay without further ado, for he was of mild mettle, I jumped into the copse and ran toward the noises, shouting as I went to encourage the wayfarer who was calling for aid.

The cries had already ceased, but a crackling and brushing in the undergrowth still directed me, and, bursting through the furze and brier, I came out very suddenly upon the verge of the little brook and almost fell over the form of a man who lay doubled upon the earth. As I stumbled and shifted to regain my balance I had a glimpse of a lithe, lean bodied fellow vanishing precipitately into the copse. But obviously it was to the victim that I must first turn my mind rather than to any fugitive assailant. He was a man, as I guessed, of some sixty years or more, very bald of the head and under the middle stature. Across his white and shining forehead was a streak of blood, which drew from me an exclamation as I helped him to his feet.

"It is not mine," said he, with a complacent smile. "I go better prepared than my years would suggest."

"No bones broken?" I inquired.

He shook his head, leaning upon my arm and breathing painfully.

"A bruise or two, and no wind in my belly—no more. I was a fool to have forgotten my pistol."

The words recalled me to the thought of the runaway, to whom I attributed this scurvy trick upon an old gentleman.

"What was the cause?" I asked "Some highway thief?"

"Hardly that," he remarked thoughtfully, and pulling forth an ancient snuffbox with deliberation. "No, I could scarcely describe him as that."

I made a motion to withdraw, recollecting hastily that it was my duty to ascertain some tidings of the ruffian, but the old gentleman, observing my intention, put his hand upon my shoulder.

"I would not worry," said he suavely. "It is of small consequence as it happens. Now, had you come up a moment later," he continued, regarding me with a faint smile, "I could hardly have put a limit on this business, but as it is"—

"Surely," I broke in shortly, "you will have the brute arrested if you can recognize him again?"

"Recognize him?" murmured the old gentleman, snuffing gently and with an air of consideration from his fingers "Yes, I dare say I should know him, but I am sure you will allow me to manage this affair my own way. I have stood the racket, you know, though I heartily acknowledge you have acquired a certain claim to attention. It is very good of you," he said politely, and then, "Yes, I think I should know him again—if we met—which is of course extremely improbable," he concluded, with a twinkle in his eyes.

Now, the self possession of this old fellow, with his air of imperturbable courage, puzzled me hugely and in a manner was very disconcerting. He had taken the outrage, which had evidently been committed upon his person, with such mildness, even with amiability. I could scarce credit my senses to see him discoursing there, with his snuff between his fingers, so pleasantly and broadly, of the event. He seemed quite unruffled, though his body still panted with the efforts of his struggle.

"Is your watch safe? I suppose it was robbery?" I said, feeling somehow rather mean and cast down by the unexpected situation.

"Thank you, quite safe," he replied, without troubling to ascertain. "Yes, quite safe. Certainly I must suppose it to have been robbery—yes, robbery, no doubt."

His air was so abstracted that I took leave to doubt his sanity; but, after all, it was no business of mine if he was foolishly disposed to mercy, and one needs but little imagination to conceive of a dozen deep reasons for an assault save the plain motive of theft. He turned to me presently as I was upon the point of withdrawing.

"I am at a loss to know," said he, laboring over his words and speaking very deliberately, "what devil of folly pursues men that they will hazard all on a piece of carelessness, a wanton whim or just mere indifference or idleness. I cannot say"— He paused as we emerged upon the road. "This must be your horse, then, a good, serviceable animal, that would have warmed my heart thirty years since. I cannot say," he resumed, clutching gently at my arm, "that my adventure today was due to any other cause than that of mere carelessness." He paused again, surveying my horse with apparent interest. "In the first place, I should not have been so far from home; secondly, I should not have been without my revolver; thirdly, I should have used my stick harder when I got home, a concurrence of negligences which made my fate almost a certainty but for your arrival," he added as a polite afterthought, squeezing my arm.

I confess that I was utterly at a loss what to make of him and was inclined to interpret him for a mild lunatic, but we proceeded along the roadway, I with the bridle of my horse over my arm. He still clung to me, discoursing quietly, in a melodious voice upon his views of life and the philosophy we should derive from it, while I listened, for the most part, in silence. But after walking for a quarter of an hour, the latter part of which time was spent in a somewhat laborious ascent, we came out upon the summit of a little hill clad in the splendid livery of summer and surmounted by what seemed in the distance to be the ruins of a castle. Here the old gentleman came to a halt, ceasing simultaneously of his chatter, and looked toward the building.

"I am fully conscious, Mr. —, I don't think I caught your name, Mr. —"

"Greatorex," I told him.

"Thank you," said he. "I am fully conscious, Mr. Greatorex, that I am under a deep obligation to you for your great service this afternoon. Greatorex! There are, if I remember aright, Greatorexes in Hampshire."

I explained that we were cadets of that family. He bowed his acknowledgments of my explanation and proceeded.

"Hospitality tells me that I can do no less than offer you the opportunity of refreshment for yourself or"—his eyes dwelt abstractedly upon my horse—"for your animal. But I am reluctant to press the offer upon you, seeing that it is very probable you have ridden far"—he was observing poor Jupiter's flanks—"and are still far from your destination."

His eyes interrogated me, but with no rude curiosity, rather as if they offered a remark which I might consider a question or not, as I chose. I answered frankly:

"I am staying at the Swan, in Raymond, and to say truly"—I laughed—"I am not quite sure how far I am from the town or in what direction it lies."

"In that case," he said urbanely, but with a sense of satisfaction, as I imaglued, "my reluctance vanishes. You are some seven miles from Raymond, and my house is here."

Without more ado we resumed our walk and, entering an avenue of limes, came next upon an iron gateway set in a high brick wall. It was of very ancient workmanship, but as nothing to the house itself, which came directly into full view as soon as we had passed the entrance. It lay some 300 yards back, approached through a patch of park grown with grass and interspersed with noble trees. My first impression had not been wrong. It was nothing less than the ruins of a squat castle, one of those fortalices reared by the border barons against the inroads of Welsh barbarians in the Plantagenet times. As we drew near my gaze devoured the building and took in many points of interest. It was quite small, but, saving for one wing, in perfect integrity. From the base masonry of the drum towers down to the moat and portcullis all was as it had been in the days maybe of Hugh Lupus. The wing of the quadrangle to our left was dismantled and lay strewn with huge stones in precarious ruin. A hundred yards or so upon the other side, however, gleamed the red roof and heavy thatch of farm buildings, and a round stack or two in the neighborhood proved that the fortress kept its ancient uses no longer.

"You will see that I am able to resist a siege," said my host, with a whimsical smile, as we crossed the drawbridge, adding, with what seemed to me a comical sigh and looking down at the bridge, "I fear, though, we should find some trouble with the hinges."

We passed through the arch of masonry and into the courtyard within, where the old gentleman speedily summoned a man and gave him charge of my horse. And here again I noticed that further appearances testified to the use of the castle as a farm. From a scrutiny of this pleasant aspect I was aroused by my host, who, pausing as he pushed open a huge oaken door, turned to me suddenly.

"I am extremely remiss, Mr. Greatorex," he exclaimed with a gesture of apology. "You have not yet the style of your grateful host. My name is Kesteven, and this is generally known as Ivor castle."

All this was conceived in the most formal and eccentric temper, and doubtless had it not been for the strange interest of his habit and conduct I might not have consented so meekly to be his guest, for it was now time for my homeward journey. However, I must, it appeared, sit and drink with him a glass of sherry in his library, a large and ancient room with a very fine display of oaken shelves and paneling.

A little later I excused myself, and rose for departure. For a minute or two he appeared to have fallen into abstraction, and then, glancing at me quickly, he regarded me with a steadfast, inquiring gaze.

"Mr. Greatorex," said he, "you are a young man. I begin to think that we should find much in common. You will permit the question? Are you married?"

I assured him that I was not. He nodded, as if this were satisfactory news. "Nor am I," he answered, "but very probably for another reason. I cannot expect you to take part in my philosophy, but I am reminded that you have seen nothing of a house which is of some historical interest, and which I should esteem myself happy to show you. Is it necessary that you should return to your Swan this evening?"

The invitation in the query took me aback, for, eccentric as my host undoubtedly was, I had not anticipated this proffer of hospitality. Yet there was certainly no pressing reason for my return, and here, at least, I should have more congenial company than in my miscellaneous taproom. I replied something to the effect of this thought.

"Good!" said he, brightening a little. "You are kind to cheer a solitary. I can even promise you a bottle of champagne if you are young enough. If you will allow me I will call my house keeper." He rose and went to the bell but, pausing with his hand upon the rope, looked at me gravely.

"I should be doing you wrong, Mr. Greatorex," he said, "if I were not to let you know that by consenting to be my guest tonight you are conferring upon me a great favor. You place me under a particular obligation."

I told him, laughing, that the obligation was mine.

"No," said he. "I fear that my meaning is not plain. Let me say this—I have a particular reason for wishing your companionship tonight."

I bowed politely and offered some conventional reply, though this deep air of mystery puzzled me.

"You are a strong man, Mr. Greatorex," he continued, surveying me seriously. "I must tell you that I have no one sleeping in the house save my housekeeper and a maid. The man you saw, who took your horse, sleeps in a cottage at Llanellan." He paused. "I was unfortunate enough to lose my valet a month ago and so far have been unable to fill his place."

I began to understand. He was in some fear of his lonely condition. Possibly he dreaded an attack by his late assailant. Suddenly, too, ran into my memory the scene in the taproom on the previous night, the miller and his long pipe and his story. There was that same tale that should have been exciting about a burglary. And here I was in Ivor castle.

"If you are thinking of that scoundrel"—I began. "Surely the police"—

He interrupted me with a smile. "The police, Mr. Greatorex, are seven miles from Ivor castle. But pray do not misunderstand me. I shall be infinitely obliged by your company. It's long since I had an intelligent conversation. But I would not detain you if you had any scruples about staying."

I laughed. "Not I!" said I. "I will stay and gladly." And in truth I meant it, for the adventure interested me not a little. Was it burglars?

It was in the dining room that we spent the evening. This was a long, low roofed chamber occupying the ground floor and opening with windows upon the cobble courtyard on the one side and the meadows of the park on the other. It was a great chamber to contain but two people, but somehow the black oak of the walls and the general air of the upholstery prohibited the thought of discomfort. These walls were not vacant, nor this space, but tenanted, if one considered duly, by a concourse of illustrious faces and high stepping ghosts. Upon this point, as it happened, I was not long left in curiosity, for Mr. Kesteven was in the mood to confide the history of the castle to me. He was a queer creature, partaking, as it seemed to me, of the most diverse and incongruous emotions. Constantly he would set me wondering upon his statements, striving to pick some order in their apparent confusion. One moment quite a sounding pride rang in his pompous announciation of the titles of some great noble, while the next I was driven to suppose by very clear signs that he displayed nothing but a pitiful contempt toward the whole prejudice of race and family. The man struck me as wearing a mask, and that a mask of such severity and primness as to offer very few secrets to his company. And even at his moments of most spacious frankness I was never able to determine the depth of its genuineness.

He fetched me out some wines, giving me a generous choice, but himself drinking but sparingly.

"No, thank you; I have never smoked," said he in reply to my offer of a cigar. "Will you not smoke yourself, Mr. Greatorex? And pray try that port. I understand it to be of a particular year." He insisted gently upon helping me from the decanter and then dropped softly into his chair.

Suddenly he rose and going to a window threw it open and leaned forth. I heard somewhere from the deep recesses of the old house a clock striking the hour of 1. Mr. Kesteven closed the casement and turned to me.

"I fear, Mr. Greatorex," he said, with a smile, "that I have fetched you here under false pretenses, but at least you have saved an old man from his own company, which is, after all, somewhat dull fellowship."

"No," said I, echoing his smile. "I have been myself preserved from the hard chairs of a very crowded taproom and the quarrelsome attentions of half drunken farmers."

"Come, come," said he genially, "you must not give the Swan a villainous reputation."

"Oh, it was not I," I answered lightly, keeping up the triviality, "but a young gentleman of the Gwent."

Mr. Kesteven ceased to smile. "May I ask his name?" he asked.

"Montgomery, I believe, but I understand we are sworn friends now, so that no harm is done."

"Montgomery!" he repeated slowly. "Yes, I have heard the name—a very young and thoughtless man," and he regarded me with a certain reflectiveness.

But it was not of Montgomery I thought when I went to bed, but of the window and the silence of the night, with the moonlight striking on Kesteven's head. Why had he thrown open the casement and discharged me, so to say, from my obligation as policeman? For that was how I interpreted his words.

CHAPTER III.

BEFORE breakfast I had the opportunity to make a narrower inspection of the castle as it appeared from without. The morning was fine, the air of those hills delicate and stimulating, and the sunlight struck the woods and valleys with a golden glory. Smoking a cigarette, I strolled round the edifice, surveying with admiring eyes the details of the design. The entrance by the portcullis lay between two solid drum towers, very formidable to look on. The battlements, which were extremely plain and by no means perfect, the machicolations being worn into great chasms here and there, stood two stories away from the base of the castle, and three if the bottom of the moat be counted. Upon the one side of the irregular square which the buildings made the stonework, as I have said, had fallen into disrepair, and, indeed, no rooms were habitable here. The detritus of centuries had flowed over into the courtyard, and the stones were heaped in a solid accumulation and overgrown with masses of huge Irish ivy. The southern face of the castle was, so to speak, but a hill of rock. It was at the junction of the southern and western walls that the keep stood, itself raised some twenty feet above the level of the battlements and the termination of the habitable portion of the fortress. The moat, which was some ten feet deep, was grown upon with grass, and its sides were covered with blackberry and furze and divers wild creepers. Completing my circuit of the castle, I struck upon a stream which ran in a full body through the park and, reaching the verge of the woodland, leaped suddenly into a torrent and scattered into a waterfall down the steep face of the hill. While I was wandering upon the margin, watching the tide and swirl of the tiny eddies with lazy satisfaction, I encountered my host, who greeted me courteously.

"You are admiring my little brook," he said. "Yes, it is pretty, but prettier in the copses below, where I think you must have observed it yesterday. Here it runs very gravely; below it is a noisy vagabond. You see it has uses here."

"You draw your water here?" I asked, fascinated with the primitive idea.

"Not unusually," he replied, "but there is a well within the castle, doubtless from the same springs. Yet the brook rendered a more important service in my predecessors' times."

I looked at him inquiringly. He smiled.

"Let me see," he resumed, "if I can give you ocular proof. It should be here." He stopped and, dipping his stick into the water, poked among the pebbles of the stream. "Ah, here it is! I think I have it!" He looked toward the castle, above the battlements of which now flamed the morning sun. They rose some fifty yards away. "There is a connection with the moat by means of a conduit," explained Mr. Kesteven.

I uttered an exclamation of delight and vowed that I must explore farther. Assenting graciously, he led the way toward the house and, letting himself gently down the sloping bank, walked, peering about him, along the bottom of the moat. "You will find it overgrown, no doubt," he said. "But your eyes are better than mine. It is ten years since I looked for it."

I searched amid the trailing creepers and presently discovered the mouth of South American Rheumatic Cure

Why, its very nature makes it the most natural and easy cure that human intuition and diligence have discovered. Its wonderful power is in its simplicity; its effectiveness is in its going right to the seat of the trouble, dispelling the causes that "bode evil," give pain, stiffen joints, distort limbs, twist muscles, and when it reaches vital spots, ofttimes cause death. South American Rheumatic Cure is as harmless as milk. One of its marvels is the rapidity with which it effects a cure and the testimony of the thousands who have "thrown away their crutches" and climbed from the valley of suffering to the mountain top of health would fill a book.

the conduit. It was of thick stone and mortar and from its appearance must have been of very ancient construction. But the opening was choked with earth and grass and probably had been so for centuries. I said as much to Mr. Kesteven.

"No," he returned, "I think not. I believe my predecessor in the tenancy of the castle had it opened some fifty years ago, and flooded the moat for his own amusement. I understand that the experiment was quite successful and entertained a party of guests, one of whom," he added dryly, "fell into the water and was only rescued with some difficulty. But you shall make better acquaintance with our neighborhood after breakfast. I assure you, Mr. Greatorex, it is worth your study, and this castle of mine is by no means singular."

I was quite at his disposal for a stroll later in the morning and upon that occasion got my first knowledge of the topography of the Gwent, a knowledge which, as you shall hear, I was glad enough to profit by at a little later period. And here I may set forth in a few words the character of that country which was destined to be so strangely connected with my fortunes. The castle stood upon a little eminence toward the higher parts of the hills and looked down toward the east upon a long, broad valley as upon its special domain. This valley, which was some three miles long and little more than a mile across, was inclosed by undulating hills and enveloped in a dense growth of forest. Two roads ran from the castle toward the east downward, one upon either side of the ravine. One of them—not that by which I had mounted on the previous afternoon—we took upon this walk together.

We had gone about a mile or rather less upon this road when we came upon the first signs of life. The country was but sparsely peopled, but here, at any rate, was some remote and faithful settler. The inn—for such it was—bore the name of the Woodman and was, as I conceived, of the sixteenth century at least. It was small, but the outbuildings attaching to it rambled away into the forest behind. The sign swung, creaking, on a green patch of grass before the door. As we drew near, a man lounging in front of the inn suddenly drew his pipe from his mouth and touched his hat.

"Good morning, Hood," said my companion quietly, pausing and leaning on his stick. "These are very pleasant days for us all."

"They are, sir," responded the man. He was of middle height, with a great appearance of activity in his sinewy body, but his thin dark face bore a habitual expression of polite deference. It was as if his air apologized for not already interpreting your unuttered wishes. I understood the reason the next moment.

Mr. Kesteven, turning to me, nodded in a friendly way toward the man.

"You have heard me speak of Hood," said he, with a faint smile. "He was the valet I mentioned, whom I lost a month back. A month, isn't it, Hood?"

"Yes, sir; just a month—four weeks and three days, that is," replied the man respectfully.

"Ah, indeed; it's wonderful how long time tarries," said my host cheerfully. "Business good, Hood? I hope you are not losing by the experiment. I suppose," he said, turning to me again, "that it is a trying position to be in a subordinate state. Every one likes his independence."

I assented conventionally, and Hood waited very courteously until I had made my answer before he took up his to reply to his former master's question.

"I can't complain, sir," he said. "There's not much traffic in the Gwent, sir, but I do a certain business."

"Ah, I should have thought it a wiser policy to have gone nearer civilization, Hood. Why not have taken a place at Llanellan?"

A faint but respectful smile hovered on the man's nervous face. "I don't hold so much with Llanellan, sir. This is a tidy house, and business will improve, I hope."

"Well, well, let us hope so," was Mr. Kesteven's answer as his eyes wandered toward the inn. "A pretty place, is it not, Mr. Greatorex?" And then with a glance of scrutiny at the landlord, "You have had an accident, Hood?"

"Yes, sir," was the answer; "a slight accident, sir—nothing of consequence. I fell against the bar yesterday," and he put a finger apologetically to his clean shaved lip, which I now perceived to be somewhat swollen.

"A nasty fall, a nasty fall," said Mr. Kesteven, shaking his head. "It is lucky it was no worse." He moved away with a courteous nod of his head, to which the innkeeper responded with a salute. As he did so he turned and, taking my arm, smiled back at Hood. "You see the Gwent has its visitors sometimes, Hood. Mr. Greatorex is staying with me. So perhaps we may turn the Woodman in time into a fashionable resort of society."

He laughed as if at his own small jest, in which the innkeeper joined, and, pressing my arm, walked on. He seemed a very kindly master, I thought, and I had no doubt but that Hood had been an excellent servant. I remarked as much, to which he assented cordially.

"I have never come upon a man who fell into my ways better and knew his work more efficiently," he said. "An admirable servant—altogether admirable."

Our walk had exhilarated me and, what is more, had given me a huge appetite. The result was that I ate heartily of lunch, which was delicately served by the agreeable old housekeeper. Mr. Kesteven also seemed to rally his appetite, for he had eaten but little the previous evening, and drank a good deal of brown sherry, in which he jestingly invited me to join him. But I was for the sour or perfumed claret, which I found much to my palate. Whether it was the sherry or not, my host's tongue plied very continuously during the meal, but always in the most possessed and civil manner. He spoke of his house, of his ancient descent (which was as ancient as the castle) and finally of himself. The Kestevens had been people of note in other centuries, had hoarded gains and fulfilled the pomp even of courts, had fluttered briefly and very brightly and in various characters across the stage of history. But now they were dwindled to this one old feeble man. The race had lost its physical vigor. From contesting tournaments, fighting battles and intriguing against courts it had come to philosophizing over life between four walls. And then, falling silent for a time, he inspected his finger nails and suddenly and after a space rose and pushed back his chair.

"I beg your pardon, Mr. Greatorex," he said, with a gesture of apology. "I had not noticed you have not finished. I pray forgive my discourtesy."

Of course I put myself at his disposal, for, in truth, I had eaten and drunk quite enough. But, seeming not to hear me, he looked upon the table, and at last, raising his eyes to mine and playing gently, but scarcely in a nervous fashion, with the forks before him, he said very quietly:

"I have had the honor of your acquaintance for some twenty hours, Mr. Greatorex. It is little two men may know of each other in so brief a time. But I am wont to take quick cognizance of people and content to risk a mistake. You have, if you will forgive me saying so, an admirable habit of silence." He paused, and, as if it had been to justify his sentence, I held my tongue. "A recluse like myself—that is how you would style me," he resumed, "must have some occupation for his thoughts. I have explained that I am no student. It follows that I have some other hobby—shall we say?" A ghost of a smile glittered on his face, and then his head turned sharply toward a window which overlooked the courtyard. There was the sound of footsteps upon the rough cobble. "I am about to disclose to you, Mr. Greatorex, the secret of my seclusion."

I rose with him, strangely influenced by this solemn scene. Was it really solemn, or was it the mere whim of old age, the pompous revelation of senile eccentricity? I followed him down the stone passage to the eastern wing of the castle. Fifty paces farther brought us to the entrance to the keep, but a dozen yards from this Mr. Kesteven paused and, turning the key in a heavy oaken door, entered a room of considerable size, which, as you will see, looked forth upon the back part of the park from the second floor. Like all the chambers in that ancient building, it was paneled with oak.

The room was devoid of furniture save for a rickety chair or two and was wholly destitute of carpet, so that our feet rang loudly upon the stone floor. It seemed to me at that moment, and with the odd preparations for that mission, that I was, so to speak, upon the very edge of a mysterious discovery. Mr. Kesteven placed a chair against the wall and, stepping upon it with difficulty, raised his hand till it touched the topmost panel near the window. There followed a slight creak, and the panel slid back, disclosing a dark and vacant space in which I could dimly discern the separation of shelves. My host had but dropped his fingers into the recesses of this cupboard when a faint noise caught his ears, and he turned abruptly. I had followed him into the room, and the door stood open. But I turned now with him and followed the direction of his gaze. The man Hood stood forward in the doorway with an apologetic air. Mr. Kesteven's hand dropped sharply, and with a certain brusqueness he demanded, "What do you want?"

The ex-valet touched an imaginary hat. "I beg your pardon, sir, I am sure, but I called to know if you would be wanting that gun you spoke of the other day. Mrs. Main didn't know, and I thought that maybe it would save time if I was to ask you myself."

He was a perfect model of servile deportment, displayed no sign of nervousness, but only the rigid good manners of the trained servant. Mr. Kesteven stepped down from the chair and leisurely dusted his coat sleeves. Then he looked up, and the westering sun struck full upon his face, which I could not but observe was more color less than usual.

"No, thank you, Hood," he said suavely. "I have changed my mind. It was good of you, but I shall not need it."

The two men eyed each other for an instant, and then the servant's eyes fell with civil politeness.

"Thank you, sir. Sorry to trouble you, sir," he said and turned about on the threshold. But Mr. Kesteven stopped him.

"As you are here, Hood," he said, breathing hard, as from his exertions, "I should be obliged if you would kindly close that panel for me. I am not so young as I was, naturally, Mr. Greatorex," he explained, turning to me with a faint smile.

There was a perceptible pause for so ready a servant, I thought, as Hood moved from his place by the door to obey the order. I thought, too, that I noticed a sudden flash of amazement pass in his eyes, but when he went by me they were merely deferential, and I imagined that I had been mistaken.

"And now, my friend," said Mr. Kesteven genially, putting his hand through mine when the panel had been closed, "we will get into the open air. We cannot avail ourselves too much or too often of these summer days; eh, Hood?"

"No, sir," said Hood promptly, with the promptness of a machine and with no more inflection than a good servant should have.

"Ah, I feel it myself, Mr. Greatorex," said the old man, leaning somewhat heavily upon my arm as we issued from the chamber.

Hood closed and locked the door after him.

"The key, sir," he said respectfully, holding it out.

"Oh, the key will do where it is," replied Mr. Kesteven, without looking round. "Leave it in the lock, Hood."

As we retraced our steps along the corridor, which echoed dull to the tread, he conversed about other things, but made no reference whatever to the matter upon which he had been engaged when we were interrupted. At the top of the stairway he took his arm from mine.

The panel slid back.

"If you will excuse me for a few minutes, Mr. Greatorex," he said, "I will join you in the dining room."

He walked backward a few yards toward the room which I had learned was his bedroom, and as he did so the lean figure of the deferential innkeeper rose out of the gloom as if to meet him. I myself went down into the courtyard, and then found my way into the large oaken dining room.

When he entered, some few minutes later, I was astounded by the change in his face. Naturally pale, it was now of a peculiar and ghastly pallor, which gave his head almost the appearance of a skull. Laying a finger on my arm, he spoke quite sharply.

"Mr. Greatorex," said he, "you can do me a particular favor if you will." I listened, murmuring my willingness. "Can you drive me to Raymond at once? I will have the horses put in the dogcart."

"Most certainly," I answered, staring and at a loss for many words.

"I owe you many thanks," he said, and, slipping away with that noiseless tottering gait of his, he disappeared into the courtyard.

It was not fifteen minutes ere we were upon the road. I drove the mare at a rapid pace, being conscious of my companion's restlessness, and for a time he spoke no word save to direct me at the crossroads, but lay back on his seat with his arms folded, his hat lowering upon his eyes and his eyes fixed upon the immediate purview. But after awhile he uttered a little sigh, as of one whose deliberations had relieved him, and turned a mild eye upon me.

"You drive well, my friend," he said. "From all appearances you have a hard nerve. It is well. It is well. It is the one thing I have aimed at, and I might have succeeded had not my ascendants weakened the blood."

I told him that so far as I could see he had no reason to complain of his nerve.

"You think so? Then it seems that you are not only a silent but an observing person," he said, smiling. "But you are wrong—you are wrong. Nevertheless, I am glad to find you so observant. My dear sir, there is nothing so important as observation. Education and breeding and birth, these you may buy or feign, but observation is the measure of a man's character." With that he sank into silence once more, nor, so far as I can recall, did we exchange one sentence till we arrived in Raymond.

We drew up in the main street, off a large and formless building, upon the door of which was emblazoned the name of a solicitor and public notary. And here, begging me to await him, the old gentleman alighted and entered the house. It was not very long afterward that he reappeared with a pleasant little lawyer behind him, and I noticed that he himself seemed very well pleased. He talked as if a load was off his mind; but, to tell the truth, I felt that it was time I had some explanation. It was not that I grudged the old gentleman my fellowship, such as it was, and it certainly was not that I was tired of the experience. Quite the contrary. I was tantalized by these strange tastes of adventure. My nose took up the scent of mystery as a hound sniffs the air, and when I spoke so abruptly it was only in the wish to let him understand that I thought my fidelity had earned its wages.

"It is well to be armed at all points, my friend," he had remarked complacently. "I find a complete equipment is a solace against possible evils."

"That's very true," I said, "and I am delighted if my small services this afternoon have, as it would seem, been the happy occasion of suggesting to you this comfortable reflection. But now, if you will excuse me, Mr. Kesteven, I will put my thanks in your hands for a very agreeable hospitality—and"—

He was visibly disconcerted, as I had hoped he would be.

"You are not thinking of your inn?" he demanded after a pause in which he recovered.

"My dear sir," I replied, "I have been thrust upon you, a complete stranger, for a day and a night."

His face suffused with amusement. "I don't think we are strangers to each other, Mr. Greatorex," he observed quietly. "I dare say we understand one another better than appears. If, however, it be any relief to your conscience, I assure you that I am much better for your company. But," he added dryly, "I should be the last to hold you if your duty claims you elsewhere."

We looked at each other for a moment, in which time I noted a twinkle gleaming in his eyes, and then simultaneously, I think, we burst forth into laughter.

"Come, come, I think I understand, Mr. Greatorex," said he, "and the understanding notches another score to you in my stick. I admit that you have a right to something further. I freely confess it, only I am an old man and must take my time. Are we agreed?"

"My dear sir," said I hastily, "I would not press you for the world, and I am no more inquisitive than any honest man who hopes that he might be of some service to a friend in trouble."

"You are very good," he returned gently. "You can be silent, and you can proffer a question at the right time. I think all the better of you. And for what you say of friendship, why, I am sincerely obliged to you, and I think you can render me an invaluable aid."

"I have no warmer wish," I answered, and I turned the horse's head forthwith upon the road to the Gwent.

We reached the castle in the twilight, but it was not until after dinner that Mr. Kesteven reverted to the subject of our conversation. He was very bright during the meal and talked with more wit and philosophy than I had yet seen in him. But when he had finished he drew away from the table and said more soberly:

"I have had important news today, Mr. Greatorex, or, rather, I have gathered from several signs that there is important news for myself. I had thought that it would be unnecessary to trouble you in regard to my affairs until tomorrow, but it will be best tonight. It is more wise to be prepared. If you will pardon me for a short time I will return directly, and in the meantime I dare say you can amuse yourself with one of those venerable books," concluding with a glance toward the shelves which occupied the alcoves of the dining room.

When he had gone I obeyed him mechanically, taking down several of the musty volumes, though my mind at that moment was very far from their contents. Indeed, I could make no long pretense of interest in them and shortly afterward pushed open the casement and looked out on the park. The dusk had settled on the forest at last. All lay very still.

CHAMBERLAIN'S DICTUM.

Balfour Threatened With Founding Separate Tariff Reform Party.

London, Feb. 3.—What is likely to prove a historic meeting took place last night when former Premier Balfour dined with Joseph Chamberlain in order to discuss the leadership difficulty, or, as it is euphemistically called "The future of the Unionist party."

The event is surrounded with great secrecy, although it appears that both men had prepared for it by discussions with the leading men of both sections of the party.

Apparently Mr. Chamberlain, while steadily declining to take the leadership of the disunited party, practically delivered an ultimatum to the effect that unless Mr. Balfour was prepared not only to accept Mr. Chamberlain's scheme, but to make it his militant policy, he would withdraw his followers and form a separate tariff reform party.

According to information from the same source as above, the tariff is the chief stumbling block in Mr. Balfour's path toward reconstruction.

NOT TWO BUT THREE.

Hon. A. B. Aylesworth Optimistic at St. Andrew's Dinner.

London, Feb. 3.—St. Andrew's banquet, held last night, was in point of oratory the greatest ever. Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, Hon. Chas. S. Hyman, Hon. Adam Beck, and F. D. Monk were among the speakers.

The Postmaster-General predicted that Canada would soon have three great transcontinental railways. It was the force of sentimentalism, not of nature or of commercialism, which was making our lines of trade run from east to west, instead of from south to north. One day the trade of the British Empire with Eastern Canada would pass across our railways on British soil.

F. D. Monk, K. C., M. P., of Montreal, replying to the toast of Canada, said: "I can say on behalf of the great province from which I come that we French-Canadians will stand side by side with you in working out our country's destiny. I bring this message."

GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC TENDERS

Tenders to Be Called For Two Sections of Transcontinental.

Ottawa, Feb. 3.—To-day's Canada Gazette contains notices calling tenders for the construction of the section of the National Transcontinental Railway from Winnipeg 240 miles eastward to Lake Superior Junction, and from Quebec City 150 miles westward to La Tuque on the St. Maurice River.

The standard of construction is to be the same as that of the G. T. R. between Montreal and Toronto, that is to say, the best and highest standard of excellence in the Dominion. The maximum grades will not exceed 4 per cent.

As a result of the re-surveys between Winnipeg and Lake Superior Junction made by Government engineers, the commissioners have succeeded in obtaining a much more favorable route than was chosen by the G. T. R. and effected a saving of ten miles.

To the Olympic Games.

Toronto, Feb. 3.—The Board of Control yesterday decided to ask for legislation to permit Toronto to contribute $500 towards sending two West End Y. M. C. A. men to the Olympic games at Athens this summer. The men are: E. A. Hughes, Cowan avenue, aged 22, a runner, and Donald Lynden, 395 Parliament street, aged 24, a walker. Both men are champions of Canada. The total cost will be $1,000.

Manitoba and Telephones.

Winnipeg, Feb. 3.—The special telephone committee of the Legislature examined witnesses yesterday from municipalities, where telephone systems are in operation. Evidence was given to the effect that the saving to Neepawa residents in telephone rates operating public owned system would be sufficient in twenty-five years to bear the cost of constructing three municipal plants.

Did Not Hear Train.

Toronto, Feb. 3.—While Robert Nash, a farmer living on the 4th concession of the Township of East York, and his son, Robert, were crossing the G. T. R. tracks at Leaside Junction about 8 o'clock last night, they were struck by the eastbound local passenger train. The son's life is despaired of and the father is seriously injured. They were walking at the time, and, being well wrapped up, did not hear the train until too late.

A RIGHT WAY and A WRONG WAY

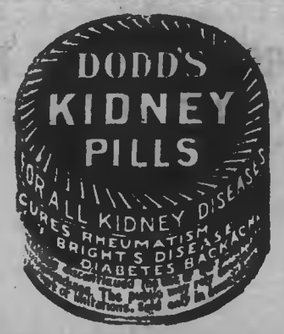
Many people have many ways to bring about the same result. Most of them are mistaken ways, but this is not known until the test of time points plainly to the error. Practically there are but two ways to accomplish anything; a right way and a wrong way. Take, for instance, a man with a bad back, there are lots of them, and of various kinds, some with stiches and twitches, others with cricks and twinges; then there's the dull, heavy continuous kind that lasts all day and doesn't sleep at night. They're all bad enough, they're all hard enough to get rid of. Some people rub the back with liniment, others cover it with plasters, either or both means often bring relief, but the pain comes back—it's the wrong way to cure the trouble.

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

have a way to cure backache, a way that's all their own—the right way. They're made for the kidneys only. When the kidneys fail in their work of filtering the blood the back aches because they are situated in the small of the back; backache is the kidney's warning of trouble, and every day you let the warning go it brings you nearer to urinary disorders, Diabetes, Bright's Disease, etc.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure every form of kidney ills and that's why they bring such quick relief from backache. Mr. Fred Gray, Good Corner, N.B., writes: "I was greatly troubled with pain across my back. I procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, and received so much benefit from them that I consider them the best remedy for kidney trouble there is. I would not be without them in my house."

Price 50 cents per box or three boxes for $1.25, all dealers or The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.



"MY BROTHERS."

Czar Warns Peasantry Concerning the Sacredness of Property.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 3.—In view of the profound conviction prevailing among the marshals of the nobility, members of the Zemstvos and other classes which are in direct touch with the peasants that spring will witness the renewal of agrarian disorders throughout the country on a more deplorable scale than ever before, the Emperor has addressed a plain, outspoken mandate to the peasantry, delivered personally to a deputation from the Kursk Government, and will be sent broadcast throughout the empire.

The Emperor's Speech.

The Emperor on this occasion addressed the Kursk peasants as "My brothers," and talked to them in simple Russian terms capable of being understood by the most ignorant peasants. He said: "I am most glad to see you. You must know very well that every right of property is sacred to the State. The owner has the same right to his land as you peasants have to yours. Communicate this to your fellows in the villages. In my solicitude for you I do not forget the peasants, whose needs are dear to me, and I will look after them perpetually, as did my late father. The National Assembly will soon assemble, and, in co-operation with me, discuss the best measures for your relief. Have confidence in me, I will assist you. But I repeat, always remember that right of property is holy and inviolable."

HE WAS LAID UP FOR OVER A YEAR

Till Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured His Kidney Troubles.

Now He's Perfectly Healthy and Able to Work—Gives all the Credit to the Great Canadian Kidney Remedy

Wapella, Assa., N.W.T., Feb. 2.—(Special.)—Cured of Kidney Disease that had laid him up for over a year, Mr. Geo. Bartleman, a well known man here, is loud in his praise of Dodd's Kidney Pills, for to them and nothing else he claims he owes his cure.

"Yes, I had Kidney Troule," Mr. Bartleman says. "I had pains in my back and in other parts of my body and though the doctor did what he could for me, I grew worse till I was unable to work.

"Then I started to take Dodd's Kidney Pills, and I took them all winter and summer while I was unable to work. I took in all twelve boxes, and now I am perfectly healthy. My pains are all gone and I am able to work. I heartily recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to all sufferers from Kidney Disease."

WEATHER'S VAGARIES.

In 20 Hours Temperature Went From 40 Above to 12 Below.

Toronto, Feb. 3.—The Weather Bureau reports show that the cold wave swept over all Ontario Thursday night, the zero temperatures reaching as far east as Quebec City. In Toronto the change was exceptionally acute. Within twenty hours the thermometer changed from 40 above to 12 below zero, which point was reached at eight o'clock yesterday morning. At one o'clock in the afternoon the official figures were six below.

Toronto's coldest day on record was in 1859, when on January 10 26.5 degrees below was the reading.

Found $100; Kept It.

Ottawa, Feb. 3—Bernard Mahon, charged with stealing $100 from Frank E. Davis of Toronto, was committed for trial by Magistrate O'Keefe yesterday morning. Mahon found the bill on a bar-room floor, where Davis dropped it. He apparently made no effort to find the owner, got it changed and went to Montreal with a friend and spent it.

Imperial Defence.

Beet Sugar Bounties.

Toronto, Feb. 3.—The returns of the Wallaceburg and Berlin sugar beet factories have been received by the Provincial Secretary, because the industry receives a bounty from the Government of one-half a cent per pound From the Wallaceburg factory 11,276,066 pounds were turned out, and from Berlin 9,510,753. The total bounty in one year must not exceed $75,000, according to the terms of the act, so the companies will have to share this sum this year. This means that the Wallaceburg concern will get $40,634.63, while $34,315 32 will go to Berlin. The act granting the bounties set aside $375,000 for the purpose, and next year's bounties will exhaust this amount.

If you haven't look out for it. Your neighbors have it and that means the germs are in the air. If you've had it once you are all the more likely to have it again.

La Grippe in itself is bad enough and dangerous enough; it kills its thousands every year. But complications of La Grippe are even more dangerous. They may consist of Bronchitis, Pneumonia, Catarrh and Pleurisy. La Grippe is often the forerunner of that most terrible of all diseases---Consumption. Your safety lies in Psychine.

Psychine cures the Fever, Headache, and Dreadful Depression. Psychine kills the germ. Psychine builds up the body and makes it healthy all over. Stop taking mixtures that spoil your stomach. They simply check La Grippe and prepare the way for its return in some other form. Use Psychine. Use the one remedy that helps the stomach while it kills La Grippe. Thousands who have used it echo the words of Mr. John Lowden, a well-known citizen of Toronto:

"Psychine relieves from the first dose. I was taken sick with La Grippe. My lungs pained me, had a most distressing cough and was unable to attend to business. I used Psychine and now I know it is the most effectual remedy for La Grippe"

Short and to the point, isn't it? Tells you just what you want to know---a quick relief and permanent cure for La Grippe. Try it for yourself and you will soon be one of the thousands of Canadians who say we owe our splendid health to Absolutely white flour makes the most beautiful white bread—the kind we all like.

But white bread is not necessarily pure because it is white. To be pure it must be made from purified flour.

There is only one method of making flour absolutely pure, and that is by electricity. No impurity can withstand the searching, purifying work of this electrical process.

The electrical method is employed by every big mill in the United States.

Royal Household Flour

therefore it is the only flour that can be considered as absolutely pure.

Secure A Wife Or Husband On Payment Of $2

Result of Answering a Matrimonial Advertisement — The Agents Have All Kinds on Hand — Blondes and Brunettes —The Methods by Which They Operate Their Business of Securing Mates--Handsome Husbands and Plenty of Coin.

THE RESULTS OF SOME LITTLE INVESTIGATION

An Examiner representative not long ago became aware of the fact that quite a few individuals were in communication with one of the various American swindling concerns, advertisement of such "grafts" appear regularly even in the best U.S. papers and as President Roosevelt himself has taken a hand in an effort to expose frauds on the public through the medium of the mail, it is considered by many about time the Canadian authorities took some action to protect the Canadian postal service from the palpable swindling outfits that use it as a means of collecting tribute from the foolish who bite at the alluring bait of a nicely worded advertisement.

The Examiner representative in question determined to test the matter for himself and in the public interest and after a selection (which proved a very judicious one in the light of after events) wrote the emporium of yearning affections, where hearts were soothed and affinities brought into communication, if not, in fact, into actual contiguity. Cupid's address was Chicago.

The newspaper investigator considered it best to assume the character of a love sick maid, thinking perhaps that the high minded and noble-principled directors of love's academy would consider such more easy plucking than a youth whose original innocence had been contaminated by the rude mercenary enviornment of the busy marts of trade—a contingency made possible, alas, by a sad lack of appreciation of the higher and more aesthetic phases of that superior individuality in which love and love alone rules triumphant.

For the time being, therefore, the newspaper man became to all intents and purposes a shy blushing maid of twenty-one summers and her trusting letter in which she modestly realted her many charms, hopes and expectations, was made a model by which many coy husband-seeking girls could well take pattern.

Her happy anticipations were not disappointed, for in a few days a large fat envelope reached her containing, to her great joy, a photograph of one of the eligible husbands on tap at the agency and a description of his personal appearance, present occupation, expectations, nationality, religion, accomplishments, disposition, temperament, health, educational qualification and age. The name for obvious and "sacred" reasons was omitted.

Prospective hubby, however, according to the photograph, is a handsome beast. He wears a dark moustache, slight but still noticeable, a fashionable wing collar and tear-in-hand tie and gazes out of the picture with a stern, soulful, yet tender look. He, at once, conveys the impression that he is a masterful, reliant, unbending man, yet beneath it all affection, trust—aye, love itself, may be discerned.

That his hair is parted in the middle, while the disgusted club men of the present rake theirs from the extreme left, is but an indication that the fads and fancies of the gilded youth have no place in this perfect composition. This is a man not a fop.

Adonis, according to the chart, is 31 years of age, weighs 170 pounds, is 5 feet 9 1-2 inches tall, has brown hair and eyes; fair complexion, is an American and a Protestant; is a business man with an income of from $5,000 to $10,000 per year (or perhaps); has a college education, is not accomplished in music (too bad!), is fond of dancing (better!) and has property to the paltry amount of $25,000, along with a home. He also expects to inherit $50,000, but all this is as nothing compared with the good news that he is of a "kind and loving" disposition, of a "good" temperament, dresses neither stylish nor plainly, but "moderate," is in "splendid" health and "very fond" of home.

Besides he is not "crippled or deformed," which latter is indeed consoling as one might reasonably expect some slight drawback to an otherwise fairly satisfactory qualified gentleman in search of a wife.

With the photograph and description of the would-be husband, who is, it appears, despite his many advantages still single, were enclosed several pseudo-typewritten letters and circulars. These impressed upon the maid the absolutely safe, secret and confidential character of all correspondence. Testimonials had been forwarded from couples who had been mated and were now enjoying marital bliss through the medium of the agency. The motto of the outfit as printed on the circulars was indeed a stirring one: "Straight Dealings, Truth and Honesty makes Happy Marriages." The English in the motto may be a little off colour, but why bother about English grammar when trusting hearts are being brought together in love's blacksmith shop?

However—and it seems sordid and mean to mention it now, but the facts demand it—an express money order, blank was also enclosed with instructions concerning the way to send lucre, by such a method. Of course the instructions are absolutely necessary as it will be at once easily understood that those who seek the help of the agency are not those in whose education mercenary considerations or the development of commercial instincts of any kind have ever had a place.

The fee is low—only $2.

For this paltry sum any love sick maid may be put in correspondence with a handsome loving, 31-year-old lad, with an income of from $5,000 to $10,000 per year, a small bank account of $25,000 and expectations of $5,000 more. All this, of course, provided that the parting of his dear brown hair in the middle won't jar her too much.

But the ladies are not the only ones that the cohorn attempt to satisfy. An additional circular thus describes the marriageable females awaiting anxiously would-be husbands: "Our registry and names on our books, always includes rich, handsome, healthy, well-formed, affectionate, young or middle-aged ladies, lovely blondes, beautiful brunettes, pretty little darlings and tall, stately beauties, expert cooks and housekeepers, cultured, accomplished young ladies of good families, talented musicians, charming, sweet-tempered and able young, middle-aged and elderly widows; well-bred, prepossessing, warm-hearted maiden ladies of all ages."

Any young swain may, therefore, be put into communication with, say, a "pretty little darling," for the standard price—two toadskins.

Six holdings on the estate of Sir George Colthurst at Ballyvourny, Ireland, were put up for sale under execution at Cork, owing to the refusal of the tenants pay their rents. All were purchased by the agent of the Landlords' Defence Union, amid noisy scenes. After the sale a large body of tenants, accompanied by a band, paraded the city, raising hostile cries against landlordism.

The Essential Oneness Of Christian Belief

All Steeples Point to the Same Heavenly Country—Mental Hospitality—Becoming Intoxicated With the One Idea.

I stood on a high building not long ago, and, looking out over the city, counted many church spires, and it came to me that of all those spires not one stood for anything that was unlovely, dishonest or hurtful.

It came to me again that each steeple stood for the good, that those who gathered under them for worship on a Sunday were within reach of uplift and inspiration.

And yet I know that in some cases the people who congregated under that steeple mentally pitied, or even despised, those who gained their spiritual food under yonder steeple.

What does the steeple stand for? A higher degree of decency than the other? Oh, no—just a different mode of the baptismal rite, that's all. That steeple emphasizes the fact that man has a free will. The other steeple stands for the other side of the fact — the sovereignty of God. Yonder is a dome that emphasizes the matchless moral code of Moses. Near it is a steeple that stands for the same moral code softened and mellowed by the tones of the Nazarene. One steeple stands for the overpowering majesty of the Creator, while the other stands for the healing love of the Father.

The bells that tolled from the steeple towers were not discordant, as I heard them. Rather each one took its note, its part, in the great symphony of truth, and the music was harmonious.

The trouble with most of us is that we become intoxicated with one idea, and the birth of an idea is such an event in the lives of most that it shuts out all else. A great idea may be only one pillar in the temple of truth.

A man emerging from the darkness of chloroform first sees the brass knobs on his bed post, and to his partial sight they look like flaming worlds. So the idea which many churches were first formed to emphasized loomed so large in the mind of the man to whom it whom it was vouchsafed that it filled his mental horizon.

Each of the many sects came to fulfill some purpose. Each began its existence in the attempt to rescue some forgotten truth from oblivion. In most cases what we call narrowness and theological bigotry does not necessarily inhere to the doctrine that is taught, but in the disproportionate emphasis that is laid on it.

In that great repository of Christian doctrine — the Roman Catholic church — is contained most of the doctrines on which the separate Protestant churches are founded. But it was only natural that human minds and hearts could not lay an even emphasis on all things, just as it is true that the human mind cannot always think with reference to all previous knowledge.

The Reformation came as a result of the decline of certain doctrines that had been lost sight of in the great numbers of others. Not that the doctrines did not exist and were adhered to, but they were covered over by others. The doctrine of faith, which Luther emphasized, was not a strange doctrine in his church —not at all. The Pilgrims came to America with hard and harsh doctrines of God, and there arose as a consequence other churches that consequence other churches that softened this conception of God.

The spread of mental science today is having a straining effect on a tendency to materialism. The presence of the doctrines of the ancient east is teaching the hurrying and practical west of the deep calm of the eternal years from which we came and whither we go.

So it is coming to be believed that no man has a mortgage on truth.

I rejoice to record that men are saying honestly that each will take the portion of truth given him, and not find fault with another's portion.

It has come to pass in this day that the leaders of the people realize they are but broken lights of the great sun, and that no churchly repository is quite large enough to limit and hold the All in All.

A few years ago there was a painful strife between those who held the old faith and those who reached out for the new. Both found that the strife was childish. What of good the old time had can never die, and what of good the new times bring is only proof of the progress of the soul and an evidence that the Guide still lives.

The other day I read a sermon by Cardinal Gibbons on the "Sanctity of Mary," and I tried to imagine the pulpit where that sermon would not be welcomed, but I could not.

The differences that divide Christendom, aye the whole religious world, are not fundamental — they consist only in differences of emphasis.

The race has only begun its upward march, and will pluck many a flower of truth and experience as it ascends to its goal.

As man grows the churches will grow, for the churches are but the expression of man's religious life, as governments are the expressions of his political life, and as the people grow, both churches and governments must grow with them. Man was made neither for the churches nor the Sabbath—to paraphrase a saying of the Nazarene — but the churches and the Sabbath were made for man.

Be hospitable to truth wherever you meet it.

Know in thine inmost soul that he who searches for truth by another path than that thou treadest will one day meet you at the mountain top.

We are still children in vision. Why should I say you are blind because I see the things that you have not seen. A little farther up the hill and you can see them, too.

As well might the professor of biology say that the professors of literature and mathematics are in error, as for the Calvanist to say that the unitarian is damned. As well for the lily to hat the rose as for the Protestant to deride his Catholic brother.

Know this: That, whatever form of religion you follow, you will never go astray if you follow it.

The years that have gone have been largely preparatory. We have been making our different instruments. We have been scraping, blowing, keying up and trying again, and the noise has been discordant. But now the Master bids us join with one accord, and our instruments roll out Truth's harmony until the celestial spheres roll back the strain.

Mental hospitality!

We need to see the illimitability of truth.

We need to believe that when a doctrine has helped untold millions to happier living, that doctrine has a spiritual power that all the reasoning in the world cannot decrease.

"Prove all things; hold fast to that which is good."

There is no disagreement on the larger facts of life. There is no good influence from any source that you can safely deny.

The "liberal religionist" is not the man who believes less; the liberal man is he who believes more than a tiny sect approves.

All truth is one truth.

I heard a beautiful saying the other day. It impressed me because it came from representatives of two great branches of the church.

"We will not discuss our differences until the misery of the world has been healed. Then, when there are no hungry to feed, no sinful to set aright, no sorrow to comfort—then we'll sit down and argue it out."

A priest of the Roman Catholic church said that.

A Protestant minister made this reply:

"Here's my hand; you are one of God's good men."

How different was a meeting in Ann Arbor some years ago. A Unitarian minister was introduced to a Presbyterian clergyman. "I can meet you as a gentleman, but not as a Christian," said the Presbyterian. "And I, replied the Unitarian, "can meet you as a Christian, but not as a gentleman."

Mental hospitality!

A new industry has been started at Port Arthur, Ont., which promises extensive developments. A $50,000 company has been formed to fatten sheep, both for home and foreign consumption. They will be led chiefly on screenings from the large elevators at that point and at Fort William, which, it is said, can be purchased at from $4 to $5 per ton. Some 3,000 sheep have now been received, but it is the intention to increase the number to about 8,000 should the business warrant it.

After Suffering For 10 Years With Pain in The Back He Was Completely Cured By "Fruit-a-tives."

"Fruit-a-tives" cures diseased and irritated kidneys when all other treatment fails.

The proof that "Fruit-a-tives" is the greatest kidney cure known to science is demonstrated by these tablets removing all pain in the back—making the kidneys healthy—and curing chronic constipation.

ST. HYACINTHE, P.Q., June 10th, 1905.

I have much pleasure in testifying to the great good which "Fruit-a-tives" have done me. I was a constant sufferer from severe constipation and severe pain in the back for the last ten years. I tried many kinds of pills and tablets and physician's medicines but the relief was only temporary. Not long ago I tried "Fruit-a-tives" and now I am entirely well, no pain, no constipation and my stomach and bowels act naturally. I cannot say enough in praise of "Fruit-a-tives"—they are a grand medicine, mild as fruit in their action and easy to take.

(Signed) H. MARCHESSAULT, High Constable.

Do you know that every drop of blood in your body goes to the kidneys to get rid of some of the impurities?

When the bowels don't move regularly, the blood takes up poisons in the bowels and carries them to the kidneys. Then the kidneys get overworked—inflamed. Then comes the pain in the back—headaches—constant desire to urinate—nervousness—sleeplessness.

"Fruit-a-tives acts directly on the Kidneys—cleans, heals and strengthens them—makes the liver give up more bile to move the bowels regularly—and stimulates the glands of the skin to increased action. These rid the system of all poisons and every trace of Kidney Disease disappears.

Fruit-a-tives have cured hundreds of cases of Kidney Disease by stimulating and healing the Kidneys. At all druggists or sent postpaid on receipt of price—50c. a box or 6 boxes for $2.50.

COMPANION IS SAID TO

Have Been Mrs. Hubbel

Some New Information About Interesting Little Romance Disclosed Last Week--Jas. Mead is Said to Have Owed Several Bills When He Left the City and an Attempt to Collect Payment Resulted in the Revealing of the Woman's Identity.

Some interesting information has come to light concerning the interesting little romance disclosed this week by the sudden departure of Jas. Mead, who for a month filled the position of operator in the stock broking office of W. E. Nelson & Co.

Readers of the Examiner will remember that on Sunday morning last he suddenly left the city in company with a young lady who during their residence in Peterborough was known as Mrs. Mead. They had formerly lived in Brockville, where they had come from New York. It is said that the lady left a husband in that city, who by means of a detective, it is alleged, discovered that they were living together in Brockville, and secured a divorce.

The latest intelligence of the couple is that they are in Toronto and that the woman who passed as Mrs. Mead is said to be Mrs. Hubbel. According to information received Mead omitted to pay several bills he owed when he left the city and his creditors placed the matter in the hands of a lawyer for collection. He discovered that a valuable ring, supposed to have been Mead's property, had been left with a local jeweller, and at once had it seized. Now he has received a letter from a firm of lawyers in Toronto, stating that they are acting on behalf of Mrs. Hubbel, and that the ring was her property.

Charity Board Should Be More Careful

Maiden Lady Objects to Having Bachelor Sent to Cut Wood For Her.

An interesting point of etiquette has been raised in connection with the work of the Charity Board. Is it the proper thing for that body to send a bachelor to saw wood for an unprotected unmarried lady of uncertain years? That is what the Board has been doing, and the lady in the case does not think that the procedure is correct. The bachelor in question, whose age is beyond the Osler limit, has been varying labour with pleasure (at least to himself), and, it is said, has been devoting his spare time to making love to the lady of the house, who, however, spurns his advances, and has petitioned the Charity Board to keep him away. She said that if he would saw wood and say nothing, she would say nothing, but she strenuously objected to the lover-like attitude he has been adopting toward her.

The bachelman is not in a position to marry, anyway, as he is a frequent lodger at the police station, and has nothing to offer the lady of his affections but a large and generous love.

Special Services At Murray St.

Last night the special services which are being held nightly at Murray street Baptist church were of the most interesting and gratifying nature that have yet been listened to there. Five young men were on the platform and gave pleasing addresses on the accounts of their conversions. These were heard with gratitude by the Christian workers of the church, and the services were unusually good and productive of benefit.

On next Monday night five other young men will also give addresses on the history of their conversions, which will prove interesting to those who hear them.

From Tuesday to Friday night Rev. F. J. Scott will conduct the special services, assisted by Rev. G. R. Welch, B.A., of Lindsay, and will undoubtedly be a source of benefit to all who may be present.

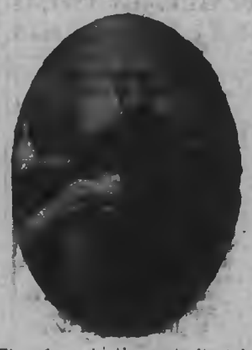
A PROMINENT CITIZEN



The above is the portrait, taken many years ago, of one of the oldest and best known residents of Peterborough. It is over fifty years ago that he entered into business, to which he applied himself with so much diligence that some years since he retired, and has for the past many years contented himself with the care of the material interests which his frugality and industry developed. He is still active and alert and can be seen almost any day upon our city streets.

Farmers Name Excursion Date

Annual Trip to Experimental Farm to be Held June 14.

At a meeting of the Farmers' Institute this morning at the Munro House, it was decided to run the annual excursion to the Experimental Farm at Guelph on June 14, the second Thursday of the month. This is one week later than last season, and gives every farmer a chance to attend this educative excursion. The Executive Committee that will look after the plans is composed of the following gentlemen: F. E. Birkitt, Asphodel; Edward Hawthorne, Warsaw; Chas. O'Reilly, Norwood; Alex. Kelly, East Durham, and Thos. M. Hunter, North Monaghan.

Mr. Collins, the popular secretary of the Institute, will supervise the arrangements to be made for this coming farmers' event, and a large crowd, it is expected, will avail themselves of this opportunity. The excursion will be run by the G.T.R. by special train, if it can be so arranged.

The Cold Weather Came

JUST IN TIME TO SAVE

Lumbermen Much Loss

Many Camps Had Been Forced to Suspend Operations and Roads Through Woods Were Ruined---Firms Would Have Suffered Heavily if the Mild Weather Had Continued Much Longer--Dickson Co. are Among the Firms Who Have Been Inconvenienced.

It is fortunate indeed that the present cold snap came when it did as the mild weather has caused considerable trouble to the lumbermen. The Lindsay Post in a good article on the subject says:—

The recent light snow fall and cold snap will be keenly welcomed by the lumbermen all over the timber district. Little as it is it will help considerably. Men will now be able to get into the camps, and haul logs, although more snow and ice is desired. As it is the past mild weather has played much havoc with camp operations. Before the mild spell came the cutting was about finished, but the hauling of the logs had to be postponed till the Lady of the Snows deemed it advisable to let fall a few flakes. The woods were bare and the swamps full of water and small creeks breaking up. It is at this time of the year that the small creeks and rivers should be burdened with the forest products, ready for the opening of spring, when the roaring streams would carry the booms down to the mills, often times miles distant, but this year the weather man has seen fit to cancel operations completely and camps have been broken up entirely, and lumbering operations temporarily suspended. It is certain that if the mild weather had continued many large and small firms would have suffered heavily and as it is serious losses will be felt by more than one firm on account of the limited season. Teams will now have to be rushed in and worked for all they are worth day and night.

The lack of timber will be a serious drawback in the country at large. It will likely mean a scarcity in building material. Another side to look at is, if there is to be a shortage of logs the mills will close up earlier, get through their cut and will mean perhaps the throwing of men out of work, and another thing is the shortage of bark, which will also mean a hindrance to tanneries.

But it is to be hoped that the present cold snap will continue and more snow fall, so that the lumbering operations may be carried through the season of 1906 without any of the above discouraging results.

The Dickson Company.

The various lumbermen in Eastern Ontario are suffering great inconveniences and financial loss, owing to the condition of the weather. The lack of snow has greatly hampered the work in the woods, and in some of the camps men have been laid off. The Dickson Company states that in one of their shanties they have been compelled to stop cutting logs as it is impossible to do any hauling on the roads as they are at present. Even should a heavy fall of snow occur shortly the cut of logs will be much behind last year, and as much of the season is already gone. It is not improbable that many of the large saw mills may have to close down part of the year owing to the want of logs.

Work On New Bridge

ON CHARLOTTE STREET WILL BE

Begun Early In Spring

Board of Works Passed Resolution Instructing the City Engineer to Prepare the Plans—Damage to City Property by Break in Canal Was $100—The Outfall Sewer Matter Came up Again—City Will Purchase a New Portable Stone Crusher.

A meeting of the Board of Works was held last night to clear up several small matters before the regular meeting of the City Council on Monday night. Among other things put through were resolutions instructing the City Engineer to prepare plans for the Charlotte street bridge and also for the chairman, Ald. Hicks, to call for tenders to supply the city with a new portable stone crusher.

Those present were Ald. Hicks, in the chair, Mayor Best, Ald. Graham, McIntyre, Adams, Tovey and Johnston.

Ald. Hicks explained that the main reason for calling the meeting was to have the committee instruct the City Engineer to prepare plans for the new bridge over the creek on Charlotte street. He said that it would be advisable to have everything ready early and not be left in a hole by not getting the order for the iron portions of the bridge in in time. The Charlotte street bridge will be an entirely new one with iron superstructure and cement top. The money had already been voted and all the committee had to do was to carry on the work.

Moved by Ald. Adams and McIntyre, that the Engineer be instructed to prepare plans and specification and to call for tenders for the Charlotte street bridge.—Carried.

Moved by Ald. Adams and McIntyre, that the petition for a sewer on Simcoe street from Rubidge street eastward, be granted.—Carried.

A communication was received from Mr. Jas. Rogue, stating that the Guarantee Company holding his bonds had already been notified that the contract had not been completed.

Report of City Engineer.

On the morning of the 26th inst., a break in the canal bank at the east side at a point 800 feet south of the Warsaw Road bridge, the water discharged into Curtis' brickyard, thence through the pipe culvert under the canal. It followed the channel of the creek to its outlet at the river south of Robinson street. Owing to the volume of water discharged, the banks of the creek were over-flowed, causing washouts to city property on Euclid avenue, Concession street, Clifton street, Douro street, Rogers street and Mark street. Mr. Alex. Fitzgerald undertook to look after the city's interests and did work which prevented accidents. The cost of the damage is almost $100.

Outfall Sewer

The contractor asked for a certificate for the full amount of work completed at time of suspension of work, Dec. 22nd, less 5 per cent.

He has already been given a progress estimate for the parts finished, less 20 per cent., as there was no valid reason for not continuing the completion.

The tank is not yet completed. Claim of specification requires the work to be fully completed before Nov. 30th, 1905.

Claim to be Made

Moved by Mayor Best, and Ald. Adams, that a claim for $100 damages to city property be placed in the hands of those who are looking after the Government's interests in connection with the break in the canal bank.—Carried.

Moved by Ald. Adams and Tovey, that the City Engineer's report on the East City outfall sewer be approved, and that the contractor be not paid the additional 15 per cent.—Carried.

City Engineer Hay reported that it would be possible to construct the sewer to Mr. Thompson's property on Dublin street. The Engineer was therefore instructed to request Mr. Thompson to send in a properly signed application.

New Stone Crusher.

Chairman Ald. Hicks then brought up the matter of the necessity of purchasing a new portable stone crusher. He said that the city would more than save its price in hauling the stone to the old crusher.

Ald Johnston was strongly in favour of a portable crusher. He said the council had considered that question last year.

Mayor Best then suggested that the old crusher be moved from it's present location and planted at the gravel pit to be used for crushing the big boulders. The suggestion met with approval, and will be carried out.

It was moved by Ald. Johnston and Tovey, that the chairman be instructed to call for tenders for a portable stone crusher.—Carried.

Referring to what power should be used, steam or electric, Ald Hicks said that he had made enquiries and found that it would cost the city about $10 a month the year round to use electric power. This is more than the steam would cost, so the city will continue using the latter.

Moved by Ald. Adams and Graham, that the culvert on Lafayette street be repaired.—Carried.

Sewer Pipes

At the last meeting of the Board of Works the city engineer was instructed to write to the Dominion Sewer Pipe Company and the Canadian Sewer Pipe Company, both of Toronto, and ask for prices on different sizes of sewer pipe required by the city. In reply a letter was read to the committee from each company. The Dominion Sewer Pipe Company offer to furnish pipe at a discount of 77 per cent. off the list price; while the Canadian Company would only offer 73 per cent. off.

As this apparently was for immediate shipment the engineer was instructed to again write the Dominion Company and ask if they would supply the city with pipe as required at the figures quoted.

There being nothing else before the committee the meeting was adjourned.

Charming Dance Held In Otonabee

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heffernan Entertained Large Number of Friends.

A delightful dance was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heffernan, Otonabee, on Thursday night. About 75 or 80 guests were present, including several from Peterborough, and the evening was most enjoyable. Mr. and Mrs. Heffernan made ideal hosts and did everything in their power for the pleasure and comfort of their guests. The house was decorated with evergreens and delightful music was provided by Messrs. Sullivan, Miller and Hallahan, violinists. The following ladies presided at the organ: Misses Doherty, Miller, Hunter and Armstrong. Messrs. Jas. Powers and Robert Cleghorn acted as masters of ceremonies.

Among the guests were Warden and Mrs. T. J. Johnston. Mr. Johnston was made the recipient of many congratulation on his newly-acquired honours.

System Of Filtration

OF CITY'S WATER SUPPLY

Simple And Effective

A Brief Description of the Sand Filtration System as Recommended for Peterborough by Expert—Mr. Allen Hazen's Plan and What it Involves—Filtration System Simply a Series of Huge Tanks—Methods Used to Obtain Pure Water—Impurities in Drinking Fluid are Extracted—What the Water Commissioners May Recommend for This City.

The recent action of the Board of Water Commissioners in reference to the proposed construction of a system of filtration for the water used in supplying the city has aroused considerable public interest, and in view of this fact The Examiner devotes some space to-day to a brief description of the filtration and to some general remarks on the subject.

As to the benefits which are derived from a purification of the city's water supply, there is no need to refer, since it is obvious to everyone who studies the situation that on general principles it would be in the best interests of the public health if the water which the citizens use daily were subjected to some clarification such as that afforded by a filter.

The system of filtration by the sand process, that recommended for this city, is comparatively simple. It merely consists of passing the water through sand to which the foreign particles adhere, and the liquid is thus purified. There is practically no machinery connected with a system of this kind, and the operation, like the principle, is simple.

The filter is constructed of concrete entirely, and in the illustration in this paper a general idea of the construction of the filter is given. Practically it is an immense tank, each tank covering one-fifth of an acre, but since the top has to be covered to prevent freezing, the interior is constructed in the form of a series of galleries, formed by the columns, in the illustration, of brick, but on that proposed here they would be concrete, which support the top, or roof, of the filter. The floor is of concrete, and along the centre of each gallery large tile pipes are laid, the tile being similar to those used in a farmer's drain, the joints being loose. Over these is laid a thin coating of gravel, and on top of that the sand. The tank is filled with water which percolates through the sand and gravel to the pipes, the floor in each gallery sloping to the centre, and the suction pipe from the pump house

Mr. Delaney's Death Was Sudden

Heart Disease Was the Cause of His Demise.

Further particulars have been received concerning the death of the late T. J. Delaney, brother of Mrs. W. J. Morrow, city, who passed away at Florence, S. C., on Thursday, Jan. 25th.

His death was very sudden. He retired apparently in his usual good health on Wednesday night. Next morning he did not appear as usual, and when his relatives went to his room he said he would be down in a few minutes. He did not make his appearance however, and an investigation showed that he was very ill, but quite conscious. Two physicians were called and they did everything in their power, but he passed away soon after their arrival. Heart disease was the cause of his death.

At the request of his sister, Mrs. R. W. Muncaster, he was buried at Charleston, S. C. The pall-bearers were Mr. Muncaster and his brother, Mrs. W. J. Morrow, city, who spent several years at Charleston.

CLEANLY WOMAN

Erroneously Thinks by Scouring Her Scalp That She Cures Dandruff.

Cleanly woman has an erroneous idea that by scouring the scalp, which removes the dandruff scales, she is curing the dandruff. She may wash her scalp every day, and yet have dandruff her life long, accompanied by falling hair, too. The only way in the world to cure dandruff is to kill the dandruff germ, and there is no hair preparation that will do that but Newbro's Herpicide. Herpicide by killing the dandruff germ, leaves the hair free to grow as healthy Nature intended. Destroy the cause you remove the effect. Kill the dandruff germ with Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Ormond & Walsh, Special Agents.

MY MAGAZINE, "INVESTING FOR Profit" (which I'll send free) is worth $10 a copy to any man who intends to invest any money, however small; who has money invested unprofitably; or who can save $5 or more per month, but who hasn't learned the art of investing for profit.

It demonstrates the REAL earning power of money—the knowledge financiers and bankers hide from the masses.

It shows how to invest small sums and how to make them grow into fortunes—the actual possibilities of intelligent investments.

It reveals the enormous profits bankers make and shows how one can make the same profits safely.

It explains HOW stupendous fortunes are made and WHY they are made—how $1,000 grows to $22,000.

To introduce my magazine write me NOW, mention this paper and I'll send it SIX MONTHS FREE.

Some Stereoptic Views Shown By Mr. Jas. Fife

At Annual Tea and Concert of St. Paul's Sunday School—Large Number of Scholars Present—Many Pupils Merit Prizes—Presentations made by Rev. Dr. Torrance — Musical Portion of the Programme Appreciated.

VOTE OF THANKS GIVEN TO MR. FIFE

Last night in St. Paul's Sunday School Room was celebrated the annual tea and concert, when a large number were present especially scholars, to enjoy the admirable entertainment provided.

Tea began at 6 o'clock and was served until after seven in the school room. Much credit is due to the ladies who had charge of this department for the tempting supper spread and the enjoyment from this part of the programme was by no means the least.

Superintendent Mr. Wm. Madill, occupied the chair and introduced a pleasant programme and one thoroughly appreciated by the audience. He spoke of the increasing interest in Sunday School work shown by the large number present who would not have been there had they not been interested in the good work.

A hymn was sung and prayer offered after which Miss Gladys Crane and Miss Mattie Robertson two youthful pianists gave a pleasing duet which received its due recognition from the audience. Miss Mabel Pringle's recitation demonstrated her ability as an elocutionist and an encore was called for; Miss Pringle kindly responded.

Probably the most important portion of the entertainment was then introduced by Mr. Jas. Fife who presented some stereopticon views of the Northwest, each accompanied by an educative and laconic address. While Mr. Fife has recently been touring in the western part of the Dominion he gathered numerous pictures of harvesting, mountain and railway scenes which he reproduced last night. He also showed a number of Canadian birds explaining the colour and appearance of each as it was thrown upon the canvas.

The distribution of prizes was the next on the programme and needless to say was eagerly looked forward to by the children of the school who merited them.

Rev. Dr. Torrance performed the mission of presentation in his usual happy manner accompanying each with some kind advice.

Books were presented to Myrtle Foy, Marion Fife, and Jno. Markle Garvin for memorization of the catechism.

The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church presented diplomas to those in Primary class learning the 23rd Psalm, the Lord's Prayer and the Beatitudes. Those who merited these were Gladys Hunter, Hugh Carmichael, Muriel Baptie, Howard Hall, Kenneth Laing and Laidlaw Anderson.

A solo by Miss Lillian Moore formed a pleasing link between the prize presentations and the continuation of the views by Mr. Fife. In the second series he presented scenery chiefly in the County of Peterborough. The pictures of Kawartha Lakes were particularly gorgeous and easily captured the attention of the observers. Views of Victoria Park, Inverlee Park and Lift Lock were also much enjoyed and the interest shown throughout his illustrated lecture was very gratifying.

A hearty and unanimous vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Fife for his edifying and pleasing address to the scholars and others present. The entertainment was brought to a close by singing a hymn and benediction.

How glad I am that I consulted in you and wrote for your free sample package. I gave him the remedy in his tea, and as it had no taste or smell, he never knew he was taking it. I want others to know; so you can use this letter, but please not my name yet. I may say that my husband's health is better in every way than for years."

THE WEATHER.

The weather to-day is much more moderate than yesterday, a very agreeable change. At noon to-day the thermometer marked 14 above zero; this morning at day break the thermometer marked 6 below zero, while during the night it had been down to 15 below. There is every prospect of a fall of snow, and a return to cold weather again to-morrow or Monday. The last cold wave was confined to Ontario but the coming one will be more extensive and of greater duration.

PASSED MANY A SLEEPLESS NIGHT

Till He Used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets —They Set H. S. Barnes Right on His Feet.

Changeable weather and indigestion travel hand in hand, each helping to make the other more disagreeable. For when the stomach lags in its work the body grows weak and weakened bodies cannot stand inconveniences of any kind.

The remedy is to help the stomach, and the help the stomach needs is contained in Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. Those who have used them will tell you that. H. S. Barnes, of Rat Portage, has used them and he says:

"I was a victim of Dyspepsia, and reading of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets led me to try them. The effect was marvellous. They set me right on my feet after having spent many a sleepless night suffering from a disordered condition of the stomach."

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets cure all stomach ailments. One or two tablets taken after a hearty meal is an insurance policy against discomfort of any kind.

A Resolution Of Sympathy

To Mr. and Mrs. A. Morton and Family:

We, the officers and members of Court Stanley, No. 7680 desire to express to yourself and family our sincere sympathy in this your hour of sorrow. Your late son was very highly esteemed by us as a friend and brother who lived a true and blameless Christian life. We shall not soon forget him, but shall mourn his departure from our midst. We can best offer our consolation to you by pointing out that we believe that he has gone to a better home prepared by our Master, our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, in whom the weary heart and sorrow-worn soul shall find eternal rest, and we know that your loss and our's is his gain and although family and fraternal ties are broken here, our prayer is that we all shall meet in the heavenly home where there is no more parting, for in Heaven we meet to part no more.

Signed on behalf of Court Stanley A. O. F.—

Canadians In India Missions

Cocanada is a city of India with a population of 50,000, and it has about 100 villages surrounding it. The name is very suggestive to a Canadian, and it is not surprising that Canadian missionaries have made it an important centre of their work. On this field there are seven native preachers, a native pastor in charge of the church in the city, 24 Sunday schools, four day schools, a girls' boarding school, a High school for natives, and various other activities, including a Christian newspaper. Mr. Laflamme, who is at the head of this work, is to speak at the meeting at Murray street Baptist church on Tuesday afternoon at 4.15, and in the evening at 8 o'clock.

A Husband's Opinion of Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets For WOMEN

A cross and nervous woman is not a pleasant one to live with.

Husbands know this. But in nine cases out of ten, women are cross and irritable because they are not well.

Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets transform cross and irritable wives into bright, pleasant women.

They Make Healthy Women

Husbands appreciate the change and the remedy that causes it.

The letter of one appreciative husband is given below.

I wish to congratulate you upon the efficacy of Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets for Women. Mrs. Baldwin has tested them, and certifies to their worth. Her experience together with testimony of the others in this vicinity who have been by them "made healthy women," leads me to request you to send three boxes to a relative, Mrs. ——, who is a sufferer from ills peculiar to women, whom physicians and their remedies have thus far failed to cure.

System of Filtration Of City's Water

is connected with the outlet of the series of tiles, into which the purified water has found its way.

This process, it is stated, will cleanse any ordinary water, making it perfectly healthful to use in any quantity, especially the water used in our system, which, Mr. Fuller says, is of exceptionally good quality as to purity in its "raw," or unfiltered condition.

In his new book, "Filtration of Public Water Supplies," a copy of which he presented to the Board of Water Commissioners, Mr. Allen Hazen describes most minutely and interestingly the system of sand filtration which he recommends for this city. A portion of that description, as found in chapter two of their excellent work is given below. He says filtration of water consists in passing it through some substance which retains or removes some of its impurities. In its simplest form filtration is a straining process, and the results obtained depend upon the fineness of the strainer, and this in turn is regulated by the character of the water and the uses to which it is to be put. When water is to be used for a domestic water supply, and transparency is an object, the finer particles which would not show themselves, but which are still there, should be as far as possible removed. When there is reason to think the water contains the germs of disease, the filter must be fine enough to remove with certainty those organisms so extraordinarily small that millions of them may exist in a glass of water without imparting a visible turbidity.

While the details of the filters used in different places present considerable variations, the general form is, in Europe at least, everywhere the same. The raw water is taken from the river into a settling basin, where the heaviest mud is allowed to settle. In the case of lake or pond water the settling basin is dispensed with, but it is essential for turbid river water, as otherwise the mud clogs the filter too rapidly. The partially clarified water then passes to the filter, which consists of a horizontal layer of rather fine sand supported by gravel and underdrained the whole being enclosed in a suitable basin or tank. The water in passing through the sand, leaves behind upon the sand grains the extremely fine particles which were too fine to settle out in the settling basin, and is quite clear as it goes from the gravel to the pumps which forward it to the reservoir, or city.

The passages between the sand grains, through which the water must pass, are extremely small. If the sand grains were spherical and one-fiftieth of an inch in diameter, the openings would only allow the passage of other spheres 1-220 of an inch in diameter, and with the actual irregular sands much finer particles are held back. As a result, the coarser matters in the water are retained on the surface of the sand, where they quickly form a layer of sediment, which itself becomes a filter much finer than the sand alone, and which is capable of holding back under suitable conditions even the bacteria of the passing water. The water which passes before this takes place may be less perfectly filtered, but even then the filter may be so operated that nearly all of the bacteria will be deposited in the sand and not allowed to pass through into the effluent.

As the sediment layer increases in thickness with continued filtration, increased pressure is required to drive the desired volume of water through its pores, which are ever becoming smaller and reduced in number. When the required quantity of water will no longer pass with the maximum pressure allowed, it is necessary to remove, by scraping, the sediment layer, which should not be more than an inch deep. This layer contains most of the sediment, and the remaining sand will act almost as new sand would do. The sand removed may be washed for use again, or eventually replaced when the sand layer becomes too thin by repeated scrapings. These operations require that the filter shall be temporarily out of use, and as water must, in general, be supplied without intermission, a number of filters are built together, so that any of them can be shut off without interfering with the action of the others.

It will thus be seen from Mr. Hazen's description that there is nothing of a complicated nature in the system of filtration, as he recommends that it be established here, and it is probable that in the not distant future the Water Commissioners will decide to ask the ratepayers to vote on the question of the construction of a filter as described.

THE PHYSIC HABIT

THE RESULT OF USING SALTS, CASTOR OIL, ETC., INSTEAD OF THOROUGHLY CURING CONSTIPATION BY

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

"Oh, a dose of salts will fix me up all right," you say, when the bowels become constipated and the liver and kidney sluggish and congested.

And the temporary relief you obtain in this way deceives you for a time, but you are soon in distress again, and must increase the dose and resort more frequently to the use of this weakening and debilitating treatment.

Constipation and intestinal indigestion cannot possibly be cured until the liver is made active in its work of filtering bile from the blood and pouring it into the intestines, where it acts as a natural cathartic, hastening the process of digestion, and the removal of waste matter from the body.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have a direct and specific action on the liver. They not only afford prompt relief, but positively strengthen and invigorate the kidneys, liver and bowels. Instead of encouraging the physic habit, they thoroughly cure constipation, liver complaint, biliousness and kidney disease.

If you would like to regain your old-time vigour, and feel strong and well again, use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. The backaches and body pains will disappear, your appetite and digestion will be good, you will escape sickness and disease because the filtering and excretory organs will keep the body cleansed from poisonous waste matter.

Mrs. Thomas Covent, Highland Grove, Peterborough Co., Ont., writes: "I was a sufferer for years with stomach trouble and terrible headaches and spent a good many dollars in medicine without receiving any benefit. Hearing of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills highly recommended I determined to give them a trial and did so with satisfactory results, as I was very greatly benefitted and do not hesitate to recommend this treatment as the best obtainable for such ailments."

Your stomach is like the mainspring of your watch. When it's all right, you are all right. When it's wrong, you are ALL wrong.

A morning glass of

Abbey's Effervescent Salt

will keep your stomach in "right to the second" condition.

The "Thunderer's" Own English

Iron Clad Rules of the London Times.

The following are interesting examples of the iron-clad rules laid down by The London Times in its hand book setting forth its code of customs governing the grammar, spelling, punctuation, capitalization and phrasing to be used by its writers:

The reporter for The Thunderer is never allowed to say "under the circumstances." According to The Times, "in the circumstances" is the phrase to be used.

An ordinary sentence written by an amateur newspaper man would probably be ruthlessly blue-penciled by a Times' sub-editor. The reporter might, perhaps, write something like this:

"Witness commenced by saying he had met deceased previous to going to Perkins'."

This is not a good sentence, but it would pass muster in most quarters. A Times' sub-editor, however, would nearly faint at the sight of it, for, from his point of view, it contains no fewer than seven errors.

To begin with, The Times never refers to "witness," but to "the witness." Secondly, it never uses the word "commence," but always "begin." "By saying he had" suggests an omission—the word "that." "Deceased" is on The Times' black-list, and if reference is made to a person who has died, he is always mentioned as "the late Mr. Blank." From the standpoint of The Times, it must either be "previously to" or simply "before." Furthermore, "to going" is colloquial, and, as such, will not do. The reporter must say "to his going." Finally, "Perkins'" would not be printed, as in using the possessive of a word ending in "s" The Times always adds another "s"—thus, "Perkins's."

When the sentence under consideration appeared in type it would read:

"The witness began by saying that he had met the late Mr. Blank previously to his going to Perkins's."

The word "applause," as frequently used in reports of speeches at a public meeting, is tabooed by The Times which always employs the word "cheers." Another peculiarity of The Times' Parliamentary reports is in the use of the first and the third person. An ordinary speech by a private member or a lesser minister will be reported in the third person, thus, "Mr. Smith said that he had listened to the honourable member," etc. Had Mr. Balfour, Mr. Chamberlain or Lord Lansdowne been speaking, the report would be given in the first person.

In writing of a blue-book, most British newspapers begin both words with a capital letter. The Times capitalizes "Blue" alone. To illustrate its peculiarities of spelling, "parsimony" is, according to The Times, "parcimony." The use of the word "I," except as uttered by a specified person, is black-listed, and a Times' writer must always write in an "impersonal fashion."—Saturday Evening Post.

A TORONTO MAN TRIES SOMETHING NEW AND IS DELIGHTED, FEELS LIKE A BOY.

MR. M. N. DAFOE

Mr. M. N. Dafoe, Manager The Dustless Brush Co., 29 Colborne St., Toronto, is telling his friends how he found health after years of illness and pain. He says:

"I have been a great sufferer from dyspepsia for many years. I have been treated by local doctors and have taken nearly all the advertised remedies, with only temporary relief, if any at all, but since using Anti Pill I can eat anything, the same as when a boy. I have been taking one Anti-Pill at bedtime for the past three months, and find they regulate both stomach and bowels. My old time vigor has returned, so that my spirits are buoyant and temper normal. As a result of this unbiased experience I am only bound to give all credit to this wonderful remedy, Anti-Pill."

Every druggist sells Dr. Leonhardt's Anti-Pill, or a sample will be sent free by the Wilson-Fyle Co., Limited, Niagara Falls, Ont.

The remedy that cured Mr. Dafoe so completely is surely worth a trial. 502

Editor of Post Card Column:

As the championship of the City Hockey League practically depends on the result of the games scheduled for next Thursday night, would it not be a good plan for the Executive of the League to arrange for their games on Wednesday night, and not conflict with the big theatrical event of the season on Thursday evening.

Editor Post Card Column:

Dear Sir,—I am at a loss to know what "Churchman" in his article in yesterday's Examiner considers "Remarkable progress" in the Methodist Church, since prayer and fasting have been her teaching since the days of Wesley. Who can say but that "Churchman" when he learns that the Methodist Church holds the "customs and doctrines" so dear to him, with all essentials securing so richly the divine sanction as seen in her remarkable usefulness and influence through her history, may desire to come into the fold of this church.

Peterborough,
February 3rd, 1906.

I would like to inquire through the columns of your valuable paper why the electric light companies have advanced their prices this year until they are now nearly four times as high as in former years? I am one of the victims and it was only yesterday that I was notified that the high price system had come into effect the first of the year. Peterborough has plenty of water power and surely the electric light companies can make plenty of money without charging exorbitant prices for their lights, and when they did raise the prices why didn't they notify consumers before this arrangement had come into effect? I should like to hear what the Peterborough Light & Power Co. and the Otonabee Power Co. have to say in this matter.

Yours truly,

ONE IN THE DARK.

A bill is to be introduced into the Virginian Legislature making an appropriation for sending agents to Great Britain, Germany, Sweden and Norway to encourage immigration into Virginia. It is believed that from 30,000 to 40 000 immigrants will be obtained. It is intended that, where necessary, the State shall pay for the immigrants' transportation, the cost to be repaid subsequently.

Experiments for the destruction of locusts have been lately carried out by the Orange River Colony Government in the Springfontein, Faure-smith and Behulie districts. It was found that spraying with the arsenic and soda solution was most effective for killing the voetgangers. No mortality occurred amongst sheep or other animals as the result of eating the sprayed pasturage, though in some cases fowls died eating the dead locusts.

Small Market This Morning

Beef Was Very Plentiful—Prices Generally Normal.

The sudden drop of the mercury seemed to have frightened those from the country who usually attend the markets on Saturday morning. The absence of sleighing greatly checked the supply of wood as the farmers cannot get an opportunity to haul their wood from the forests. The few loads which appeared on the market this morning were surrounded by questioners who seemed eager to keep the frost from the door.

Beef was, as usual, a plentiful commodity, selling at a slightly decreased price from last week. Apples and potatoes were scarcely in evidence and the few bags available quickly changed ownership. The former ranged in price from 60c to $1.25, according to quality, the latter at the steady price of from 90c to $1.00 per bag.

As large quantities of hay have been daily coming into the city the price has declined a little from last week.

In the market hall there was not as large a gathering as usual, butter and eggs, therefore, remained about the same as the prices of last week.

Fowl is rapidly decreasing in quantity and prices still attain the usual height.

The following are the prices which prevailed this morning:—

Butter, per lb	23	to	25
Eggs, per doz	23	to	25
Chickens, per pair	75	to	90
Geese, each	$1 25	to	$1 75
Turkeys, each	1 05	to	2 00
Beef, front quarter, per lb	4½	to	5½
Beef, hind " "	5	to	6
Pork, per lb	10	to	11
Lamb	10	to	11
Apples, per bag	60	to	1 25
Potatoes, per bag	90	to	1 00
Honey, per lb	10	to
Honey, per quart	30	to	35
Timothy Hay, per ton	9 00	to	9 50
Straw per load			4 00

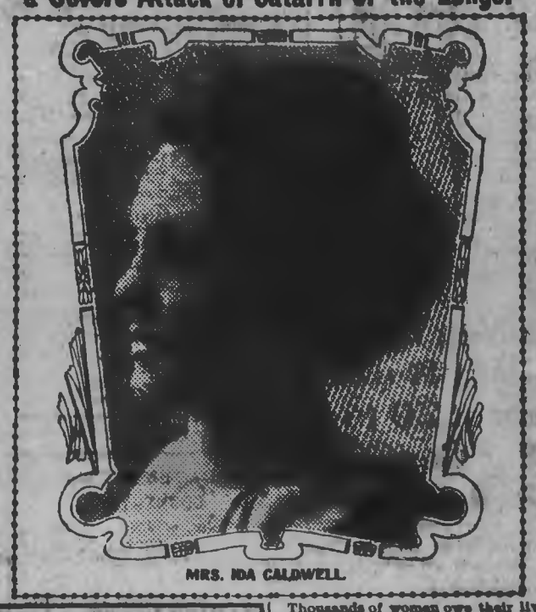
HER PHYSICIANS DESPAIRED. ADVISED CHANGE OF CLIMATE.

Pe-ru-na, Used as a Last Resort, Cured Her of a Severe Attack of Catarrh of the Lungs.



MRS. IDA CALDWELL

The Sensational Cure of Mrs. Caldwell is the Talk of Her Acquaintances.

Mrs. Ida Caldwell, 606 Pearl street, Sioux City, Ia., Vice-President Order of Washington, writes:

"I suffered with catarrh of the respiratory organs off and on for the last three years until I thought it was chronic. My chest and lungs were irritated and I had to use the greatest care not to expose myself to chilly air or dampness as it increased my troubles.

"My physician advised me to try a change of climate, but I was unable to leave my family. Reading of the wonderful cures performed by Peruna, I bought a bottle.

"It was with the greatest satisfaction that I found it the one medicine among them all which cured me. I was relieved within three days and after two months and a half the irritation was gone, my lungs perfectly healed and my health restored."—Ida Caldwell.

Thousands of women owe their lives to Peruna. Hundreds of thousands owe their health to Peruna. Hundreds of thousands are praising Peruna in every state of the Union.

We have many thousands of letters from grateful women, with permission to use them in public print, which can never be used for want of space.

Catarrh would not be such a curse in this country if the people thoroughly understand its nature. It must be treated at once to prevent it from making inroads upon vital organs.

If you suffer from catarrh, buy Peruna to-day, for a day gained on the enemy, catarrh, means a day nearer recovery.

We have on file many thousand testimonials like the one given here. We can only give our readers a slight glimpse of the vast array of unsolicited endorsements we are receiving. No other physician in the world has received such a volume of enthusiastic letters of thanks as Dr. Hartman for Peruna.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1906.

CANADA THE RAILWAY COUNTRY.

The invasion of the west by the Grand Trunk is being met by the increased activity of the C. P. R. in the east.

The C. P. R. is behind the application for a charter for a railway from a point at or near London to a point on Lake Huron or the Georgian Bay, traversing Lambton, Huron and Bruce counties. This is territory which has been hitherto the Grand Trunk's preserve.

AAnother C. P. R. project is a line from Victoria Harbour on Georgian Bay to Peterborough, on the Toronto-Montreal division. Victoria Harbour is on the same inlet as Midland, and is a deepwater port. The new line will place the C.P.R. in a far more advantageous position than it occupies at present to handle the grain traffic during the season of lake navigation. Its only port on the Georgian Bay is Owen Sound, but this branch line is not an ideal grain-carrying road because of its grades and curves, and the longer distance, as compared with competing routes.

The Grand Trunk has several Georgian Bay terminals — Midland, Penetang, Collingwood, Meaford and Owen Sound—and by the purchase of Canada Atlantic Railway is now established at Depot Harbour, and carried grain over the road last autumn.

The line between Victoria Harbour and Peterborough will give the C.P.R. a much shorter route to tidewater than the Owen Sound route, and will be an important link in the transcontinental system. The company will probably carry grain in its own vessels from Fort William to Victoria Harbour, and will be able to transfer it at Montreal or Quebec to the C.P.R. ocean carriers. A shipment of grain originating at any point on the C.P.R. system in the west would remain in the hands of the C.P.R. till livered at the British ports. The company could quote a rate from the point of shipment to the British market, a great advantage to all concerned.

The Grand Trunk Pacific will pursue the same policy of controlling its export traffic by land and water. The purchase of the Canada Atlantic by the Grand Trunk is a part of the plan. Grain will be carried by the Grand Trunk Pacific to the head of Lake Superior, thence in its own bottoms to Midland and Depot Harbour, where its ally, the Grand Trunk, will take it over and get the haul to Montreal before navigation closes. A fleet of Atlantic carriers will be operated in connection with both railway systems. When lake navigation closes the Grand Trunk Pacific will have the all-rail haul to Quebec and St. John, the latter its winter port.

The Canadian Northern (Mackenzie & Mann) will some day be a transcontinental line, and the gaps between the eastern and western ends of its system are being filled up. In the west the Canadian Northern extends from Fort William to Edmonton, with a branch through Northwesterly Manitoba to Prince Albert. In the east Mackenzie & Mann own at least two railroads in the Maritime Provinces, and two years ago acquired the Great Northern, which runs between Quebec city and Hawkesbury, on the Ottawa River. It was the intention to take over the Canada Atlantic, which would have given the Canadian Northern an outlet to tidewater from the west, during lake navigation, but the Grand Trunk stole a march. Mackenzie & Mann, however, are building the James Bay Railway from Sudbury to Toronto, and the C.P.R. will have running rights over this branch. In return the Canadian Northern will secure a haulage arrangement over the Lake Superior section of the C. P.R. In this way both systems secure a direct line between Central and Western Ontario, and the western provinces.

In addition to all this, the Temiskaming Railway is being extended from New Liskeard to effect a junction with the Grand Trunk Pacific, and the latter road will soon be under construction in Ontario. It will be seen that this Province is about to share amply in the unparalleled railway development upon which the country is entering.

The railways projected and under construction in the west represent a tremendous mileage. There is the Grand Trunk Pacific, which will span the continent. The C.P.R. will build from a point near Yorkton to Wetaskiwin, near Edmonton, a distance of about 450 miles. It has also in hand hundreds of miles of extensions and double-tracking. The Canadian Northern having reached Edmonton, will branch out in that growing district in all directions. James J. Hill has secured a charter for a British Columbia line and is believed to be behind the line projected from the international boundary to Regina.

Altogether Canada during the next few years will have more railroad construction in proportion to population than any other country in the world.—London Advertiser.

A SATISFACTORY REPORT.

At the ninth annual general meeting of the shareholders of the Trusts and Guarantee Company, Limited, held at the offices of the company, 14 King street west, Toronto, on Wednesday, Hon. J. R. Stratton, President, occupied the chair. The report of the directors revealed a satisfactory showing. The net profits of the year were $68,092.67, the receipts being $116,497.46, and the expenditures $48 494.79. The surplus permitted of the declaring of two dividends amounting to $49,978.46, leaving a sum of $18,028.21 to be added to the reserve fund, which now totals $118,342.80, representing over ten per cent of the paid up capital. The earnings, profits and prospects of the company were considered very satisfactory, and the report was unanimously adopted.

EDITORIAL NOTES

It's a wonder the Toronto Star has not remarked, apropos of the success of the Editor of the Kingston Whig against the eloquence of four or five Cabinet Ministers, that "the Pense mightier than the mouth."

The Mail and Empire wants, says the Toronto Star, Hon. Sidney Fisher to resign. That's only a fractional fact—the organ has an intense desire to see the whole Laurier Cabinet efface itself—seeing that there presents no probability of getting rid of it any other way.

The Hamilton Spectator whose outspoken political independence is so conspicuous concludes, after the success of Mr. Pense's quiet campaign, that "platform speaking doesn't cut much of a figure in election campaigns." Mr. Pense won against the platform speaking of four or five Conservative Cabinet Ministers.

LaPatrie will have to be struck off the exchange list of the Mail and Empire. The Montreal journal has the temerity to insinuate that Premier Whitney is conducting star chamber investigations to incriminate officials appointed under the Ross regime, such investigations being conducted by friends of the Premier. Mr. Whitney's ways of providing places for his followers are getting extra-provincial reputation.

The Toronto Star thinks that if the result of the Torrey-Alexander revival is the real thing the evidence of it will be found in a diminished police court record and a regenerated press. Yet the very day Dr. Torry and Mr. Alexander shook from their feet the dust of Toronto—what didn't stick to their pockets—the Mail and Empire as evidence of its moral improvement called Hon. Sidney Fisher a "fool" for saying what he didn't say.

If one act more than another of the Liberal Government aroused Conservative and Whitneyesque indignation, it was the "numbered" ballot, charged upon with being a diabolical outrage upon the independence of the electors. Yet in the Kingston bye-election, the Whitney Government, which had charge of the election, allowed the use of the numbered ballot, though they know its use was contrary to law as it was contrary to their loudly expressed determination to wipe out the iniquity at the first opportunity.

One would think that the Thunderer would be above employing Mail and Empire methods. The "Thunderer pounces upon Hon. Sidney Fisher because it asserts that he asserted that Canada didn't want a "preference"—an unshriveable bit of anti-Imperial heresy. The quotation of the Times is a genuine Malkism. What Mr. Fisher said, was what the Times said he said and something more, the something being the essence of his statement. Mr. Fisher said that "Canada didn't want a preference to keep her loyal to the Empire." One would not be surprised—the surprise would be the other way—to find the Mail and Empire mutilating the statement of a statesman—leaving out the vital part—to make a political point, but for the "Thunderer to do so is a case of Jupiter nodding.

The President, Hon. Geo. A. Cox, having taken the chair, the Manager, Mr. W. G. Morrow, was requested to act as Secretary to the meeting.

After reading the notice convening the meeting, the Secretary read the Twenty-first Annual Report, and the accompanying Financial Statement.

DIRECTORS' REPORT

The Directors have pleasure in submitting to the Shareholders their Twenty-first Annual Report, for the year ending December 31st, 1905, as follows:—

The gross earnings for the year amounted to $171,538.19, and after the payment of interest on deposits and debentures, the expenses in connection with money borrowed and loaned, as well as all expenses of management, there remain net earnings amounting to $97,908.09, or equivalent to about 9.80% on the Company's paid-up capital. To these earnings has been added $24,623.69, the amount carried forward from last year, thus making a total sum for distribution of $122,531.78. This amount has been disposed of in the following manner:

(a) By payment of four quarterly dividends of 1½ each, equal to 6% for the year, and amounting to	$60,000 00
(b) By addition to the Reserve Fund	40,000 00
(c) By balance carried forward to Profit and Loss	22,531 78
	$122 531 78

The above addition to the Reserve Fund increases same to $550.00000, making it now 55% of the present paid-up Capital of $1,000,000.00.

The increase in deposits and debentures amounts to $193,747.18, and in Assets to $235,577.93, the latter now amounting to $2,545,903.67.

All payments maturing during the year on the Company's investments have been satisfactorily met, and the rentals from the property owned by the Company have also been promptly paid.

The books, accounts and securities of the Company have as usual been carefully examined by the Auditors and their Certificate is attached to the Financial Statement.

Bank Of Montreal Opens Handsome Branch Office

Fenelon Falls Has Now a Most Complete and Up-to-Date Office—Mr. Myles Hamilton the Manager—Description of the Premises.

(Lindsay Watchman-Warder.)

The Fenelon Falls branch of the Bank of Montreal is now open for business though some finishing touches have yet to be put to the interior of the building. No pains or expense are being spared in the furnishing or equipment of the premises. They will, in fact, when completed, compare very favourably with the beautifully fitted-up building occupied by the Bank of Montreal in Lindsay, of which the Fenelon Falls agency is a sub-branch. The building which is finished in mahoganized birch, is well lighted during the day time by a large plate glass front, while a south window of prism glass adds greatly to the beauty of the offices. The walls are decorated in two tones of green divided by a moulding and the contrast between the dull green shades and the rich polish of the woodwork is very pleasing to the eye. The light and dark woods of the highly polished floor also brings out the soft colouring of teh walls to good advantage. Above the handsome birch desks the offices are furnished and divided by grill work of 1-4 in. bronze twist from the Geo. Meadows Co., of Toronto, and teh manager's private office is enclosed with panels of white and frosted glass. There are three compartments besides the manager's office, for teller, ledger-keeper and junior clerk respectively, the tellers quarters being enclosed in the usual cage. The public office is furnished with a table, desk, settee and chairs all in the mahoganized birch, the table in particular being a very handsome piece of furniture with heavy brass knobs. The manager's office is also fitted with a table, desk and chairs of the same rich wood, and the heavy brass plate on the main door of the bank is especially worthy of mention. The whole building is heated with hot air and also hot water, and is lighted throughout with 32 c.p. electric lights, on bronze electroliers with large frosted globes. Several of these are upon pillars and consequently flood the building with light. In the rear of the offices is a stationery room that will be fitted up with everything which can be possibly required in that line, by the staff of the bank or its customers.

The telephone is in this apartment. In the rear of the stationery room are the apartments of the staff, these being finished in the natural wood, highly polished. Everything throughout the bank is of the most up-to-date description, the Copland-Chatterson loose leaf ledgers being used entirely. This set of books is most convenient and well worth inspection by any business men to whom they are yet unknown. The furnishings of the building is from the Fenelon Falls Woodenware Co., Limited and certainly reflects great credit upon the output of that factory. Unless a person were positive of the fact, it could scarcely be believed that such work could be turned out by a comparatively young industry. It is therefore no matter of surprise that orders are pouring in upon the Fenelon Falls company, from all portions of the continent.

• • • •

In opening the branch in Fenelon Falls, the directors made a good move in placing it under the management of Mr. Miles Hamilton. Mr. Hamilton is a man of sterling qualities who has been connected with banking business for many years and who will be able to give the public the benefit of his experience. He is also of a particularly courteous disposition and all doing business with him may rest assured that they will receive from him every attention and every possible accommodation compatible with the most legitimate and up-to-date banking methods. He will be ably assisted by Mr. Gladstone Main, who has served in the capacity of teller in both Lindsay and Peterborough. There is also a junior clerk who will aby assist in the work of the bank for the accommodation of the public. Under such management the branch cannot fail to be a success, and the people of Fenelon Falls are singularly fortunate in having placed in their midst such a bank under such splendid control. The village is a particularly flourishing one requiring large banking facilities which have now been afforded it in fullest measure.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

PRAISE FOR MISS DAVIES.

Cherubino, the clever musical critic of Toronto Saturday Night, in the last issue, pays an appreciative tribute to the work of Miss Helen Davies, whose vocal work in connection with the National Chorus concert, has received the favourable comment of the Toronto press generally. Referring to the concert, Saturday Night says: The two great concerts of the year, so far as it has gone, were those given by the National Chorus and the New York Symphony Orchestra in Massey Hall on Monday and Tuesday evening. They will long linger in the mind with delightful memories of artistic enjoyment and satisfaction. On the first night the Toronto and the New York associations offered a joint programme, which included representative examples of Wagner's orchestral music, and Sir Frederick Bridge's cantata, "The Flag of England," a setting of Rudyard Kipling's poem for soprano solo and orchestra. It is pleasant to record the enthusiastic impression created by Miss Helen Davies, of Peterborough, a gifted pupil of Dr. Ham, to whom was assigned the soprano solo part of the Bridge cantata. Her voice is marked by brilliancy and distinction, and is of fine quality, and above all, she sings with understanding and judgment. Her solo was beset with difficulties, often soaring up to high sustained notes against heavy scoring for orchestra and chorus. Miss Davies, however, did not force her voice, which carried well, and, except in one or two instances, she was heard above the fortissimo of the full ensemble. Her most extended solo was the Andante tranquillo, "From the Virgins my mid-sea course was taken," where the composer abandoned himself to frank melody and has given the singer opportunities for revealing her artistic instincts, finished phrasing and variety of tone quality. One might mention, as harming effects, the soprano solo and chorus of women, "The South Sea Sighed," and the section, "Never the Lotos closes," in which the voices and orchestra are employed in a masterly manner.

• • • •

ST. PAUL'S CHOIR.

The programme to be presented by the choir at their Sacred Concert on Monday night is a very interesting one. In addition to first-class solo talent the choir will give for the first time in Peterborough Gounod's beautiful motet for six parts, "O Day of Penitence" one of the most charming of this composer's shorter works. The programme also contains Hawley's "Trisaglon and Sanctus" for eight parts, Tours' "Sing O Heavens," Sullivan's "Yea! Tho I Walk," Gounod's "Sanctus and Benedictus," and a number of popular numbers. A programme containing the words will be distributed which will add greatly to the interest of the evening. The sale of tickets points to a crowded church on Monday night.

• • • •

The True Blue concert given by Miss Pauline Johnson, Mr. McRaye and Miss Belleghem, a favourite Peterborough singer, in aid of the Orphans' Home, of Picton, drew a capacity house on the evening of Tuesday last. Miss Johnson, in her gaudy Indian costume, was loudly encored for her charming witticisms and the recital of two of her own tragic poems. The short sketch given by Mr. McRaye and the authoress was the most popular feature of the evening's entertainment. Miss Belleghem captured the audience in her first number, with a voice that more than atoned for what it lacked in strength, by its wonderful range and sweetness. On the whole this concert given by the Loyal True Blues in the cause of charity was a grand success.—Campbellford Despatch.

Peterborough Easily Won

FROM UXBRIDGE IN THE First Semi-Final Game

Score Was 16-0 in Favour of Locals Who Outclassed the Visitors at all Stages—Peterboroughs' Played Clever Hockey and Their Victory Was an Easy One—Captain Whitcroft Was the Fastest Man on the Ice and His Playing Was the Feature of the Game.

The Peterborough hockey team took another step upwards last night, when they put away the Uxbridge seven in a semi-final game in the O.H.A. series by a score of 16—0. The result of the game was never in doubt, and the chief interest centred in watching the brilliant work of the locals, who had their opponents faded to a cinder in every department of the game. Uxbridge was in the contest only for a short time in the first half. After that they blew up and were hopelessly outclassed. Peterborough had them beat in stick-handling, shooting, skating and every other old way, and the game consisted of brilliant rushes by the Peterborough forwards with desperate but fruitless efforts on the part of the Uxbridge defence to stave them off.

Considering the Arctic weather prevailing the crowds present was a large one, and the showing of the locals was the subject of much favourable comment. The game was fast and clean, and notwithstanding the lop-sided score was well worth seeing.

Peterborough played by far the best hockey they have done here this season, and look like the gold-fringed favourites for the championship. Their work last night with the exception of a few minutes in the first half before they settled down was very brilliant. The defence took care of everything that came their way as is evidenced by the zero score registered against the visitors. The forwards showed the result of careful practice. They worked together beautifully, their combination being most effective.

Passes were generally made at the right time, and to the right spot, with the result that the Uxbridge defence looked like the gold-brick end of a bunco game. They skated all kinds of circles around their opponents, and had no trouble in breaking away two three or four in line. The forwards played the game as it should be played. There was no hogging the puck, and although individual rushes were made it was only at times when they were more effective than a pass would have been. The only weak point was in shooting, although in the second half they improved considerably in that respect.

The bright and ever shining light of the game was Fred Whitcroft. The Peterborough captain played as he did three years ago, and his brilliant work was repeatedly cheered. His stick-handling was superb, and he showed phenomenal speed at all stages. Time after time he secured the rubber as his own goal, and, dodging through half the Uxbridge team, started a rush that was always dangerous. His team mates on the firing line gave him excellent support. Morgan was very prominent at centre, especially in the second half. He was in every combination play and skated and handled his stick well. During the first half his shooting was off colour, but he made up for it in the last period. Cavanah and Graham on the wings both played sterling hockey. They were always in their places for a pass and shot well. Each had his turn beat a mile and had not much difficulty in getting away for dashes along the boards.

The defence had a comparatively easy time, as it was only rarely the Uxbridge team struck off the local forwards, who checked back far too fast for them. Crowley played his usual effective game at cover, and the number that passed him is not big enough to worry about. Moore checked and relieved well. Ernie Wasson had rather a lonesome time in the nets, and they hardly came fast enough to worry him. Any that came straight were cleverly handled, with the result that a big dose of whitewash was administered to Uxbridge.

The visitors scarcely lived up to their advance notices, and as one spectator was heard to remark, "What kind of a team did they beat?" They seemed to be all at sea on the big rink, and the forwards were bunched too much to do any scoring. They were outclassed in every department. For the first fifteen minutes before Peterborough settled down, the visitors managed to hold their own, but it was all off after that. They had not much combination and their shooting was not of the kind calculated to win many prizes. Gilfillan and Patterson were about the pick of the forwards, while Diggle, the enterprising youth with the bright red bloomers stopped many shots at point.

Lou Burns of Toronto, gave general satisfaction as referee. His task was an easy one, as the game was one of the cleanest of the season, and the penalties were few.

Following is the line-up:

PETERBOROUGH.

Wasson.
Moore.
Crowley.
Whitcroft.
Graham, Morgan, Cavanah.
Gilfillan, Wilson, Patterson.
Gordon.
Anderson.
Diggle.
Tunstell.

UXBRIDGE.

The game began almost on time, to the great delight of the crowd, who thoroughly appreciated the innovation. Peterborough at once carried the puck into Uxbridge territory, and in a minute from the beginning the shots were raining in on Tunstell. Cavanah and Morgan broke away for a pretty rush, and the latter scored, but Referee Burns called them back for an off-side. Whitcroft and Morgan skated beautifully for a rush through the defence, but the latter's shot was wide. Finally, after four minutes' play Cavanah found the nets on a neat pass from Whitcroft. Score, 1—0.

Uxbridge did their best playing in the next period, and although the puck was in their half three-fourths of the time, they managed to stave off the locals for nearly fifteen minutes. The local forwards made rush after rush, but their shooting was bad and there was no scoring. Whitcroft's zig-zag dashes were a puzzle to the Uxbridge defence and with better marksmanship on the part of the Peterborough forwards at least a dozen more goals should have been scored. Uxbridge had a chance to score once when a face-off took place almost in the Peterborough nets, but they couldn't make connections. Finally Whitcroft got away for a beautiful rush, and Morgan did the needful. Score, 2—0.

The next three were scored in very quick order. Morgan made a neat shot from quarter way, and the score was 3—0.

Cavanah got the puck at centre, and after dodging Anderson passed to Graham, who scored on a very pretty shot from the boards. Score 4—0.

A few minutes after Whitcroft and Morgan united for a score, the former doing the trick. Score, 5—0.

Graham spent a minute on the fence. Half time.

The locals had things pretty much their own way in the second half. Early in the period Whitcroft was penalized for loafing. From the following face off, Morgan worried through for a pretty goal. Score, 6—0.

With Whitcroft still on the boards Morgan and Cavanah broke loose with a clever two-man rush, that easily eluded the Uxbridge defence. Cavanah went right in on the nets and scored easily. Score, 7—0.

Anderson was accidentally hurt, but played on after being patched up. Morgan made a pretty lone-hand dash for the nets, and scored. Score, 8—0.

Whitcroft began a rush and passed to Morgan, and the umpire's hand went up once more. Score, 9—0.

Crowley visited the timers for timers for tripping, and while he was off two more scores were hung up. Cavanah and Morgan combined for a score and then Graham, Whitcroft and Morgan got away for another, Morgan doing the shooting. Score, 11—0.

Crowley visited the timbers for tripping, and while he other score, and a moment later another was hung up on a combination rush by Morgan and Whitcroft. The game had become a series of relentless rushes by the Peterborough forwards. Cavanah scored on a pass from Morgan and a second after scored again on an individual rush. Cavanah got the last score, bringing the puck around from behind.

Summary.

The goals were scored as follows:—

1 Cavanah, 2 Morgan, 3 Morgan, 4 Graham, 5 Whitcroft, 6 Morgan, 7 Cavanah, 8 Morgan, 9 Morgan, 10 Morgan, 11 Morgan, 12 Morgan, 13 Whitcroft, 14 Cavanah, 15 Cavanah, 16 Cavanah.

Penalties — Whitcroft, Graham, Crowley 2.

HOCKEY

In Thursday's paper the score mentioned in Adamson & Dobbin's New Ideas vs. Adam Hall's Souvenirs hockey match was 6-1 in favour of the Souvenirs. This, it is understood, was the half time score. The full score was 8-1 in favour of Adamson and Dobbin's New Ideas who played all around their opponents in the latter half and won by a single goal. The play was rough and many of those participating have bodily reasons to remember the game.

Peterborough,
February 3rd, 1906.

Sporting Editor of Examiner:

I was very much pleased to see that last night's hockey match between Peterborough and Uxbridge commenced on good time. At many former matches the delay was almost insufferable and in most cases superfluous. There is probably nothing more painful than to sit in the refrigerator like rink waiting for the teams to come onto the ice and taking one's watch out every minute or so to see how the time's going, and calculating how long it will be before the game commences. The promptitude in commencing last night's match is much appreciated by the spectators and may it continue throughout the winter. If it does the hockey club may be assured of taking in more money at the gate, for the simple reason that the spectators will be better satisfied. There is nothing like beginning a game on scheduled time.

Yours truly,
ENTHUSIAST.

The Trusts and Guarantee Co.

LIMITED.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The Ninth Annual Meeting of the Shareholders of the Trusts and Guarantee Company, Limited, was held in the office of the Company, 14 King street west, Toronto, on Wednesday, January 31st, 1906. There was a large attendance of the Shareholders present at the meeting. The President, Hon. J. R. Stratton, was asked by the Shareholders to take the chair, and the Managing Director, Mr. James J. Warren, acted as secretary.

After the notice convening the meeting had been read, the Report of the Directors was submitted, and the balance sheet read. The Statement showed that after the payment of the two half-yearly dividends, at the rate of 8 per cent. per annum, amounting to $49,973.46, a balance was carried forward to Profit and Loss of $18,029.21, making a total of $118,342.80 at the credit of Profit and Loss Account on December 31st, 1905. The Directors' Report showed that the Company's business continued to show a satisfactory growth. The paid-up capital at the end of 1905 stood at $1,037,853.71.

In moving the adoption of the Report, the President, Mr. Stratton, pointed out that the gross receipts on account of the earnings of the Company for the past year amounted to $116,497.46, leaving a balance of $48,-002.67, after deducting all expenses of management, as the net profits for the year. He also showed that two dividends had been paid, amounting to $49,973.46, leaving a handsome sum to be carried forward to Profit and Loss Account, which now amounted to over 10 per cent. of the paid-up capital of the Company. It was also shown that the gross earnings of the past year amounted to nearly $20,000 over the preceding year.

The adoption of the Report was seconded by Mr. D. W. Karn, Vice-President, who observed that the earning powers of the Company had been largely augmented, and that there had been a good increase of business and profits. The increased earnings and business of the Company were most satisfactory to see, and the complete character of the Statement presented by the Manager to the shareholders was a subject for congratulation.

The Report was unanimously adopted, many of the Shareholders present expressing their confidence in the management and continued success of the Company.

The Shareholders approved of the action of the Directors in the appointment of Mr. James J. Warren as Director and Manager of the Company, in succession to the late manager.

A most satisfactory meeting was concluded by the usual resolutions of thanks to the management.

The following gentlemen were elected members of the Board of Directors for the year: Hon. J. R. Stratton, Hon. Senator McMillan, Alexandria; A. F. McLaren, M.P., Stratford; W. J. Sheppard, Waubaushene; C. Kloepfer, Guelph; W. M. German, M.P., Welland; F. M. Holland, Toronto; D. W. Karn, Woodstock; R. R. McLennan, Cornwall; T. H. Purdom, K.C., London; Wm. Thoburn, Almonte; James J. Warren, Toronto.

At a subsequent meeting of the Board of Directors, Hon. J. R. Stratton was re-elected President, and Messrs. D. W. Karn, of Woodstock, and C. Kloepfer, of Guelph, were re-elected Vice-Presidents.

In Peterborough they were defeated on the total score by 18 down and won at home by a margin of 7 up, giving Peterborough the laurels by 6 points. Six, however, is as good as a hundred and the admirers of the game here are congratulating the locals on the victory achieved.

Had Almost Attained The Century Mark

Mrs. Patrick Galvin, One of the Oldest Residents of Ennismore, Passed Away Last Night at the Age of 97 Years—Was a Native of Ireland and Had Lived in Ennismore Over Sixty Years.

REV. FATHER GALVIN WAS GRANDSON

One of the oldest residents of Peterborough county passed away last night in the person of Mrs. Patrick Galvin of Ennismore.

The deceased had reached the ripe old age of ninety-seven years, and had preserved her faculties almost to the end. She had been ill only a few days.

The late Mrs. Galvin was born in Ireland and came to Canada over 60 years ago, taking up residence in Ennismore, where she has resided ever since. She was twice married; her second husband predeceased her about eight years ago. She was favourably known by everyone in Ennismore township, and also by many people throughout the county.

Two sons and a daughter survive her by her second husband. They are Thomas, of Ennismore, with whom she lived, Morris of Minnesota; and Mrs. J. Crook, of Minnesota. Several children by her first husband also survive. Rev. Father Galvin of St. Peter's cathedral, is a grandson of the deceased.

The funeral will take place to-morrow morning at nine o'clock from the residence of her son, Mr. Thomas Galvin of Ennismore, to St. Martin's church and cemetery. Requiem high mass will be sung by Rev. Father Galvin.

Union Services Suggested By H. D. Kennedy

Who Addressed the Regular Meeting of Ministerial Association.

The regular monthly meeting of the Peterborough Ministerial Association was held this morning in the Y.M.C.A. parlour. Those present were: Rev. Canon Davidson, Rev. F. J. Scott, Rev. Dr. Orothers, Rev. W. J. Jolliffe, Rev. J. G. Lewis and Rev. Dr. Torrance. Evangelist H. D. Kennedy was also present and was welcomed as a visitor.

Rev. Canon Davidson read a paper on Ritual and Religion which proved most interesting and instructive. He strongly emphasized the point that Ritual, however necessary and complete is only serving its purpose when subsidiary to Religion. Guarding the danger of relying on form it may greatly promote the inner and spiritual.

The schedule of visitation for the hospitals and Protestant Home was arranged as follows:—

First week, Rev. J. G. Lewis.
Second week, Rev. Canon Davidson.
Third week, Rev. A. H. Brace.
Forth week—Rev. Dr. Orothers.

Evangelist Kennedy addressed the Association in reference to Union Evangelistic Services.

Returns From Sault Ste. Marie

Mr. Latimer Tells Some Interesting Facts About New Ontario Towns.

Mr. J. W. Latimer, who returned from a three week's business trip to Sault Ste. Marie, arrived in the city Friday night and supplies some interesting information concerning that district. He was in Sudbury when 15 teams and sleighs, belonging to the Ontario Lumber Co., went through the ice near that town, and all the horses were drowned, the drivers having a hair-breadth escape. The loss to the lumber company is estimated at about $6,000. Mr. Latimer says that while the weather has been cold, the ferries are still plying between the Canadian and American Saults, an unusual thing for this time of the year. The lumbering operations are very seriously affected by the small quantity of snow in the woods, and while Sault Ste. Marie and neighbouring towns are very brisk, commercially, at present, the reaction of the dull winter will certainly be felt during the coming spring and summer. The sleighing at the Sault and vicinity has been very poor this winter up to the time of the recent snowfall. Taken altogether, this is a bad winter for the New Ontario towns.

Mr. Latimer left this morning for another business trip to other towns in Northern Ontario.

Early Visitors Not Appreciated

North End Resident Did Several Remarkable Stunts in an Airy Costume.

Several north end residents had an early morning caller on Saturday, whose visit was to say the least untimely and not appreciated. One of them hearing a series of knocks on his front door, and under the impression that his house was on fire or that some other equally serious calamity had befallen him, dashed down in a costume of comic opera airiness and found a man very much under the influence of liquor. A little moral persuasion induced him to take his departure. He crossed the street and the same scene was enacted there. To cap the climax the nocturnal visitor returned to the house of resident No. 1, who rose in his wrath; grabbed the invader and hurrying him across the lawn dropped him into a conveniently situated snow bank.

THE WEATHER.

The expected change to colder weather came to hand on schedule time, and we are now experiencing a taste of "the real thing" in a Canadian winter. This morning at daybreak, the temperature was 3 degrees below zero; later on in the forenoon the self-registering index dropped to 11 degrees below, while at noon it marked 4 degrees below. It will probably reach a lower figure to-night than last night. We will have it very cold for several days more at least.

Dastardly Assault Made ON AN INNOCENT Young Country Girl

Affair Caused Great Excitement on Saturday Night—Brute Lured Girl to a Lonely Spot and Then Tried to Take Advantage of Her---A Desperate Struggle Followed and Girl's Screams Aroused Residents Across the River—Was in a Pitiable Condition When Found.

A story of almost incredible brutality on the part of a young man, and of simplicity equally astonishing on the part of a local girl, was revealed on Saturday night.

It appears that the girl in question, who is a domestic in the employ of a local physician, and who has but recently come to the city from a nearby township, met the man in the case several times, and on Saturday night, about 8.30 o'clock, went for a walk with him. When they reached the American Cereal Company's mill and the man proposed a stroll along the river, saying it was more quiet there, the girl in her innocence consented, and unhesitatingly accompanied him. [illegible] they plunged through the drifting snow until they reached the old mill on the river bank. One would have thought that the roughness of the path and the desolate surroundings would have warned her, but she trusted to his honour.

Unfortunately, the man was not worthy of the confidence placed in him. He made overtures to her, and when she indignantly refused he made a most brutal assault on her, and a desperate struggle resulted. The girl fought fiercely to save her honour, and her screams for help aroused the residents along the East City side of the river. Great excitement was caused. People ran out with lanterns and pike-poles, thinking that some one had fallen into the river. They could discover no traces of anyone, however, and in the meantime the screams for help rang out through the snow-filled air.

One man at last thought that the sounds came from across the river, and he hurriedly ran over the bridge. As he reached the Peterborough side he noticed a man come out from among the several mill buildings and hurry up Hunter street. The East City man was unable to get more than a glimpse of him, and continued along the river bank. As he approached the old mill he saw the girl, who tried to steal away when she saw him. He called out to her [illegible] and the poor girl came back. She was in a pitiable condition, and for a while would not tell her reason what the matter was. Finally she sobbed out her story.

The man advised her to go to the police station and lay an information against the man. She has not, however, done so, and unless she reconsiders her decision the guilty man will go unpunished, as his identity is known to her alone. It is doubtful if even she knows his right name, as the one he gave her was so common that it looked as if he were trying to deceive her in this matter as well.

It should be a warning to other girls who associate with men about whom they know little or nothing.

A Local Capitalist Held 300 Shares

Mr. Hugh Waddell Held That Number in the Henderson Roller Bearing Company--The Re-organization Plan.

A number of encouraging letters and letters of inquiry have been received by Mr. N. W. Rowell, K. C., concerning the proposed reorganization of the Henderson Roller Bearing Manufacturing Company, Limited.

The reorganization committee will hold its first meeting at 2 o'clock this afternoon in room 94 of the Canada Life building. Among the matters the committee will have under consideration is an agreement with the Trusts and Guarantee Company in regard to the depositing of money by shareholders who are subscribing to the reorganization, and also an agreement with the Toronto Roller Bearing Company, Limited, in regard to the ownership of the patents. As several of the committee named by Mr. Rowell have not as yet signified their intention to act, the names cannot be made public at present.

Mr. Rowell stated last night that no effort had been made to secure stock since the last day of the meeting of the shareholders and the day following. The total amount subscribed then was $36,000, which includes the subscription of Hugh Waddell, of Peterborough, who held 300 shares in the old company, and who, under the plan of reorganization, may pay into the new company about $9,000.—Globe.

Labour Was Fairly

WELL EMPLOYED DURING

Month Of December

Ald. W. J. Johnston, in Monthly Report to The Labour Gazette, Speaks of Local Conditions—Mild Weather Resulted in Considerable Work Being Done in the Building Trades—Carpenters and Plasterers Were Active.

Ald. W. J. Johnston, the Peterborough correspondent of the Labour Gazette, sends the following report to that journal for the month of December:

Owing to the mild weather during December, labour has been fairly well employed. Manufacturing establishments were active, and considerable work was under way in the building trades. All iron workers were particularly active, as were also carpenters and plasterers.

Business during Christmas week was exceptionally good, and transportation active. Banks reported a steady business. Wage rates remained unchanged, and the labour market was free from strikes.

A large channel was being dredged out in the river bed, giving employment to a number of men. The large addition to the cereal mill was rapidly nearing completion, and the work of placing the new machinery of the Pre-Payment Metre Company was pushed forward. The auxiliary pipe for the waterworks service has been completed and is ready for use.

It is calculated that, with the same pressure at the pump house, the pressure in the centre of the city will be increased by 15 pounds. All field work on the surveys of the Trent Canal have been completed, and preparation of plans and estimates will now be proceeded with. Peterborough oatmeal mill and elevator were also finished and the installation of machinery proceeded with. The Machine Telephone Co. was busy putting in new 'phones in all parts of the city. Its central system installation was fairly under way.

The city corporation has laid over five miles of concrete walks during the year by day labour, the average cost per square foot being 10 38-100c. Over 10,000 cubic yards of gravel were placed on the several streets, and also 2,745 cubic yards of broken stone. The Water Commissioners have the matter of a filtering system under consideration.

The Brock street rink has had several improvements made to the building, and it is now in good condition for the winter season. The street railway company has opened an open air rink at Jackson Park. All who patronize the cars have free access to the rink. The company is also erecting a toboggan slide.

The Peterborough Lock Company has paid a 6 per cent. dividend for the past year.

The question of a reduction in the price of bread has been causing discussion. It was found that when flour went up in price the bakers here held to their price, viz., 10 cents, while in other places the price went up to 12 cents; when flour was reduced in price, the bakers in other places reduced the price to 10 cents, while the Peterborough bakers sold it at the same price throughout.

It was stated that as soon as negotiations can be concluded, a large manufacturing concern will begin operations for a plant for manufacturing all kinds of stoves and heaters. The concern will employ at least 50 men the first year, and when fully established will increase that number to 800 skilled mechanics.

Condition of Local Industries.

Agriculture—Activity was shown in the hauling of wood and farm produce to market. Some threshing was being done.

Lumbering—The retail market was fairly active. All the lumbering concerns have several camps getting out logs for next year's supply.

Manufacturing—Manufacturing was exceptionally active in all branches. The American Cereal Mill Company is engaging in the manufacture of puffed rice, the ordinary rice being put through a patent process which causes the grain to swell to the size of a 5-grain capsule. As a confection, it will take the place of popcorn. A 300-barrel per day mill is being installed.

Mining—Conditions were reported quiet.

Railway construction and employment—The ordinary section work was carried on in the several sections of the district. The C. P. R. Company has a large surveying party busy making surveys from Peterborough to Midland, for a short distance route between Midland and eastern ports and to facilitate the handling of grain and other freight. It is thought that, if this road is built through the city of Peterborough, the C. P. R. Company will establish car shops and constitute the city a divisional point.

Condition of Particular Trades.

Building trades—Bricklayers, owing to the very mild weather, have been very active, but masons, lathers, gas and steam fitters and stonecutters were dull. Carpenters, joiners, plasterers and builders' labourers were fairly busy.

Metal, engineering and shipbuilding trades—Iron moulders, workers and helpers, machinists, engineers, electrical workers, brass workers, blacksmiths, tool sharpeners, horseshoers and jewellers were very busy. Steam engineers, linemen, boilermakers, ship workers and sheet metal workers were well employed.

Woodworking and furnishing trades — Woodworkers, varnishers, polishers, and carriage and waggon makers were well employed. Upholsterers and car builders were fairly busy. Wood carvers and coopers had a dull month.

Printing and allied trades—These trades were exceptionally active, the Christmas trade increasing employment materially.

Clothing trades—Journeymen tailors, garment workers, hat makers and boot and shoe workers had a very busy month.

Food and tobacco preparation — Bakers and confectioners were exceptionally active. Butchers were very busy, and cigarmakers reported trade very steady.

Leather trades—Leather workers were doing a fairly active trade.

Miscellaneous—Barbers were fairly active. Broom makers had steady employment. Clerks, stenographers, delivery employees and furriers were very busy, and hotel, restaurant and theatre employees and laundry workers were fully employed.

Transport—Railway workers were very active, holiday traffic having been very heavy. Street railway employees also were active. Cab drivers, carters and expressmen were well employed, but teamsters and steamboat men had a dull month.

Unskilled labour—This class had a quiet month.

District Notes.

Considerable interest was shown in a number of practical addresses given by experienced men on dairying and the bacon hog. A great scarcity of hogs prevailed during the first part of the month, but this was relieved towards the latter part. The farming representatives met the tariff commission while in session here. The roundhouse at Havelock was greatly improved. Ten thousand cords of wood were being taken out by one wood dealer, giving employment to a large force of men. Trade throughout the district was fairly prosperous. Good markets were exhibited here weekly, with large supplies of all kinds of produce, at the following prices:

Potatoes, 90c per bag.
Apples, according to variety. Spies, $3 per barrel.
Beef, 4c and 5c per lb.
Pork, 9c and 10c per lb.
Chickens, 50c and 60c per pair.
Butter, 22c per lb.
Eggs, 25c per doz.
Turkeys, $1.25 to $1.75 each.
Geese, 85c to $1.05 each.
Hay, $9 to $10 per ton.
Wood, $5 to $7 per cord.

THE WORST KIND

After Piles have existed for a long time and passed through different stages, the suffering is intense—pain, aching, throbbing, tumors form, filled to bursting with black blood.

Symptoms indicating other troubles may appear to a throughly Pile-sick person.

This is when Dr. Leonhardt's Hem Roid, the only absolute Pile cure, brings the results that has made its fame.

It will cure the most stubborn case in existence and a bonded guarantee to that effect goes with each package.

Hem-Roid is to be had for $1.00 at the drug store, or from The Wilson-Fyle Company, Limited, Niagara Falls, Ont. 3

Employees Are Treated Well

The Labour Gazette for January has the following reference in the Hull correspondent's report to a local company's works: An unfortunate delay in the completion of the Mattewa factory extension has deprived a good many hands of the means of earning good wages this winter. By a mistake of the contractors, the roof and two top storeys had to be torn down and rebuilt. When the new wing is fitted up and in operation, some 40 people will have employment. The Matthews Company will soon employ about 200 hands, and their wages are for the most part above $12 per week. All extra hours are paid double, and the men speak in the highest terms of the treatment they receive.

A Promoter Of Clean Sport

The Toronto News on Saturday published an excellent half-tone cut of Mr. Fred A. Clarke, with the following comment:—

Mr. Fred A. Clarke, whose cut appears above, has been, since his four years' residence in Peterborough, actively identified with amateur sport. He has always taken a deep interest in its promotion and has taken a firm stand in all that is clean and legitimate in connection with true sport. Before going to Peterborough, Mr. Clarke was prominent in Barrie and Simcoe sporting circles. In Peterborough he has been connected with hockey, baseball, rugby, lacrosse and lawn tennis. In 1903 he was in the C.L.A. Council. This winter he is President of the Hockey League of Peterborough, and Hon. President of the Guild Hockey League. Mr. Clarke is a prominent Peterborough furrier.

Swimming May Be Taught In Ontario Schools

This Art as a Life-Saver May be Added to List of Subjects in Which Instruction May be Given—G. H. Corson at Present Gives Oral Instruction in the Art—Some of the Advantages.

MINISTER OF EDUCATION SAID TO BE IMPRESSED

Many Peterborough people will remember Mr. G. H. Corsan, who last summer accompanied Mr. H. T. Strickland to this city, from Toronto, for the purpose of swimming rom Lakefield to the Lift Lock, a feat which the latter accomplished successfully. Mr. Carson is a teacher of the art of swimming, and advocates its teaching as an addition to the list of subjects taught in the schools.

The Toronto Sunday World, of yesterday has an interesting article, in which the question is dealt with. The World says:

Swimming bids fair to become a national accomplishment in the next era of Canadian evolution. The provincial Minister of Education is radical in his belief that it should be twaught in all schools, and under his direction, lectures by G. H. Corsan, Master of Swimming in Toronto University, have been given in various institutions throughout the province. The officials of the Toronto schools were strongly impressed with a recent lecture by Mr. Corsan, and as a result a swimming course may be introduced in High School and Collegiate studies.

G. H. CORSON,

As Mr. Corsan puts it, the average swimmer could by oral instruction, from one who has made it a scientific study, be much improved personally and be impressed to such an extent that he would act promptly and effectively in emergencies. As long as time is accidents are bound to happen, but according to Mr. Corsan there is absolutely no need why they should result in calamity. He took, for instance, a couple out in a boat or a canoe; they are capsized, one is a swimmer, and the other a non-swimmer. The swimmer will dive down and look around for the body, and come up repeatedly without having located it. If he had sense enough to look up through the semi-opaque water he would have located his object in the first dive, because the tendency of a body is to rise rather than to sink. Then, suppose he finds his companion there are a dozen different ways in which he is likely to be clutched, and if he is not skilled the very first clinch will kill his heroic endeavour. Mr. Corsan demonstrated with an assistant clothing him in every conceivable manner, showing the different methods of release. He was grasped by both wrists, he was caught tightly around the neck, he had both arms pinned down to his side, and was even clutched by the lower limbs, but it was an easy matter for him to free himself, each time placing the rescuer at a disadvantage and enabling himself to gain the proper position in which to tow the struggler ashore.

When the aquatic dangers are past and the unfortunate one is high and dry on the land, he may be pretty far gone, and the rescuer may still fail in his object, if he is not acquainted with the methods of resuscitation. The lecturer teaches different methods for different conditions. If no one is present but the single rescuer, the "Marshall-Hale" method should be employed; with two or more to assist, the "Sylvester," or the "Howard," or the two combined, which is the U. S. life saving method.

Oral instruction would be valuable also to non-swimmers. Many of this class, as explained by the professor, are drowned wading near the shore. The tendency is to keep the arms and hands high, when they should never be out of the water, for should the paddler suddenly step over his depth with his hands under the water, he could push himself back to the ledge, instead of falling headlong beneath the surface. Then, too, Mr. Corsan added, a non-swimmer will do the very worst things all in a bunch. He will throw the hands high, will yell all the air out of his lungs, struggle and force all the air out of his clothing, and if some one tries to rescue him, he will do his best to drown him. When rising above the water, instead of yelling and exhaling, he should groan loudly, which would attract attention, and at the same time he would take in a supply of air for the next immersion.

Those who heard the lecture were inclined amicably towards the idea of teaching swimming in the city schools, and the matter will be up for discussion before the Board of Education in the very near future.

Men's Meeting At The Y.M.C.A.

A Large Attendance at the Meeting Yesterday.

The Men's Meeting at the Y.M.C.A. yesterday was well attended and the interest better than at any preceding meeting thus far this year. Mr. A. M. Bunt, chairman of the Sunday Meeting Committee, led the song service in which all present heartily joined.

The Misses Chasty sang a duet in a very impressive manner. The orchestra enlivened the meeting by joining in the song service. Rev. J. G. Potter gave a very able address on the "Counsel of the Old Men vs. The Young Men." At the close of the address he sang "I Surrender All." Mr. Potter will speak again next Sunday. The Torrey-Alexander hymn book will be used and Mr. J. T. Thornton will sing.

ALL RUN DOWN

Weak---Nervous---Unstrung.

Thousands get run down and become invalids before they realize anything is wrong. By permitting low vitality to develop, the way is paved for fevers, pneumonia and diphtheria. To put off makes it all the harder to get well. The time to repair the system is right now, before the damage gets any worse. The remedy is Ferrozone; it revitalizes, renews, builds up vitality that outlasts old age.

FERROZONE is a genuine invigorator that banishes weakness, and instils surplus force and vigor into every organ of the body. Ferrozone sharpens the appetite, produces rich nutritious blood, and thereby contributes that sense of buoyancy that adds so enormously to one's pleasure and usefulness in life.

For all forms of debility, weakness, lack of blood or nerve tone, sleeplessness, tiredness and exhaustion, there is no medicine so vitalizing and potent as Ferrozone. Even one trial demonstrates its rapidly and certainty of action.

To restore the energy of youth, to get back your vital stamina and reserve force, there is positively no treatment so certain as Ferrozone. You have only to try Ferrozone to know the enormous benefit it invariably brings to all in poor health.

FERROZONE

Miss Dorothy E. Leduc of Chester gives the following concluding evidence of Ferrozone's power. "My work compels me to rise early in the morning and work ten hours daily as a saleslady. Last Spring I was run down, lost my color, and fell off in weight. I seemed to lack ambition and the life was out of me. A friend recommended Ferrozone, and I took one tablet after meals with wonderful results. Ferrozone brought back my complexion, and has given me new strength and abundance of energy and spirits. I would advise all young ladies to use Ferrozone."

Gave New Strength

Mrs. H. G. Wilder of Dexter says:—"My daughter was not very well last Winter, and lost her strength completely when the Spring came. I gave her Ferrozone, and am glad to say it did wonders. After six boxes were used my daughter was strong, and looked the picture of health."

It makes the weak strong, the sick well, and assures lasting good health.

WARNING—Beware of any substitute for Ferrozone; it alone can cure you. Sold by all druggists and dealers in medicine, only in 50c boxes containing 50 chocolate-coated tablets. By mail to any address if price is forwarded to N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., or Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

Local Artists Were Heard At Warsaw Concert

Miss Carrie White and Mrs. N. E. Bell Contributed to Programme.

Special to The Examiner

Warsaw, Feb. 5.—"The best ever heard here." "Hope they'll give another soon," are some of the expressions heard since the Foresters' concert, given on Thursday evening. Dummeronians have not the reputation of being timid or cowardly, and that they are not degenerating is evident by the large number who showed defiance to a 20-degrees-below-zero thermometer, in order to attend the concert. The town hall had been decorated by the committee, with mottoes and bunting, and presented a lively, festive appearance. Mr. R. Copeland, of Millbrook, organizer for the society, proved an ideal chairman, his affable manner winning the audience at once. Mr. Copeland also spoke in the interests of the order, and gave strangers a good idea of the benefits to be derived from being a member.

Miss Carrie White, of Peterborough, and Mr. Will J. White, of Toronto, were the chief contributors to the programme.

In her second appearance here, Miss White proved herself worthy of the excellent reputation made on the occasion of her first visit, and in a great many ways showed marked advancement. Considering her youth Miss White is indeed a talented elocutionist, for whom a great future is in store. Warm applause greeted each number, and she was forced to respond to repeated encores.

Mr. Will J. White, in his first appearance here, "caught on" with his first number. In the selection, "Character Impersonations," by slight references to a suitcase on the stage, he gave excellent representations of typical characters of many lands, with amazing rapidity and exactness. In the number, "The Comedian of the Past," Mr. White displayed his ability to deal with the dramatic, and instantly won the sympathy of his audience for his character. For those who have "nearly died laughing" to attend a concert at which Will J. White is to take part, would be indeed courting disaster. The accompanist of the evening, Miss N. E. Bell, of Peterborough, performed her task very tastefully.

School Muddle At Bowmanville

Some Difficulties Which the Board is Into.

Bowmanville seems to have no sooner unravelled its municipal tangle, than it has a scholastic muddle to extricate itself from, according to the Oshawa Vindicator, which gives us full particulars last week as follows: "The death of Principal Gillfillan of the Bowmanville High School, has led to a queer tangle. Miss Allin, a lady teacher of the staff, was appointed principal, and has been acting in that capacity for three months, and now the male teachers of the staff, Messrs. Frost, Thompson and Carpenter, have resigned in a body, being averse to further service under Miss Allin. The Board tried to smooth things over by appointing Mr. Frost, whereupon Miss Allin declined to teach under any of the male members of the staff, and this put the Board in a predicament. At a special meeting on Monday night it was decided to maintain Miss Allin as principal at all hazards, and it is now up to the male assistants to either climb down or gracefully retire."

The Lakefield Cement Works Most Complete

Reference to the Machinery Equipment of the Company.

In the annual report of the Ontario Bureau of Mines for 1905, a section is devoted to the cement industry in this province and reference is made to the Lakefield Portland Cement Co., as follows:—

The Lakefield Portland Cement Company, Limited, began manufacturing on the 2nd day of January, 1902. For the purpose of getting access to some eight hundred acres of submerged marl in the Township of Douro, the company drained Buckley's Lake, which is one and a half miles from the village of Lakefield, the site of the works. The marl is transported this distance in the company's own steel dump cars, hauled by its own locomotives over its own railroad. Clay is obtained from Lily Lake in the Township of Smith, on the Midland division of the Grand Trunk Railway. It covers an area of twenty acres and varies in depth from five to fifteen feet.

Excavation from both deposits is carried on by means of immense steam-operated hydraulic elevators, which, plying on a track of fourteen feet gauge, are self-propelling and lift, carry and lay their own track in twenty-feet sections. Each will load under favourable conditions, a thirty-ton flat car in seven minutes. The marl averages nine feet in depth, but reaches twenty feet in places.

In a single rotary washmill, the raw materials are given their preliminary mixing. This mill consists of a cylindrical basin eighteen feet in diameter, provided with two feeding chutes, one for marl and one for clay at opposite sides. The former is measured by volume; the latter by weight. The basin is provided with a vertical centre shaft that carries horizontal arms to which heavy "drags" are attached. The shaft is made to revolve and the mixing of the two materials is thus more or less completely accomplished. To secure a still more perfect incorporation of the two ingredients, the mix is passed through emery grinding grinding stones and thence to tube mills. Unlike many others, these mills are lined with wooden blocks sawn to the proper arc, which may be easily removed and replaced by others when worn. Six cylindrical concrete and six wooden storage vats receive the slurry after the raw grinding is completed, the method being to test and correct the mix in each before admitting to the kiln pumps. It is so arranged that any one tank or any number of tanks may be receiving slurry at any time, while the supply for the rotary kiln is drawn only from those in which the mixture is known to be correct. Sufficient slurry for forty-eight hours' burning may be easily stored here.

As in another plant previously described, a trough traverse to the axes of the kilns receives the slurry from the storage tanks. The method of agitating by compressed air is employed here, as it is in the storage tanks, and is reported as being eminently efficient.

Pumps supply the rotaries, of which there are six, three being sixty feet and three one hundred feet long. The former revolve at the rate of sixty revolutions per minute, and the latter at about forty. The upper ten feet of the length of each kiln has large channel irons rivetted on the inside of the kiln longitudinally. These serve by tossing the semi-fluid slurry, the better to expose it to the hot gases, and assist in the expulsion of the water. The shorter kilns are said to give the better satisfaction. The usual methods of controlling speed, feed of slurry and of ground coal to the kilns are employed here.

The kilns discharge into a horizontal conveyer, and the clinker is ultimately elevated and admitted to rotary cylindrical coolers. These are provided also with channel irons rivetted to the inside of the cylinder. Cool air is drawn through these coolers, and after taking up the heat of the clinker, is delivered by blower to the ground coal kiln feeders.

The grinding of the clinker is accomplished by ball and tube mills, both Krupp and Bonnot makes being employed.

Slaked coal is dried in a revolving drier, and then pulverized in Raymond vertical mills.

Power is obtained from Lock No. 3 of the Peterborough-Lakefield section of the Trent canal, three miles distant, and also from Young's Point, five miles from the plant. Generators are provided at each place, and the electrical energy wired to the place of consumption. These powers are constructed to operate jointly or singly, and either is capable of carrying on the work of manufacture, so that a "shut-down" of the works on account of lack of power is never feared.

The output is between six hundred and seven hundred barrels per day. Export of cement and importation of coal for fuel are as yet almost wholly by rail, but the completion of the Trent canal will undoubtedly mean the utilization of water for both purposes to a very great extent—and the report might have very truthfully added, at a very great reduction in cost, the estimate being made that about twenty-five per cent. of the profits being absorbed by railway freights. This constitutes one of many strong reasons for the completion of the canal.

Farm Sold For Sum Of $10,200

Mr. J. F. McCarthy, of the International Harvester Co., of this city, has disposed of his farm in Asphodel, to Messrs. Daniel Kelly and Andrew Knox, for the sum of $10,200. The farm is the east half of lots 18 and 19th, of the sixth concession of Asphodel.

The Services Well Attended

Special Meetings at Mark Street Church Yesterday.

The services in the Mark street Methodist church yesterday were of a special character, partaking of an evangelistic nature. The pastor, Rev. J. G. Lewis, preached at both the morning and evening services, his theme being the motto which Torrey and Alexander used in their recent meetings in Toronto, "Get Right With God." In the morning the talk was to Christians, and at night to the unsaved.

The attendance at all the services was large and the interest manifested in the subjects dealt with in the sermons. The love feast took place before the morning service and at the closing the sacrament was celebrated with the largest number of communicants in the history of the church.

A special service was held in the afternoon, when the music formed an important feature. The Torrey and Alexander books were used, and the assistance was given the members of the school in the musical service by Messrs. Jas. Browne, C. Thornton and Milner, of George street church.

The church was filled again at night, when the pastor preached. The services for the day were most helpful and doubtless considerable good will result from them.

Manitoba Lady A Centenarian

Mrs. Argue Said to be 108 Years Old by a Peterboro' Resident.

Mrs. Henry Argue, a Manitoba centenarian, has lately been discovered as a former resident of Millbrook; and the following sketch from the Toronto Globe may be of great interest to Millbrook people, who are living in this city.

An acquaintance of hers in Peterborough says Mrs. Argue is 108 years of age:

Winnipeg, Jan. 28.—An interesting pioneer of Elgin, Man., has just been discovered in the person of Mrs. Henry Argue, formerly of Millbrook, Ont. She was born on August 15, 1800, and is therefore 106 years of age next birthday. An acquaintance of hers in Peterborough, Ont., who looked up the records in Pattito, Ireland, where Mrs. Argue was born, declares her to be really 108, according to the parish register. She emigrated to Canada and settled in Otvan Township, in 1843, after the death of her first husband. In 1845 she married John Speer and resided in the Township of Dulmer until his death 17 years later. She afterwards married her third husband, Henry Argue, of Millbrook, Ont., and resided there and in Floss Township until his death, when she came to Manitoba with her daughter and grandson, who took up their residence here 23 years ago.

WOMAN'S NEED

AT THE CRITICAL PERIODS OF HER LIFE AND HOW IT IS BEST SUPPLIED BY

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

We are sometimes asked why Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is so successful in curing the ailments peculiar to women, and this is the explanation:

The feminine organism is a regular network of nerves, and consequently requires an enormous quantity of rich, nourishing blood.

At the critical times such as the dawn of womanhood, the child-bearing and nursing age and the change of life, nerve force is consumed at a tremendous rate.

The blood is drawn away from other parts of the body, and the result is neuralgic pains and aches, failure of the digestive system, and a run-down condition of the body generally.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food supplies exactly what is most needed at these times—the very elements from which rich blood and vital nerve force are made.

Women who suffer from weakness and irregularities from painful periods and distressing headaches, from tired, worn-out feelings, and the disorders of the digestion, will be surprised at the benefits obtained from the use of the great food cure of Dr. Chase.

Mrs. Chas. Keeling, Sr., Owen Sound, Ont., writes:—"It is a pleasure to tell what great benefits I have derived from the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I am fifty-five years of age, and for about five years my life was one of great suffering from nervousness, weakness and extreme physical exhaustion. I could not sleep, and hot flashes would pass through my body from feet to head. I consulted our family physician and two other doctors, but they told me about my time of life I was likely to be troubled that way. I continually grew worse, and despaired of ever being cured. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food came to my notice, and as we have Dr. Chase's Receipt Book, I had confidence in the doctor. I was so surprised at the help I received from the first box that I brought three more. They built me right up, and made me feel healthy and strong again. They have proven a great blessing to me, and I hope this testimonial will be of help to some weak, nervous woman suffering as I did."

It is well worth your while to put and, while the blood and nerves are being revitalized and the form rounded out, note your increase in weight, so that you may have positive proof of the blood-forming value of this great medicine. 50 cts. a box, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. Portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, on every box.

EMMERSON AND TRANSPORTATION.

The administration by Hon. Mr. Emmerson, Minister of Railways and Canals, of his tremendous trust has amply justified the confidence represented by his appointment to the position he holds. He is a somewhat broad man, physically, but he is quite as broad in mind, in view, and in his interpretation of the transportation needs of the country. He is also intelligent in his methods, for he takes pains to make himself personally familiar with conditions with which he has to deal. His visit to Peterborough yesterday is an evidence of this. He wanted to see for himself the conditions in relation to the lift lock, and other features of the local canal situation, so that he may deal in an intelligent manner with the investigating engineer's report, whose disposal has been entrusted to him. He makes himself commendably busy with interests pertaining to the department he has charge of, and makes a close study of such matters. While he is careful, almost to plodding, in the work of informing himself in regard to such matters, he has a large optimism and a large faith in the future of the country. What is particularly interesting to the people of this district at the present time is his firm belief in the fact that the importance of canals as a factor in water transportation is not of the past, but the future. His interest in transportation is of the most practical kind.

Mr. Emmerson was a guest at the twentieth annual dinner of the Canadian Society of Civil Engineers, in Toronto. In reply to the toast of "Our Guests," he is thus reported: Hon. H. R. Emmerson, Minister of Railways and Canals, gave an interesting and humourous address.

"Of course," he said, jocularly, "you will expect from one so long associated with the political life of this country the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth. (Laughter.) On occasions I suppose men in public life do speak the truth." (Renewed laughter.)

The Minister spoke in high terms of the importance of the profession which the members represented, and said he recognized that there were men round that board who had been pioneers in the advancement which Canada had made during the past 20 years. Alluding to the Georgian Bay Canal, (which a previous speaker had mentioned), the Minister said: "That is simply a matter of a hundred millions or so, but it will be built, I doubt not. I do not doubt you will see water communication between the Georgian Bay and Lake Ontario. I do not care which route it will take."

Mr. Emmerson spoke in glowing terms of the future of Canada, and said that the railways which were now being merely whispered about would, when the society held its fortieth annual meeting, be not mere probabilities, but realities. The speaker pointed out that in all of the United States they had not one single transcontinental line of railway running from ocean to ocean, but when speaking in Southern California he was able to tell his hearers that in Canada we had one, and that we were pretty hard at work on two others, and it would not be long before we had three transcontinental lines connecting the Pacific and the Atlantic. Dealing with the growing popularity of Canada, he said that Sir Wilfrid Laurier, when he made the statement that the nineteenth century belonged to the United States, and the twentieth century belongs to Canada, never made a truer statement.

"This century must be ours," remarked the speaker. "Hitherto our colleges and our schools had been the nurseries for the United States. Preachers and teachers, lawyers and doctors and the best of our engineers had been going to the States. Why? Because there had not been the field for them in Canada. But all that was passing away now, and there were greater opportunities for Canada's young men."

ON THE DOWNWARD PATH.

It is bad enough for parents to allow their boys to run about the streets at night; for parents to permit their young daughters this liberty is far worse. The number of young girls in short skirts that are seen parading the streets at night is so great as to be positively alarming, and the police authorities have at last resolved to take action and make a few examples.

Not all of these young street-promenaders are vicious. Most of them, probably, are only careless and foolish, or — more's the pity — are not blessed with pleasant homes, and are glad to escape from them. But they soon grow bold and pert, then brazen, then reckless, and finally vicious — victims themselves, and on the look-out for victims. The downward path is so easy for these girls to take, and it is to be feared that many of them take it.

It seems almost incredible that virtuous mothers of average sense and experience can complacently permit their young daughters to wander at will about the streets until late at night. If such permission is given the mother is much more to blame than the daughter, and it is almost reasonable to suspect that in such a case the mother is not unwilling to have the girl embark upon a career of crime. If mothers wish to avoid such a terrible suspicion, they should be careful to guard their girls from the taint that comes from nocturnal street-walking. In such cases thoughtlessness and good-natured compliance are little short of criminal.

It is to be hoped that the crusade which has been begun by the police will be kept up. But the efforts of the police to suppress this evil can be successful in a very small degree at best. They cannot prosecute all girls whom they see on the streets after dark; they can proceed against those only who have become notorious, and then the main mischief has been wrought. Do the best they can the police cannot perform the duties which ought to be performed by parents.—Hamilton Herald.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

In Whitney Government circles they are still hard at work inventing excuses for the defeat of the Government candidate in the Kingston bye-election. Mr. Whitney is himself, says the Ottawa Free Press, the most severely disappointed, because he went to Kingston and got Hon. Dr. Reaume to talk about the great things that the Government were about to do at the asylum, in the hope of influencing doubtful voters, and when he was in Ottawa he expressed himself as cocksure of success. Instead of that his Government got a black eye.

There is talk of installing a $6,000,000 water system in the Yukon to aid in the development of the Yukon, and Parliament is to be asked to lend its aid. No objection can be raised to the granting powers, says the London Advertiser, to develop the gold mining region, but Parliament must take care that the territory pays its way. The country is not like a farming territory, which will continue to give sustenance to a population as long as water flows and grass grows green. The time will come when the gold will be worked out, and the safe plan will be to make the territory pay its way as it goes along.

The Toronto World aches to see the Liberal party declare itself to be "the sworn foe of the private corporations." That would be very silly. The Toronto World is a private corporation, suggests the Hamilton Times. Most of the great businesses of the country, and of all countries, are carried on by private corporations, which are merely associations of men who join their capital according to law so that a business may be done which no one of them could do alone. Why should the Liberal party be the foe of any private corporation? Isn't the World somewhat rabid? As long as a corporation obeys the law it should have the respect of, and be defended by, all law-abiding people.

To pick quarrels with the Dominion has long been regarded as good tactics by Provincial Governments opposed in politics to the Ottawa administration. But the advantage of an issue of this sort is not as great as it used to be. After all, the Dominion, remarks the Winnipeg Free Press, is not a foreign country. We are citizens of the Dominion as well as of the Province; and we are, in point of fact, much prouder of the Dominion than of the Province. That there should be clashes between the two Governments is not remarkable; but treated as differences between business houses are, they would always be easily adjusted. The Roblin Government prefers, however, when there is a divergence of opinion, to make a political grievance out of it in the hope that a few votes may thus be captured. The people of Manitoba will always be ready to give their Government support when they have a real ground of complaint against the Ottawa Government; but they are not to be stampeded by any purely factitious cry.

THE PRESERVATION OF NIAGARA.

New Orleans Times-Democrat.

The president of the United States recently called attention to the danger threatening Niagara and protests against the desecration of nature for the mere utilization of nature's gift for commercial purposes. Recently the American Association for the Advancement of Science, in session in this city, unanimously endorsed the position taken by President Roosevelt, and instructed the secretary to make the Association's position known to the two Houses of Congress. It is to be hoped that the National Legislature will take some action in the matter and preserve the Falls. It is easier to prevent the evil than to correct it after the damage has gone so far as to lessen the attraction of the Falls. There will soon begin to be some talk of vested rights and the like, and any action taken will have to pass a siege in the courts of both this country and Canada.

The proposal of the corporations interested that the water be permitted to flow unchecked over the precipice for two hours each day, while an outrageous one, is an admission that the public have some vested rights in connection with the Falls. If these rights exist two hours daily why should they be sought to an end by the strike of the clock? There is ample water power in this country to turn all the wheels of industry without marring any of the beauties of nature. There is ample water-power in the vicinity of Niagara for all local purposes without interfering with the Falls. If it is desired to convey power for long distances for money making purposes this should be checked at once, and either Congress or the Legislature of New York should take action at once. Already the work of destruction has seriously marred the beauty of the waterfall, and in the absence of legislation the cataract will soon cease to be a wonder, and be converted into a dismal and dispiriting view to the many thousands who make the pilgrimage to the wonderful display of the power and the beauty of nature.

Wanted to Know too Much.

Recently there was a series of burglaries committed in the fashionable section of Baltimore. So anxious were the police authorities to apprehend the culprits that instructions were issued to the roundsmen to exercise extraordinary vigilance during their tours of inspection.

On one occasion, just after midnight, an officer saw emerging noiselessly from a house in Eutaw Place, a young man, who hastily darted down the street. The officer made after him as rapidly as possible. When he had stopped the young man, he said:

"Didn't you come out of the corner house just now?"

The young fellow, though of quite a respectable air, seemed ill at ease. "I did," he answered, with some confusion.

"Do you live in that house?" sternly demanded the officer.

"That's an impertinent question," replied the young man in a tone of great indignation. "I don't see what business of yours it is, so long as her father doesn't object."

Some Advice Given By An Evangelist

Mr. H. D. Kennedy Preached at Charlotte Street Church Last Night—Advised His Hearers to Forget Their Sins of the Past and to Attend to the Business of the Present and the Future.

CHURCH NEEDS MANY CRADLES

Last night in the Charlotte street Methodist church, Mr. H. D. Kennedy, an evangelist who has met with considerable success, in the past in this work, occupied the pulpit and preached a sermon which had a strong evangelistic tone. The church was crowded and his sermon was one which will doubtless be productive of good results.

The text was Phil. 3; 13, 14, "Brethren I count not myself to have apprehended but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling in Christ Jesus." The speaker said that there were three men who stood out prominently in the redemption plan. These were Moses, Jesus and Paul. The men who succeeded in this world were men who had some definite purpose in life, and in no one is this more manifest than in the life of Paul.

What was the mark toward which Paul was pressing? asked the speaker. It was Christ. "To-night are you and I doing the same? How many of us deny ourselves; do the hard thing, the thing you do not want to do?" were questions which the speaker asked his hearers. There are people to-day who claim a good deal, said the speaker. Paul did not claim much and a significant fact is that the longer he was a Christian the more modest were his claims.

"The nearer you get to a light the blacker your shadow will be, and the nearer you get to Christ the less you will think of yourself," said Mr. Kennedy. "What attracts us to people?" asked the speaker. "Is it perfection, talent, genius? No, goodnedd? not necessarily. It is that unexplainable something called affinity of soul."

"Christ was good but that is not what draws Him to us. It is His humanity. It is when we see Him as a carpenter, or when He left His home to take up His work as a preacher."

The speaker said there were some things he wanted his hearers to forget. They should forget they had been children. Innocence is negative and is not Christianity. Neither is senselessness. It is not sitting down and doing nothing that makes us Christians, but doing something.

"We should not be childish, but childlike. You'll see some men 40 and 50 years old still children, and the church needs a lot of cradles," said Mr. Kennedy.

He advised his hearers to forget what was past. All they had to do was to look after the things of the week to come without looking up last week's sins.

"If you want to go to Heaven you don't want to load up with a lot of earthly baggage," was one of the pertinent closing sentences of Mr. Kennedy.

OBITUARY.

MRS. MARGARET GALLOWAY.

The death occurred at Bensfort on Tuesday morning, January 30th, of Marjory Alying, relict of the late A. D. Galloway, who passed away at the residence of her sons, Charles and Edward Stirton, in her 78th year.

Deceased has been in failing health for eight years with dropsy and heart trouble, and for the last four months had been unable to lie down. Her heart was not strong enough to perform its functions, and she passed peacefully to rest.

Deceased was born in Blairgowie, Perthshire, Scotland, and for some years lived in Aboyne, Huntley. She was married in 1849 to William Stirton, of Lethendy, who died, leaving her with three small children. Some years later she was married to the late A. D. Galloway, of Alyth, and two daughters were born to them. The family moved to Canada in 1872, and Mr. Galloway was for eighteen years postmaster and general merchant at Bensfort. He died ten years ago.

Those who were acquainted with the deceased can speak in the highest terms of the fine principles she always exhibited — principles which she strove to instil into the minds of her children, and which could not fail to impress all who came under her influence. A good woman, a sincere Christian, a faithful and loving mother, has gone to her reward.

The funeral took place on Thursday afternoon, February 1st, to the Methodist cemetery. The service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Robson, of Fraserville. Deceased leaves two sons and two daughters: C. and E. Stirton of Bensfort; Mrs. R. L. Turnbull, of Hartney, Man.; and Mrs. J. J. Hicks, formerly of Woodstock, who has been spending the winter at her old home previous to leaving for the Coast. A daughter, Mrs. Thomas Walker, of Fairfax, Man.; predeceased her in 1888.

MRS. PATRICK BURKE.

The death occurred on Saturday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, of Mrs. Patrick Burke, 694 Water street, after an illness of twelve months. The deceased was a daughter of the late Edward Goulais, of Clandus. She was well and favourably known, both in that township and in the city and her many friends will be deeply grieved to learn that she has passed away.

She is survived by her husband and one son, William. Her mother and five brothers and two sisters are also left to mourn her demise. They are Edward, Frank, James, Thomas, of Chandos, Peter, of Riverdale, Wash., Lila, of Toronto, and Kate, of Chandos.

The funeral will take place to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock, from the family residence, 694 Water street, to St. Peter's Cathedral, and thence to St. Peter's cemetery for interment.

Teacher Loses Situation By His Indiscretion

Solution of Problem Failed to Satisfy the Trustee.

Discretion seems nowadays to be a most valuable requisite for the retention of a professor or trade, and, especially, the teaching profession, as is illustrated by the following story, which, although not widely known, the Examiner has it from a reliable source.

The situation in question refers to a rural school teacher in the county of Peterborough, not many miles north of the city, who one day received a question for solution from one of his scholars.

The pedagogue had no difficulty in solving the problem as it had appeared several times in the Toronto and local papers, over a year ago.

The question ran thus:

"Mary is 24 years of age; Mary is twice as old as Ann was when Mary was as old as Ann is now. How old is Ann?"

When the youth went to his home that morning he explained to his father, who by the way, was a trustee of the school, that Ann's age was 18 years, the result of the schoolmaster's calculations.

His father, however, was also somewhat of a mathematician, and after the chores were completed that evening, he immediately set to work to find the age of Ann. After many fruitless attempts he arrived at last to a satisfactory conclusion that Annie could not have been more than 12 years old, and was undoubtedly not the "aged" woman that the brainless teacher had asserted.

The trustee who, it is asserted, is easily over-ruled by his wife and daughters, gave the teacher a letter of discharge next day for making out the lady's age to be six years more than the correct one — an indefensible crime against society.

The young teacher learned when it was too late that indiscreet actions in the teaching profession, were damaging to a situation, and has found considerable difficulty in getting a school, as a reputation for being discharged has preceded him throughout the county.

The moral, therefore of such a "raised" character that it may be easily observed, without mentioning names, and the youthful school teacher has leaned in the faithful school of experience, the truth of the little quotation:

"A little knowledge is a dangerous thing,
Drink deep, or taste not, the Pierian spring."

Latest News Of Winter Sports

Peterborough Curlers Are Good Sportsmen

Lindsay Post Gives History of the Lindsay-Peterborough Curling Trophy Won This Year by the Peterborough Clubs--Games Well Contested.

The Lindsay Post of Saturday referred to the recent games in the competition for the Lindsay-Peterborough curling trophy, which was won by this city in the following terms:—

Yesterday the annual match with the Peterborough Club was played, eight rinks a side, four in Peterborough and four rinks in Lindsay. This cup was first played for in 1890, Lindsay having the honour to win it for the fist time. Peterborough won it in '92, also in '94 and '95; all the other years it has been in the possession of the Lindsay Club, though it is only fair to the Peterborough Club to state that for a few years no contest was held for it, and it was not until Mr. R. Neill, of Peterborough, a true sportsman, and a jolly, good fellow, submitted to the Lindsay, Club some two or three years ago, the present conditions under which the contest takes place, that play, for the cup was again resumed. The cup was first given in order to keep up the friendly rivalry between these strong clubs and it is hoped that now that these games have been revived they will continue without a break from year to year. The games yesterday were of the most friendly character and though we would have been pleased had the games gone to Lindsay, yet there is no reason to feel bad at a defeat from the hands of a strong club, such as Peterborough is.

The Peterborough club has always kept Lindsay guessing when it came to a game of curling, and though success has generally perched on Lindsay's banners the loss of yesterday will only make our club go after the mug next year with a greater determination to once more bring it back.

A large gallery witnessed the game. The greater part of the crowd followed the games played by Flavelle's and O'Connor's Winnipeg rinks. Mr. Flavelle's rink played against Mr. R. Neill's. These two men are great rivals in sports. Mr. Flavelle gets the better of his opponent on the ice, but in the summer on the golf links Mr. Neill gets his revenge. Yesterday both skips and their men were on their plays and a special brand of curling was put on. The game seesawed and was in doubt for some time, but in the end Flavelle's men gradually pulled ahead and won by seven shots.

Mr. O'Connor's Winnipeg rink played against Mr. F. Matthews' and here too the curling was of the gilt-edge variety, but "Larry" had his game well in hand at all stages and won by nine shots. No better indication of the friendly character of these games and of the true sportsmanship of Mr. Matthews could be given than when in one of the ends it was discovered that "Hec" Cuthbert, Mr. O'Connor's vice skip, had forgotten to play one of his stones. Mr. Matthews as soon as he heard of it, said that the stone should be played, that he did not wish to take advantage of rules and win an end on a technicality.

Play To-night In Uxbridge

The Locals Leave for That Town This Afternoon on 5:38 G. T. R.

The hockey team will go to Uxbridge to-day on the 5.38 G.T.R. to play the return game with the team of that town. Considering the fact that the locals scored an easy victory here last Friday, they should have little difficulty in defeating Uxbridge on their own ice to-night.

Following will be the line-up of the locals:—

Goal—Wanson.
Point—Glover.
Cover point—Moore.
Rover—Morgan.
Centre—Whitcroft.
Right wing—Cavanah.

Victors Lost To Keene Team

Local Juveniles Defeated by 7-0 in Good Game.

The Victors journeyed to Keene on Saturday and were defeated by the junior team of that place by 7-0. The half-time score was 3-0. The Keene team had several senior men on the line-up and were considerably heavier. The Victors put up a good argument, however, and the game was closer than the score would indicate. Victors lined up thus:—Goal, Riley; point, Fox; cover point, Giroux; rover, Pratt; centre, Wade; right wing, E. Harrison; left wing, H. Harrison. Referee — Mr. Dixon, Keene.

The City League Games Wednesday

On Saturday night between 7 and 8 o'clock, the Office Staff of the C.G.E. and that of the G.T.R. teams met in a game of hockey at the Brock street rink. Neither team demonstrated its superiority, the score when time was called being 2-2. The half-time score was 1-1. Combination was not in evidence throughout the game although at times some good work was done by both teams. For the electric men Rush was probably the speediest. Todd of the G.T.R. was most conspicuous in that line-up and was responsible for the scores. Referee "Bill" Crowley, was most satisfactory. The line-up was as follows:—

C. G. E.—Goal, Cook; point, Hodgson; cover point, Carson; rover, Rush; centre, Tovey; right wing, Stone; left wing, Patterson.

G. T. R.—Goal, Henderson; point, Watt; cover point, Rose; rover, Morphet; centre, Curry; right wing, Dayman; left wing, Todd.

Referee—W. Crowley.

Another comes from Quebec and it is stated he has a most thorough knowledge of the game and the team expects to add another star to their crown of victories in to-night's game.

Baseball In Lethbridge On January 27th

When the Thermometer Registered 53 Degrees.

Lethbridge, Alta., has been experiencing some mild weather this season too, as the following from the Herald of that town will indicate:—

"Think of it, baseball being played on January 27th in Lethbridge, the place the ignorant easterners imagine is as cold as Siberia.

"It is true, nevertheless, that close upon eight hundred people—they all don't wear badges, though—saw the opening ball game of 1906 on the public square on Saturday last. It was a perfect day; there was not a breath of wind, the sun shone warmly and the thermometer registered 53 degrees above. The players were garbed in the identical costume that would adorn them in a game in July and very few spectators appeared with even a fall overcoat.

No Back Talk To The Umpire

"Some of these rowdy ball tossers would soon mend their ways if they were to play in Cuba", declares Charley Starr, of the St. Louis Browns, who recently returned from the island, where he went with an all-star aggregation. "Down there if a player is removed from the game by an umpire the patrol wagon is brought to the gate and the police take charge of the man at the end of the game. Then he is taken before the magistrate and tried.

"The wagon is standing out near the entrance gate all afternoon. We saw the Cuban X-Giants play at Havana one day. The Giants' pitcher, Brucker, I believe, and Williams, the catcher, got into a fight on their bench, because of two mislplays which cost runs. They punched and clinched, and in a second twenty policemen were swarming on the field. At the conclusion of the game both were hustled into the patrol wagon and taken to the police station.

"The players, of course, talk in Spanish. One day an American player, incensed at a decision of the umpire, who was a native, called him a name. The 'ump' didn't do a thing but draw a knife and chase the player out of the park and run him several blocks. The player finally managed to escape death by the knife route.

BOXING AND WRESTLING

When Terry McGovern fights Battling Nelson at the National Athletic club, in Philadelphia, next month, every member of the champion giants will have a seat at the ringside, and thereby hangs a tale. If McGovern should win this contest it will be a tribute to baseball, the greatest of all outdoor sports.

When Terry last year seemed a hopeless wreck, even his best friends believed that he had passed his days of usefulness as a boxer, and would never again appear in the ring. Death in an asylum was staring him in the face. With his customary gameness Terry insisted on remaining outdoors despite the pleadings of his manager that he had better seek rest and solitude in some retreat.

When the New Yorks returned home from spring training in the south, Terry asked Johnny McGraw for permission to practice with the team. The manager of the New Yorks not only gave him the privilege of working each day with his players, but paid particular attention to the health of McGovern by seeing that he did a certain amount of beneficial training. Gradually the once great fighter regained his old-time form, and is to-day said to be as good as ever.—Detroit News.

THAT OVER WORKED, PLAYED OUT FEELING AMONG WOMEN

There are thousands of females all over our land who are broken down in health and dragging out a miserable existence, overburdened with diseases peculiar to their sex, apparently growing old while yet young. Often they have pale or sallow complexion, hollow, sunken eyes, with a lifeless look; the face has a pinched and haggard appearance; they are weak, weary and trembling, often extremely nervous, starting at every little noise. Many are low-spirited, and some are fretful. Some are apparently bloodless, with cold hands and feet, while others are flushed by an unequal circulation of the blood, dizziness, and sometimes dimness of vision, loss of memory, and often loss of appetite and sleep, and are wearied with terrible dreams.

Palpitation of the heart, nervous prostration, smothering and sinking spells, shortness of breath and the sensation of pins and needles are all indications of a weakened condition of the heart or nervous system, and should any of them be present we would strongly advise the use of

They bring health to the broken down, energy to the weakened constitution, tone up the tired, overstrained nerves, and strengthen the weak heart.

Mrs. Edward Jackson, Hall's Bridge, Ont., writes: "For a year I was greatly troubled with nervousness and loss of appetite, and could neither sleep nor eat. After taking a few boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I was completely cured and can recommend them to all sufferers."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills 50 cents per box or three boxes for $1.25, all dealers or The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Control Of The Police May Be Breaking Point

Algeciras Conference Near Issues of Grave Import.

THE COUNTER CONTENTIONS

Germany Opposed to French Control of the Semi-Military Police of Morocco, as That Would Give Her Practical Political Control of the Sultanate —The Conference Increases the Customs.

Algeciras, Feb. 5.—The conference on Moroccan reforms has now been freed of most of the minor questions before it, and finds itself fast approaching the graver issues which heretofore caused the serious strain in the relations of France and Germany.

On the one hand, France wants control of the semi-military police and on the other hand Germany objects to French control on the ground that it would make France the virtual master of Morocco's political future. These positions are so radically opposed as to appear to be almost irreconcilable, yet the neutral delegates are strenuously continuing their pacific offices toward finding a common ground acceptable to both countries.

Increasing the Customs.

The Moroccan conference held a short sitting Saturday and agreed in principle to increase the customs duties of Morocco and to create a special fund out of the customs receipts for the improvement of the ports.

The proposals were adopted and referendum, as some of the delegates were not instructed.

Many objections were raised to the proposed increase in the customs.

Germany Is More Hopeful.

Berlin, Feb. 5.—Germany now takes a more hopeful view of the result of the conference at Algeciras on Moroccan reforms than she did a week ago.

Two questions, the smuggling of arms and taxation, having been disposed of without serious differences, the foreign office is inclined to believe that an agreement will be reached also with reference to the police administration, though this admittedly presents greater difficulties than the questions already settled.

War Not In Sight.

Berlin, Feb. 5.—The attitude of the French press toward Germany on the Moroccan question has induced the German Government to declare emphatically that a failure of the Algeciras conference would not lead to war with France.

RIFT IN THE LUTE.

Inevitable Split In Unionist Party Through Chamberlain's Ultimatum.

London, Feb. 5.—That there is a split in the Unionist party is recognised as an existing fact by the Unionist newspapers this morning. They say it is definitely known that Balfour and Chamberlain have agreed to disagree, and that it is believed that Chamberlain will withdraw from his adhesion to Balfour and organize a separate party on Tariff Reform.

This, it is admitted by The Standard, The Morning Post and other Unionist newspapers, will be the only course open to Chamberlain, unless, indeed, Balfour decides to call a meeting of the party and allow its members to decide the question of the leadership. Even then, the papers say, it is not believed that either Balfour or Chamberlain will recede, the former Premier having told Mr. Chamberlain that he would not accept his Tariff Reform policy.

The whole situation forms the political sensation of the hour, and nothing else is discussed in the political clubs.

$250,000 New York Fire.

New York, N. Y., Feb. 5.—The six-story factory building at 147-151 Grand street, at the corner of Mercer street, in the heart of the silk and linen district, was burned yesterday, with a loss exceeding $250,000.

A MILLION NEEDLES

COULD NOT INFLICT THE TORTURE WOMEN SUFFER FROM HEADACHES

Headache is not in itself a disease, but a symptom or accompaniment of other diseases, principally those of the stomach, liver and bowels, such as Constipation, Dyspepsia, Liver Trouble, Bad Blood, Female Complaints, General Debility and Weakness. Headache is common to both sexes, but more frequently affects females.

The varieties of headache most common are sick or bilious headache, nervous headache, headache from constipation, debility or indigestion, periodical and spasmodic headache. Undoubtedly the cause must be removed before permanent relief can be had.

Burdock Blood Bitters

removes the cause of the headache, and not only does this but it also restores the entire system to healthy action and buoyant vigor.

"I was troubled with headache for a number of years, but could get nothing to help me. I procured a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, and finding it was doing me so much good, I got two more. I am now fully cured and think there is nothing in the world like Burdock Blood Bitters for headache."

Order Will Be Issued For Big Miners' Strike

Secretary W. B. Wilson to Prepare It Without Delay.

ELECTIVE ON APRIL 1, NEXT

By a Special Levy of $1 Per Capita the United Mine Workers Expect to Have a Strike Fund of $2,500,000 —Anthracite Operators Also Preparing for a Long War Between Capital and Labor.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 5.—It was intimated at the international headquarters of the Mine Workers of America yesterday that before the adjournment of the present session of the executive board, Secretary W. B. Wilson would be instructed to prepare a formal strike order, elective on April 1, in order to avoid the reassembling of the board after the adjournment of the present session.

Strike Fund of $2,500,000.

Indianapolis, Feb. 5.—The national executive board of the United Mine Workers met behind closed doors Saturday morning and remained in session until evening. Routine business was transacted.

A special levy of $1 a week on each member of the organization to create a strike fund was discussed informally, and no action was taken.

There is an intimation that pressure has been exerted on some of the board members to cut the proposed assessment in two. There is little likelihood that this will be done. Secretary W. B. Wilson is especially determined that the funds thus raised shall be at least $2,500,000, and the other national officers and a majority of the board members are of the opinion that this sum will not be found too large if a strike is declared on April 1.

Collieries Work Overtime.

Mahoney City., Pa., Feb. 5.—The collieries throughout the anthracite region have been ordered to operate at full capacity from now until next April.

A number of washeries in the Schuylkill field that have been closed, will resume operations to-day on full time.

The companies except to add 3,000,000 tons of coal to their stock in the next eight weeks.

TO ESCAPE HAYTIEN ORDER.

Three Obnoxious Frenchmen Take Refuge In the Legation.

Port Au Prince, Hayti, Feb 5.—Of five foreign officers who have been ordered deported, a German and an Austrian were put aboard ship Saturday by the police authorities. The three remaining persons, all Frenchmen, took refuge in the French legation and refused to depart, one of them declaring that he was without means and the others requesting a delay in order that they might wind up their affairs.

The Haytien Government has demanded the execution of the decree of deportation.

Roderick Mackenzie Suicides.

Kingston, Feb. 5.—The suicide of Roderick Mackenzie, local manager of the Bank of Montreal, will not be the subject of an inquest. The body was found lying alongside the railway tracks about four miles east of the city early on Saturday morning. A bottle, which had contained carbolic acid, was nearby. He leaves a widow and three children.

Montreal, Feb. 5 Bank of Montreal officers last night declined to make any statement as to the death of Mackenzie of Kingston. He had served with the bank in several places, among them St. John and Newcastle, N. B., and Cornwall, Ont.

American Teacher Dismissed.

Pekin, Feb. 5.—Yuan Shi Kai, viceroy of Chili Province, has discharged Prof. C. D. Tenny, the foreign director of education, who organized the new school system of this province and within three years made it a model of the empire. Strong opposition has risen lately to foreign management of schools and particularly against Dr. Tenny, because he is an American. The boycott against American goods is being revived.

Balloon Voyage to France.

London, Feb. 5.—An aero club balloon left London Saturday afternoon for France and later was sighted from the Eastbourne pier moving seaward. Eastbourne is 66 miles southeast of London.

Later—The balloon successfully crossed the English Channel and landed at Bermonville, 20 miles inland, in France. The time: 4 hours, 10 m.

Death In the Drink.

Quebec, Feb. 5.—A farmer of St. Ambroise, Indian Lorette, died suddenly Saturday in a saloon on Notre Dame Des Agnes street, St. Roch Being refused a drink he went to put his hands on a glass which had been filled up for another customer. He was struck by the owner of the glass and fell down dead.

Fifty Men Burned.

Buffalo, Feb. 5.—A special to The Express from Genesee says fifty men were burned, many of them seriously, in an explosion at the Sterling Salt Co.'s mine near Cuylerville Saturday. The explosion was caused by an accumulation of gas in the sand house near the surface.

Russia's Czar Antagonistic To Premier Witte

Autocrat of All the Russias Turns Back on Witte.

THE COUNT'S ENEMIES STRONG

Scotch All His Elaborate Regulations and Laws Relative to the Coming Elections—Terrible Mutilation of the Premier's Brain Children— Reactionary Policy Shown In Extension of Martial Law.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 5.—After a short discussion in the council of the empire Saturday, the temporary regulations for strengthening the hands of the Government in dealing with political crimes in which there is a "joker" removing certain categories of political crimes from the jurisdictions of civil courts and placing them in the hands of court martials, were accepted and soon will receive the imperial sanction.

The de facto extension of martial law to all parts of the empire for the purpose of dealing with political assassins and bomb throwers is sure to awaken a storm of protest in all liberal newspapers and to be hailed as other evidence of the Government's reactionary policy.

Witte's Enemies Victorious.

The Novoe Vremya says: "During the last few days Count Witte's projected new laws for the meetings of the leagues has been before the Imperial Council, which so pulled them to pieces that even the smallest details were altered. They have in fact been terribly mutilated. This is significant as indicating the hostility with which the Council is now pursuing Count Witte."

Indeed, this is quite the most important political event here in a long time. It places Count Witte in an almost untenable position.

Czar Declines to See Him.

Further details of the meeting of the Imperial Council shows that M. Toiski, the president, and reckoned as a friend of Count Witte, absented himself on the plea of illness. He was replaced by Admiral Schikoloff, the deadly enemy of the Premier. Ninety-three members were present. The anti-Witte sentiment was overwhelming and bitter. From a member of the count I hear that Count Witte has since the finding of the Council twice applied for an audience at Tsarskoe-Selo, the reply given each time that the Emperor was too busy to receive him.

THE SHAH IS ALARMED.

Church Party Pressing Its Advantage to the Utmost.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 5.—According to private advices received here, the picturesque revolutionary movement in Persia is assuming a more acute character. The Shah, in great alarm, recently summoned home his most trusted advisers in Europe in order to consult with them as to the best methods for meeting the crisis. A constitution has not yet been realized even on paper. The church party, which leads the all-powerful mullahs, is pressing its advantage to the utmost.

The developments are being watched with interest in diplomatic circles here, as Persia is one of the pawns in the larger games of international politics.

The Persian Minister at St. Petersburg has departed for Teheran.

Another Yankee-Canadian.

Montreal, Feb 5.—Another fight of international interest commenced in Montreal yesterday by the arrest of Charles C. Brown, formerly a United States customs appraiser, who has already been convicted in New York of fraud. Brown was convicted of conspiring with Rosenthal and Cohen to under value and under weigh their goods that came into the United States. Brown jumped his bail, and was soon on a train bound for Montreal in company with his son.

Levied on His Friends.

Detroit, Feb. 5.—A week ago George F. Kenny, president of the Kenny Paper Co. of Detroit, disappeared suddenly and no trace of him has yet been discovered. Kenny's business affairs were left in a chaotic condition and the concern is now in the hands of an assignee. A despatch from Cincinnati, O., states that a note for $15,000, endorsed by Peter G. Thompson of Hamilton, Ont., has turned up there. Kenny formerly came to Detroit from Canada.

PRISON FOR A PRIEST.

Resisted Police Taking Church Inventory—Street Fighting Occurs In Many French Provinces.

Paris, Feb. 5.—The making of inventories of church property under the provisions of the church and state separation law took place in three churches here Saturday, but passed off without violence. Clergymen made formal protest to the commissioners before they entered the churches.

A number of the prisoners taken into custody for assaulting the police during the disturbances earlier in the week were tried Saturday and were given various terms of imprisonment. Several members of the clergy will be proceeded against later on charges of resisting the law.

Members of the Chamber of Deputies will meet shortly to consider how to end the delicate situation.

Telegrams from the provinces show that the spirit of resistance is still active. Street fighting between Catholics and anti-Catholics occurred at Agen and Pau. At Olivet, three miles south of Orleans, the commissioner making the inventory was driven off by a mob of three hundred persons. Later he returned with horse and foot gendarmes, a company of infantry and a battery of artillery, and after breaking in the doors of the church and sawing away a barricade, the manifestants were expelled from the edifice.

At Dijon, the commissioner was forced to knock out a panel of the massive door of the church of Notre-Dame in order to gain entrance. He found only the parish priest inside, who read a protest against the inventory being made.

A police judge Saturday sentenced several persons who took part in Friday's disturbances, to prison, among them a priest.

At Bayonne, Commission Touzet was wounded in the abdomen with a hatpin while making an inventory at the Cathedral of St. Andre.

Had a Bad Leg.

"For twelve years I was a great sufferer from eczema on the inside of the leg. There was a raw patch of flesh about three inches square, and the itching was something dreadful. Dr. Chase's Ointment completely cured me, took away the itching, and healed up the sore." — Mr. Alex. McDougall, postmaster, Broad Cove Marsh, N. S.

USED THE FIRM'S MONEY.

Christopher Holland Arrested In London—Skipped With $13,000.

London, Feb. 5.—(C. A. P.)—Christopher Holland, an accountant, has been arrested on a charge of stealing $13,802 from a Toronto merchant. When shown the warrant by Detective Robertson at Bristol Station he said, "All right." He was taken before the local justices on Saturday and remanded pending extradition. He is said to have arrived from Canada early in the year, but has been staying with relatives at Torrington, Devonshire.

Toronto, Feb. 5.—The warrant sworn out against Holland charges him with stealing $13,800 from the Ideal Bedding Co., Parkdale. He was entrusted with blank cheques, hence the opportunity. He lived at 9 Beatty avenue with his wife and child. He left Toronto on Jan. 12, leaving his wife in the hospital and his child with a neighbor. He had been in the employ of the firm for two years. He originally came from Monkleigh, near Torrington, Devonshire.

The Lecture Much Enjoyed

Second "Pop" at Y.M.C.A. a Great Success.

Despite the most unfavourable conditions there was a very large attendance at the 2nd Y.M.C.A. "Pop" on Saturday evening.

The chairman of the evening introduced the speaker Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, who gave his inimitable lecture on "The Evolution of a Boy.' Mr. Dennistoun said that the large attendance under the circumstances, was a tribute to the popularity of the lecturer and the lecture. During the entire time taken to deliver the lecture which occupied almost two hours, the speaker held the keen attention of his audience. His humourous descriptions of the boy Tom at various stages of his career were most heartily applauded. While the lecture was brimfull of fun, yet some of the word pictures were beautiful and teaching deep lessons.

At the close of the lecture a vote of thanks was moved by Mr. W. S. Robinson and seconded by Mr. W. Shiner. It was carried with great applause.

The "Pop" next Saturday evening will take the form of a musical entertainment. Silver collection at the door.

Mr. W. J. Hutchinson, the Idyl Wyld manager, who is wintering at his home in Cavanville, has recently been enjoying some rare sport fox hunting. He has already captured five hides, the last one being a valuable silver grey fox, crossed with black, of which he is very proud. "Hutch" says he is a dandy, and that he expects to realize a good figure for it. This is ahead of catching big bass for prize fishing rods.

Newspaper Men Guests Of DOMESTIC SCIENCE STUDENTS At Macdonald Institute

A Delightful Day Spent at the Ontario Agricultural College by Canadian Press Association Members--A Revelation to Majority of the Visitors--Splendid Work Being Accomplished at the College--A Most Interesting Visit.

The business session of the most successful annual meeting in the history of the Canadian Press Association closed on Friday, in the Temple Building, Toronto. This was the first year that a two days' meeting was held, and results show that the actiontion of the Executive in continuing the sessions over two days was a wise one. A large number of questions of considerable importance to the newspaper business were discussed, and action taken on a great many. One of the most interesting features of this year's meeting was the attendance of newspaper men from Quebec Province, and from Alberta, Mr. Porter, of the Calgary Herald, being present for the purpose of urging the establishment of an all Canadian News service, whereby the west would be more closely associated with the east. As has already been reported in the telegraphic reports of the meeting, the Association decided to deal with this question.

On Saturday the members of the Association were guests of the G.T.R. and President Creelman, of the Guelph Agricultural College, when they visited that institution and spent in spite of most unpleasant weather conditions, a most delightful day. To many of the 150 editors who visited Guelph on Saturday, it was the first opportunity they had taken advantage of to see at first hand the work done by that excellent institution, and that to those it was a revelation, is putting it mildly, while even to those who had visited the College before, this trip had an unusual interest, and was particularly satisfying, because of the special pains taken by President Creelman and his staff to give them all the information possible in reference to the work being carried on at the College.

The result of this visit of the Press Association to Guelph cannot help be beneficial, because they will have a much better idea of what the College does, and as a consequence will be more in sympathy with it.

The progress which has been made by this excellent institution in recent years, is remarkable, and in many respects it is unequalled in America, if not in the world.

A most interesting feature of the visit was the time spent in the Macdonald Institute, where the newspaper men partook of the hospitality of the ladies, Mrs. Fuller and Miss Watson, in charge of that branch, and the young ladies of the Domestic Science classes, by whom a delightful lunch was prepared and served in the spacious dining hall in the Institute building, and which, needless to say, the visiting newspaper men fully enjoyed.

Upon their arrival at Guelph, the visitors were welcomed by Mr. Creelman and boarded the special cars which were in waiting to convey them to the College. When in town the different departments were visited, Prof. Dean of the dairy department, was the first to welcome the scribes to his section, and the dairy castle were seen and the milking machine was operated for their special benefit, after which the butter and cheese making plants, both factory and farm, were inspected. Prof. Dean gave the visitors a talk on dairy work, which was highly interesting.

A short time was spent in the poultry pens, where the chicken fanciers gained some valuable information, including the fact that hens will lay more eggs, and better eggs, in the winter if kept in a cold place, than if they are housed in warm quarters — some information which will be news to a great many persons, who have thought that the reason their hens did not lay was because they were in too cold houses.

The beautiful library building, erected through the generosity of the late Hart A. Massey, was visited, and admired. Here the bronze trophy, won by the live stock judging team from the college at the Chicago live stock show, was exhibited, as an evidence of the thorough training given by the college.

The fruit building, also a new structure, was a place of much interest, and here something unique was seen, viz., models of apples, pears, peaches and other Canadian fruits, in wax, which are so true to life that it was hard to convince the naturally suspicious newspaper man that that they could not be eaten. Prof. Hutt gave a short talk on his work, and in another part of the same building Prof. Sherman's collection of insects was seen, and a few words respecting his work, which is of the utmost importance to the farmer, since he is finding out for them the different insects which are injurious to crops.

Macdonald Institute, with its many delightful features, was reached in time to enjoy the delightful lunch which had been prepared by the hundred odd young ladies who are enrolled in the Domestic Science classes. The tasty spread reflected great credit upon the young ladies, who were in charge of the preparations.

President Creelman was in the chair, and a toast was offered to the King. Mr. J. P. Downey, M.P.P., proposed a toast to the Press, and President A. H. U. Colquhoun, J. R. Clark, and E. J. B. Pense, M.P.P., responded.

After luncheon the other results of the beneficience of Mr. Macdonald were seen, when the manual training, nature study and domestic science class room, were visited, and the work done by the students explained.

The visit to the live stock pavilion proved one of the most interesting of the whole day's programme. Prof. Day, who has charge of that part of the work at the College, gave a talk on the different types of cattle, which he made intensely interesting.

After visits were made to the department of fruit grops and flowers, in the former of which an outline of the work being done in the improvement of the quality of seed grain was given, the party left for the station again, where they said good bye to the Royal City and left for Toronto, the majority of the members going to their respective homes that night.

A Citizen Of Prominence

Mr. N. T. Laplante's picture in the Examiner on Saturday was a hard one, and only six persons sent in correct identifications, though a great manymore telephoned in to inquire if it was not Mr. so and so. Those who were correct in their guesses were Mr. D. Belleghem, Ald. Kelly, Harry Phelan, Mrs. O'Brien, Gilmour street, G. M. Roger, "Cordach," John Delaire, Park street and Jos. Picard. Among those whom Mr. Laplante was mistaken for were Mayor Best, Robt. Innis, Wm. Yelland, Mr. Cluxton and Mr. Jas. Stevenson.

WEDDING BELLS

MILLER–DEWART.

A very quiet but pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. John Dewart, of Dummer, on Wednesday, January 31st, at 6 o'clock, p.m., when his second daughter, Katie Maud, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Stewart Miller, of Douro.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Nichle, of Warsaw, under a canopy of evergreens.

The bride who was unattended was prettily attired in a beautiful white dress trimmed with silk overlace and chiffon. She carried in her hand a bouquet of pink chrysanthemums and was given away by her father, while the wedding march was played by Mrs. (Rev.) Nickle.

The bride was the recipient of a number of beautiful presents.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller left for their home in Douro, and their many friends wish them every success and happiness.

MORTON–BOAG.

At noon on Wednesday last the home of Mr. John A. Boag, Mount Pleasant, was the scene of a very pretty wedding, when his daughter, Edith Mabel, was united in marriage to Mr. Fred. D. Morton, of Belhaven. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. M. McArthur, Queensville. The bride was dressed in white surah silk, with silk point d'esprit and pearl trimmings, with bridal veil and wreath of orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of white carnations and lilies of the valley. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Nora Shaw, of Sharon, wearing a cream lustre with silk and applique trimming, and carrying a bouquet of pink carnations. Mr. Percy S. Boag attended the bridegroom.—Globe.

Many Orange Lodges To Meet

NEW SCIENTIFIC PROCESS

A Preparation Discovered That Will Destroy the Dandruff Germ.

For some time it has been known that dandruff is caused by a germ that digs up the scalp into little white flakes, and by sapping the vitality of the hair at the root, causes falling hair, and of course, finally baldness. For years there have been all kinds of hair stimulants and scalp tonics on the market, but there has been no permanent cure for dandruff until the discovery of a preparation called Newbro's Herpicide, which destroys the dandruff germ. Destroy the cause and the effect will cease to exist. Kill the dandruff germ and you'll have no dandruff, no itching scalp, and no falling hair.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10 cents in stamps to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Ormond and Walsh, special agents.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"THE PARTING OF THE WAYS."

"The Parting of the Ways," a Comedy Drama in four acts, which was presented at the Grand Opera House on Saturday night was greeted by a fairly large crowd in the auditorium. What was lacking in numbers, however, was made up in enthusiasm and the audience appeared to thoroughly enjoy the production.

The plot laid by the author and chief comedian was fascinating from beginning to end and was worked out with great dexterity and the ability of the writer and actor is easily recognized.

Mr. Neil Twomey, as "Cool Carlin," and the chief attraction in the drama with his bright, infectious laugh and clever tongue repeatedly gained for him the applause and recognition he so well deserved. His nonchalance in the most difficult predicaments was remarkable and he was always so composed that his sobriquet could not have been more appropriate. The subtle devices with which he extricated himself repeatedly from the clutches of the criminal elicited much applause.

Miss Laura J. Dean, as Ethel Harding and cousin of the criminal, who seeks her fortune, played a charming role with attractive personality and probably excelled in the love struggle for recognition after the long separation from her husband. Her bright, catchy songs were also of a pleasing character.

The fastidious Miss Talklittle, who, by the way, demonstrated again the truth of the immortal statement, that there is nothing in a name, was the source of producing a great deal of mirth by her "modest" actions and her tendency to "not be talking about her neighbours."

Robert Reiff made an ideal criminal both by his appearance and voice.

On the whole "The Parting of the Ways" was a bright, active and interesting play which succeeded in retaining individual attention from the beginning until the drop of the final curtain.

"THE DEVIL'S AUCTION."

One of the big melodramas on tour in Canada is "The Devil's Auction," which is billed for the Grand Opera House, Peterborough on February 12, Monday, next. This play comes here from Montreal, where it shows this week.

SPECIAL TRAIN.

The Lindsay Post says that a special train will be run from Lindsay to Peterborrough for the great comic opera success, "Peggy from Paris," which will be given here on Thursday night.

Massey Hall has seldom held a larger audience than assembled on Monday evening and the greatest assurance of the satisfying quality of the music lies in the fact that almost all the same people again secured seats for Tuesday when the genius of Marie Hall was added to the attractions of the Damrosch Orchestra. On Monday the soloist, Miss Helen Davies, was much admired personally, as she has much beauty of the brunette order, with large dark eyes. She was gowned simply in accordian pleated white silk and received very gracefully the lovely bouquets of roses presented by friends in the audience.—Toronto Sunday World.

Choral Society's Coming Practice

The next practice of the Peterborough Choral Society will be held on Tuesday evening next, the 6th inst., at 8 o'clock, in the kindergarten room, Central School. All members, especially men, are urgently requested to be present. A meeting of the committee will be held after the rehearsal to definitely decide upon the date of the forthcoming concert. Miss Helen Davies has joined the society, and will attend all future rehearsals.

MERITED APPRECIATION.

A party of tourists travelling on the Canadian Pacific Railway, consisting of Messrs. Theo. E. Frant, First National Bank, Dayton, O.; Oswald Weymouth and V. Taymond, of Bedford, England; John G. Lawrence, of London, England, and Miss Lucy M. Millett, of Toronto, have sent the following laudatory letter to the Company's Superintendent of Sleeping and Dining Cars, Mr. W. A. Cooper:—

"We desire to express our appreciation of the very excellent service rendered in your dining and sleeping cars on this train. Our trip from Winnipeg to Montreal has been most enjoyable. The service in the dining car was most excellent, and the politeness of the porter and conductor in charge of the sleeper could not be excelled. We wish your road every success."

This is merited appreciation and shows that the Company leaves nothing undone to provide excellent service at the hands of painstaking employees.

Dr. Willoughby Minister of Health

He Is to be the Head of a New Government Department.

Special to the Examiner

Toronto, Feb. 6th. — It is stated upon authority known to be pretty deeply in the confidence of the Government party, that the Whitney Government has decided to establish a new department, and to place Dr. Willoughy in charge of it, as Minister of Health. It is well known that when the Whitney Cabinet was formed, the claims of Dr. Willoughy to recognition were not to be satisfied by a place in the Cabinet without portfolio, and the position of Minister of Health is regarded as a recognition of his abilities and of his services to his party.

Annual Meeting Lock Company

Statement Shows Satisfactory Results During Past Year.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company was held yesterday at the office of the Company. The annual statement was submitted to the shareholders and was unanimously adopted. The statement which was a very satisfactory one showed that a dividend of 6 per cent. had been paid for the past year with an additional bonus of 1 per cent. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:—

President—Hon. J. R. Stratton.
Vice-President—Mr. W. G. Morrow.
Directors—Mr. Wm. Irwin, Mr. A. L. Davis, Mr. Thos. Fortye.

Mr. Jno. Crane, manager of the Ontario Bank, Peterborough was re-appointed auditor of the Company.

During the past year the Company has expended over $5,000 in a new plating room, in extending the moulding shop and in erecting a new fire proof building for the dyes and patterns of the Company. The facilities of the Company have been improved to enable them to increase their output by about one-half.

Hon. Senator Cox, who was in town on Saturday, and who is the largest shareholder of the Company, visited the factory, examined the statements and expressed himself thoroughly satisfied with the management and business of the Company.

Good Report Of The Waterworks

Mr. W. Henderson, Superintendent, Will Present Report on Monday.

On Monday next the Water Commissioners will meet and it is expected that the annual report of the Superintendent, Mr. Wilson Henderson, will be presented. This report has been delayed somewhat this year beyond the usual time.

It is understood that it will be of a most satisfactory nature, and that it will show a great surplus on the year's operations, which will be applied to the Rest Account.

Braden Lot At Lakefield Decided Upon

Statement That the County Council Will Erect the House of Refuge on That Property—Price to be Paid Will be About $4,500—A Location Said to be Well Adapted to Requirements.

COUNCIL PRACTICALLY UNANIMOUS IN OPINION

The new County House of Refuge will in all probability be erected in the vicinity of Lakefield. It is understood that the County Council has practically decided on the selection of the site known as the Braden farm, which is situated on the west side of the river, about half a mile from the village. It comprises fifty acres, and the cost, it is stated, will be in the neighbourhood of $4,500, Mr. Braden reserving five acres for his own use. It is understood that the Council has an option on this property, and all except two or three of the Council are in favour of the purchase of that site.

Another site under consideration is one owned by Mr. Strickland, north of the village, but it is understood that it has been practically decided to purchase the Braden lot.

A definate decision will be reached, however, on Saturday, when the tenders will be opened.

Endorsed The Scheme For The Swamp Drain

Deputation From Cavan Council Waited on Council Last Night—A Resolution Was Passed Endorsing the Action of the Cavan Council and Asking Legislature to Pass the Bill—Will Benefit This City Materially.

THE DISTANCE WILL BE MUCH SHORTENED

A deputation representing the Cavan Council and comprising Messrs. McNeil, Reeve, and Shields, Councillor, waited on the Council last night to ask the co-operation of the Council to secure the passage of the Bill providing for the drainage of the swamp in that township and which will come up at the next session of the Legislature.

It will be remembered that the Province granted $4,000 to the township to drain the swamps, and last June those who were opposed to the scheme entered action to quash the bylaw.

Mr. McNeil addressed the Council, and asked that a resolution be passed by the Council favouring the Bill, which will be introduced at the coming session of the Legislature, providing for the completion of the drainage scheme. He pointed out that it would be a distinct benefit to this city. Mr. McNeil stated that Mr. Rankin had recommended the Attorney-General to pass the bill and the latter had assured him that he would pass it, but he understood that those opposed to the scheme had decided to oppose the Bill when it came before the Private Bills Committee. In view of this fact the Cavan Council wanted the City Council to pass a resolution giving it their moral support.

The following resolution was moved by Ald. Adams, and seconded by Ald. Elliott, and passed:—

"That the Council of the City of Peterborough hereby expresses it's hearty approval of the scheme for the for the draining of the swamp in the Townships of Cavan and Monaghan as being highly in the interests of this City, and urges upon the Legislature the passing of such legislation as may be necessary to carry out the proposed scheme.

Meetings At Murray Street

The special revival service last night at the Murray street Baptist church was well attended, and most interesting. Rev Mr. Scott had charge of the meeting, and assisting him were five young men, who had places on the platform, and gave short addresses.

To-night Rev. Mr. Laflame, a missionary from India, will speak, and Rev. Mr. Welsh, of Lindsay, will also take part in the meeting, which will no doubt be of a very interesting nature.

A Hard Matter For COUNCIL TO DECIDE On 1906 Assessors

The Action of Last Year's Council Was Repeated—Messrs. McGrath and McKee Get the Appointment—In Committee Prior to Council Meeting Messrs. McKee and Kincaid Were Selected—"Jockeying" for Position Was Alleged.

The council found it a hard matter to make a selection of assessors again this year, and the action of the council of last year, when they decided one thing in committee, and another in council, was repeated last night.

The council met in committee prior to the meeting of the council, and after considerable "jockeying for position," as one alderman expressed it, to take a ballot for the two men who were to be appointed.

The result of this ballot stood:

McKee..... 9
Kincaid..... 8
McGrath..... 7

This was evidently not the result that the council expected, and when the matter came up in council again the whole thing was opened up once more, and an open ballot taken, the result of which was:

McKee..... 9
Kincaid..... 6

When the matter was discussed in the Committee of the Whole, Ald. Adams moved that Messrs. McGrath and Kincaid be appointed assessors for the year 1906. It was seconded by Ald. Hicks.

Ald. McWilliams moved in amendment that Mr. Thos. McKee be one of the assessors, and it was seconded by Ald. Tovey.

Ald. Elliott thought that the appointment should be made by ballot and moved in that direction, seconded by Ald. Hicks.

Considerable discussion took place on the question as to the method of voting. Ald. McWilliams was in favour of open ballot, and supporting him were Ald. Adams, Ball and McIntyre. Those in favour of ballot were Ald. Elliott, Graham, Duncan, Hicks, Johnston and Mason.

Ald. Johnston took objection to what he termed "shananigning." He did not believe in one alderman booming one man when two were to be elected.

The result of the first ballot was:

McKee..... 9
Kincaid..... 8
McGrath..... 7

The matter was opened again when in the council.

Ald. Adams moved the first reading of a bylaw to appoint assessors for the year 1906. He moved that Messrs. Kincaid and McGrath be the assessors, and the decision which took place in the committee meeting was repeated. Ald. McWilliams repeated his amendment that Thos. McKee be one of the assessors, and Ald. Mason moved in amendment to the amendment that Messrs. McKee and McGrath be the assessors.

Ald. Johnston stated that since no one apparently had the backbone to name the men selected at the committee meeting he would do it, and he moved that Messrs. Kincaid and McKee be appointed.

Ald. McWilliams then withdrew his former motion and moved that Messrs. McKee and McGrath be appointed.

All three motions were lost, and Ald. Elliott moved that each name be voted on separately, which was carried.

Before the motion was voted on, however, the Mayor moved that the two assessors who did the work last year be re-appointed. This was seconded by Ald. Tovey.

Ald. Tovey withdrew his motion, and that of the Mayor was lost, all other deadlock developing.

Ald. Mason, in an effort to solve the question, moved that Messrs. McKee and Aldridge be appointed. But there was no seconder.

The council then decided to take the vote on the applications by open ballot. The clerk called each alderman by name and he gave his selections. The result of the voting was as follows:

Ald. Johnston, McKee, Kincaid.
Ald. Tovey, McGrath, McKee.
Ald. Hicks, McGrath, Kincaid.
Ald. Mason, McKee, McGrath.
Ald. Elliott, McGrath, McKee.
Ald. Graham, McKee, Kincaid.
Ald. Ball, McGrath, Kincaid.
Ald. Duncan, McKee, Kincaid.
Ald. McIntyre, McKee, McGrath.
Ald. McWilliams, McKee, McGrath.
Ald. Adams, McGrath, Kincaid.
Mayor Best, McKee, McGrath.

The result was:

McKee..... 9
McGrath..... 9
Kincaid..... 9
Ald. McIntyre was in the chair, [illegible] Johnston stated to the council that he was in a position to state that Mr. McKee would not accept the position under the circumstances. The matter was allowed to drop and the bylaw was passed.

Superintendent Gets Increase

Mr. F. Wise Will Receive $700 a Year.

The Little Lake Cemetery Board met yesterday afternoon in the office of the president, when the question of the salary of the superintendent was discussed, and it was decided to increase it to $700 a year.

It will be remembered that at the annual meeting it was decided to increase it to $650, but Mr. Wise had received a better offer and had decided to leave the employ of the company. In view of this fact the Board will give Mr. Wise the increase of $50, which places his salary at the same figure that Mr. Ford received.

This was practically all the business transacted yesterday.

Give Fair Play to

A really reliable remedy for headache—Zutoo.

If you have got it into your head that Zutoo Tablets will hurt you, you are mistaken.

It isn't fair to us for you to judge Zutoo by the drug cures.

It isn't fair to yourself to suffer from headache, when this really harmless vegetable headache cure is within your reach.

The fair thing for both of us is—to judge Zutoo on its merits—to test it.

If you find it does not cure your headache, sick, nervous or otherwise, in twenty minutes, and leave you feeling good every time—no bad after effects, then discard it.

But do not condemn it unfairly without a trial, and keep on suffering from headaches. You really do not have to, and one trial of Zutoo will prove it.

All we ask for Zutoo is fair play—that you give it a trial before concluding as to its merits or demerits.

Wont you do this? You'll be glad ever after if you do.

We'll send trial tablets for nothing, or you can buy them at dealers in 10c. and 25c. packages.

ASK COUNCIL FOR A $2000 Assessment

Firm Sends a Letter to Each Member of the Council Setting Forth That They Consider Themselves Unfairly Treated—Assessment This Year is $12,800, an Increase From $6,000—Reasons for That Request Made.

At the meeting of the council last night the following letter was read from Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons. Mr. Turner, Sr., and Mr. J. J. Turner, Jr., appeared before the council supporting the claims made in the letter, which was as follows:—

To His Worship The Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Peterborough.

Gentlemen,—Last year we appealed to your Honourable Body for a fixed assessment on our factory. You agreed to make the assessment on the factory Five Thousand Dollars and One Thousand on Stock, making Six Thousand Dollars, which we were thankful for, although we did not think that the assessment was low enough. We fully expected at the time you granted us this assessment that it would stand at that, at least we were led to believe so, but we thought that we were deserving of an even lower assessment than the Six Thousand Dollars, when we were aware that your Honourable Body granted a fixed assessment on the new Opera House for ten years at Three Thousand Six Hundred Dollars. This building cost three times as much as ours and we were assessed at Six Thousand and the Opera House Thirty-Six Hundred. That hardly seems fair. Then again, we have had during last September 57 hands employed, 17 married men, fourteen single men and thirty-one single girls and we have had forty hands all the year at steady employment and we paid out in wages for 1905 Thirteen Thousand Eight Hundred and Seventeen Dollars and eighty-five cents, surely this should entitle us to some consideration. The Opera House that has an assessment of only $3,600.00 and is next to our factory, does not employ any regular hands and does not help the City, in fact, it takes a great deal out of the City. We certainly think that we should not be assessed as high as the Opera House, as we are giving employment to a great many people and the money is all spent in our City. We also pay out a great deal of money in other ways in the City, which helps some one. As we intended making an appeal to your Honourable Body against our assessment, for Six Thousand Dollars, we went to Mr. Armstrong, our City Clerk to see if we had been assessed any lower than last year, as several other firms had been granted a reduction and fixed assessment, we thought we should be granted the same consideration, but we were surprised when we were informed that we were assessed at Twelve Thousand Eight Hundred Dollars. We did not receive any assessment paper last year, as we certainly should have appealed against this very unreasonable assessment. We fully expected that the assessors had been informed of the agreement made in Council and it was the intention of your Honourable Body to leave the amount as it was. Now, Gentlemen, we do not think that we have been treated fairly since we built our present factory, because as soon as we put in the cellar walls, we were assessed at Three Thousand Dollars before the place was of any use to us. The next year when the factory was completed, we were assessed at Ten Thousand. We appealed against this and it was reduced to Six Thousand and now it is raised to Twelve Thousand Eight Hundred. Now, gentlemen, you are advertising the advantages of the City and giving exemptions and low fixed assessments to other concerns, we ask for the same privilege and consideration, as we think that we are worthy of it, as you gentlemen are all aware of the business we do and our goods go to all parts of the Dominion, also to England and the United States and it certainly advertises the City by these goods being sent out. Our business now is principally wholesale and our books are open and also our factory at any time for the inspection of all the members of the City Council. It certainly would give us more encouragement, if your Honourable Body will make our assessment a reasonable one. We think that Two Thousand Dollars would be a fair assessment under all the circumstances and we hope that your Honourable Body will make a reduction in the last assessment and make our future assessment a fixed one at Two Thousand Dollars for ten years, as we think that our factory employing the number of hands we do the year round, should have the same consideration and privileges that other manufacturers have had granted them.

Hoping, Gentlemen, that you will grant us the fixed assessment, we ask for, we remain,

Yours truly,

J. J. TURNER & SONS.

On motion the letter was referred to the Finance Committee to deal with.

Unfair Treatment

IS THE ALLEGATION OF Alderman Johnston

Claims That it Was an Unprincipled Act to Deprive Him of His Chairmanship—He Resigned Last Night From the Fire, Water and Light Committee as a Protest Against Action of the Aldermen.

Ald. Johnston resigned from the Fire, Water and Light Committee of the Council last night. He takes this action as a protest against what he considers ill-treatment on the part of a number of the members of the Council.

At the beginning of the year when the committees were struck, Ald. Johnston expected, in recognition of the work which he had accomplished for the Fire, Water and Light Committee last year, that he would have been re-elected to the chairmanship of the committee, and when the Council decided otherwise he considered that he had not been treated as he deserved.

After the general business of the Council Ald. Johnston addressed that body and said that he wished to tender his resignation as a member of the committee. He remarked that, considering the amount of opposition he had met with, and the labour he had given in this department last year, more especially connected with the new fire hall and appliances, he thought he has been entitled to more consideration at the hands of the Council when striking their committees this year. He believed public opinion is with him on this matter. He had, he remarked, been dealt with selfishly, and did not think any more unprincipled act had ever been committed in connection with these matters, when the Council refused him in the chairmanship of the committee he held last year.

Ald. Hicks, speaking personally, said that he would not like to see the Council accept his resignation from the committee. If he did not care to act the Council had nothing to say, but he thought that it would be unwise to accept the resignation.

Ald. Hall said he understood that Ald. Johnston had blamed him in connection with the matter, but he remarked that he had no ill feeling towards Ald. Johnston. He had acted, he believed, in the best interests of the city.

Ald. Johnston urged the point, and reiterated the statement that he had been unfairly dealt with. He did not believe that a more unprincipled action had been taken this year.

Ald. Adams, as chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, expressed his regret at the action of Ald. Johnston. He was sorry that he had decided to drop off the committee, and wished to clear himself of any blame. He was as much disappointed as Ald. Johnston at the turn things took, but he had said nothing about it. He saw that if the number of committees was reduced somebody would have to be without a chairmanship, and it was Ald. Johnston who was left off.

The Council refused to accept Ald. Johnston's resignation.

Mr. Jas. Stubbs Has Returned From Long Trip

Has Given Fifty-five Stereopticon Entertainments.

Mr. Jas. Stubbs returned to the city Saturday after an extended trip in Eastern Ontario, during which he gave 55 stereopticon entertainments. Speaking of one of the last of these the Kingston Whig says:—

On Sunday evening a crowd gathered to see "The Life of St. Paul," illustrated by lime-light views, given by James Stubbs, Peterborough, and to hear him lecture upon the subject.

The pastor, Rev. B. Eyre, opened the service with the hymn, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," which was followed by prayer; then Mr. Stubbs began his lecture, illustrating St. Paul's three missionary journeys, showing the cities and countries through which he travelled. Several sacred songs were sung, and illustrated by views during the evening. Moving pictures were given showing the shepherd watching their flocks by by night, the Messian's entry into Jerusalem, etc. The people thoroughly enjoyed the service.

On Monday night a stereopticon entertainment was given by the same gentleman. Mr. Stubbs gave many selections on a powerful phonograph, at least half an hour before the time of the entertainment.

The entertainment was an education, and the greater part consisted of a 5,000-mile travel over land and sea. All pictures were interpersed with bell, cornet and band solos, on the phonograph. For over two hours the audience was rapt in greatest interest, and all declared they would not have missed it for anything. The proceedings closed with a portrait of his Majesty King Edward VII, and "God Save the King."

Cor. C. Mitchell Thanks Friends

Mr. Chas. Mitchell, who will soon leave the city for Pembroke, Ont., writes the following letter of appreciation to the officers of the local regiment and other of his friends.

Peterborough, Feb. 6, 1906.

To the Officers and Non-Commissioned Officers of the 57th Regiment:

I desire to thank, through the columns of your valuable paper, the officers and non-commissioned officers of the 57th Regiment for the entertainment, and kindly words spoken at the recent smoker. It is with feelings of regret that I have to sever my connection with the gallant 57th, a regiment of which the prosperous city of Peterborough may well feel proud.

I also desire to thank the genial proprietor of the Snowden House for his many acts of kindness shown me while in his employ. Also to the staff of the above-mentioned hotel, and the friends who came in touch with it.

Peterborough will always be a fond remembrance to me, and I firmly believe it is destined to be one of the leading cities of this fair Canada of ours.

Thanking you, sir, for this indulgence,

I remain very sincerely,

Need Of Public School

ACCOMMODATION WAS Strongly Emphasized

Board of Education Appointed a Special Committee to to Look Into the Matter—The Winners of the Nicholls Prizes Announced—Inspector Walker's Report Showed That the Schools are Very Crowded—Mr. R. M. Dennistoun Appointed Board's Solicitor.

A meeting of the Board of Education was held last night in the secretary's office.

There were present Messrs. W. G. Ferguson, chairman; W. S. Hill, L. M. Hayes, William Pringle, M. A. Morrison, Dr. Burnham, D. W. Dumble and B. F. Ackerman.

The chief feature of the meeting was the decision to take steps to meet the needs for public school accommodation, and the appointing of a committee to look into the matter. A motion to this effect was introduced by Dr. Morrison, and after some discussion, in which opposition was advanced by Messrs. Dumble and Hill, was carried.

The inspector's report showed the necessity for more accommodation for public school pupils.

Inspector's Report.

Mr. D. Walker, Public School Inspector, presented the following report:

Gentlemen, — In reporting the attendance for the month of January, 1906, I have again to direct your attention to the crowded condition of the South and West Ward Schools, in the former of which there is already this year an average enrollment of about 53 pupils per teacher, while in the latter the average is about 49.

In the West Ward building the seating capacity is fully taxed, the rooms being so small that any increase in the accommodation is next to impossible.

In the South Ward the average enrolment is too great to permit anything like efficient teaching. Satisfactory work cannot be done by any teacher who has charge of more than 40, or, at the very outside, 45 pupils.

It will therefore be seen that at the present time at least two extra rooms ought to be provided while the additional number of pupils who are likely to seek admittance in the spring months will make further provision imperative.

It is therefore respectfully recommended that the problem which herewith presents itself will receive your immediate and careful consideration.

Your obedient servant,

DUNCAN WALKER, I.P.S.

LOUIS M. HAYES, Chairman.

The report was adopted on motion of Mr. Hayes, seconded by Mr. Ackerman.

Solicitor Appointed.

In accordance with a notice of motion given at a previous meeting, Mr. Hill moved, seconded by Dr. Burnham, that Mr. R. M. Dennistoun be appointed solicitor of the Board at a salary of $100.—Carried.

Public School Accomodation.

Dr. Morrison, in opening the discussion, spoke of the necessity of getting plans under way for the Collegiate Institute. The Board would not get to work too quickly. The people of the city were expecting them to do something at once. The speaker also referred to the crowded condition of the public schools and emphasized the need for better things along this line. In order to bring things to a head, he moved the following resolution, which was seconded by Mr. Pringle: That a committee be appointed consisting of Messrs. Crane, Hayes, Hill, Dumble and Morrison, to get plans specifications and estimates for the erection of a Collegiate Institute, and that a committee consisting of Messrs. Pringle, Ackerman, Burnham, Fair and Hill, be appointed to consider the whole question of public school accommodation, with power to get options on lots, and that these committees be requested to report at an adjourned meeting to be held on February 19.

Mr. Dumble said that the Separate School would be vacant in a month, and that this would be available for public school purposes. Mr. Morrison, however, pointed out that the lease on the Mcnzie school property would expire this year, and that the Separate School would be needed to accommodate those at present there.

Mr. Hill brought up the question of the advisability of raising the roof of the South Central School one storey. He pointed out that it would be much cheaper and would give the needed room. A new school in the South End would cost $25,000 or $30,000, while the cost of raising the roof would only be about a fifth of that sum, and would answer the purpose equally as well, as it would give five additional rooms. The whole tendency was to centralize. The idea of having a school at every door was all nonsense. He thought that more work could be done with three schools than with the present number.

Mr. Pringle agreed with Dr. Morrison that something should be done at once to meet the needs of the situation.

Mr. Dumble was of the opinion that the Board should get the lots before they went on with plans for the Collegiate Institute.

Dr. Morrison's motion carried.

After a short discussion on the Collegiate Institute site question, in which no new arguments were advanced, it was moved by Mr. Dumble and seconded by Mr. Hill, that the Council of the city of Peterborough be requested to carry out the arrangement made by the representatives of this Board, the Council and the local military authorities at Ottawa, and convey to the Board of Education lots 3, 4, 5 and 6 south of McDonel street and west of George street, as they have already conveyed to the Government.

It was decided to investigate the conditions at the South Central School and employ an architect to look into the matter.

Owing to the absence of Mr. John Crane, chairman of the Property Committee, no report was received from that committee. It is expected that the report will be most important.

Demands Made For $34,500.00 By School Board

That Sum Will be Required for the Year 1906.

The Board of Education made its annual demand on the Council last night for the funds with which to conduct the business of the schools for the year.

Mr. W. G. Morrow, secretary-treasurer of the Board, wrote to the Council enclosing copy of a resolution which was passed by the Board giving the amounts which the city shall be required to pay the Board, for current expenditure in connection with the Collegiate Institute and public schools. The total sum required is $34,500.

A statement of the estimated receipts and expenditures for the Collegiate Institute and public schools for the year was also given. The estimated expenditure for the Collegiate Institute is $12,400 and the receipts, Fees, $2,150. Government grant $1,250, and city treasurer $9,000. The public schools will spend $27,900, and the receipts are divided as follows: Government grant, $1,300; rent for Collegiate Institute, $1,100; city treasurer, $25,500. The letter was received.

MORE MINISTERS.

The statement made in a despatch in another column that Dr. Willoughby, the genial member and physician -in-ordinary to East Northumberland, will not be unpleasant news to his many friends in Peterborough and this district. Dr. Willoughby is a first-class whip, whether behind a spunky team or in his erstwhile official capacity in the Legislature, and in the matter of reward for party services and fidelity to its interests, deserves the recognition he has received, or is to receive. But from the country's point of view there is likely to be two opinions of the wisdom of the Whitney Government in creating more ministers. When in opposition, Mr. Whitney regarded seven ministers with portfolios as a sinful extravagance. Now he has a cabinet with eight ministers —Dr. Willoughby will make the ninth —and nobody knows that there would not have been another portfolio created for Dr. Beattie Nesbitt if the doors of a registry office had not conveniently opened to take him in and thus figuratively provide the cloture.

SAFELY SHELVED.

The Whitney Government has placated Dr. Beatty Nesbitt, the Conservative member for North Toronto, by appointing him registrar for West Toronto. Dr. Nesbitt may have preferred a Cabinet position, but it is, perhaps, just as well as it is. He may be less ornamental, and less in evidence in his comparatively humble office, which he will fill with more credit to the public life of the province, than he might reflect in a higher position. It would seem that the Government is not displeased with the compromise. With Dr Nesbitt snugly shelved as registrar, with Mr. Organiser Leavitt placed in a prominent position in the Education Department, with two other organisers tucked away in snug Government berths, the Government can breathe a little more freely. Four mouths belonging to four heads, which carried all the dark secrets of the Conservative machine, the inner knowledge of the purity fund, and a miscellaneous lot of other embarrassing and embarrassing political bric-a-brac, have been closed — gagged, with Governger now, in a moment of pique of these provided for gentlemen, blurting out secrets that would make the work of satisfactory explanation a fourteenth labour of Hercules.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

We have not yet heard that Dr. Beattie Nesbitt has "registered" any kick against being shelved in a registry office instead of warming a seat in the Cabinet Chamber.

Now we shall see if Hon. Mr. Whitney has the courage of his convictions. He has convicted—often without trial —Liberal license inspectors for offensive interference in politics. One of Mr. Whitney's new license inspectors, a Mr. King, of St. Catharines, the other day occupied the chair at a Conservative gathering and promised to give faithful service to the Conservative party. Will Mr. Whitney play the Roman Brutus and sacrifice the son of his spoil system to his doctrine of non-partisan enforcement of the license law.

Col. Matheson says he has $600,000 of a surplus, but as he has always said, the receipts from timber should not go in current account, and as his party has opposed the succession duties, the Brockville Recordor thinks that those naturally should come out, to say nothing of receipts from other sources, to which the Conservatives, when in opposition, objected. Take out the receipts from timber sales, $520,000, and from succession duties, $700,000, making a total of $1,220,000, and the brave Colonel would be some $600,000 to the bad. Surely he won't ask credit for income derived from sources which he condemned but a short time ago.

JUST A COINCIDENCE.

President Archibald McNee, of the Press Association, in a very able address to his fellow journalists of Canada, called attention to a peculiar coincidence. Mr. Curry, the crown attorney for the city of Toronto, who has caused such consternation among combines, appeared the other day for the Ontario Physicians and Surgeons, who were prosecuting a member of the Provincial Association for violating the rules by advertising. Here was Mr. Curry, who was the terrror of combines, acting for one of the tightest combines that can be imagined, that of the medical fraternity, in prosecuting a fellow member, whom they charged with the enormous offense of violating the rules of the combine, by advertising. They may be all wrong, but the newspaper men, who it must be admitted are not disinterested in advertising thought President McNee scored a point.—Brockville Recorder.

SLAUGHTER OF THE DEER.

The express companies report the greatest slaughter of deer on record. The companies carried 3,310 carcasses from the various points in the hunting district. This was 270 more than in the former season, but it does not represent more than a quarter of the game shot. A large number of moose were also exterminated. Steps should be taken to decrease the yearly slaughter of deer.—Ridgetown Dominion.

Ice Carnival Of Foresters

Will Take Place on Monday, February 19th.

The annual ice carnival of Court Peterborough No. 29, Canadian Order of Foresters, will be held at the Brock street rink on Monday, February 19. This date has now been definitely decided on. Some little difficulty has been encountered by the committee in securing the date by reason of the fact that the big curling bonspiel next week in which the Brock street rink will be used has interfered with the date originally set, so that it was necessary to change it.

Monday, the 19th, is the date upon which the event will take place, and the committee is determined to make it the best in the history of the court. The usual number of valuable prizes will be offered, and the 57th Band will be in attendance. A list of the prizes offered will be published in the course of a few days. Remember the date, Monday, February 19.

Besides the prizes given for the best fancy dress and comic costumes, a special prize is being given for the best representation of any business enterprise in the city.

Officers Will Be Installed

To-night an important meeting of Peterborough Lodge of Elks, will be held. It is expected that the new officers will be installed. All the members are requested to be present.

Objections To Agreement With Commissioners

Ald. Adams Believes the Water Commissioners Get Too Much From the Council—They Receive Credit But Council Pays for It—Report of the Finance Committee Presented to Council Last Night—The Accounts Which Will be Paid.

NEW AGREEMENT WAS RATIFIED

The report of the Finance Committee presented at the meeting of the council last night by Ald. Mason, was the subject of some comment from Ald. Adams, his objection being to the clause which transfers to the Water Commissioners the stand pipes on the streets. Ald. Adams was of the opinion that the Commissioners were getting too much from the council. They had first been given half of the surplus revenue, and later it was all given to them, and while it was simply a branch of the one business, the commissioners were given the credit, while the council, which got no credit, paid the shot.

The report of the committee, which was adopted, was as follows:

1. We recommend that the chairman of this committee be requested to attend a meeting of the Hastings Trent Waterway Association at Hastings, in the interests of the deputation to Ottawa respecting the waterway, and that the treasurer be instructed to pay his expenses.

2. We recommend that the ownership of the standpipes be transferred to the Peterborough Water Commissioners, they to care for them, turn the water on and off when required, and keep them in repair, and that the commissioners furnish the city with water for public purposes for which the city is now paying a lump sum of $.500 a year, and also for all street work, such as sidewalks, sewer and street construction, and that the city pay the commissioners $1800 for 1905, $1900 for 1907, and $2000 a year for the balance of a five year term; and that the city be allowed to have new stand pipes put in at the rate of two a year, at the expense of the commissioners, the above payment not to include claims for damages to street mains; and all claims to date which the commissioners have against the city to be cancelled except the two claims for $28.70 for damages to mains which have been passed by this committee, and that an agreement and bylaw be drawn to give effect to this resolution.

3. We recommend that a cheque be issued to Mr. C. C. McDonald for $1, a refund of dog tax paid by him.

4. We recommend that the recorder for coroner's inquests be paid $4 for each inquest he attends for the purpose of recording evidence.

5. We received an account from Dr. Gray for $10.25 for services in connection with a case of diphtheria, but as the city is not responsible respecting it we recommend that it be not paid.

6. We recommend that the following accounts be paid:

MERITED APPRECIATION.

A party of tourists travelling on the Canadian Pacific Railway, consisting of Messrs. Theo. E. Frant, First National Bank, Dayton, O.; Oswald Weymouth and V. Taymond, of Bedford, England; John G. Lawrence, of London, England, and Miss Lucy M. Millett, of Toronto, have sent the following audatory letter to the Company's Superintendent of Sleeping and Dining Cars, Mr. W. A. Cooper:—

"We desire to express our appreciation of the very excellent service rendered to your dining and sleeping cars on this train. Our trip from Winnipeg to Montreal has been most enjoyable. The service in the dining car was most excellent, and the politeness of the porter and conductor in charge of the sleeper could not be excelled. We wish your road every success."

This is merited appreciation and shows that the Company leaves nothing undone to provide excellent service at the hands of painstaking employees.

Transfer Was Not Ratified By The Council

Report of Special Committee That it be Made at Once Not Endorsed.

The action of the Special Committee appointed to take up the matter of the transfer of the lots to the Board of Education for the Collegiate Institute, was not endorsed by the Council last night.

Ald. McWilliams presented the following report of the Committee:—

Your Special Committee appointed in regard to the Armoury and Collegiate Institute sites beg leave to recommend that lots number three and four, south of Mulcaster street, and west of George street, be given to the Board of Education for a site for the Collegiate Institute in pursuance of the agreement made between the 57th Regiment, the Board of Education, the Minister of Public Works and the Council, as embodied in the report of the Finance Committee to the Council on September 5th, 1904.

In amendment to the report Ald. Hicks moved, seconded by Ald. Mason, that when the Board of Education ask for the lots to which they are entitled, they be transferred. The amendment was carried.

Diversion By General Tax Objected To

Mayor Best and Ald. Tovey Opposed to Proposal of Committee.

The old question of the diversion of the streams in Ward No. 5, and in Wards 4 and 3, was re-opened at the council meeting last night, when the Committee of the Whole presented its report, a clause of which was as follows:

"We recommend that the diversion of the two streams, the one in Ward No. 5, and the one in Wards 4 and 3, to be diverted at Barnardo avenue or at Edinburgh street, be paid for by general tax, and that the chairman of the Board of Works be authorised to undertake the work as soon as possible."

Ald. Tovey objected to the principle of paying for this diversion by general tax, when the people along the Park street drain have to pay their share of that work. He contended that the cases were parallel and that they should be dealt with in the same way.

Mayor Best was of the same opinion and reiterated his opposition to the scheme as proposed by the report.

The report was adopted, however.

Presentation To Mr. Crane

Members of St. Paul's Choir Honour Him.

After the concert at St. Paul's last night, the members of the choir, and the other artists who took part in the programme, were given a delightful luncheon by the ladies.

A pleasing feature was the presentation to Mr. John Crane, of the beautiful group photo of the choir, which was taken by Mr. R. M. Roy, and which for the last few days has been on exhibition in Mr. H. S. Macdonald's window.

Mr. D. H. Moore made the presentation, and in a few words referred to the efficient services which Mr. Crane had given the choir, and referred especially to his work in connection with the concert.

In acknowledging the gift Mr. Crane expressed his high appreciation of the action of the choir in making the presentation.

A pleasant hour was spent as the guests of the ladies of the church.

Medicine Chest Very Valuable

A creditable Piece of Work by Mr. G. W. Milligan.

Mr. G. W. Mulligan has just completed a piece of work of which he is justly proud, giving evidence, as it does, of particularly creditable workmanship. The article referred to is a medicine chest which Mr. Mulligan made during his spare time for himself. It is made of 425 pieces of wood, including four varieties of oak and the same number of pine, in addition to birch, maple, walnut, red cedar, mahogany and a number of others.

The feature of the chest is the inlaid work, of which there is considerable, particularly on the doors, and this makes it very noticeable. It is stated that if bought at the regular price it would cost about $120. It is not for sale, however, Mr. Mulligan intending to keep it for his own use. It is now on exhibition in Madill's window.

"Uncle Remus" Was Dealt With At St. John's

A VERY HIGHLY ENJOYABLE EVENING

Mr. R. M. Dennistoun read some delightfully funny stories of negro animal lore from Uncle Remus, those most original and inimitable works of Joel Chandler Harris, at a meeting at St. John's schoolhouse last night, under the auspices of St. John's Y.P.A. Mr. Dennistoun spoke at some length and amused his audience immensely by his natural imitation of the orthodox negro "dialect" and his ability to enter into the spirit of the stories. Mr. Dennistoun said that the Uncle Remus stories contained more in them than appeared on the surface and considerable enjoyment and good can be obtained by reading them. What Charles Perault, the French barrister who was the author of the many of the old fascinating fairy tales has done for these stories of dainty superstition, Joel Chandler Harris has done for Negro stories of the kind that were dealt with by the speaker. When the Negroes are themselves questioned about these stories they claim no knowledge of them, but if one shows he is familiar with them he can find no easier way to reach their confidence.

The hero of these stories is Brer Rabbit, chosen not because he is courageous or powerful, but probably because he is very cunning and amusing and makes a splendid central figure about which all the quaint tales revolve. Brers Coon, Bear, Wolf, Fox, 'Possum, Terrapin and others also prominently figure in the many humorous escapades of which Brer Rabbit was always the principal. Many indeed, were the interesting and amusing adventures with which Brer Rabbit and other animals were identified and many indeed were Brer Rabbit's hair-breadth and, it must be confessed, gratifying escapes. The speaker held the attention of his audience all the time he was speaking and the guild room in which he gave the readings was the scene of much mirth while he read the funny extracts from Uncle Remus.

As Uncle Remus said to the little chap to whom he related the stories that animals in those days knew far more than people of nowadays and one of the many wonderful gifts attributed to them was that of being able to converse.

After Mr. Dennistoun had completed his readings the meeting took on a business appearance and some few minor matters were disposed of, chief among which was the appointment of a committee of four — the President, Mr. John Comstock, Mr. Stanley Canniff, and the Secretary, Mr. Thos. Dawson—to arrange for the annual sleigh drive, which will take place on Tuesday evening, February 16th, leaving the Post Office corner about eight o'clock and proceed to drive about the city for an hour or so, after which the party will adjourn to the school house to partake of an oyster supper.

Latest News Of Winter Sports

Peterborough Won At Uxbridge Last Night

The locals, as was generally expected, found little difficulty in defeating Uxbridge at that town last night, turning the trick by a score of 7-4 the half time tally being 5-3. At one time Peterborough led by 5-1 and the players did not have to exert themselves very much at any stage of the game. The Uxbridge rink is very small, being only about 95 feet in width and the ice-plate from this city were considerably handicapped as a result. The lighting was fairly good. The rafters in the rink are hardly high enough to encourage any attempts at long firing. The referee, "Hookey" Dixon, of Toronto, gave perfect satisfaction and as the game was very clean had little to do only Whitcroft and Graham of the locals and an Uxbridge man being penalized. Morgan received a nasty cut on the head. The crowd was fairly large and, considering that their pets were being defeated, pretty enthusiastic. The ice was in good condition. The boys were well treated by their opponents.

Following is the line-up:—

Peterborough—Goal, Wasson; point, Stroud; cover, Moore; rover, Whitcroft; forwards, Graham, Morgan, Cavanah.

Uxbridge.—Goal, Tunnell; point, Diggle; cover, Anderson; rover, Gordon; forwards, Wilson, Gilfillan, Patterson.

Referee—W. H. Dixon. Goal umpires—Brown and Tunnell. Timekeepers—Foxter and McCabe. Penalty keeper—Geo. Gould.

Brockville Now For The Locals

The next team that the locals will go up against will be in all probability the "Invincibles," of Brockville, who are winners of district No. 1, Peterborough having won out in Districts Nos. 2 and 3 by their victory over Uxbridge last week.

The Brockville team is said to be a pretty fast aggregation and will no doubt give the locals the hardest kind of an argument.

HOCKEY

Stinsons' vs. Fannings'.

The long considered rivalry between the puck pursuers of Stinson's and Fanning's Boarding Houses was last night decisively brought to a conclusion by the overwhelming defeat of the latter by 12-2. As a result of the game it is stated that the hockey aspirants of the latter boarding house have the luxury, pie, excluded from their diet for one month while the former are reinforced by a double amount for the same time.

For the winners Ray, at cover point, and Upshaw at centre, were the pick of the bunch and were responsible for a large number of the goals. Staunton at cover for the losers was the most conspicuous.

Referee—E. Reid.

Ottawa Ice Races.

Ottawa, Feb. 4th.—The Winter ice races opened on Saturday, with an attendance of 1,500, which was considered splendid for a Saturday first. Track could not have been better, and the sport was top notch. The free-for-all stallion trot was exceptionally fine. There was no hitch with the exception that local drivers alleged that one horse was entered from a city other than the one to which it belonged. The summary:—

Frank G. Smith, in the "Horse World":—

President Munro of the Peterborough, Ont., Turf Club, entertained a party of horsemen at the new opera house in that progressive city the other night. Everybody had a royal time and voted the princely gentleman a star member of the Good Fellows' Club.

Mr. James Fife, of Keene, Ont., a well-to-do farmer, owns one of the greatest brood-mares in Canada. It is Dolly Tariff, bay mare, aged 14, sired by Tariff, son of Toronto Chief, he by Royal George; 1st dam by dam by Phenomenon, 4th dam by Amerigo Rifleman, 3d dam by Crown Imperial, 4th dam by Phenomenon, 5th dam by American Eclipse. She has produced Maud Keswick, 2.03 1-4; Dolly Keswick, an ice racing queen three years ago, both sired by Keswick; Jim X, a fast racer owned in Ottawa, sired by Elm City; The Nun, a trotting star, by Elm City; a colt by Black Mack, 2.15 1-4; colt by a Clydesdale horse, and is now in foal to Oro Wilkes, 2.11. Everyone of her produce possesses extreme speed indications, even the Clydesdale colt, and were all bred by Mr. Fife. His son, Charles Fife, trains and develops the youngsters, and although he makes few pretensions as to professional ability, he is an artist in that line just the same. I saw him pilot Dolly Keswick to a great victory at Peterborough three years ago, and, had his pacer stayed right, she would have been a grand Circuit queen the same as her full sister, Maud Keswick. Charley Fife is all right from tip to tip, and gave me the breeding of Dolly Tariff as above stated.

Ottawa, Feb. 5.—Bitter cold weather marked the second day of the Central Ice Races, but a couple of thousand of fur-clad men and women attended, and saw several exciting heats. The two events carded were unfinished and will be first on the list to-morrow. Looking Glass, Canada's most famous old ice horse, won two heats in the 2.12 class, and made the best time of the day, 2.22, considered very fast over the ice under such weather conditions. Griffith Belle has two heats in the Windsor Stake. The track was in fine shape.

If Joe Gans defeats Battling Nelson Terry McGovern says he is willing to take him on and won't draw the colour line. What right McGovern has to butt in at all in these matters is really inconceivable. Judging by the way young Corbett has walloped him (and Corbett himself is a back number) his nerve, to say the least, is really admirable. Perhaps McGovern wants to be a prominent figure in the limelight of the public gaze before he again goes on the stage.

The Penalty For Writing Letter To Newspaper

Newcastle Man Was Quarantined for Smallpox.

Mr. G. Eilbeck, a member of the Board of Health of Newcastle, Ont., was quarantined on Saturday, and thereby hangs a tale. A short time ago Dr. Bell, inspector of the Provincial Board of Health, went to Newcastle and diagnosed as smallpox a case which had been previously treated as chickenpox. The patient is the daughter of Reeve Parker, of Newcastle, who, by virtue of his office, is also chairman of the village Board of Health. Miss Parker was quarantined, and the usual other precautions were ordered to be adopted. On Friday last a letter appeared in The Newcastle Independent, signed by Mr. Eilbeck, who is a furniture dealer, to the effect that he had visited Miss Parker, that she had never had smallpox, and was not suffering from it at the present time. The publication was called to the attention of the Provincial Board of Health, then sitting in Toronto, and Dr. Bell was ordered to go to Newcastle, and if he found that quarantine had been broken by Mr. Eilbeck as stated in the letter to The Independent, he was to quarantine that gentleman himself, as the best measure of preventing the spread of smallpox. Mr. Eilbeck freely admitted the truth of his letter, and, as stated, he is now in quarantine.

Dr. Bell found a newly-developed case of smallpox in Newcastle on Saturday morning. There have been a number of cases there, and the high school, which, on that account, had been closed for two weeks, will not open until next week. Dr. Bell was emphatic in his statement yesterday that there has been neglect and indifference on the part of the Newcastle Board of Health in regard to the outbreak. He had found it necessary to appoint sanitary police and to take other efficient measures to try to stamp it out. At Orono, five or six miles north of Newcastle, he found five or six cases of smallpox. Proper precautions have been taken to deal with the cases there.—Globe.

BY

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

Kidney disease comes on quietly, it may have been in the system for a long time before you suspected the real cause of your trouble. There may have been backaches, swelling of the feet and ankles, disturbances of the urinary organs, such as, brick dust deposit in urine, highly colored, cloudy or cloudy urine, bladder pains, frequent urination, stone in bladder, etc.

Perhaps you did not know that these were symptoms of kidney disease, so the trouble kept growing worse, until Neuralgia, Sciatica, Rheumatism, Diabetes, Dropsy, and worst of all, Bright's Disease have taken hold of your system.

Doan's Kidney Pills should be taken at the first sign of anything wrong. There is no other safe way, (plasters and liniments are useless), as the trouble must be eradicated from the system.

Doan's Kidney Pills go to the seat of the trouble, strengthen the kidneys, and help them to filter the blood properly and rush off all the impurities which cause kidney trouble. Mr. Thomas Mayhew, Smith's Falls, Ont., writes: "For over four months I was troubled with my kidneys, and my back got so lame I felt miserable all over. TEA is a native plant of Northern India. Transplanted to Ceylon it lost much of its strength and richness, but gained in fragrance and delicacy.

Dr. Rainsford Former Rector Of Toronto Sick

HIS VESTRY ON HIS WORK

After Leaving Toronto, He Built Up St. George's, Which Had Nothing But Memorable Past, to a Charge of 7,000 Souls, With an Endowment Fund Increased by Three Hundred Thousands—His Career.

New York, Feb. 6.—To the deep regret of the parish which he had served so long, the resignation of the Rev. Dr. William S. Rainsford as rector of St. George's Protestant Episcopal Church was officially announced and accepted Sunday.

It was announced by the vestrymen that owing to the continued ill-health of the rector they had reluctantly consented to his resigning and had chosen as his successor the Rev. Mr. Hugh Birckhead, who has for several years been curate.

His Work For Parish.

In acquiescing in the decision of the rector the vestry caused the following minute to be inscribed on its records expressing devout gratitude to God for the gift of such a pastorate:

"The Rev. William S. Rainsford became rector of St. George's parish in 1883. He was then thirty-two years old, of splendid physique and in robust health. When he assumed his charge the church was practically without a congregation, with limited facilities for parish work, with small endowment and with a reputation in the diocese that was little more than a tribute to a memorable past.

"He lays down his charge after twenty-two years of exhausting labor, impaired in health by the burden of a care of seven thousand souls, with the endowment fund increased by $300,000, with a parish building complete in accommodation and equipment and which is a model of successful and useful operation, with a deaconess house, a trade school and a seaside cottage, with an official force of twenty men and women, an army of volunteer workers unsurpassed in numbers, intelligence and devotion and with a reputation acquired for the parish as extended as American Christianity.

"His name is written large in the annals of our religious and civic life and he will be followed in his retirement by the affectionate solicitude for his welfare of the congregation that he gathered and by the respect of the many who profited by his teaching and by his personal ministration."

Went Abroad Year Ago.

Fearing a nervous breakdown, for he was much worn by his labors, the Rev. Dr. Rainsford, in December, 1904, went away on a leave of absence, in the hope of restoring his impaired health. His recovery, however, has been delayed, and he has found that he cannot take up the active duties which the office of rector imposes. He is at present traveling, with Mrs. Rainsford in the Orient.

Born in Dublin, Ireland, in 1851, the Rev. Dr. Rainsford was graduated from St. John's College, University of Cambridge. His first post was as curate of St. Giles', in Norwich, England. He subsequently made a tour of the United States and Canada, preaching to large congregations, and accepted a pastorate in Toronto, from which he was called to St. George's, a church which includes in its membership many persons of wealth and social prominence.

Until his illness he was vigorous and athletic, and he was often referred to as an example of muscular Christianity. His interest in hunting and other outdoor sports is widely known.

An Official Investigation Will Be Made

Dominion Government Investigating Valencia Wreck.

IN NO SENSE A PROSECUTION

Evidence of Second Officer Peterson Declares There Was Not the Slightest Chance to Get a Boat Near the Wreck on Wednesday, as the Seas Were Heavy Then—No Panic Occurred and No Intoxication.

Victoria, B. C., Feb. 6.—The Canadian Government's investigation into the Valencia disaster began yesterday morning. William Allan, agent of the Pacific Coast Steamship Co., and Pierre Peterson, second officer of the Valencia, were examined. Capt. Gaudin, agent of marine, sitting with Capt. G. G. Cox, Lloyds' agent, and Capt. Newcombe, master of the Government steamship Kestral, as commissioners, announced that the investigation was in no sense a prosecution, just a preliminary examination.

Seas Get Heavy.

Second Officer Peterson said Capt. Johnson and witness thought they had struck near Cape Flattery. It was not the intention to lower the boats in the water when they were lowered, only to the rail of the saloon deck. Had they been kept there a chance would have existed for those on board on Tuesday morning, as the sea was not heavy then. There was not the slightest chance to get a boat near the wreck when the rescuers were seen on Wednesday morning, the sea being very heavy then. A raft with a line might possibly have worked in, but a boat would not reach the wreck. A line was fired ashore and had anyone been there to attend to it, all could have been saved. The boatswain and some seamen went in a boat to try and get ashore, but they could not get there or back to the wreck.

When She Broke Up.

Peterson recited in detail what happened when the passengers and crew took to the rigging, how the topmast fell, carrying some away, and of occurrences on the wreck till he left on the life raft, picked up later by the City of Topeka. A life raft with ten men left fifteen minutes before that picked up Turret Island and another raft got away, but he did not know if there were people on it. There must have been 60 or 70 passengers on the steamer when she broke up.

On Wednesday rescue was not possible from the sea by boats. It was not practicable to get a boat alongside. The Queen was about two miles away, but a tug came within three-quarters of a mile. He thought she could have come closer.

No Intoxication.

Witness said that the men were at their boat stations. "Who lowered the boat?" asked Commissioner Gaudin.

"I would like to know," said witness.

"It seemed to me passengers took it upon themselves, with the assistance of some of the drowned crew."

Witness denied that a panic occurred or that there was intoxication. "It was a distinct falsehood to say that any one was intoxicated." He saw the last bottle of Hennessey distributed among the passengers, and no one got into the lower bar. The last of the cold meats were distributed to passengers by him and the stewards had done everything that was possible for the passengers.

C. P. R. Dividends.

Montreal, Feb. 6.—At a meeting of the board of the Canadian Pacific Railway yesterday, a dividend of two per cent. on preferred stock, and three per cent. on common stock was declared for the half year ended December last. After the payment of working expenses, fixed charges and dividends now declared, there is a surplus for the half year of $4,869,814.

Divorce Will Go On.

Paris, Feb. 6.—Countess Boni De Castellane (formerly Anna Gould) entered a plea for divorce yesterday. Representatives of the countess and the count appeared before a judge who, according to the French law, endeavored to arrange a conciliation before allowing a suit to proceed. It is said that the judge's efforts were not successful.

BUT IT BECOMES A SERIOUS MATTER IF NEGLECTED. PNEUMONIA, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA, CATARRH or CONSUMPTION IS THE RESULT.

Get rid of it at once by taking

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup

Obstinate coughs yield to its grateful soothing action, and in the racking, persistent cough, often present in Consumptive cases, it gives prompt and sure relief. In Asthma and Bronchitis it is a successful remedy, rendering breathing easy and natural, enabling the sufferer to enjoy refreshing sleep, and often effecting a permanent cure.

We do not claim that it will cure Consumption in the advanced stages, but if taken in time it will prevent it reaching that stage, and will give the greatest relief to the poor sufferer from this terrible malady.

Be careful when purchasing to see that you get the genuine Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. Put up in a yellow wrapper, three pine trees the trade mark.

Mr. Wm. O. Jenkins, Spring Lake, Alta., writes: "I had a very bad cold settled on my lungs. I bought two bottles of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup but it only required one to cure me. I have never met with any other medicine so good."

Most Shocking Murder From Nova Scotia

Headless Body of Farmer Found Near Windsor, N. S.

AN ENGLISHMAN IN CUSTODY

Freeman Harvie, a Well-Known Farmer, Was Last Seen Alive on Saturday—Neighbors Made Ghastly Discovery of His Body From Which the Head Was Severed in the Cellar on Sunday Last.

Halifax, Feb. 6.—The decapitated body of Freeman Harvie, a well-known farmer of Ellershouse, Hants Co., on the line of Dominion Atlantic Railway, was found in the cellar of his house yesterday morning. The head was completely severed from the trunk, and there seems to be no doubt that a most brutal murder has been committed. The facts, so far revealed, are as follows:

Harvie was last seen on Saturday. It is known that on that day a stranger, an Englishman, called at the farm to discuss the question of its purchase. This man has disappeared, and the police are searching for him.

The ghastly discovery of the dead man's body was made yesterday morning by neighbors who, knocking and getting no response, forced an entrance.

Harvie's farm is about a mile from Ellershouse. He lived alone there, his wife being employed in the cotton factory at Windsor.

The body when found yesterday morning lay underneath a heap of potatoes.

Late last night George Stanley, who says he came from London, England, was arrested and placed in the hands of the sheriff to stand trial for the crime, and James Fisher of Ellershouse is also a prisoner.

It is likely also that other arrests will follow before the police decide that they have all in their clutches who may have had something to do with the murder. The theory is that several local men may have plotted to secure the money which Harvie was known to have, taking advantage of the fact that he was living alone.

Lived Day With Throat Cut.

Brantford, Feb. 6.—Mrs. John Thresher, aged 48, cut her throat with a butcher knife at her home in this city Sunday morning and died early yesterday morning at the hospital. Early Sunday her daughter found her in bed with her throat gashed. Two arteries were severed, but she lived for 24 hours after.

Champion Lady Golfer Suicides.

St. Louis, Feb. 6.—Mrs. Lilburn G. McNair, prominent in society, and champion woman golf player of St. Louis, died and killed herself yesterday at her home on Berlin avenue. She had been unable to sleep for several consecutive nights. She was 34 years old and had two children.

She Wanted to Die.

London, Feb. 6.—On the Dundas street bridge a motorman noticed a woman lying prostrate on the tracks. The car was stopped barely in time to prevent the car passing over her. When the motorman went to the assistance of the woman she said: "Oh, you need not have stopped. I wanted to die." She appeared to be half stupid with liquor. The woman was fairly well dressed and did not seem at all excited over the occurrence.

Run Down by Train.

St. Thomas, Feb. 6.—The dead body of William Kennedy, alias "Billy the Bum," alias "Slum from Troy," a character well-known in this city and Stratford, was found lying by the side of the M. C. R. track about three-quarters of a mile east of Taylor. Kennedy, whose right name is said to be Costello, has respectable relatives in Troy, who sent him $15 per month. He himself was worthless and "workless."

Leaves Wife and Five Children.

Keewatin, Feb. 6.—John Laute, employed as laborer on the construction of the Keewatin flour mills here, was instantly killed yesterday afternoon by the collapse of a derrick following the breaking of goose neck. He leaves a wife and five little children.

Miss Fleming's Escape.

Ottawa, Feb. 6.—Jeannie Fleming, the 10-year-old granddaughter of Sir Sandford Fleming, and daughter of Mrs. S. H. Fleming, was knocked down by a cab horse yesterday afternoon, but beyond a shaking up and a bad scare, she was uninjured.

Twelve Killed by Bomb.

Kattiwitz, Prussian Silesia, Feb. 6.—A private house at Slice, across the Russian frontier, has been destroyed by the explosion of a bomb. The bodies of twelve persons can be seen in the ruins, and it is believed that many others were killed.

The "ominous and objectionable inscription 'O.H.M.S.'," is to be removed from the envelopes used by the guardians of Kilkenny Union, in Ireland, and be replaced by "A round tower, a crownless harp and the shamrock," if a notice just given by one of the guardians is sanctioned.

SEE-SAWING AT ALGECIRAS.

Germany and France Seek Good Opinion of the World Before Committing Themselves Finally.

Algeciras, Spain, Feb. 6.—The French delegation at the Moroccan conference was reinforced yesterday by the arrival of Count St. Rene Taillandiere, who was the French Minister at Fez during the Franco-German crisis last summer.

His presence is considered to relate to the private discussions going on between the delegates on the main Franco-German issues with a view to adjusting the conflicting views. The ambassadors say the outlook continues hopeful, but admit the attempts of disinterested powers are not yet resulting in securing an exact basis for accord.

The German delegates declare that the reports that they are not in favor of a moderate policy are unwarranted, and that it is they who are most desirous of conciliation. The French, however, insist that the Germans maintain an attitude lacking in preciseness.

Germany's Attitude.

Berlin, Feb. 6.—Germany's attitude towards the proposition to place the control of the Moroccan police in the hands of France and Spain, is one of firm opposition, since the arrangement would, according to the German view, amount practically to giving France full authority over the police, which Germany hitherto has steadily resisted.

MARTHA COLLIER'S FORTUNE.

Sole Heir of Late Miss Gordon, Gets $20,000.

Glencoe, Feb. 6.—A few years ago, Miss Gordon, a well-to-do elderly lady of this place, secured as maid a young girl named Martha Collier, at that time an inmate of the Barnardo Home, Toronto. Miss Gordon and the girl became very much attached to each other.

About two months ago, Miss Gordon having fully recovered her health, decided to give up her maid. They went to the station together, but the strain of parting was too great and Miss Collier returned home with Miss Gordon. A few days later Miss Gordon regularly adopted the girl, making her her legal daughter.

Two weeks ago Miss Gordon caught a severe cold, pneumonia set in and the latter part of last week she died. Miss Gordon had property estimated to be worth about $20,000.

So far no will has been found. Unless one is found Miss Collier, the adopted daughter, will receive the entire estate.

CHINESE-RUSSIAN TREATY.

Active Preparation On Lines of That Between Japan and China.

Pekin, Feb. 6.—M. Pokotoloff, the Russian Minister, and Mr. Tong, representing the Chinese Government, are discussing a Russo-Chinese treaty along the lines of that between China and Japan.

In part the proposals are understood to be for the opening of Manchuria with the same rights and privileges to all nations, without discrimination. Russia is to receive mining concessions in Mongolia and commercial privileges in Chinese Turkestan. A revision of the Kiakhta convention is also proposed.

Russia, under the treaty, will receive the same commercial rights in the three Manchuria provinces.

Safeguard the Children
AGAINST CROUP AND COLDS BY ALWAYS KEEPING AT HAND
DR. CHASE'S SYRUP OF LINSEED AND TURPENTINE

There are some reasons why Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is the most suitable treatment obtainable for children.

It is pleasant to the taste, and children like to take it.

It is composed of simple ingredients of proven value in the cure of throat and lung troubles.

It is positively free from anything of an injurious nature, and can be used with perfect safety with the smallest child, so long as directions are followed.

It is wonderfully successful in the prevention and cure of croup.

It promptly relieves even the most severe chest colds and brings about a thorough cure.

You are not experimenting when you use Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, for it is the standby in thousands of homes, where time and again it has proven its exceptional worth.

When you make up your mind to safeguard your children by keeping Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine in the house, do not allow your dealer to persuade you into taking something on which he has a larger profit.

Mrs. Wm. Ball, Bracebridge, Ont., writes:—"I can recommend Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine most heartily for all forms of colds, and I think if every family would use it for their little ones it would save lots of worry and expense and find it prompt and lasting in its effects.

"My three youngest boys had whooping cough this winter and we could get nothing to help them out. we sent for Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. It arrested the coughs at once and they kept on improving until they were cured at the cost of one dollar. That was not a large bill for so dangerous and distressing an ailment."

In the hour of emergency, when croup or colds seize your child, the cheap substitutes will fail you, but Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine never disappoints. 25 cts. a bottle, at all dealers.

The Routine Business At Council Meeting

Many Important Matters Came up in Regular Line of Business—A Number of Communications Were Received—What They Ask For—Railway Commissioners Issue Order Allowing City to Cross G. T. R. Tracks With Water Mains and Sewers—Tax Collector Presents Statement of Taxes Received—Other Business.

The City Council broke the record last night, when they sat until 12.45 this morning, in the second regular monthly meeting for the year. When 11 o'clock, the statuary hour for adjournment arrived, they were only nicely getting started to business and a motion to extend the time for closing was passed, and business then proceeded until the hour named. By-laws were passed after the midnight hour had struck, and the clerk had to change the date to Feb. 6th.

Those present were Mayor Best, Ald. Johnston, Tovey, Hicks, Mason, Elliott, Graham, Ball, McIntyre, McWilliams and Adams, Ald. Kelly being the only absentee.

The minutes of the last two meetings were taken as read.

Communications.

Communications were read and dealt with as follows:—

The Canadian Municipal Jornal, notifying the Mayor that it was being sent to him gratis; and asking him to forward to the Journal from time to time any news which might be of interest to other municipalities.

Ald. Tovey moved, seconded by Ald. Johnston that the city clerk be authorized to subscribe for the Journal for each member of the Council, which was carried.

The Peterborough Fuel and Cartage Company applied for permission to extend their siding across Rink street to accommodate their coal shed.—The Board of Works will deal with it.

Thirteen licensed carters of the city asking the Council to provide a carters' stand for use of their horses and carts while waiting for calls. The letter pointed out that there were objections to their using the present street and they wish a shelter erected in which protection will be given from cold and storm. They also ask that a telephone be placed in the shelter.—Fire, Water and Light Committee.

James B. Brown, notifying the Council that he had not received the exclusive weighing for the city which he purchased.—Fire, Water and Light Committee.

From Joseph Mitchell, asking for a granolithic walk on the south side of Romaine street in front of lot No. 37.—Board of Works.

From James Bogue, in reference to the non-completion of the East City sewer.—Board of Works.

E. H. D. Hall, stating that he had received word from the clerk of the Legislature, stating that the session would meet on the 15th, and asked that the Peterborough legislation be forwarded as early as possible.—Received.

Mrs. Gertrude Greene, asking for a rebate on her butchers' license, as she has sold out her business.—Finance Committee.

W. D. Lighthall, Hon. Secretary-Treasurer of the Union of Canadian Municipalities, asking that the City of Peterborough become a member of the Union. Fees $3.00 per every 1,000 of population.—Finance Committee.

W. J. Green, tax collector, statement of tax collections:

Total amount on roll $114,611.60
Total amount deposited 105,932.78
Balance 8,678.91
Collected during January, $786.22.

J. E. Roberts, on behalf of the Dominion of Canada Guarantee and Accident Insurance Company, Toronto, asking that the bonds covering the city officials be placed with his company.—Received.

John Carnegie and Joseph B. Penfold, reporting the result of the arbitration between the County of Peterborough and the City of Peterborough:

First,—We award and adjudge that the sum of $224.90 be paid by the city to the county in full payment of matters referred to arbitration.

Second,—That each municipality pay one-half the costs of the arbitration, viz., $110.—The Treasurer will issue a cheque for the amounts.

D. O'Connell, on behalf of the Peterborough Shovel and Tool Company, presenting the statuary declaration respecting the conveyance of land to be given to the Shovel and Tool Company.—Manufacturers' Committee.

E. H. D. Hall, stating that Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, acting for the Board of Education, had written him asking that the city forward the conveyance of the Collegiate Institute site.—Received.

J. Bingham, Medical Health Officer, asking for an increase of $25 to his salary, giving him $400 per annum instead of $375.—Finance Committee.

Wm. Moore, secretary of the Canadian Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, asking to have a delegate sent from the City of Peterborough to the annual meeting to be held March 28.—Received.

Messrs. Dennistoun, Peck and Kerr, wrote, enclosing a copy of the Bill, which will be introduced at the approaching session of the Ontario Legislature for the extension of the time for the Peterborough Radial Railway to construct their line to Stony Lake. The letter gave the reasons which made the application for the extension desirable. The solicitor will be asked to report on it.

Applications for the position of City Assessor were read from Messrs. Thomas McKee, John Kincaid and Thos. B. McGrath.—Received.

Mr. A. D. Cartwright, Secretary of the Board of Railway Commissioners for Canada, wrote, sending copies of order of the Board in reference to the application of the city to lay sewer pipes under the G.T.R. tracks, and also for the application to lay water main under the same railway tracks. This privilege was allowed under the usual conditions.—Received.

John T. Smyth, applied for permission to erect an illuminated sign to extend 24 inches over the sidewalk at his billiard and bowling parlours, 368 Water street.—Board of Works.

Controller Hubbard, President of the Ontario Municipal Association, wrote, enclosing copy of a petition which it is proposed to submit to the Ontario Legislature for an amendment to the Municipal Act which would relieve Municipal Corporations from liability for nonfeasance, but not from liability for mis-feasance or their positive acts occasioning injury to persons. The petition points out that as section 606 of the Municipal Act, now stands, it practically makes the ratepayers the insurers of all persons walking or driving on the highways of the municipality.—Manufacturers' and Legislation Committee.

Ald. Hicks introduced a bylaw to fix the charge on sewers paid for by general tax. The bylaw provides that $25 be charged for these connections. The bylaw was carried.

A bylaw to grant $300 per year to the Children's Aid Society, was introduced by Ald. Mason and passed.

A bylaw authorizing the construction of a sewer on Pearl avenue, was passed.

Ald. Adams moved that the City Treasurer be authorized to issue a cheque for $3,000 to the City Solicitor to pay for the site for the new fire hall, which was carried.

Ald. McWilliams moved that the Manufacturers' Committee be empowered to send deputations to interview manufacturers intending to locate here, and that the expenses of such deputations be paid on the certificate of the Mayor or chairman. The motion was carried.

The Chief of Police will be given a two months' leave of absence on account of sickness, dating from Feb. 1st, and Constable Adams will be appointed acting Chief, and that Thos. Miller, added to the police force temporarily, on motion of Ald. Tovey.

Reduction Of Qualification

Ald. Ball Wants Aldermanic Qualification Reduced to $200.

The Council last night discussed the proposal to decrease the qualification for voters to $300 on the report of the Committee of the Whole, the clause of which dealing with this matter being as follows:—

"We recommend that the Legislation Committee be authorized to take such steps as they find advisable to try and secure the amendment of the Municipal Act to reduce the qualification of tenants and freeholders to vote on Municipal Elections to $300 in cities with a population of 20,000 or under."

Ald. Ball wanted the Council to amend the report to the effect that efforts be made to secure legislation by which the qualifications for Aldermen shall be reduced to $300. This was referred to the Committee of the Whole Council to deal with.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

Whenever St. Paul's Church Choir, under the leadership of Mr. John Crane, undertakes to give a concert there is certainty of its being a good one—musically excellent and in every way satisfactory. The knowledge of this fact doubtless accounted for the large and cultured audience that assembled in the church last night, composed principally, of course, of the members of St. Paul's, who thus gratefully recognized, as they do at all times, the faithful and efficient services of their large and capable choir. There were present also representatives from every other church congregation in the city who were well rewarded for their presence by the splendid programme splendidly presented. The entire management of the concert was excellent throughout. The elaborate programmes contained the words of the music performed, permitting of a more intelligent following by those not familiar with the selections. The choir consists of thirty-three well trained voices with a good balance of parts, and the whole responding to the conductor's baton with the promptitude of a chord to the touch of the key. The audience was placed somewhat at a disadvantage by the very proper request printed on the programme—to refrain from applause. This involved self denial, for the temptation to break into applause was often very strong.

The programme proper was preceded by the singing of the usual doxology led by a brief prayer by Rev. Dr. Torrance, followed by an exquisite chanting of the Lord's Prayer. The first programme number was a choral piece, "King O Heavens," by Tours, in which the incidental solo was splendidly taken by Miss Davies. The triumphant note of rejoicing with which the number opens, with the contrasting piano passage, beginning, "For Unto Us a Son is Born," followed by another outburst of jubilant praise on which the whole choir with all its thunderous harmony was enlisted was inspiring and the succeeding introduction of the "Adeste Fideles," with its stately solemnity produced a most telling and most charming effect. Next followed an unaccompanied selection — Sullivan's "Yea, Though I Walk." This tender morceau was marked by delightful shading and phrasing with a finale of exquisite delicacy and sweetness. Buck's Christmas Hymn, "O Holy Night," also unaccompanied, was, if one should venture to differentiate as to the work of the chorus, its most charming work. Miss Davies took the solo with artistic excellence, and as the choir broke gently into the closing passages of the solos, it formed a delightful, so to speak, chorus accompaniment. The refrain "Fall on Your Knees," developed a great volume of majestic sound, and in the finale the effect of the soloist's notes, her voice far above the accompanying chorus, was like a lark soaring and singing high over the other songsters of the air. The next chorus—unaccompanied — Gounod's magnificent tone picture of the Crucifixion — "O Day of Penitence," had its dramatic intensity, well developed in its spirited and skilful rendering. Rawley's "Trisagion and Sanctus" was another exceedingly well sung selection, followed by a splendid production of Gotbel's magnificently militant "The Signs of God Go Forth to War," brightened with a beautiful incidental duet by Misses Davies and Moore. The jubilant "Birthday of the King," perhaps the most popularly satisfying, was followed by Gounod's "Sanctus," and Benedictus from the "Messe Solonelle," by Miss Davies and choir. The work of the choir throughout was superb, the harmony was excellent, while the shading, alert attack and smooth diminuendi and crescendi effects were worthy of all praise, and Mr. Crane is deserving of the utmost credit for the success with which he has infused into his choir sympathetic spirit, and developed its fine quality and really excellent executive ensemble.

This was the choir's concert, but the soloists are also worthy of especial mention. Miss Davies repeated, under modified conditions, her recent triumph with the National Chorus in Toronto. Her first solo was rather heavy, "Jerusalem, Thou That Killest." She declaimed the introductory passages with dramatic authority, and her round, smooth voice and devotional spirit gave splendid effect to the second part of her number, "I Will Sing of Thy Great Mercies." Her "Rock of Ages," by Ilarri, was marked by exquisite finish and taste. Her solo work in the chorus was in every case charming in every way—tone quality, expression and gratifying clearness of enunciation.

Mr. Geo. McCulloch Ross, of Toronto, who has a well trained tenor organ, sang, with good effect, two solos, "The King of Love My Shepherd Is," and "Be Thou Faithful—St. Paul—the latter by far the better in tone and execution, his splendid enunciation being a gratifying feature. Mr. Ross has a voice of fine quality and promises to become a singer of great merit. Miss Moore, a member of the choir, took the solo in "The Birthday of the King" in a very acceptable manner, as she also sang with Mr. Crane a beautiful duet — Brewer's "Jesus the Very Thought of Thee." Mr. Jas. Dawson and Mr. W. J. Mellroy were heard with gratifying effect in the duet, "Hark, Hark My Soul"—Nevin. The delightful evening of first rate choral music, presented in a most musicianly and effective manner was brought to a close with "God Save the King." Mr. Crane and the choir are to very warmly congratulated upon the success of their annual concert in every way.

WEDDING BELLS

DEANNARD—GALVIN.

A very pretty February wedding was that celebrated in St. Peter's Cathedral at 8 o'clock this morning, when Miss Mary Galvin, daughter of Mr. Jas. Galvin, 187 Stewart street, was united in marriage to Mr. John Deannard. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Kelly in the presence of about 25 guests. The bride, who was given away by her father, was charmingly attired in blue taffeta silk with rose point lace yoke, and carried a white prayer-book. The bridesmaid, Miss Ada Galvin, sister of the bride, wore a gown of cream Panama cloth and carried a white prayer-book. Mr. Geo. Lynch was groomsman.

The altar was decorated with carnations and smilax. Mendelssohn's wedding march was rendered by Miss Doherty, and during the ceremony the "Ave Maria" was effectively sung by Misses Lewis and Clancy.

At the conclusion of the ceremony a recherche wedding dejeuner was served at the residence of the bride's father, Stewart street, Mr. T. H. Hoover catering.

That the principals are among the city's most popular young people was evidenced by the large number of beautiful presents received. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold coin, to the bridesmaid a signet ring, and to the groomsman a pair of cuff links.

Among the guests from a distance were Mr. Jas. Crowley, London; Miss Bailey, Toronto; Mrs. Graham, Hamilton, and Mrs. Cummings, Rochester, N.Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Deannard will reside at 479 Donegal street, city.

Miss Adelaide Heath of the Toronto School of Expression, was in the city yesterday arranging for a recital which she will give under the auspices of the ladies of St. Andrew's church on March 2nd.

Miss Heath is on the staff of the Peterborough Conservatory of Music, where she teaches elocution, and has a good class.

Browning Class Meets Approval

The Browning Class which was newly formed last week met yesterday evening in the Y.M.C.A. at 7.15. Despite a number of other attractions there were as many present as at the preceding meeting which demonstrates the recognition of the ability of the teacher, Mr. O. B. Earle, as well as the increasing popularity of the study of Browning's poems.

Mr. Earle first completed the reading and explanation of "Rabbi-Ben Ezra." "The Last Ride Together," a beautiful love poem was then read and received and lastly an extract from "Paracelsus."

The lively and intelligent discussion which accompanied each important thought greatly assisted in making last night's meeting a most beneficial and enjoyable one.

The class will meet again next Monday night at the same hour and "Saul," one of the poet's best poems, will form the subject for discussion.

Fell Fifteen Feet From a Platform To Ground Floor

Samuel Cottingham Had a Narrow Escape at Hamilton's Foundry.

Samuel Cottingham, 480 Donegal street, a moulder employed at the William Hamilton Company's foundry, yesterday afternoon had a narrow escape from serious injury which he will not soon forget. Mr. Cottingham was standing on an elevated platform and while pulling a rope opening one of the ventilators, it broke, and he fell backwards to the ground floor a distance of about 15 feet. He sustained a bad shaking up and while no bones were broken he was compelled to quit work.

Was It Case Of Desertion?

Man Was to Have Met Young Lady at G.T.R. Station.

All dark, good-looking men ranging in age from twenty-eight to thirty years, would do well to keep under cover for a few days as there is a lady with all the fury of a woman scorned on the still hunt for a man of that description.

The lady in question who is young and good-looking, is said to hail from an eastern city. She arrived in Peterborough on Saturday night and the dark complexioned individual mentioned above, it is alleged, was to have met her at the G. T. R station. Rumour has it that a wedding would have been the result of the meeting. The man in the case, however, was not at the rendezvous and the lady has not yet been able to locate him, although she has been diligently searching for him ever since. She is very angry at the desertion of the man who has apparently deserted her and is very likely not living in Peterborough at all. She is at present located at a George street boarding house and is still on the look out for the missing man.

NO GREASE OR DANGEROUS DRUGS

In "Herpicide," the New Scientific and Successful Dandruff Treatment.

Have you dandruff? Then you have a contagious parasitic disease, unpleasant, unhealthy and one that will eventually lead to baldness. To cure it you must destroy the parasite that eats at the root of the hair. The only preparation for destroying these germs is Newbro's Herpicide. Charles Klein of Laramie, Wyo., says: "Herpicide allayed the itching, cured the dandruff and stopped my hair falling out; and it is bringing a new crop of hair." Herpicide is free from grease or dangerous drugs, and makes the hair glossy and soft as silk. One bottle will convince you of its merits.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10 cents in stamps, for sample to the Herpicide Company, Detroit, Mich. Ormond and Walsh, special agents.

"Parting of the Ways."

Detective Murray Is Making Investigation

Into the Case of the Dead Infant Found at the Auburn Dam—Was at the Scene This Morning With Local Police.

Detective J. W. Murray, of Toronto, was in the city to-day, and, in company with a member of the local police force this morning visited the Auburn Dam, and conducted investigations in reference to the infant's body found there some weeks ago.

The case was reported to the Attorney General's Department by the Coroner and Mr. Murray has been sent here to look into the matter, and if possible solve the mystery connected with it.

He is engaged to-day in research, and it is probable that at the adjourned inquest, which will be held on Thursday, Feb. 15th, he may be able to add something to the evidence, which will help to solve the mystery.

The Appeal Was Won By Richard Hall and Son

In the Cases of Talbot vs. Hall and Delaire vs. Hall—Judgment Has Been Delivered by the Appeal Judge—New Trial Directed—Party Who Ultimately Wins Must Pay Costs of Both Trials.

Messrs. Rich. Hall and son have won their appeal before the Court of Appeal in the cases of Talbot v. Hall, and Delaire v. Hall, and a new trial is directed. Costs of the former trial and of the appeal are to be taxed on the parties who ultimately succeed.

The Toronto Globe, in reporting the judgment, says:

Talbot v. Hall; Delaire v. Hall.—Judgment (R.) on appeal by defendants from judgment of Anglin, J., (5 O.W.R., 751), in favour of plaintiffs in each case, pronounced after answers given by the jury to questions propounded by the trial Judge, and from his judgment refusing a nonsuit. Plaintiffs were young women in the employment of defendants in their dry goods and millinery store at Peterborough, and were injured by the fall of the passenger elevator in the store, which was rented by defendants. Held that there was evidence proper to be submitted to the jury that no proper arrangements were made by defendants for the systematic inspection of the elevator in question, and that a proper inspection would have disclosed the defects in the adjustment of the safety appliances. The inspection which took place was not made under any contract to inspect, and was not remunerated, but was purely voluntary; there was evidence also that it was not thorough. In these circumstances, the motion for a non-suit was properly refused. The court, however, finds a serious difficulty in deciding that the verdict can stand in the face of what appear to be ambiguous or contradictory findings by the jury. They found in answer to the first four questions that the fall of the elevator was due to the negligence of defendants in not having them properly inspected. Then, in answer to the 23rd, 24th and 25th questions, they found that defendants had no knowledge of the defects in the elevator, but that their lack of knowledge was due to an omission on their part of their duty to employ an expert inspector. Question 26 was, "What defects, if any, do you find the defendants knew or should have known?" The jury answered, "They should, from the inspection of an expert, have known the stop balls on the operating cable were too far apart." Order made setting aside judgment and directing a new trial. Costs of the former trial and of the appeal to be taxed to the parties who ultimately succeed. G. H. Watson, K.C., for defendants. D. O'Connell, Peterborough, for plaintiffs.

Ex-Councillor Smith and Mrs. Smith Presented With Address and Cosy Chairs on Eve of Their Removal From North Monaghan to Peterborough—Ex-Warden Hunter Read the Address.

The residence of Mr. ex-Councillor Johnathan Smith, of North Monaghan, was last night the scene of a friendly and delightful invasion by the Presbyterians of Springville. Mr. Smith is about to remove to Peterborough with his family, to occupy the fine new residence Mr. Smith has erected on Holivar street.

Mr. Smith, as an elder of the Presbyterian church, Springville, and Mrs. Smith, as president of the Ladies' Aid Society, had, by virtue of their faithful service, taken a warm place in the affections of the congregation, who, naturally, desired on the occasion of their departure, to give formal expression of their regret, and tangible recognition of their services and good qualities, as both members of the congregation and as highly respected and valued neighbours. Last night about 50 members of the congregation descended upon the house of Mr. Smith to present him and Mrs. Smith with an address and tangible tokens of their esteem, and received a hearty welcome.

Mr. Albert Sanderson acted as chairman, and ex-Warden T. M. Hunter, on behalf of the congregation, read the following address:

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Smith.—It is with deep regret that the Presbyterian congregation of Springville and the people of this district hear of your intended removal to the city. During the ten years you have resided amongst us your sterling integrity and unselfishness have tended to make life pleasant and successful. While as a citizen and neighbour we feel loss; the Presbyterian church of Springville, in your removal will be deprived of two of its most useful members, yourself as a member of the Session and Mrs. Smith, President of the Ladies' Aid and other societies—always prompt in attendance and unselfishly and faithfully labouring for the material and spiritual welfare of the church.

On this occasion any words of ours would fail to express our deep sense of the loss that your removal will cause. We respectfully request you to accept these gift as a slight expression of our esteem for you and Mrs. Smith, hoping that in future years they will tend to remind you both of the warm and affectionate place you occupy in the hearts of the people of Springville.

We implore the richest gifts of God's gracious bounty upon you personally and the members of your family.

Signed on behalf of the congregation,
ALBERT SANDERSON,
DAVID McROBERTS,
ROBERT SANDERSON.

The reading of the address was followed by the presentation to Mr. and Mrs. Smith each, of beautiful and luxurious easy chairs, Mr. McRoberts making the presentation to the former, and Mrs. Robert Sanderson to the latter.

Mr. Smith, though delightfully surprised—as he always does—kept his head level, and for Mrs. Smith and himself made a most happy speech in reply to the address, his remarks in their felicitous aptness seeming to intensify the feeling of cordiality existing between the Smith family and all their neighbours.

The evening was then given over to enjoyment. Excellent refreshments were served, and the company afterwards occupied themselves in social enjoyment interspersed with vocal and instrumental music.

Rev. J. G. Potter gave a comprehensive address on "A Quarter Century of Christian Endeavour."

In beginning Rev. Mr. Potter said: The celebration of the beginning of the Christian Endeavour Society, will be participated in by Christian workers all over the world to-night.

While the church has had the interest and sympathy of its young people in all ages, yet the special service of the great movement inaugurated by Rev. Francis E. Clark in his church at Portland, Me., twenty-five years ago, was the turning to account for the work of Christ's kingdom, the youthful energy of hundreds of thousands in every church, and in every land.

One term might with all candour apply to the work of this immense organized force, that of Consecrated Enthusiasm. With an intelligent vision of the worth of the church, with a consciousness of dependence upon the church for guidance and teaching, with a growing knowledge of the value of the Gospel for the salvation of a world lost because of sin, young lives have been fired with zeal for God, for God's word, and God's world, and have a keen sense of responsibility, banded themselves together in this supreme effort to save and edify.

That the organization can be adapted to the conditions of any country, is shown by the remarkable convention held in Mingpo, China, last May, when some 1500 delegates took a pleasing and inspiring interest in the proceedings. The manifest spirit of the movement as caught by the Orientals, is shown in their translation of the name of the society, into the "Drum and Rouse-up Society."

The society is now to be found the channel of practical work in almost every country.

In Ahanedinagar, India, the C. E. Society was so large that they divided into nine different bands, having a total of seven hundred members.

The small country charge in our own land has found the society a blessing wherever it has been wisely guided by the leaders in Christian work. The services have been varied, from supplying flowers for the pulpit, to the leading and carrying on of cottage meetings, and, in some cases, of conducting the evening service for the pastor.

The largest Endeavour Society existing is the Grace Baptist Temple, Philadelphia, with fourteen different sections.

The world's convention, which will meet in Geneva — the city of Calvin — in July of this year, will report the existence of over 67,000 societies on the roll.

Now, besides the development of all the energies of our young people in regularly organized churches, the principles of the society have been adopted in prisons and other public institutions of correction and reformation, with excellent results.

The Floating Endeavourers, as the merchant marine and navy have been called, prove what a power for good this has been to men surrounded, as our sailors are, with peculiar temptations. Endeavourers of this class have erected in Nagasaki, Japan, a unique institution, as a shelter for seamen from any land, who will be thus surrounded with Christian Endeavour influence.

One wise provision has been made in the Endeavour policy, by which it is determined to perpetuate itself and always expand, and that is by the constant organisation of Junior Societies.

In many places a Junior Society is started every two or three years, and so the work of pledging is made a natural feature to those just beginning the life in the church.

The inspiring slogan of the society has been "For Christ and the church." It has thus emphasized the value of confession, with courage, and service with constancy.

This great movement has done much to foster the great spring of Christian, denominational and national union — it has led to a more enthusiastic study of the word of God —it has fostered a business-like method of finance in church life, which has done much for the prosperity of the work of the church; it has given the best evangelism, calling forth the vigorous life of the church to do personal work that has led to the conversion of tens of thousands.

In foreign lands Endeavourers have organized bands to conduct meetings in neighbouring villages. This is particularly true in India, and Africa, while in 63 different countries and islands of the sea, beyond the United States and Canada the Endeavour Society is found engaged in a genuine loyal devotion to its own particular church, and a patriotism to its own country, making for a lofty Christian citizenship.

Miss H. Bathgate, president of the society, gave a most helpful address on the outlook and purpose of the society for the coming years. It has been urged by Rev. Dr. Clark, president of the United Societies throughout the world, that the purpose be four-fold:

1. The winning of a larger membership in the society. To look back over neglected duties would be discouraging; it is our aim to go forward under God's direction, and in His strength to influence others for good. In urging young people to join the society, we can all feel that it will be a centre of strong spiritual life and power, as we are faithful in the study of God's word, and under the Spirit's blessing.

2. A determined effort to revive church-going among our young men and women. As the body needs food for sustenance we must always remember that man does not live by bread alone but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God," and by regular attendance on the services of the sanctuary, much strength and help would be obtained.

Miss Bathgate emphasized the other objects accruing from fidelity to the former, viz., 3, Additional members to the church, and, 4, Increased missionary zeal and giving.

The meeting throughout was most helpful and inspiring, and the Endeavourers enter upon a period of good earnest work.

Endless Annoyance and Misery.

"As a man of seventy years I am grateful to God and to Dr. Chase's Ointment for a cure of piles which had caused me endless annoyance and much misery. The itching and burning was almost beyond endurance, but Dr. Chase's Ointment brought quick relief and I believe that the cure is lasting." Rev. Wm. Thomas, Brownsville, Ont.

Mount Pleasant Weekly Budget

Roads in Cavan Swamp are Unfit for Travel.

Special to The Examiner.

Mount Pleasant, Feb. 6.—Mrs. A. Argue, of North Dakota, with her two children and her sister, Victoria will return to her home this week. She has spent part of this winter with her friends from whom she has been separated for over three years.

The roads through the Cavan Swamp has been unfit for travel for want of snow. We hope that the Legislature will put us in a better position than we have been since the first settlement of this township. It may truly be said of the inhabitants of this township of Cavan that it is truly Conservative, or has the road through the swamp been held up for electioneering purposes? One thing is certain that the northwest part of the township has suffered for those roads being kept in the state left by the Creator.

There are no complaints from business men or merchants as to hard times this season, All the houses in the village are occupied. Farmers are now busy hauling wood for the coming summer, but the sleighing is not very good and the weather is very cold.

Slaves to Rheumatism

Freed by

"Fruit-a-tives"

"Fruit-a-tives" cure Rheumatism and Rheumatic pains by removing the poisons which cause the disease. Rheumatism means poisoned blood. Too much urea or tissue waste is retained in the blood, owing to defective action of the bowels, kidneys or skin. The retained urea becomes uric acid, which inflames nerves and joints and thus rheumatism is produced.

MRS. R. H. DENNIS, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., writes as follows: "I think 'Fruit-a-tives' are fine. I am using them for rheumatism, and have not felt it since I started to take them."

Fruit-a-tives
or Fruit Liver Tablets.

"Fruit-a-tives" cure Rheumatism by greatly stimulating the action of the liver, kidneys and skin. "Fruit-a-tives" make each of these vital organs do its share of nature's work properly. "Fruit-a-tives" rid the system of excessive urea and uric acid—and so purify and enrich the blood and build up the general health, that there can be no rheumatism.

"Fruit-a-tives" are fruit juices, concentrated and combined by our discovered process, which makes them much more powerful medicinally. Then tonics and internal antiseptics are added and the whole compressed into tablets.

If your druggist does not have them, don't take substitutes. Sent prepaid on receipt of price—50c. a box or 6 boxes for $2.50.

Missionary From India Speaks

The Murray Street Congregation Hears Rev. H. F. Laflamme.

As arranged before the commencement of the special evangelistic services which are being held nightly by the Murray street Baptist church, the Rev. H. F. Laflamme, missionary from India, was the speaker last night.

In view of this fact a large number was present, which filled to its capacity the Sunday school of the Murray street church. Those who attended to hear the edifying address of the missionary were assuredly not disappointed, as his address was of a most enlightening character.

Rev. F. J. Scott occupied the chair while Rev. Mr. Welsh of Lindsay, was on the platform and assisted in the devotional exercises, as did also a number of the young men of the church. During the services the Glory Song was heartily sung by the congregation.

Mr. Laflamme, who has spent 18 years at missionary work in India, demonstrated by his address that he has a thorough knowledge of the menial conditions existing in that heathen land, and that he has the interests of the poor inhabitants at heart, and knows how to remedy them.

The speaker said that the five great channels of action through which the Holy Spirit works were Evangelistic, Pastoral, Philanthropic, Printers, and Pedagogic Activity, but the greatest of these for the missionary's success, was evangelistic activity.

The missionary field he had been working in contained over 312 towns and villages, was 500 miles in extent, and contained 250,000 inhabitants. His family and one lady were the only Gospel teachers for this vast congregation, and therefore what he had come to Canada for, was men and women to act in this great life's field of battle.

There were many difficulties, he said, which the white man had to withstand in this unchristianized country. Some of these were climatic conditions, the heat averaging 81 degrees for the year; degrading spiritual forces; the universal customs of the people; diseases; Pantheism and idolatry.

The interests of the Kingdom of Heaven, he said, should be the immediate consideration of all Christians and everything and anything which would further those interests should be unhesitatingly done.

God's great message to mankind was "God loves you," and the only panacea of India's ills was the expression of "Love" for the people. That alone will give unity and a strong patriotism to the hearts of the people.

These special evangelistic services which are nightly increasing in interest, will continue until Friday night of this week. Rev. Mr. Welch of Lindsay will conduct the services until the close of the meetings.

Poultry Judge Was Honoured

Mr. D. C. Trew, of Lindsay, Given Rocking Chair by Exhibitors.

On the last day of the Lindsay Poultry and Pet Stock Show Mr. D. C. Trew, Lindsay's expert judge, who is well known in this city, where he frequently judges poultry and who acted in that capacity at the Lindsay show, was very much surprised when he was made the recipient of a nice present in the shape of a beautiful quarter-cut oak rocking chair, accompanied by an address, as a token of the appreciation of the exhibitors.

Referring to the above, Mr. Trew to-day said, "It is not very often a judge is remembered in that way. He is generally found fault with." Mr. Trew stated that it was a grand show and the birds were of excellent quality, and he was glad Lindsay's first poultry show had been a success in point of attendance and enthusiasm, as well as financially.

Women

Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets Hit the Right Spot.

When a woman gets all run down, feels tired and out of sorts it is pretty hard to tell what part of her peculiar organism is causing the trouble.

She takes different medicines, but they do her little good. They don't hit the right spot.

It is useless, for example, taking a stimulant to heal inflammation or correct an irregularity.

Whit the exception of Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets for Women, no compound remedy for the female sex exists to-day. By compound remedy we mean one containing the alterative and tonic medical ingredients necessary to regulate and strengthen every organ of the female system.

And that is just what these tablets do.

In taking the ordinary remedies you may miss the very ingredients your system requires. These tablets contain every ingredient. They go to the weak spot wherever it may be.

It is not necessary to guess at the cause of the trouble and perhaps take the wrong medicine half a dozen times. It is not necessary to even know exactly the cause of the trouble.

Dr. Hugo's remedy contains something for every one of the female system; something for the stomach to help indigestion—for the bowels to cure constipation—for the nervous system to tone up the nerves—for the liver and kidneys to make them active in carrying off impurities—something for the uterine system to stop all drains, allay inflammation and make women regular.

The tablets are sure to go to the right spot and get there the first time.

The remedy is now recognized beyond doubt or question as the best adapted to the special needs of sick and run-down women, no matter what the cause.

Barnardo Work Still Prosecuted

The National Waifs' Magazine for January has just been issued, and a copy will be sent gratis and post free to anyone who applies for it at the Head Offices of Dr. Barnardo's Homes, 18 to 26, Stepney Causeway, London E. Since the widely-lamented death of Dr. Barnardo in September last, the work of waif rescue carried on by the homes which he established is being actively carried on; how actively, a pair of pictures on the first page of this magazine strikingly show. Eight thousand boys and girls are under the wings of the Institutions to-day; nearly 60,000 in all have been rescued. There appears ample scope for their efforts as the cases quoted show. The Magazine is well illustrated from photographs. Among these is a photograph of the late Dr. Barnardo's grave in the midst of the pretty village for girls which he built at Barkingside. The new Director of the Homes, Mr. William Baker, is to receive a general welcome from friends of the Homes at Exeter Hall on Thursday, February 15.

STREET WATERING COST NEARLY $2000

The annual report of Street Commissioner Evans, which is to hand, is an interesting resume of the work done in his department during the year.

The report shows that the total cost for the removal of snow and ice was $2,260.21. The expense of removing snow from George and Charlotte streets, has been increased on account of accumulations caused by the Street Railway Company.

All streets in the central districts and thoroughfares leading thereto were cleaned once during the season, and business streets from time to time as required.

Six hundred and sixteen cords of field stone purchased in 1903-4 were crushed in 1905, and delivered on streets by contract at the rate of $2.79 per cord. The total cost for crushing and delivery was $1,959.63, and the cost of the stone was $1,892.85.

Portions of the following streets were graded, laid with broken stone, or gravelled, and rolled: Brock street, Haggart street, Crescent street, McDonel street, Hunter street, Cambridge street, George street, Murray street, Rubidge street, Stewart street, Sherbrooke street, Charlotte street.

Portions of the following streets were graded and water-tabled, and gravelled in places: Carlisle avenue, Park street, London street, Sophia street, Concession street, Water street, Aylmer street, Homewood avenue, Dalhousie street, Townsend street, Park street, Burnham street, Murray street, Chamberlain street, Perry street, Hunter street, Antrim street, Smith street.

On 21 crossings old plank and cedar blocks were removed and replaced with stone and gravel; 17 wooden culverts were rebuilt with cement pipe.

The amount of gravel laid on the streets was as follows:

From Hilliard's pit, 8,410 cubic yards.

From No. 5 pit, 171 cubic yards.

From Murray street, 450 cubic yards.

Purchased from builders, 1,319 cubic yards.

The inventory of plant and machinery is as follows: 1 20 h. p. portable engine; 1 crusher and screen; 1 15-ton steam road roller; 1 8-ton horse road roller; 12 snow-ploughs; 5 water wagons, 1 flushing wagon, 1 street grader, 1 street scraper, 1 rooter plough, 2 double wagons, 1 single wagon, 1 dump cart, 1 truck, 3 hand carts, 1 lot of hand tools.

The cost of street watering was:

Paid contractors...	$1323 00
Repairs, etc...	67 01
Water commissioners...	286 00
Fire department horses	250 00

Went Sailing On The Trent

An authentic report comes from Hastings that during the past week, the citizens of that quiet village by the sea were treated to a unique spectacle at this season of the year. A party of young ladies in short-waist attire took a little trip on the placid waters of the Trent in the quiet shades of the evening. They enjoyed a beautiful sail in the long shadows of the setting sun, and the scene only lacked the verdant foliage and the music of the birds to make it a complete summer spectacle.

But since the sudden drop of the mercury no repetition of the genial circumstance has been wafted from the village on the Trent.

CANADIAN SOCIETY GIRL CURED BY PE-RU-NA.

Cold Produced Catarrh of Throat—Attack Was Severe.

Miss Lottie Hollingsworth, Prescott, Ont., Can., writes:

"After suffering for weeks with a cold, it left me with catarrh of the larynx. My voice was so hoarse that I thought I would lose it entirely, my neck was swollen, and altogether my condition was very serious.

"I bought some Peruna after I had used other remedies without relief. In a few days my voice was clearer, it did not tire easily and I began to see relief in sight.

"I really was surprised to find that I was cured so soon. I took only four bottles of Peruna, and it is certainly well worthy of endorsement."

ST. VALENTINES' DAY

It's the valentine postal now, and a glance at the counters in the stationers' shops is sufficient to assure the prospective buyer that some folks have been sitting up late designing the delectable little cards which bear a message of love or good fellowship, of humourous greetings or just plain remembrances, as one wants it, for the approaching festival of St. Valentine. Truly the poets, artists, and lithographers have all done their part to make this season's supply of postal valentines attractive enough to entice the nickels and dimes from the pockets of even those who have long since left their valentine days behind them.

Some Expensive Ones.

To be sure, the more expensive valentines have lost none of their prestige, and the ardent lover can spend anything from a dollar or two to a small fortune on posies for his lady love that will bear the valentine message he is too bashful to speak for himself. Pots of pansies, in velvety purples and lavenders and yellows, speak for "remembrances," and are the fad this year. Violet and cyclamen are popular, and the spring flowers, hurried forward by the growers, the daffodils and jonquils, the tulips and hyacinths, all make the daintiest of valentines.

The Flower Valentine.

One of the newest accessories to the flower valentine is the brass jardiniere, especially those for small plants. These little brass pots are a delight to the art lover and they are supplied in quaint, old-world forms, some dull, to simulate old brass, but the greater number are bright and new.

Azalea blooms are popular as ever, and many a young man's sweetheart will be made happy with the gift of one of these pretty plants.

The old-fashioned lace-bedecked valentine, along with the so-called "comic" horror, has been relegated for the most part to the small candy stores and stationers' shops of the side streets. That the "comic" valentine still flourishes in some parts of the city is quite true, but every year fewer and fewer are seen.

The bookstores do a big business in the valentine season, and scores of the nicely bound, prettily illustrated recent publications will serve as messengers for good old St. Valentine. Several of the new books are put out with a device on the cover which is especially appropriate for the day, and these promise to be the favourite valentines selected by young women for their husbands or fiances.

Mr. Choate's Good Cartoon

"Some Impressions of Saturday's Game," is the title of a very humourous four-column cartoon by Mr. R. L. Choate, formerly of The Examiner staff, that appeared in the Montreal Herald of Monday. The cartoon is descriptive of the Wanderers-Ottawa game that was played in Montreal last Saturday. Mr. Choate has decided ability as a cartoonist, and that the Montreal Herald, the paper with which he is now employed, recognizes this, is a flattering acknowledgment of this young artist's talent.

A letter has been sent by the chairman of the Knaresborough urban district council of Yorkshire to Sir H. Mewey-Thompson protesting against his assuming the title of Lord Knaresborough, as he has no property in the borough.

Harvie Murder Mystery Is Being Cleared

Stanley Admits Complicity and Implicates Others.

SAWED OLD MAN'S HEAD OFF

James Fisher, Father, and James Fisher, Son, Locked Up in Connection With the Crime—Stanley's Story by Implication Fixes the Dread Deed Upon Them—Evidences of a Drinking Orgie.

Windsor, N. S., Feb. 7.—It was midnight Tuesday night when Detective Singer arrived here with George Stanley, suspected of the murder of Freeman Harvie.

They came in over terrible roads, and in a pelting rain, from Ellershouse. The police brought with them also David Fisher, father of James Fisher, who was locked up earlier in the night.

Admits Share in Murder.

Stanley admitted to Singer that he had had a share in the murder, but said he was not altogether to blame. The murder is supposed to have taken place Friday night, but Stanley's story is that when he left Harvie's house early Saturday morning the old man was all right. He returned before long and heard noises down stairs, like voices of Fishers, and looking down into the darkness he shouted, "Do you want a fight," and the answer came back "No."

Stanley's story carries little weight, but the authorities naturally think that his admission that he was 'not altogether to blame' is important.

Incriminates Another.

In conversation with Crown Prosecutor Christie yesterday morning the prisoner Stanley incriminated Edgar McCarthy, a man who lives in the vicinity, and said he was responsible for getting him into this trouble.

The adjourned inquest will be held at Ellershouse at 3 o'clock Thursday morning. The witness at the inquest on that occasion will be George Stanley himself, who will be taken back to Ellershouse.

A knife was borrowed by Stanley on Friday night from David Fisher, or son. A knife that is supposed to be the same has been found by the police. It has blood upon it.

Had Saw in Kitchen.

The saw evidently used in decapitating Harvie and covered with blood stains, was also found in the cellar yesterday morning.

Relics of a drinking orgie in Harvie's kitchen, where Stanley, Fisher, McCarthy and others are believed to have held carnival on Saturday night, are in marked evidence in the room. As many as a dozen whiskey flasks and ale bottles were around.

Yesterday morning men were at work bringing up the headless body and the head from the cellar to prepare the remains for burial, which Coroner Reid has agreed to allow to take place, and the funeral will be held this afternoon.

Slays Self and Her Four Children.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 7.—A woman and four children were found dead in bed at their home in Dennis street, Roxbury district, last night. An investigation by the police indicated that the woman, Mrs. Annie L. Dinos, had killed the children and herself by opening three gas jets.

18 Months For Assault.

Toronto, Feb. 7.—For hitting Magnus Sinclair, caretaker of the Labor Temple, with a beer bottle and rendering him unconscious and breaking his arm, Donald Burgoyne was sent to the Central for 18 months by Magistrate Denison.

Purity of The Blood

THE BEST PROTECTION AGAINST DISEASE — OBTAINED BY USING

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

If you enquire into the cause of sickness, pain and suffering, you will find that fully nine-tenths of it result from derangements of the liver, kidneys and bowels.

This was the truth arrived at by Dr. Chase when he began experiments which led to the discovery of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

The liver and kidneys are intimately related as filterers of the blood, and the regularity of the bowels depends on the healthful action of the liver.

Hence it happens that when the liver and kidneys are made healthy and vigorous by the influence of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, such diseases as biliousness, liver complaint, kidney disease, indigestion and constipation soon entirely disappear.

With the liver and kidneys in healthful working order, the purity of the blood is ensured and you are protected against colds, fevers and contagious and infectious diseases.

As a family medicine to promptly cure the most common ills of life, there is no preparation that can be compared with Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. In every neighbourhood there are people who have proven merits of this great medicine. Ask them.

Mr. Jos. Lutton, Belleville, Ont., writes: "I was troubled very much with kidney disease for a long time and was unable to obtain relief. A friend advised me to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and they have proven of very great benefit to me. I have used a number of boxes of this excellent medicine and feel it a duty to recommend it to other sufferers.

"My mother thinks that there is no better tonic than Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and others of my friends have used this food cure with splendid results."

TWO STANDARDS OF EFFICIENCY.

Isn't it a little significant that the Conservative journals are defending the appointment of Dr. Beattie Nesbitt to the registrarship of Toronto even before the odious "Grit" newspapers have had a chance to criticise it. Our evening contemporary hastens to anticipate attack and to forestall it by furnishing an excuse. It lays its hand on the real reason of the potent political doctor being shelved. In the intense ingenuousness of its intensely innocent soul, the Review says.—

"The plain matter of fact is that Dr. Nesbitt who has been a tower of strength to, and valiant fighter in the Conservative ranks has not been enjoying good health and it was necessary for him to get rid of the stress and turmoil, care and perplexity of political life. It is this circumstance alone that has led him to resign his seat in North Toronto and enter a quieter arena where of course (note the "of course") he will be debarred from taking any part whatever in political contests."

Why should Dr. Beattie Nesbitt's parliamentary duties impose such a health-wrecking strain on his physique which seems robust enough for the strenuosity of foot ball or newspaper work? He was only a private member and his duties, except during the session were not extremely arduous. Mr. Wm. Anderson the respected member for East Peterborough, has been in indifferent health for a year. He has not resigned but has continued to discharge his representative duties, and has taken an interest in promoting the welfare of his constituents and even though not robust will be in his place when the Legislature meets. Then why should ill health side track Dr. Beattie Nesbitt? If he confines his representative activities to the service of his constituents in and out of the House even with unusual exertion, his health should not suffer. The Review's "stress and turmoil, care and perplexity" which harrass Dr. Beattie Nesbitt, may come from operating in the subterranean game of politics—in keeping the "boys" in line, seeing that the machine is adequately supplied with "grease" in preparing the chopping block for the heads of disease inspectors and attending to all the dusky details of underground politics—Hoc labor hoc opus est. This is what wore upon the frail frame of the member for North Toronto, and makes the downy ease of a registry office a good Samaritanic siren wooing him to the voluptuous ease and sybarite days of a fat office. But here a delicate question of combined political and sanitary ethics arises. If Dr. Beattie Nesbitt's health is not equal to the discharge of parliamentary duties which other members whose health is not robust adequately perform, is his health good enough to stand the strain of the confining toil in a registry office? A registrar in an important office, say Mr. Peter Ryan in East Toronto, does ten times more hard work in the course of a year than the average member is called upon to do. Is Dr. Beattie Nesbitt's position of registrar a sinecure, a straight graft? Is the West Toronto office to be converted into a sanitarium for decayed politicians with broken health from too assiduous devot on to political "machinery," and maintained for this purpose at the public expense to the tune of $1,000 or $5,000 a year? There is no particular animus in these remarks against Dr. Beattie Nesbitt, but it is quite pertinent to inquire, whether it is a proper, a right thing, to provide, at the public expense for a practical politician, who may have ample private means, by removing him from one position, for which ill health unfits him, and to transplant him to another whose more arduous duties require greater health and strength. It is fitting that the high priest and most brilliant exponent of the spoils system should be the most conspicuous beneficiary.

AN EXCELLENT SHOWING.

The report of the North American Life Assurance Company, presented at the annual meeting, which appears elsewhere in this issue, shows that the company has been making gratifying progress. A notable feature of the statement is the good increase shown in the amount of the net surplus, notwithstanding that the company again reports large surplus payments to policy-holders whose policies have matured. The company again follows its usual practice of including only the book value of stocks, bonds, etc., in the assets; but, as a matter of fact, it is stated that a surplus of over $100,000 is shown in the market value over the value in account.

A new departure, no doubt prompted by the recent public disquietude over the insurance situation, is especially noted in the statement. The Board of Directors announce that "the annual statement, showing proofs of the continued progress and the solid position of the company, and containing a list of securities held, and those upon which the company has made collateral loans will be sent in due course to each policy-holder." This action on the part of the directors and the desire it exhibits to make the policy-holders acquainted with the actual situation, will no doubt be satisfactory to all who are interested in the company.

The statement of the year's growth shows what careful and conservative methods, backed by sound business judgment and judicious management will do for the company and the policy-holders. There can be no doubt that this company is living up to its motto—"Solid as the Continent."

The District Manager for Central Ontario, Mr. G. B. Stevenson, with offices at No. 274 Water street, reports the business for 1905 as the largest ever done in Peterborough. He will be pleased to afford any additional information to all in any way interested in the North American.

AGONIZING NEURALGIA

Due to Poor, Weak Blood--Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Will Insure a Cure.

Neuralgia is the surest sign that your whole system is weak and unstrung. Those sharp, stabbing pains are caused by your jangled nerves. But your nerves would not be jangled if your blood was pure and strong. You can't cure neuralgia by liniments or hot applications. They may relieve for a moment—but they can't possibly cure. You can never cure neuralgia until you enrich your blood and brace your starved nerves with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They actually make new blood. They soothe the nerves and strengthen the whole system. They strike right at the cause of agonizing neuralgia. Mr. John McDermott, Bond Head, Ont., says:—"As the result of a wetting, I was seized with pains in all parts of my body. I consulted a doctor, who told me the trouble was neuralgia. He treated me for some time but did not help me. I had often read of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and decided to try them. By the time I had taken three boxes, there was a good improvement in my case, and after I had taken ten boxes, every ache and pain had disappeared, I had gained in weight and felt better in every way. I shall always have a good word to say for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

When the blood is poor, the nerves are starved; then comes neuralgia, insomnia, St. Vitus dance, paralysis or locomotor ataxia. All these troubles are cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, because they actually make the rich, red blood that feeds and soothes the starved nerves and sends health and strength to every part of the body. That is why these pills so cure such troubles as rheumatism, anaemia, chronic erysipelas, indigestion, and the special ailments of growing girls and women. But you must get the genuine with the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," on the wrapper around each box. If in doubt, write the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., and the pills will be sent by mail at 50 cents per box, or six boxes for $2.50. If you are ailing, try them to-day.

Canuck Rifle Is Better Than Yankee

American Press Criticises Latest Army Weapon.

The American press is severely criticizing the War department for having adopted, as the new arm for the American army, a rifle built on old and obsolete lines, and compares it unfavourably with the Ross Rifle recently adopted by Canada, and now being manufactured at the Government Arsenal at Quebec to replace the Lee-Enfield.

The Ross Rifle has the Ross straight pull mechanism. Its firing rate is about 30 rounds per minute, and it is said the gun will use the present 303 cartridges. The muzzle velocity of the American gun is 2,300 feet per second, or 300 feet faster than the present Lee-Enfield. The powder pressure is 49,000 pounds per square inch, and the bullet will penetrate 6.30 inches of white pine at 1,500 yards distance.

In appearance the American rifle is said to greatly resemble the shortened Lee-Enfield, which has been so severely criticized, both in and out of the British Parliament, and which the War Office had to abandon after an issue of 70,000, as an unsuitable small arm for the British army.

The new American Springfield has been held up for three years, to enable the ordnance department to turn out what they consider the best arm they can produce. The result is the cause of a great dissatisfaction, if the press comments may be taken as a criterion.

Election Songs For Greenwood

Canadian Who Was Elected in England Used Music.

The people of England believe in enlivening their election campaigns with song. Mr. Hamar Greenwood, the Canadian who was elected for the city of York, has written a letter to Mr. R. F. McWilliams, who was a college chum, acknowledging his congratulations upon his election, and enclosed a song sheet used in his election. It contains twelve original songs, one of which is entitled "No More Joe." The first verse and the chorus are:—J. C. Soliloquises.

Gone are the days when I
Beat my little drum;
Gone are the days when I
Made the bullets hum.
My store of tricks is running
Very low.
I hear their angry voices
Calling, "No More Joe."

Chorus.

He's running, he's running, he's
Running very low,
He hears their angry voices
Calling, "No More Joe."

Mr. Greenwood adds that he was opposed by the state, church, the brewers, the lords and their parasites, but in spite of this somewhat strong combination he was elected.

With The Procession

Mr. Morley Nelson, Hoople, North Dakota, in remitting his subscription to the Weekly Examiner, says:

"I left Peterborough seven years ago next April, and through the columns of the Weekly Examiner I notice there have been a great many changes since I went away. I enjoy reading the Examiner to keep up with what is going on, as it contains news of the whole country around Peterborough. The change made in it a couple of years ago makes a great improvement, and it is now a fine, up-to-date paper. I was born in Otonabee, and I am a son of Mr. Wm. Nelson, who has been a subscriber to the Examiner as long as I can remember."

Anyone returning to Peterborough after an absence of seven or 10 years will be surprised at its great growth.

Ticket Agents Met In Toronto

Messrs. Bunton and McIlroy Attended Meeting Yesterday.

Messrs. W. Bunton and W. McIlroy, were in Toronto yesterday. The Globe, recording their visit, says:

The Executive Committee of the Canadian Ticket Agents' Association decided yesterday afternoon to have the annual meeting of the association at Mobile, Alabama, with a side trip to New Orleans, the second week of next October. A three hours' session was held at the King Edward.

There were present Messrs. W. Jackson, Clinton, chairman; E. De la Hook, London, secretary; W. Bunton, Peterborough, president; W. McIlroy, Peterborough; J. P. Hanley, Kingston; R. J. Craig, Cobourg; W. Coleman, Truro, N.S.; W. Maughan and C. E. Horning, Toronto.

Their Sympathy Was Extended

Mrs. W. J. Nicholls Received Resolution of Condolence.

At the last meeting of Queen Alexandra Circle, the following resolution of condolence was passed, and a copy forwarded to Mrs. W. J. Nicholls, whose husband died a short time ago:

Peterborough, Feb. 3, 1906.

To Mrs. Nicholls.

Dear Companion,—We, the officers and members of Queen Alexandra Circle, desire to express to you our sincere regret and heartfelt sympathy in your sad bereavement. It has pleased the Divine Providence to call your dear husband away. You have lost him for a while; but God has taken him from this world of care to a home where sorrow is unknown. May He, Who alone can heal the broken heart, comfort and sustain you in this severe trial, and may you continually feel that they around, and about, and underneath you are in the everlasting arms until that day when you shall be called to enter through the gates and have a joyful reunion with those whom you have loved on earth.

So long Thy power hath blessed me, sure it still
Will lead me on,
O'er moor and fen, o'er crag and torrent, till
The night is gone.
And with the morn, those angel faces smile,
Which I have loved long since and lost awhile.

Signed on behalf of Queen Alexandra Circle.

Com.—Mrs. Moss and Misses Loyce and Moss.

The Annual Report Of THE CITY ENGINEER Has Been Presented

Much Interesting Information is Given Concerning the Work Carried on by City During the Year—Total Expenditure for Streets and Bridges Was $17,553—14.82 Miles of Sewer and 20.16 Miles of Granolithic Pavement Now in Use.

The annual report of Mr. T. A. S. Hay, the city engineer, has been presented. It contains much interesting information concerning the work carried on by the city during the past year. The report shows:

Appropriation for streets and bridges	$13,000
Supplemented by	2,000
	$15,000
Exceeded by	2,553
Total expenditure	$17,553

Summary of Above.

General repairs to streets, labour	$4,618 63
Road machinery, fuel, tools and supplies	261 40
Street cleaning	666 65
Repairs and extensions to wood walks	1,044 87
Repairs to bridges in city	431 35
Repairs to bridges in county	300 40
Repairs to culverts and drains	333 01
Removal of snow and ice	301 03
Cutting grass and weeds	115 20
Trimming trees	207 58
Crushing and hauling stone	1,968 13
Gravel purchased	248 85
Concrete crossings	992 52
Charlotte street surface drain	546 16
Aylmer street surface drain	673 54
Gravelling, grading and rolling streets	$1,036 47
Grading, laying broken stone, and rolling streets, labour	277 50
Total—	$17,553 73

On July 1, 1905, the town of Peterborough became a city with an estimated population of 14,391. Area of 2,708 acres, streets occupying 392 1-2 acres; parks and squares 78 1-2 acres; river and lake, 289 acres.

The following streets were extended: George street to Hilliard street, 240 feet long, 60 feet wide; Barnardo avenue, George to Water streets, 180 feet long, 30 feet wide; Cambridge, Cedar to Elm streets, 180 feet long, 60 feet wide.

During 1905 the city took from the Hilliard farm 8,410 cubic yards of sand, gravel and stone; 4,790 cubic yards of sand used for concrete walks, making a total of 13,000 cubic yards.

Sewers.

Sewers were constructed on the following streets, but none are completed:

Outfall sewer in Ashburnham, from Hunter street to Little Lake, including a sedimentation tank, contract price $9,410. Rubidge, Dublin, Antrim, G. T. R. property, Reid, Park, Sherbrooke, Barnardo, Stewart, Rubidge, Charlotte, King, Brock, Downie, Homewood, Lake, Boswell; total distance, 12,698 feet, costing $20,962.02.

There is yet to be constructed on the foregoing contracts, 9,688 feet.

Total length of sewer now in use, 78,296 feet, or 14.82 miles.

Sixty private connections were made during the season, in addition to the 91 included in the contract, making a total of 151.

The entire system was flushed from time to time between April and November.

Surface Drainage.

Surface drains were constructed on Aylmer street, from west side of Bethune to south side of Charlotte at Bethune, costing $516.16 for 860 feet of 12-inch pipe; and also on west side of Aylmer street, from north side of McDonel to the creek and Brock street, costing $30.00 for 60 feet of 7-inch pipe.

The above work was done by day labour, under the supervision of the street commissioner.

Downie Street Creek.

The diversion of creek on Downie street, between Edinburgh and Dublin, which was made about 20 years ago, should be returned to its original course. The culvert is very much out of repair, and instead of rebuilding it, the engineer recommended cutting an open ditch straight through the block on the original course of the creek.

Concrete Walks.

Five miles of concrete walks were constructed during the season by Mr. H. Evans, street commissioner.

Total, 138,164 square feet, or 266,32 lineal feet, or 5.04 miles, of which 13,646 lineal feet are inside of tree line, and 12,986 feet outside of tree line.

Total cost, $14,346.91, or 10 38-100 cents per square foot.

The cost exceeds last season's work by 88-100 cents per square foot, on account of the expensive nature of some sections, the number of short sections, and by distance from gravel pit and by increased wages.

The cement cost $1.70 per barrel, tested and stored, and 2,835 1-4 barrels were used.

Total length of concrete walks now in use, 106,436 lineal feet, or 20 16-100 miles.

There yet remains to be renewed in permanent materials, 31.17 miles of wooden walks.

The number of permanent street crossings constructed during the year was 20, and the total cost was $992.52.

The laying of crossings across George street in the central districts has been deferred pending the decision of the Radial Railway Company as to laying double tracks.

The report contained a list of wooden walks to the number of 50, requiring renewal, and advised that all special work, such as re-decking bridges, diversion of creeks, etc., be completed before the work on sidewalks is commenced.

Bridges:

The report spoke of the conditions of the several bridges over the creek, the re-decking of which was to have taken place during 1905. The work had been delayed by difficulty in procuring steel beams. The Simcoe street bridge was completed at a cost of $657.81, to be paid for by debentures. The Charlotte street bridge would have to be entirely rebuilt. The bridges on Reid, Dalhousie and Sherbrooke streets should be re-decked in concrete, and those on Townsend and King streets, which are wooden, should be rebuilt within the next two years.

The Brock street bridge and Otonabee bridges had been re-planked during the year. The report also called attention to the fact that the Smith street bridge requires entire renewal. The Loaks bridge fixed spans were re-planked, one-half of the cost being charged to the county.

Miscellaneous.

In conclusion, the report referred to miscellaneous affairs of the city. It showed that the past year had been a busy one in the building line, and suggested the advisability of extending the fire limits. The report referred to the inconvenience caused by the fact that there are no contracts for supplying numbers to new houses, and called attention to the fact that there was an almost entire absence of street name signs.

The work of diverting the creek in Ward 5 had been deferred, pending the decision of the City Council as to the method of raising the money. The estimated cost is $4,000. Surveys and plans have also been made for the diversion of Mason's Creek, via Barnardo avenue, $3,400, and Edinburgh street, $3,125.

The report dealt with the multiplicity of telegraph poles on almost every street in the city, which was characterized as a serious problem. The city engineer was of the opinion that it might be minimized to some extent if the different companies were compelled to use the same poles where possible, as is done in other cities, instead of having two or more lines of poles as exist here. The report also urged that all companies be required to file plans showing the whole systems, which could be added to as new concessions were made.

HARRY ADAMS

Mr. Lees Was The Secretary

And Started Movement for New Carnegie Library in St. Thomas.

Mr. Rich. Lees, M.A., County School Inspector, has received an invitation to the formal opening of the new public library at St. Thomas, which has just been completed. This building was the gift of Mr. Carnegie and cost $25,000, and the furnishings $2,000. The contract was let a year ago last July, and the building was to have been completed by July, 1905. Some delays were encountered, however, and it was not finished until a short time ago. The invitation, which is in the form of a handsome booklet containing two photographs of the building, one interior and one exterior, and the structure, is a very handsome one, and a credit to the city. Mr. Lees was formerly secretary of the Public Library Board, and acting in that capacity, carried on the correspondence with Mr. Carnegie in reference to the grant.

Mr. Lees is of the opinion that Peterborough should have a free public library. This city, he believes, is the only one in Ontario where there is no public library.

Latest News Of Winter Sports

Peterborough And Brockville

Will Meet in the Island City Next Friday Night.

The locals will have a chance to show their calibre next Friday night in Brockville. If reports regarding the Invincibles of that town, who have won their district and whom the Peterborough septette meets next are true, The Invincibles are said to be a lightning fast seven that play the game from commencement to finish and the returns of the game, when the locals clash with them will be eagerly awaited in Peterborough. The showing of the home seven this winter has been highly satisfactory and they have not lost a single league game this year. The players have all practiced faithfully and are now in good condition and no small share of the credit must be given to Mr. Wm. Breen, who has had the men in hand this winter. His efforts to get the team in shape to do the most effective work are duly recognized and appreciated both by the team and their admirers. If they do not win the championship Mr. Breen will not be in the least to blame.

The Invincibles have been picked by Brockville hockey fans of the east to land the intermediate trophy but around this part of the country the followers of hockey seem to think that Peterborough holds the highest trump. It's too early to forecast yet, however, as there are still several teams who have a finger in the pie.

Charlotte Street And Suburbs

Two Teams Who Have Not Yet Been Beaten Will Play in City League.

When the Suburbs and Charlotte street meet to-night the best game in the City League, beyond any doubt, will be witnessed. Neither team has lost a game yet, and it is generally conceded that it will be either one of these that will land the silver. The High Lifes and Bankers should also furnish an interesting exhibition. The line-up of the Suburbs is not yet known, but the other teams will be as follows:

Examiner Seven Is Now Chosen

Great Preparations Made for the Review-Examiner Hockey Match.

The Examiner team that will play against the Review in the near future will be as follows:—

Goal—Craig.
Point—Hutchinson.
Cover Point.—Reid.
Rover—Gilman.
Centre—Tolleson.
Right Wing—Riches.

As will be seen from the above line-up the Examiner seven is picked exclusively from this establishment and in view of this fact it's pretty nearly up to the Review to bar all ringers from their team.

It might be mentioned that the Examiner team has done positively no training in spite of the fact that Big Chief Metheral of the Review bunch has had his men skipping the rope and taking needle baths ever since he joined the staff of our furnace cellar contemporary.

The match will undoubtedly draw an immense crowd and although the date has not been definitely fixed it is all assured thing that it will take place in view of this fact the reserved seat plan has been thrown open to the public. The idea of reserving the seats is an innovation in Peterborough hockey circles and was introduced for the benefit of those who wish to secure seats beforehand and avoid the rush. Bulletins will be issued at different places in the city as the game progresses and the results will be wired to the different newspaper offices in Canada. Arrangements will probably be made to have the band in attendance. The Review is requested to announce its line-up sometime before the match takes place.

FOOD—NOT MEDICINE.

If all the treatments for consumption were put in book form it would make a pretty big library. But after all there has been little improvement over the old treatment of rest, fresh air, sunshine, plain, wholesome food and Scott's Emulsion. The latter supplies nourishment that cannot be secured in any other way, and after all, nourishment is what the consumptive needs first.

A gain in weight, however slight, is a long step toward improvement. If there is the least thing to build on Scott's Emulsion will enable the patient to make that gain. People have gained a pound in weight from a bottle of Scott's Emulsion—it's an exception when they don't.

We have seen Scott's Emulsion take hold of a patient and bring about a change for the better inside of a week. It always helps even the most stubborn cases.

SCOTT & BOWNE, Toronto Ont.

Invincibles Are Still Confident

Believe That They Will Give Locals a Hard Run.

A despatch to the Mail and Empire from Brockville says:—

"Peterborough, the Invincibles' next opponents in the play-off for the O. H.A. intermediate championship, has a team which can give any of the senior O.H.A. teams a chase. This will not daunt the Invincibles, however, and they will go after the championship with greater energy than ever. They are practising hard with the Federals, and will be in the pink of condition for the first game here Friday night.

For The Junior Championship

The Nationals and Aberdeens will meet, in a game for the Junior City Championship at Brock street rink between 10 and 11 o'clock on Friday night. The game should be one of the most exciting of the season. The Nationals have defeated the West Ends and are confident of trimming the Aberdeens. The latter have not lost a game this season, however, and are not backing up any. Several City League men will likely be seen in this contest.

Chieftains Won From Regals

The Chieftains put away the Regals in a good game at the Y.M.C.A. rink last night by 5 goals to 0. The half-time figure was 2-0. The Chieftians had all the better end of the play. The line-up:—

Chieftians.		Regals.
Lees	Goal.	T Walsh
W English	Point	C ash
Wallis	Cover Point.	Lynch
Hall	Rover	Lang
Fortye	Centre	Marks
Munro	Right Wing	Hart
Heap	Left Wing	Howson

Referee—S. Wade.

Sudden Death Game Friday

Championship of Junior District No. 2 May be Decided Here.

There is a strong probability that a sudden death game will be played here on Friday night. The rink management was called up to-day by Mr. Chas Curtis, of Port Hope, manager of the Junior team in that town, and terms were asked for a game here between the winners of the game between Belleville and Cobourg to-night, and Port Hope. Port Hope want to play here no matter which team wins to-night, and if the other team can be induced to come here, the game will likely be arranged.

A definite decision will be reached to-morrow morning.

HOCKEY

The Grocery Drivers have accepted the challenge of the Express Drivers for a game of hockey to be played on Wednesday, February 14th from 10 to 11 o'clock.

• • • •

The Lindsay Post says:—

"Mr. N. E. McWilliams, of Peterborough, was an interested spectator at last night's game and was very favourably impressed with the showing of the Midgets. Mr. McWilliams was last year manager of the Peterborough Charlotte Street Baseball team, winners of the Guild League and this season he is manager of the Charlotte Street hockey team, the likely winners of the Peterborough town hockey league. The team has won two games and the championship game will be played this week against the Suburbs of Lakefield. Mr. McWilliams is desirous of getting a game on with the Lindsay Town League team for the early part of next week, and in this desire we would like to see him successful. A game between these two teams would draw a crowd and provide interesting and fast hockey. The executive of the Town League should meet and arrange for a game.

Last night between 10 and 11 at the Brock Street rink the office staff team of the American Cereal Works were vanquished by the Mill Seven in what could hardly be termed a parlour exhibition. The players mixed it up pretty freely and did not hesitate to hit in clinches. Nobody was hurt, however, and plenty of excitement was provided for the spectators. The Mill was victorious by a score of 1-0. Following was the line-up:—

TURF.

The Los Angeles Examiner says:—

The Mackenzie brothers, of Canada, have a whole lot of money, and their father has a barrel or two more, but at that they like to take a fall out of the bookies and collect the dust. The brothers turned Cicely loose and pulled off one of the biggest coups of the season. Coupled in the betting with Lady Huron, Cicely opened up at the nice price of 1' to 1, and the bombardment began. As fast as the chalk consumers could reach their rubbers the filly was played down, and the books refusing bets at any figure."

WEARY DAYS AND SLEEPLESS NIGHTS

Many men and women toss night after night upon sleepless beds until near dawn. Their eyes do not close in the sweet and refreshing repose that comes to those whose heart and nerves are right. Worry or disease has so debilitated and irritated the nervous system that it cannot be quieted. Or, again, you have heart palpitation and sensation of sinking, a feeling you are going to die; or perhaps you wake up from your sleep feeling as though you were about to choke or smother, and rest leaves you for the night. Allow these conditions to continue and you will feel your health declining.

It is the nerves and heart that are not acting properly.

They can be set right by the use of

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

They soon induce healthful, refreshing sleep, not by deadening the nerves, but by restoring them to healthy action and removing all symptoms of heart trouble, which is often the cause of nervousness and sleeplessness.

Mrs. Ernie Chambers, Massey Station, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with dizziness, weak spells and fluttering of the heart. I was so bad at times I could not lie down in bed at night but would have to sit up. I doctored for a whole year and got no relief. I took three boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and was so completely cured I have not been troubled since. I cannot recommend them too highly."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50 cents per box or three boxes for $1.25 at all dealers or sent direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Water Street Billiard Parlour

The new billiard and pool room opened out on Water street, opposite the Ontario Bank, is "shooting" along briskly. If you happen to have a spare hour for a game during the day time or evening, you'll find plenty of cues. The premises are well heated and lighted, with good ventilated; and free from all objectionable features of noise, profanity, loafing of disorder. The room is conducted in best modern city style and there are tables enough to prevent any undue waiting.

Mr. Smythe is also fitting up a new bowling alley in connection with his billiard and pool room, which will be an additional attraction. A well appointed cigar store, fitted up with handsome weathered oak "silent salesmen" and improved patented wall cases for cigars and tobaccos is being installed, in which the stock will be displayed in a few days.

Statement Of The Canadian Manufacturers

Would Increase Tariff Upon British Goods.

TELL THE COMMISSION SO

Manufacturers, Being Questioned, Make a Definite Statement—They Also Claim That the Tariff Has Benefitted the Farmer and the Other Workers of the Dominion—The Testimony of Other Witnesses.

Ottawa, Feb. 7.—The Tariff Commission met in the railway committee room of the House of Commons yesterday forenoon, there being present Messrs. Fielding, Paterson, Brodeur, Templeman and Sir Richard Cartwright.

Edwin R. Metcalfe, representing the International Harvester Co. was first heard. He said that the Canadian factory was independent of the United States works, although affiliated with them. He said that the tax on agricultural implements was a direct burden on the farmers, and he was therefore opposed to any increase in the protection on agricultural implements. Any changes in the iron and steel schedule should be in the way of bounties. He favored uniform duties on all classes of implements and articles entering into the manufacture and not made in Canada should be admitted free at not more than 5 per cent. He said that there was no necessity for a duty on binder twine. The firm paid their employes from $1.50 to $5 per day. There should be a duty on cream separators, carrying out the idea that the duties should be uniform. His firm did not make cream separators.

A Duty and a Bounty.

Robert Hobson, of the Hamilton Iron and Steel Co., was the next witness.

The capital of the company was $1,517,600. He advocated a slight increase in the iron and steel duties and that the sliding scale of bounties be continued to a permanent basis. This increase was necessary because of the preferential tariff. If a duty of $3 per ton were put on pig iron, $4 on steel billets, and $2.50 on steel ingots, it would give added employment to shipping, benefit transportation by furnishing return cargoes, and placing the industry in a flourishing condition.

Mr. Hobson did not want the preferential tariff disturbed. Most of the English iron was of low grade. His company paid 55 cents per ton on an annual consumption of 70,000 tons of coal a year. This was about 2 per cent. on the company's capital. But for the adoption of the dumping clause the Canadian iron and steel producers would have been put out of business.

German Surtax.

S. W. Booth, representing George Borgsfelt, Toronto, opposed the German surtax as being against the interests of the consumers.

A. O. Hurst, representing Charles Goodall & Sons, London, Eng., wanted a duty of four cents a pack on English playing cards and eight cents on American cards.

John C. Haydon, manufacturer of cocoa matting, Cobourg, asked for a level rate on carpets of 35 per cent. Some were now 25, 30 and 35 per cent. He complained of Indian competition.

James Livingston, ex-M.P., appeared in connection with the linseed oil industry. He asked for increased protection of a specific duty of 1½ cents per pound on crude oil and 1¾ cents on boiled or bleached oil.

C. M. A.'s Memorial.

The Canadian Manufacturers' Association, with a membership of nearly two thousand, representing as many factories scattered throughout every province of the Dominion and an invested capital of more than $400,000,000, has addressed a communication to the Tariff Commission submitting the views of the association "in connection with the forthcoming revision of the Canadian customs tariff."

The general condition of the manufacturing interest is declared to be prosperous, but the counsel is given: "Now, while we are prosperous, now, is the time to safeguard our country, as far as it is possible to do so against depression."

The Farmer's Side.

After quoting figures and putting up an argument that protection is a benefit, the address, referring to the appearance of some free trade farmers before the commission, proceeds to point out that the farmer like everyone else must prosper or fall as the country as a whole is prosperous or otherwise. There can be no prosperity for the farmer when production apart from agriculture has ceased, when labor can find no employment and when the remaining wealth of the community is irresistibly drained to foreign shores. In readjusting the tariff, care should be taken to protect the produce of the farmer from foreign competition. The address deprecates the alleged formation of "combines to unduly enhance prices," but distinguishes between them and "trade associations," which bring manufacturers together in a legitimate way to secure stability and prevent speculation. It is urged that the tariff should be revised in the interest of the whole community. With regard to the proposed policy of maximum, minimum and preferential tariff, the Canadian Manufacturers' Association believes it to be in the best interests of the Canadian people so long as it encourages Canadian enterprise to make everything we can at home and to buy our surplus requirements, as far as possible from British sources. But, the manufacturers add:

"If, however, such a policy should ultimately result in extending the minimum tariff to the United States, we are absolutely opposed to it."

President Ballantyne of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, presented the statement from the association.

The British Problem.

Mr. Fielding asked W. K. McNaught, ex-president of the Manufacturers' Association, this question: "Do you want a higher tariff against British goods?" asked Mr. Fielding.

"We don't want a prohibitive tariff against British manufacturers," replied Mr. Ballantyne. "We only want a competitive tariff—one that will give the Canadian manufacturer an equal chance with the British manufacturer in this market."

"But do you want the tariff raised against Great Britain?"

"Only on certain lines, such as those on which there is now such an advantage to the British manufacturer that the Canadian industry is closed out."

He added that all that was desired was a reasonable protection, his position being that the "protection of all goods that could be made in Canada should be encouraged by protection."

Mr. Fielding wanted to know on just what lines of goods the Government ought to increase the duty against Great Britain.

Mr. McNaught's answer was that much depended on the circumstances of each individual case, "but we have so much confidence in you, Mr. Fielding," he said, "that we prefer to leave the details to your judgment."

APRIL 7, RUSS ELECTIONS.

Opening Session of the National Assembly Three Weeks Later.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 7.—The elections to the National Assembly are fixed for April 7.

The opening session will take place April 28. April 7 is the feast of the annunciation, one of the great Russian holidays. The three weeks interval between the elections and the convocation of the National Assembly is the shortest time in which the representatives from Siberia and other remote localities could arrive here. The local authorities have the privilege of beginning the preliminary elections to choose delegates to the electoral colleges so soon as the registration lists are complete.

Finns Prepare For War.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 7.—The Novoe Vremya yesterday declared it had evidence that the radical organization in Finland was preparing for open war in support of the next outbreak of the Russian revolutionists. Not only were well-armed infantry forces being drilled, but horses were being trained for cavalry and artillery service, and shells for field artillery were being imported.

Begus Czar Stirs the People.

Elizabethgrad, Russia, Feb. 7.—The false emperor and his suite who have been stirring up the people of the Volga region have finally been arrested near Dnieprovsk.

Our Ships Pay Dues.

London, Feb. 7.—(C. A. P.)—Geoffrey Drage, M. A., addressing the Liverpool Chamber of Commerce, laid stress on the great injustice Canada is suffering in regard to light dues. "Canada," said Mr. Drage, "maintains a lighthouse system free. The British Government does not do so. Canadian ships are subject to great disadvantage if they trade with the United States." He also drew attention to the fact that American settlers naturalized in Canada were not British subjects if they traveled in England, Australia or New Zealand.

Railway War On the Don.

Toronto, Feb. 7.—One car dismantled, three others thrown from the track, three score workmen and half a dozen county constables engaged, together with a visit from a number of officials of the rival railway, were the outstanding features of the difficulties between the James Bay and Grand Trunk Railways in the upper Don Valley yesterday.

Killed In Boxing Match.

San Francisco, Feb. 7.—During an amateur boxing match at Colma Monday night, Thomas Deven was struck under the heart by "Chiefy" Johnson, and so severely injured that he died within a few minutes. Johnson was arrested.

The TERRIBLE PANGS OF DYSPEPSIA CAN BE CURED

To be dyspeptic is to be miserable, hopeless, confused and depressed in mind, forgetful, irresolute, drowsy, languid and useless.

Constipation, headache, heartburn, sour stomach, distress after eating, belching of wind, faintness, and fullness and distention of the stomach are a few of the many distressing symptoms of the poor, weary dyspeptic.

Dyspepsia is a disease that in one way or another resembles nearly every other disease, and the only way to get rid of it is to tone up the stomach, liver, bowels and blood. This will be quickly done by the use of

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

It regulates the stomach, stimulates the secretion of the saliva and gastric juice to facilitate digestion, removes acidity, purifies the blood, and tones up the entire system.

Mrs. M. A. McNeil, Brook Village, N.S., writes: "Last winter I was very thin and was fast loosing flesh owing to the run down state of my system. I suffered from dyspepsia, loss of appetite and bad blood. I tried everything I could get but to no purpose. I finally started to use Burdock Blood Bitters, and from the first day I felt the good effects of the medicine and am strong and well again. I can eat anything now without any ill after effects. It gives me great pleasure to recommend Burdock Blood Bitters, for I feel it saved my life."

SUNLIGHT SOAP

is better than other Soaps but is best when used in the Sunlight way. Follow directions.

SUNLIGHT WAY OF WASHING

FIRST.—Dip the article to be washed in a tub of lukewarm water, draw it out on a washboard and rub the soap lightly over it. Be particular not to miss soaping all over. THEN roll it in a tight roll, lay in the tub under the water, and go on the same way until all the pieces have the soap rubbed on, and are rolled up.

Then go away for thirty minutes to one hour and let the "Sunlight" Soap do its work.

NEXT.—After soaking the full time rub the clothes lightly out on a wash board, and the dirt will drop out; turn the garment inside out to get at the seams, but don't use any more soap; don't scald or boil a single piece, and don't wash through two suds. If the water gets too dirty, pour a little out and add fresh. If a streak is hard to wash, rub some more soap on it, and throw the piece back into the suds for a few minutes.

LASTLY COMES THE RINSING, which is to be done in lukewarm water, taking special care to get all the dirty suds away, then wring out and hang up to dry.

For Woolens and Flannels proceed as follows:—Shake the articles free from dust. Cut a tablet of SUNLIGHT SOAP into shavings, pour into a gallon of boiling water and whisk into a lather. When just lukewarm, work articles in the lather without rubbing. Squeeze out dirty water without twisting and rinse thoroughly in two relays of lukewarm water. Squeeze out water without twisting and hang in the open air.

☞ The most delicate colors may be safely washed in the "Sunlight" way.

SAVE THIS! SUNLIGHT SOAP COMPANY FOR SUNLIGHT PREMIUMS

$5,000 REWARD will be paid to any person who proves that Sunlight Soap contains any injurious chemicals or any form of adulteration.

SCHEME BROUGHT TO LIGHT

Alluring Advertisements Decoy Men's Money From Them on Promises of a Free Trip to Europe and Good Pay for Light Work on the Voyage—Fact is Men Are Overworked and Underpaid Cattle Tenders.

Portland, Me., Feb. 7.—That a scheme has been on foot for months to bring Canadian residents here on promises of free trips to Europe with good pay for light work on the voyage, and that a large number have accepted the offer and paid sums varying from $10 to $20 for an opportunity to cross the ocean in the capacity of an overworked and practically under-paid cattle tender, was brought to light yesterday.

The revelation was made by the representatives here of the various trans-Atlantic steamers, who, in conjunction with the British vice-consul, have secured a number of affidavits from the victims of the plan.

The men say they read advertisements offering a free trip from Boston with good pay for little work. They were met in Toronto and signed contracts, which they understood carried good wages for the work, and they paid $10 and $15 each there.

In Montreal they later paid three dollars each to have a variation made in the terms, and to ship via Portland. The work on cattle steamers is, in fact, very hard, and the pay actually inserted in the contracts was only a shilling per month, while no provisions were made for the return of the men to America.

The steamship officials estimate that the number of men brought here in this way will reach into the thousands, and they have laid the matter before the Canadian and British Governments, which are expected to take early action.

as Minister of Marine and Fisheries and Minister of Inland Revenue, respectively. The ceremony took place in the Governor-General's office in the presence of His Excellency, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick and Col. Hanbury-Williams.

After the installation the two Ministers were congratulated by the Governor-General and the Prime Minister and his colleagues and then proceeded to the sittings of the Tariff Commission, where they took their seats.

Mr. Templeman will resign from the Senate and run for Victoria, B. C., at present represented by Mr. George Riley. The latter will be appointed to the Senate in succession to Mr. Templeman.

I. C. R. Has Surplus.

Ottawa, Feb. 7.—The Intercolonial's transactions for the month of December show a surplus of $9,871, the gross earnings having been $589,592, and expenses $589,721. The working expenses for the six months from July 1 were $3,925,219, as against a revenue of $3,853,960, so that for the first half of the present fiscal year there is a deficit of $71,000.

Most housewives judge the purity of a flour by its whiteness. White somehow signifies purity. But while pure flours are always white, white flours are not always pure.

Royal Household Flour

is the whitest flour that is milled. It is also the purest. You may think the flour you are using is about as white as flour can be. Yet if you place it beside Royal Household Flour it will look yellow by comparison. Ask your grocer for Royal Household, and make sure that he understands that you mean it.

Gin Pills Cure Kidney Troubles.

OR YOUR MONEY BACK.

Read this letter from Mrs. Gargill. Has it not the ring of truth? Does it not describe your own sufferings? And does it not point the way to quick relief?

"For three years I suffered more than I can tell with terrible pains in the small of my back. When I stooped over, it seemed as though I would never be able to straighten up. I tried Kidney Pills for a year and a half, but was getting worse all the time, until advised by my neighbor to try "Gin Pills," as she had been almost similarly affected, and had been completely cured by them. I took three boxes of Gin Pills, and almost from the first dose I began to feel better. Now I am pleased to say I can do as good a day's work as ever in my life without feeling tired out. Before getting Gin Pills I had to have a girl to do my housework, but now I can do it all myself, including the washing. I will always recommend Gin Pills for kidney trouble.

"MRS. GARGILL, Winnipeg, Man."

Don't suffer the agonizing tortures of Kidney Trouble. Don't let it run into dreaded Bright's Disease. Cure yourself now with Gin Pills—the pills that cure. Sold at all druggists on a positive guarantee that they cure or you get your money back. 50c box—6 for $2.50.

If you will write asking for it and tell us the paper in which you saw this we will send you a trial box of Gin Pills absolutely free. The Bole Drug Co., Winnipeg.

HOW IT SPREADS

The first package of Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid (the infallible Pile-cure) that was put out went to a small town in Nebraska.

It cured a case of Piles that was considered hopeless.

The news spread, and although this was only two years ago, the demand prompted Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, of Lincoln, Neb., the discoverer, to prepare it for general use. Now it is being sent to all parts of the world.

It will cure any case of Piles. There is a month's treatment in each box.

Sold for $1.00, with absolute guarantee.

It is for sale by druggists, or by The Wilson-Fyle Co., Limited, Niagara Falls, Ont.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"PEGGY FROM PARIS."

The fame of "Peggy from Paris" has evidently preceded the appearance of this renowned company at the Grand on Thursday night, and the number who are availing themselves of the opportunity will undoubtedly be the largest that has ever appeared at the opera house this season. A special train from Lindsay and contingents from Tweed, Norwood, Havelock, Lakefield, Port Hope, Bridgenorth and Young's Point have wired for seats.

The proprietor has arranged for extra seating capacity so that a number of other seats will be available.

This production promises to be the best that has yet been at the Grand and is coming highly recommended from the Toronto Saturday Night and other prominent papers.

Work Delayed At Canadian General

Yesterday morning when the employees of the Canadian General Electric Works went to work they found the machinery at a stand still on account of no power. Ice had clogged the wheels at the Nassau power house, preventing rotation.

A contingent of five men was quickly sent to the scene of the trouble and after considerable chipping, the ice was removed and in the evening the machines were all running again.

A NEW NORMAL SCHOOL FOR PETERBOROUGH; WILL CITY BE ABLE TO SECURE IT?

Matter is Now Engaging the Attention of the Board of Education—An Effort to be Made to Induce Government to Construct One of Three New Normal Schools in This City—Deputation Will Wait on the Government at Once—A Proposal to Combine Collegiate Institute and Normal School—A Comprehensive Plan.

It is probable that an effort will be made by the local authorities to secure for this city one of the three new Normal Schools which the Ontario Government proposes to erect in this province. At the meeting of the Board of Education on Monday night the matter came up incidentaly, and there is every likilhood that within the near future, steps will be taken to send a deputation to Toronto to lay the claims of this city before the Government.

Mr. Bradburn's Views.

Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., was spoken to this morning in reference to the matter, and stated that it has been known to him for some little time that the Government intended to erect three new Normal Schools in the Province, and he had called the attention of the Chairman of the Board of Education to the matter, suggesting that efforts be made to secure one of the schools for Peterborough as the centre of a large district.

He expected that one school would be located east of Toronto and two west, to supplement those already at Ottawa, Toronto and London. As to the size of the schools he had no information, but was sure that they would be buildings which would do credit to the Province. Asked as to his opinion of the chances for Peterborough securing one of these schools, Mr. Bradburn was, of course, noncommittal, but said that while he was not in a position to make a definite statement, he was of the opinion that it would be well worth while to make an effort to induce the Government to consider Peterborough.

The Mail and Empire of yesterday had an article, evidently inspired in which a general forecast of the changes which the Government would make, were given, and the much-discussed low salary question is given attention. In reference to this question the article says:—

It is not easy to get a precise explanation of the small pay. But one theory with respect to it is that it is caused by the constant rush into the profession of young people who pass through the Model schools, of which there are too many, getting a temporary certificate, and having no intention of remaining at the work. Some nine hundred teachers—the exact figure is not material—are turned out for temporary work every year. The great number brings down the salary scale. The low salary leads the young teachers to decide to go no farther with their pedagogic studies, and to get out as soon as possible. Out they go, after a brief period, and the schools have to commense again under new and unexperienced teachers, with results that are not always happy. What the Government is faced with is the question of salary and of qualification. It is understood that it proposes this session to make an effort to deal satisfactorily with both. The qualification difficulty is believed to be the key to the situation. If the tide of temporary and not fully qualified teachers can be stayed, and a body of qualified teachers, who propose to make the profession, if not their life work, at least the work of a considerable period of their life, can be created, the problem will be well on the way towards solution. It is believed that the purpose of the Government is to deal with this question by abolishing a large number of the district or county Model schools — "teacher factories," they are called by some of the experts—and to have instead three more Normal schools

Higher Grade Teachers.

The consequence of this move will be to discourage the manufacture of imperfectly qualified teachers, people who do not intend to remain in the profession, and to aid instead those who purpose, or at all events desire, to make teaching their occupation. The Normal school regulations, however, are not to be so severe as to prohibit teaching, pending the securing of the higher certificate. A session at the Normal will produce an interim certificate terminable after a certain specified period. The teacher, following this breathing spell, during which or she has made a little money and has gained experience, will be able to go on with the studies and qualify for the certificate of the higher grade. It is hoped that this action will raise the standard of the profession, a movement which means also the raising of the standard of the schools.

Prompt Action Proposed.

The special committee appointed by the Board of Education at its meeting on Monday night, met last night, and one of the most important matters considered was this in connection with the new Normal School.

The committee will recommend to the Board that a deputation, consisting of the whole Board, the principal of the Collegiate Institute, and the Inspector of Public Schools, be sent to Toronto to interview the Government in reference to locating the Normal School here.

There was a perfect unanimity of feeling on the part of the members and it is probable that the deputation will go to the Provincial capital prior to the opening of the Legislature, to urge the matter upon the Premier and the Minister of Education.

A further development of the plan was discussed last night, and it was one which seemed to meet with the distinct approval of the committee. It was nothing less than that the proposal should be made to the Government that the Collegiate Institute and Normal School should be combined in the one building.

The deputation will point out to the Government that the Board already has $50,000 voted by the ratepayers which will be available for the erection of a Collegiate Institute, and the suggestion will be made that the Government co-operate, and erect a building which would serve the purposes of both the Institute and the Normal School. In this way a very handsome and pretentious building could be erected, one which would be a credit to the city, and a welcome addition to its educational institutions.

The committee was not favourable to the proposal to unite with the city council in sending the deputation, the opinion being that the board should act independently of the council, in view of the fact that the latter has not, in the Board's estimation dealt squarely with it in the matter of the lots.

Debating Club's Good Meeting

An Interesting Session of This Literary Club.

A very interesting meeting of the Y.M.C.A. Debating Club was held in the building last evening, there being a fair attendance. Mr. Fred Roy was elected to the chair.

Mr. Williamson gave a comprehensive review of Current Events in the World, which was followed by discussion.

Mr. A. E. Walker presented the results of a study of the question of intemperance, it's curses and proposed remedies.

A lively discussion followed the address which was participated in by Messrs. Lillie, Moore, Ray and Shiner.

The Club will meet again on Feb. 21st, when a splendid programme will be presented. The Club should have many more members, as it affords excellent training for young men.

Raise South Ward School By A Storey

This is the Proposal to Increase the School Accommodation of the Public Schools of the City—A Special Committee Considering the Problem—Visiting the School To-day With an Architect—Some Advantages.

EASY SOLUTION OF DIFFICULT PROBLEM

The Board of Education is grappling with the question of providing additional school accommodation in an energetic manner, and last night the Special Committee appointed to consider the matter met.

The result of the meeting was that the Committee decided to visit the South Ward school, where the lack of accommodation is most severely felt, this afternoon, and consider what is best to be done. An architect will accompany the committee this afternoon when they visit the school, and an effort will be made to solve the problem which confronts the Board.

The proposal is to add a storey to the present school, the roof of which will have to be repaired in any event, and it is felt that the roof could easily be raised to give another storey.

The committee while it is not committed to this scheme, until the architect has reported on it's feasibility, believe that it would relieve very materially, the congestion which exists at the present time in the schools of the city, and more especially in the South Ward school.

Choir Members Said Farewell To Miss Rush

Who Leaves for Ottawa on Saturday Morning—Was for Nine Years Associated With All Saint's Choir—Impromptu Banquet Was Held Last Night at Which Eulogistic References Were Made to Miss Rush's Services.

THE EVENING WAS AN ENJOYABLE ONE

At the conclusion of the practice of All Saints' choir last evening the members took advantage of the opportunity to say farewell to Miss Lillian Rush, who leaves on Saturday for Ottawa, where she has accepted a position as Kindergarten teacher.

Miss Rush has been associated with the choir at All Saints' church about nine years and has been one of the most popular members of the organization from which her valuable services will be sadly missed.

The members of the choir adjourned to the Sunday school room after the practice where a delightful supper was served. Afterwards an impromptue toast list was run off, the Rector, Rev. Wm. Major, acting as chairman.

The toast to The King was honoured in the usual manner, after which the toast to "the Choir and Church Wardens" was proposed. Mr. D. H. Burrett on behalf of the choir and Mr. Frank Wise, for the church wardens, made appropriate speeches in reply.

Rev. Wm. Major proposed the toast "Our Guest" referring in eulogistic terms to Miss Rush's services to the choir and the sorrow that was felt by the members at her departure. Miss Rush in replying to the toast expressed her appreciation of the kindness of the choir towards her and her regret at having to sever her connection with All Saints' church and the city.

The toast to the "Visitors" was responded to by Mr. Van De Water in a neat speech in which he referred in warm terms of the good work of All Saints' choir.

The toasts were interspersed by delightful solos by Miss Mary Rush, Miss Pearl Lundy, Miss Mabel Rickey and Mr. W. Grey.

The evening was in every way a most enjoyable one.

An Underground River Found 500 Feet Below

Haldimand County People Excited Over Discovery Near Nelles' Corners—River Supposed to Connect the Lakes—Fish are Drawn up and Rushing Water Heard—An Interesting Discovery.

St. Catharines, Feb. 7.—A young lady of Merritton, who returned last night from a visit to Nelles Corners, Haldimand County, brings home the story of the discovery of a big underground river at Nelles Corners.

Last week, while men were drilling for natural gas, they struck the river 500 feet down in the ground. The discovery was made when the drill suddenly dropped down 30 feet. When drawn out it was wet for 30 feet.

The rush of the water could be heard away down in the bowels of the earth when the men put their ears to the hole drilled in the ground. Some water was pumped out, and with it came some fish. The water tasted like lake water.

The residents around the district believe it is a great channel connecting the lakes. Its discovery is believed to explain why all the wells around there ran dry. No one could say which way the river is running.

Considerable excitement prevails in Haldimand County as the result of the discovery.

Arrows Vs. Alerts Finish Equal

A large number witnessed the exciting basketball game at the Y.M.C.A. last night, between the Arrows and the Alerts. This was the second game in the series, and was creating much interest among the lovers of this famous indoor game. At the end of the play the score stood 65 all, the half-time score standing 14-12 in favour of the latter. For the Arrows, Richardson and Darling were the pick of the quintette, while Fitzgerald, Yelland and Green were conspicuous for the Alerts.

The following is the line-up of the teams:

Alerts—Backs, Fitzgerald and Green; centre, Downing; forwards, Yelland and Emmerson.

Arrows — Backs, Darling and Loomis; centre, Richardson; forwards, Donson and Cressman.

Referee—John Lang.

Wasson As A Referee

Mr. E. Wasson who refereed the city league games last night, performed his duties in a manner that won for him much praise from the spectators. He had the teams in hand all the time, and while the Charlotte street seven thought they were penalized too freely and for too insignificant offences, any impartial person in the audience could see that the referee was simply doing his duty, without fear or favour, and that's what he's there for. He is an ideal referee for a city league hockey match, as he discourages anything like rough play by promptly penalizing the offenders. He caught the offsides well and altogether made a most satisfactory official. He is pretty nearly good enough to referee in any company.

That Picton Row Must Have Been Lively Episode

Sandy Burrows' Account of the Mix-up Between Belleville and Picton Men.

In a letter to the Toronto Star, "Sandy" Burrows, the manager of the Belleville Juniors, gives the following account of the mix-up between the management and the players of the two clubs:

Sporting Editor Star: Permit me, through your valuable paper to answer Mr. E. M. Young's letter pertaining to the disgraceful affair which happened to one of our hockey players after a game at Picton on Tuesday evening last. In the first place the contents of his letter are entirely erroneous. Herewith I give you a full and clear explanation of the whole matter.

During the progress of the game, in the first half, there was a mix-up between Connelly our cover point, and Barns, Picton's rover, in which it did not take Mr. Boulter many seconds to get on the ice, and endeavour to separate them by jumping on Connelly and using him rather roughly.

Boulter, it is alleged, told Connolly that he would lick him after the game. I do not know whether Connolly retaliated or not. Connolly states that he told Boulter he did not want to fight. The game then proceeded, and ended as reported in the papers. Our team on leaving the dressing room at the extreme end of the rink, and being flushed with victory, gave vent to their feelings by yelling, and this must have raised the ire of Mr. Boulter, who had just finished abusing the referee, Mr. Ridpath. As our boys were leaving the rink, Spangenberg and Connolly were between myself and Mr. Burke, our timekeeper. Connolly spied Boulter with his coat off, surrounded by the rink caretaker, and about a dozen others, and told Mr. Burke that Boulter was waiting for him. Boulter made a pass at Connolly, and Mr. Burke interfered, and Connolly sneaked out, passing Spangenberg, who at this moment turned around to see what was the trouble, and tried to quell the disturbance. The caretaker, Grooms by name, deliberately hit Spangenberg over the left eye, and as he was falling Boulter hit him on the nose. I attempted to interfere but was held back by Picton people. I got the players in the bus and drove to the Royal Hotel, Mr. Boulter following us out of the rink. After we had arrived at the hotel, in a few minutes Boulter appeared on the scene with blood in his eye. He took off his coat and hung it in the office. I was in the office at the time, and walked outside the office, and spied Connolly talking to Mr. Fish, our secretary, who was also in the office, and he (Boulter) said to Connolly: "Make a pass at me so that I will not be liable." Connolly answered "I do not want to fight."

Mr. Moffatt, a Pictonite, standing near, tried to quell the disturbance, and grabbed Mr. Boulter by the coat. Boulter then hit Mr. Moffatt a stinging blow on the right eye, closing it. I rushed out of the office and in the melee, being sore at Mr. Boulter's actions, lost my temper long enough to strike Mr. Boulter, hitting him in the left eye and blackening it. Mr. Thorne, the proprietor, opened the doors, and the crowd fell out on the sidewalk. I was in Spangenberg's room about an hour afterwards, when Mr. Fish came up and told me that he had met Mr. Boulter outside the hotel, and that he (Boulter) told Mr. Fish to tell me that he would lick me before leaving town.

The next morning Mr. Fish, Spangenberg, and myself, remained over to see what Mr. Boulter would do regarding a settlement for Spangenberg, whose nose at that time we thought was broken. Mr. Young, a brother-in-law of Mr. Boulter, then came to the hotel, and we told him we wanted a settlement made for the boy. He went and got Mr. Boulter and brought him to the hotel. We went to the sitting room and threshed over past events and came to an agreement, whereupon Mr. Young on behalf of Mr. Boulter handed Spangenberg $10. We all shook hands and Mr. Young and Mr. Boulter requested me to keep reports quiet in our daily local papers. I immediately went to the telephone office and phoned both papers as requested.

Much to my surprise on my arrival home on Wednesday evening I found both papers had a full account of the affair, which they had received from the members of the team who arrived home at noon that day.

Mr. Boulter had a grievance against me on account of his team losing against Cobourg at which game I officiated as referee. He abused me after the game stating I had not given his team a fair deal. According to my ability I tried to give both teams an even break.

Thinking, Mr. Editor, that this may help to straighten out matters and place the members and officers of the Belleville Hockey Club on a proper basis, and thanking you for this space in your valuable columns,

'Twould be too sad to relate should the County Council spill the House of Refuge down on us and smother us all in our sleep. The only consolation would be that our municipal council would be safe, as they are away hustling for Norwood or Lakefield. As these last named villages are, not showing signs of harmony or a satisfactory conclusion, why not strike the happy medium, Warsaw, 12 miles from each, which waits, cap in hand, thankful for favours, great or small.

Proof

is found in the many testimonials of those who have tried Shiloh and been cured. Mrs. Archie Taylor, Asaph, Pa., writes:—"I have used a bottle of Shiloh's Consumption Cure and found it very beneficial. I have six children, and they had a terrible cough. I gave them everything I could think of, but they got no better until one evening my husband brought a bottle of Shiloh. We gave it to the children when they went to bed, and they slept all night. It cured them completely. I shall always keep it in the house." 6c3

The New Bovril Premium
"Little Lady Bountiful"

A beautiful gravure reproduction of Mr. Fred Morgan's charming Oil Painting, size 28¾ inches by 19¾ inches, printed on fine plate paper 40 x 30 inches, with no advertising matter, is given Free to users of BOVRIL who save the coupons, one of which will be found over the neck of every bottle of BOVRIL.

This Bonus Picture must not be confused with cheap premium pictures. It is a work of art worthy a place in the most cultured home. The subject is extremely interesting.

On the grass in a charming woodland spot by a lake a mother and her three beautiful children have spread their picnic table cloth. Everything indicates wealth and health and happiness, the cake and fruit are served on choice china with snowy linen, and both mother and children are daintily attired. Standing apart and gazing with wondering, wistful eyes at the luncheon so temptingly spread, are a tiny girl and her tinier brother, barefoot and evidently less fortunate in worldly possessions. Prompted by her mother, the wee tot of the picnic party, with some of the best of the luncheon on a plate carried before her, is advancing toward the little ragged intruders, tendering with shy and gentle grace her offering. The little barefoot boy seems embarrassed yet delighted by this immediate prospect of good things and is shyly putting out a little brown hand to receive.

Dance Was Most Successful

North Monaghan Young Men Entertained Their Friends Last Night.

A most successful dance was held in the Foresters' Hall, Simcoe street, last night, under the auspices of several North Monaghan young men. over 50 couples were present, and the affair was one of unmitigated enjoyment. The guests included, in addition to North Monaghan and Smith residents, a large quota of Peterborough people. Wilson's orchestra provided excellent music and Mr. Archie Moore capably fulfilled the duties of floor manager. Delightful refreshments were served after which the dancing continued until an early hour.

Those in charge of the function are to be congratulated upon the success which attended their efforts.

SCIENCE SCORES AGAIN

A Preparation That Will Destroy the Dandruff Germ Discovered.

Finally the scientific student has discovered a certain remedy for dandruff. When it first became known that dandruff is the result of a germ or parasite, that digs into the scalp and saps the vitality of hair at the root, causing falling hair and baldness, biologists set to work to discover some preparation that will kill the germ. After a year's work in one laboratory the dandruff germ destroyer was discovered; and it is now embodied in Newbro's Herpicide. It prevents baldness, stops falling hair, and speedily eradicates dandruff. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect."

Domestic Help For Vancouver

Salvation Army Will Bring 1000 Girls to That City.

Vancouver, Feb. 7.—The Salvation Army, in accordance with the promise made here in December by Commissioner Coombs, at a public meeting in the city hall, will shortly try to solve the domestic help question in Vancouver and Victoria.

Word has been received by the local corps that a thousand young women, especially selected from thousands of applicants for their proficiency in housework, will sail from England for Canada in March in a steamer chartered by the Salvation Army. These domestics will be distributed in the principal cities between the Atlantic and the Pacific.

A considerable portion of the contingent, it is understood, will be forwarded to British Columbia with a view to securing employment for its members as thoroughly trained domestics.

Commissioner Coombs is now in London conferring with General Booth as to the distribution of the young women.

Great Mining Country Is New Ontario

Mr. Ritchie, of New Liskeard, Speaks of This Wonderfully Rich Part of Ontario—Cobalt the Scene of Great Mining Activity—A Great Rush Expected in the Spring—The Mining Companies Readily Dispose of Their Stock.

A BRIGHT FUTURE FOR MINING INDUSTRY

Mr. R. P. Ritchie, of New Liskeard, Northern Ontario, who came to the city about two weeks ago to see his young brother, Roland, who is attending public school here, and who has been confined to the Nicholls Hospital until very recently, was interviewed a short time ago by The Examiner on conditions in that part of the Province. Mr. Ritchie, before going to New Liskeard, lived in Lindsay for many years. His father, Mr. S. S. Ritchie, was formerly a dry goods merchant of Lindsay.

Mr. Ritchie says that the Cobalt district is a veritable network of silver and cobalt mines, and that the mining future of New Liskeard appears to be very bright. Cobalt, which is about 12 miles from New Liskeard, is one of the busiest little places in Canada. The population, of course, is transient, and while the inhabitants of the place are few great crowds of prospectors and miners come there in quest of the rich ore of the New Ontario mines. A big hotel and boarding-house are now being erected there, as it is anticipated that in the spring, when prospecting is rendered possible, fully 25,000 people will flock into that district. The mines have been working since last summer, when, to use a common expression, "the woods were full" of mineral hunters, who flocked to the mines in great numbers, and whose expectations were generally fully realized. Mr. Ritchie's father, who is a brother-in-law of Mr. A. R. Kidd of the local custom house, is one of the directors of the Temiskaming and Hudson Bay Mining Company and he and his family have a fifth interest in the stock of the company. This company made its first shipment, consisting of two carloads of silver ore, last fall, to New York, and they realized from its sale $44,000.

Mr. A. O. Kidd, son of Mr. A. R. Kidd, and who was formerly secretary of the Star of the East Mining Company, of this city, is also connected with this company. The mines are working all winter in Cobalt and district, although the snow renders prospecting impossible. A prospector's license, which costs $10, has to be obtained from the Ontario Government by those who wish to obtain a mining claim. The place the prospectors look for the minerals is between granite and slate, for it is here that they are generally found.

Mr. Ritchie says that the mining stock sells at an amazingly rapid rate and there are about 15 offices in Cobalt and New Liskeard. A considerable quantity of the stock is generally taken up about two hours after it is offered for sale. One company sold 8,000 shares half an hour after its offices were opened.

The scarcity of snow in the woods this winter will materially affect the lumbering industry. The wood is mostly spruce and cedar, and nearly all of it goes by the rivers to Ottawa and Hull. Pulpwood, which is obtained from the spruce, is now used to a great extent in the manufacture of paper. Lumbering, as well as mining, is a very profitable industry in Northern Ontario.

Mr. Ritchie will leave for New Liskeard on Friday.

The Algokan Ore Company, which has a capital of $2,000,000, is planning to put up large blast furnaces at Port Arthur Ont. Contracts for the steel structural work and machinery have been let to the Canada Foundry company, of Toronto; the Canada Bridge company; the Caledonia Iron works, of Montreal, and to concerns in the United States.

Some More $16 A Week Letters

The Examiner has received more letters on the now notorious $16 a week question. It was intended to end the controversy some days ago, but since then a number of letters have been received on the subject, and as there are undoubtedly persons who want to give expression to their views on what has developed into an interesting subject of discussion, two letters, both of which came in this morning's mail, are published to-day:

To the Editor of the Examiner,—

Sir, — Let's us give the women spendthrifts a rest and take a picture from life's other side.

This is the case of where the woman, not the man, earns the envelope. I have been married eighteen years, and was eighteen when married, so have some little experience. When I was married my husband was earning $13 per, and he owed a debt that took his first year's wages. I married because I had to work so hard and was ill-treated at home. But I still had to work out until the next spring when my husband got a hat and with $40 we started to keep house. There was no envelope to come to me, either full or empty, but I was dragged from one shanty to another, cleaning them up for some one else. After my boy was two years old I hired his board and started out once more to earn my own living. That was my fourth year of wedded "bliss."

My husband generally came to see me once or twice a month, and I would have to pay for his lodging.

But I kept at my work, sometimes making $6 per month and sometimes $30. I bought 80 acres of land, have a house and barn and some stock, and he is not willing to work the farm, but if he goes amongst the stock they will tremble with fear he is so cruel. I think what a blessed thing it is for some poor girl that men have concluded to spend their lives single, because those windy brags make very poor husbands, as a rule.

It would be a lucky thing if some more of you beautiful men would make up your minds to stay single.

A READER.

To the Editor of the Examiner,—

Dear Sir, — Being an interested reader of The Examiner for many years, I certainly am greatly interested in the marriage question, the discussion of which has occupied some space in its columns lately. Well, any woman who couldn't get along on sixteen dollars a week, had better never get married at all. But I quite agree with the man who didn't want to board with his mother-in-law. I have been married two years, and I say, Go by yourselves; and I guarantee that any person can get along on less than half of sixteen dollars, and store up for a rainy day, besides. Let every person look out for themselves. Never mind what other people have, or how they got it. Put by so much each week. Don't wait until you are 25 or 35 years married before you begin, and then be afraid of others getting more than you do, and some one always getting what isn't their own. We always get three good meals a day, though we haven't got very much furniture, nor a grand house to live in yet, but hope to have one some day by plodding along.

Well, young girls, it's all right to get in a house of your own, but see for yourself that you won't have to be bothered with a mother-in-law and dad-in-law. Let the man look after his own house when once he has left his pa and ma, for two houses is two many. Do on four dollars a week, if that is all he gets. Look after the coppers and the dollars will look after themselves. Make the best of married life, and look out for yourselves.

WEDDING BELLS

CHAMBERS—NEVILLE.

A wedding in which considerable interest locally is centred, was that which was celebrated yesterday in Colborne, when Mr. Albert L. Chambers of Peterborough, was married to Miss Alberta Neville, daughter of Mrs. Neville, of Colborne.

The bride was charmingly attired in white silk, and carried a beautiful bouquet of white roses. The ceremony, at which Rev. Mr. Neville, of Port Perry, a brother of the bride, officiated, took place in the tastefully decorated drawing room of the bride's mother, at three o'clock, in the presence of a large number of invited guests, among those present being Miss Margaret Chambers of Water street, a sister of the groom.

Miss Jean Neville, a sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, while Mr. Norton Chambers of Toronto, supported the groom. The happy couple will reside in Milton, Ont., where Mr. Chambers has recently purchased a thriving bakery business.

Ten Days For Clarence Shaw

Charge Against Edward Renton Withdrawn by Complainant.

Clarence the Cop is a well-known figure in an American comic paper, but Clarence, the "copped," would probably apply better to Clarence Shaw, a shoemaker, whose fondness for the morning dew is a source of constant trouble, both to the police and to himself. Clarence has done time in Castle Nesbitt, and nine days ago was fined $2 for the same offence with which he was charged this morning, that of being drunk and disorderly, and given the customary 10 days to pay it in. He was given $2 or 10 days again this morning, and as he didn't have the $2 he therefore took the 10, and as the time for paying his first fine expires to-morrow, he will probably be asked to renew the pledge at the expiration of his present term. Clarence is certainly a slave to the fire-water.

Edward Renton, who was charged with non-support of his wife, and who was arrested in Norwood yesterday by P. C. Stewart, was allowed to go, his wife's father-in-law, Mr. Geo. Forsythe, who laid the complaint, having withdrawn the charge. Mr. Forsythe had to pay the costs, amounting to $6. Renton, when he was here, was a splendid athlete, playing rugby, hockey and other games. He was also a prominent foot-runner. He is apparently suffering from the effects of overtraining, and now moves about with some difficulty. Such is the penalty of carrying a thing to extremes.

Torpid Liver Cause Of Fevers

The Surest Way to Prevent Disease is to Keep the Liver Active with

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

Too frequently an external cause for fever is looked for, when the real source of trouble is from within the body itself.

To begin with the liver becomes torpid, sluggish and inactive, and poisonous bile is left in the blood to corrupt the whole system. The result is the overworking of the kidneys and the clogging up of the organs of exoretion.

Food which should be digested is left to ferment and decay in the intestines, and inflammations and fevers are set up.

In such a condition the body is a regular hotbed of disease and is most susceptible to any ailment or infectious or contagious nature.

The best insurance against disease is the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to keep the liver active. This great medicine has a direct and specific action on the liver, and is wonderfully prompt and effective in awakening and invigorating this important filtering organ.

A healthy liver means pure blood, good digestion and the proper working of the bowels. A healthy liver ensures the onward passage of the food through the intestines and excretory organs, and so removes all chance of poisonous waste matter remaining in the body to produce pain, suffering and disease.

Mrs. R. C. Webster, Glenarm, Victoria, Co., Ont., writes: —"I gladly state my experience with Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills in order that others may profit by it. About a year ago I was almost entirely used up with severe pains in my back and side the result no doubt of deranged liver and kidneys. Having tried several remedies which did not seem to do much good and hearing Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills highly recommended I sent for several boxes and can freely state that they did me a world of good. As I feel no need of further treatment, the cure seems to be thorough."

NORMAL SCHOOL BUILDING.

It will be seen from an article elsewhere in this issue that the Provincial Government has decided upon the abolition of model schools, and the erection in their stead of three additional normal school buildings in suitable locations in the Province. The commercial importance, central situation of Peterborough, and its accessibility by railway, designate this city as a suitable home for one of these new buildings. All the interests of Peterborough should be concentrated upon bringing influence to bear upon the Government to convince them that it is in the interests of education that a mid-way point between Ottawa and Toronto, like Peterborough, should be selected for the new building. The representative of this riding in the Legislature is the natural leader of this enterprise, and he will be expected to act promptly and energetically. The Board of Trade, the City Council and the Board of Education are expected to co-operate. The latter has already taken action, and will send a deputation to wait upon the Government to present the advantages offered by Peterborough, where it is possible to work in both the interests of the Province and of the city in having the new normal school building and the new Collegiate Institute building placed under one roof, as is similarly done in Hamilton, where the School of Pedagogy and the Collegiate Institute are structurally conjoined. The strongest and most concerted action on the part of those who represent the interests of Peterborough in any capacity—as well as the promptest action—is called for, for other towns as Cobourg has done, have already putting in their claims.

SLAUGHTER OF THE INNOCENTS

Washington, Feb. 7.—That more than a million infants had been sacrificed to the various concoctions known as soothing syrups and pain killers, and over twice that number killed by impure milk, was the declaration made last night by Professor H. W. Wiley, Chief of the Chemistry Bureau of the United States Department of Agriculture.

"We do not know anything about the milk we have left at our homes, or the condition under which it was produced," he added. "There are a thousand and one possibilities which might have combined to make what nature intended for a food, the most virile poison that chemistry can produce.

"I have found that the foods we daily consume are so fraught with germ life of a harmful nature that I am almost afraid to go to the table. The butter is painted; there is little other to be found anywhere. Canned goods are kept years and sold for the genuine article. I speak particularly of condensed milk. If we know nothing of the fresh milk we get, surely our knowledge is more limited as to the product that is put in cans. The Lord intended us to resort to cans only to tide us over one season; until green fruits could be had again, but the canneries don't know this. There is no law requiring them to stamp the date upon their goods; if they did, it would kill the sale."

This condition above recited may apply to the United States, but there should be much reluctance in believing that such conditions obtain to any extent in Canada. There may be in this country a rather undesirable intimacy between the water wagon and the milk wagon, but it does not seem probable that, except in rare instances, there is in this country a practice of more deleterious adulteration of milk at all comparable to that described in the above despatch. We have every reason to believe that sharp practices prevail in the United States in regard to all the activities of commerce, finance, etc., and we cannot expect that foods would escape the practical attention of sharpers. We are all affected by our environments, and the practice of crooked methods across the border may influence the baser elements of our population to imitation, if not emulation, and we cannot be too careful or energetic in preventing the introduction of such practices in this country, and especial attention might well be directed to the quality of our milk supply. In these days of ease and pleasure-seeking, when the demands of society and the desire for an easy life, lead to the abnegation of the functions of maternity to so alarming an extent, when what Mantilini calls "nature's fount," gives way to the milk of the cow, as infant sustenance, it is important that the milk supply should, like Caesar's wife, be above suspicion. Adulterated milk of the kind referred to in the despatch, may easily conduce to an infant mortality, little less extensive than the commonly designated race-suicide practice. We should be certain, at least, of a pure supply of a food so largely used for infants and invalids, two classes especially susceptible to the injurious effects adulterated or impure milk is capable of producing. Our civic authorities should at least take some steps, by licensing or otherwise providing for inspection, to exercise some oversight of our milk supply.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

There promises to be no lack of patriots in the Conservative ranks in Toronto, willing to sacrifice their health for the privilege of representing North Toronto. The example of Dr. Beattie Nesbitt, physically collapsing, under the stress of the arduous toil of representing a riding in the Local Legislature, appears to exercise no deterrent effect. The names of many prominent Conservatives are mentioned as aspirants, and in all probability there will be a contest, even though a Liberal candidate is not forthcoming.

The appointment of Mr. A. H. U. Colquhoun, as deputy-Minister of Education, in succession to the late Mr. John Miller, is regarded as a good selection. Assuming that he has all the technical literary qualifications, of which there seems to be little doubt, these qualities are greatly intensified by the circumstance of his large experience in journalism, a profession which tends to broaden the mind, give an intensely practical knowledge of men and things generally, and fit a man, other qualifications being present, to discharge the duties appertaining to the office of, say, a Deputy Minister of Education, better than any other man, similarly qualified by general knowledge and fitness, who has not had the benefit of journalistic experience.

The Toronto News is becoming erratic. After a lucid interval of treating political matters sanely and moderately, it returned to slang-whanging the Dominion Government and the Liberal party, in relation to Northwest "outrages," taking the general position that Liberal triumphs were gained by unfair means and that the will of the people had no opportunity of finding an expression at the polls. Yet with all this indignation the News permitted two bye-elections, in the oppressed Northwest, to go Liberal by acclamation, without any attempt at putting up an opposition, by way, at any rate, of protest. If the people were as oppressed and outraged, as the News, and others, wish to make us believe, there should have been an opportunity provided of expressing protest as a matter of principle. If Premier Haultain had not so heroically refused that mythical $10,000 gift, he might have met the expense of an election contest, and at least have shown that he still stood for the right. To let the enemy have a walk-over seems to be a weak surrender of the championship.

Meetings Are Well Attended

Special Services in Murray Street Production of Good.

The meeting last night in connection with the special services in the Murray street Baptist church, was held in the basement, which was well filled, and a most helpful meeting was held.

The speaker again was Rev. G. R. Welsh, of Lindsay, who took for his subject The Parable of the Lost Edin, and drew many lessons from the story.

To-night it is expected that owing to the increased interest which is being taken in the services, the meeting will be held upstairs in the body of the church. Rev. G. R. Welsh will speak.

Several Parties Drove to Lakefield

Skating and Other Amusements Were in Vogue.

Lakefield was the mecca of several sleigh loads of young people from Peterborough last night. The weather conditions were perfect and the drive was found most enjoyable. The young people enjoyed a skate on the Lakefield rink and the supper that followed was, it is unnecessary to state, thoroughly appreciated.

Big Crowds At Jackson Park

Last night was one of the most successful of the season at Jackson Park. The fact that there was no skating at Brock street rink coupled with the ideal weather brought out a very big crowd, and the rink and slide presented an animated scene. The bright costumes of the tobogganists were much in evidence in the glorious moon light of a perfect winter's night.

Another Purchase By Grafton & Co.

A Woodstock despatch says: Grafton & Co. to-day acquired possession of the building and business of George Robinson, who has hitherto conducted the largest clothing business in the city, and who is well-known throughout the province. The transfer includes the entire stock and the block which was purchased and rebuilt by Mr. Robinson some years ago. The Grafton Company will assume control upon the completion of stock taking.

Big Implement Works Destroyed By Fire Fiend

rost and Wood's Plant Crippled by Bad Fire To-day.

Special to The Examiner

Smith's Falls, Feb. 8.—The main part of the Frost & Wood big plant was destroyed by fire this morning. The big machine shop, with all it's costly machinery; the carpenter shop with it's contents, and the paint shop, are all a mass of smoking ruins. The blacksmith ship was badly damaged, but was not destroyed. The fire is supposed to have started in the vicinity of the dry kilns. The loss while heavy, is well covered. Provision will be temporarily made for continuing the work of manufacturing, and the company, while somewhat put about, will be able to take care of it's entire trade for this season.

Croup Absolutely Cured.

"There is no remedy in my opinion that can act more promptly than Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. It cured my son of croup, absolutely, in one night. We gave him a dose when he was black in the face with choking. It gave him instant relief and cure."—Mr. Wm. McGee, 49 Wright avenue, Toronto, Ont.

DELIGHTFUL FUNCTION WAS THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY LAST NIGHT

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Winch Have Completed Half Century of Married Life--At an At-Home Given Last Night They Entertained One Hundred and Fifty of Their Friends--Highly Respected Residents of the City are Honoured--Mr. Winch Was Born in Peterborough 70 Years Ago---Some Interesting Reminiscences--A Successful Business Man---A Fraternalist and Methodist.

To comparatively few persons comes the experience which Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Winch passed through yesterday, that of the celebration of their golden wedding anniversary, and the At Home which they gave in commemoration of the event, was one which proved to be a most delightfully pleasant function. It was given in the Sons of England Hall, into which about one hundred and fifty of Mr. and Mrs. Winch's friends gathered to extend congratulations.

The gathering was a brilliant one, and marked an auspicious occasion, for it is seldom that life holds such good fortune and happiness in store for the devotees of Hymen.

Not only have Mr. and Mrs. Winch lived to witness and participate in such an event, but if good wishes and kind regards avail, they will be blessed with health and prosperity for many years to come.

Hosts of admirers united in extending felicitations and expressing the hope that they may live to celebrate their diamond wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Winch are enjoying excellent health and were in the best of spirits last evening, doing all in their power to minister to the comfort and pleasure of their guests.

The Sons of England Hall was attractively decorated for the festive occasion, and no more charming "At Home" has ever been held within its spacious precincts. Delightful music was contributed by an orchestra composed of Prof. C. E. Milner, Louis Mendle and Arthur Seward, while delicious refreshments were served at one end of the long hall, Mr. H. Long being the caterer.

The gathering was a most representative one, many prominent citizens being present.

Mr. and Mrs. Winch stood in the centre of the happy throng and were assisted by several members of their family, as well as by their grandchildren, in receiving the guests. The occasion was not only an interesting and memorable one to Mr. and Mrs. Winch, but it also marked the debut of their grand-daughter, Miss Irene Pentland, who was the recipient of numerous congratulations, which she gratefully acknowledged.

The members of Mr. and Mrs. Winch's family who were present to take part in the golden wedding ceremony, were his son, Mr. C. H. Winch, Montreal, wife and daughter, Edna; Mrs. F. W. G. Johnson, Montreal, and daughter, Miss Olive; Mrs. S. L. Pentland, Peterborough, and daughter, Miss Irene.

Mrs. R. J. Winch was attired in a handsome gown of silk voile, trimmed with chiffon and Irish point lace. She wore yellow roses.

Mrs. Johnson was gowned in black silk, trimmed with brocaded chiffon, and adorned with sequins. Her daughter, Miss Olive Johnson, was in white Duchess satin, with point lace trimmings. Both mother and daughter wore daffodils.

Mrs. C. H. Winch was costumed in black silk, with sequins, and diamond ornaments.

Mrs. S. L. Pentland was in voile, artistically trimmed with lace and brocaded chiffon.

Miss Irene Pentland, the debutante of the evening, in a frock of white muslin, trimmed with Valenciennes lace, looked charming. She wore a yellow sash and yellow roses.

During the evening many congratulatory messages were received from friends far and near, extending their heartiest well wishes and ardent hopes for many more years of health, happiness and prosperity.

MR. AND MRS. R. J. WINCH,
Who Last Night Celebrated Their Golden Wedding.

Among the messages received was one from Mr. and Mrs. Winch's son, Mr. R. V. Winch and family, of Vancouver, B.C., which read: "It is with heartfelt feelings and best of good wishes that we congratulate you on this, your golden wedding day."

The evening was characterized by a pleasant informality, and everyone was made to feel thoroughly at home. Mr. and Mrs. Winch enjoy the respect, confidence and esteem of the citizens of Peterborough to an unusual degree and, before the gathering broke up, Mr. R. M. Roy took several flash light views of the assembly, which then dispersed, after all had once more expressed to the host and hostess the pleasure it had afforded them to take part in such a memorable event, and trusting that the principal's in last night's function might live to celebrate many more years of wedded happiness.

Congratulatory Speeches.

At an interesting period during the festivities short, congratulatory speeches were made by Hon. J. R. Stratton, Rev. W. J. Jolliffe, T. F. Matthews, D. W. Dumble, Wm. Eyres and others, which Mr. Winch on behalf of his wife and himself, suitably acknowledged. He said: "Kind friends, it affords me a great deal of pleasure to meet so many who have come out to-night to congratulate myself and bride of 50 years. This is the first time I have ever attended a function like the present, and it is more especially gratifying to us to think that the Author and Giver of all good and perfect gifts has accorded this to us, when we consider that it only happens once in a lifetime, and we will never have another opportunity to do so again. It is a very rare occurrence, and very few, if any, of you will witness such another occasion. I cannot promise it to you."

After a few further remarks, Mr. Winch produced his certificate of marriage, which he asked Mr. W. H. Denham to read. It is as follows:

Certificate of Marriage.

"I do hereby certify that on the seventh day of February in the year of our Lord, 1856, Richard James Winch, of the town of Peterborough, in the County of Peterborough and Province of Canada, and Agnes Fife, of the Township of Otonabee in the

An Otonabee Resident Disappears From Home

Went Down the Otonabee Last Week—Not Heard of Since —Fears are Held for His Safety—Family Eagerly Await His Return.

Intense anxiety has arisen among relatives and friends of Mr. Jas. McMartin, who lives on the other side of the Otonabee River, across from the southern terminus of the street railway.

Last week Mr. McMartin was engaged in taking some logs down the Otonabee to the Bensfort Bridge and has not been heard of since by his friends. He was expected home a couple of days after, but no word of him or his whereabouts have reached his family.

It was quite customary for Mr. McMartin to go down the river and stay a week or more at a time but not at this season of the year. He is a strong man and has often been in many difficult places in many waters, so that there is still a strong hope for his safety also as his presence of mind in all entanglements which may happen to him on his winter voyage, is great.

Mr. McMartin is well known in this city as well as in Otonabee, as he has for the last couple of years run a ferry boat across the Otonabee at the end of the car line.

His wife and three children anxiously await his return.

School Board Wants Transfer Of Four Lots

While Council Contends Agreement Only Gives Two—Solicitor Writes to the City Clerk—What Action Will the Council Take?

To-day the solicitor for the Board of Education wrote the City Clerk, who handed the matter over to the Legal Committee to deal with, asking for a transfer to the Board of the four lots on the north side of the Central Park. It will be remembered that at the last meeting of the Council a motion was passed authorizing the transfer of the lots which the Board are entitled to, upon request. It is just here that the difficulty arises. The Council contends that two lots should be given the School Board, while the latter holds that four lots should be given, and this the solicitor asks for, with the provision that the Board is willing to agree to the reservation that two of the four lots should be kept for parade or play ground purposes.

What action the Legal Committee will recommend the Council to take in the matter remains to be seen.

Suburbs and Charlotte Street FURNISHED A VERY Exciting Game Of Hockey

The City League Matches Last Night Were Very Interesting—Two Very Fast Games—Suburbs Defeated Charlotte Street by 3-1—High Lifes Win From the Bankers by 4-1.

The largest crowd that has witnessed any city league games this winter saw two of the fastest and most exciting games the season has yet afforded when the Suburbs and Charlotte Street and the Bankers and High Lifes met in battle royal. The first sevens to clash were the Lakefield and Charlotte Street. The games in the league have aroused much interest in local sporting circles, and although the Lakefield seven was considered dangerous it was hardly thought that they would overcome Charlotte Street, which they did, however, in a manner that marked them the better team of the two, winning by a score of 3—1. The half time score was 1—0in favour of the winners. They scored three goals in succession and for a while it looked as if the Methodists would be blanked, but Grose came to the rescue near the conclusion of the game and netted the Charlotte Street's solitary score. The game was by no means "smooth," and the Charlotte Street puck chasers were the principal offenders in this respect and they played altogether too roughly to be able to do themselves justice. The Suburbs played a clean game throughout. Hurl and Simpson were only men penalized, being given three minutes for tripping. If the Charlotte Street seven had played for the puck more than they did the men their chances for winning would have been much better, but as the game was played the better team won and won on its merits. The Sbuurbs displayed some nice combination, Quigley, Simpson and Quinn figuring in some pretty three man plays. The whole Lakefield defence was in fine form. Bloomfield at cover, playing a particularly brilliant and useful game.

For Charlotte Street Miller and Nicholls were the fastest, although the former's work was rendered ineffective by his tendency to hug the puck, and the latter spent pretty nearly as much time on the fence as on the ice.

The Game.

Shortly after the face off Quigley fired a hot one in on Lang, who made a clever stop. Nicholls was boarded two minutes for slashing. Quigley scored the first on a pretty side shot, time five minutes, (Suburbs 1—Charlotte Street 0.

Bloomfield rushed and shot, Roddy getting in the way of the rubber. Nicholls again clambered over the fence, and remained with the timekeepers two minutes. He used his body too freely to suit Referee Wasson. After he came on he shot on goal but the puck didn't raise off the ice and Moore raised it out. He bodied Simpson rather strenuously and the men with the ball looked daggers at him, but didn't put him off. Dusty was given two minutes for slashing, followed by Nicholls, who received three minutes for bodying. Hurl tripped Dusty and was sent to the timbers for three minutes.

Dusty used his stick on one of the Lakefield hockeyists, much after the same manner a small boy driving a butcher wagon does on an unwilling horse, and the man who was there to keep the game clean wouldn't stand for it, so he escorted Dusty over to the fence and held up three fingers to the timekeepers. The play was pretty even, but the northern men showed the better combination. Bloomfield was doing effective work at cover when the bell rung for half time, with Nicholls conversing with the spectators, having been sent to the fence for tripping. The tap of the gong was the signal for an immense shout from the Lakefield supporters. The Charlotte Street fans looked a little blue, but plenty of confidence in their team's ability to pull out on top. The impartial spectators gave that peculiar nod of the head that signified they were well pleased with the game. Everybody was getting their money's worth.

Second Half.

Miller shot on goal but Moore got in the way nicely. Charlotte Street had the better of the play for a minute or two, but Lakefield suddenly woke up and wanted a nice game going. Quigley shot and up went the goal umpire's hand. Suburbs 2, Charlotte Street 0. Pretty good game. Simpson had to rest two minutes for tripping. Quigley again did the necessary. Time four minutes. Lakefield 3, Charlotte Street 0. Nicholls couldn't be good and was sent to perch for three minutes for slashing. It was all Lakefield. Roddy went after Bloomfield twice, and the referee only eyed him the first time, the second time, however, he put him behind the scenes for four minutes. Bloomfield tore off the most spectacular rush of the night going through the whole defence. He got confused around the goals, however, and the puck went behind the nets. He rushed again, however, and got a combination goal in which Simpson, Quigley, and he figured. He sent one on the nets that beat out Lang. Time two minutes. Suburbs 3, Charlotte Street 0. Three minutes after Grose secured the goal and saved his team from a whitewash. Final score: Suburbs 3, Charlotte Street 1.

Bankers—High Lifes.

In their game with the Bankers the High Lifes displayed better form than they have done before this year, and had they played as well at the beginning of the season they might have a look-in for the mug. As it is, however, it looks as if Lakefield would win out. Still they have only won one more game than Charlotte Street, so they are not yet the champions. Fitzpatrick, Meagher and Ford played surprisingly well on the High Lifes defence, and Meagher at point is a valuable acquisition. His work last night was very steady and satisfactory. "Fitz" in goal certainly had his shut eye open last night and he managed to get in the way of pretty nearly everything. Hall was the pick of the forwards. Watson, of the Bankers, worked like a Trojan and in the first half particularly, made a splendid showing. Easton also was in the game all the time. Macfarlane gave evidence of poor condition and Mulhern, who was sick, was away off colour, although at times cannanned around the ice in one of his old time rushes. His form this year has been disappointing to many who from his splendid work last winter and other years, marked him as a "comer." Sawers, in goal, played fairly well and Kelly, cover, was perhaps the most effective, although by no means the most noticeable player the gold dust slingers had. The game was clean and not a single Banker decorated the fence.

The Game.

It was nip and tuck at the commencement, but finally, after five minutes fast play Long placed the rubber in the nets on a pass from Hall. High Lifes 1, Bankers 0. Green jified a corker that dropped playfully around Fitz's feet, but the long fellow nailed it and sent it out. Mulhern swooped down on the puck when it was near the High Lifes' goal and scooped one that went too fast for Fitz to see. Time eleven minutes. The bank stock advanced some in the minds of the spectators, but dropped a point or two when McGrath batted in the rubber three minutes later. Bankers 1—High Lifes 2. Before any more scoring was done half time was called.

SECOND HALF.

Rose secured the next in six minutes. Bankers 1—High Lifes 3. After four minutes of play in which it was all High Life, Hall did the necessary, Bankers 1—High Lifes 4. McGrath was given two minutes for tripping Easton and Rose was given the same length of time for making the same player sit on the ice. The Bankers played desperately and tried to score, but the fates were against them and when the bellboy pulled the string for the last time the score card read Bankers 1—Charlotte Street 4.

Notes

The best games yet.

The better team won in each game.

Wasson is the proper man to handle the bell.

The crowd was more enthusiastic than ever before.

Quinn, the Suburbs' clever forward has speed to burn.

"Jiddy" Miller handles his stick beautifully but his ability to help his team is discounted 99c by his unwillingness to encourage combination.

The High Lifes have a pretty husky bunch.

The Bankers play good clean hockey and deserve all the support they get.

President Clarke is delighted with the success of the league. So is everybody, for that matter.

Bloomfield, of the Suburbs, cover point, is a trifle better than the majority of intermediates. He never played better this winter than he did last night.

The C. P. R. hockey team wish to challenge the employees of the Geo. Matthews Co., C. G. E. (office staff) or St. Andrew's Guild to a game to be played as soon as possible.

CURLING

The beautiful silver trophy competed for by the Lindsay and Peterborough curlers last week, and which was last year held by the former, was sent down to Peterborough yesterday. Needless to say, the locals feel proud of their victory and the possession of the cup again, which has for so long a time been held by Lindsay. This is the first season since 1895 that Peterborough has won it.

From 1896 until 1904 there was no competition, so that it was only their second opportunity since that time.

The cup, which is a very pretty one, is about ten inches high, the bowl of which is supported by a silver bar and two silver brooms attached to a carved stand.

On one side is engraved the words, "Challenge Cup for Annual Inter-Club Competition between Lindsay and Peterborough Curling Club," on the opposite the place and years in which each held the trophy were carved thus:

Lindsay '89-'90; Peterborough '90-'91. Peterborough '91-'92; Lindsay '92-'93. Peterboro' '93-'94; Peterboro' '94-'95. Lindsay '95-'96; Lindsay '96-'05. Peterborough '05-'06.

The Charlotte street rink was the scene of some interesting practice games last night in preparation for the games next week. But judging from the keen rivalry manifested and the loud resounding cheers which echoed among the rafters, one would suppose the players were in an earnest competition upon which depended some thing more than fame.

The following were the resultant scores:—

WEARY DAYS AND SLEEPLESS NIGHTS

Many men and women toss night after night upon sleepless beds until near dawn. Their eyes do not close in the sweet and refreshing repose that comes to those whose heart and nerves are right. Worry or disease has so debilitated and irritated the nervous system that it cannot be quieted. Or, again, you have heart palpitation and sensation of sinking, a feeling you are going to die; or perhaps you wake up from your sleep feeling as though you were about to choke or smother, and rest leaves you for the night. Allow these conditions to continue and you will feel your health declining.

It is the nerves and heart that are not acting properly.

They can be set right by the use of

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

They soon induce healthful, refreshing sleep, not by deadening the nerves, but by restoring them to healthy action and removing all symptoms of heart trouble, which is often the cause of nervousness and sleeplessness.

Mrs. Ennis Chambers, Massey Station, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with dizziness, weak spells and fluttering of the heart. I was in bed at times I could not lie down in bed at nights but would have to sit up. I doctored for a whole year and got no relief. I took three boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and was so completely cured I have not been troubled since. I cannot recommend them too highly."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50 cents per box or three boxes for $1.25 at all dealers or sent direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Madigan Lost Money on His Fighting Chickens.

The following despatch from New Orleans should be of interest to local devotees of the pit:—

New Orleans, Feb. 5. — John H. Madigan, the big bettor from Texas, has been having his troubles around here. Madigan owns a couple of big pootrooms over in the broad land of freedom and has made a lot of money for himself. He wanted to make a little more and found some farmers up in Mississippi who are not particular about the length of their looks and would as soon pick their teeth with a straw as a quill, and who had some they were willing to bet. They didn't exactly fancy the racing game, but if Mr. Madigan had any chickens who thought could fight any, they had a few shifty ones and would try to get up a game.

This was just what Madigan wanted. If there is one thing he likes better than winning a bet on a horse race it is winning a bet on a cock fight. Terms for a main of 21 fights were soon agreed upon and it came off last Sunday. The whole "smart set" was over, and if Colonel Mann had been here he could have made a clean up for his Fads and Fancies.

Madigan has a couple of strains of fighters called Texas Warhorses and Texas Rangers, but they belied their heroic names by being taken down with ordinary every day croup just because of a drop in temperature while being shipped over here. They were all black reds while the Mississippi birds were yellow hackles.

It was a great day for yellow hackles. Flurie's pits at Carrollton were jammed and a whole lot of people who wanted to get in couldn't. Every horseman in town had been tipped off on what a soft thing Madigan had dug up and they were all over to get an early cut in. Only the earliest got in and they bet their money like drunken sailors. It was the biggest sort of game, $2,500 at least being bet on several of the matches.

The main battle was for a stake of $2,000, which was won by the Mississippians. Eleven of the battles were fought Sunday and Madigan won four, as against seven for the strawchewers. The remaining ten battles were fought Monday, and the story is a sadder one still, for Madigan only won two. The Mississippians won in bets, beside the main stake, something like $8,000. Madigan got a good play on only one of his winners, and won $1,200 on that play. All his other big bets were losers.

Allegation Of A Combine Is Given Denial

Canners Send In Memorial to the Tariff Commission.

THE RUBBER MEN ARE HEARD

Against the Imposition of a Duty on Their Raw Material, and In Favor of Having Their Goods Under Two Classifications, With Duties Respectively 30 and 35 Per Cent.—Tin Plate Protection Asked.

Ottawa, Feb. 8.—At the Tariff Commission yesterday, J. O'Meara and Taylor McVeity, of Ottawa, asked for the removal of certain anomalies in the tariff in regard to albumen. They also opposed, on behalf of jobbers, any increase in window glass. It is now 15 per cent. and they wanted it to remain. The increase was asked by the Window Glass Machine Co., a United States concern which intends starting operations in Cayuga. The jobbers say that ample protection is afforded by the present tariff.

Rubber Men's Request.

H. D. Warren, representing the rubber manufacturers, asked that there be no increase in raw material used in manufacturing rubber goods. The principal competition was from the United States, a country that produces its own raw material, while Canada had to import the raw article. This gave a decided advantage to the United States manufacturer. He asked for a classification of rubber goods making two classes, footwear in one and other manufactures in the other. He asked for 30 per cent. on former and 35 on the latter. Rubber goods, besides clothing, should be taxed 35 per cent. maximum and 25 per cent. for Great Britain and colonies without further preference. Footwear should be 20 per cent. for Britain without further preference. He said rubber footwear men now controlled 95 per cent. of the Canadian market and still asked for an increase of 5.

Denies Combine Exists.

Mr. Fielding took up the suggestion that in footwear the manufacturers controlled the market now to the extent of about 95 per cent. Why, then, did they want more duty?

Mr. Warren—We are trying to equalize, we are not asking for any more duty. It is more of a rearrangement than an increase.

"Is there competition between the factories?"

"Yes, there is keen competition."

"It has been suggested that there is a combination and no competition?"

"Oh, that is an assertion. We must discuss these things to know on what lines we should proceed, but there is keen competition."

"Is there any understanding?"

"As to quality, not as to prices."

"Is there an understanding as to prices?"

"On some things only."

"Can a manufacturer make any goods he likes and sell below prices?"

"Yes, if he chooses."

"It has been represented there is a combine?"

"There is none."

In further examination Mr. Warren stated there was no pooling of profits, and no restriction of output. The trade at one time was demoralized, and there had to be a getting together to reorganize, to improve the quality of goods and endeavor to secure uniformity in prices.

Protection For Tin Plate.

The Canada Tin Plate and Sheet Steel Co., which is now establishing works at Morrisburg, Ont., was heard. A duty of 33 1-3 per cent. ad valorem was asked in the way of protection. In securing a supply of tin Canada would be on an equal footing with other countries. The consumers of tin plate would not have to pay more because of the duty.

John A. Campbell of the Trenton, Potter and Standard Drain Pipe Co of St. Johns, Que., asked for an increased tariff. If his company did not get it the wages would have to be reduced. At present the wages were the highest in any industry in the country.

No Canning Combine.

The most interesting feature yesterday was a written statement put in by canning interests, specifically denying that there is a combine in the trade, as alleged at the sitting in Winnipeg.

The TERRIBLE PANGS OF DYSPEPSIA CAN BE CURED

To be dyspeptic is to be miserable, hopeless, confused and depressed in mind, forgetful, irresolute, drowsy, languid and useless.

Constipation, headache, heartburn, sour stomach, distress after eating, belching of wind, faintness, and fullness and distention of the stomach are a few of the many distressing symptoms of the poor, weary dyspeptic.

Dyspepsia is a disease that in one way or another resembles nearly every other disease, and the only way to get rid of it is to tone up the stomach, liver, bowels and blood. This will be quickly done by the use of

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

It regulates the stomach, stimulates the secretion of the saliva and gastric juice to facilitate digestion, removes acidity, purifies the blood, and tones up the entire system.

Mrs. M. A. McNeil, Brook Village, N.S., writes: "Last winter I was very thin and was fast loosing flesh owing to the run down state of my system. I suffered from dyspepsia, loss of appetite and bad blood. I tried everything I could get but to no purpose. I finally started to use Burdock Blood Bitters, and from the first day I felt the good effects of the medicine and am strong and well again. I can eat anything now without any ill after effects. It gives me great pleasure to recommend Burdock Blood Bitters, for I feel it saved my life."

Arthur Balfour To Be The Leader Of The Unionists

Tariff Reformers Will Accept Him, Says Chamberlain.

A UNIONIST PARTY CALL

Chief Tariff Reformer of Britain Reviews the Situation In a Particularly Suave Manifesto—Did Not Impose Upon Mr. Balfour Any Ultimatum—What Advanced Tariff Reformers Think.

London, Feb. 8.—A. J. Balfour finally has acceded to Joseph Chamberlain's wish that a call be made for a general meeting of the Unionist party, which, it is expected, will be fixed for Feb. 15, though no details have yet been settled. In the meantime Mr. Chamberlain has issued an important manifesto, which, whilst accentuating rather than lessening the party tension, still leaves Mr. Balfour a bridge over which to cross into the tariff reform camp. The Chamberlainite newspaper organs this morning apparently assume that Mr. Balfour will cross the bridge, for they head Mr. Chamberlain's letter, "The Crisis Ended," a "United Party," etc., and editorialize in the same strain. The suggestion, however, is made by The Chronicle that Mr. Chamberlain has abandoned the frontal attack on Mr. Balfour in favor of an enveloping movement in an attempt to capture the party machinery.

In a letter to Lord Ridley, chairman of the tariff reform league, published to-day, Joseph Chamberlain repudiates the notion that he is a candidate for the leadership of the Unionist party. He says:

No Ultimatum.

"All that there is in the question is which policy the Unionist party proposes to adopt. It is absolutely untrue that any ultimatum has been presented to Mr. Balfour on this subject, either by me or by any one else. I have asked for a meeting of the party in order that there may be a frank and friendly discussion of the question, because to me it has always seemed essential to successful leadership that the leader should be made thoroughly and personally acquainted from time to time with the views and wishes of his followers."

Mr. Chamberlain's letter adds that there appears to be three views in regard to Tariff Reform held by different sections of the party. First that Tariff Reform can not be a question of practical politics for some years to come and should be dropped as an active policy. This, Mr. Chamberlain contends, is inconsistent with Mr. Balfour's language when he said that Tariff Reform was the first item on the constructive program of the party, and that commercial union with the colonies was the most urgent branch of Tariff Reform under existing circumstances the Unionists should unite on the program known as "Half a sheet of notepaper."

No Attempt to Impose.

Between these views and those of the more advanced tariff reformers there are two differences. First, the more advanced think that the probability of having to place a moderate duty on the wheat of foreign countries in return for substantial preferences given by the colonies to British manufacturers should be frankly admitted and defeated. Mr. Balfour had said that he had no objection to the principle of such a duty, yet he accepted without protest the statement of a free fooder that, under no circumstances, whether after a conference or not, and whatever may be the offer of the colonies, will they assent to a duty on wheat.

Second. The more advanced are of the opinion that it is impossible to have a practical and effective scheme of retaliation against the excessive duties imposed by foreign countries on British products without a general tariff. Mr. Balfour would never have attempted to put forward an alternative scheme, although urged to do so by the free-fooders.

The tariff reformers, Mr. Chamberlain further says, believed Mr. Balfour considered the difference in procedure to be insignificant and Mr. Chamberlain hoped that, as Mr. Balfour did not attach much importance to his own point of view, he would approach closer to Mr. Chamberlain's.

Believes In Balfour.

Later on Mr. Chamberlain says: "My own belief is that the great majority of the party, if not all, are perfectly ready to accept Mr. Balfour's general leadership. I think it probable, however, that the majority would welcome a declaration by Mr. Balfour which would show clearly that tariff reform will not be dropped and which would indicate a definite and unmistakeable program for the future to which they could give hearty support."

Concluding his letter, Mr. Chamberlain says: "The tariff reformers cannot accept a policy of inaction and mystification in regard to the main subject of their political lives."

Mine-Owners Are Ready Now For A Strike

Anthracite Coal Operators Have a Good Coal Surplus.

A 5-MONTHS' SUPPLY ON HAND

Railways Have Large Stocks on Hand as Well—Mild Winter Was Favorable to Storing for Possible Needs In the Future—Mines May Close Down on April 1 Even If There Be No Strike.

New York, Feb. 8.—The Tribune of yesterday says: Owing to the secret conference here yesterday of the anthracite coal railroad presidents, there was a well-grounded report that the anthracite which has been mined is so much in excess of the demand that a shut-down in the mines may be necessary if there is no strike on April 1.

Henry S. Fleming, who is the secretary of the Bituminous Coal Trade, which includes most of the large soft coal firms, and the secretary of the Anthracite Coal Operators' Association, made public yesterday estimates which he has been collecting as to the probable proportion of miners who will obey a strike order. In the anthracite district, he said, 90 per cent. of the miners will strike. In calculating the men who are likely to strike in the soft coal districts, he said he found that the miners there were much weaker to organization than was supposed and he based his calculations on the proportion of non-union men and the result of former soft coal strikes.

"As to anthracite," he said, "the average summer consumption is 2,000,000 tons a month, and the average winter consumption throughout the country is 8,000,000 tons a month. Up to the present the winter consumption has been far behind the quantity mined. About 16,000,000 tons of anthracite have been mined in excess of the demand and there are nearly two months before April 1 in which coal can be mined. For some time back the railroad companies have been stocking up anthracite and they never had such a large supply before." Mr. Fleming estimated that, allowing for cold weather, there would be easily a five months' supply of anthracite on hand on April 1.

ABSURD ON ITS FACE.

Cattle Shippers Deny That Men Are Fraudulently Engaged.

Toronto, Feb. 8.—A number of cattle dealers, who were shown the despatch from Portland, Me., yesterday morning, declared that it was absurd on its face. They explained that there were people who made a business of engaging men to go across the ocean with cattle and whose advertisements were to be seen in the daily papers. They offered free passage over and back, but very seldom any wages. The shippers themselves had nothing at all to do with engaging these men.

Hackney Association Meets.

Toronto, Feb. 8.—The Canadian Hackney Horse Society transacted all the business of their annual meeting in short order. The cash balance on hand it $750 and the membership has been increased by 10. President Miller referred to the growing demand for Hackney horses. High prices are also being realized for the breed. The society granted $200 to each of the principal fairs in the Dominion. The newly-elected officers are: Hon. president, Robert Miller, Stouffville; president, C. H. Tisdale, Beaverton; first vice-president, P. O. Sorbey, Guelph; second vice-president, W. Renfrew, Toronto; directors, R. Miller, T. Graham, C. H. Tisdale, R. W. Davis, R. Beith, G. Raikes, H. Bennett, W. Renfrew; Toronto Exhibition delegate, President Tisdale; delegates to record board, Robert Beith and G. W. Pepper.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

THIS is the caution applied to the public announcement of Castoria that has been manufactured under the supervision of Chas. H. Fletcher for over 30 years—the genuine Castoria. We respectfully call the attention of fathers and mothers when purchasing Castoria to see that the wrapper bears his signature in black. When the wrapper is removed the same signature appears on both sides of the bottle in red. Parents who have used Castoria for their little ones in the past years need no warning against counterfeits and imitations, but our present duty is to call the attention of the younger generation to the great danger of introducing into their families spurious medicines.

It is to be regretted that there are people who are now engaged in the nefarious business of putting up and selling all sorts of substitutes, or what should more properly be termed conterfeits, for medicinal preparations not only for adults, but worse yet, for children's medicines. It therefore devolves on the mother to scrutinize closely what she gives her child. Adults can do that for themselves but the child has to rely on the mother's watchfulness.

Castro Used Duplicity.

New York, Feb. 8.—M. Taigny, former French charge d'affaires at Caracas, who arrived here on the steamer Zulta from Curacao, talked briefly upon landing yesterday of the conditions in Venezuela. He expressed the opinion that the industrial classes in the country are not giving support to the Government's position on French affairs.

Asked to explain what President Castro's objects are in the present controversy, M. Taigny said: "I do not know. Perhaps President Castro does not know himself."

"What did President Castro have to say?"

"Many things," replied M. Taigny. He was then asked whether by this he meant that he believed Castro used duplicity in his statements and replied: "Yes, that is it."

Minister of the W. M. Church, of Canada.

It may be mentioned that Mr. John A. Hartley, who supported Mr. Winch on that occasion, died some years ago. Miss Rebecca Fife, who was bridesmaid, is still living at the family residence in Otonabee.

Another interesting feature of last evening was the cutting of a handsome four-storey bridal cake by Mrs. Winch, the bride of half a century ago.

To-day in recognition of the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Winch had completed a half century of wedded bliss, a number of their friends sent Mr. Winch a handsome gold-headed umbrella, suitably engraved.

Mr. and Mrs. Winch also received several handsome tokens of the occasion from their children, grandchildren and others.

A LIFE SKETCH.

Mr. R. J. Winch, whose fiftieth wedding anniversary was celebrated in such a pleasant manner last night, is one of the prominent men of the city, in which he was born on Nov. 3rd, 1835, and the congratulations which are being fairly showered upon him on having completed half a century of married life, are not only numerous, but are inspired by the most sincere motives, because in all the associations which he has formed he was most popular, and deservedly so.

While Mr. Winch was born here he has not lived in Peterborough continuously since that time, but his interests have been very largely represented here, and during his residence in Peterborough he has always been identified with the progress of the town and later in the city.

Mr. Winch relates some decidedly interesting stories of pioneer life, which, in comparison with the present status of the city, illustrate the rapid growth which Peterborough has made.

Peterborough's Progress.

Those who have been but comparatively recent arrival to the city will be surprised to learn that Mr. Winch was born in a log house which stood on the present site of Messrs. P. Conal & Son's grocery store, and that the space between that house and the present Bank of Toronto corner, where a warehouse stood then, was a garden, and was planted with corn and potatoes. In this connection it is interesting to recall a reference to this particular spot made by Mr. W. H. Cluxton, who in 1897, the year of the late Queen Victoria's Jubilee, wrote an article on reminiscences of 1837. In that article he referred in the following terms to Mr. Winch's birthplace:—

> Between Ormond & Walsh's and the Bank of Toronto then there was only one log house—occupied by a most excellent citizen, Mr Richard Winch. There was a great stone chimney built outside of this house to carry off the smoke from the great log fire within. Mr. Winch's eldest son was born there. On the opposite side of the street—where Gough's store is now—there was a vegetable garden owned by Mr. Almond, a watchmaker. The half acre between Ormond & Walsh's corner, 196 feet west, was sold for a pair of cart wheels, and on the other side, from Oak Hall corner to Mr. LaBrun's store, 196 feet, was sold to one Bailey for $30. Speaking about cart wheels we had no waggons. In the early days of Peterborough people came to the village in ox carts, drawn by oxen.

Boyhood Days.

As has been stated interestingly Mr. R. J. Winch was the eldest son of the late Richard Winch, whose death, at the age of 75 years, occurred on March 20th, 1883. Mr. R. J. Winch spent the years until 1858 in Peterborough in which year he removed to Cobourg, where he lived until 1890, and again came to Peterborough remaining here until the present time.

In his early boyhood days he attended Parson Taylor's and Josiah Hughes's schools, which were situated on the site of the present public school.

Mr. Winch's father was a prominent member of the Methodist church, and in this respect his son followed in his father's footsteps. Mr. Winch, Sr., worshiped in three different George street churches, the old church opposite to the present structure, that erected later north of that building, and the present church.

Church Associations.

An interesting piece of history in this connection is furnished. Mr. Richard Winch was on May 6th, 1846, appointed circuit steward, also trustee for the Peterborough Chapel, and also member of the building committee, and in 1853 when the addition to the church was made, he was a trustee and was appointed to take up collections on Sunday. It will thus be seen that Mr. R. J. Winch was practically born into the Methodist church. His official connection with the church, however, dated from 1866, when he became a member in Cobourg, and when he removed to Peterborough he transferred his membership to the George street church and has been a class-leader for a number of years. He has also assisted materially in the maintenance of the church. Mrs. Winch has also been a life-long Methodist.

The Wedding.

The event which was so pleasantly celebrated last night took place on Wednesday, Feb. 7th, 1856, at the residence of Mr. John Fife, father of Mrs. Winch, Otonabee, and the principals were Miss Agnes Fife, the second daughter of Mr. Fife, and Richard J. Winch, Mr. John Fife, father of the bride, was one of the pioneer settlers of Otonabee, and upon his death in 1883, the following tribute to his work was paid:—

> One of the pioneers of Otonabee, passed away on the 28th of March, at the ripe age of eighty-six years. He was born near Kincardine, Perthshire, Scotland, and came to this country sixty-three years ago. At that time roads in Otonabee were unknown, the settlers having to follow the "blazed trees" from place to place. Cobourg was their market town, from which place they brought their liquor, etc., to the shores of Rice Lake, then by canoe to where Keene is now situated, and from this place they carried it on their backs. Their beds consisted of the softest branches of hemlock, etc., the houses were noted for free circulation of air, with an occasional shower from the roof during a heavy rainstorm. All honour to these veterans of early days! We enjoy the result of their labours and hardships. "We were strong, healthy and happy," says the departed. He brought the first cow into the township; and cut down trees where the market place at Cobourg is now situated. He had been connected with the Methodist Church nearly sixty years, during the greater part of which time he had been a class-leader. The first Methodist service in Otonabee was held in his house, about fifty years ago, he and Mrs. Fife carrying the little child on their backs "to fetch the minister." His children and grandchildren were unremitting in their attentions day and night, and although he was greatly afflicted with shortness of breath, retained consciousness to the last, giving expressions of joy and praise that he was "near the end of the journey," and that he was "safe! safe!" He has gone, but his works remain, and his memory will be cherished by the whole community for whom he laboured and prayed. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. J. Zoreland, Keene. A large assembly escorted the remains to the Fife Cemetery. Truly he has left a monument which time cannot crumble nor deface, and eternity will but strengthen and preserve. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. H. Poole, pastor of George street Methodist church from 1854 to 1856, and the witnesses were Rebecca Fife, who is still living in Otonabee, and the late J. A. Hartley, a former merchant of Peterborough. Of those who attended the wedding, only four persons outside of the principals are still living, viz., Mr. H. C. Winch, Mr. Jas. Fife, Mrs. John Criscoss, Brooklyn, N.Y., and Miss Rebecca Fife, the two former attending the "at-home" last night, but Miss Fife was too ill to be present.

After the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Winch took up residence in the house on the site of Mr. T. H. G. Deane's present residence, and later, in 1858, they removed to Cobourg, where until 1890 they resided.

Successful Business Man.

Mr. Winch has been singularly successful in his business operations and has, by industry and progressiveness, acquired a competency. He has been identified with the meat business for years, and in Cobourg he was also interested in marine and shipping, owning in part, at different times, a number of vessels. At the close of the Civil War in the United States Mr. Winch shipped considerable stock to that country, as well as feeding 300 head of stock in the Cobourg distillery. The schooners in which Mr. Winch had interests were the Pacific, the Antelope, the W. T. Greenwood, and the Star of Mill Point. The Pacific was an ocean boat, crossing from Charleston, S. C., to Queenston, Ireland, and later sailed in the Baltic Sea. She was lost in mid-ocean, but all the crew were saved, Capt. Ewart being master. The Star was lost in a storm on the way to the Genesee River, on a trip in which she was loaded with peas.

Mr. Winch also owned a 125-acre farm near Cobourg, which he worked during his residence in that town.

Returns To Peterborough.

In 1890 he decided to return to the town of his birth, and removed again to Peterborough, where he was still engaged in the meat business, under the firm name of Winch Bros., but in 1900 he retired from active business and has since enjoyed the relaxation from business cares, which he has well earned.

To Mr. and Mrs. Winch have been born seven children, two sons and five daughters, and all are still living. In fact, the vitality of the Winch family is, in its way, remarkable, their record being one which few families, indeed, can equal. In 67 years, and until about one year ago, there had only been one death in the family, except that of Mr. Winch's father and mother, both of whom lived to a good age. It is a family which has been singularly free from the ravages of death. Mr. and Mrs. Winch, with their family of seven children and 20 grandchildren, having enjoyed unusually good health. One grandson was accidentally killed some years ago, and his, with the two exceptions named, has been the only break in the family.

The family consists of Mr. C. H. Winch, Montreal; Mrs. G. J. Pentland, Peterborough; Mrs. Geo. E. Bowers, and Mr. H. V. Winch, Vancouver, B. C.; Mrs. F. W. G. Johnston, Montreal; Mrs. H. H. Bradburn, Winnipeg, and Miss M. E. Winch, who at present is living with her brother in Vancouver. Of these, three, one son and two daughters, were present last night at the wedding celebration.

A Prominent Mason.

Mr. Winch is prominent in Masonic circles, of which order he has been a member for many years, holding a number of important offices. He was initiated into Masonry in St. John's Lodge No. 17, A. F. & A. M., Cobourg, in the year 1867, and was elected Worshipful Master of the lodge three times. He was also Grand Pursuivant of the Grand Lodge of Canada, having been appointed by the Grand Master at the annual communication in 1877.

Very Worshipful Bro. Winch is also a Royal Arch Mason, having joined St. John's Chapter No. 48, Cobourg, in March, 1872, being among the earliest members, and has filled nearly all the offices in the chapter, including that of First Principal, to which office he was elected in the year 1876. In 1887, very ex-Comp. Winch was appointed Grand Steward of the Grand Chapter of Canada, and is now, a life member of both St. John's Chapter and St. John's Lodge.

Of late years he has also developed a love for, and attained considerable proficiency in, the "roarin'" game, and has become quite an enthusiastic curler. He has always been a successful follower of Izak Walton, and derives great pleasure each year from his outing with the members of the Catchecoma Lake Fishing Club, with whom he is very popular. He usually spends a great portion of the summer months at Stony Lake, where he has a pretty cottage, to which he has welcomed many hundreds of his friends in the past, and the latch-string of which always hangs out.

At 70 years of age Mr. Winch is a strong, active man, as energetic and as alert as many men a quarter of a century younger, and that he may have many years yet of health, and that he, with his estimable wife, may live to enjoy their delightfully pleasant associations for many years, is both confidently expected and hoped by their very wide circle of friends.

New Citizens From Cleveland

Peterborough's population will be increased this year by three new citizens from Cleveland, Ohio in the person of Mr. and Mrs. Eichenlamb, and Miss Eichenlamb. The members of this family have been visiting in this city with Mr. W. H. Denham, the American Cereal Company's popular superintendent, who is also Mr. Eichenlamb's brother-in-law. During his visit here Mr. Eichenlamb has been so favourably impressed with Peterborough that he has accepted an engagement with the firm of T. Barrie & Co., in the retail department of furs and men's furnishings — his experience in some of the largest stores in his native State specially fitting him for being a strong addition to Messrs. Barrie & Co's staff.

Editor Post Card Column:

Dear Sir,—I would like to draw attention to a matter which I think should be remedied, although I do not like to say anything about an institution which is doing such good work in our city. My complaint is in reference to the Y. M. C. A. piling the snow from their rink along the eastern end of their lot, and almost on the street line. On a warm day the melting of the snow there makes the pavement almost useless to pedestrians.

Yours, etc.,
SLIPPERY.

Editor Post Card Column:

Dear Sir,—I notice that the City Engineer, in his report to the council, comments on the absence of many street name signs. This seems to be a point well taken and it would be well for the aldermen to remember the matter as soon as possible. On many of the streets names are entirely absent, which makes it very difficult for strangers to find their way around the city.

Yours, etc.,
VOX.

Chief of Police Kohler, of Cleveland, says:—

"Where melody enters misery leaves. Music could be made the greatest of all forces for the diminishing of crime. Did you ever hear of a musical murderer? Go through your penitentiaries and you will find that not one convict in a score knows anything of music.

"If they did they would not be in the penitentiary. The love of music and the desire to do right lie close together in the human make-up. Every man is a potential musician.

"But develop in him the love of music and the ability to appreciate it and he is pretty sure to go right in life. Music is the greatest purifying and uplifting force in the world. It should be taught with the A. B. C's."

Charles H. Yale's "Everlasting Devil's Auction," which will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House Monday next, February 12, has always been a favourite, and it has never failed to draw large audiences. It is one of those shows whose proprietors do not permit it to run down. The principal excellence of "Devil's Auction" is maintained. The public expect this of the management, as has been shown in past years by the immense audiences that have witnessed it, and the management, it is said, will prove itself worthy of the confidence placed in it by the public by making this—the twenty-fourth edition of the "Devil's Auction"—the most entertaining of all.

The Committee Visited School And Some Sites

Question of Additional School Accommodation in the South End Being Considered—Board Takes the Matter up Energetically—No Decision Yet as to Erection of New Building or Enlargement of Present South Ward School.

SOME AVAILABLE SITES INSPECTED

The special committee appointed by the Board of Education to deal with the question of additional school accommodation in the south end of the city, as was stated in The Examiner yesterday, visited the South Ward School and discussed plans for the enlargement of that building, and in addition to visiting the above, they looked at a number of sites which might be available for the erection of a new school, if that is thought advisable by the Board.

It must be remembered, of course, that no definite line of action has been decided on by the Board as yet, as to what means will be adopted for the relief of the congestion of the schools. At the meeting of the Board on Monday night Mr. Pringle and Dr. Morrison spoke in favour of building a new school in the south end, as against the proposal to enlarge the present school building. They pointed out that the grounds surrounding the school were too small, and advocated building a new school further south. Other members, however, were of the opinion that the best interests of the city would be served by enlarging the present school.

But nothing has as yet been decided, and it will be fully discussed by the Board before any decision is reached.

The members of the committee were Messrs. W. Pringle, chairman; Robert Fair, W. H. Hill, B. F. Ackerman, W. G. Ferguson, Dr. Burnham, D. Walker and W. Blackwell. They first visited the school and were shown through the building, which was found to be in first-class condition, and the halls were particularly wide, outside walls 14 inches. Mr. Blackwell was instructed to prepare a sketch plan of the proposed enlargement, which will be submitted for consideration.

The committee then visited a number of sites in the south end, which might be procured for the erection of a school. Some well situated lots were seen, but the chairman had nothing for publication in connection with this question.

The committee meets in a short time and will give full consideration to the matter before reporting to the Board.

Endless Annoyance and Misery.

"As a man of seventy years I am grateful to God and to Dr. Chase's Ointment for a cure of piles which had caused me endless annoyance and much misery. The itching and burning was almost beyond endurance, but Dr. Chase's Ointment brought quick relief and I believe that the cure is lasting." Rev. Wm. Thomas, Brownsville, Ont.

The Oddfellows Hall Narrowly Escapes Total Destruction

A Disastrous Fire Which by the Most Lucky Chance Was Averted—A Serious Conflagration Would Have Resulted But for the Timely Arrival of Mr. W. J. Green—Overheated Stove Was the Cause.

A serious fire, probably the most serious in the history of Peterborough, was averted yesterday afternoon, by the narrowest possible margin, and, by the merest chance, a conflagration, which had it remained undiscovered for a few minutes longer, would have undoubtedly wiped out some of the business blocks of the city, was nipped in the bud.

Mr. W. J. Green, the financial secretary of Peterborough Lodge, I. O. O. F., as has been his custom on Thursday afternoon, prior to the meeting at night of the lodge, went yesterday to the lodge rooms to post his books in preparation for the meeting, and when he reached the top of the stairs of the floor upon which the I.O.O.F. rooms are situated, he was surprised to notice smoke. He opened the lodge room door and was met with a cloud of smoke which fairly poured out. He sent in the alarm at once, and the firemen were soon on the scene, but some difficulty was experienced in reaching the seat of the trouble because of the smoke. It was finally found that the fire had originated from the stove which stood at the front end of the hall, and which when the firemen arrived, was red hot, with flames pouring out of the top, and the floor on fire.

The cause of the fire, as near as can be figured out, was that the stove, which stood on a zinc-covered board, with about two inches space between the bottom of the stove and the boards, became so hot that the floor ignited, and once the fire started, it spread rapidly along the dry flooring, and if it had been left a few minutes longer the firemen are of the opinion that it would have been no easy matter to have extinguished it.

Mr. D. Hall, who has charge of the rooms, had started the fire in the stove about twenty minutes before, he stated, and when he left the hall there was no indication of any danger. He had simply followed his usual custom of lighting the fire in preparation for the meeting.

The cause of the fire, as given above, is the only one which seems feasible, and while it is strange that the stove should have been lit identically the same way scores of times before, and nothing serious happened, there is no other solution.

The chemical tanks were all that were required to extinguish the flames, but considerable of the floor had to be taken up before all the fire was reached, and the danger averted.

There will be some damage by smoke, which with the injury to the floor, will be practically the only damage.

Fortunately the new regalia and paraphernalia were stored in one of the side rooms, and escaped.

An immense crowd gathered at the corner and were deeply interested in the progress which the firemen were making.

Collegiate Institute Committee Meeting

The special committee of the Board of Education, appointed to give consideration to the question of the proposed Collegiate Institute, met last night. The members of the committee are Messrs. M. A. Morrison, John Crane, W. H. Hill, D. W. Dumble and L. M. Hayes.

Dr. Morrison, the chairman of the committee, was seen this morning in reference to the business transacted by the committee, but stated that there was nothing for publication. He did not think it right to give the public the information before it reached the Board, and the committee will report to the Board at the next meeting.

Popular Man Leaving City

Mr. C. Dickinson, of Bank of Commerce, Transferred.

Mr. C. Dickinson, who for the past year has been accountant in the Canadian Bank of Commerce here, has received notice of his transfer to the Northwest. He will leave here next week, and will go to Toronto, where he will be given instructions as to his destination. Mr. Dickinson was, prior to his removal to Peterborough, on the staff of the Winnipeg branch. His removal from Peterborough will be regretted by his many friends. He became very popular during his year's residence here, and was a member of the Peterborough Club, the Snowshoe Club, and the Peterborough Golf and Country Club, holding the office of secretary-treasurer of the latter. He had a cottage at Chemong last summer, and took an active interest in the numerous society events at that resort. Mr. Dickinson's successor will be Mr. R. M. Saunders, of Toronto.

A Conference On Normal School

Mayor Best Will Discuss Situation With Chairmen.

To-night Mayor Best will hold a conference with the Chairmen of the four committees of the Council, in reference to the proposal to erect the new Normal School in this city. It is expected that the Board of Education will be represented at the meeting and the Board of Trade will, in all probability have a representative at the meeting as well. Mr. Bradburn will attend the conference and it is probable that the arrangements for the deputation to Toronto will be made at this meeting.

Last Night At Murray Street

The attendance at the meeting in the Murray street Baptist church last night was large, and a good meeting was held. The address was given by Rev. G. R. Welch, of Lindsay, and his subject was "The True Spirit of Christianity." To-night the meeting will be held in the auditorium of the church, and Rev. Mr. Welch will again be the speaker.

The pastor is much encouraged by the results of the meetings.

New C. P. R. Steamship "Empress Of Ireland" Was Launched Yesterday

The twin screw passenger steamship Empress of Ireland, was launched on the Clyde on Saturday, at the Fairfield Shipbuilding & Engineering Company's Works. This is an event worthy of note in the development of Canadian shipping. This ship and and her sister, the Empress of Britain, also recently launched at the same works, are the latest additions to the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's Atlantic fleet, and are to be placed in the St. Lawrence Liverpool service in May next.

Concerning these ships the Syren & Shipping Illustrated of London, England, in a resume of the British shipbuilding for the year says:—

"Among the Fairfield Shipbuilding & Engineering Company's productions was the first of the two Canadian Pacific "flyers," the Empress of Britain, a twin-screw vessel of 14,500 tons, and 18,000 i.h.p., 570 feet between perpendiculars, 63 feet moulded breadth, and 40 feet moulded depth to principal deck. She will be driven by two sets of quadruple-expansion engines, and, when required can steam 20 knots, though the intention is to run her at 18 knots. She has eight complete decks, of which the upper promenade measures approximately 300 feet, the lower promenade extending clear to the stern. The Thermo system of ventilation is to be introduced, and it is claimed that the galleys and cooking arrangements are better than those on any vessel afloat. Moreover, she is fitted with submarine bell signal telephones, and is the heaviest boat launched by the concern over whose destines Sir William Pearce presides."

An Excellent Refrigerating Plant.

For the preservation of fresh provisions as well as for the transportation of meat and dairy produce a very complete instal ation of refrigerating plant will be fitted by J. & E. Hall, Limited, of Dartford, consisting of four of their carbonic anhydride machines. A safe margin of power is provided, and the machines are all arranged for interchangeable working, thus giving entire security against loss of goods from breakdown. The sub-division of the refrigerating power into so many units is a distinctive feature of the installation. Arrangements are made for the production of a large quantity of ice daily for passengers' use. The cargo chambers in the after part of the vessel are disposed in two tiers, and the cooling appliances are designed to enable different classes of goods to be carried as may be required, whether at temperatures considerably below freezing point as for frozen meat, or several degrees above, as for dairy produce.

Accommodation is provided for some 1,700 passengers, first, second, and third class.

The fine turbine steamships Victorian and Virginian, of the Allan Company, completed their first season on the St. Lawrence route last year. They, with the Canadian Pacific Company's new ships, will next season provide a passenger service between Canada and Europe, quite equal to the best. This recognition of the growth of the trade through Canadian ports by those shrewd and successful business men of the two companies, is gratifying, and their enterprise, it is hoped, will be met with equal activity on the part of the Government.

Canada should take pattern by the great ports of the world, New York, Bristol, Hamburg, etc., where expenditure in millions is being made in the expansion of the ports, increasing of dockage accommodation, in the deepening and dredging of channels and harbours, so as to have ample provision for those modern steamships of large tonnage. Canada, with the St. Lawrence river of such scenic grandeur and historical interest, possesses an exceptional attraction to European travel, and now that ships in every way meeting the present day demand for luxury and speed are in the service, the tide of European travel will doubtless be directed through Canadian ports. The Government can expect but universal approval in making any expenditures necessary in providing amply for the altering conditions.

Next season indeed promises to be a busy one on the St. Lawrence route.

Some More $16 A Week Letters

The Examiner has pretty nearly decided to "cut out" obituary poetry, but the following contribution on the question of matrimony which reached this office yesterday afternoon is so applicable to the controversy on the marriage situation, that it has been decided to publish it:—

THE BACHELOR'S SOLILOQUY.

(With apologies to Shakespere.)

To wed, or not to wed; that is the question:
Whether 'tis better for mankind to live in Peace and single blessedness,
Or to take arms against a sea of troubles,
By becoming a Benedict? Be tied; Be free;
No more; and by that tie to say we end
The sorrows and a thousand natural ills
That bachelors are heir to—'tis a consummation
Devoutly to be wished. To marry, be happy;
But if perchance a mistake; ay, there's the rub;
For in that state of matrimony what trials may come,
When we have left behind this bachelor life,
Must give us pause; there's the respect
That makes calamity of so much hesitation;
For who would bear the jeers that befall a bach,
The tales of gossip's tongue, the married man's contumely,
The scorn from maidea's eyes, the undarned hose,
The insolence of matchmakers and the trials
Of buttonless pants and coat linings torn in shreds,
When he himself might all this change by Taking a wife? Who would fardels bear.
To always live thus a lonely life,
But that the dread of something after marriage,
The untied state of life, whose only escape
Lies through the cemetery, puzzles the will
And makes us rather bear those ills we have
Than fly to others that we know not of?
Thus cowardice does make bachelors of us all;
And thus the desire of becoming a husband
Is sickled o'er with letters pro and con,
And decisions to marry, or stay single.
With this regard their currents turn awry,
And lose the name of action.

E. R. L. MODERN HAMLET.

A correspondent who signs himself Baptiste, also writes a letter, which he doubtless had to pen after his wife had gone to bed. At any rate, The Examiner will not give him away, for the very good reason that it does not know who he is. It follows:

THE PLOT THICKENS.

Editor Woman's Page,—My advice to a young man is, whether he makes $18 or $26 a week, never get married. We read very few good words in regard to bachelors, but he is the man who uses the best kind of judgment. The bachelor is full of good, common sense, and plenty of it, which will carry him through the gates of heaven, where God will bless him. I am a married man myself, and my wife is still living. The only time I ever get a pleasant smile is on Saturday night, when I come home with my 15 bucks. And if I don't plank them down right there and then, I get another smile, but this one is enough to make my heart drop in my bread digester. She is full of ambition; she likes money, she doesn't see why I don't make more. She are no good around the house. But I will say since I was married I have learned a few things. I can bake pie, bread, cook potatoes. I can wash dishes, scrub the floor, make beds, and the only credit I get from her is that when the baby is sick I take better care of it than she does, at night, of course. All these things I did, and do yet.

Still, I am a very fortunate man. I have no mother-in-law, bless her soul. Since she's gone, I sleep in a pretty good bed; before she went she took my place. She could take better care of my wife than I could. The lounge was good enough for me.

Still, I never applied for a divorce. All the neighbours think she's the smartest woman for miles around, because she can take care of a man. Now, just imagine a bachelor that would fall into the claws of a woman like that. Why, that poor man would shake out of his socks two blocks before he'd get in his house.

Now, why is it that a bachelor has always that pleasant smile? Why is it that he's always ready to sacrifice his last goods, even to a woman? Because he has his money in his pocket and can buy some more. This I call liberity. Can I do charity? No. I haven't a cent in my pocket. Beware, you married men, that don't help the poor. So place up above for you. St. Peter is there strong, and knows every married man, because he has that smile that his wife made for him, and the bachelor has the sweet smile that doesn't come off. I say, bless him, for he is full of good, common sense.

BAPTISTE.

P.S.—If my wife knew that I am writing these lines, she would pull my eyes out.

County Resident Leaves For West

Mr. Jos. Sucee Has Disposed of His Farm In Smith.

The many friends of Mr. Jos. Sucee will be pleased to learn of the continued success he has been experiencing in his business career, but will regret to hear of his departure for the West. Seven years ago he began the implement business now carried on by Drummond and Duffus, Simcoe street. But on account of ill-health he was forced to resign this work, which he had made such a success of, and went into the real estate business. For some time he lived at his beautiful residence at Chemong, improving it to a great extent. He then exchanged this for farm property about four miles from the city on the Chemong road, known as the Ivy Farm.

Mr. Sucee has recently sold this farm to Mr. W. S. Northey, of this city, who has purchased it for his son, Mr. Whitfield Northey.

Mr. Northey is to be complimented on securing such a beautiful home for his son, with whom he and Mrs. Northey intend to reside for the present.

Mr. Sucee has purchased Mr. Northey's beautiful residence on Benson street, and intends moving to it in the near future. He has improved and beautified the farm very much during his short ownership, making it an ideal spot.

This is the tenth property sale, he states, that has passed through his hands recently.

On being asked by an Examiner representative if he were going to reside in the city and continue this commercial business, he replied in the negative. Mr. Sucee is all wrapped up in the Golden West, and intends leaving for there shortly. He has 480 acres of land, near Rosthern, Sask., on which he will make improvements. This property is within a short distance of eight elevators, and lies between the main line of the C.P.R. and the proposed G.T.P. line. This will be the fourth trip to Western Canada, where he has met many people from this county. He could not think of any, he said, who were not being successful in thier careers in the West.

He will leave in the spring for Rosthern, leaving his family in their new residence in the city.

Berlin Wants A Normal School

Deputation Waited on Hon. Dr. Pyne Yesterday.

A joint deputation from Berlin and Waterloo waited on Hon. Dr. Pyne, Minister of Education, yesterday, and asked that Berlin be the location for one of the three new normal schools the Government talked of establishing in the Province. The speakers pointed out that Berlin is mid-way between the Toronto and London normal schools, and is the centre of a district where there are 22 High Schools and Collegiate Institutes. The railway service is such that teachers living within 40 miles of the school could board at home. Rev. Father Spetz pointed out in addition that the proposed school would be a great convenience for the normal training of separate school teachers, of whom there are a great many in the Berlin district.

Dr. Pyne promised favourable consideration of Berlin in case new schools were established.

Citizens' League Is After Reform

Considering the Question of License Reduction.

Last night the Citizens' Moral Reform League met in the Y.M.C.A. hall, with a good attendance of members. A number of citizens who had not previously united with the League were present.

A discussion took place principally on the question of the recent vote of the people on license reduction, and as to what action would be taken in view of that vote.

The League is considering the situation, and at the proper time it is expected that action will be taken.

Nothing definite, however, was done at the meeting last night, but another meeting will be held on Feb. 20th, when something may be decided on.

W. C. Harrison Struck In Eye

The Norwood Register says:—"Mr. W. C. Harrison, who has been in the hospital at Peterborough for the past few weeks undergoing treatment for one of his eyes, returned home Tuesday night. About a month ago Mr. Harrison while at work cutting logs in the mill was struck in the eye with some hard substance, thought to be a piece of ice, thrown by the saw. The injury caused him considerable suffering and after enduring it for a while, without any apparent improvement, he decided to go to the hospital to be treated. We are pleased to learn that the injured optic is all right again."

A DIFFERENCE IN LUNGS.

In the Edinburgh University three human lungs lie side by side. One is of an Eskimo and is snow white. In life, this would be ruddy with rich blood. Another is that of a coal-miner and is black. The other is of a town dweller and is a dirty slate gray, as are the lungs of most city residents. That's why consumption thrives in cities.

One reason why Scott's Emulsion does so much to keep down consumption is because it helps to keep the lungs clean and supplies them with rich, red blood. It makes the lungs germ-resisting. If the body is run down and health is at a low ebb Scott's Emulsion will build it up quickly and permanently.

Pork Packers' Losses Steady And Persistent

An English Correspondent Writes on the Canadian Situation—Says Present Situation is Fraught With Much Danger Both to Packers and Farmers—Value Regulated by Supply and Demand--Number of Hogs is Limited.

DIFFUSED KNOWLEDGE IS THE ONLY REMEDY

Mr. H. P. Kennedy, who does considerable business with G. and J. Nickson Company, Limited, Liverpool, has requested the publication of the following letter, which appeared in the Toronto World to-day. It explains the position of the pork packers on the question which for some time has agitated both packers and breeders. The letter follows:

Editor World,—I am instructed by my directors to say that they have read with very great interest the various leading articles and correspondence which appeared in your paper on the subject of the hog supply in Canada, and what is called "the packers' combine," and it may be that a few lines from this company on the position, as it appears on this side of the water, may not be without interest to your readers. It appears from the standpoint of the English distributor and consumer, that the present position in Canada is fraught with considerable danger, not only to the interests of the packing industry in Canada, but to the future interests of the farmers who raise hogs in your country. For several years past now hogs have been in such short supply as practically not to keep the packing houses already established in Canada, going at their full capacity, and thereby increasing the cost considerably of handling the raw material, hogs being at such a price in comparison with the higher class hogs of Ireland and Denmark and the United Kingdom, leaves as a possible margin for the manufacturer on the cost of operating his packing house.

Regulated by Supply and Demand.

The value realized for Canadian bacon in the United Kingdom is regulated by the supply and demand in England, and your farmers do not appear to understand that your bacon has now to compete against higher class hogs at comparatively lower figures, raised on the continent with large importations of fresh meat from Argentine and North America, and with prospective large supplies of bacon in the near future from Russia and Siberia.

Now, your farmers, by only raising a limited number of hogs and insisting on prohibitive prices for them, have at present the packers entirely at their mercy; is it not a case of "killing the goose that lays the golden eggs?" It is known to everyone with a knowledge of the business, that the packing industry in Canada has been, for two or three years, going through a time of great stress and difficulty, with heavy and continuous losses, and no prospect apparently of improving the position, and it must ultimately end in driving out of Canada into the United States and other countries, all the capital now invested in Canadian packing houses, and will prevent in the future the flow of capital into Canada to increase and develop the hog raising business.

The Remedy.

The remedy appears to us to be in a knowledge, of these facts being widespread amongst the farmers, and in your government, giving to the hog raising industry and the packing industry such help and guidance as they have given in the past so advantageously to the cheese and dairy business; otherwise, as we have already said, the packing industry in Canada must inevitably be driven out of the country. Your farmers may rest assured that your packers would willingly pay any price for hogs on which they could see the possibility of a profit on the British market. There has been now, for several years, no possibility of a profit, but steady and persistent losses in front of your packing industry, and this is a position that may well give pause for thought to everyone interested in the future of Canada.

Government Asked To Help

Petitions Presented for Aid for Smallpox Townships.

Petitions have been largely signed by the ratepayers of the municipalities of Belmont and Methuen and Chandos, praying the Ontario Government to grant them financial aid in the debts contracted by fighting the outbreak of small-pox in these townships.

Belmont is asking for $1200 while Chandos only requires $1000. The petitions will be presented to Hon. W. J. Hanna, Provincial Secretary, through the local members, Messrs. William Anderson and T. E. Bradburn, who will do all in their power to secure the sums asked for. Both petitions crave assistance on the ground that the measures taken by them to suppress the disease and the great expense thereby incurred, benefitted the province at large, and so the Government should rightly bear the main cost.—Havelock Standard.

For the use of the 450 cricket pitches provided in public parks by the London county council 1,883 clubs made application last season while 944 applications have been received for the 331 football grounds.

POST CARD CORRESPONDENCE.

In this column will be published communications upon post cards only. It will remain open for the use of readers who are invited to contribute suggestions, inquiries or replies. Anything of a scurrilous personal nature will be prohibited.

Editor Post Card Column:

Sir,—I have lost the delusion that His Majesty's Post Office is infallible. I had a disgusting experience in connection with the local post office. On February 9th, 1906, I found in my post office box a letter which had been posted or at least post-marked Trent Bridge, December 27th, 1905, addressed Peterborough, and counter post-marked at the local post office the receiving—and containing—post office—December 28th, 1905. It had laid in the post office here forty-two days though my box had been opened every day and several calls had been made at the general delivery in the interval. Upon relation of my experience, I find that there are others with similar experience — calling for letters daily for days or weeks that were all the time lying somewhere in the post office building. I was told of one young man who lost a good situation. A letter offering him the situation and requesting an immediate reply was delayed so long that when he received it days and days after it arrived here, his chance was lost. These things are disgusting and should not be.

Yours etc.,
DISILLUSIONED.

Peterborough.
February 9, 1906.

Editor Post Card Column:

Dear Sir,—I think that Manager Bradburn's action in charging fifty cents admission to the upper gallery for the special "benefit" of those who came early and who were admitted by the front door is one of the most undesirable things I ever heard of. He was very kind indeed to accommodate the "public" and give those coming early the choice of seats—fancy the choice of seats in the "gods". The upper gallery is the resort of the working boy and poor man and with the pit full to overflowing it would seem as though those interested in the opera house would have enough money to pay them without bleeding the frequenters of the "Nigger's Heaven". But I suppose "What's one man's meat is another man's poison" and there are some who will only consider the side of the question that benefits them.

Yours truly,
FAIR PLAY.

Editor Post Card Column:

Dear Sir,—While the Mayor and Aldermen of our City are considering the advisability of securing power for prospective manufactories, it is to be hoped they will have in mind the Light question, which is attracting the attention of a goodly number of citizens to-day. It is quite evident that the Peterborough people are far from being satisfied with the treatment they are getting from the Light and Power companies.

The price charged for electric light is unreasonable and higher than the average citizen can afford to pay. My next door neighbour has taken his lamps off and gone back to using coal oil again because of the exorbitant price charged. In my own case the price jumped from one dollar a month for ten lights to four dollars for the same period and the same lights. There are not solitary cases at all—only samples.

Our worthy far-seeing Mayor tells us that Peterborough will make the mistake of her life if this opportunity is not taken advantage of to secure the necessary power.

It is up against the council to strengthen the hands of Mayor Best in carrying out this grand project of municipal ownership and then with water, light and power owned by the people of Peterborough we shall indeed be forging ahead.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your kindness, I beg to remain,

Yours truly,
JOHN WILLIAMS.

Death Summons Came Suddenly

Some Particulars of Death of Mr. Thos. Delaney.

The Florence, S.C., Daily Times, of January 26th, kindly forwarded by Mr. R. W. Muncaster, has the following in reference to the death of Mr. Thos. Delaney:—

Thomas Delaney, who came here a few weeks ago as assistant to R. W. Muncaster, his brother-in-law, died very suddenly at 5.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Layton, where he was boarding.

Mr. Delaney was a member of the Catholic church, and Rev. Father Chas. D. Wood was with him when he died, and to-day at 9.30 o'clock performed the burial service, after which the body was taken to Charleston for interment. R. W. Muncaster and J. DeJongh accompanied it.

Mr. Delaney died from heart disease, he had been complaining a little for several days past, and yesterday said that he felt quite sick. Father Wood was sent for and was with him quite a while.

Mr. Delaney was a very modest and quiet young man, but he had made a number of friends since his coming to Florence and his sudden death has been a shock to the entire community.

Board of Education Will Act With Other Public Bodies.

To the Editor of The Examiner.

Dear Sir,—In reading your remarks in yesterday's Examiner anent the Collegiate Institute and Normal School, I was surprised to find that you had a report (?) of what had taken place at a meeting of the special committee on public school accommodation, etc., held on Wednesday evening. As chairman of that committee, I gave no information to anyone outside, and would consider it a breach of trust towards the Board if I or any other member of the committee should do so until having first reported to the Board.

In regard to a decision having been reached not to act with the City Council in sending a deputation to Toronto, permit me to give this a most emphatic denial. No such agreement was decided upon, or even mentioned, but instead, it was the unanimous opinion that we, as citizens of Peterborough, should send as strong a deputation as possible to wait on the Minister of Education; such committee to consist of representatives of the City and County Council, School Board, Board of Trade and prominent citizens.

Peterborough has now an opportunity of securing one of the principal educational institutions of the Province, and if our representative, Mr. Bradburn, is given the support he should have, there seems little reason to doubt that one of the three proposed Normal Schools will be located in our city, if the Government's proposed measure receives the approval of the Legislature.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor,

Yours, Etc.,
WM. PRINGLE,
Chairman of Committee on Public School Accommodation.

It costs money to live in South Africa. A woman resident in Johannesburg pays $60 a month for her cook and $35 a month for a Hindoo servant. In India she would have had to pay only $5 a month for the Hindoo's services.

A Voice From The West Ward

To the Editor of The Examiner.

Dear Sir,—Having read some comments in your paper quite recently touching on the situation regarding accommodation for the school children of our city, I quite agree with what has been said. Take the West No. 3 Ward school and we find that it is not large enough. Children are not taught any higher than junior 3rd, and children at that stage are quite young. The result is that those going higher have to plod through all kinds of weather past this school down to South Ward School, fully a mile away, to a school which cannot accommodate the pupils in that locality. This has been the case long enough, and it will have to be remedied. I am not in favour of making skyscrapers of our schools, but get the best locations possible, and ample room should be the motto of the Board. The Collegiate Institute may be necessary, but our common schools will have to be put in better shape. This West Ward School has a poor location, but why not connect with the sewer and make it more healthy? Also make it twice its size. It was built about 30 years ago, and no improvements in that time, scarcely, have been made. The School Board had better make some move before all the money that can be raised is required by all the schemes that are being advocated by the Mayor and Water Commissioners.

Yours, Etc.,
WEST ENDER.

With New Blood In the Arteries

YOU WILL FEEL NEW VIGOR AND CONFIDENCE THROUGHOUT THE WHOLE BODY.

DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD

Do you know what it is to feel well — to feel young and hearty and vigorous—to feel full of energy and ambition—to enjoy work and to look forward hopeful and confident of the future.

This is the natural way to feel when your blood is pure and rich and your nerves are a-thrill with life and vitality.

This is the way you will feel if you revitalize your wasted and depleted nervous system by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Not in any miraculous way—not after the first dose or the first box, it may be, but when your system has been gradually built up — your blood enriched and new vim and vigour instilled into the nerves.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is a wonderful medicine, but its wonders are accomplished in nature's way, by thoroughly restoring the elements lacking in a run-down body.

No other treatment for the nerves acts in exactly this way. Some relieve by deadening the nerves — some by excessive stimulation.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food brings about lastingly beneficial results by forming new, rich, red blood, and creating new nerve force.

Mr. George W. Lawson, a farmer living near Comsecon and well and favourably known throughout Prince Edward County, Ont., writes:—

"About one year ago I was taken sick and felt myself failing every day. I consulted and doctored with several eminent physicians, but received no permanent benefit. In fact they told me they could do nothing for me except afford temporary relief, as it was a general breaking up of old age. My nerves were exhausted and my whole system completely broken up.

"I was just at death's door, and, thinking my time to die had come I gave up hope and resigned myself to fate. At this time my wife read in the papers about some of the wonderful cures being brought about by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and I began using it.

"This treatment helped me from the first, and I continued to keep it up for about six months, when I was fully restored to health. To-day I am a well man and made so by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food at a trifling cost. All this in spite of the fact that I spent a large sum of money with physicians only to be pronounced incurable. Though in my 75th year I feel as well as I did at twenty, and can walk as smartly as any of the boys."

There is lots of evidence of what this great food cure has done for others. Ask your neighbours about it. Fifty cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 9, 1906.

GET RIGHT, AND THEN GO AHEAD.

The discussion among the Board of Education, the City Council and the local military respecting the conditions to determine the site of the proposed new Collegiate Institute building, are complicated enough. But a good deal of the difficulties surrounding the general situation would be eliminated if the idea of preserving and fitting up the old Separate School building for educational uses were permanently set aside.

There is a good deal of, doubtless, sincere, but none the less mistaken, aim at economy involved in the proposal to utilize this old building for the purpose spoken of. Those in a position to judge, rightly estimate the dissatisfaction and disappointment which, as a rule, attend the attempt to rebuild existing structures and to convert them to uses for which they were not originally designed. Our experience in converting the old bank building, which formed a nucleus of the present so-called city hall, should be a beacon light to warn us off the dangerous rock of experimenting with converting the old Separate School building to a structure suitable for public school purposes. We have spent a small fortune in tinkering at the city buildings, and the result is a pile of as inconvenient offices as ill adapted to the purposes of a city like Peterborough as could be imagined or devised. To take hold of the Separate School building and put it into as proper shape as its structural defects admit of—which, at the best, will be indifferent—heat and equip it will cost more than the building will be worth when its renovation is thought to be completed.

The renovation of this old building, whether for manual training or for public school purposes, would be one of those blunders which would be something of a crime. With all the renovation possible the old building would be but a ramshackle, architecturally incongruous wart on the new Collegiate Institute building, which would be erected in the vicinity—a perpetual eyesore, in a city where we have already enough warmed-over architectural freaks.

As for public school uses, the old building is not needed. We have decided upon a new Collegiate Institute—if we can ever decide upon the site—and when that is completed there will be abundant public school accommodation for the central part of the city, which is now so densely peopled, that there will not, in all probability, be any great increase of school population. The building and occupation of the new Collegiate building will place eight rooms in the building, now used for Institute purposes, at the disposal of the Board. This will not only provide all the public school accommodation required for the district, but will also permit of the Menzies residence being dispensed with. The rental of this building, and the cost of heating, caretaker's salary, etc., amounting to about $800 a year, will be saved, or, if not saved, will permit of its being used for public school purposes. Eight hundred dollars represents the interest, at four per cent., on a capital of $20,000, which we could usefully employ otherwise, without imposing any additional burden upon the ratepayers.

Take this $20,000, the equivalent of whose interest at 4 per cent., we are paying in rental and maintenance of the Menzies residence, and add to it the $6,000 or $8,000 required to revamp the old separate school building, and we have a sum of $26,000 or $28,000, which can very well be devoted to, and will go a long way towards, providing the urgently needed additional Public school accommodation for the western and southern portions of the city, which are growing rapidly, especially the latter. These districts need more rooms for Public school pupils. These must be provided, because they are needed, not only to meet present requirements but also the requirements which the rapidly growing population will create. As we have shown, the new Collegiate Institute will, indirectly provide public school accommodation ample for all the requirements of the central parts of the city. Why, then, waste good money, to provide four small rooms, at the most, for public school use in a quarter of the city where they are not needed, and tax the people additionally — and unnecessarily, if the proper course is taken — to provide Public school accommodation where it is very urgently needed?

The release of the public school school building, now occupied by the Institute, will yield Public school accommodation, which, to provide anew, would cost about $36,000, or, perhaps, more. The new six-room Separate school building, will cost perhaps $30,000. The removal of the Collegiate Institute from the buildings now occupied will provide eight splendid rooms capable of accommodating 400 public school pupils. Thus the erection of a new Institute building, will provide Public school quarters, which would cost, at least, $30,000.00 to provide de novo, not to speak of the $900 a year saved by the abandonment of the Menzies residence.

Then, within the past day or two conditions have been created, or have become public, which additionally emphasize the folly of wasting money on the patching up of the old Separate school building. The Government proposes to erect three new Normal Schools. Assuming that this is a settled policy, it is not unreasonable to expect that Peterborough will be chosen as the site for one of them. In Hamilton, the School of Pedagogy — the analogue of the Normal School — is built in connection with the Collegiate Institute. Then, why by some sort of arrangement, easily supposable, could not the new Normal building be built under the same roof as the new Collegiate building? There is enough land available, especially if the old Separate school structure is removed, for the necessarily larger structure. With the question of site for the Normal building simplified, the possibility of a work-arrangement with the Government would be greatly increased. In case this arrangement were agreed upon, and carried out, we should have a group of splendid buildings, fronting or flanking Central Park — the Armouries, and the combined Normal and Collegiate buildings—that would be a credit to Peterborough.

Under the circumstances, to undertake the reconstruction of the old Separate school building would be "daubing with untempered mortar." Let us get above a patchwork civic policy, especially when it stands to cost us more money, give us more annoyances, and yield less satisfaction, than new buildings from the ground up.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The doctrine of Imperialism was not a tenet of the political faith of British Tories half a century ago. There were "little Englanders" even then. It was in 1852 that Disraeli wrote to Lord Malmesbury: "These wretched colonies will be independent, too, in a few years and are a millstone round our necks." This was a little more than a half century ago, but the particular "millstone" colony, Canada, is furnishing both the millstone and the grain to feed the crowded millions of the Mother Land. Dizzy wasn't much of a prophet.

The Toronto Globe appears to be the real confidential organ of the Whitney Government. It is usually the first newspaper to publish the Government's intentions both in matters of policy and administration, says the Hamilton Herald. Perhaps the Whitney Government has not so much confidence in the Globe. The condition referred to may be due to the greater enterprise of the Globe's news-gatherers conjoined with the circumstances that the Toronto organs of the Conservative party do not invite confidential relations.

A deputation of the Dominion Alliance waited upon the Whitney Government on Wednesday, asking for the "banishment of the bar." Mr. Whitney said it wouldn't be done because his "Government had no mandate from the people" to that effect. These same Alliance gentlemen told the Ross Government that the provincial vote on prohibition was a mandate to banish the bar, and because the Ross Government didn't act upon it these gentlemen and their friends joined hands at the polls with the liquor interests and the Ross Government was slaughtered. What will they do to Mr. Whitney? Doesn't the claim that the plebescite vote meant abolition of the bar still hold good, or do the principle and effect of that vote change with the change of political complexion of the government?

Vernal Freaks Of January Weather

The Record for the Dominion at Large.

The weather map of the Dominion Meteorological Service, for January, gives some interesting weather statistics for the past month. The temperature of the month averaged high—mild—all over Canada, except in the Yukon, and the northern part of British Columbia, where there was extreme cold. The temperature in the Northwest ranged from 4 to 12 degrees above the daily average; in Ontario from 7 to 10 degrees above normal, in Quebec from 7 to 9, and in the Maritime Provinces from 3 to 9. The highest temperature recorded in British Columbia was 55 degrees, in Manitoba and the Northwest Provoinces, 54. The highest temperature registered in Ontario was 69 — at Stony Creek, Lincoln County. In this county, the highest reached was at Peterborough, 54.

The depth of snow at the end of January varied greatly. In British Columbia it was 18 inches; in the Northwest Provinces the ground was practically bare; in New Ontario the depth of snow was from one to 14 inches, while over the rest of the province there was practically no snow.

The report, cites wonders of mild January weather. In Victoria, B. C., crocuses, snow drops and wild spring flowers were in bloom. In Ontario, at Birnam, Lambton County, and at other places, farmers were making maple sugar. In the Niagara district wheat and strawberries were damaged by freezing and thawing, and early cherry and peach buds were bursting. At different parts of the province bees and butterflies were abroad and gophers were in evidence. In Peterborough and Toronto golf were played, and at Meaford, Bruce county, frogs were heard croaking.

CURIOSITY

Leads to Investigation and Truth.

What shall we do to be saved? was the title of one of Robert Ingersoll's lectures. People of faith, and people of no faith, flocked to hear it. Thousands of people are asking, what shall I do to get rid of dandruff?" The answer is, "Kill the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair, and finally baldness, and the only thing that will do it is Newbro's Herpicide. That is the very latest discovery of the laboratory, and the only preparation that claims to, or that will, kill the pestiferous dandruff germ. It is also a delightful hair dressing, free from oil and grease or sticky substances. Try it and be convinced of its actual merits."

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10 cents in stamps, for sample to the Herpicide Company, Detroit, Mich. Ormond and Walsh, special agents.

Revenge Of The Gerrymander

(Toronto News.)

Kingston, Feb. 7.—A report is current that in order to make Kingston a little more Conservative, the Whitney Government is contemplating adding Garden Island to the riding, just as the Liberals some years ago, added Portsmouth. Garden Island is owned by Mr. H. A. Calvin, ex-M.P., and at present has over forty Conservative voters and two Liberals.

Its addition to Kingston would not affect the Conservative interests in Frontenac very much and at the same time would perhaps have the effect of turning Kingston right about face. The Island is a mile and a half across the harbour.

Mild Weather Stopped The Work

Lumbermen Had Troubles of Their Own This Season.

A Flashlight Of The House

At the Grand Opera House last night, after the first act, Mr. R. M. Roy took a flash-light photo of the house from the stage. It was a particularly difficult picture to make, since the walls were of a colour which lent no assistance to the photographer.

Mr. Roy succeeded, however, in getting a splendid picture, and of the 1,200 or more faces in the picture, every one could be identified with the aid of a glass.

This morning bright and early the picture was finished and was on view in the window of Mr. Roy's studio. Many compliments were given Mr. Roy on his successful solution of a very difficult problem. Some idea of the quantity of flash powder required may be gained when it is stated that while to take an ordinary picture in a house five cents' worth is used, in that of last night it took $2 worth.

Much Interest In Operation Of Dredging Trent

Second Cut is Being Proceeded With Rapidly.

The operation of the dredge "Trent" which is deepening the channel in the Otonabee River from C.P.R. bridge to Hunter street bridge, is being watched with much interest. The travelling derrick which has just been completed, is doing excellent work, and runs as smoothly as a sewing machine. The travelling derrick is a new feature in dredging operations here and to the ordinary individual its work appears to be nothing short of marvellous. Mr. Wm. Quinn, the foreman of the dredging operations, has a very efficient staff under him the manner in which they have constructed the travelling derrick is a credit to their ability. The capacity of the derrick is sufficient to handle all the material the dredge can take up from the bottom of the river, so that the dredge is not idle for a single moment. The work on the second cut is proceeding most satisfactorily, and when completed will leave a channel about 45 feet wide. A third and fourth cut will then be made. The dredging operations are daily visited by people who watch the work of the dredge and derrick with a great deal of interest.

Mr. Quinn and his men are doing splendid work and the department of Public Works is certainly getting value for every dollar spent.

WEDDING BELLS

LYNCH—LAMEY.

The Hastings Star gives the following account of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Lynch in Percy Township last week, who have many friends and relatives in this city.

A happy event occurred on Wednesday, Jan. 31, at the church of Our Lady of Mount Carmel, Hastings, when Miss Katherine A. Lamey, daughter of Mr. John Lamey, of Percy, was united in matrimony to Mr. Thos. Lynch, son of John Lynch, of Asphodel. The nuptial mass was conducted by the Rev. Father Bretherton in the presence of a number of their intimate friends and relatives.

The bride was richly gowned in gray broadcloth, and with this she wore a large picture hate off white parma velvet and plumes. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Mary Garvey, of Detroit, Mich., who was becomingly attired in gray and wore a white hat. The groom was ably assisted by Mr. Jas. McCarthy, of Hastings.

After the ceremony the young couple were warmly congratulated by a host of friends. The bridal party then repaired to the home of the bride's parents, where an elaborate wedding dejeuner was served. A most pleasant time was spent until the arrival of the evening train, when they took their departure for an extended trip west amid showers of rice and other tokens of good wishes.

The bride was the recipient of many costly and beautiful presents, showing the high esteem in which she was held by her many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynch intend making their home in Percy.

Board Of Education

UNDERSTOOD FOUR LOTS

Were For Institute

And Special Committee Which Went to Ottawa Reported to This Effect—The Position of the Board Made Clear at the Meeting on Monday Night—Mr. Hill Quotes From Report in Answer to Mr. Dumble.

At the meeting of the Board of Education on Monday night the question of the transfer of the lots for the Collegiate Institute from the City Council was discussed at some length, and the position of the Board was made plain by Mr. [illegible] who read the report of the committee appointed by the Board to go to Ottawa in connection with the City Council and military, to arrange for the new Government grant. The report of that committee to the Board shows that the arrangement, as far as the Board was concerned, was that the four lots should be transferred to the Board. The report was as follows:

Your committee and the committee appointed by the City Council together with Mr. R. R. Hall, have been successful in carrying out the arrangements as outlined in our previous report, which was passed by the Board at our meeting, held June 6, namely, to purchase the Separate School grounds for the sum of $30,000, $10,000 to be paid by the Dominion Government, $10,000 by the City Council for the site of the new armouries, and $10,000 by the Board of Education. Your committee immediately upon the decision of the Dominion Government to contribute $10,000, met and passed a resolution forwarding the same to the City Council, asking them to take prompt action in completing the purchase of the Separate School grounds, and having conveyed to the Board of Education lots number 3, 4, 5 and 6 west of George street and south of McDonel street, of said grounds as agreed upon at the joint meeting held in Ottawa on Sept. 20.

It has further been arranged by your committee that the building now known as the Separate School become the property of this Board and your committee recommend that the buildings be left standing until the completion of the new Collegiate Institute, and then be disposed of as the Board of Education may desire.

The report of the committee of the Council, however, does not concede that the Board of Education is to get the four lots named. A copy of that report, which was adopted, is as follows:

Peterborough, Sept. 27, 1904.

To the Council of the Town of Peterborough.

Gentlemen,—Your Finance Committee beg to report as follows:

The matter of arranging the details in connection with the purchase of the Separate School grounds for a site for a Drill Hall and the Collegiate Institute having been referred to this committee, we met with representatives of the Board of Education and discussed the question of the location of the buildings. It was mutually agreed that it would be unwise to place the buildings on the west side of the grounds, as that would result in the parade and playgrounds being towards George street, and it would be unsightly to have the bare ground, tramped down and without grass or other evidences of care, within view of the main street. It was therefore decided that the two acres of the Central Park next to George street should be kept as a park, as they are now; that the buildings should be located on the centre two acres, and that the west two acres should form parade and play-grounds. Your committee appointed a deputation to wait upon the acting Minister of Public Works, as did also the Board of Education and the 57th Regiment, and the deputation was accompanied by Mr. R. R. Hall. The Minister agreed to the location of the buildings as proposed, and also that the Government would contribute $10,000 towards the purchase of the site, the Crown to be given a deed of lots 3, 4, 5, and 6, north of Murray street. The Board of Education is to have a deed of lots 3 and 4 south of McDonel street, and the county will have to be consulted with regard to this, but in view of the county's willingness to give the whole park for a site for a Drill Hall, there will doubtless be no difficulty. Lots 5 and 6 south of McDonel street may be vested in any one of the three parties to the transaction, but they are to be kept open, and no built upon, so as to be available for drilling purposes.

We recommend that this committee be authorized to complete the transaction, and that the solicitor be instructed to prepare the necessary bylaw for that purpose.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

FRANK ADAMS,
Chairman.

Adopted.

M. A. Morrison, Acting Mayor.

It will thus be seen that the Council and the Board of Education have held different opinions as to the arrangements entered into at the time of the visit to Ottawa. The Board very evidently was under the impression that the four lots were to be deeded to it, while with the Council it was an open question whether the Board should get lots 3, 4, 5 and 6 south of McDonel street, or whether 5 and 6 should be vested in some one of the other two bodies. The action of the Board of Education in asking for the transfer of four lots is, according to the report adopted by the Board, warranted. The difficulty, however, seems to be that the Council's committee and the Board of Education committee arrived at two different understandings as to the arrangements.

Bigger, Grander, Better Than Ever

"The Slaughter of the Innocents" at Brock Street Rink.

That thrilling melo-drama in two acts entitled "The Slaughter of the Innocents" or "How the Review Lost Again" will in all probability be presented at Brock street rink on Saturday night with an all-star company of 14—count them—14. The production the joint effort of Messrs. Yokome and Metheral is elaborately staged and is replete with thrilling escapes and brilliant scenic effects. The musical numbers are of more than usual merit, including a dinner-bell solo by the referee. The play has always been presented to crowded houses and the indications are that the S.R.O. sign will be displayed long before the curtain rings up for the first time. By special request Mr. C. H. Sawle, of the Review male chorus has consented to sing that touching ballad "Up Against It," between the first and second acts. The Review cast will be as follows:—

Suicide Wilson, a gentleman of a hard luck team, goal.

Big Chief Metheral, leader of the anvil chorus, point.

Highlander Butcher, whose name does not indicate his style, centre.

Ander Thompson, a dark horse, right wing.

The mysterious M. Hunter, left wing.

HOCKEY

Yesterday afternoon at the Y.M.C.A. rink the Chieftians defeated the Junior Separate School seven by a score of 4-0. The half-time score was 1-0. For the winners Hall and Lees were the pick while Hickey was the best player for the Separates.

The teams lined-up as follows:—

Junior Separates.		Chieftians.
	Goal.
Giroux		Lees
	Point
Kelly		J English
	Cover
Hickey		Wallis
	Rover.
O'Brien		Fortye
	Centre.
O'Shea		Hall
	Right Wing.
Morrow		Heap
	Left Wing.
Sheehy		Munro

Referee—G. Roper.

The Chieftians claim that Richard Hall's who were billed to play them the day before yesterday at the Y.M.C.A. rink defaulted when they saw the Chieftians working out. This is the result of showing up too well in practice.

• • • •

The Review team should be "pi" for the Examiner septette but still when "the locked forms" of W. Alfy Smythe and M. J. Hutchinson "go down" together, there will be something doing at Brock street rink. The "3 m dashes" of the Review bunch will be powerless against the "alone" wall defence of the Examiner ink Slingers. It is to be hoped that none of the players will "go to press" their opponents too hard as the referee will probably "kill" all attempts at rough play. To make the contract more "binding" along this line the players should take an affidavit that they will be "clean". There is no "proof" that the gladiators intend to be strenuous, but it is better to be sure at first and not have to "revise" things afterwards. The rumor that the Examiner bunch will have "leaded" sticks is absolutely false. They have no desire to "take" advantage of their opponents in any shape or "form".

Judging by the men who have been "consigned" the different positions, the ice should be well "covered". From present indications it looks as if the Examiner will have another victory to "add" to their list. It is not likely that the game will bring much money into "circulation" although the crowd should be a "fat" one.

The Aberdeens will line-up as follows for their game with the Nationals to-night:—

Goal—Wilson.
Point—Weir.
Cover—Seymour.
Forwards—McMillan, Lech, Ray and Whaley.

The game will be played at Brock street between 10 and 11 o'clock.

THE KENNELS

There are 4,051 dogs entered in the various events of the Dog Show, which will open in Madison Square Garden on Feb. 13. In all, the Westminster Kennel Club has a total list of 3,013 entries, several of the dogs being booked for two or more classes.

In no other dog show in the world have so many animals been entered. The largest show in Europe is that of the Kennel Club held in London at the Crystal Palace, and their jubilee show last October had more dogs than ever before, there being 1,789. The Westminster Club show this year will have nearly 200 more.

The entry list is more than 300 larger than last year, and the greatest increase is in the Boston terrier classes, 100 more having been entered this year than last. The number of Pomeranians is doubled, and there are big increases in the classes for English setters and sporting spaniels. No mastiffs nor bloodhounds were benched last year. Other breeds showing substantial increases are dearhounds, pointers, collies, Dalmatians, French bulldogs, Welsh terriers, and the various toy spaniels.—New York World.

BOXING AND WRESTLING

McGovern and Nelson have at last been matched.

Appolo the Irish giant, who was to have thrown Dan McLeod twice in an hour at Ottawa last night failed to fulfil his agreement. McLeod was too fast and skilful and actually had the big fellow in danger a couple of times. There were no faces at all Appolo had seventy pounds advantage in the matter of weight.

British people smoke one-third more tobacco than they did 30 years ago, eat half as much again of sugar, and drink 40 per cent. more tea, while the consumption of intoxicants has tended to decline.

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS.

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

The Profits Of The Sugar Men Were Enormous

Sugar Refiners Receipts Under the Existing Tariff.

ARE WITHOUT COMPETITION

Two Million Dollars Over Seven and a Half Per Cent. Their Legitimate Profits—Agreement as to Prices Between the Refiners and the Grocers' Guild—Mr. R. Anderson's Statement Before Commission.

Ottawa, Feb. 9.—The Tariff Commission concluded their sittings at 10 o'clock late night. They will, in common with their colleagues, now settle down to the assimilation of the evidence, and the result of their deliberations will be announced when the budget is brought down. It is five months and three days since the commission commenced their sittings, and in the course of their journeying they have traveled about 25,000 miles.

The Refiners' Profits.

Light was yesterday morning thrown on the fabulous profits enjoyed by the Canadian sugar refiners under the existing tariff. In a scathing arraignment, comprising forty-two pages of type-writing, read to the Tariff Commission by Mr. Robert Anderson, manager for Robert Crooks & Co., importers, Montreal, he asserted that the refiners were receiving annually in the form of protection $2,000,000 over and above the legitimate and clear profits of 7 1-2 per cent., and that the Government were presenting them with about $360,000 more than they were collecting from the refiners in the form of revenue. That, he said, was not good political economy, neither would it win popularity for the Government. He proposed that the duty on raw sugar should be advanced 25 cents per 100 pounds, equal to 16 2-3c under the preferential tariff, and that the dividing line between raw and refined duties should be raised one degree, and fixed at No. 17 Dutch standard. The increased duty on raw sugar would yield not less than $665,000 on the normal quantity of sugar now required for the estimated annual consumption in Canada. The money paid by the people to the sugar refiners was not developing a national product of Canadian soil, but amassing fortunes for a few individuals at the expense of the country.

Have Price Agreement.

He had no doubt but there was an agreement between the refiners and the Wholesale Grocers' Guild in restraint of the trade. He asked in addition to the 25 cents on raw sugar an increase of 16 2-3 cents per one hundred pounds on preferential duty, raising a Dutch standard of color limit by one point, and placing on free list syrup from cane sugar, now dutiable at 3-4 of a cent per pound.

Philips Johnston, of Montreal, asked the commission to retain the present duty on bridges and structural steel in the form of a specific duty of $2 a ton.

TERRIBLE PAINS ACROSS BACK

SUFFERED EIGHT MONTHS WITH KIDNEY TROUBLE. WOULD HAVE TO STAY IN BED FOR THREE DAYS AT A TIME

Doan's Kidney Pills CURED HIM

Mr. Thomas Fitzgerald, Haseldean, Ont., writes us as follows: "I was a great sufferer from kidney trouble for eight months. I had terrible pains across the small of my back. I would have to stay in bed for three days at a time and could not do any work. I tried several remedies but of no avail, and also plasters but they were of no use.

One day a neighbor of mine advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills. I was so much discouraged I told him I was tired of trying remedies, but he urged me to try one box so I purchased one, and before I was through using it, I found a change for the better so I got five boxes more, and I have had no trouble with my kidneys since. I would not be without Doan's Pills in my house."

It is really not difficult to cure kidney trouble in its first stages. All you have to do is to give Doan's Kidney Pills a trial. They are a never-failing cure for all forms of kidney trouble. They quickly relieve the congested, overworked kidneys, and gradually bring them back to health.

A Pulp Policy Formulated By Government

Several Areas to Be Put Up For Public Competition.

5 AGREEMENTS CANCELLED

Non-Fulfilment of the Conditions is the Reason Given for Cancellation—Large Bonuses Are Expected to Result at the Sale Which Will Be Held at Early Date—Rangers to Safeguard Areas.

Toronto, Feb. 9.—The pulpwood policy of the Ontario Government was announced yesterday by Hon. Frank Cochrane, Minister of Lands and Mines. Concessions will be disposed of by public competition, going to the bidder who will offer the largest bonus in addition to the dues which will be fixed by the Minister of Lands and Mines. It is expected that the bonuses alone will yield several hundred thousand dollars to the revenue of the province.

Coincident with this announcement Mr. Cochrane stated that five pulp concessions which had been granted to companies by the late Government had been cancelled owing to non-fulfilment.

Five Agreements Cancelled.

The agreements cancelled are with the Nepigon Pulp, Paper and Manufacturing Co., made in April, 1900, superceding an agreement entered into in 1896; the Kaewatin Power Co., April, 1901; the Montreal River Pulp and Paper Co., March, 1902; the Rainey Lake Pulp and Paper Co.; the Dryden (Ont.) Board Mills Co.

Certain water power has not been developed, as per agreement.

These concessions will not be retained in the hands of the Government longer than is necessary to make a public sale, and advertisements will be published immediately for tenders.

Large bonuses have already been offered by responsible parties who desire to possess these properties that have just lapsed from the first holders. The dues at the present time are 40 cents per cord on spruce, and 10 cents per cord on poplar and jack pine.

Eight Inches at the Stump.

Hereafter concessionaires will not be allowed to cut timber having a diameter of less than eight inches at the stump, as against a former reduction of six inches. This will result in added protection to the timber. The boundaries of the various areas will also be strictly defined, and the getting out of the timber will be closely supervised by Government officials.

Rangers will guard against fire, and successful tenderers will be required to build mills on their respective concessions, as was provided for in the old agreements, and to manufacture pulp within the province. The Department will decide as to the amount of capital to be invested, and will control all details.

EVIDENCE OF MR. BASTEDO.

Says His Policy Regarding Fishing Licenses Has Not Changed.

Toronto, Feb. 9.—Out of sixty letters alleged to have been missing from files in connection with the fisheries' investigation at the Parliament buildings, all have been found but sixteen, according to a statement produced by Mr. Hellmuth on behalf of Mr. Bastedo at the opening of the proceedings before Commissioner Judd yesterday. Mr. Bastedo swore positively that he had neither removed nor ordered the removal of any pages from the official letter files, nor had he been in any way partisan in his administration of the affairs of the Department.

Some licenses have been refused because there were too many in the locality, but the applicants had been told where they could get licenses by moving to those places. Politics had nothing to do with this. It was congestion of fishermen at some points.

"What is your policy now with regard to consulting members of the present Government or defeated Conservative candidates regarding licenses?" asked Mr. Hellmuth.

"I do exactly as I did before," replied Mr. Bastedo, "I consult Conservative members and defeated candidates."

DIED OF ILL-TREATMENT.

Exhumation of Body of Immigrant Boy Reveals Gruesome Spectacle.

Ottawa, Feb. 9.—James Kelley, of Masson, is under arrest as a result of the verdict of the coroner's jury that Arnold Walsh, an immigrant boy, died from ill-treatment at his hands.

The exhumation of Walsh's body revealed a gruesome spectacle.

The body was doubled up in a coffin that was nearly twelve inches too small and was clad in the lad's working attire, which was in a filthy state. There was a deep cut over the left eye. His toes, heels, fingers and ears had apparently been frozen before death, and the tops of the fingers and toes were missing.

The verdict of the jury was that the boy died from ill-treatment.

Will Die From Burns.

Niagara Falls, Feb. 9.—The news comes from Port Colborne that Mrs McBeth was so badly burned in the fire which destroyed her dwelling that there is little hope of her recovery. Mrs. McBeth was housekeeper for Jas. Nelson and was lying in bed, seriously ill, when the fire broke out. She was alone in the house, and the fire had made great progress before help came. She was rescued with difficulty.

Only 12 Escape Alive.

INTO THE SEA'S MAW.

Galati Mamertino, an Italian Town, Almost Wiped Out—60 Horses Taken By the Sea.

Messina, Feb. 9.—For three days a terrible storm has raged along the Mediterranean coats of Sicily and Italy, as well as in the Straits of Messina, and navigation has been almost suspended, except in the case of vessels used in the postal service. Galati Mamertino, a town of 4,000 inhabitants, near here, has been almost completely destroyed. Sixty houses were swallowed up by the sea Wednesday night.

A Rammacco a house fell, owing to the violence of the storm, killing two persons and fatally injuring three. All the fields in the neighborhood are inundated. At Palermo the deluge of rain was mingled with a fall of yellow sand. The storm also affected the south of Italy, many vessels being wrecked along the coasts. The schooners Eugenia and Clementina were lost, with all hands. From Genoa to Naples navigation is very difficult.

The Farmer's Foes

are weeds. Unless they are kept down, they divert the nutrition which the soil provides from the growing crops and ruin their productiveness.

Diseases are to the body what weeds are to the soil. They divert the nutrition which is necessary to sound health, and the body, instead of being strong and hardy, drags out a sickly existence. When the stomach is diseased, and the other organs of digestion and nutrition are involved with it, there is a constant loss of nutrition by the body. The stomache and its allied organs are not able to convert the foods into nourishment, and hence the body and its several organs are deprived of the necessary elements of vitality. What is known as "weak" heart or "weak" lungs, "weak" nerves and other forms of so-called weakness, are generally caused by "weak" stomach. When the stomach and the other organs of digestion and nutrition are cured, then the other diseases are cured with it. Diseases which are caused by a diseased condition of the stomach are cured through the stomach. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and its associated organs of digestion and nutrition. It cures through the stomach diseases of heart, lungs, liver and other organs. It increases the activity of the blood-making glands, so that the whole body is nourished by an abundant supply of pure blood, rich in the bright red corpuscles of health.

There is no alcohol in "Golden Medical Discovery" and it contains neither opium, cocaine, nor any other narcotic. It is strictly a temperance medicine.

Persons suffering from chronic forms of disease are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free. All correspondence strictly private. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Suffered for Years.

"My gratitude to you and your 'Golden Medical Discovery' is so great," writes Mr. Ross Martin, of Arlee, Mason Co., West Virginia, "that I am at a loss to find words to express my true feeling. I had suffered for a number of years with lung and throat troubles, and doctored with specialists, but got no better. Then I decided to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and after using it I was greatly relieved. I have all faith that it has saved my life.

"I have one of your medical books and think it a grand work."

Torpid Liver Cured.

"I was a sufferer from torpid liver for over a year," writes Mrs. Nora Willis, of Wheatfield, Jasper Co., Ind., "and could not sleep, nor eat but very little, and then it would cause me great distress. I tried several doctors but got no relief. Was advised by a friend to write to Dr. Pierce, which I did, and in a few days I received a letter advising me to take his 'Golden Medical Discovery' and also his 'Pleasant Pellets.' After I had taken only half a bottle I was greatly improved. I only took three bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and two vials of the 'Pellets,' and, thanks to Dr. Pierce and his wonderful medicine, I am as well as ever in my life, and feel that life is worth living after all.

"Last winter I took a severe cold which resulted in pleurisy. Tongue can not tell what I suffered. For two nights and two days I could not move without it nearly killed me. I told my husband I could not endure another night of suffering. The weather was so cold and stormy that it was almost too bad for any one to go six miles to town, but he went, and got a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Extract of Smart-Weed, which gave me instant relief. I can say that for all pains that I have tried it for it has worked like magic. We keep a bottle of the 'Smart-Weed' in the house all the time. I cannot thank Dr. Pierce enough for what he has done for me."

Constipation has almost countless consequences. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation and cure its consequences. They should always be used with "Golden Medical Discovery," when the use of a laxative is indicated.

Total Eclipse Of Moon Last Night

Began at Six Minutes to Twelve and Ended at Twenty Minutes to Six.

Although the total eclipse of the moon happened at an inopportune time last night so those who belong to the early to bed class, yet a great many enthusiasts stayed out on a winter's night-watch to witness the unusual occurrence which was visible to half the globe.

At six minutes to twelve the moon began to enter the penumbra of the earth's shadow; at three minutes to two it entered the umbra of the shadow, leaving it at twenty-three minutes to five and the penumbra at twenty minutes to six.

At no stage of the eclipse was the moon completely obscured; even while at the total eclipse its dim outline remained visible, due to the refraction of light. As the sky was obscured by hazy clouds last night the pleasing effect was lost of watching the fainter stars appear when the moon was hidden and re-appear as the eclipse gradually neared the end.

At first the shadow looked not unlike a dark concave cloud encroaching on the moon which gradually turned a copper colour as the moon became obscured.

Lady Was Cheated By Coal Driver

He Accepted Money for Fuel Which Was Not Delivered.

That Peterborrough has within its limits some dishonest men who do not refrain from telling falsehoods as a means of obtaining money was illustrated by a case related to the Examiner.

On Saturday last a lady who resides on McDonel street, ordered a ton of coal from one of the local coal dealers. The fuel was delivered as ordered but the driver refused to empty the last hundred, saying he had brought too much, without extra pay. Coal, he said, was forty cents a cwt., but she might have it for thirty, and save him returning it. The lady paid the money thinking she was getting an extra quantity.

The incident was related to others and the matter was looked into and the fact was brought to light that the above was a usual deception of the driver in question and for a similar offence he had been discharged by another dealer about a year ago.

When this employee was questioned concerning his dishonesty he seemed to be in perfect oblivion of the fact, and was disgusted that such a celestial creature as he should be charged with such an offence. The cold facts however, were forced upon him and he was compelled to capitulate.

This was not the first instance that this trick has been effectively accomplished and those who have to deal with such men should not be unwary in the future.

Matrimony In Millbrook

A Millbrook correspondent to the Port Hope Guide says: This year, so far, appears to be a record-breaker in the marriage line in our village and vicinity. Our brass band is kept busy serenading people—their funds must be rapidly increasing. Dame Rumour says that there are more to follow. The members of the benedict society are rapidly increasing. Gossipers have some people married several times — nearly every time they go out of town any distance some parties think that it is on matrimonial business.

Peterborough's Debt Will Not Worry The Ratepayers

Only $15.88 Per Capita of Debt, While Some Ontario Cities Have Nearly Five Times as Much—An Interesting Comparison Made—Assessment and Debt Per Head.

Peterborough seems to be in a pretty good position, financially, at least, that is the impression one would gain from an interesting comparison made by reference to a table which Mr. Felix Brownscombe, the city treasurer, has in his possession. This table gives the per capita assessment and debt of the principal cities and towns in Canada, and it is extremely gratifying to learn that Peterborough, with one exception, makes the best showing of them all. There is only one place with a lower per capita debt, Woodstock, which has 43 cents less of a debt per head than Peterborough, but on the other hand it has an assessment $72.26 less per head than this city.

The fact that in spite of the many municipal works which Peterborough has undertaken, the debt is so low as to be a matter for congratulation, and should have a material effect on the vote when the ratepayers are asked to vote money for needed municipal works. Some of the cities, it will be noticed, have debts which are more than four times per head that of Peterborough.

The figures for a number of the places which furnish a comparison are:

	Pop.	Per Head Ass't.	Per Head Debt

OBITUARY.

JOHN BABB.

This morning Mr. John Babb, one of the oldest and most highly respected residents of Peterborough, where for 45 years he has been a prominent figure in our citizenship, passed away, at his residence, Babb's Lane, Gilmour street, at the age of 78 years.

The late Mr. Babb's illness has been of considerable duration, an affection of the heart being the cause of death.

Mr. John Babb came to Canada in 1857, when he was 29 years of age, and first took up his residence in Port Hope, where he remained until 1861, when he came to Peterborough. He has resided here ever since.

His present illness has extended over a period of about two years, and while it was not thought that his recovery would take place, his immediate death was not expected, as he was able to be up and around about two days ago. He seemed, to realize, however, that his end was near.

The deceased was married before he came to Canada, his wife's maiden name being Ann Darling, and her native city was Redding, Berkshire, England. She predeceased him 34 years ago. Before coming to Canada the late Mr. Babb lived in Lancaster and Bodmin, Cornwall, England. For the last thirteen years he had resided at 17 Babb's Lane, named after him. Two of his sisters still live in Scorrier, Cornwall, Eng. It might be of interest to mention the fact that the first house Mr. Babb built in Peterborough is the one that is at present occupied by Mr. W. W. Johnston, 89 Gilmour street.

Mr. Babb has been healthy and strong, nearly all his life, and has had no infirmities other than a deafness, with which he has been afflicted, since early youth.

The deceased gentleman was truly one of the pioneers of Peterborough, and a man who was universally respected and esteemed.

Mr. Babb was known as a gentleman of high qualities of character, and a public spirited citizen. He was a contractor and builder by occupation, and there are many residences in the western part of the city still standing as evidences of his handiwork. Several years ago, when he was rather extensively engaged in building, a wave of hard times came, and he lost to a very large extent the fruits of years of industry. Mr. Babb was a man of most industrious habits, not only in his daily work, but in the hours that most men devote to leisure. He was a great reader, and read intelligently, so that he had a well stored mind. He was in his days of strength, a frequent contributor of letters to the Examiner, upon public and, especially, religious topics, his writings giving evidence of a knowledge that permitted him to speak with intelligence, if not with authority, upon the subjects he dealt with.

Mr. Babb was a Liberal in politics, and in religion a Baptist. He was for years a worshipper in the Murray street church, and when the Aylmer street church was occupied he was closely associated with the activities of the church.

Funeral from No. 17 Babb's Lane, at 2.30 o'clock, on Saturday, Feb. 10th, to the Little Lake cemetery.

MARY TERESA O'BRIEN.

The many friends of Mr. George O'Brien, Otonabee, will sympathize with him in the loss of his youngest daughter, Mary Teresa, whose death occurred last evening at 8 o'clock, aged three months and twenty-four days. Indigestion was the cause of death. The funeral took place this afternoon at 3 o'clock to Douro Cemetery.

WILLIAM AUSTIN O'BRIEN.

The death occurred last night of William Austin O'Brien, the infant son of Mr. John O'Brien, 45 Lake street, aged eight months. The sympathy of a large circle of friends will go out to the relatives in their bereavement. The funeral took place this afternoon.

TIMOTHY COLBY.

A many years resident of Norwood passed away at Nicholls Hospital at 2 o'clock this morning in the person of Timothy Colby. The deceased was fifty-one years of age and had been ill for a long time with cancer. He was in the hospital for about three weeks. He was born in Brighton township and lived in Norwood for over twenty-five years where he was well and favourably known by the citizens generally. A wife and several children survive him. Mrs. Robt. Elliott, 139 Sherbrooke street, city, is a daughter, at whose residence a funeral service will be held at 10.30 a.m. to-morrow.

The remains will leave for Norwood on the 11.35 C.P.R. train to-morrow and the funeral will take place on arrival in Norwood.

New Choirmaster And Organist

At a joint meeting of the Quarterly and Trustee Boards of George street church last night to consider the situation arising out of the resignation of the choirmaster and organist, it was decided to advertise at once for persons to fill those two positions. The resignations of Mr. Glidden and Mr. Milner having been accepted at a previous meeting.

Dance Held At Indian Village

Number of Local People Attended the Event.

A number of local gentlemen attended the dance given at the Indian village last night, and spent a most enjoyable evening. Mr. Dan Whetung and his fellow citizens of the village, did every thing in their power to make the occasion a pleasant one.

Accident At Toboggan Slide

Miss Helen Harper, a daughter of Mr. Hugh H. Harper, 321 Downie street, met with an accident at the toboggan slide at Jackson Park, from which she will be laid up for some little time. It appears that Miss Harper was on a toboggan and fell off at the bottom of the slide. A second load of five persons came so closely on their heels that Miss Harper was unable to get out of the path before she was struck. She is under the doctor's care.

South End Will Grow Rapidly

Mr. T. H. Crowley returned last night from Toronto, and was accompanied by Mrs. Crowley and the family. They will take up residence in the new house which Mr. Crowley has purchased from Mr. Morton, S. Monaghan, on Lundy's Lane, near St. Peter's Cemetery. Mr. Crowley believes that the south end of the city will grow up rapidly, and is confident that in a short time it will be one of the best residential portions of Peterborough.

Inventor Has Relatives Here

The Hamilton news to the Toronto Globe to-day, makes the following reference to the enterprising work of Professor R. A. Fessenden, who has been accomplishing good work in connection with wireless telegraphy. Prof. Fessenden is a nephew of Mr. C. Fessenden, principal of the Collegiate Institute here:

"Prof. R. A. Fessenden, son of Mrs. Clementina Fessenden of this city, is reported to have succeeded in establishing communication by wireless telegraphy between Mrcnsharigh, on the west coast of Scotland, and a point on the Massachusetts coast near Boston. He has been at work several years perfecting his invention."

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"PEGGY FROM PARIS."

George Ade's famous musical comedy, "Peggy from Paris," was presented to a crowded house at the Grand last night. The great reputation achieved by the production resulted in an almost unprecedented demand for tickets, and in four hours on Tuesday, the day on which the plan opened, every ticket was disposed of. Extra seats were put in, and every effort made to meet the demand, but many people had to be turned away.

"Peggy from Paris" was one of the best offerings of the season at the Grand. In it Geo. Ade is at his best. The libretto is bright and witty, and the play abounds in numerous situations that afford boundless opportunities for fun-making.

The play is a satire on the American habit of paying homage to the foreign artist. Peggy Plummer, daughter of Capt. Alonzo Plummer, of Hickory Creek, Illinois, signs an engagement with the Paragon Theatre, Chicago, under the name of Mlle. Fleurette Camelle, presumably the highest type of the Paris artist. Her father hears that she is in Chicago, and immediately departs for that city, accompanied by her sister and lover. The party arrives about the same time as Peggy, and the resulting complications are very funny. Peggy, afraid of losing her contract, refuses to recognize her father until the end of the play, Julia West, in the title role, sang and danced her way into public favour, and E. H. O'Connor, as Alonzo Plummer, was a typical Illinois rube. Arthur Deagon, the Canadian comedian, as Reginald Hickey, a useful boy with a choice assortment of the latest slang aided considerably in the fun-making.

The production is well staged and graced with a pretty chorus, that are not only ornamental, but can sing as well. Some of the choicest musical gems were "College Days," "The Girl from the West," "Henny," "Lil, My Easter Lily," "The Advertising Dream," and "Budie."

"Peggy from Paris" deserves a crowded house wherever it is presented.

• • • •

Mr. J. A. Raynes, the musical director of the "Peggy from Paris" Company which played in the Grand Opera House last night, is a personal friend of Mr. R. Beach, and was his guest while the Company was in the city. Mr. Raynes is a musician of much ability, and his work last night was of a high order.

Devil's Auction Monday Night

"The Devil's Auction" which comes to the Grand on Monday with a company of forty persons, will be the biggest spectacular show of the season to be seen at this house. It has always been a strong favourite with theatre-goers, proof of which is found in the fact that it is now in its 24th edition. This will be the most interesting of all, and will no doubt be greeted with a bumper house.

Mr Lush Won Many Premiums

The Lindsay Watchman-Warder, reporting the recent poultry show there, refers in the following terms to a Peterborough fancier:

Mr. H. F. Lush of Peterborough, was loud in his praise of the management as a starting movement, but would like the coops all in one room and just a little improvement in the coops. He had captured a number of premiums, made many sales and was pleased thereat. He was certainly an extensive exhibitor, showing Brahmas, Orpingtons, Rocks, Minorcas, Leghorns, Bantams and Hamburgs, including the prize winning pullet at Boston and other leading shows in the last named.

Sultan's Reply Is Received By The Conference

Morocco's Ruler Gives Answer re Contraband Arms.

A PARTIAL APPROVAL GIVEN

Regulations of Algeciras Conference All Right Except Wherein They Provide For the Destruction of Confiscated Military Weapons—Demand Serviceable Arms For Morocco's Troops.

Algeciras, Feb. 10.—The Moroccan delegates have received the reply of the Sultan regarding the proposed regulations for the suppressions of trade in contraband and arms.

The Sultan approves of the regulations except wherein they provide for the destruction of confiscated military weapons.

He demands that serviceable arms shall be used for the equipment of Moroccan troops, and those useless for military purposes be sold abroad, the proceeds going to the Moroccan treasury.

The reply will be communicated to the conference to-day.

France Will Take Firm Stand.

Paris, Feb. 10.—The semi-official Temps yesterday afternoon referring to the Moroccan situation, said: 'There appears to be no doubt that the public opinion in France is unanimous with reference to policing Morocco. The interests of the others being safeguarded, the hour has arrived for the protection of the special rights of France. No doubt the Government with the knowledge that the whole country is behind it will take a firm stand during the discussion of this delicate point at the conference."

United States to the Rescue.

London, Feb. 10.—The Statist, one of the leading financial weeklies of Great Britain, deals this week with the Algeciras conference in a long leader. The article predicts a failure to reach a conclusion satisfactory to France, and consequently, continued uneasiness in the commercial world, while at the same time the writer believes that war will not result. The point of The Statist's conclusions is that the United States alone can save the situation by the policing of Morocco.

800 HOMELESS THROUGH FIRE.

All But Fifty Houses in Virginia Village Burned.

New Martinsville, W. Va., Feb. 10.—Fire broke out in Littleton, an oil town, near here, and rendered about 800 of the 1,500 inhabitants homeless. The financial loss is over $200,000.

A small army of men and boys fought the flames, but they were unable to stop the spread of the fire. Assistance was sent from Wheeling, and also from Cameron, W. Va. Dynamite was resorted to, but the high wind carried the flames across streets and over tracks, licking up the frame dwellings in its path.

One hundred houses were burned, and 150 families are homeless. Not fifty houses are left standing.

Poet Dunbar Dead.

Dayton, Ohio, Feb. 10.—Paul Lawrence Dunbar, the noted poet and author, died here last night.

Paul Lawrence Dunbar was the poet of the negro race. He was born in Dayton June 27, 1872, and was first a newsboy and then an elevator boy, and during his struggle for a livelihood practiced writing. His first poem was written when he was 7 years old. His poem best known is "When Malindy Sings," which was written to his mother, whose name is Malindy.

Bomb Throwing Still Prevails In The Capital

Band of St. Petersburg "Reds" Attack Workmen.

3 ARE DEAD, 17 BADLY HURT

Troops Make Wholesale Arrests, Having Thrown a Cordon Around the Entire Affected District—Vice-Admiral Chouknin Attacked and Wounded by a Woman, Who Paid For It With Her Life.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 10.—The war between the fighting organization of the revolutionists and the so-called Black Hundreds assumed a new phase last night when a band of Reds surrounded the Cabaret Schlusselberg-Chausses, on the bank of the Newsky River, above the city, and threw a bomb among an assemblage of workmen. The Reds then opened fire on the panic-stricken inmates of the cabaret, killing two and seriously wounding eighteen, of which latter one died while being taken to the hospital. Military detachments which are constantly patrolling the turbulent industrial suburbs hurried to the scene of the disturbance, reinforced the dragoons and police from the city, and threw a cordon around the whole district. Most of the revolutionists made off at the approach of the troops, but a few bolder spirits remained and offered a desultory resistance to the encircling soldiers.

Wholesale arrests were made, which were still continuing up to a late hour last night.

Demolished Building.

The bomb, which was hurled through a window into the main room of the restaurant, exploded with a terrific noise and demolished almost the entire building. A wooden partition was blown out and much furniture, glassware and crockery was shattered.

The ruins were spattered with blood and pieces of flesh, the whole presenting a sickening sight.

The restaurant had been for some time known as a resort of the lower order of workingmen and rough characters, who were believed to be in the pay of the police and were accused, not only of furnishing information about revolutionaries, but also of sallying out at night and conducting searches on their own account and beating students who were members of the opposite faction.

Shadows Before.

The killing of three workmen at the Putiloff factory yesterday, and last night's episode, are believed to be but a prelude to other acts of retaliation and revenge between the two factions.

Woman Attacks Admiral.

Sebastopol, Feb. 10.—Vice-Admiral Chouknin, commander of the Black Sea fleet, was wounded yesterday by a woman who attacked him in his office. A sentry who rushed to the admiral's assistance shot the woman dead. No statement has been issued relative to the extent of Admiral Chouknin's injury.

Rebel Soldiers Arrested.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 10.—Gen. Linevitch reports that wholesale arrests of revolutionists have been made at Chita in Trans-Baikalia. Among those arrested were 81 soldiers. Large quantities of arms and explosives have been surrendered to the authorities. Gen. Linevitch says order has been restored at Chita.

Killed by Revolutionists.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 10.—Three employes of the Putiloff Works belonging to the "party of active struggle against revolution and anarchy," the so-called "Black Hundred," were surprised and killed Thursday by a party of revolutionary workmen. They were accused of furnishing the police with lists of revolutionary workmen and with assisting in making arrests and searches.

Black Sea Mutiny Still Smoulders.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 10.—A number of naval officers, according to a despatch to The Slovo from Sebastopol, have been transferred to the far east for petitioning the marine ministry for an open trial of former Lieut. Schmidt (who commanded the cruiser Otchakoff, which mutinied in November last at Sebastopol).

The trial has been postponed because it is thought to be hazardous to transfer him from the fortress (near Odessa) to Sebastopol. Mutiny is still smouldering on board several vessels of the Black Sea fleet, notably on the battleship Catherine II., where several officers have been arrested.

CHARGE KING LEOPOLD.

Said to Have Drawn Hundred Million From Congo Rubber Trade.

London, Feb. 10.—The Standard this morning draws attention to the alleged revelations contained in a book on the Congo Free State, published at Paris and Brussels by the Belgian Professor Cattier, indicating that during the past decade King Leopold has drawn an amount estimated at $100,000,000 from the rubber trade in the Congo, Domaine De La Couronne, all trace of which was excluded from the published accounts of the Congo administration.

The newspaper in an editorial says: "If it can be verified that such an income was drawn while it has been represented that doubtful expedients were employed in the Congo in order to avoid the carrying on of business at a loss, the conscience of Europe will be stirred to its depths."

Drowned in a Flume.

Ottawa, Feb. 10.—Michael Pasko, a laborer employed at Booth's pulp mill on the flume, is supposed to have been drowned Thursday about noon. He has not been seen since that time. He leaves a wife and one child, and had only been married fourteen months. He came to Ottawa from Renfrew about the first of January.

Conference Is Arranged On Coal Question

On Feb 15. John Mitchell and the Coal Barons Meet.

WON'T RECOGNIZE THE UNION

President Wilcox Writes An Interesting Letter to the President of the United Mine Workers of America—Go on Record on Several Points in the Dispute—But Conference May Avert the Threatened Strike.

New York, Feb. 10.—The Tribune says: The clerical staff in most of the offices of the anthracite coal carrying companies worked overtime yesterday in preparation for the coming conference with President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers, the result of which will decide whether or not there will be a strike.

All the coal presidents have replied to Mitchell's request for a conference agreeing to meet him here on Feb. 15.

President David Wilcox of the Delaware & Hudson Co. yesterday made public the text of the letter which he wrote to John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America, concerning a conference between the mine workers and the operators to discuss the wage question which is to be held in this city Feb. 15.

Mr. Wilcox's Contentions.

In his letter Mr. Wilcox assents to this date, and then declares that practically all the matters involved in the present discussion over the anthracite situation have already been adjudicated by the anthracite strike commission, which ended the last coal strike in 1902, and that this commission provides a conciliation board to adjust all questions arising under its award. This board, Mr. Wilcox says, is the proper body to take up any new appeal or claim of the miners, or if this board cannot adjust the trouble the appeal could be taken to the strike commission itself.

The demand of the miners is, he writes, for an increase of 12 1-2 per cent. in wages above the standard fixed by the strike commission, which he declares would amount approximately to 8 cents per ton of coal, or on the entire product about $4,800,000 per annum. Such an increase would tend to advance the price of coal to consumers.

Expires Next March.

Mr. Wilcox wrote: "It is true that the award of the strike commission ceases to be absolutely controlling as to future conditions after March 31, 1906, but its decision after protracted investigation must be regarded by all persons as conclusive in the absence of some new facts raising new questions."

A meeting of the operators of the anthracite roads is fixed for early next week to discuss among themselves their side of the coal controversy before going into the conference with the representatives of the miners on Feb. 15. The operators say they do not know the nature of the demands which will be made by them at the coming conference.

No Recognition of Union.

President David Wilcox of the Delaware & Hudson Co., in discussing the letter sent by him Thursday to President Mitchell, said last night: "The letter was not in the nature of an ultimatum, and it is an individual letter only, expressing my own views personally to Mitchell, in order that he may know where we stand. What the outcome of the conference will be I would not predict. We take it for granted that the officers of the union are not looking for a strike."

It is known that the union will not be recognized by the coal-carrying railroads if recognition means the closed shop. The coal presidents have already gone on record on this point.

Dolan Gets Order.

Pittsburg, Feb. 10.—Patrick Dolan, president of district No. 5, United Mine Workers of America, went into court yesterday and secured a temporary injunction restraining the delegates to the district convention now in session here from interfering with his powers as president of the district organization.

In the afternoon session of the convention bitter speeches were directed towards Dolan and Bellingham, neither officers, however, paying any attention to them. A resolution was unanimously passed branding President Dolan's action as "cowardly and unmanly," and a committee of three was appointed to make application to the court to have the injunction dissolved.

Refuse Demands.

Chicago, Feb. 10.—At a meeting of the Illinois coal operators yesterday it was decided by unanimous vote to refuse the demands made by the United Mine Workers of America. The meeting was attended by 200 coal operators from all parts of the state.

10,000 Still Out.

Punxsutawney, Pa., Feb. 10.—Ten thousand miners of the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg Coal & Iron Co. are still on strike, which was declared Thursday.

New Camp Site.

Ottawa, Feb. 10.—An official of the Militia Department stated yesterday that there is no warrant for the statement that it had given up the idea of acquiring new training grounds at Pine Plains in Simcoe County in favor of a site near Toronto.

Disorderly Parliament Dissolves.

Lisbon, Feb. 10.—King Charles yesterday, as a result of the recent disorderly scenes and obstruction in the Chamber of Deputies, signed a decree, which was subsequently read in the chamber ordering the dissolution of Parliament.

Falls on Circular Saw.

Whitevale, Feb. 10.—Earl Meek, son of Wm. Meek, fell under a circular saw and his foot was almost severed.

THE BREEDERS OF HORSES.

Arena Project Outlined and the Association Elects Officers.

Toronto, Feb. 10.—The fourth annual Canadian Clydesdale and Shire Horse Show was concluded last night with the holding of the annual meeting of the Canadian Horse Breeders' Association. A discussion took place on the question of the erection of an arena to show horses and live stock, and in which to hold other great conventions. An estimate was submitted showing that 10 per cent. earnings on the outlay of from $200,000 to $250,000 could be realized. A committee was appointed to look into the matter.

Grants were made to various horse societies, to Toronto Open Air Horse Parade $200, to Spring Show $1,750, to Stallion Show $1,000. The directors were empowered, however, to increase the grants if they deemed necessary.

The Directors.

The following gentlemen representing the societies named form the directors of the association: Hackney, Horse Society, Thos. Graham, E. C. H. Tisdale; Clydesdale Horse Breeders, Wm. Smith, John Bright; Harness, Hunter and Saddle Horse Society, J. J. Dixon, O. B. Sheppard; Trotting and Pacing Horse Association, S. McBride, Geo. Pepper; Shire Horse, J. M. Gardhouse, W. E. Wellington; Canadian Pony Society, W. J. Stark, Dr. J. G. Orr; Thoroughbred Horse Association, Dr. A. Smith, Wm. Hendrie, Jr.; Open Air Horse Parade Association, Noel Marshall, Jess Appleyard.

Selection of Officers.

The other officers elected were: Honorary president, Dr. A. Smith; president, Thos. Graham; first vice-president, O. B. Sheppard; second vice-president, Wm. Hendrie, Jr.; auditors, W. J. Stark and Geo. Pepper; secretary-treasurer, H. Wade; delegates to advisory board for heavy horses, John Bright, M. Gardhouse; and light horses, Thos. Graham and Geo. Pepper.

The balance on hand this year was $5,536.

NATAL NATIVES TROUBLESOME.

Blacks Wound Police Officers and Six Men Are Missing.

Pietermaritzburg, Natal, Feb. 10.—The collection of the poll tax from natives near Richmond has led to trouble, which it is feared will spread and possibly develop into an ugly native rising. Armed natives have resisted the collection of taxes, and have wounded with spears an inspector of police and a trooper. Fourteen mounted police, who were proceeding to the scene, have been attacked, and six are missing.

Cavalry and artillery, and outlying detachments of police have been called in, and are being concentrated to deal with the recalcitrant natives.

Blacks Demand Equality.

Cape Town, Feb. 10.—The demands of the colored inhabitants of the Transvaal and the Orange River colonies for full political rights are becoming more insistent. The African colored political association, representing all South Africa, is preparing a monster petition to King Edward, asking for all the political rights enjoyed by the whites, which will be presented in London by a deputation of colored men from South Africa.

W. H. MEREDITH'S AMBITION.

Plumbers' Scribe Would Be Toronto's Commissioner of Industries.

Toronto, Feb. 10.—W. H. Meredith, until recently Secretary of the Master Plumbers' Association, and more recently still the star witness in the combine investigation, is seeking the office of Commissioner of Industries of the city. The position has not yet been created, but there are a number of applicants already. Mr. Meredith, who, both by the story he told and the tale unfolded by his books, threw much light on crooked business methods, bases one of his claims for the position on "my close connection with both the commercial and manufacturing interests of our city." This he believes should well fit him to perform the duties to the "satisfaction of your board and with profit to the city." In view of his reluctance to testify before, it is interesting to note that Mr. Meredith is willing to furnish "such evidence as will convince you gentlemen that you will make no mistake in selecting me for the position."

HENRY TOTTEN DEAD.

Former Civil Service Employe Dies After Long Illness.

Toronto, Feb. 10.—Henry Totten, who died yesterday, after a long illness, was until about two and a half years ago chief officer of the Provincial License Department, a position he held for a quarter of a century. Mr. Totten entered the department in 1866, being an appointee of the Sandfield Macdonald Government. His resignation from the service was due to ill-health. A widow survives.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Feb. 10.—Mrs. McQuade, the woman who was so badly burned in the fire which destroyed the Nelson home at Port Colborne, died of her injuries. She came from near St. Catharines and is survived by two sisters.

The Adventurers

By H. B. MARRIOTT WATSON

COPYRIGHT, 1900, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

Suddenly a sound rose on the silence, indefinite, but perturbing. For a second I kept my post, with my head hanging from the window, uncertain as to the direction of the cry. Then I grew aware that it came from within the house, and, hurriedly withdrawing myself, I stood up still within the room and listened. Again it rose, somewhat shrill and ghastly, echoing from the floor above. Now, the dining room, as I have explained, was upon the ground floor, and Mr. Kesteven's room, as well as my room and most of the living chambers, was above it on the northern wing of the castle. I ran quickly therefore through the doorway and bounded up the stone staircase three steps at a time. When I reached the corridor I made straight for my host's room without any reason, but under the guidance of mere impulse. The door stood ajar, and I flung it open. A single lamp streamed faintly upon the room and its contents, illumining with a silver radiance the old man's body where it lay stretched upon the carpet.

I knelt swiftly and raised his head, loosening his coat and waistcoat. But as I did so the movement brought the face into the glow of the lamp, and I saw it was struck with a deadly pallor. I lifted him upon the bed and rang a peal of bells for the housekeeper. While she was coming, which was not a matter of more than a minute, my glance ran around the bedroom. Could it be possible that there was foul play? I could see no signs of violence upon the body—for that it was but a poor corpse I had no doubt, since the horrible color of the face had been revealed to me. The window stood open, but there was nothing significant in that. I glanced out, but if any one had escaped that way the falling night had long since swallowed him up. When I turned again to the body I noticed that one of the hands was clutching a paper. This I gently withdrew, and as I did so the housekeeper knocked at the door and called upon her master in an agitated voice.

"Come in," I said in low tones. "Your master is very ill. Where is the nearest doctor?"

"At Llanellan, sir," said she tremulously.

"Send the man posthaste," I ordered. "Let him gallop all the way."

"Is he"— she asked, and stared at me fearfully.

"Yes, I fear so," I answered.

CHAPTER IV.

THE events of that day, together with the two surprising sequels, to which I shall come presently, set me for the whole of a week upon the horns of doubt and perplexity. I was embarrassed by so strange a sequence of accidents. Somewhere behind and still aloof, but self confessed, as it were, by the conduct and deportment of my unfortunate host, hung the shadows of a mystery to which I had no clew. It was plain that he had a secret which he kept very private and to which I should have been admitted on the very eve of his unhappy death. That death, so to say, had robbed me of my opportunity, and I could see no means to regain it. My dim suspicion that he had come by his end through violence was dissipated soon enough. The doctor certified to heart disease, from which he told me that Mr. Kesteven had long suffered.

"He might have gone off any moment, Mr. Greatorex," he explained. "A shock, a violent exertion, even a strong emotion—this would suffice to determine the climax of the disease."

A shock! The word lingered somehow in my thoughts without particular reason. The cries I had heard might well enough have been drawn from the old man in his last pains, and yet I had the impression that such deaths were usually instant, if not [illegible]

Those shrieks had been prolonged and reiterated.

And here it was that I had my first surprise. Under the stress of the painful emotions of that time I had forgotten the leaf of paper which I had taken from the dead fingers. But while I was revolving the circumstances of the mystery the recollection of it flashed suddenly upon me, and feeling in my pockets I discovered it where it had remained since the entrance of the housekeeper. It was broad daylight, and the doctor from Llanellan had just gone from the house. I laid the paper upon my bedroom table and studied it carefully. It was of stiff parchment and stained yellow with the dust and dirt of years, much worn in parts and its margin gnawed as if by mice or rats. The characters were faded and well nigh illegible, but I made out, with some difficulty, the faint and ancient letters. This was how the document ran:

"Turning this corner, it is necessary to proceed upon the passage for the space of some thirty footsteps and at the close thereof to pause and survey the walls. If ye will then duly determine a height of five feet from the footway thereupon will be disclosed a small knobbe, the which revolving will give access to a large cupboard within ye wall. Observe carefully upon the back of the cupboard and where the oaken pannells adjoin the stone. Here ye will perceive a spring, the which pushing a doo. way shall open behind, giving entry to an interior chamber. A flight of stairway leadeth thence"—

Here the parchment had suffered so grossly at the hands of time or from the assaults of its natural enemies that the characters became unreadable and finally ceased.

It was plain that this sheet had some connection with the disclosure Mr. Kesteven had intended to make to me, but beyond this conclusion I could not go. And so after a desultory study of the ancient characters I put it aside, locking it more by habit than of intentional prudence in my private letter case.

I now stood honorably charged with the last offices to my dead friend. An inquest was inevitable in the circumstances, but it was no more than a formality, and my evidence, with that of the housekeeper, Mrs. Main, and the doctor from Llanellan, was sufficient to close the investigation. It was not until these ceremonies were over that I experienced my second surprise, a surprise which, although I had become somewhat acquainted with the eccentricities of the man, fell upon me like a thunderbolt. Upon the morning after the funeral I rode into Raymond to pay a visit to my lawyer, Greenstreet by name, who, I understood, acted on Mr. Kesteven's behalf. I regarded this as the last of my melancholy duties, which discharged, I was free once more to resume the tour which had been so strangely interrupted. Mr. Greenstreet, the little fat, bowing solicitor whom I had already seen, received me with polite ceremony. His face wore a mingled expression of solicitude and satisfaction as he fussed in a nervous manner with his papers.

"A most melancholy end, Mr. Greatorex," said he, shaking his head; "so sudden, and a sterling, honorable man, sir. Well, we must all go some day."

I put the question for which I had come and in response was saluted with a stare of astonishment.

"Any assistance, Mr. Greatorex?" he echoed, surveying me, with his mouth open. "Any assistance? Well, I suppose you can be of some assistance." And he chuckled heartily, as if inviting me to join in his joke.

I told him that I was leaving the district that same day and would like to know in what way I might aid him, seeing that it was improbable that I should revisit the neighborhood.

"Then you do not intend to reside at the castle?" he asked.

There was a certain tone of condemnation in his voice which, though I was at a loss to account for, I could not but recognise.

"Why, certainly not!" said I. "Why in the name of fortune should I? My only idea was, for Mr. Kesteven's sake, to smooth his affairs for his successors."

The little man started to his feet, and his mouth widened in a broader smile than ever. "Then is it possible that you are ignorant, Mr. Greatorex?" said he. And looking at my interrogating face he positively beamed. "Why, yes, it must be so," he said excitedly. "Mr. Kesteven, sir, by a will under date of Aug. 16, has made you his sole heir."

It was now my turn for amazement. The unexpectedness of the news left me agape, and then, after the first moment of silence, I felt my ears slowly growing warm, and I knew that I was blushing red as a peony in my confusion and astonishment.

The greedy little lawyer enjoyed the effects of his surprise.

"But the natural heirs"— I began, stammering.

"There are none," said he promptly. "The late Mr. Kesteven had no near relatives."

"The will"— I protested feebly.

"Was made three days ago. I, of course, assumed that you were well acquainted with its contents—a few legacies to his housekeeper and the servants, and yourself the residuary legatee. In order, however, not to raise your expectations too high, Mr. Greatorex," he proceeded, now more coolly and quite officially, "I may say that there is little beyond the castle itself—a bare competence and no more."

I waved my hand. "Good heavens!" said I. "But what right have I"—

"It is scarcely a question that requires an answer," he replied dryly, "so long as Mr. Kesteven had the right. But, by the way, I may say—and it is a curious coincidence"—and here he rummaged among his papers—"if you are anxious to get rid of the castle, I dare say it can be managed. Oddly enough, only this morning I had a letter from a firm of solicitors in London, assuming it was for sale and inquiring the terms. Let me see. Ah, here it is!" He handed me the letter, which was directed from the offices of a firm in Pardoe street, Lincoln's Inn Fields.

"Quick work," I commented.

The little solicitor assented. "It is a beautiful neighborhood," he replied, rather proudly, "and the castle is a fine building. Very antique, remarkably antique."

The adjectives were hardly chosen to my taste, but I could find no fault with the sentiment. Yet it seemed strange that a purchaser should have been so instant; I had understood that the experience was uncommon in the property market. As I sat contemplating the letter Mr. Greenstreet interposed.

"Well, sir," said he, smiling, "am I to entertain the offer?"

"No," I answered, though I could hardly have said why.

"You will live on the property?" inquired the lawyer.

"Yes," I replied, adding, "for the present."

But, in truth, I was in no state of mind to determine upon any particular course with definition, so involved were my emotions in the face of the extraordinary news I had heard. It was an amazing stroke of good luck which by a signature of a dozen letters converted a comparatively impecunious and briefless barrister into the proprietor of an ancient estate. These thoughts and feelings moved me as I rode back to the castle, quite oblivious of my earlier resolution to be gone from Raymond and the scene of that disaster. It seemed now that I was definitely bound up with the fortunes of the place unless I accepted Greenstreet's offer to negotiate a sale of the property for me. I had fallen into a reverie—nor am I ashamed to confess that it was a very pleasant reverie—when I reached the top of the hill upon which the castle stood. That hurried drive which Mr. Kesteven and I had undertaken three days previously had obviously been for the purpose of executing the will. I now asked myself the motive which had induced him so to favor a casual acquaintance, but I could find no answer save in the general eccentricity of his conduct. He had died without a relative, even without a friend, as it appeared, and to that fact the mere addition of a passing whim, generated possibly under a stress of unknown emotion, must suffice to explain his behavior. At that phrase of my own, "unknown emotion," I was pulled up sharply once more. What was there at the back of all these incongruous and incomprehensible incidents? In the current of these reflections I almost rode over the innkeeper Hood by the entrance of the park. He saluted me deferentially, stepping aside to let me pass and gliding noiselessly to open the iron gates. At the sight of him the lawyer's statement as to the contents of the will recurred to me, and I reined in, giving him good day.

"This has been a sad business, sir," he ventured in his even tones.

I nodded, replying with some commonplace.

"Especially, sir, for poor Mr. Kesteven, who was, in a manner of speaking, quite alone in the world."

"Yes," said I, though the remark was perhaps irrelevant. "So Mr. Greenstreet, his lawyer, tells me."

Hood's glance met mine, as though he would inquire of me; but feeling, no doubt, that this would be too great a liberty, his eyes reverted to the gate, which he still held open respectfully.

"Mr. Greenstreet tells me," I went on, "and I suppose I am free to repeat it, that your old master has left you a small legacy."

The man started visibly, and for a second his dark eyes shone on mine. He seemed almost as surprised as I had been, but he recovered his astonishment next minute and dropped his gaze.

"Thank you, sir. It is very kind of him—Mr. Kesteven, I mean. I served him three years, and a better master no man need want."

"He paid you a similar compliment," said I, smiling.

"He was always very good to me, sir."

He stood silent, as though for me to enter, but as I did so he said respectfully:

"I suppose we shall be losing you, sir? It's a great thing for Mr. Kesteven to have had you with him in his trouble."

"Well," said I, with a little laugh, which I really could not restrain in my excited condition, "not just yet, Hood, I think. I'm afraid you'll have to put up with my company for a little longer. You see, Mr. Greenstreet informs me that I am, quite unexpectedly, left heir to the castle."

If Hood were as much astonished at this statement as at his own good fortune, he certainly did not show it. I caught one glance of his extraordinary eyes, and then he had turned and was closing the gate.

"I'm sure I congratulate you, sir, if you'll pardon the liberty. The castle wants an owner, and I hope you'll be living here, sir."

I told him I did not yet know and rode up the park, leaving him to fix the locks.

I had said no less than the truth when I had answered Hood's questions, but circumstances soon made my resolution for me. The rumor of my inheritance was spread about the country, and I found myself suddenly elevated to new dignity in the eyes of the neighborhood. And the first fruits of this celebrity appeared in an unexpected visit from my young acquaintance, Montgomery. His farm, it seemed, was a mile or two from the castle, lying in the next valley, and he rode over to offer me his congratulations. It was plain that he had not been so deep in liquor as he had appeared upon that evening at the Swan, for he was hugely embarrassed during the interview and more than once offered to reflect upon himself in somewhat deprecating terms.

"I'm not a bad fellow," he was good enough to explain, "but I'm a devilish fool. All the Montgomerys are. We've had a lot to put up with. Our estate's no better than a barnyard. We're a pack of idiots, that's what we are, Mr. Greatorex. And when there's liquor about— Well, you know what it is."

I didn't quite follow out his meaning, but, on the whole, he struck me as a very amiable fellow, honest according to his lights, and bearing a certain distinction of person which, derived from a long and gentle race, could not wholly be concealed in the dull and uneducated individuality of its last representative. He certainly knew a great deal about horses, and as a result we grew very friendly ere he left. When he did so, it was with a frank hope, boyishly expressed, that I intended to live at the castle.

But it was not due to the arguments of Montgomery that I finally decided to stay at the castle, but to an incident very different, which fell out in the following way on the next evening: I had dined early, and as the light was still very full across the valley I saun-

A FRIEND'S ADVICE

SAVED SUFFERING AND BROUGHT BACK HEALTH —DR. AGNEW'S GREAT HEART CURE AND CATARRHAL POWDER DEFY DISEASE AND NEVER FAIL IN THEIR MISSION OF HEALING

"I feel so thankful at the restored health of my daughter that if any use can be made of this I shall be pleased." This is what Mr. George Weels, of Elora, Ont., says in giving his testimony to the wonderful curative qualities of Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart. Mr. Weels' daughter was a great sufferer from heart disease and nervousness. She was unable to lie on her left side. She ran down in health and her recovery was a source of anxiety. Induced by friends, who had proved its worth, she obtained Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart and before one bottle had been taken was able to lie in any position she desired, and when two bottles had been taken, an absolute cure was pronounced. Yes, this great remedy is a cure for all ailments of the heart, stomach and nerves, and the instantaneous relief given by it has snatched thousands from death's jaws. Don't trifle a minute if you have the slightest evidence of heart disorders, such as palpitation, fluttering or uneasiness. This remedy will relieve such troubles immediately and will cure the stomach and nerves.

"When I know a thing is worthy of a recommendation I consider it my duty to tell of it." The Rev. James Murdock, of Harrisburg, Pa., says this after having been cured of a very malignant form of catarrh by Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powders. What he can say of its healing powers thousands of others have said and can say of it. Don't neglect "only a little cold" in the head. It may lead to chronic catarrh. Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder relieves in 10 minutes and is easily applied. Keep it near you if you are a "cold in the head" subject.

DR. HUGO'S Health Tablets for Women

THEY MAKE HEALTHY WOMEN

B. N. ROBINSON & CO. COATICOOK, QUE.

A Medicine Just for Women.

It is common sense that women need different medicine than men. Their peculiar organism requires it.

Medicines, sold alike for men and women, never contain what will do a woman the most good, that is, the uterine and other female tonics. Such medicines may relieve for a little but that is all. They do not cure, because they do not reach the cause of nine-tenths of the ills of women.

Women need a remedy compounded for their special needs. Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets for Women are such a medicine.

This is a special remedy, compounded by a specialist for a special purpose. The specialist is Dr. Hugo, of Paris, who perhaps knows more about the needs of women to-day than any other living physician. Its special purpose is to cure the ills of women and them alone. It is not for men.

Any sick or run-down woman, no matter what the cause, will positively get more benefit from one box of these tablets than from a dozen boxes or bottles of any remedy sold indiscriminately for men and women both, which does not contain the special uterine and other female tonics her system requires.

And it takes but one box to prove our statement. Improvement is noticed the first week.

BLOOD POISON

On account of its terrible effects, blood disease is called the king of all diseases. It may be either hereditary or contracted; so while it may not be a crime to have the disease, it is a crime to permit it to remain in the system. It may manifest itself in the form of Scrofula, Eczema, rheumatic pains, stiff or swollen joints, sticky eyes or eyelids, pimples, blotches, ulcers on any part of the body, sore throat, falling out of hair, "sore head," catarrh, and a general depression of the system. If you have any of these symptoms don't neglect yourself. You have no time to lose. Beware of "old fogy" treatment—beware of mineral poisons—beware of Quacks and Fakirs. OUR NEW METHOD TREATMENT is guaranteed to cure this disease, never to return. Bank Bonds will protest you. Our treatment is not injurious in any way, but reaches the very root of the disease and eliminates all poison from the system. The symptoms of disease gradually disappear. The blood becomes pure and enriched, the whole system is cleansed and purified, and the patient feels prepared anew for the duties and the pleasures of life. tered out through the park and wandered down the road toward the Woodman. When I reached the inn I noticed in the twilight the figure of a stranger leaning against the stone coping before the doorway smoking a cigar. At this moment Hood emerged from the taproom, and I nodded to him, asking if he had heard yet from the solicitor.

"Yes, sir; thank you, sir," he replied. "It's a very welcome present, sir; many thanks to my poor master."

"Well, you seem to be getting on," said I, with a glance toward the stranger, who, seeing my eyes on him, lifted his hat and smiled.

"Yes, sir," responded Hood in a lower voice. "The gentleman's come to stay a bit, sir. Name Captain Sercombe, sir. You don't happen to know him? No, sir. I thought I'd mention it, in case you did. The gentleman likes the fresh air, sir. He's been living abroad. I always told poor Mr. Kesteven that I'd make it pay, sir." And a furtive smile crept into Hood's somber face and broadened it into a grin.

The stranger advanced in a leisurely fashion and said good day; then, cocking an eye at the clouds, asked me my opinion of the weather. I gathered that he was a fisherman and that the stream in the valley had excited his hopes. He was a very tall man of forty or more, somewhat stoutly built and with a military gait. His face, which was bare save for a long reddish mustache, was puffy and swollen, but he had a pleasant gray-green eye and a genial and engaging manner. His thin red hair was carefully brushed over a rather bald head.

"My landlord tells me there has been a death up yonder," said he, nodding toward the castle. "A regular romance, if I'm right in supposing you are Mr. Greatorex?"

I told him that I was.

"Ah, well, you're very lucky."

I replied somewhat coldly that he seemed to know more than I did myself.

"Come, come," said he, with a laugh. "My dear sir, we are all gossips, and, after all, I was bound to talk of something besides the weather," and his way was so good humored and withal so frank that I could not but join in his laugh. In the issue I accepted his invitation to drink a little whisky in his room, and being apparently a talkative fellow he was very soon in the full swing of soliloquy. I must confess that he was an entertaining talker. He had seen a vast deal of life and in many countries. He had apparently been a soldier of fortune since he left the English army, for he spoke of service with the Peruvians, of brushes and escapades in sundry parts of South America and of multifarious adventures in several continents. It might have seemed odd that the lord of Ivor castle should be seated there in the parlor of a shabby inn, hobnobbing over whisky and cigars with an utter stranger about whom he knew nothing and cared less, but I myself was little better than a fellow stranger, and at all events I required no excuses for myself. It has ever been my habit to give myself full license in my commune with my fellows, and in the result I have usually found the custom productive of amusement and interest. We parted on friendly terms, and I congratulated myself as I walked home upon a very agreeable neighbor.

When I reached the castle the night had fallen, unrelieved by stars. I rang for a lamp and retired to my bedroom for a pocketbook which I had left in one of the drawers in an old bureau. I remembered to have placed it in the left hand drawer in the secretary. I took the key from my pocket and twisted it in the lock, but as it would not turn I became impatient and shook the handles. The lid fell open of itself. Clearly it had not been locked. And yet I could have testified in a court of law that I had locked it in the afternoon. Furthermore, my pocketbook was not where I had left it, but in a lower drawer. The oddness roused my curiosity, and I went carefully through the drawers only to find that without a doubt they had been conscientiously and scrupulously rummaged by some one. The thought was not inviting. I sat down in a chair to consider. Later I went down to the dining hall and made out my notes for the day. A letter by the second post, which arrived late in the evening, lay to my hand on the table. The situation demanded a patient temper and some thought. It threatened to discover a grave climax. So far my reflections led me. Why had my bureau been rifled? What did this robber want? And yet again the problem fell upon me, something darkling, but urgent, importunate—had any one visited Mr. Kesteven through that open window in the article of his death? The confluence of these questions embarrassed me, and I opened my letter absently.

It was from Greenstreet and invited my consideration of the offer made by the London solicitors. They were pressing to know my price for the castle. I seized a sheet of paper and scribbled a line, sealing and stamping the envelope ere I went to bed. It was merely to tell Greenstreet that the property was not in the market.

CHAPTER V.

UPON the third day after the events of the preceding chapter Mrs. Main announced a visitor, handing me at the same time a card on which was printed with an abundance of flourishes and ornament "Mr. Morris Barnett." He made a ceremonious entry and politely discharged a few courtesies ere he got to business.

"I have come over, Mr. Greatorex," said he naively, "to see if you are at all disposed to do a client of mine a great favor."

I did not see any very strong reason why I should favor a client of Mr. Morris Barnett, but I murmured that I was always glad to be of service to my fellow creatures.

"The fact is, sir," he resumed, laying his hat and stick upon a chair and drawing a packet of papers from his pocket, "my firm has a client who is related to the ancient Vyvian family, the original owners of this castle, as you are no doubt aware, and he has been informed that you have come into possession of this very beautiful estate in accordance with the will, if I mistake not, of the late Mr. Kesteven."

He looked at me inquiringly, and I told him that his information was quite correct.

"I gather, Mr. Greatorex," he continued affably, "that you have been until comparatively recently a stranger to these parts and that, in short, you have no particular ties in the county?"

"That is true," said I.

"My client, sir, has naturally—you will understand the motive—a desire to purchase the property, if you are disposed to meet him and we can arrange terms. And that, shortly, is the object of my visit."

Now, you will easily conceive that, falling in the present circumstances, this set my blood humming. Here was yet another, and within a few days of the demise of the old proprietor, who must needs come clamoring for a sale of the castle. The fact stirred my curiosity—nay, to speak truly, inflamed me with something very like excitement.

"And what, then, is your proposal, Mr. Barnett?" I asked calmly enough.

I was sharp enough to notice a gleam of satisfaction pass over his face, but he displayed none of his triumph in his very businesslike tone.

"Ah, well, Mr. Greatorex," said he, lolling back in his chair, "you see these old places are more matters of sentimental than profitable investment."

"True," said I shortly, "and men are usually willing to pay a high price for sentiment."

"Ah, no, Mr. Greatorex," said he promptly, shaking his head, and here there was a real touch of gutturals, "you mistake. My client is not a rich man, but he hankers after the place of his fathers. It would mean much to him."

"It means a good deal to me," said I. "How much?" said Barnett suddenly. "Supposing I said £20,000?"

He held up his hands. "My dear sir, my dear sir!" he repeated and stared at me as if my audacity had plucked away his wits.

"Why not?" I asked.

Mr. Barnett was thoroughly enjoying himself.

"Do you know what landed property is selling at, Mr. Greatorex?" he asked confidentially. "It is practically a drug in the market, sir, just now."

"Then," said I, "will you kindly explain, Mr. Barnett, how it comes that I have had two offers within a week of my inheritance?"

"Ah," he said meditatively, rubbing his chin.

"It looks as if this particular property was not a drug in the market, doesn't it?" I asked.

"To be sure," he remarked vaguely, and then, recovering himself, resumed his gentle smile. "But let us come back to business, Mr. Greatorex. Shall we say £5,000?"

He cooed at me enticingly. His assumption that we had wandered into the regions of fancy and romance tickled me, and I broke forth laughing.

Mr. Barnett held up his hands.

"Ah, well," said he, grinning sympathetically, "we might make it £7,500 with immediate possession."

"Mr. Barnett," said I gravely, "your client seems to have been born too late by a hundred years."

"I dare say, Mr. Greatorex, that my client would go to the length of £10,000 upon my advice."

"Then I should certainly keep my advice to myself, Mr. Barnett," was my retort.

I began to see a respect for me dawn in his eyes. He gathered his papers in his hand and reached for his hat with the other.

"I fear that my intrusion has been useless," he observed.

I said nothing, but waited for him to recast himself. He did not, however, but, walking to the window, looked out upon the park.

"Beautiful!" he cried. "Charming prospect! Really, now that I have seen it, Mr. Greatorex, I feel justified in advising my client to go a little higher."

"I think the view is worth an extra £5,000," I suggested.

"I think he might rise possibly to £15,000, Mr. Greatorex, if you will allow me to communicate with my client," he said softly. "But my client is a poor man, and it is a ruinous price."

"Then why ruin your client, my dear sir?" said I.

Mr. Barnett laughed pleasantly, as if at my little joke, but, becoming serious again, shook his head.

"A stiff price, but I think I can manage it," he said.

"I have little doubt that you can manage anything," I said, bowing.

"You agree?" he asked.

"It is not necessary," said I, "since you seem to have agreed for me."

"It is monstrous!" he said gloomily. "But my client has set his heart on it. You shall have your £20,000, Mr. Greatorex."

He sighed resignedly and, having selected a document in his pocketbook, proceeded to unfold it and smooth it upon the table. All the spirit was out of him. He had been worsted and owed me a grudge, I could perceive.

"If you have a pen, Mr. Greatorex," he said sullenly, "I will fill in the figures. I have the agreement here."

"Pardon me," said I.

He looked up and, meeting my gaze, offered an explanation against my protest. "There's no time like the present."

THE DOMINION GRANGE.

Joins In the Demand For Repeal of the Salary Grab and Would Abolish the Senate.

Toronto, Feb. 9.—The Dominion Grange yesterday recommended a number of drastic reforms to both the Dominion and Provincial Governments and waited upon Premier Whitney. Incidentally they declared for the abolition of the Senate.

Henry Priest, W. L. Smith, J. Lethbridge, Jabel Robinson and W. F. Fisher were among the speakers who addressed the Premier. Mr. Whitney indicated that their request for the better regulation of automobiles would receive attention, but that no change would be made in the bill as drafted regulating the county councils. Careful attention was promised to the recommendation that the Government retain complete control of the rates to be charged by electrical companies for power.

Other recommendations were to the effect that all taxes arising from railways be proportioned on the basis of 85 per cent. for the municipality and 15 per cent. for the Government; and that a reform be instituted in the matter of collecting for personal injuries from municipalities.

At the morning session the Grange put itself upon record as advocating the repeal of the salary grab, the regulation of express rates by the railway commission; the better regulation of immigration; a trial service of free rural delivery; the carriage of larger parcels as post express and legislation that would prevent discrimination by Canadian carriers against Canadian passenger traffic.

At the afternoon session the following officers were elected: John G. Lethbridge, master; M. Sutherland, overseer; James Fallis, treasurer; W. F. Fisher, secretary; W. J. Goodfellow chaplain; W. L. Smith, lecturer; A. J. Carruthers, steward; W. A. Peer, assistant steward; Joseph Todd, gatekeeper; Mrs. Morcombs, Flora; Miss Rowe, Ceres; Miss Philp, Pomona; Mrs. Collins, assistant lady steward; Messrs. W. F. Fisher and Jabel Robinson, executive; Thomas Sawyer and D. C. Lauer, auditors.

WHY MANITOBA PROSPERS.

Total Grain Crop Was Over 115 Million Bushels.

Winnipeg, Feb. 9.—The report of the Manitoba Department of Agriculture and Immigration was laid upon the table Wednesday by Hon. R. P. Roblin. The total grain crop was 115,863,361 bushels, of which 35,761,416 were wheat. Of roots 2,341,297 bushels were raised, while the total area under all crops was 4,256,838 acres. Already for 1906 2,045,011 acres have been prepared for crop.

Immigration to Manitoba was the largest in the history of the province, showing a grand total of 55,600. The returns show that 46,836 came in the regular way, and that of the number who came in to assist as harvesters, 8,764 remained.

Torrey-Alexander Finances.

Toronto, Feb. 9.—The general committee reports that the total amount of collections at the meetings was $7,310. Adding a few subscriptions and receipts from other sources, the total revenue was $7,800. The disbursements were, for rent of hall and other buildings and small honorariums to employes, $2,473; offices expenses, including salaries of office secretaries, telegrams, postage, etc., $560. The amount paid Dr. Torrey and his associates was $2,660. The outlay for printing, advertising, etc., was $896; miscellaneous expenditures, $253, leaving a balance of $960, supplemented by the members of the committee up to $1,000, will be handed over the treasurer of the prospective new City General Hospital.

A False Friend.

Detroit, Feb. 9.—An 18-year-old girl came here from Woodstock, Ont., Wednesday, expecting to meet a girl friend of hers, formerly a resident of Simcoe, Ont. She was stopped by the immigration officers and deported yesterday. The Simcoe girl, who has been here some time, was in a resort and had written her Woodstock friend to come here to get a good position. The immigration officers will deport her, too. The Woodstock girl thanked the officials for stopping her.

Third Queen's Man For Oxford.

Kingston, Feb. 9.—A third Queen's man has been chosen as Rhodes' scholar from Canada. Austin M. Bothwell, M. A., Perth, now taking post-graduate work here, has been appointed by the educational committee of Alberta and and Saskatchewan provinces to the Rhodes' scholarship. Mr. Rothwell graduated at Queen's last spring.

A BRAZILIAN INUNDATION.

Inhabitants of Campos, Near Rio Janeiro, In Bad Plight.

Rio Janeiro, Feb. 9.—The Parahiba Do Sul has broken its banks and inundated the lower parts of the City of Campos, 140 miles northeast of Rio Janeiro, to the depth of 13 feet in some places. Many houses have collapsed, widespread damage has been done, and communication with Campos is impeded. The work of rescuing the imprisoned inhabitants of the city is most difficult.

Campos is on the Parahiba Do Sul, near its mouth. The city is connected by rail with Rio Janeiro, has electric illumination and other modern improvements, and a population of about 80,000 souls.

LOOKS BAD FOR STANLEY.

Coroner's Jury Says He Murdered Farmer Freeman Harvie.

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 9.—The coroner's jury in the Harvie murder case returned a verdict holding George Stanley for the crime. The Fisher boy was released.

The Halifax police believe that Stanley was in Halifax several weeks recently under the name of Ryan, and is wanted there for the theft of $40 from a fellow boarder. It is even suggested that inquiries be made to ascertain if he was a firebug at St. Luke's Cathedral, which was recently burned. Ryan on the streets always wore a long cape over his shoulders, which helped to give him the appearance of a clergyman.

Cremated In His Home.

Kingston, Feb. 9.—Yesterday morning miners back of Sydenham, who had noticed a fire about midnight, started out to investigate the cause and were horrified to find the home of Michael Patterson, three miles east of Sydenham, burned to the ground with the charred remains of the unfortunate owner in the ruins. Mr. Patterson had attended the races at Sydenham Wednesday and left there for his home about eight o'clock. Patterson had a sister living with him who was away from home at the time.

Hospital Laundry Destroyed.

Gravenhurst, Feb. 9.—The large and splendidly equipped laundry and buildings in connection with the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives, here, were burned to the ground about three o'clock yesterday morning. The fire is supposed to have originated in the engine room. The buildings and plant cost between $5,000 and $6,000. The insurance is $3,000, leaving a net loss of $3,000.

King Christian's Funeral.

Copenhagen, Feb. 9.—Arrangements for the funeral of the late King Christian were published last night. The body will be conveyed to Roskilde the morning of Friday, Feb. 16, after a short service at the Slotskirts, from which the royal hearse will be escorted by troops followed by the male members of the royal family in state coaches.

Fight Flames For a Month.

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 9.—Eleven survivors of the wrecked ship Challenger, burned and scuttled on the coast of Japan, arrived here on the Shinano Wednesday. All the men bore traces of the experience through which they had passed. For almost a month they had fought the flames in the old wooden barque, and at times the vessel was kept afloat by only the most heroic work on the part of the officers and crew. The ship was beached on the Japanese coast without the loss of a single life.

Protest Against Ruling.

Medicine Hat, Feb. 9.—Fred S. Pringle, whose nomination papers as a candidate for West Assiniboia were thrown out as being irregular, has entered a formal protest to the returning officer against his decision. The reason for not accepting Pringle's nomination was that electors signing did not appear personally before a justice of the peace. According to Pringle the papers were signed by a commissioner and the deposit accepted.

TO POLITICAL FUNDS.

Mr. S. T. Bastedo Contributed But Only Once—Fisheries Overseers Took An Active Part in Politics.

Toronto, Feb. 8.—The inquiry into the charges made against the Deputy Minister of Fisheries, Mr. S. T. Bastedo, by Chief Clerk Webster, and the former's counter-charges continued at the Parliament Buildings yesterday before the commissioner, Mayor Judd of London, and will be resumed this morning. Mr. E. A. DuVernet appeared for Mr. Webster and Mr. I. F. Hellmuth for Mr. Bastedo. A good deal of old ground was traversed and one or two new points were touched upon, but nothing sensational developed. During the afternoon a letter from Mr. Bastedo to Mr. James Conmee, then member for Port Arthur and Rainy River, was read. In this the Deputy Commissioner said he was enclosing a letter from Rossport, which was "somewhat of an eye-opener." He could not remember the nature of the "eye-opener" sent to Mr. Conmee, but promised to look it up. Some correspondence between Hon. Mr. Hanna, a few years ago, and Mr. Bastedo, in respect to the granting of licenses, was read. It was shown that there had been delay in the replies to Mr. Hanna, due to Mr. Bastedo consulting Mr. Pardee, the Liberal candidate, on the matter. Mr. Bastedo, referring to a statement that letters which should have been presented to the Legislature in answer to a request by Mr. Smyth, M. P. P., had been kept back, said such letters as Mr. Latchford, then Minister of Public Works, had decided should be produced had been.

Mr. Bastedo, in answer to Mr. DuVernet, said that in 1902 he had on the suggestion of Dr. Chamberlain, then inspector of asylums, contributed $50 to the political funds. That was his only subscription of the kind.

CANNOT ABOLISH BARS.

Premier Whitney's Reply to the Dominion Alliance Deputation.

Toronto, Feb. 8.—Abolish the bar rooms and stop drinking in clubs, was the request made of Premier Whitney and Hon. Mr. Hanna at the Parliament Buildings yesterday afternoon by a deputation of members of the executive committee of the Dominion Alliance.

In reply Mr. Whitney said the Government felt it to be their duty to be ready to listen at any time to representations on this question. For himself he would not admit that he stood second to any person in the country in his appreciation of the evils resulting from the drink tariff, and his desire to minimize them. The Government had no mandate to abolish the bars as requested by the deputation. The Government would do everything that commended itself to their judgment to advance the cause of temperance and minimize the evils of the liquor habit.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Meets the mother's needs in caring for the health of her little ones as no other medicine in the world can. The Tablets cure constipation, indigestion, colic, simple fevers, diarrhoea, teething troubles and expel worms. They break up colds, and prevent croup. They make children sleep naturally and healthfully because they remove the cause of sleeplessness. And they are the only medicine that gives the mother a solemn guarantee that it contains no opiate or poisonous soothing stuff. They are good for children from birth onward; they always do good; they cannot possibly do harm. Mrs. George Turner, Barry's Bay, Ont., says: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for the troubles that come to the little ones, with perfect satisfaction. I think there is no medicine can equal the Tablets." Every mother ought to keep a box of these Tablets in the house as a safeguard for her little ones." Sold by all druggists or sent by mail at 25 cents a box by writing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

THAT STAB-LIKE PAIN IN THE SMALL OF THE BACK COMES FROM THE KIDNEYS

AND CAN BE CURED BY

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

It is not the back that is aching, but the kidneys, which are situated beneath the small of the back.

Therefore, dull pain in the back, or sharp, quick twinges, are warnings of sick kidneys—warnings of kidney trouble. Plasters and liniments will not cure a bad back, for they cannot reach the kidneys which cause it. Doan's Kidney Pills reach the kidneys. That is what they are for and that only. So, if you would be free from backache, swelling of the feet and ankles, frequent or suppressed urine, painful sensation when urinating, specks floating before the eyes, frequent thirst, brick-dust deposit in the urine, or anything wrong with the urinary organs or bladder, you must keep your kidneys well. Help them to work freely, and help them to flush off all the body's waste and impurities.

Doan's Kidney Pills are made from the purest roots and herbs, and have a remarkable healing and toning effect on the kidneys. Mrs. Barling, 26 Locomotive Street, Hamilton, Ont., writes: "I had been troubled considerably with my kidneys, using many remedies, but finding no relief. I tried Doan's Kidney Pills and found them to act directly on the kindeys, and making them strong again."

Price 50 cents per box, three boxes for $1.25, all dealers or The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS.

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-West Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent, or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

Deputy of the Minister of the Interior

Reading Character By The Shape Of The Hand

PALMISTRY is divided into two branches — chirognomy, the study of character by the general shape and proportions of the hand, and the older, chiromancy, the reading of the lines and surfaces of the palms.

That the hand indicates the character is a matter of every-day experience, though some doubt the relation of the various lines to the events of one's life, despite most convincing evidence to the contrary.

To read characteristics in the hand is not a difficult matter and the study is interesting and profitable. Here are the principal types:

Large hands are the hands of people fond of very fine work, or intent upon the minutiae of life; they generally write a small hand; are great sticklers for etiquette; are easily offended by little breaches of etiquette.

Small hands show the opposite. Their owners write a large hand, look at things in a broad, quickly-satisfied manner, are easily pleased, and slowly offended, are not fond of delicate work and prefer the bustle of life to its smaller duties.

The soft hand is that of the poetic temperament, one ruled by imagination, nerves or the senses. Hence it is more frequently a woman's hand.

If soft to flabbiness these characteristics are increased till they become laziness, selfishness, heartlessness. These are often the hands of the traitor and the thief.

The hard hand denotes a practical and generally unimaginative nature. If the hardness is not exaggerated it is the sign of a straightforward disposition, fond of activity and even of hard work.

An exceedingly hard hand will show lack of intelligence, brutality and indifference to pain in others as well as one's self.

If the palm is thin, skinny and narrow it indicates timidity, meanness and poverty of intellect, also a lack of energy.

A very thick palm is a soft hand, sensuality, material instincts, overconfidence and selfishness.

A very thick palm in a hard hand with short fingers is that of the unskilled, unambitious labourer; with a bad thumb the brutal criminal.

A very hollow hand invariably denotes failure in life.

Long fingers — love of details, exactness in all small matters; worries over trifle unimportant things. They are in a bad hand, a sign of deceitfulness and cowardice.

Short fingers — neglect of details, tendency to take things for granted, and not to examine them closely enough; belong often to people rather bohemian in dress and habits.

Thick and puffy at the base — are the characteristic of fingers that belong to selfish persons, overfond of the good things of life, great eaters, drinkers, etc.

Fingers narrow at the base — Unselfishness and also close attention cleanliness, daintiness of food, etc.

Curved inward — Excess of prudence, even to poltroonry; often stubbornness and sometimes avarice.

Easily curved backward — Good, pleasant company, but gossipy and inquisitive to excess; often extravagant in money matters.

Twisted and malformed fingers — Natural cruelty, even to murder.

Smooth and transparent fingers — Lack of discretion, and love of useless talking.

Fingers too close to each other — Avaricious disposition.

A short first finger means love of activity, and a very long one a tendency to tyrannize over others.

If the second finger is long and flat melancholy is indicated, or, if long and square, sternness.

When the third finger is as long as the second, the gambling instinct will be found highly developed.

A long little finger indicates love of mental improvement and versatility, and a short one quick perception.

The rarest and finest hand of all is the hand with pointed fingers; they are almost always the natural complement of a thin, delicate, flexible palm, of a finely shaped thumb, and the knots on the fingers are hardly, if at all, noticeable. This is the hand of the artist, the composer, the poet or philosopher.

Square fingered persons are persevering, foreseeing, orderly and regular.

The spatulate-fingered person is active, energetic, quick and in constant movement.

The thumb is of great importance in character reading. The possessor of a large thumb is self reliant, often despotic, is ruled by the head, not the heart. The possessor of a small thumb is the opposite, one of ideas but not of action.

A thumb that bends back easily denotes extravagance and adaptability.

A stiff straight thumb is a sign of stubbornness, caution, secretiveness, a wealth of common sense, but little feeling.

The short, or nail phalanx, of the thumb, represents will power, self-reliance; the long, despotism, short, energy of a passive kind; very short weakness of will; long and broad, ungovernable temper, furious impulses.

The second phalanx represents logic, reasoning power, judgment. Full and clumsy, low grade of brains. Wasp-like with centre slightly concave, a brilliant intellect, quick, sharp and deep.

With a long second pahalanx, and a short first you have the talkers and arguers. With the opposite conditions you have those who act without proper reflection and often run reckless risks.

Weak minded and weak willed persons carry the thumb inside the fingers.

THE CAUSE OF WOMAN'S TROUBLE

Is Diseased Kidneys and the Cure is Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Wonderful Cure of Mrs. James Kinsella, Who Slept in a Chair for Two Summers—What She Says of It.

St. Malachie, Que., Feb. 9.—(Special)—A cure of great interest to women has attracted the attention of those interested in medical matters in this neighbourhood. Mrs. Jas. Kinsella, wife of a well-known citizen had suffered from a complication of troubles for about two years. She had a pain in the right hip, in the back and was obliged to pass water every fifteen minutes in a burning itching sort of way. She could not sleep at night and had to sit up in a chair for two summers.

Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her.

Mrs. Kinsella speaking of her cure says, "After the first box of Dodd's Kidney Pills I felt much better. Then I got more and they did me a world of good. I have never slept in the chair since I used Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Women's health depends on her kidneys. Nine-tenths of the so-called female complaints are caused by uric acid in the blood. Cure your Kidneys with Dodd's Kidney Pills and you can have no uric acid in the blood.

ARGUMENT OF C. M. A.

Removes Fiscal Controversy From Sphere of Abstract Discussion.

London, Feb. 10.—The Canadian manufacturers' memorial attracts widespread attention here. The Times published yesterday a two-column leader type article, also a strongly sympathetic editorial. The Standard also emphasizes the memorial in a special article and an editorial article.

The Times declares that the memorial, based as it is on definite and carefully collected evidence, is one of the most important documents so far issued since the fiscal controversy began, and removes the controversy from the sphere of abstract and general discussion. It concentrates attention on the actual situation with which Britain has to deal in regard to Canada, and the character of the arrangement Britain may reasonably expect if it could accept, Sir Wilfrid Laurier's offer as reiterated in his Guelph speech in October, 1904, to make a treaty of commerce based on mutual preference.

SEVEN MONTHS' SURPLUS.

Dominion Revenues and Expenditures Show Three and a Half Millions of Dollars to the Good.

Ottawa, Feb. 10—The statement of the revenue and expenditure of Canada for the seven months which ended Jan. 31st shows that the total receipts were $44,254,818, which gives a surplus of $3,543,741 over all expenditures combined. The ordinary receipts exceeded the ordinary expenditure by $10,297,757. Compared with the same period of the previous year there is a gain of $3,431,959 in receipts and an increase of over $4,000,000 in expenditures. The increase in revenue has, therefore, not kept pace with the growth in disbursements. Capital expenditure increased by $1,364,978.

BIG AWARDS FOR A NAME.

Prince Rupert Chosen Name of Grand Trunk Pacific Terminus.

Montreal, Feb. 10.—Prince Rupert will be the name of the city that will be built at the terminus of the G. T. P. company's new railway, on the Pacific ocean.

In the competition on the name, Miss Eleanor MacDonald of Winnipeg was the winner out of 12,000 answers, and she obtains the prize of $250.

The name selected does not exactly comply with the terms of the contest, but was considered most appropriate, and two people who suggested Port Rupert also get a prize. These are Mrs. John Orme of Bonnchere, Ont., and R. Kirkwood of Copper Cliff, Ont. As against Port Rupert, however, Prince Rupert constitutes the full name of the explorer, but it exceeds the conditions of the competition by two letters. On account of its selection therefore, and with the desire to accord fair treatment to all, the company have awarded the full amount of the prize offered of $250 to each of the two who suggested Port Rupert as well as to the one who suggested the name which has been adopted.

Venezuelan Troops May Desert If Hostilities Break Out.

Willemstadt, Island of Curacao, Feb 10.—A traveler who arrived here from Venezuela said: "President Castro is busily engaged in enlisting throughout the republic, and in other ways preparing for war. Generals in each state have been commissioned, and orders have been given to call the recruits to the colors. Information from the best sources indicates that the people do not support President Castro. On all sides are heard expressions of a desire to revolt and overthrow the President's Government as soon as the French blockade is declared.

"A well-informed Venezuelan told me that the troops will desert their colors, as they have all been compelled to join the army, voluntary enlistment being unknown in Venezuela. Puerto Gabello and La Guaira are the only ports capable of making a slight defence. The former has two modern six-inch guns, and the latter has four modern six-inch guns, with the usual display of old Spanish pieces, which would be blown to pieces at the first shots.

Have Rifles, But No Practice.

"It is doubted whether President Castro can raise more than 16,000 men who will take the field with any show of spirit. The men are armed with Mauser rifles, but they never practice shooting. They have 20,000,000 rounds of ball cartridge and a few mountain guns. The Venezuelan navy consists of five small craft concentrated at La Guaira.

"Well-posted persons express fear that the French citizens in Venezuela will be in great danger if war breaks out. President Castro is of a revengeful nature, and the inhabitants of the country are at his mercy."

One at a Time.

Paris, Feb. 10.—The solution of the Venezuelan difficulty, according to authoritative information, will go over until the conclusion of the Moroccan conference.

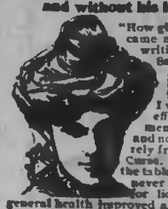
Samaria Stopped His Drinking

A London Lady cures her husband permanently of the drink habit and without his knowledge.



"How glad I am that I overcame my hesitation about writing you for a Free Sample of Samaria. At that time my husband was drinking very hard, and I was in despair. The effect of your treatment was immediate, and now our home is entirely free from the Drink Curse. I gave my husband the tablets in his tea, and he never knew. As the taste for liquor left him, his general health improved and is now splendid—many, many thanks. I will be glad if you will tell others of my experience.

CHURCH UNION IN ONE RESPECT IS ASSURED

Clergy of Different Denominations Unite in Endorsing Psychine.

Psychine, in its great work of healing those diseases that lead to consumption, and even consumption itself, has naturally come under the notice of a large number of the clergy, and many of them have felt it their duty to let the public know what splendid results come from its use. Here are a few instances of what clergyman say:—

REV. JAS. ODERY, formerly of Broadway Tabernacle, Toronto.—

"I have found Psychine to be one of the best remedies for throat and chest troubles that I know. It is prompt, efficacious and reliable"

REV. WM. H. STEVENS, Paisley, Ont.—

"Psychine seemed just the stimulant my system needed. I shall add my testimony as to its efficacy at every opportunity."

REV. R. M. BROWNE, Amherst Head, N. S.—

"I have often recommended Phychine since taking it myself, for I believe it is a cure for the troubles you specify."

REV. J. J. RICE, 51 Walker Ave., Toronto—

"My wife suffered two very severe attacks of La Grippe, one of which threatened rapid consumption, there being a hereditary tendency in that direction. They were speedily corrected by Phychine, leaving no trace of the disease."

REV. CHAS. STERLING, Bath, N. B.—

"I used have Psychine in my family; the results were marvelous. I have visited people who state they never used its equal. I have no hesitation in recommending it."

REV. J. S. I. WILSON, Parkdale, Ont.—

"I have taken two bottles of Psychine, and am pleased to say that I am greatly improved in health. I was troubled with my throat, but now I find it about restored to its normal condition. I find my work very much less taxing. I have reason to believe Psychine is all that is claimed for it."

Where sickness is there the minister of the gospel is found. His is the opportunity to note how the sufferer got relief, what furnished the relief and what caused the cure. Large numbers of the clergy of Canada recommend Psychine. They know, out of their experience, that it is the greatest preventive of consumption, the greatest builder-up of weak men and women science has given to the world.

Mr. Sills, in sending in his resignation as a member of the council, and who has gone to Belleville to reside, wrote as follows:

To the Municipal Council,
Village of Havelock.

Gentlemen,—

Having disposed of my business in Havelock, and am about to remove my family to the city of Belleville, I hereby tender my resignation of councillor for the village of Havelock. I regret exceedingly that circumstances make it necessary to sever my connection with the council of this village, and will always look back with pleasant remembrance to the time I have sat with you around the council table.

Wishing you and the village continued prosperity.

Yours respectfully,
G. L. SILLS.

Owing to Mr. Sills leaving town so suddenly, although it was known for a short time he was going, the council did not get an opportunity to give him a send-off befitting the man who has acted as one of the village fathers for the past year, and was again elected for 1906. They were making arrangements for a banquet to Mr. Sills, when they found out he had gone.

The annual meeting of the congregation of the Lakefield Presbyterian church, was held in the church on Wednesday evening.

After a short service of prayer and praise the pastor, Rev. C. K. Campbell, read a very full and comprehensive report from the session, reviewing the work of the church for the year 1905, and speaking feelingly of the removal by death of several esteemed members of the congregation. This report showed a considerable increase in membership during the year.

The treasurer of the church, Mr. E. A. Tanner, read the financial statement, showing the receipts and expenditures by the board of management. The report disclosed a very successful year, considerable improvement in the church property having been effected, notably at the manse; all other disbursements were promptly made, including the usual yearly payment on the church debt, and a comfortable balance remains on hand to begin the new year. Aside from this $108 was raised for the use of the church choir, and a total of $285 given to the benevolent and missionary schemes of the church. The reports were on motion adopted.

The following were elected to the Board of Management: Messrs. J. H. Chant, E. A. Tanner, S. Garbutt, and W. Blewett. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

THERE are many kinds of flour sold. Some are made from spring wheat and some from winter wheat.

What you ought to know is which wheat makes the best flour, and why.

Winter wheat is put into the ground in the fall, grows a few inches, then gives up to the snow. When the snow melts it grows again, ripening in July. It matures slowly, is soft and very starchy.

Spring wheat is sown in late April or early May, and ripens in August. It matures rapidly and is therefore strong. It's a flinty, translucent wheat, rich in gluten and containing nearly twice as much real nutriment as the winter wheat.

Tea Flavor and Strength

THE greater body and richness of Indian tea when combined with the delicately flavored but thinner tea of Ceylon, produces that "rich fruity flavor" of Red Rose Tea—a tea that is strong and goes further—requires less to make a cup of equal strength than any brand of Ceylon tea alone.

Red Rose Tea combines the strength and richness of Indian tea and the delicacy and fragrance of Ceylon tea.

GOOD PROSPECTS

—FOR LABOUR THIS YEAR IN—

ELECTRIC CITY

A Special Research Gives the Information That Labour Will be Well Employed in 1906.

All Large Employing Industries Are Busy and the Building Trade Prospects are Excellent.

Peterborough is enjoying an almost unprecedented period of prosperity and from present indications the good times are to continue. At no previous time in the city's history have working men been so prosperous and never before has there been so few men out of work, particularly at this season of the year, naturally the dullest time for many trades. Many things point to the prosperity of the citizens of Peterborough. All over the city during the past year, comfortable modern houses have been going up, and an investigation shows that a large percentage of these are owned by working men, who are permitted by the abundance of work and good wages to thus establish cosy homes for themselves. The various banking institutions all report plenty of money in circulation an unfailing sign that times are good and that the working man is enjoying a large measure of prosperity.

At present the number of men out of work is surprisingly small in comparison to the population of the city. An Examiner reporter has made investigation along this line which go to show that few people are unemployed and of these the majority are men who are out of work because of the winter. Men who are employed at out door work, especially in the building and painting trades are of course, unable to work when the weather is severe. Even in these trades men have had a busy season as the warm weather has made it possible for a large amount of outdoor work to be done and as a result those engaged in the building trade have been greatly pleased with the season.

Poverty seems to have been banished from Peterborough. The appeals made to the Charity Board for assistance recently have been few and far between and this may be taken as another evidence of the prosperity that at present reigns in Peterborough.

Conversing with a gentleman prominent in labour circles, the Examiner reporter learned that the coming year gives promise of great things for the working men and that there should be no excuse for any one to be unemployed, as there will be plenty of work for all classes.

"There will be work for anyone that wants it," said one man yesterday. "Of course," he added, "there are men who go round looking for work and at the same time pray that they wont get it." That class will probably be out of work no matter what turns up, but for those really wanting employment there will be no trouble in securing it.

Every manufacturing concern in Peterborough is in a prosperous condition and as far as as can be judged from the present toutlook are likely to remain so. Employment for many hundreds of men is thus assured. The demand for good men at these concerns is always steady and the right people will have no trouble in securing profitable employment. Peterborough with its C.G.E. Works employing nearly 1,000 hands; American Cereal Company, with 500; the Cordage Works with 200; the Auburn Woollen Mills with a similar number, and a score of other concerns all employing many hands, offers inducements to the workingman such as few other cities of its size in Canada can do. The result is seen by the influx of mechanics into the city. During the last year large numbers of new comers arrived in Peterborough, the greater part of whom found employment and have permanently settled here. "Why, I feel as if I didn't know anyone here," remarked a gentleman who has been away for a year, as he gazed on the unfamiliar faces on George street, "when I went away I thought I knew every one in Peterborough, but so many newcomers are here now that I feel like a stranger in a strange land."

The summer of 1906 promises to be a busy one for those engaged in the building trades. The prospects are that there will be a great deal of building done. One gentleman stated to-day that while it was not likely that there would be as many new houses built as in 1905 there would be several big contracts under way that would more than make up for the slight falling off in the number of houses erected. With the new Drehall, armouries, etc., there will be an abundance of work for both skilled and unskilled labour and the supply will hardly be equal to the demand.

The outlook for the labour man for the coming year may be considered very rosy and unless an unforseen contingency arises the year should be a banner one.

Some Internal Troubles With The Power Cos.

Gas and Electricity Were Denied City Consumers for a Few Hours.

Wheel Shaft Broke at No. 5 Dam—Gas Pipe Was Clogged.

The Peterborough Light and Power Company and the Otonabee Power Company last night experienced some trouble in their internal workings, and as a result the consumers of electricity last night, and the gas users this morning as well as the companies mentioned were put to considerable inconvenience. The Otonabee Power Company's trouble was at the power house. About 5 o'clock the shaft on one of the three water wheels snapped off, and the plant had to be closed down while the load was being transferred to the two remaining wheels. As to the cause for the shaft breaking it has not been determined as yet. On Tuesday the anchor ice broke in the rock, and it may be that a portion of the rock has become mixed up with the wheel. Another theory is that the sudden throwing on of a heavy load from the Cordage Works, caused the break.

The plant was started again with the two wheels at 9 o'clock, and to-day the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Company is making a new shaft which will be connected up for Monday.

This is the first shut-down this Company has had in two years, so that the consumers have little cause for complaint.

Gas Supply Off.

This morning a good many men had late breakfasts, when they got up to set the gas stoves going for their wives when they should come down half an hour later, they found that the gas wouldn't light, and recourse was had to the old wood stove.

The trouble this time was in the pipes outside the gas house, in which an obstruction had developed during the night. The first intimation the employers of the works had that anything was wrong, was when the C. G.E. attempted to light their gas at 7 o'clock, when the trouble was discovered. A force of men was put on the job of locating the seat of the trouble, and about 11 o'clock the obstruction was removed and the gas again flowed freely.

The fault in neither case was with the Company, it should be said.

Type Setting Machines Idle; The Gas Failed

The Examiner has to do something to-day that is seldom necessary. The quantity of composition in the paper is somewhat less than the usual quantity, and the reason is that the gas which furnishes the heat for the big typesetting machines failed this morning for three hours, and the news room staff were for that space of time set to work on the cases, in hand composition.

An obstruction in the gas main leading from the gas house, shut off the whole supply to the city, and this was not remedied until about eleven o'clock, when the machines were again placed in commission. Some matter in the two local evening papers is duplicated to-day, and this is the result of co-operation. Both papers were companions in trouble to-day, and did their best to help each other.

An Interesting Essay Was Read At T.A.S. Literary

Miss Nora Fitzgerald's Paper on Shakespere Was Much Enjoyed.

Life of the Great English Writer Dealt With in Interesting Manner.

The members of the Ladies' Literary Association of St. Peter's T. (A. S. were given a truly literary treat last evening when Miss Nora Fitzgerald read a most entertaining and instructive paper on "Shakespeare." The essayist made it very evident that she possessed a wide knowledge of the bard and his works by encompassing so large a subject in a few pages.

Miss Fitzgerald dealt first with the early life of this man, whose name is the greatest in the annals of English literature; his marriage to Anne Hathaway at the age of 19, and his going to London when only 22, where he became first an actor and then a writer for the stage. The popularity of his works was evinced by his receiving special marks of favor from Queen Elizabeth and her successor, King James.

The thirty-seven plays are classified as tragedies, histories and comedies. The first work printed with his name attached was the poem, "Venus and Adonis," which appeared in 1593. This was followed by "Lucrece" in 1594, and his "Sonnets," 154 in all, which, with the poem entitled "A Lover's Complaint," appeared in 1609.

Seven years after Shakespeare's death, John Heming and Henry Condell appeared in the "First Folio," which contained twenty hitherto unpublished plays. Although these were warranted as "true original copies," they were very imperfect in both number and typography. A second folio edition, containing the same plays, followed in 1632, and a third, which is considered the most complete, as it contained thirty-six plays, those of the preceding editions with "Perides" and six dramas not included in modern editions, made its appearance in 1664.

Criticisms of Shakespeare's plays occupy a large space in English literature. Francis Meri's "Wits Treasury," published in 1598, contains important reference to the bard's plays. In part he says, "As the soul of Euphorbus was thought to live in Pythagorus, so the sweet, witty soul of Ovid lives in the mill'fluous and honey-tongued Shakespeare, witness his "Venus and Adonis," his "Lucrice," and his sonnets among his private friends," and again, "As Plautus and Seneca were accounted the best for comedy and tragedy among the Latins, so Shakespeare among the English is the most excellent in both kinds for the stage; for comedy, witness his "Gentlemen of Verona," "Comedy of Errors," "Love's Labours Lost," "A Midsummer Night's Dream," and this "Merchant of Venice"; for tragedy, his "Richard II.," "Richard III.," "Henry IV." "King John," and "Romeo and Juliet."

Ben Johnson's "Observations on Men and Manners," printed in 1641, also refers to Shakespeare in most praiseworthy terms.

It is said that very little is known of Shakespeare, his life and habits. "No letter of his writing, no record of his conversation, no character of him

WILL NORWOOD OR

—LAKEFIELD GET THE NEW—

HOUSE OF REFUGE?

County Council Considered Site Question To-day at a Meeting in Which Tenders Were Opened.

Some Lots Near Peterborough Are Available But Council is Not Favourable to the Proposal.

The County Council, which returned home last night after a visit of four days to the Houses of Refuge in Lindsay, Whitby, Stratford, St. Thomas and other cities, met this morning to consider the House of Refuge situation.

The Council has been busy all day in considering the question of a site. The Council went into committee at once on meeting this morning, and tenders were opened from property owners in and around Lakefield and Norwood, offering lots for the site of the House of Refuge. Various lots were offered, many of which would no doubt be suitable for the purpose intended. The prices ranged from $4,000 to $7,500, the prevailing figures being from $65 to $100 per acre.

The Council, after the tenders had been read, went into a thorough discussion of the different sites. There was great difficulty experienced in coming to anything near a decision on the subject. Warden Johnston was of the opinion that the Council should wait for a while before going ahead with the project. There was plenty of time, and he had been informed by Mr. Bradburn that several lots near Peterborough were available which might be advantageously considered.

The members of the Council then entered into a general discussion on the subjects of sites. The question of locating near Peterborough was considered, but the Council were not favourable to establishing the institution there. It was pointed out, however, that there might be advantages in having it near the city, on account of the sewage and water facilities.

Mr. Peck said that to make use of the Peterborough sewer the building would have to be erected along the continuation of Leake street to the river.

Warden Johnston thought that if the House of Refuge were erected near Peterborough it would, in a few years, be right in the heart of the city, in which case there would be no lack of inmates. The Council would have to pay enough for water if they were near Peterborough.

The discussion continued until noon, when the Council adjourned to luncheon. No decision was arrived at, the members, it is said, being divided in opinion between Lakefield and Norwood.

The Peterborough side of the question did not receive much attention, the main argument being between the Norwood and Lakefield factions. It is said that the Lakefield supporters are in the majority of six to four. The members of the Council who are, it is said, in favour of Lakefield being selected, are Messrs. Shaw, Garbutt, Stinson, Monoghan, Moloney and Webster, while Messrs. Buck, Andrews, Carey and Warden Johnston are holding out for Norwood.

The Council met again after luncheon, and after much discussion on the subject on which no decision was reached, the Council adjourned for two weeks to allow other property owners to send in tenders, in view of the fact that none had been from people of North Monaghan and Peterborough.

Board Of Work's Afternoon Session

Considered Question of Sidings and Telephone Poles.

The Board of Works held a meeting yesterday afternoon. In the Mayor's office the committee considered an application from the Canadian Machine Telephone Company for permission to erect some poles on the streets. This request was granted, subject to the usual conditions.

The Board then were driven to the corner of Monaghan road and Romaine street, where the C. P. R. crosses the street. The company asked that they be allowed to move their tracks to prevent crossing three streets there, as is the case now. The Board decided to take no action on the matter, but the company may make the change if it wishes, the Council taking no responsibility in the matter.

The other question considered was the application of the Peterborough Fuel and Cartage Company for permission to extend a siding across the street into their yards. This the Board considered favourably, and permission will be given.

Chicken Thieves Getting Common

Chicken thieves seem to be getting common in East City, and several residents in that portion of Peterborough are complaining of raids made on their hen-houses. One gentleman lost several hens the other night, and is now on the still hunt for the poultry fanciers who have been helping themselves to other people's property.

County Council Asked To Aid In Securing School

The Advantage of Having New Normal School Here Was Pointed Out.

When the County Council meeting opened this morning, a deputation, composed of Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M. P.P.; Mayor Best, Mr. D. Hughes Charles, president of the Board of Trade, and Mr. W. G. Ferguson, chairman of the Board of Education, waited on the Council in reference to sending a deputation to Toronto to urge upon the Government the advisability of establishing one of the new Normal Schools in Peterborough.

Mr. Bradburn, in opening the matter, asked for the co-operation of the Council in sending a deputation to Toronto. The other members of the delegation also briefly pointed out the advantages that would accrue not only to the city, but to the county, if the Normal School was established in Peterborough. Mr. Richard Lees, County School Inspector, also addressed the Council on the subject. He stated that the Normal School would prove a great stimulus to educational matters, not only in the city, but also in the county.

The matter was referred to the Finance Committee.

Thirty Fifth Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Smith Will Celebrate Wedding.

On Feb. 13th, Mr. Fred Smith will go to Lindsay, where his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hall Smith will celebrate their thirty-fifth wedding anniversary. A family reunion will be held in commemoration of the event, at which all the children and grand children will be present.

A "RUBBER" CALENDAR.

The Canadian Rubber Company, of Montreal, Limited, have just published one of the finest trade calendars we have yet seen. The size is 22x15 inches, and there is a sheet for each month. On every page is displayed engravings of some of the company's most noted rubber products, and this feature is very interesting and quite novel so far as the rubber companies in the Dominion are concerned. The date figures in the calendar are very large, and the banking and other holidays are [illegible]. The company has issued many thousands of these calendars, put up in cartons, ready for mailing, and any business firm in the Dominion can obtain one by simply sending a written request to either the head office, Montreal, or any of the sales branches throughout Canada.

Should A Man Marry Before Or After Thirty?

In view of the fact that The Examiner has recently published a number of letters on the all-absorbing question of matrimony, some interest will be taken in a controversy which Progress, a new Toronto magazine, has been conducting. The question upon which answers were asked was "Should a man marry before or after 30, and why?" One letter in the last number was from Miss Bernier Campbell, of Peterborough, and is as follows:

This is a very hard question to answer, and I expect you will find no two people agree. I have had no experience, and therefore, perhaps, my opinion does not count for much, but I should say everything depends on the kind of man in question. Some men should never get married at all, while others I have seen might very well get married before they are 30 and I know some under this age who are well married.

Lots of men are naturally born bachelors, and I'd be sorry for the woman who married them. They are generally selfish fellows, who think only of themselves, and you can't change them. They hate to be put out or disturbed about anything, and they are just a burden about the house. I expect you have met this kind. Talk about old maids being precise! I have seen bachelors who could beat them all over the lot, and I'm only a young woman yet. Such men should never get married. It's a mistake to unarry them in the hope of reform.

Mr. Joseph Frappy, of Campbellford, was also a contributor to this controversy, and his letter was adjudged the best. It is as follows:

"After 30 a man's ideals of life are fully formed, his will more firmly set, and his disposition more intolerant to change. His habits are likely to be too freely moulded to adapt themselves harmoniously to the new responsibilities, to an environment entirely strange. His home should be a sacred refuge from the cares of life, but the clash of new duties on a fully matured disposition often renders it a place of care.

"A late marriage widens the gap between a father and his children. If the is old when they are blossoming into youth his influence is likely to be little, and the training and companionship will be both difficult and uncongenial.

"Marriage is said to be the nursery of heaven. Certain it is that most crimes are committed either by unmarried men or they arise from habits formed before marriage. Many a young man drifts aimlessly into the sea of immorality and crime, like a ship without a chart, when a judicious marriage would have changed the current of his feelings, and given him a centre for his thoughts, his affections, and his acts."

A DEPUTATION TO WAIT ON THE ONTARIO GOVERNMENT TO SECURE NORMAL SCHOOL

Joint Conference Was Held Last Night—City Council, County Council, Board of Education and Board of Trade to Co-operate.

Next Wednesday the Deputations Will go to Toronto—Chances for Securing New Institution Are Good—A Memorial to be Presented.

On Wednesday last a deputation representing the City Council, the Board of Education, Separate School Board, Board of Trade, and the citizens generally, will go to Toronto for the purpose of asking the Ontario Government to establish in Peterlish in Peterborough one of the three new Normal Schools which will be erected in Ontario, according to the new policy which will be adopted by the Government, if reports are correct.

This decision to send a deputation was arrived at last night at a conference held in the City Clerk's office, at which there were present, T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., Mayor Best, Ald. Mason and Adams, W. G. Ferguson, chairman of the Board of Education, W. Pringle, C. Fessenden, E. G. Patterson, R. M. Dennistoun, T. F. Matthews, W. H. Meldrum and W. H. Moore.

The conference was arranged at the suggestion of Mr. Bradburn, who proposed that a deputation should be sent to Toronto to wait on the Government in connection with the matter, and it was arranged that this deputation should go on Wednesday. The personnel of the delegation will be decided upon to-night, but at any rate, it will include His Worship Mayor Best, Ald. Adams, Hicks, Mason and McWilliams, the chairman of the council committees; Mr. W. G. Ferguson, chairman of the Board of Education, and the members of the Board, the members of the Separate School Board; representatives from the Board of Trade, and a number of citizens who will be chosen to-night.

MR. R. M. DENNISTOUN,
Who Was Appointed Chairman of Special Committee.

It was also decided last night that a memorial should be prepared setting forth the peculiar advantages which Peterborough possesses for the establishment of the Normal School, and this memorial will be presented to the Government for the purpose of reference. The committee appointed to prepare this memorial is composed of Mayor Best, W. G. Ferguson, R. M. Dennistoun, Rev. Father McColl, D. Walker and W. H. Moore. This committee will meet to-night in the City Clerk's office. Mr. R. M. Dennistoun was elected chairman of the committee.

His Worship was chairman of the meeting and introduced the subject for which the meeting was called, that of discussing the prospects for procuring for the city of Peterborough, one of the three Normal schools which the Government had decided to build in the province. He thought that there was no question of the desirability of securing the school, if possible, and asked Mr. Bradburn to state the situation. Mr. Bradburn thought that the establishment of a Normal School would be a great advantage to the city. He explained that he had received

For Protection Of
THE FORESTS OF The Great Dominion

Active Steps Will be Taken by the Canadian Forestry Association—Senator Edwards Gives His Views on the Question in Practical Address—A Systematic Study of Conditions Necessary.

The recent Forestry Convention, considered as a means of informing and stimulating public opinion on this important subject, was unusually successful. Doubtless the many facts presented and the numerous suggestions offered will lead to valuable practical results.

In certain directions, however, and these among the most important, there appeared to be a considerable diversity of opinion among Government officials, and the representatives of railways, lumbering, and pulpwood interests, as to the best policy to be adopted for insuring a permanent supply of timber, and for the most economic management of the forest areas. Evidently much of the difficulty was due to the lack of adequate and reliable information as to the actual resources of our forests, and the conditions under which they are maintained and reproduced. Hence, one of the first practical moves to be made, on the part of the Governments, Dominion and Provincial, who are the custodians of these great natural resources, must be to undertake a systematic and experimental study of the forest conditions of Canada.

In the course of an address before the Convention, one of the shrewdest and most practical of Canadian lumbermen, Senator Edwards, threw out certain suggestions which indicated the possibility of combining such a practical investigation on the part of the Government with a systematic training of students in the various branches of Forestry. These and other suggestions made in the course of the proceedings of the Convention, have given shape to the following proposals as to a practical Forestry policy:

A systematic scheme of Forestry divides naturally into two branches. On the one hand, there is the introduction of tree plantations for ornament, cattle shelter, windbreaks and fuel. On the comparatively treeless plains of the Northwest, and other parts of the country which have been more or less completely denuded of timber. This work can best be carried on, as at present, under the direction of the Dominion and Provincial Experimental Farms and the Educational or other institutions connected with them. On the other hand there is the problem of the preservation and administration of the existing forest areas, including the burnt districts and those which have been comparatively exhausted by destructive lumbering operations, but which under careful management might be gradually restored. Senator Edwards pointed out the various practical details and experiments connected with a thorough investigation of these matmatters can only be carried out in actual forest areas. This is indeed the principle already recognized in the location of experimental farms and agricultural colleges.

It is surely advisable, therefore, that the Provincial Government of Ontario, if not of the other provinces as well, should set apart a suitable timber reserve, for purposes at once of regular and experimental operation, with a view to obtaining accurate data for the future guidance of both the Government and the lumbermen. From the results thus obtained we should expect reliable information as to the thorough the cutting of a regular annual or other periodic crop, as to the most efficient and economic disposal of brush and other waste timber, the most effective means for preventing and assisting the natural recuperative power of the various economic woods which make different kinds of timber or other forest products, and the areas best adapted to the production of the most aluable species. From the data thus gathered The Government would be in a position to determine with increasing accuracy, the value to the country of the normal annual crop which might be expected from the chief commercial woods, and hence what regular avenue the Government might legitimately derive from its forests; also what conditions should be imposed upon those who are to be granted the privilege of cutting timber for the future, or which those now having timber limits under lease may be required or induced to accept.

In connection with such a Government Forestry reserve, sufficiently large and typical to afford the necessary range for continuous operation and experiment, the educational side of forestry should obviously be undertaken. On such a reserve a Government School of Forestry should be established, and the work of the reserve could be carried on with the assistance of the students. They would be employed in making practical surveys of the standing timber per acre, in measuring and determining its annual increase, in marking the trees to be cut, and in acquiring a practical knowledge of all departments of lumbering operations, including the disposal of the brush, and the taking of other precautions against destructive fires. They would be specially engaged in experiments connected with the reproductive and reforesting capacity of the various trees, and in seeking a practical solution for the varied problems connected with all the departments of forestry. It should require little argument to prove that only at such an institution, located on an actual timber reserve, can forestry as such be adequately taught. The preparation for such a course, however, in the lines of mathematics, chemistry, physics, mechanics, geology, vegetable and animal biology, surveying, economics, etc., can best be supplied at one or other of the adequately equipped universities or schools of applied science throughout the country. Students from these institutions, after passing an approved examination on the preliminary studies deemed necessary, could enter upon a specific course in forestry at the Central Government School. On a reserve of sufficient area for the various purposes to be served, such an institution could be practically self-supporting.

Details of the plan here outlined, sufficient at any rate to bring it into practical operation, could be readily determined by a committee or commission representative of the Government or Governments interested, the lumbering and pulp-wood interests, and the educational institutions. It would not be necessary to begin operations on a very large scale, for, under competent management, experience would indicate the natural development and co-ordination of the various branches of the work.

The recent Forestry Convention has brought home to the people, in a striking manner, the fact that it is high time for some rational and specific movement to be made in the direction of furnishing the most ample and accurate data possible on the subject of Forestry in all its interests, public and private. It is quite obvious that the initiative must be taken by the Government, alike for its own information, and for that of the lumbermen and general public. Few portions of North America have now the facilities of Ontario or Quebec for establishing, within reasonable distance of the great centres of population a thoroughly adequate experimental and educational reserve. It is natural to suppose that Ontario in this matter should take the lead, and if a comprehensive plan is intelligently carried out, there is every reason to expect that we shall have before long the leading institution of its kind on this continent.

A Deputation To Secure A Normal School

ed about six weeks ago a circular which the Minister of Education had sent out, in which it was suggested that the Government intended to abolish the Model Schools and establish three new Normal Schools, and thereby produce a higher grade of teachers than is possible by the Model Schools. He pointed out that for many reasons Peterborough was well located, geographically, for the site of the new school, and suggested that a deputation should be sent to Toronto, and he had arranged with Hon. Dr. Pyne for the deputation to meet him at noon on Wednesday. He suggested that a statement of claim should be prepared, setting forth the advantages which Peterborough possessed for the location of the new Normal School. He thought there could be no two opinions on the desirability of making an effort to secure the institution for Peterborough.

Mr. C. Fessenden, speaking on the question, said that from the standpoint of the Government itself Peterborough had a number of special advantages. The present situation was that the schools at London and Toronto were crowded while that at Ottawa was not, which showed that the greater number of teachers com from the western part of the province.

There would be in attendance on an average 100 to 200 pupils, the presence of whom in the city would prove a considerable benefit to the city. Mr. Fessenden referred to the proposal to combine the Collegiate Institute and Normal School which would, he said, prove a saving of $20,000 each. There would be a number of rooms which could be used in common by both schools. He mentioned that the assembly hall, gymnasium and two libraries each could be utilized by both in common. Then the heating plant could be installed much cheaper in one building than in two. Then in the cost of maintaining there would also be a considerable saving. One drill instructor could serve the two and one janitor in addition to the usual instructor and other teachers which could also be used by both schools.

Mr. Patterson was of the opinion that the object of the meeting should be to formulate a policy to impress the Government with the claim of Peterborough, instead of the details. He was not favourable to the proposal to suggest the combination mentioned, because if the Government took as long to build the Normal School as the School Board to build the Collegiate Institute, it would be the children's children who would attend. He thought the city should be prepared to offer the Government a free site for the school.

Mr. W. G. Ferguson, speaking for the Board, said that the Collegiate Institute would be built in any case, whether the Normal School was secured or not, but if the Normal School could be secured in connection with the Institute it would be a good plan. He favoured forming a good strong deputation to send to Toronto to lay the case before the Government.

Mr. W. Pringle concurred in Mr. Ferguson's opinion, and said he could add nothing to the discussion.

Mr. R. M. Dennistoun said that it would appear that a better Collegiate Institute could be secured by co-operation with the Government in the erection of the Normal School. There was some difficulty confronting the Board in erecting the Institute for $50,000, but if the Government would be prepared to spend, say $100,000, for the $150,000 which the two would spend, there would be a better building for both the Collegiate Institute and the Normal School. He thought that the question of the combination should be decided before the deputation went to Toronto, in order that a strong case could be presented.

Mr. W. H. Moore thought that there was a complete unanimity as to the desirability of securing, if possible, the new school. He pointed out that the other towns in opposition to Peterborough had no such inducements to offer as Peterborough. This city was in a unique position as far as adaptibility was concerned. He believed that the better way to do was to submit to the Minister of Education a memorial setting forth the advantages possessed by Peterborough, and suggested that a small committee be formed to prepare it.

He moved, therefore, that the Mayor, Messrs. W. G. Ferguson, R. M. Dennistoun, C. Fessenden, Rev. Father McColl, Dr. Walker and the mover be a committee to prepare this document. The motion was carried unanimously, and this committee will meet tonight.

Last night the meeting in the Murray Street Baptist Church was well attended. It was held in the basement of the church, on account of the lights in the church being out. Rev. To-morrow the pastor Rev. F. J. Scott will preach at both services, and Rev. Mr. Welsh will be here again next week to assist in the services.

Bright Weather Brings Crowd

Beef, Butter and Eggs Were Most Prominent at Market.

The usual large number that visits the market on a bright day was present to-day and made this morning's market one of the best of this season.

Sleighs and wheels were situated alternately around the square and it was easy guessing to tell from which direction the owners of the conveyances came.

On the outside market beef was again the prominent offering, front quarters selling for 5c and hind from 6c to 6 1-2 cents per lb. Pork is gradually increasing in quantity as spring is approaching; the prices though remain constant, 10c for front and 11c for hind being the prevailing prices.

Products of the garden were more plentiful this morning than generally on account of the rise in the temperature.

Timothy hay was also a prominent commodity, the general price being $9 per ton.

If the market hall, it was a very difficult proposition for a person to wend his way through the crowd and the scarce articles rapidly changed ownerships.

Butter and eggs were the most noticeable; the former was offered for from 23c to 25c per lb, and the latter from 22c to 25c. per doz. Chickens are gradually becoming rarer and sold at from 80c to $1.00 per pair.

The following were the prevailing prices at this morning's market:—

Butter, per lb	22	to	25
Eggs, per doz	23	to	25
Chickens, per pair	80	to	$1 00
Geese, each	$1 20	to	....

A Friendly Paper's Gentle Sarcasm

The retirement of Dr. Beattie Nesbitt from active Toronto politics to the calm of a Government office will deprive the politicians of that city of one of their most horrifying "rag babies" for the frightening of naughty voters. Whenever the people up there began to give any attention to their public affairs, a section of the Toronto press immediately tried to set their teeth chattering over the approach of that awful being — a "Boss"—and they were warned that, whatever they might do, they must not do anything to increase his malign power.

If they voted for him, they strengthened him; if they attacked him, they added to his prominence. The only thing apparently which the timid and awe-struck Torontonians could do with safety was to sneak around by the back streets to the polls, say nothing to any man, and stab this terrible being in the back with a ballot. If they failed to do this, he would infallibly gobble Toronto up. Premier Whitney was represented as cowering before him. He made and unmade mayors and aldermen. He was a modern Warwick doing business in Toronto, Ont.

And now he has taken a simple office in one corner of the great city he might have ruled, at the gift of the Premier who was represented as perpetually trembling in his fatty sufferance. What can have happened? Is the part greater than the whole in Toronto? Or is this a concession of conscience brought on by the late Torrey-Alexander meetings in that city? Has the "Boss" abandoned his prey?

Or is it merely that the good Toronto press suffered from an attack of "nerves?" We have a Tammany down here, but it does not keep the majority of us awake at nights.—Montreal Star, (Conservative.)

The Japs expect to increase the tonnage of their navy to 400,000 tons by the end of 1908.

Mr. F. Skitch's Aunt's Death

She Passed Away Suddenly in Port Hope.

Mr. Fred Skitch, of the G.N.W. Telegraph Company, received word today of the sudden death in Port Hope yesterday of his aunt, Mrs. Harry Skitch. The Port Hope Guide, reporting her death says: — "Mrs. Skitch was not in the best of health, but was never considered serious and was around as usual. She attended the tea at the Methodist church on Thursday evening, but feeling unwell she had to leave before the entertainment was over. This morning she took a small dose of medicine but her illness was so slight that it was not thought necessary to call a doctor. Just at noon, however, her stomach took a bad turn and in endeavouring to vomit she fell in a faint. Doctor Powers and Clementi were at once summoned, but medical aid proved of no avail and she passed away in the course of a few minutes."

The funeral will take place on Sunday, and Mr. Fred Skitch will leave to-night to attend the funeral.

Shot Did Great Deal Of Damage

Someone Threw Ice Through Sergt.-Major Britton's Window.

Some person, thought to be a schoolboy, caused much damage at the residence of Sergt.-Major Brittain, Murray street, yesterday afternoon, by throwing a large piece of ice through the front window. In addition to breaking the double glass, the missile smashed a jardiniere stand, and then finished by shattering the plate-glass door in a valuable bookcase. The police have been informed of the affair, and the guilty party will be prosecuted.

Special Sermon In St. John's

To-morrow in St. John's church, Rev. G. F. Davidson, Vicar of St. George's church, Guelph, will preach at both services. Mr. Davidson, it will be remembered, preached here about a year ago, so that he is no stranger to St. John's congregation. He will also give an illustrated lecture on Monday night on "Old London."

BE READY FOR GROUP

AND INSIST ON HAVING THE TIME TESTED MEDICINES.

It is not a question of whether you will need a treatment for coughs, colds and croup in your homes, but the question is will you select the most effective medicine or simply be satisfied to take whatever your druggist happens to hand out to you?

Time and experience have proven that you can depend on Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine at all times.

It is only necessary to remember this when the critical time comes and to insist on getting what you ask for.

Should you have children that are subject to croup you had better keep a bottle of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine in the house for when the choking spasm comes on there is little time to send for doctor or medicine.

It seems scarcely necessary to dwell on the merits of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine as a cure for croup, bronchitis, whooping cough, etc. Most of us have known it from childhood up. It is almost as familiar as Dr. Chase's Receipt Book.

Mr. G. N. Morrison, 31 Fuller street, Toronto, Ont., writes: "Gentlemen, — If it should be of satisfaction to you to know (as it certainly has been to me in the past) permit me to say that I have used Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine in my family for years, and have found it from experience to be the best cough medicine. I suppose that I have used eight bottles this past winter; my children will have nothing else, and the best of results invariably ensue. I have also recommended it strongly. If this unsolicited testimonial be of any service to you the pleasure is mine in transmitting it."

Being pleasant to the taste, it is readily taken by the children. Because it brings quick relief to the suffering from asthma, bronchitis, whooping cough, and all the more serious disease of the throat and lungs, it is invaluable as a household medicine. 25 cents a bottle at all dealers.

COLDS COUGHS GRIP
"During the recent Grip epidemic, claiming a million victims or more, the efficacy of Peruna in quickly relieving this malady and its after-effects has been the talk of the continent."—N. Y. Journal.
DOMINION

CANADA
CATARRHAL DISEASES

LIKE A DEMON grip has crossed the country, leaving behind scores of physical wrecks.

Victims of catarrh of the head, catarrh of the throat, catarrh of the lungs, catarrh of the stomach, catarrh of the kidneys, catarrh of the pelvic organs, are to be counted by hundreds of thousands.

Grip is epidemic catarrh, and sows the seed of chronic catarrh within the system.

This is so true that few grip sufferers are able to make a complete recovery until they have used Peruna.

Never in the history of medicine has a remedy received such unqualified and universal eulogies as Peruna.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

La Grippe Victims Restored by Pe-ru-na.

Miss Alicia Newell, 6 Stanley street, Montreal, Can., charter member Societe Francais Bienfaisance, writes:

"We had a siege of la grippe in the family and I, as well as some of my friends, was a victim of the malady.

"Three bottles of Peruna assisted me to complete recovery, and some of my friends regained their health by even less.

"La grippe, as a rule, leaves one debilitated and nervous, but I noticed in every case where Peruna was used, the recovery was not only complete, but the medicine seemed to infuse new life and vigor."—Alicia Newell.

President La Pharmacie Latoniuse Recommends Pe-ru-na.

Mr. J. A. Goyer, President La Pharmacie Latoniuse, 1063 St. Denis street, Montreal, Can., writes:

"I can highly recommend your inestimable preparation, Peruna, to all those who suffer from the bad after-effects of la grippe.

"Two bottles of Peruna have brought to me a complete cure of that sickness, and it has acted as the best tonic for the system that I have ever experienced."—J. A. Goyer.

Prostrated With Grip—Cured by Pe-ru-na.

Miss J. A. McGibbin, 871 William street, London, Ont., writes:

"I was prostrated with the grip last winter and it left me with a severe bronchial affection and catarrh of the larynx.

"The doctor's prescriptions seemed powerless and I was going from bad to worse, until I was advised to try Peruna.

"I took four bottles and it entirely removed the complaint. Words cannot express my appreciation for the good that Peruna did for me."—J. A. McGibbin.

WHY?

A news paragraph in a Toronto journal gives the information that two portraits in oils, of Hon. J. P. Whitney and of the late Sir John Macdonald have been hung out upon the outer walls of the Legislative Chambers of the Parliament Building, Toronto, facing the grand staircase. This is quite proper and fitting—both are prominent and eminent men, who have been placed in good company, for the walls in the vicinity are adorned with the portraits of Mackenzie—or rateer the Mackenzies—both him of the stone-cutter's chisel and him of the patriot's rifle—Blake, Pardee, Meredith, Ross and several distinguished judges. The paragraph, however, tells us something that gives us pause, tells us that the portrait of Sir John is only fractional, only three-quarter size, while that of Mr. Whitney is a "little over life size." Why this distinction in prominence? Isn't Mr. Whitney large enough without a flattering painter making him really bigger than he is, and why diminish Sir John by a quarter? Had the painter, Mr Forster, been as good a Conservative as he is an artist, he would have given "the little more than life size" to Sir John. Sir John has admirers who wouldn't "stand for" any three-quarter measures. His admirers who rejected with grand scorn the indignity sought to be placed upon Sir John by the propdsal to remove his statue from the most conspicuous site in Queen's Park, at the head of College avenue, to give place to the statue of a mere queen, and that queen only Queen Victoria, would not have done so. Loyalty to the Queen was all right enough, but when it was demanded that it should take precedence to a party leader—it wasn't all right enough. A similar problem presented itself on the historic "Gore" at Hamilton, but here again it was said that Sir John won out. The Queen's statue had, so to speak, to play second fiddle, rather than disturb the position of preferment accorded to Sir John. Then why the change of sentiment in the matter of the portraits? Why is the late chieftain curtailed to a mere three-quarter length, and the present chieftain made a little over life size?" Of course, it is not our affair, but in the case of portraits of public men, who are public property, so conspicuously displayed and properly so, on the walls of public property, the exercise of a little curiosity, as to the why and wherefore of palpably invidious distinctions in the matter of bulk, is not unnatural.

A GOOD STANDING.

Canadians, being cis-Atlantic Britons, have an inherited, if not inherent, right to grumble. We are prone to grumble and, in many respects, with good reason, at the administration of our civic government. By common consent we rail at our aldermen for their extravagant and wasteful expenditure, for their neglect to do everything demanded, without spending money or increasing the taxes. But a little investigation and reflection will demonstrate the unfairness of judging our municipal rulers by isolated examples of slipshod administration, no matter how annoying at the time they may be regarded. We should found judgment, and base criticism on broader grounds, and arrive at a verdict en masse; that is we should judge of the wisdom of our rulers by the general result.

Looking at matters in this way we shall find that successive councils have in the years that are past, with all their short-comings, governed Peterborough pretty well, and provided us with improvements in the form of public conveniences in a pretty substantial manner, and at a rate of cost which indicates that the public have been given pretty good value for the money that has been spent, and the indebtedness that has been incurred. In a world where there is no perfection—where there is no fixed standard of judgment — applicable to estimate the quality of civic government — we can only pass relative judgment — judge by comparison.

If this be done we shall find, by making comparisons with other places, that Peterborough has, in the main, been economically governed, and that the expenditure for the conveniences we possess, is represented by good value. In a table presented in yesterday's issue of the Examiner, it was shown that Peterborough has the lowest rate of debt per head of population of any city or town in Canada, with the single exception of Woodstock, which is only a few cents — forty-three — per head, less than this city. The average indebtedness per head of the twenty-two cities and towns given in the table mentioned, is $38.94, a great deal more than double the rate of Peterborough — two and a times greater.

While we can thus speak with gratitude of our comparatively low rate of civic debt, per head, we can also congratulate ourselves that we have so much to show for our liabilities. We have a splendid system of water works, which had added $292,000 to our debt. Whether or not this may be regarded as a good asset, worth at least its face value, is shown by the fact that last year, the revenue yielded thereby amounted to over $25,000. If we add to this $292,000, the amount of local improvement indebtedness assessible against private property, of $108,000, to use approximate figures, we have a total indebtedness of $400,000, representing services and conveniences from which the people derive direct benefit, leaving for other conveniences a debt of only $335,000. We have included in this nearly fifteen miles of sewers, and over twenty miles of granolithic pavements. We have fairly well improved streets, covering nearly 400 acres. We have 79 acres of parks and squares — and although all these did not cost us so much hard cash, yet we have them, and they are of just as much benefit to us as similar parks would be to other cities and towns which would, to have them, have to pay for them, at a rather round rate. We have all these things and many other conveniences and advantages — for there is no attempt at complete enumeration, only a general reference — which go far to represent substantial advantages, to set against the lowest per capita civic debt in the Dominion.

Therefore, taking all things into consideration, and having the fun of our yearly fling at each yearly-elected Board of Aldermen, we have reason to be reasonably grateful to our representatives who have, on the whole, managed our affairs from year to year in so good a manner as to place the city of Peterborough, first on the honour roll of generally well governed and financially comfortable cities. This is not a matter of idle boast, or mere horn-blowing. It is a testimony to our enterprise, to our commercial soundness, to the level-headedness of our citizens, who from year to year step out of the ranks of exacting business, or other activities, to make the sacrifice of guiding the affairs of the city, not only without remuneration but, as a rule, with more kicks than half-pence. But that is only in passing. Successive Boards of Councillors and Aldermen may, if they cannot regard with indifference, easily forget, the transient criticisms and pin-prickings which beset them while in office, and often very deservedly, if they can leave behind them, in the main, so creditable a record as that implied in giving Peterborough the lowest debt rate per head in the Dominion, with the added credit of so much substantial assets to show for it.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The joint deputation proposed to wait upon the Ontario Government in reference to securing a Normal school for Peterborough, will have to defer their visit for a few days. The Government has been so interrupted by the increase of deputations that in preparing for the opening of the Legislature, that they have been compelled to decline the visits of any more deputations till after the session opens. Small blame to them, for the week before the opening of a Legislature is perhaps the busiest week in the year for Cabinet Ministers.

Nothing More to Get.

CLERGYMEN SOMETIMES get answers they do not expect from children. One of them was questioning a Sunday school class about the man who fell among thieves on the way from Jerusalem to Jericho. Bringing the story to a point, he asked, "Now, why did the priest and Levite pass by on the other side?" A scholar held out his hand. "Well, my boy, why did the priest and the Levite pass by on the other side?" "I know," said the lad; "because the man was already robbed."

The Centreville Young Men's Guild Won Final Debate

St. Andrew's Lost the Oratorial Combat Between the Two Organizations—It Was Decided That Canada as an Independent Nation Would Flourish More Than Under Imperialism —Speakers Handled the Subject in a Very Able Manner.

MUSICAL PROGRAMME WAS ENJOYABLE

"Resolved that Canada would flourish better under Independence than under Imperialism." This was the subject of the debate, in St. Andrew's Sunday school room last night, between two representatives from the St. Andrew's Young Mens Guild and a similar number of speakers from the Presbyterian Church of Centreville. The affirmative was taken by Messrs. J. Campbell and J. Anderson representing Centreville, and the negative by Messrs. W. Campbell and Wallace from the St. Andrew's Guild. The judges after weighing the points advanced by the speakers on both sides and considering the language and delivery in which they were given awarded their decision to the affirmative.

There was a large attendance, of whom many were from Centreville, and the different speakers were given the closest attention. Mr. F. E. Kerr acted in the capacity of chairman. In addition to the debate a short musical programme was rendered.

After a few introductory remarks were made by the chairman, Mr. Campbell rendered a solo, "Asleep in the Deep," in excellent voice, and for an encore he gave "Ye Banks and Braes o' Bonnie Doon." The next number was a solo by Gilbert Scott, "The Hundred Pipers," to which he was given a hearty encore, and responded with "Stop Your Tickling Jock."

The first speaker in the debate was Mr. J. Campbell of Centreville. He advanced the argument that Canada would be better under Independence. He asked what was Imperialism. It was the uniting together under one head of all the British possessions. There is not a house in existence large enough to hold their representatives, or an orator who could speak to them. The birthplace of this Imperialism is the motherland. The object of it is a common armament and Government, which Canada refuse a without having representatives in the British Parliament. Canadian politicians, the cream of the country, are taken from us, by the English Parliament, and why should we stand for this.

The C.P.R. was destined to be an imperial and national road, constructed for Canadians, but American capitalists, who are managing the road are reaping the benefits. In closing he said that Canada was destined to be a great nation.

Mr. Wallace next spoke for the negative. Imperialism is misunderstood. The American people have changed since 1812, and we have no enemies. Well now, that is strange for since that the American Republic has gathered in Cuba and the Philpines, and she would grab up Canada too, were it not for the great armies of Great Britain. We have no money or inclination to fight, we are not a fighting nation, but we a commercial one. Should we separate from the mother country, Japan, England's great ally, would swoop down and gobble us up. If Newfoundland wants to become prosperous let her come back to the union. She is an example of the way we would go if we became independent.

Mr. Anderson spoke for independence. We don't pay anything for the support of the British navy, so what sum we expect when we don't contribute. Canada is able to protect herself. She has very rich resources. Last year we had a surplus of some $6,000,000, and if we want protection we can invest this. We are also head and shoulders over the United States at the time when the broke away from Great Britain.

Mr. Wm. Campbell, on Imperialism, made some very witty replies to some of the arguments put forth by the opposition. He said that the C. P. R. was the backbone of Canada and gave several very strong reasons. The young country is now entering into the greatest century in history, and we are the morning star of the western hemisphere. If we were independent, could we get English capitalists to invest their money in this country.

Mr. J. Campbell was given five minutes to sum up the different points which he did in an exceedingly clever manner.

The judges Rev. J. G. Potter, Rev. Mr. MacKenzie and Mr. A. MacFarlane retired and in a few minutes Mr. MacFarlane brought in their decision in favor of thee affirmative.

Mr. Gilbert Markle gave a violin solo, to which he had to respond with an encore. Refreshments were then served and an enjoyable evening brought to a close by the audience singing "God Save the King."

A Successful Epworth League Entertainment

Splendid Programme Presented at Charlotte Street Lecture Room.

The entertainment given by the Epworth League of Charlotte street Methodist church last night was a gratifying success and those in charge of the arrangements must have felt highly pleased at the outcome of their work. The entertainment was held in the lecture hall which was crowded to the doors when the first item on the programme was announced. The programme throughout was of a high order of merit and certainly deserved the hearty measure of applause that it received. The league had gone to considerable trouble in preparing for the event and attained a most gratifying result.

The Locals Won In Brockville

Defeated the Island City Septette by a Score of 14-2.

The locals won from Brockville last night in easy fashion by the large score of 14—2. At no stage were the easterners dangerous, and at half time the home seven led by 7—1. The game was not rough and nobody was seriously injured. Morgan and Whitcroft were the best men on the ice. The whole Peterborough forward line played well, and checked back in such good style that the Invincibles' forwards, while fast, were unable to break away. The combination of the Invincibles was good, but despite that their efforts were unavailing against a superior team. The general opinion of the people of Brockville was that Peterborough had a team a trifle fast for intermediate company. About 1800 people were in attendance. The locals had the score 12—1 before Brockville obtained their second goal which was disputed. Burk, of Belleville refereed satisfactorily.

The teams lined up as follows:

Peterborough.		Brockville.

Silver Trophy For Champions Of City League

Hon. J. R. Stratton Donates Cup to be Given to Winners.

The City Hockey League winners this year will become the possessors of a silver cup, which Hon. Mr. Stratton has decided to donate to the League, to be given to the team winning it each year, until one team wins it three years in succession, when it becomes their property. It will be remembered that last year Mr. Stratton gave lockets to the champions, but it was decided in consultation with the league officers to donate a trophy which would have a greater tendency to hold the league together. The cup is being ordered and will be on exhibition in a few days.

Nationals Won From Aberdeens

Large Crowd Saw Fast Junior Game Last Night.

The Nationals put away the Aberdeens in one of the best games of the season last night at the Brock street rink by a score of 6-3. The half-time figure was 3-2. A large crowd saw the game which was of a City League calibre and was warmly contested at all stages. Four City League men figured in the game and did not by any means outclass their running mates. The youngsters played clever hockey and the game was greatly enjoyed.

The Aberdeens had their opponents faded at the start and at the end of the first fifteen minutes led by 2-1. The Nationals came away handily after that, and it was all over but the shout for the Aberdeens after half-time. Both teams displayed combination and great speed and their shooting was remarkably good for juniors.

For the winners Pentland on the defence and Gorman and Miller on the forward line played fine hockey. McMillan, Lech and Seymour shone for the Aberdeens. Following is the line-ups:—

Nationals.		Aberdeens.
	Goal.
L. Giroux		Wilson

CURLING

Probably the keenest and most interesting of curling games was played at the Charlotte street rink last night resulting from a challenge issued last week by Mr. W. L. McIlroy. Having stated he could skip a rink which was capable of defeating any other one in the city and after naming them, his challenge was quickly accepted by Mr. A. P. McDonald who chose a rink that he claimed, could turn down his opponents.

The game last night was the best that has been played at the Curling rink this season; was closely contested and aroused more interest than any cup competition game. The game was anybody's until the last stone was curled which gave the accepter of the challenge the victory by 2 up. As a result of the game the loser forfeits $6,000.33 1-3 which goes to promote the interests of the Anti-Chicken Stealing League. Each of the victors receives one keg of Tam O'Shanter flour, one broom-stick cigar, and a glass of Scotch buttermilk. The winners, needless to say, feel very proud of their splendid victory.

The first of the following rinks was last night's important one, the others were practice games:—

Superintendant Has Resigned

Miss Coleman, who, for the past three years, has filled the position of lady superintendent of the Nicholls Hospital, has placed her resignation in the hands of the Board, and it has been accepted. Miss Coleman's many friends here will regret to learn of her departure from the city. The Board of Trustees is advertising for a lady to succeed Miss Coleman.

A Combine In Matrimony

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—I have followed the controversy about the advisability of getting married on $16 a week with great interest and it has thrown considerable light on a subject that is too little discussed. I have noticed that nearly all your correspondents have passed through the bitter experience of matrimony, and, if we are to accept the verdict of fifteen out of the twenty, marriage is a very bad failure, indeed, and does not pay ten cents on the dollar. The husbands nearly all complain of spendthrift wives, wretched cooking and worse than either, mother-in-laws. The wives, on the other hand, are unanimous in their testimony that "All men are brutes".

Now, Mr. Editor, I believe this state of affairs to be the logical result of the system of deceit and dissimulation that is practiced by match-making mothers and daughters desperately anxious to be "Missus" Somebody, or Anybody. I have had considerable experience myself, and this, supplemented by my conversations with a great many other young men on this subject leads me to the belief that the matrimonial combine is one which, in point of blackmailing methods and baneful result makes all other combines pale into insignificance.

From the time a young man is introduced to a girl he is the victim of a widely organized conspiracy to "catch" him. Every little device, every beguilement, and every moonlight night is employed to bring the desired result. If the poor fellow was so unfortunate as to have manifested a friendly interest for a month or so he suddenly awakes to the fact that it is "understood" that he intends to marry "Angeline", whom, possibly, he admires and respects, but never once thought of loving. When he discovers that his well intentioned kindnesses have been misinterpreted and that they have placed him in the role of a lover, he wishes to withdraw but perhaps he is given a hint that such a course would not be "honourable". He, therefore, carries the wretched farce through to the bitter end, and two persons, both of whom, under congenial conditions might have been happily married, were united in what invariably proves a disappointment to both and the result has been seen in the letters which have appeared in the columns of the Examiner.

As for me, the risk is too great. Better the humble pleasures of a bachelor's life than the uncertain joys of the so-called blissful state.

"A woman is only a woman, but a good cigar is a smoke."

CONTENTMENT.

The Campbellford Despatch has an interesting contribution to the marriage question which is creating such interest in these columns. It says:—"Once more the question is raging as to whether a girl dare marry a man who is getting only $1,000 a year. It would depend, we should think, somewhat on the girl, and whether the $1,000, when you come to look the pay envelope squarely in the face, is not somewhere around $466. Thousands of women have married and become the mother of presidents, senators, life insurance agents, on less than $1,000 a year, so why should our modern girls hesitate."

Latest Styles From New York

Since Miss Costello began business in Peterborough over a year ago she has been very successful in satisfying the public by the very latest novelties in millinery and has won an enviable reputation in the millinery line.

She will return in a few weeks, and it is assured, with all the very best and newest ideas for the coming spring millinery openings in the city.

DESTROY THE CAUSE

You Cannot Cure Dandruff Without Destroying the Cause of it.

Many people wash their scalps on Saturday night and Sunday to try and keep the dandruff down for the week, but on Monday night the scalp has begun to itch, and Tuesday morning will find a good supply of dandruff when the hair is brushed. There is but one real scientific way of curing dandruff; and that is to kill the germ that causes it, and falling hair and finally baldness. There is only one preparation that will destroy the germ, and that is Newbro's Herpicide. It is an entirely new discovery and the only preparation that is based on the new scientific principle. In addition, is a very refreshing hair dressing for regular toilet use.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10 cents in stamps, for sample to the Herpicide Company, Detroit, Mich. Ormond and Walsh, special agents.

Three of the chiefs of the Milan police of Italy, have arrived in London to study the working of the police system.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

The twenty-fourth consecutive year of Chas. H. Yale's "Everlasting Devil's Auction," will be characterized by a sumptuous production. The scenic effects will be new, elaborate and novel, the costuming a symphony of harmoniously blended colours, while the company will be stronger than has ever been seen in the production of the "Devil's Auction." No person should miss this attraction. They hold the boards in Montreal all this week, and appear at the opera house here on Monday night next. The company consists of 40 people and two car loads of scenery are carried. Prices 50c., 75c., and $1; gallery 25c.

The Devil's Auction, which appears at the Grand on Monday night, is arousing much favourable comment. Chas. H. Yale, whose fame is known for producing a sumptuous spectacle, whose methods have long served as a standard by which other attractions are judged, presents this year the twenty-fourth edition of the famous production.

Interesting Essay At T.A.S. Literary

drawn with any fulness by a contemporary" has been found by antiquarians. Yet of no person is there a clearer picture in the popular fancy. From a certain fine sensibility of nature it is plain that he took a keen interest, not only in general and coarse outlines of objects, but in their minutest particulars and gentlest gradations. His knowledge of the habits of wild animals is apparent in parts of "As You Like It" and "Venus and Adonis." That he had a perfectly poetical appreciation of nature is shown in his lines on Daffodils in a "Winter's Tale."

Throughout all his writings is seen an amazing sympathy with the common people, rather an excessive tendency to dwell on the common features of ordinary lives.

From his English historical plays it distinctly appears that he, like everybody of this time, accepted the constitution of his country. It had been doubted whether Shakespeare was a man much conversant with the intimate society of women. However, he possessed a capital acquaintance with their excellencies, freaks and foibles. His female characters are invariably depicted as "high-souled, spirited and proud; ever zealous for their honor and exacting in their rights."

Much that is not true has been written of Shakespeare's learning. He was not a hard student, but a happy and pleased reader of interesting books. We have clear evidence that he received the ordinary Grammar School education of his time, though his plays show that he had a very powerful and educated mind.

Max Muller, in his collection of essays, "Chips from a German Workshop" pays tribute to the education of Shakespeare and Goethe, was proud to call himself a pupil of the "bard of Avon."

He died April 23rd, 1616, in his 53nd year, and two days later was buried in the chancel at Stratford-on-Avon.

The rapt attention with which Miss Fitzgerald was listened to by the large audience showed their appreciation of her splendid effort.

Miss Josephine Condon occupied the chair. The opening number was a piano solo played with much sympathetic expression by Miss Ruby Fitzgerald. A bright, little dialogue, "How the Story Grew," was cleverly performed by the Misses Gertrude Crowley, Florence Hurley, Kathleen Welsh, Katy O'Brien, Katy Tobin, and Mary Feeney. Miss Mae Kennedy's two recitations were given with much elocutionary power, and were greatly enjoyed.

At the next meeting on Feb. 23rd, Miss Vivian Donoghue will read a paper on "Pioneer Days in Canada."

For You

We've just issued a 12-sheet 22 inch by 15 inch Calendar, good until January, 1907.

It's somewhat different to anything hitherto published or distributed by a Rubber Company in the Dominion.

We've planned it for practical men. It's got big date figures, large enough to read without glasses, and shows banking and other holidays scheduled in the Dominion.

Primarily it's a Rubber production, and a good one.

On every sheet are illustrations of our many and varied products in Rubber.

And the "date" feature is so prominent and practical that you'll keep it to the last sheet—the twelfth month—and feel that you're not doing us a special favor—cause it's something that YOU want. It's a calendar with "mutual" features.

We've issued many thousands of these calendars, all done up in cartons ready for mailing.

All our Sales Branches have large supplies. A postal to our Branch Offices will bring a handsome calendar (or several of them) to your desk.

A Revival At Local Y.M.C.A.

Men's Meeting Yesterday Was One of the Best Ever Held.

Yesterday's Men's Meeting at the Y.M.C.A. was certainly one of the best of the season. Though the attendance was large, yet the depth of interest and the impressiveness of the meeting was greater.

The Torrey-Alexander songs, led by the male choir, were readily taken hold of by the audience. Mr. J. F. Thornton sang one of the favourites, and at the close of his sermon, Rev. J. G. Potter sang "The Pilot Song." Mr. Potter's address was on "The Worst of All Mockeries," from the text, "Thy heart is not right." Many were deeply impressed by his earnest words, and at the close two men publicly confessed Christ. Rev. W. J. Jolliffe will speak next Sunday on "The New Bartimeus."

Bus Collided With Street Car

Mr. Frank White Received Some Facial Injuries.

This morning, while the Snowden House 'bus was being driven up George street, after meeting the 8 o'clock train, it and one of the occupants, Mr. Frank White, met with a rather serious accident in a collision with a street car.

When the driver reached Sherbrooke street he attempted to pass a conveyance in front, but could not on account of too many vehicles on that side of the street. He did not notice the street car which was approaching at the time, and so attempted to cross the track, but was a few moments too late. The car collided with the rear of the 'bus, turning it over. Mr. White, the only occupant, in the interior, received a bad gash on the head, although it is understood, not very serious. He was quickly removed in the ambulance to St. Joseph's Hospital, from where he had just come on Saturday last.

The conveyance was damaged considerably. All the glass in one side was smashed, half the rear was broken, and the top was dinged. Mr. White's many friends are pleased to learn that his injuries are not very serious, and that he will soon recover.

Memorial Is Being Prepared For Ministe

Supporting Peterborough's Claim for the New Normal School.

The special committee appointed on Friday night to prepare the memorial, which will be presented to the Minister of Education on Wednesday, in support of the claims of this city for the new Normal School, met in the city clerk's office for the purpose of drafting the instrument. Mr. Dennistoun, chairman of the committee, presided, and considerable progress was made with the work. Some additions are being made to-day, and at the general meeting to-night the completed memorial will be presented for ratification.

At the meeting to-night, too, the deputation to go to Toronto, on Wednesday, will be named.

Arrangements have been completed whereby a special train will leave Peterborough at 8.45 a.m., per the C. P. R., on Wednesday, and will on its return trip leave Toronto at 11.30 that night. The tickets by the special have been placed at the low price of $2.05 for return trip, and are good to return by any regular trains on Feb. 14th or 15th. This gives a trip by special train at less than single fare, and enables those going to take in the opening of Parliament.

Peace in Police Circles.

THERE HAS BEEN no police court for the last three days. "The stuff that made Milwaukee famous" has apparently lost some of its original virtue. Either that or the merry-makers are all on the water wagon.

A Difference In Opinion.

AN ICEMAN SAID this morning that after this week we will have over a month of real winter. A florist on being asked what he thought about the weather said, "Spring has come to stay." A man practically disinterested in the weather said, "Both are wrong," but declined to talk further on the subject.

County Council Inspected Some Houses of Refuge

Visited Lindsay, Whitby, Stratford and Other Places Last Week to Get Information Concerning the Institutions—Several Fine Buildings Were Seen and Many Valuable Pointers Gained—Deputation Was Very Well Received.

TRIP WAS MOST ENJOYABLE ONE

In order to get information concerning Houses of Refuge, the County Council last week visited similar institutions in Lindsay, Whitby, Stratford and other places. Many valuable pointers were learned during the tour and will be put to advantage in the erection of the House of Refuge in Peterborough County. The party consisted of Warden Johnston, Councillors Shaw, Garbutt, Andrews, Carey, Stenson, Monague, Webster, Maloney and Buck, County Clerk E. M. Elliott, County Solicitor E. A. Peck, and County Architect J. E. Belcher.

The party left Peterborough on Tuesday morning by G.T.R., making their first stop at Lindsay, where the House of Refuge recently built there was inspected. The building which was opened in November last, is an excellent one, admirably fitted for the purpose intended. It contains separate wards for men and women, and the plumbing, heating and ventilation facilities are excellent. It contains at present 45 inmates.

In the afternoon the council went to Whitby, where the House of Refuge in that town was examined. The institution there was erected twenty years ago. It is situated about one-half mile from the centre of the town on high land, overlooking Lake Ontario, and in a lot of 45 acres. Water is supplied from the town. There are 45 inmates at present of whom 30 are men. At Whitby each local municipality pays 40c. per week for each inmate, while the balance of the expense is paid out of the general county rates.

The members of the deputation spent Tuesday night in Toronto, leaving early the next morning for Stratford. The House of Refuge in that city was built in 1696 and contains at present 67 inmates. After a thorough inspection of this building the party left for Woodstock. The House of Refuge there is situated about one mile from the town and contains 69 inmates.

St. Thomas was the last place visited by the council. They found the institution there was about one-half a mile from the city. It is maintained by the County with no aid from the City of St. Thomas, which has a building of its own. The county House of Refuge was built in 1872 and was one of the first in the province; 65 inmates are at present sheltered there.

The Council found that the officials in charge of the institution generally consisted of a married couple, the man working on the farm and the woman acting as matron; occasionally assistance in working the farm was sought, and generally three or four girls are employed in the inside work. In one case, however, the only ones permanently employed were the manager and matron. The cost of maintence of the institution was found to be between $3,000 and $4,000. The necessity for a plentiful supply of water was a point that strongly impressed the deputation.

Everywhere on their trip the council was well received, and the officials of the various institutions were most courteous in their treatment of the visitors and ready to give any information in their power.

The council returned to Peterborough on Friday night very well pleased with their visit.

WOMENS' NEGLECT
SUFFERING THE SURE PENALTY

Health Thus Lost Is Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many women do you know who are perfectly well and strong? We hear every day the same story over and over again. "I do not feel well; I am so tired all the time!"

More than likely you speak the same words yourself, and no doubt you feel far from well. The cause may be easily traced to some derangement of the female organs which manifests itself in depression of spirits, reluctance to go anywhere or do anything, backache, bearing-down pains, flatulency, nervousness, sleeplessness or other female weakness.

These symptoms are but warnings that there is danger ahead, and unless heeded a life of suffering or a serious operation is the inevitable result.

The never-failing remedy for all these symptoms is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Miss Clara Beaubien, of Beauport, Quebec, writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

"For several years I have suffered with a female weakness which proved a serious drain on my vitality, sapping my strength and causing severe headaches, bearing-down pains and a general worn-out feeling, until I really had no desire to live. I tried many medicines, but did not get permanent relief until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. In two months I was much better and stronger, and in four months I was well; no more disagreeable discharge, no more pain. So I have every reason to praise the Vegetable Compound, and I consider it without equal for the ills of women."

For twenty-five years Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, has under her direction and since her decease, been advising sick women free of charge. Her advice is free and always helpful. Address, Lynn, Mass.

A WORLDLY FATHER, after the style of Lord Chesterfield, was giving good advice to his son, who was about to enter society.

"And, above all, avoid flirtations; but if you must flirt or fall in love, sir," be sure that it is with a pretty woman. It is always safer."

"Why?" asked the young man.

"Because some other fellow will be sure to be attracted, and cut you out before any harm has been done."—Tit-Bits.

Supply Ice From The Gull River To States
A New Industry Springs up in Coboconk—Undertaken by Gull River Lumber Company—Water Purest to be Found—May Develop Into Big Trade in the Future.

The Minden Echo says:

Mr. G. W. Stevens, manager of the Gull River Lumber Co., is a busy man these days. In addition to their big lumbering business, the company has a large gang of men at work on the Coboconk pond getting out great quantities of ice for shipment to Canadian and United States cities, and it is expected that the waters of the Gull River will be largely used, in a congealed form, in a many of the large cities of the continent during the next summer. And fortunate will be the places securing their supply of ice from this source, for it is safe to say that no ice in the world can exceed it in pureness. The waters of the Gull come from springs in the granite mountains from which it takes its source, and from many spring lakes ranging in depth from 100 to 700 feet, the waters of which are clear and sparkling. Gull River does not drain any marsh land, but passes through a purely granite country, until it empties into Cameron Lake. It is well known that water passing through a granite stratum is much healthier than that from a limestone formation, as a great deal of kidney troubles are traceable to limestone sediment in water. Where the waters of the Gull and Burnt Rivers come together, the difference between the two is very marked, as they flow side by side in one stream but without seeming to mix—that of the Burnt River being murky, while that of the Gull is exceedingly limpid. When the pureness of Gull River ice becomes generally known a great winter industry may be built up in shipping ice to different points in Canada and the States. At present the company which is making the experiment is taking out ice at the rate of a ton every four minutes. The blocks are twelve inches in thickness, and weigh 180 pounds each.

But while the company has embarked in the ice business do not let any one imagine that there is any let up in the activity of the lumber business, as they are at present engaged in the erection of an addition to their mill, to be used for the manufacture of lath and shingle, and they are taking out from 1000 to 1200 logs daily at their two camps in this vicinity. They need ten teams to haul their tan bark, of which they have between two and three hundred cords.

The employment given and the money paid out by this company means a great deal to our business men and settlers.

The Winter In Village Of Hastings
Mild Weather Has its Drawbacks —Water is Very High in River Trent—Creeks From Swamps Running as in Spring—Work in the Sugar Bush Going On —Advantages and Disadvantages of This Winter.

CATTLE GRAZING AND TREES BUDDING

The winter at Hastings, as in other parts of Ontario, has been very mild, and while the villagers have enjoyed the beautiful weather, it is, in the opinion of the farmers, a forerunner of a bad spring. The Examiner had a conversation with a prominent Hastings gentleman, who told some interesting facts about the winter in the eastern village. The scarcity of snow has hindered farmers in their work in the bush, and has made the work of hauling wood almost impossible. It has also prevented them from drawing ice to their ice houses. An American gentleman, however, with the customary enterprise of our neighbours from the south, has had a gang of men cutting telegraph poles and drawing them to the village. He will ship them in the spring to the United States. The poles are all cedar, and are the finest ever brought to, or seen in the vicinity of, Hastings. The operations are being carried on at Dartford, about eight miles south of the village. The whole of the River Trent, from source to mouth, is open, and has not, with the exception of a few days, been frozen over this winter. The water in the river is pretty nearly up to the high water mark, and it was never known to retain such a great average height in any other winter. It has been found necessary to open several of the sluiceways in the dam to let the water out, an unparalleled proceeding, except in the spring, when the water is always very high. On account of the scarcity of snow it will not get much higher in the spring, unless a very heavy fall of snow comes between now and spring, or unless heavy rains take place when the winter breaks up. Both of these are unlooked for, and it is probable that this coming spring will be exceptionally dry. The streams that connect with the swamps in the woods have been rushing and tumbling like the creeks in the spring, and the water is being fast drained out of the swamps. This will, of course, make the adjoining farm lands much drier and has its advantages and disadvantages — the latter probably overbalancing the former. One advantage to the agriculturalist lies in the fact that he will not have to wait for the low lands to become dry, as in the case of wet springs, but will be able to proceed with the sowing of the crops very early in the season. The fish on account of the rush of water from the swamps will not be able to make their way up to the marshes in the woods and will therefore have to spawn in deeper water. This will probably be the means of saving countless hordes of eggs, and consequently fish, which would otherwise be lost, for as it has been noted in other springs when the water goes down, the eggs are often left in the bottom of the swamps that have become drained and therefore go to waste. The sap is running in the sugar bushes just as freely as it does in the spring, and the farmers have been making syrup off and on since the 25th of January. Of course the cold snap has affected these operations. Cattle have been out grazing this winter in the vicinity of the village and the trees, particularly the lilacs are budding.

The scarcity of snow and frost will seriously affect the fall wheat. There is hardly enough now to shelter it from the frosts, but when the penetrating spring sun gets in its work the snow will soon be all melted and the frost taken out of the ground. If after this takes place it again freezes to any extent the grain will be all killed. Or even if it doesn't freeze the ground will probably be dried up and practically no moisture left to nourish the roots. Taken altogether the winter will be considered a bad one for the farmers.

Mr. J. E. A. Fitzgerald, of Peterborough, is cutting down some very fine pine trees, several logs being taken from each, that have for years stood there like silent sentinels within a mile of the village. The trees are being felled in a section of the woods where timber was never before cut.

Was Presented With A Purse

On Saturday evening, Mr. Chas. Mitchell, who has for some time been an employee of the Snowden House, was presented with an address on the eve of his departure from the city, accompanied with a purse donated by the Bus and Express Drivers and others, by whom the recipient was a much esteemed friend. Mr. John Reid read the address and made the presentation which was replied to in a few well-chosen words by the guest. Mr. Mitchell left on the 11.35 train this morning for Pembroke, Ont., where he has accepted a position with a wholesale furniture factory.

'Wedding Garment' Subject at Y.W.C.A.
Mrs. W. M. Roger Gave a Very Helpful Address Yesterday.

A large and enthusiastic gathering was present at the Y.W.C.A. yesterday to hear the address on "The Wedding Garment," given by Mrs. W. M. Roger. In her discourse she said that Christ's invitation to us is not formal but is given in love. We are invited to the Gospel feast, and if we neglect there comes a day when God's mercy will cease. In the parable of the marriage feast one guest was not robed in a wedding garment, and he was cast out. None of us can come to Christ without laying our sins on Him and thereby putting on the new man. "Ye must be born again," is a necessary requirement; then we can stand before God, without fear. Is not the joy and peace one thus received from God worth while? Again when we accept Christ, we are just beginning the new life. Henceforth our walk must accord with it.

During the service a solo was excellently rendered by Miss Gertrude Kendry.

Galway Resident Was Negligent

On Saturday a complaint was laid before County Magistrate Edmison against Mr. Mountain, Galway township, for negligence to his family. County Constable Cochrane left this morning for Galway for the three children belonging to Mr. Mountain. They will be brought to the Shelter and further investigations will be made in the matter.

Croup Absolutely Cured.

"There is no remedy in my opinion that can act more promptly than Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. It cured my son of croup, absolutely, in one night. We gave him a dose when he was black in the face with choking. It gave him instant relief and cure."—Mr. Wm. McGee, 49 Wright avenue, Toronto, Ont.

A national conference of laymen of the United Presbyterian denomination will be held in Pittsburg for three days, beginning February 13, to exchange ideas on Christian work and offer suggestions for advancing the church work throughout the country.

Rev. Dr. Symonds Is Appreciated In Montreal

Has Filled Christ Church Cathedral as it Has Never Been Filled Before—Feature of the Services the Number of Young Men Who Attend—He Gives Them Something to Think Of A Fitting Tribute.

FORMER PETERBORO' RECTOR IN MONTREAL

The friends of Rev. Dr. Symonds, and they are legion in this city, will be deeply interested as well as gratified to learn that he is being appreciated in Montreal, where he is rector of Christ Church Cathedral. Saturday's issue of the Standard, of that city, says of him:

In Christ Church Cathedral, Montreal, the Rev. Dr. Symonds, the Vicar, preaches the New Theology to crowded congregations, which may not, perhaps, wholly agree with his conclusions. It has always been found a difficult matter to fill the beautiful Gothic structure which so appeals to the aesthetic sense, and offers, by its very hush and vastness, a solace to the spirit. Indeed, for many years, the congregation was a fitful and straggling one, due, in large part, no doubt, to the belief that no commanding and urgent utterance need be expected from the cathedral pulpit.

Dr. Symonds had hardly taken possession, before a remarkable change was noticed. Hundreds of young men, students and others, were noticed thronging the doors. Any Sunday evening now, shortly before 7 o'clock it is difficult to get a seat. People stand at the back throughout the service. The congregation is chiefly composed of educated young men and women.

• • • •

Urgent, Vital Things.

It has been instinctively felt from the beginning that Dr. Symonds had something to say—something urgent, vital. He was not content to take a character from the Old Testament, describe him at length, and then draw an obvious and commonplace moral. He had been a student of biology and geology; he had mastered the conclusions of historical criticism; and, in consequence, he had parted with traditionalism. And yet nothing of a vital sort was lost. The great fundamental truths of the Christian system became clearer to his mind for his wide reading about the subject, while his knowledge of the latest conclusions of science led him to perceive that there was necessarily no real antagonism between that and true religion. But Dr. Symonds no longer attaches prime significance to the form. The form is merely the casket—as he said in a remarkable sermon on Sunday evening last—for the truth, but if the precious jewel of truth be no inside the casket, of what value is that which was supposed to enshrine it?

• • • •

Not a Matter of Ceremonial.

And so, the message which the Vicar offers is—God, Christ, immortality. These truths, he says, are not demonstrable as a proposition in Euclid is demonstrable; but they can be confidently entertained even with the latest conclusion of science in mind, for it is science itself, after the wrangling of the last fifty years, which woos us back to God and eternal life. There may be some form, but form is not vital. Religion is not a matter of ceremonial. It is not a creed. It is not a dogma. It is not something hard and fast which men put together in human words, binding a galling yoke about the neck. It is character. It is love and service. It is brotherliness. It is the breaking down of denominational barriers—those barriers which are so pitifully small and petty—those dividing lines which mean so little, and yet which prevent men standing together on the same platform, shoulder to shoulder, working for the betterment of all—lines which it should be their wisdom to break down, when God was so manifestly shaking that which was merely temporary, and traditionalism was giving place to that which was vital, and close, and real. In a word, the message of the Vicar is,—that religion is something of the spirit—something interior, something which makes response to the teaching, to the life of Christ, and which is now to be quite distinguished from form or ceremony, or special name or claim.

• • • •

Listened to by Thousands.

It is not supposed that all who hear Dr. Symonds agree with the New Theology; and, indeed, it is known that several old members of the congregation view his utterances with alarm; but it is extremely interesting to note with what almost painful attention he is listened to by thousands every Sunday evening—bright young men and women, who hang upon every word. And the diction is noble, the utterance is clear and manly, the preacher is possessed by his subject, and passionate earnestness is in every tone. And the crowded cathedral as eloquent testemonial to the fact that, while men and women may and will be indifferent to use—and—wont, and dry-as-dust, they will, in all lands, eagerly hear him who has a message something that lives and breathes and which comes from the heart and mind of a man who offers the fruit of his studious labours, his deepest thought, his yearning and passionate hope. And this is the proof that in all tongues, under all skies, men and women passionately desire the verities, rather than the husks, of things, and that any creature with articulate utterance who, from his own thought and investigation, has arrived at a certain conclusion which he believes to represent an immutable truth, can draw the people as the lodestone draws the needle.

That was a noble tribute which the Rev. Dr. Symonds paid to Professor McBride, of McGill, for his recent epochal lecture, in which the learned biologist showed that there was no necessary antagonism between science and religion. The Vicar described the Professor as one who had studied profoundly, and knew the last word of science, and yet who insisted upon the rationality and inevitableness of a personal God

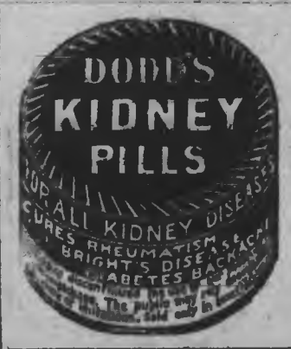
Praise For The Opera House

How Lindsay People Like Peterborough's New Play House.

The Lindsay Post, referring to "Peggy, from Paris," which played here on Thursday, and the new opera house, says:

One of those present described the Grand Opera House as being longer than the Lindsay Academy, but not much wider. The gallery away up near the roof, looks like a large square box. The balcony is neatly arranged and seats a large number. The stage is extensive, being wide and deep, and gives ample room for the putting on of big scenic productions. The interior of the big building is rather roughly decorated in the painting line but presents a neat appearance. The building seats 1500 hundred. The entrances are large, and there are about ten fire exits.



New District Court Formed Of Foresters

A. O. F. Decides on a New Departure—At First Meeting of District Court Mr. R. J. McWilliams Was Elected Distric Beadle—The Function of the Court—Will Reduce the High Court Representatives—Next Meeting in Belleville.

SOME ADVANTAGES OF NEW SYSTEM

According to the constitution of the Ancient Order of Foresters, as amended at the last High Court meeting, a radical change in the fraternal system of government has just come into operation. Formerly each subordinate court in the Order was represented by one delegate at the High Court meeting, in which legislative power is vested for the whole society. This proving a cumbrous form of government the general laws of the Order have been amended so as to provide for the formation of District Courts, consisting of its officers and two delegates from each subordinate court in the district, who will meet annually. The District Court shall exercise direct supervision over the subordinate courts within its territorial limits as defined by the High Court and shall elect a delegate to the biennial meeting of the High Court, each delegate being entitled to as many votes in the High Court as there are members in good standing in the district which he represents. This experiment in the government of fraternal societies which has been initiated by the A.O.F. will be watched with great interest by all society workers, who have recognized for a time that owing to the enormous growth of these societies, under the system of direct representation, the effectiveness of the Grand Lodge as a legislative body has been seriously impaired, owing to its unwieldly and expensive dimensions.

The first meeting of the A.O.F. District Court No. 5, in accordance with the new plan, was held in the Foresters' Hall, Cobourg, on Tuesday, Feb. 6th.

Credentials were received from the following courts in the district, viz., Court, No. 6000, Hewsonville—Bros. G. N. McDougall and W. Allen, delegates; No. 7586, Belleville—Bros. G. Dulmage and W. Redbourne, delegates; No. 7680, Peterborough—Bros. W. H. Tighe and R. J. McWilliams, delegates; No. 7682, Port Hope—Bros. F. Garnett and F. A. Powers, delegates; No. 7769, Cobourg, Bros. H. J. Snelgrove and J. S. Walker, delegates; No. 7770, Trenton — Bros. C. E. Devitney and E. T. Vanderson, delegates.

The following officers were elected:

District Sub-Chief Ranger — Bro. Major H. J. Snelgrove, P.H.C.R., of Cobourg.

District Sec.-Treasurer — Bro. W. Redbourne, Belleville

District Beadle — Bro. R. J. McWilliams, Peterborough.

At the installation of officers, Bro. Geo. Dulmage of Belleville, officiated as installing Woodward and with his well known efficiency and versatility.

Belleville was elected as the next place of district meeting on the first Tuesday in February, 1907.

Cobourg Given Encouragement

Normal School May be Secured for That Town—Perhaps.

Cobourg sent a deputation to Toronto last week to present the claims of that town for one of the new Normal Schools, the one, in fact that Peterborough is after. In view of this fact it may be of interest to learn the result of the deputation's visit. The Cobourg World reporting it says:—

After they had been heard, Mr. Field stated that the Minister had given them considerable encouragement, only the matter of finances apparently being in the way, but the government has not yet thoroughly decided on doing away with all the model schools and building a few normal schools to take their place.

Hon. Dr. Pyne was seen after the interview and he said he was interested in the idea of bettering the teaching profession. There was a want of uniformity in the model schools. Some were so much better than others. He could not say how many normal schools would be required to take the place of the model schools in Ontario. In New York State there are ten normal schools, Pennsylvania twelve, and in Massachusetts six or seven.

Nothing definite has yet been arrived at by the government as to the change, but the representations made by numerous educationists have been under consideration from time to time.

Capacity for Children.

A VISITOR TO a Sunday school was asked to address a few remarks to the children. He took the familiar theme of the children who mocked Elisha on his journey to Bethel—how the youngsters taunted the poor old prophet and how they were punished when two she bears came out of the wood and ate forty-and-two of them. 'And now, children," said he, wishing to learn if his talk had produced any moral effect, "what does this story show?" "Please, sir," came from a little girl, well down in the front, "it shows how many children two she bears can hold."

Good Lecture Was Given By Rev. Fr. Galvin

Peterborough Priest Spoke on Shakespere's Works in Lindsay This Week

A Thoughtful Lecture on a Subject of Much General Interest.

The Lindsay Post pays the following tribute to the lecture recently given by Rev. Father Galvin in Lindsay:

On Monday evening a very enjoyable concert and lecture was given in the parish hall, in aid of St. Mary's Catholic Literary Society. Those present were very fortunate in hearing a splendid lecture on "The Ethics of Shakspere," by Rev. Father Galvin of Peterborough. Rev. Father Galvin showed himself familiar with Shakspere and his works, and delighted his audience with his fluency and the way he set forth his points.

The reverend gentleman began by giving a definition of a good drama, which he defined as a "true work of art." But a bad drama is one in which real defects are to be found, such as untruths, and immorality; and in a bad drama the truths are presented in a faulty manner and do not correspond to the author's ideas.

In conclusion Rev. Father Galvin said that Shakspere's dramas are still popular, as he was a true Englishman, and possessed great intellectual powers. He urged his audience to study Shakspere, and assured them that although they would find flaws, compared to the bulk of his works, they would be as "specks of dust compared to the noonday sun."

After the lecture Ven. Archdeacon Casey, Rev. Father O'Sullivan, and "The Poet of the North," Rev. Father Dollard, spoke briefly, congratulating the society on having had Rev. Father Galvin deliver a lecture under their auspices.

We make few claims of what Liquozone will do. And no testimonials are published to show what it has done. We prefer that each sick one should learn its power by a test. That is the quickest way to convince you.

So we offer to buy the first bottle and give it to you to try. Compare it with common remedies; see how much more it does. Don't cling to the old treatments blindly. The scores of diseases which are due to germs call for a germicide. Please learn what Liquozone can do.
